MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

START

THE MANKATO WEEKLY UNION

FROM JULY 17 1863
THRU SEPT 27 1867
MISSING

Title: THE MANKATO WEEKLY UNION

05-03-1964

~~08-03-1964~~

Inclusive Dates: Jl 17 1863 thru S 27 1867

Filmed: Mar 6 1964
Camera No.: 1
Microphotographer: L. Bloom

Made for: Np. Col. Mss Lib. Other:

Film Brand: Bell & Howell
Type: 1E
Reduction Ratio: 15/1

Documents Prepared By:

Light Intensity: Reflected: (Expos. Meter) Incident: (Voltmeter) 95-97½

Special Instructions:

Filming Format
1A
2A
Lines Width Wise
1B
2B
Lines Length Wise

Film Developing: Firm: Dakota
To: Mr 9 1964
Returned: Mr 18 1964

Resolution: /mm
Density Range: Hi. Lo.
Residual Hypo:

Preliminary Inspection: By: K. Poncelet
OK:
Reject:
No. Minutes:
No. Expos.: 704

Minnesota Historical Society 6/63

MISSING ISSUES

TITLE: THE MANKATO WEEKLY UNION

Inclusive dates on this microrecord: Jl 17 1863 - S 27 1867

ISSUES MISSING:

- June 31 1865
- September 15 1865
- January 5 thru March 23 1866
- April 6 thru August 10 1866
- August 24, 1866 thru December 28 1866
- March 1 1967
- October 11 1867

05-03-1964

The Mankato Weekly Union.

CHARLES H. SLOCUM. "LIBERTY AND UNION, NOW AND FOREVER, ONE AND INSEPERABLE." Editor and Proprietor.

VOLUME 1. MANKATO, BLUE EARTH COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 17, 1863. NUMBER 1.

THE WEEKLY UNION,

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY
CHARLES H. SLOCUM.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
One Dollar and Fifty Cents per Year.
☞ All subscriptions paid in advance.

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

1 square	1 week	$1 00	2 squares	6 months	9 00
1 "	2 weeks	1 50	2 "	1 year	15 00
1 "	3 "	1 75	3 "	1 week	2 25
1 "	4 "	2 00	3 "	2 "	3 00
1 "	5 "	2 25	3 "	3 "	4 00
1 "	6 "	2 50	3 "	4 "	5 00
1 "	7 "	2 75	3 "	3 months	9 00
1 "	2 months	3 00	3 "	6 "	12 00
1 "	3 "	3 75	3 "	1 year	20 00
1 "	4 "	4 50	¼ col	6 months	15 00
1 "	5 "	5 25	¼ "	1 year	25 00
1 "	6 "	6 00	⅓ "	6 months	18 00
1 "	1 year	10 00	⅓ "	1 year	30 00
2 "	1 week	1 75	½ "	6 months	25 00
2 "	2 "	2 50	½ "	1 year	40 00
2 "	3 "	3 00	¾ "	1 year	50 00
2 "	4 "	4 00	1 "	1 year	70 00
2 "	3 months	6 00

Business cards of five lines or less, $5.
Transient advertisements must be paid in advance—all others quarterly.

BUSINESS CARDS.

EVERETT P. FREEMAN,
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW.
Office.—Next door south of the Post Office, MANKATO, - - - - MINN.
Prompt attention given to claims to be prosecuted before the State Board of Auditors and to Court and Office business. Collections made and conveyancing done on reasonable terms.

EDWARD OGLESBY,
Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hawley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work in his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October.

S. FINCH, O. O. PITCHER.
FINCH & PITCHER,
Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,
MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA.

O. P. LIEBERG,
FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER.—Having opened a Barber Shop with a view to establishing a permanent business in Mankato, I am prepared to wait upon gentlemen, and will guarantee satisfaction in every department of my business.
June 26, 1863.

G. A. STURGES, M. D.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
MANKATO, MINN.
Office:—At his residence second door above the Mankato House.

M. ZENOPOLSKI, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON
Office:—Opposite the Clifton House.

DAVID WILCOX,
JUDGE OF PROBATE,
& ATT'Y AT LAW,
MANKATO - - - - - MINN.

WM. R. McMAHAN, M. D.
Office and Residence old at his stand, on the corner of Hickory and Second streets, one Block back of the Mankato House, where he will be found at all times, except when professionaly absent.
He will furnish and compound his own medicines.

Z. PADDOCK,
Attorney and Counselor at Law, and General Land Agent. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to him. Mankato, Blue Earth Co., Minn.

FRED'K HILDEBRANDT,
Manufacturer of and Dealer in all kinds of
FURNITURE & GILT MOULDING,
ALSO,
Imitation of Rosewood Mouldings, Ovals, Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames
Ware Rooms in Schurmeier's Block, Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minn.

MANKATO INS. AGENCY.
HARTFORD.
PHOENIX.
MERCHANTS—FIRE INS. CO'S.
CHARTER OAK LIFE INS. CO.
Loses equitably adjusted and promptly paid by.
JOHN N. HALL.
Resident Agent.

MANKATO NURSERY.
THE Proprietor has for sale a choice collection of
Fruit Trees,
Comprising Apple, Pear, Cherry, Plum, and Quince Trees. Also a good assortment of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants, Raspberries, Strawberries, and Pie Plant; together with
ORNAMENTAL TREES
Shrubs, Evergreens, Flowering Plants, &c.
ROB'T GOODYEAR.
Mankato, Sept. 1861.

FAIRBANKS'
STANDARD
SCALES,
OF ALL KINDS.
FAIRBANKS, GREENLEAF & CO.,
172 LAKE STREET, CHICAGO.
☞ BUY ONLY THE GENUINE.

SOUTH BEND MILLS.
BIERBAUER & ROCKEY,
HAVING purchased the above mills, are prepared to manufacture all grades of FLOUR, CORN MEAL, ETC.
Wheat will be ground for every sixth bushel in quantities not less than ten bushels.
☞ Flour and mill stuffs always on hand at market prices. Feb 6–3m

Poetry.

For the Weekly Union.

A LETTER FROM HOME.

A letter from home! Oh' how welcome;
There are none but the absent can know
The thrill with which I receive it,—
These tidings of joy or of woe.
One glance cast upon the envelope,—
It is Father's hand-writing, I see;
And I know that a well-filled letter
Is resting within it for me.

Trembling hands break the seal open,
As I gaze o'er the well written page,
I feel that a parent's affection
Is unchanged by sorrow or age.
As I read on, how memory brightens,
And home scenes all rise into view,
I seem to be once more among them,
Surrounded by friends kind and true.

Though many a river and forest,
And many a wide fertile plain;
All lovely lay outstretched between us,
In spirit I'm with them again
They tell me I ne'er am forgotten—
Petitions for dear ones away
Ascend from the family altar
For guidance and safety each day.

And though I may never re-visit
The home of my parents again,
Though Commanders' strict orders have cast
Far away on a wild western plain.
Yet the cords of affection oft vibrate,
The voices of loved ones seem near;
In fancy I often am gazing
On scenes held by memory dear.

Forest City, June 22d, 1863.

Select Miscellany.

A STAR IN THE DARK.

"There is a future to all who have the virtue to repent and the energy to atone."—Bulwer Lytton.

"You may call it foolish and romantic if you like, but I repeat that I could more easily forgive a fault, committed under strong temptation, and foreign to the natural disposition, than a series of petty meannesses springing from and belonging to the character."

Thus spoke Helen Travers to her sister, Mrs. Cunningham, and the thread of their discourse is taken up when first it was overheard. It was a strange spot for anything like a "confidential" or "sentimental" conversation to have taken place; but every one must have observed, that subjects of interest often arise in a most unexpected manner. The two ladies had mistaken the hour at which a morning concert was to commence, had arrived somewhat too early, and had consequently taken their seats before any other had been occupied. Perhaps warming with the subject under discussion, they had not observed the few stragglers who from time to time dropped in, and certainly had not heard the footfall of a gentleman who entered, and seated himself immediately behind them, just at the moment when some of the attendants were making a prodigious din in their arrangement of the benches near the orchestra.

"I could not have married a man in whom I did not take pride," replied Mrs. Cunningham; "I am very sorry for people who have ever been led away to do wrong, but they must take the consequence of their own conduct; certainly anything like disgrace, or the world's censure falling upon my husband would crush me to the earth."

"Not, if his fault were the only one of a life," resumed Helen. "Nay, I think his very suffering would draw you more together. I have a theory that the very happy do not love half so deeply as those who have known sorrow."

"I call such ideas perfect nonsense."

"I know you do," replied her sister with a faint smile, and playing as she spoke with the fringe of her shawl.

"Any one would think, to hear you talk, that you had fallen in love with some scapegrace or another, and was seeking to excuse your folly."

"Susan! you know there is nothing of the kind. You know i have never felt anything more lasting than a passing fancy which one shakes off, just as waking breaks up a dream."

"How should I know?"

"Then believe—I would not deceive you. Though three and twenty indeed I dread old maidism far less than an ill-assorted union."

Helen Travers turned her head as she spoke, and though she did not perceive the stranger, he caught the profile of her animated countenance. But the audience were by this time arriving, and the sisters drew nearer together to make room for the new comers. There was an end to their conversation, of course.

Notwithstanding a certain family likeness, in a look that was caught now and then, the sisters were different. The elder, Mrs. Cunningham, was far the most beautiful, if exquisitely chiseled features and a brilliant complexion could make her so. But though quick and clever, even witty and accomplished, she was deficient in sentiment and the powers of imagination; was a lover of detail; and therefore despised, because it was to her incomprehensible, the higher and generalizing mind. A thoroughly worldly education had completed her character, and [illegible] hearted, selfish woman of the world; without enough of heart to feel the necessity of affection, and yet possessing an insatiable vanity that fed on universal admiration! Her sister formed a perfect contrast. With features less regular, her countenance was as changeful as the sea; for it mirrored every thought and feeling as they welled up from her woman's heart. Early removed from the influence of worldly minded parents, she had been reared by a widowed aunt, a high minded being, who had sought and found the sweetest solace of her own early bereavement, in the artless nature of her young relative. Although by no means a stranger to the metropolis, or to society, the country had been Helen's home. Her young heart had expanded beneath the influences of nature; her taste had been refined, her fancy quickened by it; and though she had read much, she had time and leisure to think more.

In short, she was a fine natural character, as little warped as possible by the prejudices of the selfish and the conventionalities of society. Death had a year before deprived her of her more than mother, and the independence which this beloved relative had bequeathed to her, while it rendered her an object of envy to her unmarried sisters, seemed to her own heart no consolation for her irreparable loss.

But the stranger who had overheard these few sentences which, to a thoughtful mind, revealed a world of knowledge, what of him? He had come to that morning concert, simply to enjoy music, in which he delighted; yet so absorbed did he become in some all engrossing thoughts, that the sweet sounds he had sought to hear, fell upon his soul only, from time to time, as charms that harmonize with his reflections, whatever they might be and were remembered afterwards by the powerful association which linked some peculiar cadence with a thought, a dream a memory; or with a moment where his attention had been roused by some expression of pleasure or admiration in the sweetest voice he had ever heard, the voice of Helen Travers. He was not what boarding-school girls and youths in their teens call young, for he must have reached 5 or 6 and 30; and according to such high authority he had passed the age of romance and the capability of a sudden love, and yet, in those two hours he drank as deeply of the draught as ever did mortal man. A strange and awful youth had checked and driven back the tide of emotions which belong to its epoch; only that it might swell with the concentrated might of a lofter sentiment, and chastened tenderness, and restrained passion. He would—ere half that time had expired—have periled life to have touched her ungloved hand, or to have caressed the light ringlits which floated from time to time beyond her bonnet.

It seemed too, that fortune was to favor him; mutual introductions elicited that of Helen. He had but to follow them to their door; and now he knew who she was and where she lived. This he did with wonderful calmness. People always are calm on great occasions; except indeed, people are themselves too small ever to make or understand them.

Well—the pigmy of soul escapes the entangling meshes which fate weaves for mankind, into the outer void of mere animal existence; they are the strong of hearts and quick of sense who are retained to play great parts in the struggle of life and the war of passions. And yet, and yet, oh mystery of humanity, who that has suffered deeply has not felt that in the deepest depths of anguish there is a pulse which vibrates not with pain! Feebly, and rather as the first faint promise of a future joy, when the flicker of an expiring power, but still to console, still to whisper, "Peace, peace,—better thus than not to feel!"

So felt William Johnson—for by that common name must the stranger be known—so he felt in the hour of endurance, when the strong man writhed in silent agony on the floor of the gorgeous apartment of which he was master.

Life is either one long chapter on accident, or there is no such thing of accident in the world! Three days afterwards, the stranger of the concert room was formally introduced to Helen Travers at the house of a mutual friend. Three months from that day let us listen to their words; they have been betrothed for weeks. The scene was a drawing room in an antique country house. Both were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham.

"I have but one care, William, one sorrow in the world," exclaimed Helen, pressing the hand which had fondly clasped hers between both his own: "Oh, why this mystery, why this concealment? You are free to do as you will and so am I; though, good and generous and true, and rich," she added with a smile; "as you are, my family, you well know, would receive you with open arms!"

"The time has come; be seated," he replied in tremulous voice; and releasing his hand with a gesture that might have been, but was not, mistaken for coldness. And while Helen sank on a neighboring couch, he leaned his arm for support on the opposite mantlepiece. His countenance was pale as ashes, but his voice grew more steady as he proceeded.

"The first time I saw you," he continued, "I heard you say you could more readily forgive the one great fault of a life, than habitual meanness of character. I have two sins to confess ere I would wed you. I might do, and you never, never know them, you see I am my own accuser. I also make the most of my virtues; therefore do I take some credit for enforcing secrecy till I had summoned strength for the confession. For if you reject me, and sorrow in the act, I believe you would rather not take the cold world in your confidence. And yet if there be solace in revealing what I tell you, be free as air to do so if you will. Life would be so worthless, the betrayal of my secret would be as a feather, weighed down against the sweet thought of assuaging your sorrow."

"You frighten me," murmered Helen, struggling with emotion.

"In mercy," he exclaimed, "not tears—yet I will be brief. One of my sins has been wooing you, with the dark knowledge in my breast that a crime of my early life and its consequences might well be considered an insuperable obstacle to our union. Oh! forgive me this—this at least." And he flung himself on his knees before her and buried his face in her garments.

"What terror is to come! Quick—quick; in pity tell me."

"No; forgive me this least fault first."

"Yes, yes," she murmured, and her hand leaned heavily on his shoulder. The act unnerved him and a shower of tears rained from his eyes.

"Tell me," again she whispered.

"I cannot yet. Bear with me."

"Then I will guess."

"Ay, do."

With a shudder as she put each fearful question she began—"have you ever shed human blood, protected by the laws of honor, and feel that now you are a murderer."

"I never raised my arm in anger against aught that has breath. I never so much as kicked a snarling cur from my path."

"Have you been a false friend, deceiving where you were trusted?"

"I cannot recall to mind a lie I ever told."

Once more Helen's hand sought that of her lover, but she withdrew it as a terrible thought rushed to her mind. She paused ere she could give it words. "Have you been guided by the code of man's moralities, and won a heart only to fling it from you!—or been guilty the deeper, darker wrong still?"

"My conscience is singularly free from all such stains. They who do these things speak not of them as crimes." And he looked up and met the tearful gaze of Helen Travers, without his own lids drooping.

"Then I will wed you," she exclaimed, after a moment's pause, "and only as your wife will learn the dreadful secret."

"You will?" and William Johnson started to his feet as one who had received an electric shock,

"I will."

For a moment she yielded to his embrace, but he released he quickly.

"You would so wed me," he exclaimed, "but you shall not. The dear memory of your words is a happiness Fate cannot take from me; it gives me strength to complete the tragedy. These limbs have borne the manacles the law furnishes for the convicted thief; this form has quailed in the felon's dock beneath the stare of the stranger crowd; but even then I did not lie. I owned that I had stolen the means to procure food for a famishing mother. The name which I have dared to ask you to bear, is forever enrolled in the chronicles of crime. The convict crossed the seas and was a slave for the seven brightest years of his youth. Helen—Miss Travers, you do not scream or faint, or wither me with a look. Only tears, quiet common tears. Are you woman or angel?"

"Be calm and tell me all."

"You will believe I meant to replace the note I—I—stole, though the Judge would not credit my story. This is all I have to tell; for why picture the haunting presence of a memory, and the worthlessness of that wealth which descends to me from the relative who exposed my youth to temptation, and left my mother to perish!

"The future; the happy future. May it make you forget the past, William."

"Helen."

At her feet once more; but now with child like sobs, and breathing passionate exclamations and fervent blessings.

It was the next day; and the burst of wild tumultuous joy had given place to a serener happiness on the part of William Johnson, while a more thoughtful expression reigned on the face of Helen.

"I have a compact to propose," said she laying her head upon his arm, and looking up calmly, yet affectionately in his face, "let us for the future not speak of this dark thing, except indeed there be just necessity and occasion for renewing the subject. Let it be a sacred deposite, of which each has the key, but do not suffer it to belong to our lives by frequent discourse or thought of it. Thus may time heap bright realities to hide and stifle these smouldering ashes. You tell me that your common name has been to you a shelter from suspicion; that your secret rests with one tried and trusted friend; and that the world among its common blunders deems your love of retirement the spirit of pride and exclusiveness. I will look at the result of the leisure that retirement has afforded, the cultivated intellect and the habits of simple enjoyment. Yet whence came your enlarged sympathies with humanity? Theirs are not fostered by hermit-like retirement."

"Can you ask? You are silent. I need not tell you how much is known intuitively by one who has erred and suffered."

"And expiated!"

Ah! deep the meaning of that word which burst spontaneously from the heart which fell aright. Deeper and higher, more world embracing such wisdom than aught that was ever extracted by the casuistry of schools. The merciful God, by his instruments, the mysterious of inexhaustible nature, heals the wounds and lesser ills of the body until it becomes whole again. And must the wounds of the soul fester forever? What is man if he dares to pluck hope from the breast of his fellow? And is not the punishment he inflicts for crime but Satan's work on earth, except so far as it prevents, amends and, through the suffering and amendment, expiates? The poet paints what should be, rather than what is, when he declares 'that there is a future for all who have the virtue to repent and the energy to atone.' May he prove the poet prophet!

Of the myriad of real tradegies which are hidden behind the veil of conventional live, not a few are there in which woman plays a ministering angel; and builds, amid the wreck of his happiness, a saving ark by the spell of her trusting faith, and a wisdom that of the heart.

Loyal or Disloyal.

I lately dined in company with one of those insane young gentleman who as Theodore Winthrop says in Cecil Deeme, praise slavery and think they are aristocratic. The young gentleman went on some time, when Mrs.——said to him, politely.

If you sympathize with the rebels, why don't you go and join them.

I madam? I assure you I am perfectly loyal.

Indeed.

Why, certainly, only I stand by the Government, not by the Administration.

So Val'andigham says.

I mean I am no Abolitionist.

So Brooks says.

That is, I am afraid we are ailenating the South.

So Tom Seymour says.

In other words I am a Union man, but I don't think war will restore it.

So Toucey says.

But, my dear madam, the war is unconstitutionally carried on.

So George Ticknor Curtis says

I mean that our liberties are in danger.

So Fernando Wood says.

Well, but isn't this war fratricidal?

So Ben Wood says.

Come, then isn't it hopeless.

So the London Times says.

Yes, my dear madam, but what on earth do you say?

I say that whoever stands against the Administration in this war, stands against the Government. I say that whoever says he is no Abolitionist means that he intends to embarrass the war. I say that whoever is afraid of alienating the South is afraid of irritating a snake that has already stung him. I say that whoever think, that force cannot restore the Union does not know that union is the most irresistable instinct of American people. I say that whoever says the war is unconstitutionally carried on is in danger of being split by the tempest in which he is trying to split a hair. I say that whoever says our liberties are imperilled by the Government, and not by the rebellion and the annihilation of all civil liberty and order. I say that whoever calls the war fraticidal has no more conception of natural honor than lottery dealers are said to have of honesty. I say that whoever considers the cause of the United States hopeless hates that cause in his heart, and is utterly ignorant of the character of the people, and of the fact of the situation. That is what I say, and that is what every truly American man and women says and believes.

The young gentleman made no reply; but the next day, at the club, he said to a friend, I dined yesterday at Mrs.——'s What an awful Abolitionist she is!—Harper's Weekly

MY ABSENT SOLDIER.

Evening shades are falling dearest!
Night is coming on;
And the sweet stars look out shyly,
Slowly, one by one;
And I count them with my forehead
Pressed against the pane,
And thinking of the time, dearest,
When we shall meet again!

When I fold my hands dearest,
To breathe a good night prayer,
Whose name is it that linger longest
Upon the evening air?
Yours! And then I slumber sweetly,
For I know our Lord [ness
Through the night's long hours of dark-
Hath you in his ward.

How much I think of you dearest!
I know that very oft
My features rise before you,
And then your voice grows soft;
They do not know the reason
It thrills and trembles so;
'Tis the beautiful heart music
That makes it sweet and low.

God bless you, my own darling!
And keep you pure and fair;
May the calm glory of your eyes
Be darkened by no care.
Your love—the dearest next to God's!
Your worth my highest pride!
Good angel guard your homeward steps,
And haste you to my side.

But if—Ah God! the bitter thought—
You should not come again;
If you should lie out in the night
Among the battle slain!
I could not bear such anguish, love,
For all that I could do;
I know my widowed heart would break,
And I should perish too.

A Scene.

Scene—A machine shop in Philadelphia, say in Quarry Street. Copperhead—Loyal Quaker at the desk in counting-room.

Copperhead. Do you keep screws here large enough to be used in removing buildings?

Loyal Quaker. Yes, friend, I manufacture them. Fine morning this. I find good news in the paper to-day from Police-Officer Grant before Vicksburg. Hast thou read the morning Press?

C. (looking pretty mad.) No, I do not read the Press.

L. Q. Well, now, it is a very clearly-printed newspaper—very reliable, and friend Forney we think a most excellent editor.

C. How do you sell your big screws? Let me see one of them; square thread I want.

L. Q. Where does thee live, friend?

C. I live in Winchester.

L. Q. Very loyal, good people up there. Does thee follow the business of removing buildings in Winches-[illegible]

C. Yes, I keep a steam saw-mill, and also remove buildings when called on.

L. Q. Don't thee think we shall pretty soon get a big screw under this rebellion, and pull it from its foundation as thee pulls one of the buildings thee removes?

C. I don't believe the South can be whipped. They are strongly fortified, and Jeff. Davis is one of the smartest men in this country. I am for the Union as it was, and the Constitution as it is!

L. Q. Friend, I believe thee to be a copperhead.

C. I am a democrat—don't know what you mean by copperhead.

L. Q. Does thee support the government in its efforts to put down the rebellion?

C. I am for the government, but opposed to Abe Lincoln and all his abolition party.

L. Q. Now, friend, thee is certainly a copperhead.

C. Well, I want to buy a big screw.

L. Q. Thee can't buy a big screw in this house. Thee art an unmitigated copperhead. Thee art an offense to me. Thee must take thy frame out of this office, or I will put the screws to thee, and hoist thee higher than a kite. I sell nothing to a traitor to his country, and thee must go elsewhere to buy thy screws.

Heaven and Home.—I was reading the other day that on the shores of the Adriatic Sea the wives of the fisherman, whose husbands have gone far off upon the deep, are in the habit at even-tide of going down to the sea-shore, and singing, as female voices only can, the first stanza of a beautiful hymn; after they have sung it they listen, till they hear borne by the wind across the desert sea the second stanza, sung by their gallant husbands as they are tossed by the gale upon the waves, and both are happy. Perhaps if we could listen we too might hear on this desert world of ours some sound, some whisper borne from afar, to remind us that there is a heaven and a home; and when we sing the hymn upon the shores of earth, perhaps we shall hear its sweet echo breaking in music upon the sand, of time, and cheering the hearts of them that are pilgrims and strangers, and look for a city that hath foundations.—Dr. John Cumming.

By thinking too much of the other world we become unfit to live in this

ODDS AND ENDS.

Better have no tongue than to have one you can't govern.

Envy is unquestionably a high compliment, but a most ungracious one.

The age of a young lady is now expressed according to the present style of skirts, by saying that eighteen springs have passed over her head.

Woman was taken from man's side, and the wound was not entirely sewed up. He has had to have an occasional stitch in his side ever since.

A western editor is responisble for the following ilustration of juvenile piety: "Pray God the bless father and mother and Anna, by jinks I must scrabble quick into bed before Mary does."

Hans, who is judge of morals, as well as money, says that being tender to another man's wife is not "legal tender." We accept his opinion—though we have no interest in the question.

A paragraph has been going the rounds of an old lady who had a moustache on her lip. It is not uncommon for young ladies in our vicinity to have moustaches on their lips.

I have a brother—a wee little chap—who sometimes says things we think very odd. One day, as he was disposing of some bread and milk, he turned around to his mother, and said, "Oh, mother, I'm full of glory! There was a sunbeam on my spoon and I swallowed it!"

Never did an Irishman utter a better bull than did an honest John, who being asked by a friend: "Has your sister a son or a daughter?" answered: "Upon my life, I do not yet know whether I am uncle or aunt.

A few days since a town crier took in charge a lost child, and proceeded to hunt up his parents. On being asked by a lady what the matter was, he replied: "Here's an orphan child, ma'am, and I'm trying to find its parents."

It is a beautiful saying of somebody that "gratitude is the music of the heart when its chords are swept by the gentle breeze of kindness." Many hearts, however, might as well be strung with bed cord for any music of gratitude that ever come from them.

'I don't know what you mean by not being an Irishman,' said a gentleman who was hiring a boy. 'You say you were born in Ireland.'

'Och, your honor, if that's all' said the boy, 'small blame to that. Suppose your cat were to have kittens in the oven, would they be loaves of bread.'

The New Bedford Mercury mentions the following incident:

A lad recently applied to his father for seventy-five cents, with which to go to a picnic. Obtaining this sum, he procured from his mother an additional amount of twenty-five cents for the same innocent purpose. Thus in funds, the little fellow hired two jobbing wagons, proceeded to the Orphan's Home, and treated the little inmates to a ride. That was his picnic.

A lad was called to the witness stand in court whose tender years raised doubts as to his competency as a witness, by not understanding the nature and obligtion of an oath. The first question put was: "Are you a son of the plaintiff?" The little fellow deliberately crossing his legs and putting about half a paper of tobacco in his mouth, replied, with the utmost coolness. "Well, so i'ts reported." He testified.

A countryman took his seat at a hotel table opposite a gentleman who was indulging in a bottle of wine, Supposing the wine to be common property, our unsophisticated country friend innocently helped himself to it from the other gentleman's glass.

'That's cool, exclaimed the owner of the wine indignantly.

'Yes,' replied the countryman, 'I should think there was ice in it."

Very Polite.—A hosier editor attending church, for the first time in many years stopped at the entrance, and after looking in vain for the bell pull, deliberately knocked at the door and politely waited until somebody opened it and let him in.

Among the volunteer Ethops from Lake Providence was one who said he was a Methodist preacher, and wanted the position as chaplain to his colored brethren in arms. He received a temporary appointment and forthwith commenced a vigorous prosecution of prayers and sermons. In his first discourse he illustrated the all-seeing attribute of the Divine nature by the following apt and original simile:

"Brethren—I tell you de Lord is like a mouse in a hollow log. He sees you and you can't see him, 'cays his eyes is smaller and more stronger'n yours. He can peep troo de holes in de log, and you don't know he's dar till of a sudden ye hear him call out yer name, as war the case wid Samwell of old. Bredreh, if you does right, needn't care if de Lord gits behind every logs so long as you have a conscience void of defence.'

DEFECTIVE PAGE

The Weekly Union.

Mankato, Friday, July 17, 1863.

Republican Union Convention.

The Republicans and all other unconditional Union men throughout the State of Minnesota, who are earnest and honest supporters of the Administration, and who will stand by it without fear or favor in all its efforts to crush rebellion and maintain the Union, and who desire to see no cessation of hostilities until the glorious old flag of our country shall wave over a united Republic, "without a stripe erased or polluted, or a single star obscured,"—and all, in fine, who are uncompromisingly hostile to traitors, whether open, armed rebels in the South, or covert advocates in the North of a damaging and humiliating peace, will assemble in convention at St. Paul, at Ingersol's Hall, on Wednesday, August the 19th, 1864, at 11 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following offices:

Governor;
Lieutenant Governor;
Secretary of State;
State Treasurer;
Attorney General;
Auditor of State;
Clerk of the Supreme Court.

The different counties will be entitled to be represented in the Convention by Delegates, who are bona fide residents of the counties from which they are accredited, as follows:

Anoka	2	Morrison	1
Benton	2	Mower	2
Blue Earth	4	Nicollet	3
Brown	2	Olmstead	6
Carver	3	Pine	1
Chisago	2	Ramsey	8
Dakotah	7	Renville	1
Dodge	3	Rice	5
Faribault	1	Scott	5
Fillmore	9	Sherburne	1
Freeborn	3	Sibley	3
Hennepin	8	Stearns	3
Isanti	1	Steele	2
Goodhue	6	St. Louis	1
Houston	5	Wabashaw	7
Le Sueur	4	Winona	6
McLeod	1	Waseca	2
Meeker	1	Wright	3
Mille Lac	1	Washington	4

No Delegates will be admitted from unorganized or uninhabited counties, not enumerated above.

By order of the Republican Central Committee.

ROBT. F. FISK, Ch'n.
WILFORD L. WILSON,
ANDREW NESSEL,
D. BLAKELY,
J. B. GILFILLAN,
BENJ. F. SMITH.

St. Paul, July 8, 1863.

SALUTATORY.

Readers, we have been talking with you for the past three or four weeks through the columns of the old Independent, and it is not necessary, therefore, that we should make a formal bow and salutation as we appear before you in our improved form.

We have purchased the materials on which has been printed the Mankato Independent, and have deemed it good policy, not only to change the name of the paper, but increase its size, at the same time reducing the subscription price.

We have come among you to stay permanently,—have found a "local habitation"—(Mankato)—"and a name"—(Union). We intend to publish a good County paper—a live paper—THOROUGHLY AWAKE to your interests, constantly seeking for items that will add to the prosperity of Blue Earth and adjoining counties.

Our circulation will be principally in Blue Earth and the counties south and west of us, and from these counties we expect to derive our support.

It will be for your interest to support the Union. We want you to feel that it is YOUR PAPER, and as you read it from week to week, you will find it a complete "text-book" of all your County affairs.

You will understand, distinctly, that the Union will be radically Republican, advocating Republican principles, and firm in its support of the Administration and the government, in its efforts to put down rebellion. The only issue of the times now is, government or no government—country or no country. We are for the Government now, and all the time.

We shall devote considerable space each week to agricultural matters, and to that end invite correspondence from all farmers throughout the county.

We shall take special pains with the Local Department, and neglect nothing that will interest you. We have already established correspondents in all the towns in this and Faribault counties, and anything that transpires will be promptly reported for the Union.

Our terms are only One Dollar and Fifty Cents per year, payable in advance. We have adopted the CASH SYSTEM, believing that to be the only way to insure success, and no papers will be sent after this issue, unless paid for. Those subscribers to the Independent who have paid in advance, will be served with the Union until their subscriptions expire.

Forty cents will pay for the Union for three months, and seventy-five cents for six months. Money can be sent by mail at our risk.

INDIAN NEWS.

We learn from the Press that on Monday last three men residing at Bloomington, a settlement on the Minnesota River, about eighteen miles from St. Paul, went to the flat just below to cut hay. While they were so engaged, one of the men Thomas McAuley,(brother of Mr. McAnley who keep the meat store corner of Roberts and 4th street) went to the river to get a drink. While stooping down to drink, he was seized from behind by some one, and forced down into the water. He struggled so desperately that he got his head above water, and saw that his assailants were two Sioux Indians! They still kept hold of him, and endeavored to force his head under water, but being a muscular man, and better at the fist game than the devils, Mr. McAnley, succeeded after a desperate hand-to-hand struggle with the savages, in releasing himself from their grasp, and ran towards his friends, hallooing for help. The Indians then walked rapidly away, and hid themselves. No pursuit was made of them as the party had no arms.

LATEST NEWS.

The press upon our columns this week has crowded out much news matter of interest.

The New York riot has been suppressed, and the leaders arrested. President Lincoln did not accede to the demand of Gov. Seymour "to suspend the draft," but will interpose the strong arm of the government to quell the riot. Disgraceful riots have taken place in Boston and Troy.

The garrison at Port Hudson surrendered to Gen. Banks on the 8th, and the Mississippi is now open.

The loss in Lee's army during the late battle is not less than 33,000. He has succeeded in crossing the river. There is no news from the Potomac. All is quiet.

The attack on Charleston is progressing. We hold nearly all the Island.

THE PAYMENT OF COMMUTATION MONEY.

As the draft is undoubtedly soon to take place, our readers may be interested in learning what arrangements have been made for receiving commutation of those who, having been drafted, prefer to pay the $300 rather than enter the service. The Collectors of Internal Revenue in the several Congressional Districts are to receive the money, being authorized thereto by the Secretary of War, as follows:

War Department,
Washington, D. C. June 29th, 1863.

Sir: You are hereby authorized and appointed to receive from any person in the 1st Congressional District of the State of Minnesota who may be drafted into the military service, under the act approved March 3, 1863, "for enrolling and calling out the national forces, and for other purposes," the money which said act permits such drafted person to pay, in order to be discharged from further liability under that draft. The money so received to be safely kept, and paid over to the United States Depository, in accordance with the Rules and Regulations of the War Department. A per centage, sufficient to afford a reasonable compensation, will be allowed you on the money passing through your hands under this appointment.

EDWIN M. STANTON,
Secretary of War.

To John Norris Hall,
Collector of Internal Revenue, and of Commutation Money, 1st District, State of Minnesota, Mankato, Blue Earth County.

The Receiver of commutation money is to give triplicate receipts, in accordance with a form furnished by the War Department, one copy of which is to be sent to the Provost Marshal General, and the other two copies are to be delivered to the drafted man paying the money. We believe that the regulation of the War Department allow the drafted man ten days after being notified in which either to report, furnish a substitute, or the certificate of the Receiver of Commutation money that the required sum has been paid.

THE SIOUX COMMISSION.

On Thursday of this week, the Sioux Board commenced their session at this place, and will continue until the 24th inst.

They will then open at St. Peter on the 25th, close there the 28th, open at Henderson on the 29th, close there on the first day of August, and proceed thence, via Minneapolis to St. Cloud, and commence a session there as soon as convenient.

Up to the 1st of June twenty-five hundred cases had been heard and disposed of.

About fifty claims per day are now heard. It is thought that something over five hundred claims will be presented before the session closes.

As inquiry has been made as to when the money would be paid on the allowed claims, we have examined the law on the subject. That says that two-thirds of the balance remaining unexpended of annuities due and payable to the Sioux Indians for the present fiscal year, (that is, last year,) not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars, and the further sum of $100-000, being two-thirds of the amount due and payable to the Sioux during the present fiscal year, (that is, up to the 1st of July inst.,) shall be paid to the Commissioners, and by them to be apportioned to families that have sufferred damages, in sums not exceeding two hundred dollars to any one family.

The Board cannot make any apportionment until they ascertain what that unexpended balance is. They have written to the Secretary of the Interior and Secretary of the Treasury, and probably will receive replies in a week or so.

The fund to be apportioned can only be distributed to heads of families whose claims were presented and allowed before the 1st of June. No provision has yet been made by Congress for the payment of claims presented since that time, and those now being heard will have to wait the action of Congress in this matter.

In apportioning the fund already appropriated, if it is found insufficient for the purposes of the law, small claims will have the preference, and injuries involving the loss of household goods, farming stock or utensils, or the destruction of the domicile, and all cases of extreme hardships, will be preferred to claims of another class.

OUR FRONTIER LINE OF DEFENCE.

Through the kindness of our St. Peter correspondent we have been furnished with the following table showing the line of defense in the second sub-district, in which Col. Wilkin commands, the number of cavalry and infantry forces at each post, by whom commanded, and the distance from one post to another. As an item for future reference it will prove valuable.

NAME OF POST.	Dis.	Inf.	Cav.	OFFICER IN COMMAND	REGIMENT.
MANANNAH.	‡	40	12	Lieut James Gorman,	10th Minn. Volunteers.
LONG LAKE.	12	58	22	Capt. Jerome Dane,	9th " "
†PIPE LAKE.	15	30	35	Capt. Allen, Co. I,	1st " M'td Rang'rs
BUFFALO CREEK.	10	30	14	Lieut Stewart,	10th " Volunteers.
CAMP BURNS.	11	44		Capt. Saunders,
FORT RIDGELY.	12	22	25	Lieut Col. J. F. Marsh,	9th " "
†BIG COTTONWOOD.	12	25	37	Capt. Nix,
LAKE HANSKA.	12	45	17	Capt Richard Strout,	9th " "
CAMP WILKIN.	7	25		Lieut Capon,	9th " "
SOUTH BRANCH, WATONWAN.	14	47	19	Capt. D. W. Wellman	9th " "
CAMP CHANGUSKA.	10	35		Lieut George Patten,	9th " "
FAIRMOUNT.	11	43	11	Capt. A. K Skaro,	9th " "
Total.*		655	193

‡ Distance in miles from one post to the other. *This estimate is correct.
† Patrols are sent out daily in front of line.

An order has been issued by Col. Wilkin, enjoining upon Lieutenant Col. Pfaender the duty of establishing daily communication, by means of cavalry, between Manannah and the Iowa line. Patrolling parties will start every morning from each direction, meeting the patrols from the opposite direction, and carrying all communications and packages that may be delivered to them. Parties will also be sent from Fort Ridgely every morning in each direction. The Commanding officer of each post will endorse upon the communications sent, the line of arrival and departure of the party, and any special report of the messengers or scouts. It will be seen by this that the Colonel commanding is determined to afford ample protection to the frontier. By this plan the officer at Manannah will be in constant communication with the one at Fairmount, through the commanding officer at Fort Ridgely, and vice versa. Orders to this effect have been received by the respective commandants of the posts on the line.

So long as these vigorous measures are in force, our settlers need have no fear of attack by the Indians, either in large or small bands. There are some settlers living still west of the post at Fairmount, but it is the intention of Col. Wilkin to make such disposition of the troops under his command, as to form a complete line of defence outside of all settlements.

Very few of our readers have any correct idea of the number of troops left for frontier defence, and have considered the forces insufficient to repel attack; but the total number which this table gives, shows that the south-western line of defence at least, is sufficiently strong to quiet all apprehensions of a future Indian raid.

The fort near the Iowa line, known as Fort Britt, or Williams, is garrisoned by a small body of Iowa mounted militia. It was constructed during the Ink-pa-du-tah war, and is substantially built.

—The agricultural committee held a meeting at St. Paul on the 10th ult., and decided to hold a State fair next fall, at Fort Snelling, or some other place that could be obtained for that purpose. Wm. L. Ames, the president of the Board, and Maj. Cullen, were appointed a committee to secure the grounds.

CORRESPONDENCE.

St. Peter Correspondence.

St. Peter, July 15th, 1863.

To the Editor of the Union:

Your correspondent took advantage of a business "lull" this morning to look around and learn what might be going on about town, with a view of giving your readers the benefit of any items of interest coming under his observation. After having made diligent search, the only items worthy of special mention were gathered at the Land office, with reference to the settlement of the fertile lands in this district. In the month of June, over one hundred and thirty-five entries were made under the Homestead Act, embracing an era of over twenty thousand acres. Over five thousand acres were entered by land-warrant, half-breed scrip and cash.

We were also informed that about one hundred and fifty claims have been taken on the Winnebago Reservation. Thus it will be seen that Minnesota is rapidly increasing in population and wealth. Her vast resources being developed by a vigorous and enterprising class of people. The future is onward and upward.

Upon examination it appears that the entries thus far made are distributed over the whole district. Nicollet, Blue Earth, Brown and Watonwan counties are specially benefited by this large influx of immigration. We find among these new-comers representatives from many of the northern States. Others there are from Virginia, Maryland and Kentucky, who have sought our fertile lands, that they might build up homes for themselves and children, where the fear of oppression by Rebels is not known.

S.

Sterling Correspondence.

Sterling, July 13th, 1863.

Editor of the Union:

I presume you will have been furnished with a full account of the celebration on the fourth, at Shelbyville long before this reaches you, still a few remarks concerning it may not be entirely out of place.

The gathering was a very interesting one; considered even apart from the special object that brought us together. There was the young man and maiden, the man of grey hairs and the infant of a few days; both sexes and all ages were abundantly represented, and happily no distinction as to classes could be made. There was none of the first families there, or rather we all belonged to class. That is we were all American Citizens, or in other words 'children of Abraham' 'and were never in bondage to any man,' and thus felt specially thankful and happy. And so we ought, for we had good music, good speaking, good singing, good food, good company and good weather; and the man who would not be happy in such circumstances, could not be over and above good himself. And to crown all, we Republicans had the privilege of seeing a Lord married. Yes Mr. Editor, a real live Lord. And after he got through with the ceremony, the minister proposed three cheers for the Union: whether he meant the Union of the States, or the union he had just cemented we did not know, but some of us at least included both in our cheers, and they were given with a will.

The friends of Shelbyville did everything they could to make the meeting go off well, and they deserve our thanks. Viewed as a holiday it was quite a plesant one, (and the American people have too few of them for their health and comfort,) but viewed as a patriotic demonstration, it was scarcely up to the demand of the times. It is well to make the anniversary of the glorious Fourth a day of rejoicing, but we should surely have a higher aim. Aught we not to use it as a means to stir up our patriotic feelings, to deepen our sense of the invaluable privileges we enjoy as American citizens; and to be ready like the illustrious signers of our liberty, to pledge our fortunes, our lives, and our sacred honor in the defence of the United States against foreign foes, the southern rattlesnake, or the northern copperhead.

I blame no one in particular, but there appeared somewhat of a feeling that perhaps after all we may fail in our efforts to suppress this wicked rebellion and preserve the Union.

I would rather at such a time as present, we had all been roused to new devotion in our country's cause, and that there, and then we might all have been urged to "register a vow in Heaven," that the Union must and shall be preserved.

Sidney.

The Fourth at Hutchinson.

Hutchinson, July 4 1863.

To the Editor of the Union.

Thinking some of your readers will be interested in knowing how a portion of Company "E" have spent this anniversary of our nation birth' I will burden you with a few, lines, which I hope will be of interest to our friends at home, and also to the inhabitants of Minnesota in general.

News was received at Forest City, on Wednesday evening last, that four persons were attacked by a party of Indians, on Monday night, eighteen miles southeast of that place, and three of them were killed. It was not believed, and no vigorous measures were adopted to overtake and punish the murderers. Since then, however, the news has been confirmed.

Last night a man named Chancy Lamson, and well known, both by citizens and soldiers here, came to head-quarters, and reported that he and his father had fallen in with some Indians while hunting in the Big Woods nine miles north of this place. He and his father both fired at the Indians and were fired at by them. He did not know the result, except that he escaped unhurt.

A party of ten men sent out under Sergt. Martin, with orders to do as he thought best. We started soon after ten, and went to Mr. Lamson's farm. There we slept until daylight this morning, when we started on. Upon arriving at the place designated, about the first thing found that showed something unusual had occurred, was, a dead Indian. He had received two shots, one in the left hip, and one in the right breast. Either one would probably have proved fatal, but to Chaney Lamson belongs the honor of firing the shot that did its work immediately.

The Indian has gone to meet his final account. What that will be, it is not hard to guess. He died in an instant after using every means in his power to take the life of a human being. He died with murder in his heart; and the crime was rendered no less black by being providentially defeated. Can we call such persons human beings? fellow mortals? Let us rather say fiends in human shape; those who have used the garb of manhood, that they may the more effectually accomplish the designs of the Prince of Darkness.

From appearances we judge that Mr. Lamson had been very slightly wounded, and got home in safety. We followed the trail of the other Indian (there having been two Indians and a pony,) a short distance, and then returned to the house. Wishing to be sure that Mr Lamson was safe before leaving the woods, two men were sent to this place with the understanding that they were to return if he had not got home. In about two hours a squad of cavalry arrived, that had been sent for from this place last night. They brought the gratifying intelligence that Mr. Lamson was safe. After informing them where they could find the trail, we started on our return, and they in pursuit of the Indian. They followed him until the trail became so dim that it could be followed no farther, and returned. A team has brought in the dead Indian, and this evening he is the "observed of all observers."

Probably the Indians were the same that killed the three persons Monday night. Whether they were or not, it is certain that one of them will not again carry terror and death to any of the homes of our frontier. This is one of the few engagments in which the Indians have lost more than they gained. May such instances be more numerous in the history of this savage war.

But an anniversary that dawned upon us under such circumstances, was not to close in a similar manner. Two of our lady friends, from Mankato, got us up a Fourth of July supper, which passed off very pleasantly. Acts of kindness are not forgotten, and any thing that will make the hours of our soldier life pass more agreeably, will long be remembered by the grateful recipients. This evening the boys are singing National airs, and lady voices are not wanting to join in the music.

Hoping that the next Fourth of July will be spent at home, with peace reigning throughout our land, I will close.

F. D. S.

The number of men now in hospital at Washington is about 6 000.

The family of Hon. John Bell, who are at Nashville, have received intelligence of his dangerous illness at Atlanta, Georgia.

In the third ward in Chicago last week the enrolling officers were set upon by a mob and severely injured; one of the number is not expected to recovered.

INDIAN TROUBLES.

We gather from our exchanges, and from other sources, the following information in regard to our Indian difficulties in the Northern part of the State.

The State Atlas says the western portion of our county has been the theatre fo an unusual degree of excitement the past week. The coolest headed, and the most cautious, seem to be satisfied that there are Indians prowling through the Big Woods, a few miles from Rockford. If such is the case, and we know of no good reason to doubt it, prompt action is imperative on the part of our Military authorities, to drive the savage marauders out of the settlements. Those who have the best opportunities of knowing say that these Indians do not carry fire arms, but are provided with "bows and arrows." This singular fact is, to a certain degree, proved in the case of those persons recently murdered near Waverly. They were shot with arrows. What the object is in having recourse to these primitive weapons of warfare, is not so clear, without it is to prevent alarming the citizens by the report of fire-arms.

We hope a sufficient force of soldiery will at once be sent out to protect our much alarmed citizens, and settle the question certainly whether there are any Indians in the Big Woods or not. Discretion at least, demands such action.

ANOTHER INDIAN MURDER.

We have just been informed by Capt. Geo. C. Witcomb, that James McGannon, Esq., was killed by the Indians on last Wednesday, about three miles from Fair Haven, Stearns county. Mr. McGannon had been out to Forest City on business, and was returning to his place of residence near Champlin, in this County, when he was way-laid and killed by the Indians.

MAN SHOT AT, NEAR CLEARWATER.

Information has reached here that a farmer was shot at a few days since by Indians, within four miles of Clearwater, Wright county. Bows and arrows were the weapons used, and one of the arrows perforated his hat, which shows the narrow escape he made.

Col. Miller has ordered a detachment of men to scour Kandiyohi and Monongalia counties, and kill off the red rascals in that region.

A rumor prevailed yesterday of a man being pursued by Indians near Shakopee. He succeeded in reaching the town half dead with fatigue and fright. We cannot vouch for the correctness of the report.

A HUNDRED HEAD OF CATTLE RECOVERED.

Lieut. McCell, stationed at Manannah, says about 9 o'clock yesterday, I sent out six men to cut hay. When half a mile from the stockade they saw four mounted Indians driving off cattle. Three of the men turned back to get our horses—the other three kept on after the Indians. After driving the cattle about four miles, one of the men came close upon them and was discovered. The men on horseback might also have been seen at the same time by the Indians, for they broke into two squads, going rapidly in nearly opposite directions. It was so foggy and smoky at that time that objects could not be distinctly seen more than a quarter of a mile. Our men did not think it best to follow further, so they gathered up and drove back the cattle—about one hundred in number. I imagine there are many Indians at or beyond Kandiyohi lakes, from their visits in this vicinity.

On the night of July 9th a Mr. Bryant, residing in this neighborhood, was aroused by his dogs barking furiously through the night. He having no gun, kept in the house till morning, when, on examining the premises, there were the signs of three Indians in the garden and about the house. The people have all fled from the woods. This is in the same neighborhood where the Indians stole those horses that Capt. Cady's men recaptured about two weeks ago.

The Sioux City Register says of Gen. Sibleys Expedition: The necessary arrangements having been all completed, the march from Camp Cook commenced on Monday last. On Wednesday, Gen. Sully and Col. Wilson left here to join the command. The force consists of about 2,500 men, attended by three steamers and a train of 200 wagons, with supplies for a four months' campaign. The latest reports from the Indians is that they are in force near Devil's Lake, are fully apprised of the advance of our troops, and intend giving them fight.

INDIANS IN AND AROUND FAIRHAVEN.

The Press says, Adjutant Gen. Malmros has received a letter from Mr. A. W. Tucker, dated at Fairhaven, July 11. The letter states that on the preceding Tuesday, about midnight, Mr. E. Whitney of that town was awakened by the barking of dogs and proceeded to the window where he discovered plainly two men, supposed to be Indians, at his stable door and just in the act of openeng it. He immediately caught his gun and was ready to fire when his wife came into the room with a light and spoiled his fun. The Indians had succeeded in opening the stable door and in a few minutes more would have carried away an excellent span of horses.

About eleven on the following evening two men rode through the town at a tremendous rate of speed and an inquiry developing the fact that no one in that vicinity was out at that hour, suspicion was aroused that the rapid troopers were Indians. The next evening the ride was repeated between eight and nine o'clock, and an immediate though unsuccessful pursuit prove the correctness of the previous suspicion. Another Indian was seen skulking in the bushes during the chase and was fired at but darkness prevented an effective shot.

—Among those drafted at Pittsburg on the 8th inst., were the enrolling commissioners, Wm. H. Campbell, Ex-Provost Marshall, Dr. Herron, and one of the clerks, Capt. McHenry.

—Capt. T M. Newson has been ordered to take charge of the Commissary department at St. Cloud.

—Elihu Washburne, member of Congress from Illinois, has gone to Vicksburg to render aid to sick and wounded soldiers.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

MANKATO INS. AGENCY.

HARTFORD.

PHOENIX.

MERCHANTS—FIRE INS. CO'S.

CHARTER OAK LIFE INS. CO.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid by
JOHN N. HALL.
Resident Agent.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
Blue Earth County.

Mankato, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 13th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet been redeemed, I will execute and deliver to the purchasers of said lands at said sale, or their assignees, deeds for the same on and after the 11th day of January, A. D., 1864, unless said lands shall before that time have been redeemed. And notice is also given that the sum set against each description of land in said list is the amount due [illegible] the purchaser of said land on redemption.

CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME.	LOT.	BLK.	AMT.	NAME.	LOT.	BLK.	AMT.
Unknown	1	24	[illegible]	Unknown	1	[illegible]	[illegible]
do	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	do	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
do	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	do	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	do	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Willard & Besser's Addition.

Unknown, lot 10, block 13, amount 2.66.

NAME.	[illegible]	SEC.	T.	R.	AMT.
H W Lamberton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Earl Parham	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
M Garling	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Dennis O'Flynn	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wm P Smith	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
T P Anderson	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
H Wright	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
William Gage	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Alex Wood	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Unknown	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
H G Tryon	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
H G Tryon	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
McMurtrie & Com	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Alex Wood	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Unknown	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
A Frazer	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Internal Revenue Notice.

U. S. Assessor's Office,
First Collection District, Minn.,
Rochester, July 17th, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that the lists of all taxes assessed under the Excise Tax law of the United States within Division No. 16, comprising Blue Earth Watonwan, Brown, Renville, Cottonwood, Murray, Red Wood and Rock counties will be open for the inspection of all parties concerned for the space of fifteen (15) days from the date hereof at the office of William Reid, Assistant Assessor, in the village of Mankato.

Further notice is hereby given that I will be at said office on the 3rd day of August, A. D., 1863, for the purpose of hearing appeals which are allowed to be made under section 15 of the Excise Tax Law of the United States.

GEORGE W. BAKER,
Assessor First Dist. Minnesota.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
In District Court.
County of Blue Earth—6th District.

To Aaron N. Dukes, James Thompson, Sen Ralph A. Loveland, Peter Berry, John H. Burgess, Henry Himmelman, John A. Willard, Sheldon F. Barney, George A. Roberts and Benjamin F. Smith, defendants:

In the name of the State of Minnesota, you are hereby summoned to answer the complaint of Ezra R. Dibblee, John C. Work and Lansing C. Moore, plaintiffs, a copy of which is hereunto annexed, and to serve a copy of your answer to me at my office in Mankato, within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiffs will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint. Dated January 27th, 1863.

FRANKLIN H. WAITE,
Atty for Plffs.

13w

THE COUNTY.

Government Stores are arriving every day from St. Peter and Henderson.

The river is still in statu quo, only "more so." Navigation is suspended for a few days.

Removed.—Dr. Zenopolski has removed his office to the small building opposite the Clifton.

Attention is called to the Internal Revenue Notice, in this week's issue of the Union.

Pretty Good, That.—During the month of June, two hundred and sixty entries were made in the Land Office at Winnebago City.

On Duty.—2d Lieutenant J. C. McCain, of Co. B. 9th Reg't, is in charge of the post at this place. during the absence of Lieut. Rice, at St. Paul.

Errata.—In our notice of the hotel at New Ulm. in last week's issue, the type made us say "Gross House" when it should have been "Dakota,"

Come and Try.—If you want to get printing done cheap, and in a style equal to any other establishment in the valley, call at the Union office.

Sold Out.—Uncle Tom has sold the building he has been occupying to Messrs Mims & Womack, who will fill it up with a stock of goods immediately.

Frost.—We have had slight frosts for three or four nights past, but no damage has been done that we have heard of Sale of Real Estate.—On Thursday the 14th, Mr. G. G. Young, of Vernon Centre, sold his farm of one hundred acres prairie and sixty acres timber, for $1.500.

Allen & Marsh's mill at Shelbyville is doing a heavy business just now. Its managers are gentlemen of experience, energy, and full of "goaheadativeness."

Dr. Underwood, the eminent and and skillful operater on the eye and ear, will be in Mankato next Thursday, the 23d inst, and can be consulted for a short time at the Mankato House.

"A Letter From Home."—The original poetry fround on our first page can be sung to the tune "Do they miss me at Home?" It makes pretty music, and charms while it softens the heart.

Ray & Williams, of Garden City, keep on hand a good supply of dry goods and groceries. They are good men to deal with, and one feels at home when he goes into their Store to trade.

Mr. Young at Vernon, has bought him another farm of eighty-acres for which he paid four hundred and seventy-five dollars. He is now bargaining for another 80 near by. Mr. Y. is an enterprising farmer, and everything he touches turns to greenbacks.

Ladies' Mite Society.—The ladies connected with the Presbyterian Church are taking steps to organize a society named as the above.

Fitting Up.—J. F. Wickersham, is fitting up the building formerly occupied by Dr. Zenepolski, opposite the express office, and will open a drug store about the first of August.

Mower County Register, is the name of a new paper just started at Austin, by H. R. Davidson. It is a six column sheet and neatly printed on new type. Its mechanical execution does credit to the skill of our old friend Charlie. Success to you.

We are requested by Quarter master McKnsick to state that he has in his office some thirty or forty vouchers issued by Downs & Cutter, for transportation, &c. which the owners can have by calling for them, and that they will now be paid by Capt. Carlin, at St. Paul.

One of the best pieces of Rio Grande wheat we have seen up country is on the farm of Thomas Sowers, at Vernon. It is full three feet high, headed out nicely, and none of the kernels shrunken.

We took up one head and separating the kernels, counted over forty plump ones. He expects it to yield near 40 bushels per acre.

By the way, we must not forget to state, that it is a matter of very general remark among travelers who have stopped there, that Mrs. S. sets an excellent table, and cannot be surpassed as a good cook.

"A good shave" is an excellent thing to take in warm weather, and no one knows how to give you one better than Lieberg, who holds forth a few doors above our office. His patrons speak well of his work.

Singing School.—Mr. Torrey will commence a course of lessons in vocal music on Tuesday evening next at the City Hall. All those wishing to learn the rudiments of music will be on hand at 7¼ o'clock precisely. Terms $1,00 for twelve lessons.

New Store.—H. A. Buck, Esq., the gentleman who so successfully managed the Shelbyville celebration on the 4th, has opened a new store at Shelbyville, and is filling up with a choice lot of goods. He has had large experience in the business, and will bring on a stock that will suit the farmers.

Mirror of Fashions.—This splendid quarterly, for August, published by M'me Demorest, especially for the ladies' use, is received. It is really a superb number, and contains much fashionable information which ladies love to read. How M'me Demorest can afford to publish such a costly work of art at the low price of one dollar, we cannot imagine. The August number is worth treble the subscription price.

Explanation.—We dislike to make apologies. They are always in bad taste, and received with ill-grace. But we wish to say that our paper will be much improved next week. We discovered, too late to remedy the matter, that our "rollers" were out of order, and that will account for the looks of the outside, this number. We are under obligations to Mr. Wise, of the Record, for favors bestowed.

The Mankato House.—Henry Shaublut, the gentlemanly host of this well-known house, has been fitting up his rooms, re-painting and papering them so that they look first rate. We never tested the quelity of the food that Henry spreads before his guests, but so long as Grove Burt carries the market basket on his arm, its "all right." We know Grove of old.

One of the cheapest papers in the Minnesota Valley is the Mankato Weekly Union, only One Dollar and Fifty cents per year, in advance. It is usual in times of retrenching, to reduce the size of a paper when the price is reduced. But we have departed from the usual mode and in creased the size of our paper, at the same time reducing the price.

Militia Drill.—The officers of the militia at St. Peter are familiarizing themselves with tactics. It is a good idea, for it is this militia force which is to form the great bulwark of the Nation. The necessity of efficiency in drill should be enforced upon the people. Let the militia of our town take hold of the tactics, and fit themselves for active service.

Nightly Patrols.—The militia of New Ulm is an organization that amounts to something. For the better security of the place, and to be ready for any emergency, they take turns in patroling the town and the outskirts, nightly. Every one on the list has to take his turn, or furnish without fail, a substitute. No Indians have been seen in that vicinity this season, but with news of the approach of Indians in other portions of the State, it certainly is a matter of prudence for them to look out for these wily Sioux.

$25 Reward.—Stolen at the Winnebago Agency, Saturday, July 11th, a small bay mare (Pony) with black mane and tail, and lame in one hind leg. The lameness is a curb in the gambrel joint. Weight about 800 lbs. The above reward will be paid to any one who will return said pony, for give information of the same to E. P. Evans at Garden City, or Winnebago Agency.

Immigration.—Settlers are pouring into Blue Earth and Faribault counties with a rapidity truly astonishing. We had supposed that our Indian troubles had frightened so many away, that but few others would be induced to settle among us, but we are much pleased to see so many intelligent farmers seeking homes in our midst. Some of the best farms in the State are to be found in the Minnesota and Blue earth valleys, and these settlers know it. Some of them are buying farms already under cultivation.

Martin County.—We had the pleasure of a call from our old friend Wm. W. Carrington, of Fairmount, Auditor of that County. Friend W. is an excellent business man and has proved himself a skillful and competent County officer. Martin County is settling up very fast, Over forty claims have been taken there this summer. A store has been started at Chain Lake Center, and a Mr. Aaron Smith is building a saw-mill at Fairmount.

Oak Grove Township.—About two months ago, there were but two or three families living on the reserve east of the Agency Now, we are glad to learn from Mr. Stebbins, a new settler, that some forty families have moved in and taken farms on the Reservation. They are a good class of people, mostly from Wisconsin and Illinois, and just the kind of citizens we like to have among us. All of them but one, are good Union men, sound to the core. They have organized a Union Sabbath School, which is largely attended every Sunday, and well conducted. On the 4th of July the inhabitants had a meeting and agreed to call their town "Oak Grove," and will petition the County Board in September for an organization. Their town, we believe, is 106, range 25. We think, however, they will have to change the name as there is a post-office in Hennepin County, and a township in Dakota county, both bearing the name of Oak Grove.

The Crops.—We took a trip up the Blue Earth last week, and were surprised to find crops of all [illegible] so far advanced. The dry weather has not effected them so much above Garden City. The yield per acre will be nearly as great as last year, and on some pieces a larger yield will be had. Some pieces this side of Garden City are suffering for the want of rain. Barley is nearly ripe, and some pieces are already harvested. Corn is doing well this growing weather, shooting right up. A little rain would do good. But little sorghum was planted this year. The farmers were not able to take care of what was planted last year, not more than one-sixth of the entire area under cultivation being cut up and taken care of.

Winnebago City.—We were surprised to notice the many improvements that have been made in this place within the past two years. It presents the best appearance of any town in the valley. The hotel is a good one, ably conducted by D. S. Law, Esq., The store of G. K. Moulton is equal to any in Mankato, and is well filled with goods of all kinds. In the Land Office Messrs. Hally and Welch are kept busy attending to their duties, and give perfect satisfaction. No fault ever found with them.

Fife Wheat.—Thomas S. Maxson, of Verona has the best piece of fife wheat we have seen this year. It is estimated to yield forty bushels to the acre. A few more days of warm weather and it will be ready to cut.

Blue Earth City,—The Union House, under the care of Mr Constans, is receiving a large share of patronage from the traveling public. The Converse house will soon be open under new auspices. A Mr. Woodruff, from Albert Lea will act as "mine host." Messrs Seely & Sly will have a cover on their back in a few days, and then to ride in it will be a pleasure indeed. Friend Sly has fitted his house up in good shape, newly lathed, plastered and painted. Mr. Meade is filling up his Store with new goods, and is receiving a good share of trade. The fort at this place needs looking after. It is in a dilapidated condition, and in case of an Indian attack, much damage could be inflicted on the citizens before it could be repaired. Deputy Provost Marshall Wakefield has written the Adjutant General about the matter.

Mr. Bonwell, our County Auditor is East on a visit to his friends. He will return in a few weeks. During his absence, friend Keister, Register of Deeds, has charge of his business. Jacob is a whole-souled, jolly fellow.

Allen Shultis arrived from the East a few days ago, where he has been purchasing sheep. He has a large number on the way here.

Sibley's Scouts.—A good deal of fun is made at Fort Ridgely at this celebrated arm of Gen. Sibley's service. They draw their $2 50 per day as Scouts, their hard work consisting of accompanying military expedition.

They consider it dangerous to proceed scouting without a military escort. The most of them were, until quite recently, occupied about six miles from the fort, but, on representing that it was dangerous for them to remain so far out on the frontier, by the influence of somebody, they have now been allowed to remove in the vicinity of the Fort. When the expedition was at Camp Pope, one or two of them came to the Fort from below and requested a guard to accompany them to the camp as a matter of safety. The next news we expect to hear is that some white man traveling alone in the vicinity of the Fort has been killed, with the information that is supposed to have been done by Indians.

An Indian Killed and Scalped.—We learn by a letter from St. Peter, that a gentleman residing in that place, returned Thursday evening from Cleveland and brought the welcome news that an Indian had been killed not two miles from there. A party of horse-stealing Indians, three in number, were followed from near Waterville, by four or five citizens, and when at Cleveland were nearly surrounded by a still larger number of citizens, and one killed and scalped, and another badly wounded. Upon being shot, the wounded one dropped his bow and arrows, blanket and breech-clout. They found two or three bullet holes in his breech-clout, and expected to find the savage in the lakes edge. Our informant said that the party were confident of securing the other two. They are reported to be Sioux Indians. Two of the horses in possession of the Indians had already been captured.

The Sioux Commissioners.—The Sioux Board closed their sessions at New Ulm, Monday evening of this week, having, by three weeks of hard and constant work, heard all the cases that were to to be tried at that place, and finished up nearly five hundred of them. They commenced their sessions at this place yesterday. During their stay in New Ulm the best of feeling has existed between the Commissioners and the New Ulm community, and when they left there it was with the best of wishes for the prosperity of a people who, though having passed through so much suffering and hardships on account of the Indian outbreak, are still resolutely determined to give their fortunes, and their lives, even, to the future prospects of their town. In marked contrast to the sudden and undignified departure of the State Board from their midst last winter, they assembled in large numbers at the headquarters of the commissioners on the day of their departure, extended their best wishes, and gave [illegible] cheers for them as they left for this place.

Casualities in the First Minnesota Regiment July 1st and 2d.

Colonel William Colville, wounded in shoulder and foot.

Lieutenant Colonel Charles P. Adams, left lung and leg (since died.)

Major Mark W Downie, arm and foot

Adjutant J. Peller, left arm broken.

COMPANY A.

Killed,—Corporals J. Adler, J. Keys; Privates B. Sanders, J Shoemaker, J. Wilson, W Wagner, W. F. Miller, John Hauser

Wounded—Sergeant C Stein, thigh; H. C. Wright, head; F. Hauser, leg; W H. H. Dooley, wrist. Corporal S. Lyons, thigh; Peter Marks, ankle; John Dane, hand; Tim. Crowley, leg Privates F. Glave, knee; H. Nichol, thigh; S Pitkin, leg; Hans Simonson leg; Dan Farquar, leg; Charles Miller, leg; L. A. Adams, hand; R. L. Mowry, side; C Brand, knee; J. Thiem, hip; C. S Drake, arm; F. Geiser, side; John Farquar, thigh; J MacWilliams, ankle.

COMPANY B.

Killed—Serjeant F Nickerson; Privates A. Koenig A P Quist, N T. Bates.

Wounded—Lieutenant T. Sinclair, breast; Lieutenant Wm. May, leg; Sergeants D Lard, shoulder, J. Densmore, mortally; F. Krouse, arm; George Oliver, breast slight; A. Mortz' thigh; Dd. Wells, leg. Privates George Arnold, leg and shoulder; W H Ascker hip; R G Blanchard, side; A. Caplaizer, thigh; B Carriquet, thigh; M W, Ehrhardt, leg; P Querson, jaw broken; C. H Grove spine and shoulder; C. Hammer, face and head; M. J Henry, back; D Johnson, knee; F Martz, hand; E. Hysteadt, thigh; J P Schaenbeck, thigh and hand; A. Seibert, head and leg; Ole Thompson, leg; J A. Farmer, leg and head; COMPANY C.

Killed—Captain W. B. Farrell, Sergeant W. Lufkin.

Wounded—Lieutenant C. H. Mason, hand; Sergeants H H Howard, arm; A S. Craig. thigh; Corporal G. Squires, arm; Privates A. Griswold, head, mortally; J. Ellisworth, leg broken; M. Alberton, thigh; T. Chaney, right shoulder; W. H. Basset, arm and thigh.

COMPANY D.

Killed—Privates C. E. Baker, James Paine, A. C. Hady.

Wounded—Color Sergeant C. P. Perkins, thigh. Corporals J. Bryant, thigh, G. Grandy, breast; T. B Masson, wrist; J. Smith, side. Privates J W. Couch, arm; W R. Allen, abdomen; D. Sullivan, foot; G. W. Bartlett, thigh; W. C. Smith, shoulder; A. A Coppinger, hand and foot; A. E Howe, hip; C. H Rivers, five wounds in side; B F Noell, leg; C. W. Green, shoulder and arm, L. B. Geat, side, breast and hand.

COMPANY E.

Killed—Captain Louis Muller; Sergeant J. B Trevor; Privates J. W Davis, N. Fowler, J. Juckins, J L. Taylor.

Wounded—Lieutenant D B. Demarest, hip. Sergeant L R. Stiles, arm. Corporals H. C. Bradley, ankle; M. F. Taylor, breast; J. McKenzie, leg; H. D. O'Brien, hand. Privates G. N. Adams, shoulder; A. O. Berry, leg, J. Curry, arm; H. Drake, foot; H. Fisher, foot; J. R. Hill, both legs; W. W. Holden, Side and leg; E. Jefferson, leg and foot; W. H. Lasser, breast; A. C. Stiles, head; E. Weaver, neck; P. Welin, leg broken; V. Weddlestadt, foot; D. H. Waite, leg.

COMPANY F.

Killed—Sergeant P. Haulin, Corporal L J. Squires.

Wounded—Corporal W. Abbott, arm Privates J. T Batchelor, foot; A. L. M. Becker, knee; R. E Jacobs, shoulder; Levi King, jaw broken; C. Hubbs, wrist; H Bertram, back; W. C. Little, leg; C. L. Hubbs, arm and leg.

COMPANY G.

Killed—Captain M. S. Messick; Corporals. G. P. Sawyer, J. E. Strollman; Private J. Sisseler.

Wounded—Lieutenant J. DeGray, head Corporals A. Jones; hand; A. L Dunham, thigh. Privates A. Armon, shoulder; J. Mosher, thigh and wrist; J Roher, hand; G. S. Barton, breast and wrist; C. Boudurant, thigh; J. Farnsworth, thigh; John Getskin, thigh; W. Brown, leg; J. H. Kearney, hip; W. S. Reed, shoulder; A. W. Ernst, shoulder; W. Cohen, leg; S Scilly, back; G. McGee, breast; J. Goodrich, leg; G. Hopkins, wrist.

COMPANY H.

Killed—Sergeants J. Ackers, W. H Wykoff; Corporal J. P. Esseney.

Wounded—Sergeant Fred Diehr, both sides. Privates J. Kleauser, breast; K. Draudt, head; R. Hess, face; J Decker, arm; T. Galvin, arm; J. W. Bradbury, Shoulder.

COMPANY I.

Killed—Lieutenant W. Farrar; Sergeant C Woodward; Privates C. P. Ellis; B. Welch J. Fry.

Wounded—Lieutenant J. Boyd jr., leg. Sergeant A. M. Knight, arm Corporals W, K Richardt, leg; A J Roe, leg; E Miller, leg G. A. Milliken, foot amputated; A. Hayden, hand; W Wellman leg; H Lawson, hand; Wm. Peck, leg; Privates Ed Paul, foot amputated; H Abbott, leg; J Dundevan, wrist; J. Freese, foot; W Howell, hand; E P, Hale, hip and leg; B. Jackson, leg, C. Mason, leg; B Philbrook, thigh; H. Winger, hip; D Weaver, leg.

COMPANY K.

Killed—Corporals R Wright, L P. Cove Privates D Taylor A. Smith, H. C. Winter, J. Geister P. Vary, J. Diehr.

Wounded—Captain J. Periam, head and face, severely. Sergeants M. Marvin, foot, A. P. Carpenter, foot. Corporals J. Enfelett, shoulder; T Riley, thigh and calf. Privates C E Goddard, thigh and shoulder; C Ely, abdomen; J. S. Eaton, thigh; L. Hanson, calf; C. Behr, breast and head; S S Tenny, leg, C. S. Durfee, leg; W. H. Hinyon, slightly.

COMPANY L.

Killed—Private Sylvester Brown.

Wounded—Privates Osias Baker, thigh; Willbur M Coleman, slight.

Mustered for duty		325
Killed	47
Wounded	121
Missing	70–	238
		87

News Items.

—The crops in Goodhue county are looking very finely, and a large yield is expected, notwithstanding the dry weather.

—Capt. Baxter, who, on account of severe illness, was unable to accompany Gen. Sibley's Expedition, has been in Shakopee for the last four weeks. He is regaining his health, and will join his company as soon as practicable.

—The Republican states that the business men of Iowa City have taken steps to secure the organization of a National Bank in that city. A charter has already been applied for.

—Yesterday morning we met our friends John Plummer and J. H. Howe, mounted on a wagon, "piled high with wool stacks." They stated that they were en route to Cannon Falls, Rice county, for the purpose of having their load of wool manufactured.—Atlas.

—We are informed that several parties are contemplating the erection of different manufacturing establishments at the Falls on the Minneapolis side, during the coming fall and winter. The important fact that the Minneapolis and Cedar Valley Rail Road will be speedily built, has attracted Capitalists to the available and splendid water power at this point. We can at least safely declare that within a few years, Minneapolis will become the great manufacturing town of the north-west.

Mankato Market Reports.

CORRECTED EVERY THURSDAY BY O. WARD.

Mankato, July 17, 1863.

WHEAT—50c. ⅌ bushel.
RYE—40c.
BARLEY—60.
OATS—40c
CORN—35@40c.
HAY—⅌ ton, $4@5 00.
TIMOTHY—$2 ⅌ bushel.
BEANS—White, ⅌ bushel, $1 25.
BUTTER—10c.
LARD—8@9c.
SUGAR—12@13c; 16@20c.
TEA—1 50@1 60.
COFFEE—33⅓c.
RICE—10c ⅌ lb.
SALT—4 50 ⅌ barrel.
EGGS—8c ⅌ doz.
CANDLES—Tallow, 15c; Sperm, 30c
MEATS—Beef on foot, 3@4c. Pork, 5@6c. Mutton, 10@12c Poultry, 10@12c.
POTATOES—1 00 ⅌ bushel.
SIRUP—1 00 ⅌ gallon.
WOOD—$2 00 ⅌ cord.

EDWARD OGLESBY,

Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hawley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work in his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October,

S. FINCH, O. O. PITCHER.

FINCH & PITCHER,

Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,

MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA.

O. P. LIEBERG,

FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER.—Having opened a Barber Shop with a view to establishing a permanent business in Mankato, I am prepared to wait upon gentlemen, and will guarantee satisfaction in every department of my business.

June 26, 1863.

G. A. STURGES M. D.

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,

MANKATO, MINN.

Office:—At his residence second door above the Mankato House.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co.'s GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEAGHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plows,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:

Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains, Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

Iam Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted

JOHN F. MEAGHER.

Mankato, April 23rd 1863.

NEW LIVERY & Sale Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.

☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜

☞Charges moderate.☜

D. H. TYNER.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN.☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office. F. M. Johnson, Agent.

St. Paul, Feb. 10th, 1863 July17-tf.

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.

OF

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obediance to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune chalenges comparrison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1 25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1.10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.

One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;

Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,)	$18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,)	35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Criticrl Notices of the Press.

The volumns Bound constitute of themselves a library of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world. —N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People: and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts: and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature. —Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, by mail, post paid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents. Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eight cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00; Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year ,$5,00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2,50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2,50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail eight cents additional must be remitted for postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must be paid at the office where it is received The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS.

Franklyn Square, New York.

Farmers' Journal.

MANKATO, FRIDAY, JULY 17, 1863.

THE LABORER'S REST.

Rest, laborer, rest! Sweet is the sleep
On eyes that seldom wake to peep,
Thy cottage-roof is o'er a head,
That rest more calmly on its bed
Than many heirs of land or wealth,
Which bring not peace, or rest or health,
Rest, laborer, rest:
Thy sleep is blest!

Rest, laborer, rest! Thy duty's done.
One day's more guerdon thou hast won,
Duty performed hath brought thee peace;
And, with the sun, thy work must cease,
Thy wife and children, in thy home,
Wait for the hour when thou shalt come.
Rest, laborer, rest!
Thy sleep is blest!

Rest, laborer, rest! Soon thou'lt arise,
To greet the sun in eastern skies,
And brush the dew with steady feet,
And forward press thy work to meet,
Each day's work hard strength demands,
With manly heart and willing hands.
Rest, laborer, rest,
Thy sleep is blest!

Rest, laborer, rest! When work is o'er,
And thou shalt need to toil no more,
Faith in Christ hath brought thee rest,
Than any earthly sleep more blest.
Duty is done. and thy reward
In the blest smiles of Christ thy Lord.
Rest, laborer, rest;
Thy sleep is blest!

Sweet Corn for Fodder.

Those farmers who have not ample hay meadows, have got ample time to provide for the deficiency by planting or sowing corn broadcast. The best variety of corn for this purpose is Stowell's ever-green sweet corn, which produces largely of fodder We have fattened hogs upon it, by cutting it when the ears were fit for boiling and feeding it stalks and all. They will consume the whole of it, and thrive as well upon it as any other feed.

The following statements made by the Norfolk Co. (Mass.) Agricultural Society will corroborate the above views upon the subject. The report states that "Mr. Spear, the occupant of the Welles Farm, in Dorchester, considers the fodder of sweet corn very valuable. He stated, that in feeding his cows last winter on the fodder of sweet corn, the supply became temporarily exhausted, and instead of the fodder a full supply of the best hay was given, the keeping in other respects being the same that it was before; but the quantity of milk decreasing considerably, till by removing some hay another supply of corn fodder was reached, and on returning to it, the cows soon gave the same quantity of milk. This was the dried stalks from which the ears had been sent to market as 'green corn.' The stalks were cut close to the ground soon after the ears were gathered."

The same report gives a statement derived from Cheever Newhall, Esq., of Dorchester, in regard to the fodder of sweet corn, the substance of which is as follows:

"He planted three-fourths of an acre of sweet corn, in the latter part of May, dropping the seed with a corn planter in rows three feet apart, and in drills two feet apart. The cultivation was all done with a cultivator. Sixty barrels of corn was sent to Boston from the lot, and on the 15th of September the crop was cut close to the ground and shocked—the stalks being quite green, as the variety was late. It remained on the field till about the middle of November, when it was housed. Mr. N. states that he has fed the fodder to a cow and to his horses, which eat it with evident relish and without the least waste although the stalks were not cut. He is so well convinced of the value of fodder of sweet corn, that he intends to raise enough in future to keep his horses through the winter.

Boys, Stay on the Farm.

Every time we see a young man coming to the great cities for employment, leaving a lovely family and an honorable and promising occupation, for the uncertainties, the cares and failures of business life, and destined to breast the social vices that corrupt all cities, perhaps to fall under their pernicious influence, we always feel like whispering in that young man's ears, stay on the farm.

When we see a merchant advertise for a smart young man to aid him for a few dollars per month, in his business behind the counter, and see a hundred or more applicants per day, present themselves—applicants too many of whom spent their youth in the country, and how eagerly they accept the pittance offered them, while they would be sure of a future competence at home, we always wish to tell them, Boys, stay on the farm.

When we see quack advertisements of agencies paying 75 to 150 dollars per month and know that the advertisers receive hundred of letters weekly, from young men in all parts of the country, and know that his office is daily crowded with those whom his tempting but unreliable offers have drawn to him only to be disappointed, we always feel like saying, Boys, stay on the farm.

In these times above all stay on the farm, You are needed there, you can make money there, it is your duty to remain there.—Ex.

SALTING STOCK.—Probably we do not know all the uses of salt in the animal economy, but a few are obvious. It acts beneficially upon the liver, yields a supply of soda to the bile and gives increase nutritive power to food. It acts as a vermifuge, keeping the bowels of stock free from worms, and gives increased tone to the stomach. It tends to prevent rot in sheep. As to the amount and time of giving it, farmers disagree. Some are accustomed to salt their stock regularly, once a week. Many successful farmers keep salt within reach of their stock, believing that they will eat only as nature requires.

Fuschias in the Sitting Room.

The Fuschia does not receive the attention it deserves from our lady friends, who, of course, all love flowers. No half-hardy plant is more easily taken care of, and none will reward us more for the little care necessary. Let some of our friends who cultivate the Fuschia get the present season—say a dozen well-rooted, healthy young plants of well marked varieties. If they are above six inches high, pinch out the leading bud, so as to start the laterals. This pinching should be done during the growing season on all side and leading shoots, until the time for the flower-buds to form. The object in pinching is the formation of bushy plants covered with a profusion of bloom, instead of a tall sprawling plant, with a few blooms at the end of half a dozen straggling branches which is sure to be the case if the plants are let alone. During the time of their growth, the plants should be frequently shifted, gradually increasing the size of the pots, and not breaking the ball of earth. The soil should consist of two parts loam; one of hot-bed mould or well rotted cow-dung, and one of leaf mould, and enough sharp sand to keep it open. Sandy peat is used in Europe. Water well during the period of growth, and give weak liquid manure for a month before blooming. In the fall, leave the plants out of doors, until the leaves fall and the wood is well ripened; then remove them to the cellar, letting them remain rather dry until February. By this time they will be well rested, and may be taken to the sitting room. Shorten in all the roots to good, strong buds, and judiciously water; in a short time the leaves will appear.—Ohio Farmer.

A "Secret" in Potato Growing.

You are doing all you can to give the farmer important Agricultural information. I notice in the Tribune that Friend Robinson, of the Farmers Club, will kick all communications under the table, perfectly disgusted with the farmers who write to the Club respecting the potatoe rot, &c., &c. But it takes us all to know everything, and we can hardly do it. Notwithstanding all that, I can give some valuable information, on raising potatoes and the short-legged cabbage. I have been in possession of a secret for the last three years, on raising potatoes, that I know to be very valuable, and should be generally known and the season is now at hand to put it in practice. This plan is the most important in dry seasons, as double the weight can be raised on the same piece of ground, and a good crop can be raised on quite poor land.

Now, I will tell you how I manage; premising that I have never yet had potatoes rot in the ground, and that I am 63 years old.

I plant my potatoes in the latter part of April, or fore part of May, and in the old of the moon. When they get up six inches high, I plaster and dress them out nicely. Now for the secret. When the sets show for blossoming, then is the time to take two parts plaster and one part fine salt; mix well together, and put one large spoonful of this compound on each hill; drop as near the center of the hill as possible. Just as soon as the potatoes are ripe, take them out of the ground; have them perfectly dry when put in the cellar, and keep them in a dry cool place. Some farmers let their potatoes remain in the ground, soaking through all the cold fall rains, until the snow flies. The potatoes become diseased in this way more and more every year; hence the potato rot. With such management they should rot.

CLEANING MILK VESSELS.—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette says, there is no product of the farm that present as much difference as butter. This arises chiefly from using vessels for holding the milk, and utensils in making the butter, which are soured. In my notice of the effects of having soured troughs in sugar making. I stated that acidity was fatal to good sugar making. It is not less so in butter making, Milk has a peculiar acid very easily formed, which entirely takes away that rich, sweet, fine flavor, belonging to good butter. A very little soured cream or milk on vessels, rapidly generates enough acid to take it away. To avoid this great care is requisite. Cleanliness only is not sufficient, in having the vessels well washed, but they must be carefully washed in boiling hot water, and should be boiled in it also. But as cream is very apt to stick, even in good washing, when the vessels are boiled in water, some pearlash or soda should be put in it which destroys any acidity that may be about the vessels. They should then be sunned. I have known some good butter-makers who dispensed with the sunning when soda was used, but both are to be recommended.—Ex.

The following is a genuine transcript of an epitaph:—"Here lies the remains of Thomas Wood*hen*—the most amiable of husband the most excellent of men. N. B—The name is Woodcock, but it would not come in rhyme."

"When Should we Shear our Sheep?"

Not until warm weather has fairly come, and yet not after the fleece has come to be uncomfortable and the new wool has made considerable growth.

If too early, your sheep will suffer on cold nights and possibly contract catarrhs. If too late, considerable portions will be rubbed off on brush, and fence rails in the effort of the sheep to relieve themselves of the itching which they will be almost certain to suffer.

If you ask for a reliable rule, we tell you squarely, there is no sure rule which does not indicate the weather as the chief element—and the season, you know is very uncertain. Sometimes it might answer to shear as early as the middle of May; at other times the middle of June would hardly be too late. Perhaps as a general and variable rule, we might say, after you have planted your corn and hoed crops, and have not become engrossed in their cultivation.—Wis. Farmer.

KEEPING FRUIT.—Nature is a great conservator as well as producer, when she can have her own way. The day after Christmas we were hunting Delaware grapes under a trellis in Mr. Clymer's garden at Galion, and found them as plump and fresh and juicy sweet as they were last August. These little honey bags had nestled under a friendly covering of leaves on the bare ground, and all the changes of weather had not vitiated or dried the nectar of their precious globes, while the savings from our own vines, carefully enveloped in cotton and put up in boxes, had outlasted their usefulness weeks ago.

The same is true of apples; let an apple get covered up by leaves under the tree, and it will retain its freshness for a long time, in spite of storm, sun or frost.—Ohio Farmer.

Peas and clover, by means of their strong and long roots, bring from the subsoil, below the reach of a plow, those elements wanted in vegetation, retaining them in the leaves and stems, to be given out when ploughed under in a green state for manure. The strong roots remaining in the ground also decay, leaving the soil loose and and rapidly acted upon by heat and air.

FARMERS WIVES.—Dr. Hall says: "Let the farmer never forget that his wife is his best friend, the most steadfast on earth, would do more for him in calamity, in misfortune and sickness, than any other human being, and that on this account, to say nothing of the marriage vow, made before high heaven and before men, he owes to the wife of his bosom a consideration, a tenderness, a support, and a sympathy, which should put out of sight every feeling of profit and loss the very instant they come in collision with his wife's welfare as to her body, her mind, and her affections. No man will ever lose in the long run by so doing; he will not lose in time, will not lose in a dying hour, nor in that great and mysterious future which lies before all."

Concerning the sweeting required in rhubarb pies, a Pittsburg lady gives the following rule: "Throw in sugar as your conscience will let you: then shut your eyes and throw in one handful more."

DOMESTIC ECONOMY.

INDIAN BREAD.—Here is a good recipe. Scald one quart of Indian meal and sponge it with hop yeast. Next morning add two teaspoonfuls of molasses, one tea-spoonful of saleratus, and a little salt. Harden with wheat flour, not making too stiff. Bake nearly an hour in a slow oven.

NEW YEAR'S CAKE.—Three-fourths pound of butter, one pound of sugar, three pounds of flour, half a pint of water, one teaspoonful of soda, and caraway seed to your taste. Roll them out and cut in diamonds, stamping them with a pattern you may choose They are excellent and will keep fresh along time.

CREAM BEER.—Two and one fourth pounds of white sugar, two oz. tartaric acid, juice of half a lemon, and three pints of water.—boil together five minutes. When nearly cold and the whites of three eggs beaten to a froth; one-half cup of flour, well beaten, and half an ounce of wintergreen essence. Bottle and keep in a cool place. Two tablespoonful of the this sirup in a tumbler of water, with one-fourth tea-spoon of soda. It is ready for use as soon as made, but age improves it, and it will keep any length of time. Shake the bottle well every time before using.

LEMON PIES.—Thinking my recipe for making lemon pies might not come amiss to some of the readers, I will give it. Two lemons, squeeze the juice; chop the peel very fine; add one cup of sugar; one cup of molasses, one teacup of raisins, chopped: three eggs.—beat all up together, then add one cup of water; a pinch of salt, and you will have something extra for lemon pies.—Rural Reader.

GINGER SNAPS.—At the Chenango Co. (N. Y.) Fair, the ginger snaps made from the following recipe took the premium:

One cup best molasses; one-half cup of sugar; two-third cup butter; one teaspoonful alum; two teaspoonfuls saleratus, one-half cup water, one tablespoon ginger.

MRS. PARTINGTON has a friend in the army. Being asked one day what his station was, she replied:—"For two years he was leftenant of the horse marines, and after that he was promoted to be captain of a squad of sapheads and miners."

HUMOROUS.

Why are Marys the most amiable of their sex? Because they can always be Molly fied.

There is an Irishman employed as a bridge hand down East, who brags of having a time-piece that keeps correct time. He was heard to remark, a few mornings since upon pulling out his watch: "If the sun ain't over the hill in a minnit and a half, he will be late."

An aged spinster was wont to console herself for her disappointment in the matrimonial line by the following reflection: "If she had been married and had a baby, and the poor thing had crawled into the oven and burnt itself to death, what a horrible thing it would have been.

The latest dog story is of two dogs who fell to fighting in a saw-mill. In the course of the tussle one of the dogs went plump against the saw in rapid motion, which cut him in two instanter. The hind legs ran away, but the fore legs continued the fight, and whipped the other dog.

It is told of a Connecticut field officer, better acquainted with farming than soldiering, that when circumstances placed him in command of his regiment at Hatteras, he wished to oblique his column in marching, and gave the order, "Haw around that mud puddle."

A boarder of Mrs Pekington's was seen to pick some thing out of a sausage he was eating. "What is it, Ben?" inquired a boarder, sitting opposite. "A little piece of bark, I believe," replied Ben. "Well, old fellow, its my opinion you'd better not hunt any longer, or you might find a growl pretty soon.

THE WAY OF WRITING MODERN ROMANCES.—Albert rode with the speed of an arrow to the garden, sprang like the wind from his steed, climbed like a squirrel over the hedge, writhed like a snake through the palings, flew like a hawk to the arbor, crept up to her all unseen, threw himself passionately at her feet, swore franticly that he would shoot himself, was, however, immediately heard, seated himself in a blessed delight at her side, sank on her bosom, swam in a sea of bliss—all this was the work of a second!

HARPER'S Weekly has a highly suggestive cut, designed upon Poe's poem, "The Raven." A slaveholder is sitting in his parlor at midnight, contemplating a spectral raven with a negro's head, reposing on the burst of Horace Greeley, "just above the chamber door." A stanza of the poem is parodied as follows:

And the nigger never flitting,
Still is sitting, still is sitting,
On that horrid burst of Horace
Just above my chamber door;
And his lips, they have the snigger
Of a worthless, freeborn nigger,
And he swells his somber figger,
When I ask him with a roar,
"Will you blacks again be cattle,
As you used to be before?"
Cries the chattle "Nevermore!"

The following peroration to an eloquent harangue, addressed to a jury by a lawyer in Ohio, is a rare specimen of climacteric sublimity; "And now shades of night had shrouded the earth in darkness. All nature lay wrapped in solemn thought, when these defendant ruffians came rushing like a mighty torrent from the hills, down upon the abode of peace, broke open the plaintiff's door separated the weeping mother from her crying infant, and took away—my client's rifle, gentlemen of the jury, for which we claim fifteen dollars"

PRINTERS' TALK.—Every profession has its technical terms, and, of course, the printers have a "smattering," which is only inteligible to the craft. The following is a specimen. It don't mean, however, as much as it would seem to the initiated:—"Jim put General Beauregard on the galley, and then finish the murder of that negro you commenced yesterday. Set up the ruins of Guyandotte; distribute the small pox; you need not finish that mutiny; put the mumps in the paper this week. Pitch that pi into hell and then go to the devil, and he will tell you how to dispose of the dead matter.

A Michigan lawyer, who writes a very bad hand, sends us the following:

Several years ago I was practicing law in one of the many beautiful towns in Wisconsin. One very warm day, while seated in my office at work, I was interrupted by the entrance of a boy, the son of one of my clients, who had walked into town, six miles, in a blazing sun, for the purpose of procuring a Bible. He had been told, he said, that there was a place there where they gave them away to people who had no money, he said he had no money, and was very anxious to get one of the good books, and asked me to go with him to the place where they were kept. Anxious to to encourage him in his early piety, I left the brief on which I was engaged, and went with him over to the stand of a Presbyterian deacon who had the much-coveted books in charge I introduced him to the deacon, telling him the circumstances He praised the boy very highly! was delighted to see a young man so early seeking after the truth, etc., etc.; and presented him with the best bound Bible in his collection. Bubby put it in his pocket, and was starting off, when the deacon says, "Now, my son, that you possess what you so much desired, I suppose that you feel perfectly happy?" "Well, I do, old hoss; between you and I, I know where I can trade it for most a plaguey good fiddle.—Harper.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.
On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.

Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place All who may be visiting Mankato either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
1y Proprietor.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL POFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DeBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, P. Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot. Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime. Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DeBUISSON
Mankato, May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material and all work, is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRING AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand

Cash paid for green and dry hides.
Mankato, June 26, 1863.

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

——

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,

or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co.'s GRAIN DRILL,

which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES,
HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEACHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plows,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:
Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains. Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; White-wash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil. Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

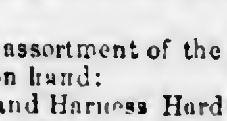
Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work

Also Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted

JOHN F MEAGHER.
Mankato April 23rd 1863.

NEW LIVERY
&
Sale Stable.



D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.
☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜
☞Charges moderate.
D. H. TYNER.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office F. M. Johnson, Agent.

St. Paul, Feb. 10th, 1863 July17-tf.

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.
OF
The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obediance to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune chalenges comparrison with any other Journal East or West

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1 25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1 10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.
One year $7 00 | Six months $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;

Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,)	$18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,)	35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World.

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Criticrl Notices of the Press.

The volumns Bound constitute of themselves a liberary of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier

The most popular Monthly in the world.—N. Y. Observer,

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People: and the popularity it has occquired is merited Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts: and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Trubner's Guide to American Literature London

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, by mail, postpaid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eight cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00; Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year $5,00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2,50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2,50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted for postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must be paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS.
Franklin Square, New York.

The Mankato Weekly Union.

CHARLES H. SLOCUM, Editor and Proprietor.

"LIBERTY AND UNION, NOW AND FOREVER, ONE AND INSEPARABLE."

VOLUME 1. MANKATO, BLUE EARTH COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 24, 1863. NUMBER 2.

THE WEEKLY UNION,
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY
CHARLES H. SLOCUM.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
One Dollar and Fifty Cents per Year.
☞All subscriptions paid in advance.☜

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

1 square	1 week	$1 00	2 squares	6 months	9 00
1 "	2 weeks	1 50	2 "	1 year	15 00
1 "	3 "	1 75	3 "	1 week	2 25
1 "	4 "	2 00	3 "	2 "	3 00
1 "	5 "	2 25	3 "	3 "	4 00
1 "	6 "	2 50	3 "	4 "	5 00
1 "	7 "	2 75	3 "	3 months	9 00
1 "	2 months	3 00	3 "	6 "	12 00
1 "	3 "	3 75	3 "	1 year	20 00
1 "	4 "	4 50	¼ col	6 months	15 00
1 "	5 "	5 25	¼ "	1 year	25 00
1 "	6 "	6 00	½ "	6 months	18 00
1 "	1 year	10 00	½ "	1 year	30 00
2 "	1 week	1 75	½ "	6 months	25 00
2 "	2 "	2 50	½ "	1 year	40 00
2 "	3 "	3 00	¾ "	1 year	50 00
2 "	4 "	4 00	1 "	1 year	70 00
2 "	3 months	6 00

Business cards of five lines or less, $5.
Transient advertisements must be paid in advance—all others quarterly.

BUSINESS CARDS.

MANKATO INS. AGENCY.

HARTFORD.

PHOENIX.

MERCHANTS—FIRE INS. CO'S.

CHARTER OAK LIFE INS. CO.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid by
JOHN N. HALL,
Resident Agent.

EVERETT P. FREEMAN,
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
OFFICE—Next door south of the Post Office, MANKATO, - - - - MINN.
Prompt attention given to claims to be prosecuted before the State Board of Auditors and to Court and Office business. Collections made and money remitted on reasonable terms.

M. ZENOPOLSKI, M. D.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.
OFFICE:—Opposite the [illegible] House.

DAVID WILCOX,
JUDGE OF PROBATE,
& ATT'Y AT LAW,
MANKATO - - - - - - MINN.

WM. R. McMAHAN, M. D.
Office and Residence, old at his stand, on the corner of Hickory and Second streets, one block back of the Mankato House, where he will be found at all times, except when professionally absent.
He will furnish and compound his own prescriptions.

EDWARD OGLESBY,
Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hawley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work in his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October.

S. FINCH, O. O. PITCHER.
FINCH & PITCHER,
Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,
MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA.

O. P. LIEBERG,
FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER.—Having opened a Barber Shop with a view to establishing a permanent business in Mankato, I am prepared to wait upon gentlemen, and will guarantee satisfaction in every department of my business.
June 26, 1863.

G. A. STURGES, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
MANKATO, MINN.
OFFICE:—At his residence second door above the Mankato House.

Z. PADDOCK,
Attorney and Counselor at Law, and General Land Agent. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to him. Mankato, Blue Earth Co., Minn.

FRED'K HILDEBRANDT,
Manufacturer of and Dealer in all kinds of
FURNITURE & GILT MOULDING,
Also,
Imitation of Rosewood Mouldings, Ovals, Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames.
Ware Rooms in Schurmeier's Block, Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minn.

MANKATO NURSERY.
THE Proprietor has for sale a choice collection of
Fruit Trees,
Comprising Apple, Pear, Cherry, Plum, and Quince Trees. Also a good assortment of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants, Raspberries, Strawberries, and Pie Plant; together with
ORNAMENTAL TREES
Shrubs, Evergreens, Flowering Plants, &c.
ROB'T GOODYEAR.
Mankato, Sept. 1861.

FAIRBANKS'
STANDARD
SCALES,
OF ALL KINDS.
FAIRBANKS, GREENLEAF & CO.,
172 LAKE STREET, CHICAGO.
☞BUY ONLY THE GENUINE.

SOUTH BEND MILLS.
BIERBAUER & ROCKEY,
HAVING purchased the above mills, are prepared to manufacture all grades of FLOUR, CORN MEAL, ETC.
Wheat will be ground for every sixth bushel in quantities not less than ten bushels.
☞Flour and mill stuffs always on hand at market prices. Feb 6 3m

Poetry.

HARD.

To look upon lips we have kissed,
And know we must kiss them no more;
On hands we have held and carsssed,
And know the caressing is o'er.

To look into eyes that have shone
With blessed and glorious light—
The dear light of love in our own,
And see them withdrawn from our sight.

To see in a beautiful face—
No face in this wide earth so dear—
On forehead or brow not a trace,
To show that a loved one is near.

To hear not a tone in the voice—
From the sweet smiling lips not a word
Confessing a thought of past joys,
That the cry of our spirit is heard.

These are—the experience that stings,
That causes the struggle for breath,
That unto the faithful heart brings
The chill and the anguish of death.

The Song of the Mosquito.

In summer night I take my flight
To where the maids repose;
And while they are sleeping sweet and sound
I bite them on the nose.

The warm red blood that tints their cheeks
To me is precious dear,
For 'tis my delight to buzz and bite
In this season of the year.

When I get my fill I wipe my bill,
And sound my tiny horn;
And off I fly to the mountain high,
Ere breaks the golden morn;

But at eve I sally forth again,
To tickle the sleeper's ear,
For 'tis my delight to buzz and bite
In this season of the year.

On the chamber wall about I crawl,
Till the landlord goes to bed,
Then my bugle I blow and down I go
To light upon his head.

Oh, I love to see the fellow slap
And I laugh to hear him swear;
For 'tis my delight to buzz and bite
In this season of the year.

Select Miscellany.

SCOUT'S ADVENTURES.

BY EDWARD S. ELLIS.

During the prevalence of the wars on the frontier, it has ever been the custom of our leaders to keep constantly in their employ a class of men known as 'scouts' or rangers, whose duty it was to watch and report the action of the Indians, to carry news and orders from one post to another, and sometimes to attempt the more perilous feat of bringing in a prisoner. There were scores to whom such a life as this was the acme of all human enjoyment, and who would not have exchanged it for the most favored of situations in the gift of the American people. In the school of such an experience as this, an order of men has arisen, who, for deeds of daring and adventure have never been surpassed by any upon our continent. Our early history teems with the names of these border heroes, and their exploits have been the admiration of thousand of their countrymen; and yet, numerous as are those recorded deeds, they are meagre in comparison with what was really accomplished by their class. Many a man, as brave as Boone and his companions, and whose deeds would rival those of Brady, Wells, the Wetzels, and others whose names are equally famous, has gone quietly down to his grave, unknown except by his immediate friends; or, perhaps, in the dark gloom of the western wilderness, where for years he has encountered and outwitted the red Indian, he has finally succumbed to his power, and met the fate which has ever hovered like a phantom over him.

Chief among the border rangers whose exploits a half a century since were more widely known than they are at present, was Robert McCleland, who in 1894 was a spy in Gen. Wayne's army. This man, in some points was probably the superior of any who have ever figured in our Indian wars. His activity, courage, and determined perseverance in the pursuit of an object was marvelous. When once he had resolved upon accomplishing anything, no human power could change that resolution, and while sullen, vindictive and passionate, he always acted the honorable part to those whom he deemed had treated him thus. Washington Irving, in his "Astoria," speaks of McCleland as a remarkable man, and says that under Gen. Wayne, he had distinguished himself by his fiery spirit and reckless daring, and marvelous stories were told of his exploits. His frame was meagre, but muscular; showing strength, activity, and iron firmness; his eyes were dark, deep-set, and piercing, and he was restless, fearless but of impetuous, and sometimes ungovernable temper. On the grand parade at Fort Greenville, McCleland, out of mere sport, leaped over a road wagon with the cover stretched over it, the bones of which were eight feet from the ground. It was while employed as a scout for General Wayne that he met with the following adventure which has never before been placed in print.

Before the intrepid "Mad Anthony" fought his great battle in which he scattered the combined forces to the four winds, the duties of his scouts were necessarily increased, and the perils which they ran in some cases would have appalled many a brave heart. Knowing full well the deep cunning and treachery of the Indian nature, he was too shrewd to follow the steps of his predecessors, Crawford, Clark, Harman, and St. Clair, who with a blindness unaccountable led their forces into ambuscade, and suffered defeats that startled with apprehension every home in the country. Wayne advanced cautiously, feeling every rod of the way, and keeping his scouts constantly out, until when within a short distance of a vast body of savages, he sent McCleland to reconnoitre a Shawnee village which lay within several miles of his army.

It was early in the forenoon that McCleland set out, entirely alone and with no weapons but his rifle and hunting knife upon this dangerous expedition—now rendered doubly dangerous from the fact that the country was swarming with Indians who were searching in every direction for the scouts of the army. McCleland knew the precise position of the village, and took a direct course through the forest toward it. He had gone barely two miles, when he detected the smoke of a camp fire, flitting through the tree tops, saw four Indians in their war paint, seated around a small fire, entirely unsuspicous of the proximity of such a formidable foe. McCleland's eyes sparkled as they rested upon the forms of his enemies, but his motto was "business before pleasure," and he did not feel at liberty to allow any private inclinations to interfere with the important duty upon which he was now engaged. Carefully circling around the camp fire he passed it, leaving the Indians undisturbed in their enjoyment. He had not gone a mile farther when he came upon another party, which he passed in the same manner, while he was crossing Indian trails constantly. These incidents are given to show the nature of this undertaking of McCleland's.

Several miles further he came upon the Indian village, standing upon the banks of a very deep and rapid stream, which it was necessary to cross, before he thoroughly reconnoitered the town. While searching for a suitable place in which to swim it, he came upon a tree which had evidently been felled by the savages across the stream, and whose abrased surface show that it answered the purpose of a bridge. This was the very object which just at that moment, McCleland would have rather seen than anything else in the world; and without hesitation he stept upon it and walked rapidly out; but while over the very center of the creek, the tree parted in the middle and he went down beneath the surface of the chilly water.

This, however was a minor matter, and McCleland would have cared nothing for it, had it not been accompanied by the vexatious loss of his rifle. Upon coming to the surface he immediately dove again and groped along the bottom for it, but he failed to recover it, and dove again and again, until he had gone down fully a dozen times, and had been carried twenty or thirty yards down stream. But it was all of no avail, The swift current had carried it beyond his reach, and he was reluctantly compelled to give up the search and swim to shore.

"A pretty fix I'm in," he muttered, looking down at his draggling garments, which were clinging to him. "I'm right among the knaves, and haven't anything but my toothpick to depend on."

But McCleland would not have turned back had his knife also been lost. Loosening his buck horn haddle, so that it would be ready at an instant's warning, he crept up the bank of the stream, and approached the village. He saw that twenty warriors or so only were present, from which it was manifest to him that the main body of them were on the war path. Those whom he saw, however, were well armed; and under the circumstances, he believed, were only here for some temporary purpose.

It was while he had his eyes fixed upon them, and with an intensity of interest was watching their every movement, that his trained ear detected a suspicious sound behind him. Turning his head, he saw a gigantic Indian standing scarcely a dozen feet from him, rifle in hand, and with his basalisk eyes fixed upon him. Desperate as were the circumstances, McCleland whipped out his knife and made towards him with the intention of engaging him in a hand-to-hand combat; but the savage, bringing his rifle before him, motioned him off, signifying at the same time that he was disposed to be friendly, McCleland at once suspected that the Indian was the scout of a tribe hostile to this, and that by a singular coincidence the two had so timed their adventure that they had encountered each other in the manner stated. Returning his friendly salutation, McCleland addressed him in the Miami tongue, although from his dress he saw that he did not belong to this tribe. The savage replied as he expected, saying that he had been sent out by his people to watch the "Shawnee women," when he had discovered his white brother, and would willingly join him in his further reconnoitering of their mutual enemies. This offer McCleland accepted; though, in justice to his character, it must be said he was not entirely satisfied. He had some suspicions, faint though they were, that there was treachery in this curious piece of business; and although his manner was such that the Indian must have believed him fully convinced of his sincerity, he was resolved not to be taken off his guard. After consulting together a moment, it was agreed that they should pass on around the village. The Indian insisted upon McCleland going ahead, and fearful of betraying his suspicion, he complied without hesitation—stealing along in a crouching position, while his new-found companion followed as silently and stealthily.

In this manner they had proceeded a hundred yards or so, when McCleland was obliged to change the direction in which he was going by passing around the upper end of the village. The course that he now took was from east to west, so that his own shadow was thrown several feet in advance of him. It is not to be supposed that his sensations were the most comfortable under these circumstances. The consciousness that this Indian in the rear might at any moment hurl his deadly tomahawk, or send a bullet through his brains, would have made an ordinary mortal uneasy. As they progressed slowly forward he managed to cast his gaze behind him, under some pretence or other. At such times he saw his follower, seeming intent only upon rivaling his caution and skill in getting over the ground.

While proceeding in this manner, McCleland suddenly came upon a natural embankment, down which it was necessary to make his way. As he reached the edge he glanced behind, and saw the Indian near enough almost to touch him, still cautious and proceeding carefully as ever. The next instant McCleland dropped lightly to the bottom of the embankment, and was on the point of moving off as usual, when the position of the Indian became such that his shadow was thrown in front of the scout. At that very instant the latter saw the arm of the shadow make a circular sweep, and wheeling around as quick as lightning, he confronted his enemy! The body of the Indian was drawn back, his face all on fire with a demon-like ferocity, whose arm held his gleaming tomahawk over his head in the very act of throwing it, The next instant it flashed from his hand and shot directly at the brain of the scout. McCleland was in a stooping position, but his wonderful activity saved him. He dropped as quick as thought on his face, and the deadly missile whizzed over his head, grazing it as it went, and was buried to the handle in the moist earth. The moment the Indian saw the failure of his efforts, he uttered a yell and brought his rifle to his shoulder; but before he could aim, the hand of the infuriated ranger had seized the muzzle, wrenched it from his grasp, and swung it aloft; but the savage was hardly less agile than the white man, and, as the weapon came down with a murderous force, stock was shattered upon a stone which lay upon the edge of the embankment. The yell of the savage had attracted the attention of the Indians, and McCleland knew they were rapidly approaching, but he was perfectly insane with fury, and springing like a panther up the bank, he closed the Indian in his vice like grasp and bore him to the ground. Reaching for his knife he found it was lost out of his belt, and that he had no weapon at all at his command. He then strove to get that of the enemy, but the latter had already drawn it, and held it with such tenacity that he could not gain possession of it. To prevent aim from striking, it was necessary to hold his arm, and holding it thus by the wrist, McCleland dealt him fearful blows that must have nearly fractured his skull. Still the savage clung to the knife so doggedly that his fingers could not be unclosed, and by this time the approaching savages were but a few rods distant. It was death to remain longer, but fiery, maddened, and reckless as ever, he struck the savage again and again, until he was perfectly limp, when picking him up as he would an infant, flung him headlong down an embankment, and leaping after him, plunged into the woods, with a yell of defiance for his pursuers. Full a dozen of the latter sprang after him, but they might as well have undertaken to catch the wind as to overtake him. A few hours later he reached the American camp, and reported the result of his reconnoisance to Gen. Wayne in person.

* * *

WHEN you wind up your affairs, mind you use the right watch-key.

WHEN you strike a balance expect that the blow will be returned.

A Rich Scene.

WE heard yesterday of a serio-comic incident which occurred not a hundred miles from here, that must have been decidedly interesting to the parties concerned, and should prove a valuable story for the perusal of jealous husbands. The facts given are as follows:

One of our most respectable citizens, who is blest with the prettiest and best of wives, and one little "responsibility," had been absent from home for some days. His spouse, during his absence, had discharged the servant girl, and employed in her place the wife of a soldier who had just returned from the war.

The little woman being lonely in her husband's absence, had induced the soldier's wife to share her bed with her. On the night the loving husband returned, the woman had, before retiring, been engaged in repairing her soger man's coat, and had carelessly thrown it upon a chair in the sitting room. The anxious husband returned about 12 o'clock, and admitted himself with his key, found everything quiet, and noiselessly struck a light, when the first thing that attracted his attention was the soldier's coat upon the chair near his wife's bed-room. Instantly the green-eyed monster seized him, and stealthily throwing the light upon the bed, he saw his wife reposing upon the same pillow with a masculine appearing person, the woman who was with her, wearing her hair shingled, and being coarse featured.

He was, for a moment, transfixed with rage, but soon determined to wreak the direst vengeance upon the supposed guilty pair. He soon procured a deadly weapon, and, with murder in his eye, advanced toward the sleeping couple. At this juncture, the soldier's wife awoke, and seeing the—to her—strange man approaching with savage aspect, jumped from the bed with a scream, made a dash for a closet where she was for a moment safe. This of course awoke the wife. Her attempts to learn what the trouble was were fruitless. The enraged husband would not listen. He rushed to the closet and dragged forth the trembling woman from her hiding place. Upon bringing her to the light and discovering her sex, the scene may well be imagined, but we shall not undertake to describe it.—Elmira (N. Y.) Press.

Old Bartey and his Excuse.

OLD Bartey Willard was a wheelwright by trade, and, though an excellent, was remarkable for procrastination. He would promise over and over again, with as little scruple, and as many "positively lasts" as a theatrical star. Having pledged his word to a very urgent customer, for the third time, that he would have his cart done by a certain day, Bartey again failed to keep his engagement, and, on the arrival of the owner, the cart was still unfinished.

"Well," said the customer, "you have got my cart done this time, of course."

"Yes," said Bartey, "I have done the work, and supposed it was quite ready for you, when I discovered that I had made an unaccountable mistake that will put me back a fortnight."

"Ah, indeed," said the customer, "what's the matter?"

"Why, you see," said Bartey with gravity, and an air of extreme vexation, "you see I have made a mistake—I never made such a blunder in my life—I have committed the ridiculous mistake of making both wheels for the ssme side: they are both off wheels!"

"Is it possible?" said the customer, who was thoroughly mystified, and so allowed Bartey another fortnight to finish the cart.

A Shocking Outrage.

About a year ago a man from this city by the name of John Downey, connected with one of our best livery establishments, went over to Windsor, and forming the acquaintance of a highly esteemed young lady living in one of the most respectable families on the other side, became engaged to be married to her. Shortly afterwards, a proper officer was sought to perform for them the customary marriage ceremony. About this time, however, the rumor had got afloat, in some way or other, that the person who had so speedily engaged himself to be married had gone through with that manner of operation before, and had at the time spoken of, as much as one wife of his own, who was living in Cleveland. This coming to the ears of the matrimonial officials in Windsor, they refused, every one of them, to perform the ceremony, and so they could not be married in that place. Their next movement was to come over here, and in Detroit was found what could not be found in Windsor—a man willing to marry them, and he, as we understand, was willing only because he did not understand the circumstances.

After having the marriage ceremony performed, the man and wife lived together from the latter part of one day to the early part of the next. After this the husband left, came over to this city, and returned not again to the woman he had wedded.

A few days ago, however, the unfortunate girl who was wronged into being a wife, became the mother of a child. The lady at whose house she was living had compassion upon her, and determined that she would do whatever was possible towards causing the man who had engaged to be the husband to come back and take care of the wife, or rather much abused girl, and the child. For this purpose she came Wednesday over to our city, and after much searching at last succeeded in finding the husband. He was then engaged at the livery stable just finishing the hitching up of a carriage and team for the use of the owner. She accosted him, told him of the birth of his child, and requested him earnestly to come over and see it, as well as the mother. He promised to do so, and to her suggestion that he accompany her immediately he readily assented, only making the promise that he would necessarily step by the way a moment at the Michigan Exchange. To this she agreed, and the two walked off. Arriving at the Exchange he remained much longer incide than he had stipulated—the lady in the meantime, by her own preference, walking forward and backward in front of the building, though he solicited her to go in with him. When he appeared again he had in his hand a large sized letter, and told the lady at that time it was absolutely necessary for him, before going over to Windsor with her, to carry the letter he had in his hand to its destiny, a little way up town. The lady, perhaps suspecting that he was planning to get away, said she would go with him, and by his consent did so. Instead however, of preceeding only a little way as he promised, he went on and on, and did not stop with her, though she protested against his going so far often, until the two were brought directly in front of the Police Court. There he entreated her again earnestly to go in with him, but she again refused, and walked as before up and down before the building. After some time he came out and some city official with him. They had a warrant for her arrest, a long list of grievances being charged against her; that she notoriously a woman of bad character; that she had been all the afternoon following him about; that though he had made endeavors, he could not get away from her, etc.

The result was that the woman was apprehended, pulled into the Court Room, and would, no doubt, have been thrust into imprisonment, had she not plead so piteously, saying that the respectability of her character was well known, and could be proved by all Windsor, that the man with her had falsifying; all of no avail, however, until she made the promise, merely to be relieved, that she would not follow him about any more, would reform, etc. She was permitthd to go, but from the excitement, when she arrived at home, she immediately fell prostrate at the door in a swoon, and it was not for some time that she could be restored from it. The villain is, from all that we can learn, somewhere about yet in Detroit.—Detroit Advertiser.

An Ancient Copperhead Silenced by Washington Irving.

IRVING was descending the Hudson on the steamboat, when the tidings of the triumphant entry of the British into Washington, and the acts of uncivilized hostility which followed, first reached him. It was night and the passengers had taken themselves to their settees, to rest, when a person came on board at Poughkeepsie, with the news of the inglorious triumph, and proceeded, in the darkness of tde cabin, to relate the particulars—the destruction of the President'a house, the treasury, war and navy offices, the capitol, the depository of the national library and public records. There was a momentary pause, after the speaker had ceased, when some paltry spirit lifted his head from his settee, and in a tone of complacent derision, "wondered what Jemmy Madison would say now." "Sir," said Mr. Irving, glad of an escape to his swelling indignation, "do you seize on such a disaster only for a sneer? Let me tell you, sir, it is not a question about Jemmy Madison or Jemmy Armstrong. The pride and honor of the nation are wounded, the country is insulted and disgraced by the barbarous success, and every loyal citizen should feel the ignominy and be in earnest to avenge it. I could not see the fellow," said Mr. Irving, "but I let fly at him in the dark." A murmur of approbation followed the outburst, and then every ear was listening for the reply, but the energy of the rebuke had cowed the spokesman, for he did not again raise his voice.—Life and Letters of Washington Irving.

* * *

MOLERE was asked the reason why, in certain countries, the king may assume the crown at fourteen years of age, and cannot marry before eighteen? "It is," answered Molere, because it is more difficult to rule a wife than a kingdom."

OUR WHEELBARROW.

IT is the ordinary way of the world to keep folly at the helm and wit under the helm.

RENTS in the character are port holes through which the devil looks.

WOMEN should set good examples for the men are always following them.

THE war has made three thousand six hundred and twenty-eight widaws in Georgia.

WHY is a washerwoman the most cruel person in the world? Because she daily wrings men's bosoms.

THE lady whose "heart swelled with indignation" has had it reduced with poultices.

A BLUSH of hope renders toil and trial beautiful, and the sunbeam gives a sparkle to the winter's frost.

WHY is a hungry boy, looking at a pie like President Jeff? Because he desires a peace.

A PRUDENT man will avoid whatever gives occasion for remark; for whatever is talked of much will be talked of unfavorably.

A RAVEN has been shot in France bearing a little locket with an inscription purporting that the bird was born in 1805, and was called "Wagram."

A MAN at Newcastle, who served four days on a jury, says he is so full of law that it is hard work for him to keep from cheating somebody.

WHY is a loving lady like a hinge? Because she is something to adore.

THE politician who undertakes to "de" the people, generally undoes himself.

LOVE is the most intelligible when it is unable to express itself in words.

BE not the slave of authority; if you think anything of yourself, think for yourself.

THE guilty man is doomed to carry and lodge his fiercest accuser in his own bosom,

THERE are many graceless preachers on grace—many uncharitable ones on charity.

THE evils from which a morbid man suffers most, are those which do not happen.

THE best means to learn our faults is to tell others of theirs; they will be too proud to be alone in their defects, and will seek them in us, and reveal them to us.

WE do not easily discover our own faults; the clearest eyes do not see the cheeks below, nor the brow above.

THE more we help others to bear their burdens, the lighter our own will be.

EXCELLENCE is never granted to man but as the reward of labor.

STONES and idle words are things not to be thrown at random.

IF you think your opportunities are not good enough, you had better improve them.

DELIBERATE with caution, but act with decision; and yield with graciousness, or oppose with firmness.

A HEAD properly constituted can accommodate itself to whatever pillows vicissitudes of fortune may place under it.

BY examining the tongue of the patient physicians find out the diseases of the body—philosophers, of the mind.

THE dove did not return to Noah with the olive branch till the second time of her going forth. Why then, should you despond at the failure of a first attempt.

THERE are officers in the army wearing stars who deserves stripes.

A MAN'S boots and shoes get tight by imbibing water, but a man does not.

OF all monarchs Nature makes the best laws, and is surest to punish their violation.

MODESTY promotes worth, but conceals it, just as the leaves aid the growth of a fruit and hide it from view.

IF the storm of adversity whistles around you, whistle as bravely yourself; perhaps the two whistiles will make a melody.

IN this world we must deal with fact. It is vain for men to try to live in mid-air—they are made with feet and not with wings.

AN honest man's the noblest work of God, but the edition is pretty small, suggests the New Orleans Picayune.

IF a woman can in no other way make her lazy husband support her, she can try her finger nails. Let her like a prudent hen, scratch for a living.

A WAG was lately asked to contribute to foreign missions. "Not on any account," said he. "Why not?" asked the collector, "the object is laudable." "No it isn't," was the reply, "not half so many people go to the devil now as ought to."

The Weekly Union.

Mankato, Friday, July 24, 1863.

Republican Union Convention.

The Republicans and all other unconditional Union men throughout the State of Minnesota, who are earnest and honest supporters of the Administration, and who will stand by it without fear or favor in all its efforts to crush rebellion and maintain the Union, and who desire to see no cessation of hostilities until the glorious old flag of our country shall wave over a united Republic, "without a stripe erased or polluted, or a single star obscured,"—and all, in fine, who are uncompromisingly hostile to traitors, whether open, armed rebels in the South, or covert advocates in the North of a damaging and humiliating peace, will assemble in convention at St. Paul, at Ingersoll's Hall, on Wednesday, August the 19th, 1863, at 11 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following offices:

Governor;
Lieutenant Governor;
Secretary of State;
State Treasurer;
Attorney General;
Auditor of State;
Clerk of the Supreme Court.

The different counties will be entitled to be represented in the Convention by Delegates, who are bona fide residents of the counties from which they are accredited, as follows:

Anoka	2	Morrison	1
Benton	2	Mower	2
Blue Earth	4	Nicollet	3
Brown	2	Olmsted	6
Carver	3	Pine	1
Chisago	2	Ramsey	8
Dakotah	7	Renville	1
Dodge	4	Rice	5
Faribault	1	Scott	5
Fillmore	9	Sherburne	1
Freeborn	3	Sibley	3
Hennepin	8	Stearns	3
Isanti	1	Steele	2
Goodhue	6	St. Louis	1
Houston	5	Wabashaw	7
Le Sueur	4	Winona	6
McLeod	1	Waseca	2
Meeker	1	Wright	3
Mille Lac	1	Washington	4

No Delegates will be admitted from unorganized or uninhabited counties, not enumerated above.

By order of the Republican Central Committee.

ROBT. F. FISK, Clk.
WILFORD L. WILSON,
ANDREW NESSEL,
D. BLAKELY,
J. B. GILFILLAN,
BENJ. F. SMITH.

St. Paul, July 8, 1863.

THE SIOUX COMMISSION.

The Commissioners will close their session in this place to-day, and proceed to St Peter. Their stay in Mankato has been very pleasant, and the business of taking testimony has gone along quietly, and rapidly. Nearly 400 cases have been submitted during the week. In our article last week there were some inaccuracies. The number of cases filed up to June 1st is 2460. The number filed since then is 200, making a total of 2660. The number of cases submitted up to date is 1300. The number of cases where evidence is partially taken but not completed is 250.

THE NEW YORK RIOT.

The copper-seed sown in New York by Gov. Seymour, Wood and others, ripened last week, and its fruits was harvested by one of the most disgraceful mob riots that has ever visited this country. It far exceeded in barbarity and fiendish cruelty any and all those practised by the Sioux last fall, and is as far below them in point of humanity as the savage is below an angel.

The Copperhead leaders by feeding the prejudices of the mob and working upon their feelings prepared them for their work of resistance to the darft, and they became so frenzied that nothing was too atrocious for them to commit. We hope the leaders will meet with summary punishment by hanging, and even that will be too good for such traitors to the government.

THE WEST.

The Dubuque Times in an article on its future railroad prospects, and the relation they will bear to the west, speaks as follows of this section of Minnesota:

Every mile that it progresses beyond Cedar Falls' will attract more and more strongly the business of four of the best agricultural districts of the West, which are fast filling with settlers and rapidly developing their treasures of wealth and commerce. South West Minnesota, South East Dakota, North East Nebraska and North West Iowa.

The natural medium for the Eastward trafic of all this great and valuable region of country is the Dubuque and Sioux City Railroad, and the point which can most readily invite and control its wholesome trade is Dubuque. The result of the recent Indian war in the removal of the Indians from Minnesota, will prove a great benefit to this region. The presence of the indians in South West Minnesota had deterred immigrants from settling in that part of the State, and also in the North West counties of Iowa and the South West part of Dakota. Their removal not only opens up their extensive reservations to settlements, but all the surrounding country kept in dread of them, for hundreds of miles in extent. The Winnebago reservation is in the heart of the richest and most beautiful portion of Minnesota. It is situated mainly in Blue Earth county, but extends into Waseca on its eastern borders. Its north line is within three miles of Mankato. The whole tract contains 207,360 acres. It is traversed by four fine streams, the Blue Earth and its tributaries, the Maple, Cobb, and Lesueur, whose wooded borders divide the landscape in alternate belts of wood and prairie. The soil is perhaps the richest in the State.

The Sioux reservation contains 710,400 acres extending in a parallogram along the south side of the Minnesota river above Fort Ridgely.

What we would urge upon the business men of Dubuque now is to make the acquaintance of this large and important field of enterprise, with which we are so directly connected, in Minnesota, Dakota, Nebraska and our own State. Encourage immigrants to settle there and help in every way possible the development of that country. Visit it yourselves, or send your agents and circulars through it, inviting its business here.

Make yourselves the auxiliaries and friends of its people in their progress, consulting their interests as your own, and you will be richly rewarded for all your endeavors.

SIX A DAY ONLY.

For the last ten days we have received six new subscribers per day for the UNION. Keep the ball a moving, gentleman. We want six per day for the next ninety days.

PROMISSORY NOTES UNDER TWENTY DOLLARS, REQUIRE A STAMP.

We publish the following correspondence between the collector of this District and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, as it is on a subject which interests nearly all our readers.

OFFICE COLLECTOR INTERNAL REVENUE, }
MANKATO, July 3d 1862. }

SIR: Your decision is respectfully asked as to the liability to stamp duty of promissory notes under twenty dollars.

The language of the act of 3d March last, is a little obscure and opinions vary as to said liability.

Very Respectfully,
JOHN N. HALL,
Collector 1st District.

Hon. Joseph J. Lewis, Com. Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT OFF. INT. REV. }
WASHINGTON, 11th, 1863. }

SIR: Your letter of the 3d inst has been received.

In reply thereto I have the honor to state that a prommissory note given for payment of twenty dollars or less, is subject to stamp duty under the head of "Inland Bill of exchange" in the endorsed schedule.

Very Respectfully,
JOSEPH J. LEWIS,
Commissioner.

The stamp duty refered to in the letter of the Commissioner, is as follows:

On promissory notes for over $200 or fraction part thereof, whether payable on demand, or at any time not exceeding 33 days grace, included from date or sight one cent: exceeding 33 days and not exceeding 63 days, as aforesaid, two cents; exceeding 63 days, and not exceeding 93 days, aforesaid three cents, exceeding 93 days, and not exceeding four months and three days, as aforesaid four cents: exceeding four months, and not exceeding six months and three days, as aforesaid six cents; exceeding six months and three days, ten cents.

All notes made after June 1st, without being duly stamped are void.

THE FIRST MINNESOTA.—Below we publish a letter from Senator Wilkinson, who has visited the Gettysburg battle-field to render aid and comfort to the wounded of the First Minnesota. We mourn the loss of the gallant First. Nearly all of us have friends and relatives whose names are found in the long list which we published last week. The tear of sorrow will start at their loss, and we shall miss their kind and affectionate letters, and their cheerful faces around the family board, as in days of yore. All honor to the noble First. May its memory ever be green in our hearts.

WASHINGTON, July 12, 1863.

I have just returned from the battle-field of Gettysburg, where I visited our wounded and the graves of our noble dead. The battle of Gettysburg was the most terrific and destructive struggle that has taken place since the commenment of the War, and the heroic Minnesota 1st was placed in the very centre of the conflict. This regiment occupied that position of the field against which the massed columns of the enemy were hurled with the greatest fury. The necessity of the case required that those troops who had never broken in the face of an enemy, the bravest and the steadiest, should be selected to hold the ground against which the enemy directed his principal force. Such troops were selected for that purpose, and first among them was the gallant Minnesota 1st. Our troops were placed near the centre of the left wing of our army.

It is hard to see such heroes mowed down like grass before the advancing columns of the enemy, but the peril of the hour required it, and our brave boys did not hesitate for a moment to do their duty. In looking over the field, it seems to me that our Regiment, and those immediately associated with it in holding this ground, did more than any other portion of the army to save the day, and to win the most glorious victory of the war. The enemy charged upon this portion of our line with an immense column, and with fearful impetuosity. Our forces did not stand to receive this charge, but they rushed forward with fixed bayonets and pouring into the foe a destructive fire of musketry as they advanced. At first the rebel forces halted for a little while, then staggered and fell back, and thus the field was won by us for the first day. It was here that our noble Colonel, Lieut. Colonel, Major, four Captains, six Lieutenants, and more than one half of our regiment fell, many to rise no more, and others wounded and disabled. I found Col. Colville in the hospital of the 2d corps, which is located in a beautiful grove about one and a half miles from the battle-field. He is badly wounded in the shoulder and in the right foot. I hope and trust that he will recover, for he is as brave a man as ever faced an enemy.

In the tent where our Colonel lay there were other wounded Minnesotians, and, also, two wounded rebels, each of whom had lost a leg in the battle. Our wounded are generally cheerful and doing well—indeed I was surprised to witness the cheerfulness and fortitude with which our brave boys endured their sufferings, I scarcely heard one of them complain, although many of them will return to Minnesota with an arm or leg less than when they left it, and others never to fully recover from the effect of their severe wounds, yet I did not hear a murmur. All of them seemed satisfied if the rebellion could only be put down. I intend to start soon for Hagerstown, where I expect a great battle will be fought in a day or two. The remnant of our Regiment is there, numbering only about 75 men and officers, under the command of the gallant Harry Coates, of St. Paul—Coville, Adams and Downey all having been badly wounded at Gettysburg. When I went upon the ground where this battle was fought, (four days afterwards,) our dead had been decently buried and a board placed at the head of each grave, with an inscription upon it, giving the name of the soldier buried there, the Regiment to which he belonged, and the day that he was killed. It was not so with the rebel dead. I should judge I saw, in traveling over the field, nearly one thousand rebel soldiers lying dead upon the ground where they fell, and more than 1,000 horses. The delay in burying the enemy's dead was owing to the fact that Gen. Lee commenced his retreat immediately after the battle, leaving his dead upon the field, and Gen. Meade followed in pursuit with all his able-bodied troops as soon as his own dead were buried, leaving the rebel prisoners behind to bury their own. Horrible as such pictures are, they are among the necessities of war.

Minnesota and the country owe this Regiment more than they can ever pay; but I trust that those belonging to it who are permitted to return to our State, will meet such a reception as only a generous and grateful people can give.

Very truly yours,
M. S. WILKINSON.

Indian News.

ST PETER, July 22, 1863.

To the Editor of the Union:

In addition to the Indian news of last week, I send you the following extract from the St. Peter Tribune, of this date, which embraces all the particulars worthy of note:

"Since the killing and wounding mentioned by our Le Sueur county correspondent, the people of the Big Woods have been on a constant hunt after the red skins, and have found traces of other parties in the vicinity of Dutch lake. A scouting party returned to Cleveland on Saturday and reported the discovery of a camp near the lake; reinforcements were promptly sent out and the Rev. Mr. Savidge, of Cleveland, came to St. Peter for the purpose of securing arms and ammunition. Brig. Gen. STONE immediately sent to the Cleveland Militia 33 guns and the necessary equipments, and 1,200 rounds of ammunition. The country around the lake was thoroughly examined on Sunday, but the Indians had not been discovered up to yesterday noon, notwithstanding the general and rigid search. Our Cleveland neighbors, fearing that precautionary measures may be of service hereafter, have erected a strong stockade 60 feet square, in which they can find safety if they are attacked by some of the prowling bands which are now infesting the woods, but we are inclined to the opinion that the Indians will not recklessly attack a settlement which has displayed such a determination to repel even their appearance. We feel disposed to compliment our "men of the woods" in extravagant terms, when we remember the stampedes which have been caused by a lesser danger. So far as we can learn there is not a settler in the timber portion of Le Sueur county who is not resolved to stick to his home and fight it out, instead of running away at the first alarm. They are arming themselves thoroughly, and if attacked at any time, they will materially reduce the number of Sioux, and imitate the pluck and heroism of the old Kentucky hunters and Indian fighters."

With reference to the affair of yesterday, the 21st inst., the same paper says:

Yesterday noon a messenger was sent from Cleveland to St. Peter, to report that another Indian had been found about one and a half miles from that place, and requested assistance from the St Peter Boys, in case it became necessary. This sensible request was transformed at the third mouth into a report that a battle was being fought with the savages near Cleveland, and that the settlers had been driven back to the stockade recently erected. Of course, considerable excitement and anxiety ensued, and several citizens and soldiers started from this place to ascertain the truth in regard to the matter, and act as necessity required. The facts are as follows:

About 9 o'clock yesterday morning while Mr. Z. Bliss was in search for cattle, he discovered an Indian lying down by a log a few feet away from him, but for some reason did not seem aware of his reproach. Being unarmed Mr. Bliss returned to Cleveland and gave the alarm. Several citizens started for the spot indicated, the foremost of whom, ran upon him suddenly and discovering what he supposed to be the Sioux head, fired—the ball crushing through the knee of the prostrate Indian—a good shot but not fatal. This hint brought the red brother to a sitting positure, and having fired one shot from a double-barreled shot-gun he was finished by a couple of well aimed bullets fired by the Rev. Mr. Allen of Cleveland. As Mr. A. fired his second shot, others had arrived and several fired simultaneously, the body of the Indian was completely riddled with bullets. Directly under the shoulder blade is an old bullet wound. —and this is undoubtedly the Indian who was wounded by the whites on Thursday last, in the affray at Scotch Lake. Evidently he had suffered much, as the body was little else than a mass of skin and bones. When the St. Peter party arrived upon the ground the Indian had been relieved of his white man's shirt, and luxuriant hair, and the people were no more excited over the event than if a rattle-snake had been killed. We have no doubt he is one of the party which caused the alarm in Dakota county, and stole the horses at Northfield. Two of the animals taken from the Indians have been claimed by citizens of that place, and taken home. Our readers will see the Big Woods are being cleared of Indians up this way."

The reconnoisance of this savage trio has hastened two of them to that "happy hunting ground," from whence there is no return. But one has escaped to rehearse the story of the merited fate which overtook his comrades.

The determination with which the citizens of Le Sueur county have taken hold of this matter is worthy of imitation by the people of every border county, and if persistently followed up, will soon rid the frontier of every savage fiend that thirsts for blood.

NOW AND THEN.

Meanness and Shamelessness.

In all that we have ever seen or heard or read of human shamelessness, we never saw or heard or read of anything quite so shameless as the attempt of the New York World and its copperhead cotemporaries to charge the responsibility of the riot on the Tribune and Times. The copperhead papers have all along openly condemned and denounced the Conscription Law, and used every effort of misrepresentation or artful appeal to incite a violent resistance to it, and now when their efforts have been successful, these same papers turn round and with an effrontery that the Republican journals which have favored the draft, urged its necessity, and done their best by argument and appeal to make it acceptable to the people, are responsible for the resistance to it.—St. Paul Press.

Death of Colonel O'Brien.

We glean from exchanges the following particulars of the death of Col. O'Brien, who was killed by the New York mob:

Col. O'Brien, early on Monday, volunteered his services and those of his regiment (the 11th N. Y. Volunteers), to assist in putting down the mob, and this fact becoming known to the crowd of rioters, highly incensed them, for they appeared to think they had a sort of claim on their countryman, if not to assist them at least not to take up arms against them. Col. O'Brien was given command of a detachment of U. S. Marines in addition to his own regiment.

Before, however, his soldiers had arrived, he appeared in front of his house in full uniform, with his sword in his hand, and proceeded nearly two blocks out of his way, near to where the crowd was collected, and began to upbraid them in the most intemperate language. He is said to have applied to them terms which cannot be presented in print, and continued to do so. His language seems to have been uncalled for.

The crowd at this time offered no violence, and only replied with muttered threats. The Colonel then retired indoors, and remained some time. In the interval his command of troops had arrived and formed in line near Thirty-sixth street and Second avenue. The Colonel came out put himself at their head, and having completed his military dispositions he left them and proceeded to the drug store of Mr. Tudor, corner of Thirty-fourth street and Second avenue, which he entered to make some slight purchase.

Having procured what he wanted, he came out, and, the crowd having gathered somewhat nearer the door than they had been before, he cocked his revolver and advanced directly towards them. Whether, on this occasion he used more intemperate language is not known, but, as he came forward a woman took up a stone and threw it at him; did not traverse more than half of the distance between them, but on the instant the Colonel presented his revolver and fired. The ball ricocheted and struck the woman on the knee. She instantly fell, and from that moment the Colonel's fate was sealed.

The mob made a rush at him, and in an instant he was knocked down, trampled under foot, and the heartless cruel mob were upon him. His revolver was taken from him. his sword was broken into fragments, and every fist that could get within reach, every club that could be brought to bear, every brick or stone that could thrown with true aim, every heel that could hit the head of the unfortunate man, was put into requisition. In a moment he was beaten insensible which fact is the only consolation left to his frends, for the cruelties and indignities offered afterwards to him, had they been endured by one capable of feeling, would have been too too horrible for belief.

Having been struck to the earth, he was seized by a hundred hands and dragged into an alley way, out of the sight of his wife and children, and also almost within sight of his troops who, of course, had no idea of the atrocities being perpetrated on their commander, and there he was beaten and kicked about for hours. The first blow was struck this officer about two P. M.—he did not see till 8 P. M. All the intervening time he was surrounded by the crowd, who refused to permit any one to render him any assistance, and when a humane druggist went to him and gave him a drink of water, the mob entered his store and gutted it from end to end.

For all these hours this man lay there, watched over by some of the mob, and whenever a groan, or sigh, or a heavy-labored breath would give token of life, there was always a ready foot to kick his bleeding head, or a ready hand to dash his head against the paving-stones. And where this his wife and children could almost see him and hear his groans.

New Views from the South.

Who are abolitionests? What is there in the word to be afraid of? The most radical abolitionist now known to the nineteenth century is the secessionist. By inaugurating this rebellion, he gave slavery a stab in the heart. He did not mean to do this, but the practical result is the same as though that were his most cherished desire. The negro has become a most formidable engine of power in the hands of the secessionist against the Government. If possible, (and it is possible,) why not wrest that engine out of his power and use it against himself? But oh, Federal Government! if you do that you are an abolitionist, and to be that is unconstitutional, because there is no clause in the Constitution to the especial effect that if your enemies use slaves against you, you have a right to use their slaves against them. But the Constitution does say the Government has a right to defend itsself, and of course that implies unmistakebly the right to use all the means necessary for that purpose. The Government did not desire or intend to interfere with the institution of slavery; but the rebels by their own acts have compelled it to do so. It is now already a measure of self-preservation that slavery should be abolished.—Nashville Union.

LATEST NEWS.

CINCINNATI, July 20.

Morgan, with about 1,000 men has been turned back. He is moving this P. M. towards Galipolis closely followed by our forces. Squads of his men are being picked up hourly. The Commercial's Columbus despatch says after the fight at Burlington, the rebels moved up the river to Bellville ahead of the gunboats, and by threats compelled the citizens to furnish flat boats by which three hundred escaped to the other shore just as the gunboats hove in sight. The remaider on the Ohio side were attacked by our forces and scattered. Our men continued picking them up till only about 1,500 were left who finally succeeded in breaking out of our lines and pushed back in the direction of Burlington.

At 9 o'clock this morning they passed through Harrisonville 10 miles north east of Pomeroy, apparently exhausted with fatigue.

CINCINNATI, July 21.—10 A. M.

The following was just received at Gen. Burnside's headquarters:

HEADQUARTERS U. S. FORCES,
July 20—P. M.

Lieut. Col. Richmond, A. A. G.:—

We chased John Morgan and his command over fifty miles to day. After heavy skirmishing for over seven miles between the 45th Ohio, of Col Walford's brigade, which was in advance of the enemy, we succeeded in bringing the enemy to a stand about 3 o'clock this P. M., when a fight ensued which lasted an hour, when the rebels fled, taking refuge upon a very high bluff.

I sent a flag of truce demanding the immediate and unconditional surrender of Morgan and his command. The flag was received by Col. Coleman and other officers, who came down and asked a personal interview. They asked an hour for consultation. I granted forty minutes, in which time the command, excepting Morgan, who deserted, taking with him a small squad, surrendered.

It was my understanding that Morgan himself had surrendered, and I found it was the understanding of Morgan's officers and men.

The number of killed and wounded is unconsiderable. The number of prisoners is between 1,000 and 1,500, including a large number of colonels, majors, and line officers. I captured between 600 and 700 prisoners yesterday. I think I will capture Morgan himself to morrow.

(Signed) SHACKELFORD, Brig Gen.

Morgan's artillery and about 2,500 prisoners, including Basil Duke, are expected to arrive here to-day.

NEW YORK, July 20.

The Post's Washington special says there is no truth in the report that Meade has been relieved of his command of the Army of the Potomac.

Returned prisoners from Richmond do not think any of Bragg's forces reached there.

D. H. Hill is commanding troops in Richmond.

Gen. Gilmore will be left in supreme command in the attack on Charleston.

Fosters headquarters will be at Fortress Monroe and his operations confined to North Carolina and Virginia.

NEW YORK, July 20.

The Commercial's Fort Monroe letter of the 18th, after referring to the capture of Fort Powhattan on James River, says Admiral Lee detach an ensign and two boats crews as garrison, while the fleet moved further up the river. Shortly after he had left, the rebels returned, and gobbled up the insignificant garrison and decamped.

When one of our despatch boats returned the battery and field pieces opened on it. The fire was returned and the rebels withdrew.

Latest reports received here are to the effect that Lee had attacked Fort Darling, with what success, is unknown.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.

The Inquirer of this city has the following:

HAGERSTOWN, July 21.—The whole rebel army is reported as being checked at Bunker Hill by the Union troops who have gone in their rear.

Gen. Averill is reported as having been feeling the enemy strongly on their western line of retreat for two days past.

It is believed Gens. Ewell and Hood are in strong force between Martinsburg and Hedgeville—the former 13 miles from Williamsport, and the latter six.

Rebel pickets form a front from Hedgeville to the Shenandoah river, 8 miles from Harper's Ferry.

The whole rebel force is estimated at 60,000 men.

News by Friday Morning's Mail,

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—The French minister is virtually declared dictator, Forey enforcing all of his decrees.

The French soldiers in the city numbered 15,000.

The people as a general rule refused to associate with the French.

NEW YORK, July 22—The wall of the 18th precinct Station House fell to-day. The building was filled with women and children. Eleven bodies have thus far been found.

The Common Council of Brooklyn has agreed to recommend an appropriation of half a million dollars to secure the exemption of drafted men having families to support.

FORTRESS MONROE, July 21—A battle was commenced on Friday by both land and naval forces, and was progressing when the steamer left from near Charleston.

All efforts to induce the Government to suspend the draft in New York are unavailing. It will be enforced.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The following from Vicksburg to the 18th has been received:

Johnston evacuated Jackson the night of the 16th. He is now in full retreat.

Sherman says that most of Johnston's army must perish from heat, lack of water, and general discouragement.

A portion of Sherman's army is in Jackson.

CINCINNATI, July 22—Morgan with 500 men camped near McArthur, last night. This morning was within a mile of Vinton.

Roseran's army is again in motion. The enemy's rear had been shelled but no fighting had occurred.

The number of rebel prisoners now in our hand is nearly 90,000, all takes since July 3d. A few more such hauls, and rebeldom will be used up.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Medical Advice free of Charge.

DOCTOR WHITTIER'S Theory, Symptoms, and Treatment of Chronic, Nervous, Urinary and Sexual Diseases, free in sealed letter envelope, for six cents to pre-pay postage. It is a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringment of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposure, and imprudence, in married and single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and should be read by every young person, to keep them off the shoals on which others have been broken in pieces. Amativeness clearly stated to be under the control of judicious treatment and thereby prevent inclination to one very prolific cause of of disease. Nearly every case of disease can be treated without hinderance to business. Medicine sent by mail, secure from observation. Charges moderate; consultations by letter or at the office free; cures guaranteed; Office 65 St. Charles St., between 6th and 7th. P O Box 3092. St. Louis Mo. Circular Letter especially for ladies, nothing referring to Sexual Diseases, for 3 cent postage.

O. P. LIEBERG,
FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER.—Having opened a Barber Shop with a view to establishing a permanent business in Mankato, I am prepared to wait upon gentlemen, and will guarantee satisfaction in every department of my business.
June 26, 1863.

G. A. STURGES, M. D.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
MANKATO, MINN.

OFFICE:—At his residence second door above the Mankato House.

Z. PADDOCK,
Attorney and Counselor at Law, and General Land Agent. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to him. Mankato, Blue Earth Co., Minn.

FRED'K HILDEBRANDT,
Manufacturer of and Dealer in all kinds of
FURNITURE & GILT MOULDING,
ALSO,
Imitation of Rosewood Mouldings, Ovals,
Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames.
Ware Rooms in Schumeier's Block, Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minn.

M. ZENOPOLSKI, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.
OFFICE:—Opposite the Clifton House.

DAVID WILCOX.
JUDGE OF PROBATE,
& ATT'Y AT LAW,
MANKATO - - - - - MINN.

WM. R. McMAHAN, M. D.
Office and Residence old at his stand, on the corner of Hickory and Second steats, one Block back of the Mankato House, where he will be found at all times, except when professionaly absent.
He will furnish and compound his own medicines.

EDWARD OGLESBY,
Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hawley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work in his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October.

S. FINCH, O. O. PITCHER.
FINCH & PITCHER,
Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,
MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA.

THE COUNTY.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

St. Paul—Arrives at 1 A. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Eastern—Arrives at 4 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Blue Earth City—Arrives at 5 P. M. and departs at 7 A. M. Closes 7 P. M.

Office hours—5 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays, 5 to 7 A. M., and 12 M. to 1 P. M.

R. J. SIBLEY, Postmaster.

RAIN.—We had a very refreshing rain Wednesday afternoon, lasting nearly an hour.

AMERICAN EXPRESS CO.—This popular Company have established an agency at this place and appointed J. J. Porter, Esq., agent. The American is a reliable Company to do business with.

LADIES if you wish to get a good paper, and M'me Demorest Mirror of Fashion, subscribe for the Union. We will furnish both for $2,00 per year. Now is the time to get all the fashions cheap.

PERSONAL.—Lieut. Van Eiten, of the 9th, was in town Wednesday, finishing up his business with Capt. McKusick. He has been ordered to report at St. Cloud.

O. Dalrymple, Esq., of Bigelow & Dalrymple, of St. Paul, has been stopping in town for the past few days.

UNTRUE.—The report published last week, which was taken from the Press, that three Indians had attacked a man near Bloomington turns out to be a hoax, after all. It was gotten up to frighten off some Irishmen who were cutting hay in that vicinity.

FITTING UP.—MESSRS. Mims & Womack have nearly finished fitting up the building recently purchased of Uncle Tom, and will soon have their goods on the shelves ready for customers.

We learn that Mr J. D. Blake, of Rochester has been in town looking for some location, or building with a view to establish himself in business here. If he succeeds he will open a wholesale and retail jobbing house, and do business to the amount of $75,000 or $80,000 per year.

From a private letter received by Mr. Wm. Bierbauer from Francis Baasen, Q. M. of the 1st Regiment, we learn 182 men were wounded, and 3[illegible] killed in the battle at Gettysburg. Mr. Fred. Diehr, of this place, who was reported dangerously wounded, is rapidly recovering, and he hopes to be well in two months.

MAKING MONEY.—Nearly a year ago a friend in town sold thirty-five bushels of corn, a cow, and some other things for $32.55. Being absent he placed it in other hands to collect, and received State vouchers at their face, in payment, which reduced the sum to $15,10. It proved to be a very profitable speculation, and he thinks that with one or two dollars more he will be able to buy another cow.

ENLARGED.—The Record of last week came out enlarged and otherwise improved, one column having been added to each page, and lengthened to correspond. We congratulate Mr. Wise, on the prosperity that has enabled him to so handsomely improve his paper, and in his business relations wish him success.

CUTE.—Our little friend Dick who resides in Faribault County, gets off some funny things, occasionally. Willow Creek is a crooked stream, and he had occasion, a few days since in company with some friends, to cross it several times while traveling a short distance, and as often asked the name of it and received the same reply every time. Finally, assuming a very grave aspect, he said, "Well, they say God made everything, but I guess he was chasing snakes when made Willow Creek!"

GRAIN ELEVATORS IN CHICAGO.—Another immense Grain Elevator, said to be the largest in the world, has just been finished in Chicago, and still another, of equal size, is nearly completed. They have been built in the most substantial manner and are furnished throughout with the most perfect machinery, including a large number Fairbanks' 500 Bushel Hopper Scales, which insures correct weight to buyers and sellers of grain. The amount of grain which can be handled in these Elevators in a single day is enormous. The increased production of grain in the North-west is perhaps shown in no way more clearly than by the rapid increase in Chicago of the facilities for receiving and shipping it.

OUR HARDWARE STORE.—John F. Meagher has a very large Stock of hardware in his Store this season, larger perhaps than many of our country readers imagine, and Mr. M. is one of the most gentlemanly men to trade with that we ever met. He has a very large stock of stoves, of all kinds, plows and other farming implements, rod iron, sash, tin, and sheet iron in abundance. He has had a good supply of threshers and reapers, but they have sold so rapidly of late that he has only one left. In another column will be found Mr. Meagher's advertisement, where, in detail, he informs you of what he has in his store.

AT HOME.—Lieut. Clark Keysor, Co. E. 9th Regiment, returned home Monday, of this week. He brought with him $3,400 in greenbacks which the boys sent to their families in Mankato and vicinity. A few of the boys were absent and did not receive their pay. The entire Company is in good health, and feeling first rate.

The Lieut. enjoys excellent health, and does not tire of military life. He is well liked by the members of his company. He will return to his post at Pipe Lake Station, on Monday next.

PRIZES AWARDED.—To-day Prof. Ferguson awarded prizes to the following scholars for punctuality and good deportment in school.

Sallie Stock,
Frances Williams,
Mary Hicks,
Lillie Hemperly,
Libby Hicks,
Belle Warren,
Mary Higgins,
Carrie Hall,
Fanny Lytle,
Clara Hersey,
James Thornton,
Chas. McMahan,

We are pleased to note the popularity of this school, and the interest which the children take in their studies. The Prof has adopted the plan of having each scholar every morning cite an important fact in history illustrative of its truth. The scholars read history very carefully searching for these facts, which materially improves their knowledge.

THE LADY'S BOOK.—Godey's Ladies Book for August is received, filled as usual with its splendid steel engravings and colored fashion plates. The reading matter of this number is very interesting. The Lady's Book is a great favorite with the ladies. The subscription price is $3,00 per year. We will furnish it and the Weekly Union one year for $3,40

QUARTERMASTER AND COMMISSARY STORES.—By the kindness of Captains Daily and McKusick, we have been furnished with the aggregate amount of Commissary stores, and camp and garrison equippage in their departments. Capt. Daily has four warehouses in which to keep his Commissary Stores, of which the following is a list.

420 barrels of pork, 2543 lbs ham,
1607 bbls flour,
29818 lbs hard bread,
585 bushels beans,
541 bushels of peas,
30612 lbs rice,
10666 lbs coffee,
1355 lbs tea,
20062 lbs brown sugar,
3246 lbs crushed sugar,
2969 gallons of vinegar,
1768 lbs candles,
8371 lbs soap,
219 bushels salt,
861 gallons molasses,
348 gallons syrup,
41 gallons pickles,
175 lbs pepper,
3753 lbs dried apples,
1842 gallons common whiskey,
437 gallons bourbon whiskey,
26 barrels salt beef,
626 lbs grits.

In the Quartermaster's department the principal items are as follows:

441 hats,
86 caps,
850 dress coats,
400 pairs trowsers,
150 blouses,
880 shirts,
1070 drawers,
1322 buffalo overshoes,
700 pairs of shoes,
650 pairs of stockings,
878 overcoats,
126 pairs boots,
635 blankets,
629 haversacks and straps,
269 haversacks,
351 canteens,
1289 pairs mittens,
409 bed sacks,
251 axes
184 spades,
76 camp kettles,
187 mess pans,
163 hatchets

Capt. Daily has in his department as Clerk Moses Fretine, who is an accomplished penman, and keeps his books in excellent order free from all blots.

Capt. McKusick, has Messrs J. W. Palmer and C. N. Nelson, both gentlemen of experience, competent clerks who thoroughly understand their business.

The government could not have placed better officers in charge of these departments than Capts Daily and McKusick.

Winnebago City Items.

[illegible]

We were visited Sunday with a delightful rain, so much wished and prayed for by farmers. It commenced about 11 o'clock in the forenoon, and rained until 3 in the afternoon, giving us about two and a half inches in all.

Our harvest of wheat is estimated to be better this, than last year. Some pieces are ready to harvest. Oats are somewhat damaged for want of rain. Corn looks very well where it has been properly cultivated. Our prospects for hay are better than in adjoining Counties.

A horse thief passed through Blue Earth City last week in charge of officers from La Crosse. He was overtaken and arrested in Nebraska.

While other parts of the State are alarmed and disturbed by marauding and horse-stealing Indians, we, although near the frontier, are in peace and quietness, following each man his vocation as though he thought all was safety. There seems to be no fear that depredations will be committed in our part of the State. Let the military out-posts west of us, keep up a vigilant watch. No traces of the red Devils have been found, as we can learn this season.

Last week quite a number of our citizens went to Mankato to testify before the Sioux Commissioners with reference to their losses consequent upon the Indian raid last summer. Many suppose their claims will all be allowed. Others are sure they will all be thrown out. Be that as it may, whether we are paid anything not, one thing is certain, we suffered severely pecuniarily, and more severely from actual fear, although some are not willing to own it.

RICH AND STICKY.—The following epistle was handed us as coming from an up country friend:

————————, July 22.

"I write to you this morning on serious questions. My old Tom horse is dead, old Buck has the pole evil, I have the blues, we have another boy at our house, and you when will do to eat next Monday.

"Yours in haste"

ENROLLMENT.—Messrs. Stock and Wackner have permitted us to copy from their books the following list of first and second class men in the different towns liable to military duty:

Mankato—1st class [illegible]; 2d class 101 Total, 261.
Lime—1st class 21; 2d class 25. Total 41.
Le Roy—1st class 16, 2d class 9. Total [illegible].
Jamestown—1st class 16; 2d class 8. Total 24.
Married 253, single 95. Total 358.
Vernon Center—1st class 61, 2d class 33; total 94
Fox Lake—1st class 21; 2d class 21 total; [illegible]
Sterling—1st class 28, 2d class 24. Total [illegible]
Danville—1st class [illegible], 2d class 11. Total 15.
Town 106 Range 27—1st class 12.
Shelby—1st class 12, 2d class 29. Total [illegible]
Mapleton—1st class 21, 2d class 13. Total [illegible]

REAPER AND MOWER TRIAL.—There will be a trial of reapers in Verona, near Mr. Stoddard's farm, Saturday, August 1st. J. J. Shaubut will be present with his grain binder. The trial will be free to all who wish to [illegible] machines.

Mankato Market Reports.

CORRECTED EVERY THURSDAY BY O. WARD.

MANKATO, July 21, 1863.

WHEAT—50c, ℘ bushel.
RYE—40c.
BARLEY—40.
OATS—40c.
CORN—[illegible]c.
HAY—℘ ton, $4@5.00.
TIMOTHY—$2 ℘ bushel.
BEANS—White, ℘ bushel, $1.25.
BUTTER—10c
LARD—8@9c.
SUGAR—12@13c; 16@20c.
TEA—1.50@1.60.
COFFEE—33c.
RICE—10c ℘ lb.
SALT—4.50 ℘ barrel.
EGGS—8c ℘ doz.
CANDLES—Tallow, 15c; Sperm, 30c
MEATS—Beef on foot, 3@4c. Pork, 5@6c. Mutton 10@12c. Poultry, 10@12c.
POTATOES—1.00 ℘ bushel.
SIRUP—1.00 ℘ gallon.
WOOD—$2.00 ℘ cord.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN has on hand a lot of McCormick Reapers, both large and small sizes, which he offers to sell on accommodating terms, notwithstanding it is the only lot of Havesting Machines now in the valley. As no more can be shipped up this season parties designing to purchase should call on Mr. Christensen at once and secure one of the best machines in the world.

SPERMATORRHOEA CAN BE CURED.—Dr. Rand's Specific cures Spermatorrhoea, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Loss of Power, &c., speedily and effectually. Its effects are truly magical. A trial of the SPECIFIC will convince the most skeptical of its merits. Price, $1 a box. Sent post-paid to any address, by S. C. UPMAN, 493 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA. Circular sent free.

DRUNKENESS CURED.—The inebriate may now bid defiance to the tempting cup. DR. ZANE'S ANTIDOTE FOR STRONG DRINK is a certain cure for Drunkenness. It creates a dislike for strong drink, and can be administered without the knowledge of the patient. Price $1 a box. Sent by mail to any address, by S. C. UPMAM, 493 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA. Circular sent free.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE

Mankato Weekly Union,

Published every Friday by

CHARLES H. SLOCUM,

AT

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of

PRINTING

Neatly and cheaply executed

SUCH AS

CARDS,
PROGRAMMES,
BILL-HEADS,
CIRCULARS,
POSTERS,
ETC.,

Having received a supply of

NEW MATERIAL

from the East, am prepared to do

PLAIN AND FANCY WORK

in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

PATENT FORCE PUMP.

THE undersigned has purchased the right to manufacture and sell, the KENTUCKY PATENT FORCE PUMP, one of which is now on exhibition at the Mankato House. This pump is very simple and convenient in all its parts, and peculiarly adapted to this climate. It is placed at the bottom of the well or cistern, and is worked by a handle at the top, the water being forced through an iron pipe. When not in action, the water remaining in the chambers readily finds its way back to the well again, and is consequently uncontaminated by any action of the metal upon it and is also prevented from freezing for the same reason. For further particulars enquire of, JAMES T. BESSER,

MANKATO HOUSE.

MANKATO - MINNESOTA.

THIS House has been thoroughly renovated newly papered and painted, with many new improvements, which makes it now equal as to comfort and convenience to any House in the State.

General Stage Office for all points in the State.

Good barn and stabling with attentive ostler. Baggage conveyed to and from steamboats free of charge. Wines, liquors, cigars etc., constantly on hand.

☞Farmers will find this House a good place to stop, it being centrally located, plenty of barroom, and charges moderate.

may 7 H. H. Shaubut.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
BLUE EARTH COUNTY. }

MANKATO, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 13th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet be n redeemed, I will execute and deliver to the purchasers of said lands at said sale, or their assigns, deeds for the same on and after the [illegible] A. D. 1864, unless said lands [illegible] redeemed. And [illegible] the amount [illegible] the purchaser of said land on redemption.

CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.	NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.
Unknown	1	21	2.66	Unknown	1	76	1.18
do	5	21	2.29	do	7	A	3.97
do	9	21	7.45	do	8	A	3.97
I. Ady	9	28	13.13	do	9	A	3.97
F C Roosevelt	6	58	2.97	do	10	A	3.97

Willard & Besser's Addition.

Unknown, lot 16, block 12, amount 2.06.

NAME.	DES.	S.	T.	R.	AMT.
T W Lamberton	e hf sw qr and n hf sw qr	7	108	28	22.07
Carl Parthum	sw qr	33	109	29	11.57
[illegible] Carlinger	ne qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	32	109	29	[illegible]
do	s hf se qr	31	109	29	15.91
Dennis O'Flynn	s e qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	27	109	29	11.81
Wm P Smith	s hf ne qr and ne qr se qr and lot 2	2	107	28	13.85
T F Anderson	s e qr	20	107	28	15.14
H Wright	se qr	8	106	28	14.10
William Gage	s w qr	17	106	28	13.73
Alex Wood	ne qr	1	105	28	41.10
Unknown	sw qr except 17 ac redm'd	5	105	28	14.06
H G Tryon	se qr nw qr	5	105	28	5.62
H G Tryon	ne qr nw qr	34	105	28	7.26
McMurtrie & Comstock	n hf sw qr	12	105	29	10.90
do	e hf sw qr and w hf se qr except 25 ac redeemed	12	105	29	23.35
Alex Wood	nw qr	6	105	27	49.87
Unknown	nw qr	9	108	25	19.29
A Frazer	n hf ne qr and ne qr nw qr	35	109	25	14.33

Internal Revenue Notice.

U. S. ASSESSOR'S OFFICE, }
First Collection District, Minn. }
Rochester, July 17th, 1863. }

NOTICE is hereby given that the lists of all taxes assessed under the Excise Tax law of the United States within Division No 16, comprising Blue Earth, Watonwan, Brown, Renville, Cottonwood, Murray, Red Wood and Rock counties will be open for the inspection of all parties concerned for the space of fifteen [15] days from this date at the office of William Reid, Assistant Assessor, in the village of Mankato.

Further notice is hereby given that I will be at said office on the 3rd day of August, A. D., 1863, for the purpose of hearing all appeals which shall be made as provided under section 15 of the Excise Tax Law of the United States.

GEORGE W. BAKER,
Assessor First Dist. Minnesota.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
In District Court. }
County of Blue Earth—6th District.

To Aaron N. Dakes, James Thompson, Sen. Ralph A. Loveland, Peter Berry, John H. Burgess, Henry Himmelman, John A. Willard, Sheldon F. Barney, George A. Roberts and Benjamin F. Smith, defendants:

In the name of the State of Minnesota, you are hereby summoned to answer the complaint of Ezra R. Dibblee, John C. Work and Lansing C. Moore, plaintiffs, a copy of which is hereunto annexed, and to serve a copy of your answer to me at my office in Mankato, within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and if you fail to answer said complaint as required, the plaintiffs will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint. Dated January 27th, 1863.

FRANKLIN H. WAITE,
Atty for Plffs.

15w

MISCELLANEOUS.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.

Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
Proprietor.

ly

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL POFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DeBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, Pt. Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime.

Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DeBUISSON.

Mankato May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work, is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRING AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand.

Cash paid for green and dry hides.

Mankato, June 26, 1863.

Mankato DRUG STORE.

***

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges,
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,

or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co.'s GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEAGHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plo s,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE.

FRONT ST. - - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:

Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains, Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains, Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

I am Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.

Mankato, April 23rd, 1863.

NEW LIVERY & Sale Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.

☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜

☞Charges moderate.☜

D. H. TYNER.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Re presentations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN.☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office.

F. M. Johnson, Agent.

St. Paul, Feb. 10th, 1863 July17-tf.

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.

OF

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obedience to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune challenges comparison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1.33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1.25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1.10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.

One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;

Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,)	$18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,)	35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the Kind in the World.

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Critical Notices of the Press.

The volumns Bound constitute of themselves a libery of miscellaneous reading such as can not be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world.—N. Y. Obserrer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People: and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts: and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Bolltmore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty-five cents they will send any number, by mail, post-paid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents. Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eigh cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3.00; Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year, $5,00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2,50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2,50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted for postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must BE paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS.
Franklyn Square, New York.

Farmers' Journal.

MANKATO, FRIDAY, JULY 24, 1863.

Apiary in July.

The surplus honey must be looked after this month. Do not let any of the bees lose time for want of boxes now. A good yield may be lost by putting off supplying extra boxes for only a short time. The greatest yield of white clover is in the early part of the month, it fails somewhat toward the last, and continues a moderate show of flowers until the end of the season. The entire yield from basswood will be given in about two weeks; sometimes commencing as early as the 4th, at others as late as the 18th, Where this timber is abundant, the collections are sometimes wonderful. The flowers are pendant, and wet weather makes less difference with the honey secreted, than with clover. The honey in appearance is equal, if not superior to any other. The flavor is particularly palatable to many, on account of its peculiar aroma. Keep a supply of boxes on hand to replace the full ones as fast as filled. One full box is preferable to two or three half filled. A little management will secure an addition to the number of full ones. A stock will often swarm too much when the boxes are only half filled, and leave to few bees to add any more. When there is no prospect of more being done, take the boxes away and give to some strong colony to finish. A box may be changed half a dozen times on some occasion, if necessary. To get rid of the bees taken off with the boxes, take an empty box, bee tight, put in the boxes on their sides, combs vertical, in such a way that the bees may creep out of all. Throw over them a sheet that no bees may get in or out. After standing a little time, the bees, in their endeavor to escape, will get on the under side of the sheet, when it may be turned over; by repeating this a few times all may be disposed of. Bees in this way will not sting, unless provoked at first. To save the honey through the hot weather, put it in a dry place, and cool, if possible, to prevent the moth eggs from hatching. Paper or cloth may be pasted over the bottom to keep out insects. There are now more moths than at any time before during the season, and they will be likely to find more convenient places to deposit their eggs. There will be some small swarms, some old stocks thinned by over-swarming, or queenless ones that will suffer particularly. A little assistance will save some of them from ruin. Sweep out all filth frequently, and destroy all the worms to be found. Towards the last of the swarming season, preserve a few small swarms; you will find some queenless ones that will need them. But few can comprehend how soon a colony will die off, unless there is a queen present to keep up the population. A laying queen is worth much more to introduce, than a brood from which to rear one. In one case bees will be hatched in three weeks, in the other it will take six—time enough to have small colonies destroyed by the moth. When there are no available means to raise a colony strong enough to defend itself, it is best to break it up and secure the honey and wax in advance of the destruction awaiting it. Remember that as the bees get our, the worms get in—in defiance of all patent arrangements to the contrary. Put some old pieces of comb under the swarm, only part full, the moth will be deceived, and lay her eggs there, when the worms are easily destroyed. Set dishes of sweetened water among the hives at night. Many insects besides the bee-moth will be drowned. Those using the moveable comb-hive, will be pleased to learn that a principle has been discovered by which all combs will be built straight. Immediately after the bees are hived, the back end of the hive is raised about thirty degrees, having the frame run from front to rear, the side of the hive exactly vertical. When the bees have worked their combs across the top, it may be let down level. It is believed that if these conditions are complied with, there will not be a failure. All who winter bees in the open air, should be made acquainted with the importance of straw for the hives. It is probably the best available material. It is best before being threshed, and that of wheat or rye is nicest. Select it at harvest time; cut of the heads, tie in bundles, and put away until a spare time to make into hives. Make the walls of the hive two inches in thickness, and of the same proportion inside as the moveable comb wood-hive. At the approach of cold weather, the contents of the wooden hive—combs, honey and bees—are transferred in straw, to pass the winter in the best condition.—Scientific American.

Beets vs. Turnips for Feeding Stock.

Turnips are raised to a greater extent, both in Great Britain and this country, than any other kind of roots, except, perhaps potatoes. But water enters very largely into their composition, so as to detract form the nutritive qualities. According to Dr, Anderson the chemist to the Highland Agricultural Society of Scotland the beet is much more profitable for feeding than the turnip. He states that he has analyzed a crop of mangel wurtzel, amounting to thirty-four tons per acre, and ascertained by that analysis that the nutritious matter produced exceeded two and a half times that of good, and three and a half times that of an average crop of turnips.

Mr. A. Y. Moore, President of the State Agricultural Society of Michigan, states that the kind of root which has produced the greatest quantity of milk with him is the sugar beet.

Prepare for the Birds.

If you wish to secure the aid of the aid of the nicest little garden help in the world, put up plenty of bird boxes. For the sake of good taste make the boxes like little cottages—have them with doors or holes of different sizes, so the martins can get in at some, the blue birds at others, and the little wrens at others still; then the big birds will not drive off the little ones,

It is a very good way to fix the bird box upon the top of a stout post so it will stand about eight feet high when the post is set in the ground; then plant the post firmly in the ground, and teach the children and fools not to disturb the little feathered folks in their cottage homes. The boxes for martins should be placed higher and more retired than for the smaller birds. On the top of a barn or carriage house, or upon a post twenty feet high are good locations.

The martins will keep off the hawks from the chicken yard, and the bluebirds and wrens will snap up myriads of pestiferous insects that would prey upon the fruit; and all will cheer you with their grateful music, and repay your pains a thousand fold.—Ohio Farmer.

Rules for Window Plants.

Watering: Practice tells the eye whether or not required. The color of the plant shows it. Better still—knock at the pot; if it sounds hollow, water, if it gives a muffled sound, don't.

Watering, when not required, sours the earth, and the fibres of the root will rot. To correct sourness, pour hot water—forty or fifty degrees Reamus—if that won't do, re-pot.

Worse than too often watering, is too seldom watering. Once neglected, water little and often till normal health is restored.

In very warm days the surface may appear moist, and the root may be dry—plunge in water.

Water in the morning in preference, with rain or river water.

Let the water be of equal temperature with the air—the plant should be kept from gas: keep the soil loose.

Depth of Milk.

Col. Pratt, of Prattsville, Greene county, formerly the celebrated tanner, now equally successful with the dairy—finds that the largest quantity of cream rises, and the greatest quantity of butter is made, when the milk is one and a quarter inches in depth, in hot weather, and an inch and a half in cool weather; seven or eight quart pans thus containing but two and a half quarts for the first named depth, and three quarts for the latter. The temperature is kept, as nearly as possible, at 62°, although, in warm weather, it may run up to 65°, and, in extreme cases, to 70 degrees.

How to Water Plants.

This is usually badly done. Water is poured upon the surface—perhaps enough to wet down an inch or two. The water washes the fine earth into the chinks and interstices, and there the plant stands, with dry or only moist soil below, but with a baked mass on the surface which shuts out warmth, air, and the moisture that would be derived from its free circulation. One of two methods should be adopted. Remove the surface earth and pour on water enough to reach the wet sub-soil, and, when the water has soaked in, replace the dry surface soil, to be moistened from below; or, making a hole as near the plant as you can without disturbing the roots, and fill it with the dry earth first removed. At all events, when you water at all, water freely, and with the foot or a hoe throw a little dry earth over the surface as the water settles away. These are important hints. A few plants thus well cared for will yield more than three times the number carelessly treated.

How to Improve Candles.

If you use home-made candles, purify the tallow, and do not mix lard with it, though you may add a little alum; and never use your candles any sooner than you would soap. Pack them in brand, an set them away in a cool dry place, and see how much they improve by age. It is well to mix beef and mutton tallow, but the proportion of the latter should be small, because it gives a disagreeable odor. All good tallow is white, firm, and brittle, and dipped candles can only be made of it in mild weather. Be careful to use nothing but fine, white, clean cotton yarn for wicking.

New Way of Making Butter.—J. Zoller, of Oswegatchie, N.Y., saves the labor of setting his milk in pans, skimming, and taking care of the cream, by simply straining the milk of one day into six churns, and churning next morning by horse-power—the milk being then soured, but not loppered. He think he also makes more butter in this way. from the same quantity of milk. The milk being sour, produces butter more readily than if fresh. An experiment, carefully made, with cream from pans, and by the above method, resulted in giving ten per cent more butter from the churned milk.

Opinions founded on prejudice are always sustained with the greatest violence.

Depth of Ploughing.

A writer in the Agricultural Review, says: "Deep cultivation is inapplicable in the case of sandy soils, except when they rest upon a stiff subsoil, which, however, is rarely the case. If there be simply a thin stratum of stiff clay beneath the sandy soil, it should not always be broken through, as it may prevent the moisture passing away too rapidly as drainage. When friable soil rests on chalk; gravel, or sand, deep ploughing should not be performed. We have often known manure to be ploughed in so deeply that its decomposition took place only after the lapse of several years. Manure, to be efficient, must be as close to the surface as possible, in order that atmospheric influences may decompose it speedily, and that the nourishment afforded by it may be within easy access of the rootlets of the plants."

The Corn Grub—The corn crop has several formidable enemies to contend with, and among them is a grub which sometimes literally destroys whole fields, and frequently damages the crop seriously. One of the best and most judicious remedies, perhaps the very best ever suggested, is the application of salt as soon as the plant makes its appearance above ground. Take one part common salt, and three parts plaster or gypsum, and apply about a taple-spoonful around each hill, and it will be found to be a sure protection. The mixture should not come in contact with the sprouts, as it may destroy them. This method has been tried over and over again, by some of the best farmers of Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey, and when properly applied, has never failed to be perfectly successful. We hope our farmers who have reason to fear the depredations of the grub this season, will try this mixture, leaving a few alternate rows of corn without the salt, and communicate to us the result. We are aware that some writers say salt has no effect upon vermin; but we speak in this matter on the best authority.

Temperature of cream.—The degree of heat at which butter can be obtained ranges from forty-five to seventy-five degrees; but, to obtain butter of the best quality, it is necessary to be particularly nice in regulating the temperature of the cream just before commencing to churn. To fix the proper condition with the requisite degree of accuracy, the thermometer becomes necessary, as the sensations of the individual afford no correct estimating it, and a long continued series of experimenting have proved that butter of the best quality is obtained by churning the cream at a temperature 51 degrees. To obtain the greatest quantity hf butter, the cream should be churned at a temperature of 56 degrees. The temperature at which butter can be obtained in the greatest quantity, and of the best quality, is of course a medium between the two foregoing estimates, viz: 53½ degrees before churning, which will be somewhat increased in the process of churning in ordinary weather.

Pretty.—Timothy Titcomb hears a little lame boy singing Hail Columbia and thus writes:

It is pleasant to say to him, and all the brotherhood and sisterhood of ugliness and lameness, that every reason to believe that there is no such thing in Heaven as a one-legged, or a club-footed soul, no such thing as an ugly or mis-shapen soul, no such thing as a blind or deaf soul, no such thing as a soul of tainted blood in its veins; and that out of these imperfect bodies will spring spirits of consummate perfection and angelic beauty, a beauty chastened and enriched by the humiliations that were visited upon their earthly habitation.

Horse Wisdom.—Anything that the horse can touch with his nose without being harmed, he does not fear. Therefore the, halter, girth, blanket, saddle, harness, umbrella, buffalo robe, or whatever is bought in close proximity to him, should first be "introduced" to and touched by that sensitive organ.

Thoughtful farmers will take good care to give calves the best of treatment. It will pay now if ever to rear them, and it will also pay to rear them well—feed plentifully and regularly at least twice per pay.

To Prevent Colts Gnawing Reins.—Wash the reins in alcohol in which aloes and assafœtida have been dissolved. One trial will usually effect a cure. The same has been produced when a few seeds of red pepper have been thrust into small incisions in leather, left purposely within their reach.

Yeast—Take six good-sized potatoes; pare and boil them until tender: mash them and rub through a cullender; add a pint of water and two tablespoonfuls sugar; when it is about lukewarm add one gill of yeast.

Parsnep Oysters.—To one pint of smashed parsneps add three well beaten eggs, a table-spoonful of butter, pedper and salt to suit the taste, and sufficient flour to hold the mixture together. Make into little flat balls, and fro them to a nice brown, in butter.

Sulpher for Potatoes.—A farmer dusted his potato sets with sulpher, and found that it not only drove away bugs, worms and insects, but that the crop was entirely free from disease.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE

Mankato Weekly Union,

Published every Friday by

CHARLES H. SLOCUM,

AT

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of

PRINTING

Neatly and cheaply executed

SUCH AS

CARDS,

PROGRAMMES,

BILL-HEADS,

CIRCULARS,

POSTERS.

ETC,,

Having received a supply of

NEW MATERIAL

from the East, am prepared to do

PLAIN AND FANCY WORK

in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

PATENT FORCE PUMP.

THE undersigned has purchased the right to manufacture and sell, the KENTUCKY PATENT FORCE PUMP, one of which is now on exhibition at the Mankato House. This pump is very simple and convenient in all its parts, and peculiarly adapted to this climate. It is placed at the bottom of the well or cistern, and is worked by a handle at the top, the water being forced through an iron pipe. When not in action, the water remaining in the chambers readily finds its way back to the well again, and is consequently uncontaminated by any action of the metal upon it, and is also prevented from freezing for the same reason. For further particulars enquire of, JAMES T. BESSER,

MANKATO HOUSE.

MANKATO - MINNESOTA.

THIS House has been thoroughly renovated newly papered and painted, with many new improvements, which makes it now equal as to comfort and convenience to any House in the State.

General Stage Office for all points in he State.

Good barn and stalling with attentive ostler. Baggage conveyed to and from steamboats free of charge. Wines, liquors, cigars, etc., con stantly on hand.

☞Farmers will find this House a good place to stop, it being centrally located, plenty of barroom, and charges moderate.

may 7 H. H. Shaubhut.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,}
BLUE EARTH COUNTY. }

MANKATO, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 13th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet been redeemed, I will execute and deliver to the purchasers of said lands at said sale, or their assignees, deeds for the same on and after the 17th day of January, A. D., 1864, unless said lands shall before that time have been redeemed. And notice is also given that the sum set against each description of land in said list is the amount due the purchaser of said land on redemption.

CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.	NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.
Unknown	1	24	28.66	Unknown	1	76	1.48
do	5	24	2.29	do	7	A	3.97
do	9	24	7.45	do	8	A	3.97
J Ady	9	28	13.93	do	9	A	3.97
F C Roosevelt	6	58	2.96	do	10	A	3.97

Willard & Besser's Addition.

Unknown, lot 19, block 19, amount 2.66.

NAME.	DES.	S.	T.	R.	AMT.
H W Lamberton	e hf nw qr and n hf sw qr	7	108	28	22.07
Earl Parthum	sw qr	33	109	29	14. 7
M Garlinger	ne qr sw q and w hf sw qr	32	109	29	15.91
do	s hf se qr	31	109	29
Dennis O'Flynn	se qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	27	109	29	11.81
Wm P Smith	s hf ne qr and ne qr se qr and lot 2	2	107	28	13.65
T F Anderson	s e qr	20	107	28	15.14
H Wright	s e qr	8	106	28	14 10
William Gage	s w qr	17	106	28	13.73
Alex Wood	n e qr	1	105	28	41.00
Unknown	sw qr except 17 ac redm'd	5	105	28	14.66
H G Tryon	s qr nw qr	5	105	28	5.62
H G Tryon	ne qr nw qr	34	105	28	7.26
McMurtrie & Comstock	n hf sw qr	12	105	29	19.90
do	e hf sw qr and w hf se qr except 25 ac redeemed	12	105	29	33.36
Alex Wood	nw qr	6	105	27	49.87
Unknown	nw qr	8	105	25	19.28
A Frazer	n hf ne qr and ne qr nw qr	35	109	25	14.33

Internal Revenue Notice.

U. S. Assessor's Office,}
First Collection District, Minn.
Rochester, July 17th, 1863. }

NOTICE is hereby given that the lists of all taxes assessed under the Excise Tax law of the United States within Division No. 16, comprising Blue Earth, Watonwan, Brown, Renville, Cottonwood, Murray, Red Wood and Rock counties will be open for the inspection of all parties concerned for the space of fifteen [15] days from this date at the office of William Reid, Assistant Assessor, in the village of Mankato.

Further notice is hereby given that I will be at said office on the 3rd day of August, A. D., 1863, for the purpose of hearing all appeals which shall be made as provided under section 15 of the Excise Tax Law of the United States.

GEORGE W. BAKER,
Assessor First Dist. Minnesota.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
In District Court.
County of Blue Earth—6th District.

To Aaron N. Dukes, James Thompson. Sen. Ralph A. Loveland, Peter Berry, John H. Burgess, Henry Himmelman, John A. Willard. Sheldon F. Barney, George A. Roberts and Benjamin F, Smith, defendants:

In the name of the State of Minnesota, you are hereby summoned to answer the complaint of Ezra R. Dibblee, John C. Work and Lansing C. Moore, plaintiffs, a copy of which is hereunto annexed, and to serve a copy of your answer to me at my office in Mankato, within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and if you fail to answer said complaint as required, the plaintiffs will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint. Dated January 27th, 1863.

FRANKLIN H. WAITE,
Atty for Plffs.

1-3w

MISCELLANEOUS.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.
Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
ly Proprietor.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL POFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DuBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style. Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime.

Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DuBUISSON

Mankat, May 4. 1860. [2-13-y]

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work, is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRING AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand.

Cash paid for green and dry hides.

Mankato, June 26, 1863.

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

——

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges,
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,

or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

such as

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co's GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES,

HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEACHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plows,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand: Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains, Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

I am Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.

Mankato, April 23rd 1863.

NEW LIVERY

&

Sale  Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.

☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜

☞Charges moderate.☜

D H TYNER

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Re presentations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN.☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office.

F. M. Johnson, Agent.

St. Paul, Feb. 10th, 1863 July17-tf.

1863. PROSPECTUS OF 1863.

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obedience to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune challenges comparison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1 25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1.10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, and one to getter up of the club,	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.

One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

One year $4; Six months $2; three months $1:
Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60) $18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50) 35 00

☞Money in registered letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Critical Notices of the Press.

The volumes bound constitute of themselves a library of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world.—N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, by mail, post-paid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents. Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eigh cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00: Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year $5,00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2,50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2,50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted for postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must be paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS.
Franklyn Square, New York.

The Mankato Weekly Union.

CHARLES H. SLOCUM. "LIBERTY AND UNION, NOW AND FOREVER, ONE AND INSEPARABLE." Editor and Proprietor.

VOLUME I. MANKATO, BLUE EARTH COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 31, 1863. NUMBER 3.

THE WEEKLY UNION,

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

CHARLES H. SLOCUM.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One Dollar and Fifty Cents per Year.

☞ All subscriptions paid in advance. ☜

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

1 square	1 week	$1 00	2 squares	6 months	9 00
1 "	2 weeks	1 50	2 "	1 year	15 00
1 "	3 "	1 75	3 "	1 week	2 25
1 "	4 "	2 00	3 "	2 "	3 00
1 "	5 "	2 25	3 "	3 "	4 00
1 "	6 "	2 50	3 "	4 "	5 00
1 "	7 "	2 75	3 "	3 months	9 00
1 "	2 months	3 00	3 "	6 "	12 00
1 "	3 "	3 75	3 "	1 year	20 00
1 "	4 "	4 50	¼ col	6 months	15 00
1 "	5 "	5 25	¼ "	1 year	25 00
1 "	6 "	6 00	⅓ "	6 months	18 00
1 "	1 year	10 00	⅓ "	1 year	30 00
2 "	1 week	1 75	½ "	6 months	25 00
2 "	2 "	2 50	½ "	1 year	40 00
2 "	3 "	3 00	¾ "	1 year	50 00
2 "	4 "	4 00	1 "	1 year	70 00
2 "	3 months	6 00

Business cards of five lines or less, $5.
Transient advertisements must be paid in advance—all others quarterly.

BUSINESS CARDS.

MANKATO INS. AGENCY.

HARTFORD.

PHOENIX.

MERCHANTS—FIRE INS. CO'S.

CHARTER OAK LIFE INS. CO.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid by.

JOHN N. HALL.
Resident Agent.

EVERETT P. FREEMAN,
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW.
OFFICE—Next door south of the Post Office. MANKATO, - - - - - MINN.
Prompt attention given to claims to be prosecuted before the State Board of Auditors and to Court and Office business. Collections made and conveyancing done on reasonable terms.

O. P. LIEBERG,
FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER.—Having opened a Barber Shop with a view to establishing a permanent business in Mankato, I am prepared to wait upon gentlemen, and will guarantee satisfaction in every department of my business.
June 26, 1863.

G. A. STURGES, M. D.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
MANKATO, MINN.

OFFICE:—At his residence second door above the Mankato House.

Z. PADDOCK,
Attorney and Counselor at Law, and General Land Agent. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to him. Mankato, Blue Earth Co., Minn.

FRED'K HILDEBRANDT,
Manufacturer of and Dealer in all kinds of
FURNITURE & GILT MOULDING,
ALSO,
Imitation of Rosewood Mouldings, Ovals, Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames.
Ware Rooms in Schurmeier's Block, Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minn.

M. ZENOPOLSKI, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.
OFFICE:—Opposite the Clifton House.

DAVID WILCOX.
JUDGE OF PROBATE,
& ATT'Y AT LAW.
MANKATO - - - - - MINN.

WM. R. McMAHAN, M. D.
Office and Residence old at his stand, on the corner of Hickory and Second streets, one Block back of the Mankato House, where he will be found at all times, except when professionally absent.
He will furnish and compound his own medicines.

EDWARD OGLESBY,
Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hawley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work in his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October,

S. FINCH, O. O. PITCHER.
FINCH & PITCHER,
Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,
MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA.

MANKATO NURSERY.

THE Proprietor has for sale a choice collection of
Fruit Trees,
Comprising Apple, Pear, Cherry, Plum, and Quince Trees. Also a good assortment of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants, Raspberries, Strawberries, and Pie Plant; together with
ORNAMENTAL TREES
Shrubs, Evergreens, Flowering Plants, &c
ROB'T GOODYEAR,
Mankato, Sept. 1861.

FAIRBANKS'
STANDARD
SCALES,
OF ALL KINDS.
FAIRBANKS, GREENLEAF & CO.,
172 LAKE STREET, CHICAGO.
☞ BUY ONLY THE GENUINE.

SOUTH BEND MILLS.

BIERBAUER & ROCKEY,
HAVING purchased the above mills, are prepared to manufacture all grades of FLOUR, CORN MEAL, ETC.
Wheat will be ground for every sixth bushel in quantities not less than ten bushels.
☞ Flour and mill stuffs always on hand at market prices. Feb. 6-3m

Poetry.

I wish I was a Printer.

I wish I was a printer,
  I really do indeed,
It seems to me that printers
  Get everything they need,
    (Except money!)

They get the largest and the best
  Of everything that grows,
And gets free into circusses,
  And other kind of shows.
    (By giving an equivalent!)

The biggest bug will speak to them;
  No matter how they dress,
A shabby coat is nothing
  If they own a printing press.
    (Policy!)

At ladies' fairs they're almost hugged,
  By pretty girls who know
That they will crack up everything
  The ladies have to show.
    (Of course)

And thus they get a "blow out" free!
  At every party feed—
The reason is because they write,
  And other people read.
    (That's so!)

Select Miscellany.

THE UNEDUCATED WIFE.

CHAPTER I.

AT the close of a gloomy day in November, Albert Fitzgerald, a young man of a very elegant and interesting appearance, found he had missed his way, and was descending a lonely hill that ended in a thick forest. He stopped before he entered the dreary road, and cast an enquiring and eager gaze around; but saw no alternative except to go on, or retrace his steps and ascend the long, tedious hill.

'This is abominable,' said he, as he pulled the reins to stop his tired beast; 'I should be quite unwilling to make a supper for some hungry wolf or bear; it would be a most inglorious end to my journey, and not at all consistent with deeds of noble daring, but perhaps there are no such prowlers here, and at all events, it is a straight path. I can try it a mile or two, and if I see or hear anything alarming, I can return; it will not be very soldier-like, to be sure, to run from the enemy, but there are none to trumpet my fame in this wood—so come on, my tired dapple!'

The evening was fast closing, and he could only ride slowly, and with great caution, as the stumps of the trees often stood many feet high, and much impeded his progress. After he had been riding some time, the snow commenced falling, and Fitzgerald began to be seriously alarmed, when, suddenly, a bright light shone through the underwood at no great distance. He galloped quickly on, and saw, to his surprise and delight, a very comfortable looking log house, with glazed windows, quite an uncommon thing in the back country.

'I suppose,' said he, 'I shall share with some dozen little white heads, each striving by dirt and clamor to make me as uncomfortable as possible—well! I shall at least have a shelter from the bears and the weather.'

So saying, he threw the bridle around a stump, and springing over the fence, was just about knocking at the door, when a voice of great melody and sweetness burst on his ear, singing the evening hymn. He stopped, but the music had ceased. He approached without noise to the window, and what was his surprise, his emotion, at beholding, in a secluded place like this, the most exquisitely beautiful creature he had ever seen. Her dress was that of a rustic, and her slight person, though thus unadorned, more faultless than the finest models he had ever gazed on in the halls of fashion and elegance.

Fitzgerald almost doubted his senses; for nothing mortal had ever seemed to him half so lovely. Her little white hands and dimpled fingers were smoothing the gray hairs of a most noble looking old man, who sat before a bright fire. His face was pale and careworn. His large, expressive eyes were turned on his youthful companion with a tenderness that seemed to affect her much, for she kissed his wrinkled cheeks again and again; and seemed trying, by a thousand winning ways, to divert him from his sorrows. He was dressed like a farmer; but round his chair was thrown a large military cloak, apparently to screen him from the weather, one corner of which covered his foot, that rested on a bench before him. The room was clean and comfortable, though it contained nothing but some chairs, a table, and a shelf with books. A rush mat was spread under the old man's seat, and a few cooking utensils placed in the corner of a large sized fire-place.

Fitzgerald stood riveted to the spot scarcely daring to breathe lest he should break the charm that seemed to detain these objects in his sight; but the snow was falling fast, and the horse began to grow restive. He stepped gently back and knocked at the door.

'Come in!' said the old man, and Fitzgerald entered.

'Will you give me shelter for the night, sir?' said he, bowing. 'I have lost my way, and my horse is worn out with this day's travel.'

'With pleasure, sir,' was the reply. 'We can afford you a shelter; but we have no shed for your tired horse.'

'Well, then, he must take his chance under the forest trees. I am so happy not to be obliged to share the same fate, that I fear I shall not feel the sympathy for him that I ought.'

'Isidore, take the gentleman's coat, shake off the snow, and throw it over the rail to dry; and place a chair by the fire.'

She moved from his side, where she had nestled like a young fawn or a timid dove, and placing a seat, reached out that beautiful little hand for the coat: but he, bowing as low as if she had been a princess, said, 'By no means,' and laid it aside himself, while Isidore, blushing and composed again, drew close to her aged companion.

Fitzgerald had never felt so much at a loss for conversation. To meet two such beings in a thick forest, so far from any human habitations, seemed so strange, that he scarce knew how to address them: but the old gentleman began asking him about the road, how far he had traveled, etc., and told him he was more than thirty miles from the place he had enquired for, and which he thought of reaching that night.

'But,' said he, 'if you can be contented with a little bread and milk, and a bear skin for a bed, you are most heartily welcome.'

'I wish no better fare, sir, and shall feel grateful for your hospitality.'

'You see I am almost a cripple, so my little grand-daughter must do the honors of my humble abode.'

The white table was set before him, with bread, milk, and dried venison; and Albert thought he had never made a more delicious meal. They were soon all quietly settled for the night; the old man was helped to his room by his gentle child; and Albert lay before the fire wondering and thinking who they could be, until nature could no longer support him, and he sank to sleep.

When he awoke in the morning, a bright fire was snapping and crackling in the room, and the old man was in his arm-chair, with the table before him.

'We were sorry to disturb you,' said he, 'but our place is not a very commodious one. It reminds me of the old song—'It served him for parlor, for kitchen, and hall.'

While he was speaking, Isidore entered, her glossy hair covered with snow-flakes, and her whole face radiant with smiles and beauty. An Indian came with her, bearing a basket. He remained some time talking with the old gentleman, who understood the language, and Fitzgerald knew enough of it to hear him say, 'Who is he?'

He turned and said,

'I think, sir, you have a right to know whom you have so kindly sheltered—my name is Albert Fitzgerald.'

'Fitzgerald! Was the name of your father Campbell Fitzgerald?'

'It was.'

'Young man,' said he, 'you are more than welcome. Your father was my friend, and as brave a soldier as ever marched to battle.'

'You knew my father, then, sir?' and Fitzgerald stepped before him.

'Yes, and well do I remember the day on which we parted—parted to meet no more—it was after a glorious victory! I called to say farewell as at daybreak I was to leave that part of the country. He was stretched on a pallet—the surgeon preparing to dress his wounds. He opened his eyes as I entered and told my purpose. 'General,' said he, stretching out his hand to me, and all the fire of the soldier sparkling for a moment in his heavy eyes as he spoke, 'we shall drive these intruders from our land, Heaven bless you, farewell.' He was never well enough to return to the army, and I never had an opportunity to return to him again.'

Albert listened with surprise. The old man forgot his lameness—he stood up, and his tall figure seemed almost gigantic, while the whole expression of his face was changed; it glowed with animation as he took Fitzgerald by the hand.

'Thrice welcome to my home and heart,' said he, 'thou son of an old friend. Young man, poor and forlorn as I now appear, I once commanded armies, and this arm,' extending it as he spoke, 'was ever ready to draw the sword in defence of this ungrateful country. My name is Charlton.'

'General Charlton!' said Fitzgerald, pressing his hand between both his own. 'I have often heard my beloved mother speak of your covering my father with your cloak, and coming for him with a litter, by which you saved his invaluable life.'

"These, my son, were the chances and changes of war; but,' and he sighed deeply, 'we who have toiled and bled, spent all!—yes, all, even our paternal inheritance, in the country's service, cannot choose but weep almost tears of blood, when we find ourselves beggars on the soil we have so warmly defended—find ourselves unnoticed and unknown by those sons who, at ease in their possessions, feel not, care not for the pangs of those who obtained for them their choicest blessings. Picture to yourself, sir, a young man, well born, well educated, rich, of great expectations, sacrificing all for the cause of freedom, and losing all for his country; and when, in old age, worn out, crippled, unable any longer to be useful, looking to that country for support, feeling that justice demands a prompt attention to his claims; waiting day after day, week after week, year after year, until weary, heart-sick, and disgusted, he retires to some solitary abode, and finds among savages a better home than his countrymen are willing to bestow. This—this, young man, is the fate of the veterans of the revolution.'

The General covered his face with his hands, and sunk back exhausted by his emotions. Albert felt the blood mounting into his face at the recollection of the ingratitude of the government; yet remembering he had done all in his power to aid the cause of these disinterested but unfortunate men, he told the General, after a pause of some moments, that he should feel proud to assist him in any way; that his fortune was ample, and that he could not use it to more satisfaction than in making the friend of his father happy.

'Happy,' said he, as he raised his mournful eyes to Albert; 'I am almost at my journey's end; could I but behold this forest flower, this only tie to earth, safely situated in the world, I should die contented.' He pressed the beautiful creature to his bosom, and sobbed audibly.

'My dear father,' said Isidore, 'grieve not for me; we are very happy here, and you have a new friend now, who will not let your little—'

She stopped, blushed, and hid her face on her grand-father's shoulder, fearing she had said too much.

Albert wished she had finished the sentence, and thought that to shelter her from harm, he would willingly pass the rest of his days in the forest.

CHAPTER II.

The snow continued to fall, and the roads were impassable; the horse had disappeared, and Albert had no alternative but to await the clearing. To find his way was impossible; besides, he would have stayed with a more trifling excuse, so much was he interested with the beautiful Isidore. Weeks passed, and Albert still lingered, endeavoring to procure a horse and guide.

Conversing with the old gentleman, he learned his sad story; learned that fired with ardor in the cause of liberty, he had left a delightful home and his lovely daughter, Marion, the mother of Isidore, in the care of a favorite sister, and embarked for his country, where he remained during the war, constantly drawing on his own fund. Feeling certain of the final success of the American cause, he had no doubt of being remunerated for all. In the meantime Marion married an interesting young German, and the old General persuaded and finally prevailed upon him to join the army. The unfortunate young man was severely wounded in the first campaign, which caused his death in a few years after. The old General grieved to the heart that he had been the means of interrupting so much happiness, promised his daughter that he would come and spend the rest of his days with her as soon as his claims were settled, which he thought would be speedily. At the close of the year she wrote to inform him that if he ever wished to see her alive he must come soon, as she felt she could not live many months.

The heart-stricken father embarked immediately, found his child just alive on his arrival. He was almost overwhelmed with grief, but Marion, far from lamenting her early exit, said, 'It is the will of heaven, and I have but these ties on earth,' placing her slender and almost transparent hand on the fair brow of her little Isidore, and looking tenderly at her father. 'I know that my Redeemer liveth, that there is a house not made with hands for me in heaven. I give you my child, certain that while you live you will be a father to her; and I trust, my dear sir, you will have her piously educated, for even my short life has taught me 'there is nothing true but heaven.'

She died soon after this conversation, and the unfortunate old man, as he followed her to the tomb, felt almost broken-hearted. He settled all his affairs, and found he had made such calls on his estate, that after paying all his debts, he had but a thousand pounds. Embarrassed with his little girl, (for his own sister was dead, and he had no relation,) he concluded to write to Madam Woldorff, the aunt of Isidore, her father's only sister, and requested her to take care of the orphan until he could come and claim her. He wrote that his adopted country was in debt to him for services and expenditures, and he doubted not that he would be paid principal and interest, and that he should then be enabled, when settled in his own house, to send for his grand-daughter.

She answerd his letter immediately, and after, as the General said, many sage remarks, concluded by saying, 'she had done all in her power to prevent her brother's leaving his pleasant home and lovely wife to follow a phantom—a will o' the wisp—which he called glory. It had led him where she expected,—to death! That General Carlton had made him forget what he had been taught at home, namely, that true patriotism did not consist in running after liberty, but in doing our duty as fathers, husbands, and children, in the station and in the country where Providence has placed us. That she declined taking the little girl, and thought if he intended to forsake his native country, he had better take her with him, and make a savage of her at once.

Vexed and troubled at this severe reproof, he determined to quit the country forever, and take Isidore with him.

He was soon settled near Philadelphia, where he waited patiently a long time; but at last, weary and disheartened, finding his funds gone, and fearing that even his friends were tired of him, he took the little girl, and retired quite back into the country, to hide himself and his sorrows from the world.

One day, being in pursuit of game, he met an old Indian chief, whose life he had once saved in a skirmish, taken him to his tent, and kept him until he was able to go back to his tribe. Sanaqua entreated the General to go with him.

'My nation,' says he, 'are grateful; they will love the white warrior who saved their chief's life—they will make a house and give him corn—he can himself shoot the deer—come with us.'

The old man went, and true to the word of the chief, they supplied him with everything necessary to support life. The little Isidore they almost worshipped, called her by every tender epithet, and brought her every dainty they could find; but, as he concluded, he said, 'Am I not supported by charity—by the charity of savages, while my countrymen refuse to share with me the blessings which I have toiled and bled to obtain.

He trembled and turned pale, his limbs seemed to lose their strength, and but for the support of Fitzgerald, he would have sunk to the floor. He tried to soothe and comfort him by telling him that as soon as the weather was fit he would provide a vehicle, and take him, with Isidore, to his own paternal mansion, he should have his father's study and his room, with all the comforts his old age required.

'I shall leave you for a few days, as I have a tract of land in the country that I wish to see, then return with such a conveyance as will render our journey agreeable.

Fitzgerald dared not trust himself to say any thing of Isidore. He felt he loved her, and he thought the old General would object to his speaking of marrying the child, as he always called her. The old man said, as he took his hand, 'My dear son, you a friend indeed—I rejoice to see that America has still some noble scions from the parent tree, that promise to overshadow the land.'

While Fitzgerald remained, he had constant opportunities of seeing the beautiful and gentle girl; he saw her devoted attention to her grand-father, her patient sweetness at all times, her industry and neatness.

How often did he wonder that with so limited a wardrobe she was always so neat and becomingly arrayed. He knew not, that rather than appear to disadvantage before one that she thought quite too perfect for a human being, she had sat up nights that all might be in order during the day. A more disinterested, lovely creature nature never formed, but she was just as nature formed her, and Albert Fitzgerald, enamored with her beauty delighted with artless loveliness, forgot that he did not live among savages, and that a wife for him should be well educated accustomed to good society. He forgot that all his life had been spent in cultivating and improving his own mind; forgot how often his beloved and accomplished mother had drawn the likeness, with a master's hand, of the woman she should be proud to call daughter.

But Isidore the sweet, the exquisitely beautiful Isidore, had put all reflection and reason aside, and he determined to ask her of the old General on his return.

Some days passed ere he could procure a guide to suit him. Watapan, a friend of the General, consented at last to go with him. Ere he left, he took Gen. Charlton by the hand, and begged he would lay all his cares aside, and try to get well enough to accompany him back. The old man sighed, and looked tenderly at his grand-daughter, and said,

'God bless you, my son, if anything happens to me, I know you will be a father to this innocent child.'

Albert's face was crimson; the word 'father' had embarrassed him so much, that when he took Isidore's hand, instead of speaking, he only pressed it to his lips, and raised his eyes to hers. She was as pale as marble, and trembled so much, that Fitzgerald was surprised, and almost inclined to think he was in some way the cause. He said,

'You are ill, Isidore; come into the air;' and leading her to the door, stood by her until the blood came rushing to her cheeks and temples, then again pressing her hand to his lips, he mounted his horse and galloped away, leaving her leaning against the door.

Isidore had never seen any one to love but her grand-father; she was grateful to the Indians for their goodness to her, but Fitzgerald was above anything she had ever conceived, and she looked up to him with such devotion and reverence, that he was worshipped more than loved. She only thought of him as a friend of her father. To be his wife, never entered her innocent thoughts.

A month passed, and no tidings of Albert. The old General had been quite ill for some days. Isidore had made him a bed of dried leaves and bear skins near the fire, and had exhausted all her skill as a nurse, but his pale looks and faltering voice alarmed her. One evening, after a restless day, she knelt down beside him to bathe his temples, and began singing the evening hymn, but the General drew her close to him, and putting aside the glossy curls that hung over her polished forehead, said, as he gazed on her.

'I have made shipwreck of the happiness of all that I loved. As your aunt said. I have followed a phantom—I fear something has happened to our friend Albert, and my stay here is short,' Isidore shuddered, trembled, and seemed almost fainting.

'Grieve not for me,' he said. 'I am an old man, and scarce expect to remain much longer with you. Should you see no more of Fitzgerald, get the Indians to take you to the nearest sea-port, and go to Germany to your aunt Wolford. She is noble and well educated, and cannot, when she sees you, refuse you her protection. But you may trust our young friend without fear.

He drew her head to his bosom, and raising his eyes to heaven, seemed for a while absorbed in thought. The noise of voices disturbed them, the door was thrown open, and Fitzgerald entered with a joy-beaming face, exclaiming, 'I have come for you, my dear sir!' but the pale cheek and trembling hand of Isidore checked his eagerness, and when he took the old mans's, he was startled at its feverish heat.

'You are ill,' said he, 'but you will, I trust, soon be better, for I have many comforts for you in my snug warm vehicle.'

The General looked kindly on him, pressed his hand, and sighed deeply. The Indian entered with his baggage, which they assisted him to open, and he produced many little comforts that seemed to revive his friend, for he sat up and conversed quite cheerfully. Isidore resigned her place for the night to Albert, and took some repose, of which she was much in need. Several days passed in the same way, and Albert began to fear the old man was failing fast.

One morning, after a very restless night, he said, 'My dear young friend, I fear I shall never be able to go to your home, but I shall die in peace if you will be a father to my child.'

Again the blood rushed to the cheek and brow of Fitzgerald, and for a moment he was silent, but recovering himself, he said,

'I well protect and defend her with my life; but my dear sir, will you not give me a nearer and dearer claim to protect her? Give her to me for a wife!'

The old man started, and looked up to Fitzgerald.

'Wife! wife!—she is a mere baby.'

'I know she is young; but she is old enough to take good care of you, my dear sir, and old enough to make me happy.'

'Young man, son of my friend, do nothing rashly—a wife is not the plaything of an hour, a toy merely to look upon—but a companion for life; choose one that will be a companion, a friend, one who will at all times be ready to assist you with mind and heart, you have a vigorous intellect, mind stored with useful knowledge, and should have a well educated and intelligent wife.'

Fitzgerald sighed; he recollected how often his mother had cautioned him against being fascinated with beauty; but the soft voice of Isidore in the next room, singing one of his favorite hymns, put all reason and reflection asleep.

'She must be mine, father, if you do not object, and she will accept me.'

The General smiled.

'Oh, she will not refuse you—and alas! I know too well how headstrong and self-willed the young are. If you are determined to marry her, I will say no more. For myself, I should be proud to see her your wife.'

Albert's eyes sparkled with joy, and he soon made known his hopes and wishes to the beautiful and gentle Isidore.

The weather was delightful, and Albert felt extremely anxious to be on the way, but the General was evidently failing. One day they had been talking of their journey, and had just raised him into the arm-chair, that he might see the sun set, when the old Indian entered with a large packet. The General opened it with eagerness, and saw that his claims on his country were acknowledged and settled. He started convulsively from his chair, "It is too late!" he exclaimed, then clasping his emaciated hands together, crushed the papers between them, and fell dead upon the floor!

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

Franklin as a Man of Gallantry.

Every one knows that Dr. Franklin was a gentleman, a statesman, a philosopher, and a man of extraordinary good sense, but everybody does not know that he was also a man of gallantry and 'could please a woman' as well as if he had been a coxcomb—and perhaps a good deal better. There is said to be a letter in one of the public libraries of Paris, in the handwriting of Dr. Franklin, written in poor enough French, but in such a genuine spirit of gallantry, as to be well worthy of preservation among the graver writings of the illustrations author. It seems that while the Dr. was United States Minister to the Court of St. Cloud, he formed the acquaintance of a very beautiful and intellectual lady, to whom he became rather tenderly attached, and who, upon her part, was an enthusiastic admirer of 'the great American philosopher,' as the Parisians, delighted to call him. As he was about leaving Paris, after bidding her a personal good-bye, he received a note from her begging him to remain a few days longer. The Dr. answered her as follows:

'If Dr. Franklin was engaged to go to Paradise at eight o'clock in the morning, he would put it off till four in the afternoon, for the sake of one hour more in the society of so charming a daughter of earth.'

Lord Chesterfield himself could not have surpassed the republican ambassador in the art of complimenting a lady.

Carding in a Pew.

In 1848, while the convention which nominated General Taylor was in session at Philadelphia, a somewhat noted politician, from Pickaway, Ohio, was in the city mingling in the muss. As the convention adjourned over Sunday, he concluded to go to church. We will let him tell his own story: 'I had mounted my best regalia, and looked fine; stopped at the door and asked the secton for a seat; was shown a very good one, entirely unoccupied, in the back part of which I seated myself. In a short time a very decent looking man, plainly dressed, entered and took the front of the pew. I held my head reverently and looked pious. He glanced at me several times, then took out a card, drew his pencil and wrote:—'This is my pew, Sir,' and tossed the card to me. I picked it up and immediately wrote on it:—'It is a very good one. What rent do you pay? and tossed it back."

AMUSING HIMSELF.—A certain greencustomer, who was a stranger to mirrors, and who stepped into the cabin of one of our ocean steamers, stepping in front of a large pier glass, which he took for a door, he said:

'I say, mister, when does this here boat start?'

Getting no reply from the dumb reflection before him, he again repeated:

'I say, mister, when does this here boat start?'

Incensed at the still silent figure, he broke out:

'Go to thunder; you darned sassafras-colored, shock-headed bull calf; you don't look as if you knew much any how.'

A certain lady had been much annoyed by the ring of her door-bell by the mischievous boys in the vicinity, had determined to be no more made a fool of by going to the door. In the forenoon, her minister called to see her, dressed in his sprucest manner. He ascended the steps and gently drew the bell handle, when the lady shouted from the entry—

'I see you, boy; if I catch you I'll wring your neck.

The frightened gentleman immediately rushed down the steps, through a small crowd of young scamps, and has not been seen since.

VALUE OF TIME.—Life must be pretty fast in some localities, if we are to judge by the following item from a cotemporary: 'We feel bound to deny that one of our lawyers put on his door,' 'Gone to bury my wife; be back in half an hour.' But candor compels us to say that one of our lumbering merchants, the last sickness of his wife occurring in the busiest season, was only able to get in in time for the second prayer at her funeral.'

DEFE TIVE PAG

The Weekly Union.

Mankato, Friday, July 31, 1863.

Republican Union Convention.

The Republicans and all other unconditional Union men throughout the State of Minnesota, who are earnest and honest supporters of the Administration, and who will stand by it without fear or favor in all its efforts to crush rebellion and maintain the Union, and who desire to see no cessation of hostilities until the glorious old flag of our country shall wave over a united Republic, "without a stripe erased or polluted, or a single star obscured,"—and all, in fine, who are uncompromisingly hostile to traitors, whether open, armed rebels in the South, or covert advocates in the North of a damaging and humiliating peace, will assemble in convention at St. Paul, at Ingersol's Hall, on Wednesday, August the 19th, 1864, at 11 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following offices:

Governor;
Lieutenant Governor;
Secretary of State;
State Treasurer;
Attorney General;
Auditor of State;
Clerk of the Supreme Court.

The different counties will be entitled to be represented in the Convention by Delegates, who are bona fide residents of the counties from which they are accredited, as follows:

Anoka	2	Morrison	1
Benton	2	Mower	2
Blue Earth	4	Nicollet	3
Brown	2	Olmstead	6
Carver	3	Pine	1
Chisago	2	Ramsey	8
Dakotah	7	Renville	1
Dodge	3	Rice	5
Faribault	1	Scott	5
Fillmore	9	Sherburne	1
Freeborn	3	Sibley	3
Hennepin	8	Stearns	3
Isanti	1	Steele	2
Goodhue	6	St. Louis	1
Houston	5	Wabashaw	7
Le Sueur	4	Winona	6
McLeod	1	Waseca	2
Meeker	1	Wright	3
Mille Lac	1	Washington	4

No Delegates will be admitted from unorganized or uninhabited counties, not enumerated above.

By order of the Republican Central Committee.

ROBT. F. FISK, Ch'n.
WILFORD L. WILSON,
ANDREW NESSEL,
D. BLAKELY,
J. B. GILFILLAN,
BENJ. F. SMITH.

ST. PAUL, July 8, 1863.

In response to the above call, the Republicans and all other unconditional union men named therein of Blue Earth County are hereby requested to elect delegates in the several towns to represent them in a County Convention to be held at Mankato, on Saturday, the 15th of August at 2 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of choosing four delegates to said State Convention.

The ratio of representation will be as follows:

Mankato,	7	Shelby,	2
South Bend,	4	Sterling,	2
Judson,	2	Mapleton,	1
Butternut Valley,	2	Danville,	1
Ceresco,	1	Le Ray,	1
Watonwan,	5	Jamestown,	1
Vernon,	2	Lime,	1

Ignoring past differences, mindful of present duties, and hopeful for the future, let us strive to put the right men in the right places, and while our gallant soldiers are shedding their blood so profusely to uphold our glorious union, let us show them that what their valor secures shall not be jeopardized by us at home.

Per order of the Republican Co. Com
J. T. WILLIAMS,
July 24th, 1863. Chairman.

INDIAN NEWS.

From the Press we learn that Mr. Kinney, while traveling in a cart with his wife and children a day or two since, was suddenly attacked by two Indians near Clearwater. They fired upon him, one shot taking effect, the ball entering his wrist and coming out at the elbow.

Some men were mowing in the neighboring meadow and saw the Indians, but being unarmed were afraid to go to Mr. Kinney's rescue, and accordingly concealed themselves.

Mr. Kinney and his family made their escape and reached Clearwater without further injury. A large number of the citizens at Clearwater and St Cloud have gone in pursuit of the Indians.

Mr. Henry Bloch, of Main Prairie, was aroused by his dogs about 3 o'clock Monday morning, and on going out of doors discovered two Indians in the act of stealing a span of horses. He fired his gun at them, and in return they fired their rifles at him without effect.

A company of scouts are after the fellows with a prospect of success.

PROMISORY NOTES UNDER TWENTY DOLLARS, REQUIRE A STAMP.

We re-publish the following correspondence between the collector of this District and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, as it is on a subject which interests nearly all our readers, and a mistake having occurred:

OFFICE COLLECTOR INTERNAL REVENUE,
MANKATO, July 3d 1862.

SIR: Your decision is respectfully asked as to the liability to stamp duty of promissory notes under twenty dollars.

The language of the act of 3d March last, is a little obscure and opinions vary as to said liability.

Very Respectfully,
JOHN N. HALL,
Collector 1st District.

Hon. Joseph J. Lewis, Com. Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT OFF. INT. REV.
WASHINGTON, July 11th, 1863.

SIR: Your letter of the 3d inst has been received.

In reply thereto I have the honor to state that a promissory note given for payment of twenty dollars or less, is subject to stamp duty under the head of "Inland Bill of exchange" in the enclosed schedule.

Very Respectfully,
JOSEPH J. LEWIS,
Commisioner.

The stamp duty refered to in the letter of the Commisioner, is as follows:

On promissory notes for every $200 or fractional part thereof, whether payable on demand, or at any time not exceeding 33 days grace, included from date or sight one cent; exceeding 33 days and not exceeding 63 days, as aforesaid, two cents; exceeding 63 days, and not exceeding 93 days, aforesaid three cents, exceeding 93 days, and not exceeding four months and three days, as aforesaid four cents: exceeding four months, and not exceeding six months and three days, as aforesaid six cents; exceeding six months and three days, ten cents.

All notes made after June 1st, without being duly stamped are void.

VALLANDIGHAM'S REMARKS.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette reports Vallandigham's remarks as follows:

'In speaking of the present Morgan raid, he said it would be impossible for the Government to enforce the conscript act in this State and Ohio: that Morgan had his wires laid to that effect; that the present raid is only an introductory matter; that he will give the States a second visit in case the law should be attempted to be enforced. He appears well posted on Southern affairs, and undoubtedly speaks advisedly of the second raid of Morgan, if he should be so fortunate as to escape the vigilance of our men.'

A nicely concocted plan, indeed! But then > "The wedding day appointed was,

> And wedding clothes provided;
> But ere that day did come, alas.
> She sickened and she died.'

THE DRAFT.

A rumor is current in town that the draft for this district took place at Rochester yesterday. The law requires public notice of the day when the draft shall be made, and no such notice has been given.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Next Thursday is the day appointed by the President for Thanksgiving and Prayer. In another column will be found the order of exercises agreed upon by the Committee appointed for the purpose. We hope all our merchants will suitably observe the day and close their places of business.

JOHN MORGAN.

This bold outlaw has at last been captured, and is now closely confined in a Cincinnati prison, together with about thirty rebel officers.

He was captured in Columbia County, Ohio, near New Lisbon, the county seat.

DEATH OF HON. JOHN J. CRITTENDEN.

Hon. John J. Crittenden died at his residence in Frankfort, Ky., on the 25th inst., aged 77 years.

THE WASHINGTON MAP.

This new and beautiful map has at length visited our town, and after a careful examination we are prepared to say we think, for a map of general reference, it cannot be exceeded. Its superior finish gives it a fine appearance. We notice all the late new territories, new counties within the Territories of Colorado, Utah, and Nevada, new division of Indian Territories, a modern map of Mexico, a new map of Central America, from British hydraulic surveys. Official Census Report, by Jos. C. G. Kennedy, giving a population of all the counties, cities, States and Territories. The geological and meteorological, zoological and botonical maps are very instructive and handsome in appearance. There also appears a new map of the world, showing current of gulf stream, the location of the Weedy Seas, belts of calms and Zone of Storms, or the Daldrum, a chart of mountains, whose hight is expressed in feet, length of Rivers, Atlantic Ocean surveys, and profile surveys of the United States.

We have often noticed complimentary remarks from other journals, but never had an opportunity of seeing this beautiful work before. We take pleasure in saying it is the finest work of the kind, and recommend it to all.

The agent Major Hamilton, has been stopping in town for a few days, with a view to canvassing for the sale, and as the price is remarkably low this is a good time to procure one.

The Income Tax and the Farmer.

The commissoner of internal revenue makes the following ruling regarding the manner of making returns of income:

"A farmer, when making return of the total amount of his farm produce, shall be allowed to deduct therefrom the subsistence of horse, mules, oxen, and cattle exclusively in the carrying on of said farm. The term farm produce is constructed to include all productions of a farm, of what nature and kind soever. The account of stock sold by a farmer since December 31, 1862, should not be included in the present assessment, but the profit realized thereby must be accounted for in the next year's return.

"Where he has included in his return produce raised by him, and fed in whole or part to stock subsequently sold, he must account for the gain realized by the feeding and selling of said stock. Where he has not included produce so fed, he must return as profits the difference between the value of said stock on the 31st of December, 1861, and the amount realized for them. Fertilizers purchased by farmers to maintain their land in present productive condition will be considered as repairs, in estimating income."

An Inquiry.

To the Editor of the Union.

Having long been desirous to become a member of the Union League, I was pleased to learn, through the Record, of last week, that such a League had been organized in Mankato, but surprised to find the Editor of that paper not favorable to the organization, whose sole object, it is believed, is to effect unity between the true and loyal men in our country, to stand by its flag, and its government: and furthermore, as it is generally believed, that said organization invites all loyal men without regard to party, I ask why is the Editor of the Record so bitterly opposed to it? Perhaps his sympathies are with a certain institution known under the name of K. G. C., or is he a member of that order? I trust not. It is, nevertheless, true that I have not seen one word from him in condemnation of that infernal institution, composed only of treason and disloyalty.

AN OUTSIDER.

HENDERSON, July 29, 1863.

To the Editor of the Union.

The Souix Commission left St. Peter, having finished up all their business there Tuesday afternoon of this week, and arrived the same evening at Henderson, at which place they commenced business promptly the next morning. Not more than 20 cases were submitted the first day of their session there, as a great many claimants from the neighborhood of Hutchinson did not make their appearance until the second day, having expected that the Commissioners would finally decide to visit that place. The Board will probably have its hands full of business for the rest of the week, at which time their session will close in this place. One of the Commissioners, Hon. Albert S. White is now absent making a trip to New Ulm and in the neighborhood of Fort Ridgely, but is expected at Henderson by the last of week.

V.

A PROCLAMATION.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

It has pleased Almighty God to hearken to the supplications and prayer of an afflicted people, and to vouchsafe to the Army and the Navy of the United States victories on land and on sea so signal and so effective as to furnish reasonable ground for augmented confidence that the Union of these States will be maintained, their Constitution preserved, and their peace and prosperity permanently restored. But these victories have been accorded not without sacrifices of life, limb, health, and liberty, incurred by brave, loyal, and patriotic citizens. Domestic affliction in every part of the country follows in the train of these fearful bereavements. It is meet and right to recognize and confess the presence of the Almighty Father and the power of His Hand equally in these triumphs and in these sorrows.

Now, therefore be it known that I do set apart Thursday, the 6th day of August next, to be observed as a day for National Thanksgiving, Praise and Prayer, and I invite the People of the United States to assemble on that occasion in their customary places of worship, and, in the forms approved by their own consciences, render the homage due to the Divine Majesty for the wonderful things he has done in the Nation's behalf, and invoke the influence of His Holy Spirit to subdue the anger which has produced and so long sustained a needless and cruel rebellion, to change the heart of the insurgents, to guide the counsels of the Government with wisdom adequate to so great a national emergency, and to visit with tender care and consolation throughout the length and breadth of our land all those who, through vicissitudes of marches, voyages, battles, and sieges have been brought to suffer in mind, body, or estate, and finally to lead the whole nation, through the paths of repentance and submission to the Divine Will, back to the perfect enjoyment of union and fraternal peace.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this fifteenth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the eighty-eight.

[L. S.]

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

By the President:

WILLIAM H. SEWARD, Secretary of State

A girl only thirteen years of age has been committed by the coroner of Leeds, England, on a charge of manslaughter. She attacked a little boy, and flung him to the ground with such violence as to fracture his skull.

State News.

We saw a nice little machine down at the Provost Marshal's office the other day, which will be set a running soon. It was built by Charlie Ayres, of this city, especially for the draft, and with its crank resembles a neat little washing machine. The tickets are to be placed in the box—the crank turned—a hand thrust in—when out comes the name of a conscript. The cranked is turned again—another conscript—and so on until the grist is ground.—City Post.

ACCIDENT.—On Sunday, Mr. James M. Jackman of this city, was riding along Second street. As he began to descend Government Hill his horse became unmanagable, and Mr. Jackman fearing that he would be precipitated over the embankment, attempted to save himself by jumping from his buggy. He struck the top of the embankment, but his momentum was so great that he was carried over the precipice, falling some ten feet, striking upon his head and shoulders. Two of his ribs were broken and he was otherwise injured. —Stillwater Mess.

BANK OF ISSUE.—We learn that Messrs Smith & Dickerson, contemplate starting a Bank of issue at this place soon, with a capital of $25,000. Their issue will be secured by a deposite of Government 5,20 bonds for the full amount, besides their individual liability. Such currency will be safer than, and far preferable to, any of the individual responsibility stuff of the New England States, now freely circulating among us.—Volunteer.

HARVEST.—Spring wheat harvest will commence in this vicinity next week. Motwithstanding the complaints in various quarters, the yield will be an average one.—Hastings Ind.

THE CROPS.—The prospect of a fair crop is improving. We see no reason to doubt that the harvest of wheat and other small grains, will bring a tolerably good return for the labor expended, and the capital invested. We do not expect the crop will be above an average one.—Preston Rep.

The enrollment in this district is completed. Six hundred and fifty names have been enrolled as subjects to military duty of which about 450 are residents of this city. The enrollment has been accomplished without a single instance of opposition.—Stillwater Mess,

A little girl named Julia King, aged about six years, was severely injured on Sunday night by falling through the trestle work of the St. P. & P. R. R., near the depot, Lower Levee. The distance is near twenty feet. Fortunately Dr. C. Underwood was near at hand, and afforded such relief as was possible. It is thought that she was injured internally. Her situation is at least a critical one.—St Paul Press.

We have been shown a few heads of wheat from a field of a hundred acres from the farm of Mr. Simmons, near this city. The heads look remarkably well, and the entire field will yield an average of twenty-five bushels to the acre.—Hastings Ind.

Among the barbarities indulged in by the Indians when they murdered the Dustin family, was to cut off the lips of old Mrs. Dustin, the grandmother, to prevent her speaking, and also while she was yet alive two fingers were severed from one of her hands and borne away as trophies.—St. Cloud Union.

PRETTY FINE.—As is well known that the dog law provides that all who have sheep killed by dogs, shall receive pay for such sheep out of the Town Treasury. The other day one of our farmers appeared, and made affidavit that one his flock had been killed by dogs, and estimated his loss at eight dollars, which was duly forked over by the Clerk. But the joke is embodied in the fact that the man's sheep was killed by one of his own unlicensed dogs. That will do for Minnesota, and we doubt whether "them fellers back East" could beat it.—Shakopee Argus.

RAIN.—On Tuesday night we were favored with a light shower, not sufficient, however, to wet the ground more than to the depth of an inch. Small favors of this kind are thankfully received. Land is coming in sight from the bottom of Rum river every day, and unless we soon have rain, some enterprising farmer will be plowing and planting where the river used to run.—Anoka Rep.

An Incident.

We are advised of a bit of news from John Morgan that gives us a better opinion than we ever entertained of a rebel. Just as he left Miamiville, en route for Dangerous Crossings, on the Little Miami Railroad, he encountered a man with six fine horses, purchased for our Government service. Morgan demanded at once, the six sleek chargers. The owner, in a good humor, said he thought he might divide and only take half. Morgan replied that he would, and just as the horses were handed over, the owner felt so good over his luck with John, that he communicated to him some signs and grips of the Golden Circle of which he was a member. At this Morgan became enraged, and swore he was a Confederate officer but nevertheless he hated "butternut" signs worse than h—ll, and at once took all six of the poor fool's horses, and left him to grumble and swear.—Zanesville Courier.

The Draft.

The Provost Marshal General has issued instructions to the Provost Marshals of the various States, which are of much interest to every one just at this time. From the various regulations issued by the War Department we compile the following particulars:

Any person paying $300 under section 13 of the Enrollment Act, is here by exempt from liablity under that draft, but not from any subsequent draft.

Any drafted person furnishing an acceptable substitute is exempt from military service for the period for which said substitute is mustered into the service.

A substitute once mustered into the service cannot be drafted while in the service.

Any drafted person claiming exemption from draft by reason of disability, has the right to have the question of his disability submitted to and passed upon by the board of enrollment, whose decision thereon is final. If the board shall have decided that the claimant is liable to serve, he has the right, after such decision, to pay his commutation money or to furnish his substitute, within such extended time as may be fixed by the board of enrollment for his appearance for duty.

The manner of drafting is as follows:

The Provost Marshals are to cause the name of each person of the first class enrolled, to be written on a card as soon as the enrollment lists are completed. The cards must be uniform in size, shade and color.

The cards are then to be assorted by sub-districts, verified by comparison with the enrollment lists, and placed in an envelope marked with the number of the sub district and the number of cards contained in it, and sealed.

After all the sub-districts have been thus prepared, all the envelopes will be put into one, and sealed up, and put away until the day of the draft.

On the day of draft, the board of enrollment will open the envelope containing the cards of the first sub-district. These cards will be counted as they are placed in the box, and must agree with the number on the envelope. The box should be about one foot wide, one foot deep and one and a half long, with a lid securely fastened, and a hole in the lid large enough to admit a man's hand.

This being done, the Commissioners will announce that the draft for the first sub-district of such district of such State for so many men will commence.

The Provost Marshal, or some trusty person selected by him, will then be blindfolded, and draw from the box a single card, which he will hand to the Commissioner, who will read aloud the name on it. The clerk will immediately enter this name on a list previously prepared, opposite No. 1. Thus the draft will continue until the required number of names are drawn, when the cards remaining will be taken out and counted, so as to verify the whole number originally put in.

Great care must be taken to enter names on the roll exactly in the order in which they are drawn.

The remaining sub-districts will be proceeded with in like manner.

When a person has been drafted in pursuance of the act, notice of such draft must be served within ten days thereafter by written or printed notice, to be served on him personally, or by leaving a copy at his former place of residence, requiring him to appear at the rendezvous and report for duty.

Any person failing to report for duty after notice being left at his last place of residence, or served on him personally, without furnishing a substitute or paying $300, is pronounced by law to be a deserter, and he may be arrested and held for trial by court martial and sentenced to death.

If a person change his place of residence after being drafted and before receiving notice, it may still be served, by leaving it at his last place of residence, and if he does not appear in accordance with notice, or furnish a a substitute, or pay $300, he will be in law a deserter and must be treated accordingly.

There is no way or manner in which a person once enrolled can escape his public duties, and when drafted, whether present or absent, whether he changes his residence or absconds, the rights of the United States against him are secured, and it is only by the performance of his duty to the country, that he will escape liability to be treated as a criminal.

Negroes will not be accepted as substitutes for white conscripts; only for each other.

Persons claiming exemption on the ground of alienage, must file before the Board an affidavit stating:

First, That he is an alien, and setting forth the government of which he claims to be a subject.

Second, The time when he came into the United States, and where he has resided since.

Third, That he has never declared his intention of becoming a citizen of the United States, and has not exercised the right of suffrage by voting at any election in any State.

Fourth, That he claims to be exempted from military service on the ground that he is a subject of a foreign government, and has not declared his intentions to become a citizen of the United States, and has never voted in any State.

If the Board is satisfied that the party claiming exemption is fully entitled thereto, under the act of Congress, they will discharge him from the daft; but if not satisfied, they will refer the case, with affidavit to the Provost Marshal General for a decision by Department of State, in the meantime suspending action in the case until the decision of the State Department shall be made. The certificate of the State Department will, in such case, be considered evidence of fact, whether the person is, or is not subject to military duty.

John Morgan Captured at Last.

CINCINNATI, July 27.

The following has been received at headquarters:

HEADQUARTERS IN FIELD,
Three miles south of New Lisbon, O.
July 26 1863.

To Col. Lewis Richmond, A. A. G:

By the blessing of Almighty God I have succeeded in capturing Gen. John H. Morgan, Col, Cluke, and the balance of the command, amounting to about 400 prisoners.

I will start with Morgan and staff on the first train for Cincinnati, and await the General's order for transportation for the balance.

Signed. J. M. SHACKLEFORD.
Commanding.

LOUISVILLE, July 26.

Well authenticated reports announce the capture of Gen John H. Morgan, with the residue of has command, in the vicinity of Steubenville, Ohio. Particulars not stated.

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.

A special to the Tribune says that 900 of Morgan's men were lodged in Camp Chase prison to-day. They will be kept until the officers of Straight's expedition are released from Libby prison.

Rebel Dread of Gen. Gilmore.

The Yankees have a great opinion of General Gilmore, who is now in command of the forces that are engaged against Charleston.

He is considered a very dangerous man where forts or other works are to be reduced by artillery. He is a native of Ohio, and, in 1844, graduated at West Point at the head of his class. For a year or two after his graduation he was a Professor of that institution. Subsequently he was assigned to the duty of experimenting upon the power of projectiles upon earth, wood and earthworks, and spent several years in this duty, acquiring in that time more experience and knowledge on this subject than any man in this country. The more perfectly to record the result of his experience and he took photographs of the effect of every shot fired. At Fort Pulaski, he, for the first time, brought his skill to the test of actual experience. Pulaski was considered next to Sumter in impregnability. Gilmore getting his guns to within six hundred yards, knocked it to pieces as he might have done a house of cards.

Interest on the Public Debt.

Six months interests on the public debt becomes due to-day, (1st July) and will be promptly met. It amounts to little less than three and a half million dollars, and is payable in gold in the cities of Boston, New York, Philadelphia' Baltimore, Cincinnati, and Washington. This amount of gold precipitated upon the market in one day has had the tendency, we learn, to reduce the price of gold and bring it down to-day from 46½ to 44½. It gives us pleasure to be able to state authoitavely that the Treasury Department is able to meet all payments of interest as it becomes due without difficulty.—Republican.

News Items.

A board of guardians in the midland counties of England recently received an application for relief from a man who a short time ago was himself the chairman of a similar board for some years. The change of fortune has not been the result of improvidence, nor of any act he could control.

Gen. Sherman was at Jackson, Miss., on the 10th, and advanced with his forces beyond Pearl River. The rebel General Johnston had retreated beyond a small stream further back.

Our cavalry, under Gen. Gregg, has had a rough battle with the rebel Stuart's entire force, near Martinsburg. Our men obstinately held their ground through several hours of fighting.

We learn from Cincinnati that General Blunt has captured the Rebel stronghold at Little Rock, the capital of Arkansas, and taken a large number of prisoners. There cannot now be any large Rebel force in that State, Major General Foster, of the Department of North Carolina, has taken command of the Department of Virginia in place of Major General Dix, who has been transferred to the Departments of the East. The two departments are made into one, that of Virginia being abolished.

LATEST NEWS.

News by Friday Morning's Mail.

REPORT OF THE ATTACK ON FORT WAGNER.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The Charleston Mercury's account of the late attack on Fort Wagner, admits that our forces held a portion of the fort over an hour under most galling fire. The rebels captured over 200 prisoners, including a few negro troops, and buried over 600 of our dead.

The rebel loss is estimated at 100.

The rebels state that the bombardment was terrific, but their men were amply protected by bomb proofs

The Atlanta Confederacy states that the city is preparing to defend itself from an anticipated attack by Rosecrans.

Rebel dispatches state that the enemy are busily engaged in tearing up the track between Brandon and Jackson. They burned the depot at the latter place last night.

Grant is preparing to fall back as there is no water in his front.

Our army has gone into permanent camp.

Grant is reported as shipping troops down the Mississippi for the purpose of attacking Mobile.

Lieut. Gen. Hardee has arrived and taken command under Johnston.

Pemberton's corps will be organized immediately and placed in the field.

The following is a letter from an officer on board the Chippewa in Charleston harbor:

"The Chippewa has gained great credit for going nearer than any of the other gunboats, and firing faster and making the best shots.

"The iron-clads engaged the rebels at little after 12, but our work was play compared with the charge in the face of the fire from Fort Wagner and Sumter. If the move had been made two or even one hour earlier than it was, Fort Wagner would have been ours at this moment.

After they got in it was dark. Those say who lived to get out again that the rebels fired on rebels, and Union on Union. Sumter killing as many rebels as it did of our men, and our batteries killing and wounding as many friends as foes.

The carnage—for I cannot call it anything else—was awful.

Our loss was from 1,000 to 1,500, wounded and missing. It is said that the Massachusetts 25th regiment led the van, and all but six officers were killed, wounded or taken prisoners. They fought very hard. Our men were in the fort something like two hours, and it was nothing but the confusion and darkness, not being able to tell friends from foes, that obliged them to get out.

Wagner is destined to be ours. It will be, for Gilmore is not the man to give up.

PROSPECT OF A WAR WITH ENGLAND.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Earl Russel has, before this, been informed that the United States will not permit the fitting out of vessels of war in British ports, to prey upon our commerce and that if it is allowed to proceed, we shall not hesitate to go into British ports to capture such vessels. If this be war, England must make the most of it.

In a little while all the principal Southern parts, from Virginia to Texas, will be garrisoned with Union troops, and our whole navy, except what may be required to keep open the navigation of the Mississippi, will be liberated for operations against a foreign foe.

There are indications that the British government will take a sensible view of the course, and avoid any collision with the United States; but if it should not, we shall unquestionably have a foreign war on our hands without delay.

CIVIL WAR IN ATHENS, GREECE.

BOSTON, July 29.—Dickens writes to the Traveller, from Athens, Greece under date of July 4th, as follows:

I am now in the midst of civil war, Party spirit and love of rule have at last divided the soldiers and citizens into two bands, and in the streets and squares of the city blood has been flowing for two days.

July first and second the battle was incessantly raging, and the sound of guns and cannon told us that the work of death was going on.

REBELS THREATENING PARIS, KY.

A rebel force of about fifteen hundred entered Winchester, Ky, this morning, the 29th, moving north.

To-night a considerable force is threatening Paris.

GOLD $11 PREMIUM IN RICHMOND.

FORTRESS MONROE, July 29.—The flag of truce steamer New York arrived from City Point last evening, She brings Richmond dates to the 27th

Gold is worth $11 in Richmond.

AN IMPORTANT MOVE FROM VICKSBURG.

CAIRO, 29.—An important move is being made from Vicksburg, the particulars of which are contraband.

Nothing of special importance from below. Gen. Quimby's division has arrived from below. Destination unknown.

Major Gen. Logan addresses the Democrats of Southern Illinois at Duquesne, Friday. A large gathering is expected. A synopsis of his speech will be sent to the associated press.

Morgan is to be sent back to Columbus, and lodged in the Ohio Penitentiary.

The draft takes place in Ohio in a few daqs.

DEFE TIVE PAG

THE COUNTY.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

St. Paul—Arrives at 9 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Eastern—Arrives at 4 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Blue Earth City—Arrives at 5 P. M. and departs at 7 A. M. Closes 7 P. M.

Office hours—5 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays, 5 to 7 A. M., and 12 M. to 1 P. M.

R. J. SIBLEY, Postmaster.

The rain of the past few days has not been sufficient to raise the river but a trifle.

Col. Grigg, of the 3d Regiment, has resigned, and Lieut. Col. Andrews has been promoted to fill the position.

Our thanks are due to Senator Ramsey for a copy of the first volume of "Report of Joint Committee on Conduct of the War."

We learn that G. W. Carley of Capt Dane's company, has been appointed Fife Major of the Ninth Regiment.

The Mite Society.—The Ladies Mite Society will hold its next meeting at the residence of Mrs. Slaughter.

Progressing.—Charlie Heinze brick building is rapidly progressing, and when completed will be a decided acquisition to the town.

Mr. Aaron Smith, of Fairmount, passed through town Tuesday of this week, having with him all the castings required to put up his mill at that place. He has secured an excellent site for a water power, which will give him plenty of water throughout the entire year.

That Boquet.—Many thanks to the "lady fair" who, during our absence from the office, placed on our table a splendid boquet. We have imagined ourself in a flower garden ever since. Long may she wave.

The Lower Stone building is being fitted up in better shape, and the roof taken off, and a new one put on. Mr. Wampler, a very competent workman, has the contract for the job.

The mail from St. Paul arrives about nine o'clock every evening, being nearly five hours earlier than the time a week ago. By this arrangement we get the St. Paul papers the same day they are printed.

Sunk.—The steamer Flora of the Prairie du Chien line, struck on a rock, near Winona, on Tuesday, and sunk in less than five minutes time. No lives were lost. She will be a total loss.

Personal.—Capt. Strout, stationed at Lake Hanska, has been stopping in town with his family for a few days, and on Tuesday departed for his post. His family, on Wednesday, returned to their home in Minneapolis.

A Good Word.—A subscriber writing us from Minnesota Lake, and who accompanies his letter with a cash subscription for the Union, says: "Success to your radical Republican paper. I am highly pleased with volume one, number one. I don't see any compromise with copperheads, and that is what we want. The Union now and forever."

Prael & DuBuisson.—Notwithstanding the fact that it is difficult getting goods from below, these gentleman still have a good and well assorted stock on hand, which they offer at very low rates. The firm of P & D is well known throughout the county, and they have plenty of warm friends who never fail to trade with them when wanting anything in their line.

Minnesota Apples.—Mr. Wm. Wilson presented us, the other day, with some very fine apples that were taken from trees on his place. They are of the Baldwin and Pippin variety, and though not fully ripe, would have ripened had they been left on the trees. The Baldwin variety measured over eight inches in circumference.

Promotions.—We notice the following promotions in Co, H. 4th Regiment. Co H, is composed principally of Blue Earth County boys.

Lieut. Geo. A. Clark, Capt. vice Patch resigned.

Second Lieut. David L. Wellman, First Lieut, vice Clark promoted.

Serg't John L. Sampson, Second Lieut. vice Wellman. promoted.

Verona Items.

By our Special Reporter.

There are no items of interest to send you this week. Our farmers are busy getting ready for harvest, and nothing, aside from the general routine of daily toil, has come within range of the "argus eye" of your special.

Your subscribers here are much pleased with the Union. It is decidedly an improvement over the old Independent, and we hope the new enterprise will meet with all the success that a live county papers deserves. We will soon send you an addition to your subscription list.

The trial of reapers that is to take place here Saturday, naturally enough occasions considerable talk. Quite a number of machines will compete for the championship. The trial will be made in the field of wheat belonging to Mr. H. T. Stoddard. A large number of farmers will be present, and an interesting time is anticipated.

Here is one item which I will send you and then I will "dry up" for this time. One of my neighbors this morning gathered a very fine variety of seeds, which he wished to put in a safe place for use next season. After looking in vain for some secure nook, he finally discovered a stray copy of the Record which he grasped eagerly, saying. "Well, I'll take this sheet; there's so much copper in it that the mice will never eat through it!"

SPECIAL.

At a meeting of citizens in City Hall, Saturday evening, July 25th, to take measures for the proper observance of Thursday, August 6th, the day set apart by the President for thanksgiving and prayer, Henry Stoek was appointed Chairman, and C. H. Slocum, Secretary.

On motion, the following committee was appointed by the chair to make the necessary arrangements.

A. D. Seward, Theron Parsons, Wm. L. Coon, Henry Fowler, B. Hotaling. Drs. M'Mahan and Dornberg.

On motion of J. C. Wise, it was made the sense of the meeting that the business men and citizens generally conform to such arrangements as the Committee may make for the suitable observance of the day.

The meeting then adjourned.

HENRY STOEK, Chairman.

C H Slocum, Sec'y.

At a meeting of the Committee of Arrangements for the observance of the 6th of August as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer, held at the Judge of Probate's office, on Wednesday evening, July 27th.

It was moved and carried that we observe the day in an appropriate manner in accordance with the Proclamation of the President of the United States.

That we invite all, of every church and of no church, to assemble on the morning of the 6th at 10½ o'clock, in City Hall, to act their part as seems best to themselves.

That the Rev B. Y. Coffin be invited to offer a Thanksgiving prayer; that the Rev. Mr. Summereisen be invited to deliver a thanksgiving sermon, the same to be in the German language if he prefers to do so.

That the Rev. Mr. Hicks be invited to deliver a thanksgiving address; that Dr. McMahan be appointed a committee of one to confer with Mr. Summereisen on the subject; that Wm. L. Coon be appointed a committee of one to invite Mr. Coffin to be present.

That the merchants and business men be respectfully requested to close their doors and suspend business on that day.

That A. D. Seward, H. Fowler and W. L. Coon be appointed a committee to obtain and arrange seats for the occasion.

That the Secretary furnish copies of the minutes of this meeting for publication in the Union and Record.

A. D. SEWARD, Ch'n.

W. L. Coon, Sec'y.

Mankato, July 27th, 1863.

Order of Exercises.—The following order of exercises has been adopted by the committee:

Singing by the Choir.
Prayer by the Rev. B. Y. Coffin.
Singing
Address by the Rev. Mr. Sommereisen.
Singing.
Address by the Rev. Mr. Hicks.
Singing.
Benediction by the Rev. B. Y. Coffin.
Other speakers are expected.

By a letter from an officer in the army at Vicksburg we learn of a most miraculous escape. It says that Colonel Loyd D. Waddell, Inspector-General, while he was inspecting siege guns, had a mortar-shell burst within three feet of him, knocking him down, stunning him, tearing his clothes and literally burying him with earth. As soon as he was sufficiently recovered he got on his horse, only to be knocked down, horse, and all, by the concussion of another shell, which wounded several others of the staff, but Colonel Waddell escaped injury. The lads considered him bomb-proof. Well they may.

Winnebago City Items.

From our Special Reporter.

We are now fully commenced in our harvesting operations. Every farmer is anxious to secure laborers at as low a price as possible. The ruling price for first rate hands seems to be $1,50 per day, and they are not so plenty as to bring the price down or scarce enough to raise it much above that. In our estimation the expectation of very heavy crops will not be realized by any one. The wheat crop as well as the Oat crop we think they will find, when it is harvested and threshed, has been affected, more or less, all through the county, by the unprecedented dry weather in May and June, yet there has been a large amount of ground sown, and the number of bushels the county will have to send to market will exceed the export of any former year.

All quiet along the frontier. An emigrant who went out to settle in Town 104 Range 35 came back last week and reported that he found traces of the Indians about the lakes, also heard the report of their guns where they were hunting, but saw none of them. Hard things to see, these Indians now a days.

The reaper trial in Verona on Saturday of this week, is the first thing of the kind in the county. We hope to see it well attended, and we expect it will be. Every man is interested in knowing which pattern of the reapers will best suit him and his team, and he can never be full satisfied until he has seen them work himself. We are glad to learn that a reaper and binder will be on the ground, and we ardently hope it may prove itself all it is advertised to be.

Rain to day—rain every day. Fine harvest weather! Harvest time—busy time—short stories, and long days. Hard work, and mighty little play, or pay either, for the farmer, except good health, refreshing sleep, and the consciousness of having added something to the wealth of the nation.

Names of the Men of the Detachment of the 7th Regiment, and where Stationed.

Lieutenant Rice, commanding a detachment of the 7th Regiment at this place, has furnished us with the following list of the men under his charge:

AT MANKATO BARRACKS

RANK.	NAME.	COMPANY
1st Serg't	R. F. Norton,	Com'y B.
Princ Mus	H. H. Rogers,	" B.
2d Sergt	J Brackelsberg,	" D.
1st Corp'l	A. Burgess,	" F.
2d	R. Jayger,	" K.
Private	Arter, Fred.	" K.
"	Boardman, Hugh	" A.
"	Brown, Arthur	" G.
"	Basil, Godfred	"
"	Coffrey, Michael	" A.
"	Dalla, Joseph	" B.
"	Fletcher, George	" B.
"	Hodge, Simon J.	" K.
"	Heie, Joseph	"
"	Hilbert, George	" B.
"	Immersen, J.	" F.
"	Judd, Silas	" A.
"	Keithly, Samuel	" K.
"	Lawson, John	" G.
"	McMullen, Aaron	" F.
"	Messenger, A. E	" H.
"	Odell, Moses B.	" K.
"	Perry, Frank L.	" K.
"	Rose, Jacob A.	" E.
"	Swanson, John S.	" C.
"	Sever, John	" E.
"	Schmurker, John	" H.
"	Sleeum, Martin N.	" A.
"	Van Buskirk, John	" A.
"	Whipple, H. W.	" K.
"	Woodard, James N.	" E.
"	R. D. Lefter,	" B.
"	S. Webster,	" A.

Sergt Bradelsberg belongs to Co. D, Fifth Regiment.

IN HOSPITAL AT MANKATO.

Private	E Munger, steward	Com'y C.
"	H. Phillips, nurse.	" B.
"	James Lyon, cook.	" B.

SICK IN HOSPITAL.

Private	Anderson Swen	Com'y C.
"	Boil, Robert	" F.
"	Fredir, Daniel	" C.
"	Gibson, Ambrose	" I.
"	Hicky, Daniel I.	" A.
"	Jaycox, A.	" E.
"	Miller, Robt H.	" E.
"	McDowell W. C.	" E.
"	Nastrom, Peter	" C.
"	Pinkham, David	" B.
"	Boice, Harwood V.	" E.
"	Watson, A. B.	" B.
"	Smallen, James	" E.

A number of the men reported as in Hospital, are home on sick leaves, and some of the above have been discharged.

TIVOLI BARRACKS.

1st Serg't	Wm Colby,	Com'y G.
Private	Avrie, Obed	" B.
"	Beach, J. C	" B.
"	Barnes, James	" F.
"	Chapman, C. C.	" B.
"	Neal, Z. G.	" B.
"	Paul Bruno,	" F.
"	Redfield, David	" K.
"	Sherrer, John	" G.
"	Thomas, H.	" C.

WINNEBAGO AGENCY.

Private	Kalder, G. B.	Com'y E.
"	Hanson, Muns	" E.
"	Deffenbacher, Fred.	" E.

GARDEN CITY.

Private	Kinney, G. L.	Com'y I.
"	Mann, Thomas	" I.
"	Moshier, Harvey	" I.

VERNON CENTER.

Private	Johnson, John	Com'y E.
"	Sackason, Carl	" C.
"	Hamre, Albert	" E.

WINNEBAGO CITY.

Private	Mountain, James	Com'y A.
"	Strong, David P.	" A.
"	Terry, G. R.	" A.

Total number, 70.

DIED.

On the 29th inst, CHARLES ALFRED, infant son of A. T. and Anna Lindholm, aged three months and five days.

Death kissed the brow of the beautiful one,
And the Angels said:
Come Charlie come hither, hither,
Where the flowers fade not or wither,
Where the roses pure white
Bloom in heaven holy light.

Mankato Market Reports.

CORRECTED EVERY THURSDAY BY O. WARD.

Mankato, July 31, 1863.

WHEAT—50c. ℔ bushel.
RYE—40c.
BARLEY—60.
OATS—40c.
CORN—35@40c.
HAY—℔ ton, $4@5 00.
TIMOTHY—$2 ℔ bushel.
BEANS—White, ℔ bushel, $1 25.
BUTTER—10c.
LARD—8@9c.
SUGAR—12@13c; 16@20c.
TEA—1 50@1 60.
COFFEE—33½c.
RICE—10c ℔ lb.
SALT—4 50 ℔ barrel.
EGGS—8c ℔ doz.
CANDLES—Tallow, 15c; Sperm, 30c.
MEATS—Beef on foot, 3@4c. Pork, 5.@6c. Mutton, 10@12c. Poultry, 10@12c.
POTATOES—1 00 ℔ bushel.
SIRUP—1 00 ℔ gallon.
WOOD—$2 00 ℔ cord.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

H. P. Christensen has on hand a lot of McCormick Reapers, both large and small sizes, which he offers to sell on accommodating terms, notwithstanding it is the only lot of Havesting Machines now in the valley. As no more can be shipped up this season parties designing to purchase should call on Mr. Christensen at once and secure one of the best machines in the world.

Spermatorrhoea can be Cured.—Dr. Rand's Specific cures Spermatorrhoea, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Loss of Power, &c., speedily and effectually. Its effects are truly magical. A trial of the Specific will convince the most skeptical of its merits. Price, $1 a box. Sent post paid to any address, by S. C. UPMAN, 403 Chesnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa. Circular sent free.

Drunkeness Cured.—The inebriate may now bid defiance to the tempting cup. Dr Zane's Antidote for Strong Drink is a certain cure for Drunkenness. It creates a dislike for strong drink, and can be administered without the knowledge of the patent. Price $1 a box. Sent by mail to any address, by S. C. UPMAM, 403 Chesnut Street, Philadelphia; Pa. Circular sent free.

MANKATO HOUSE.

MANKATO - MINNESOTA.

THIS House has been thoroughly renovated newly papered and painted, with many new improvements, which makes it now equal as to comfort and convenience to any House in the State.

General Stage Office for all points in the State.

Good barn and stabling with attentive ostler. Baggage conveyed to and from steamboats free of charge. Wines, liquors, cigars, etc., constantly on hand.

☞Farmers will find this House a good place to stop, it being centrally located, plenty of barroom, and charges moderate.

may 7 H. H. Shaubhut.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
BLUE EARTH COUNTY.

Mankato, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 13th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet been redeemed, I will execute and deliver to the purchasers of said lands at said sale, or their assignees, deeds for the same on and after the 17th day of January, A. D., 1864, unless said lands shall before that time have been redeemed. And notice is also given that the sum set against each description of land in said list is the amount due the purchaser of said land on redemption.

CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.	NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.
Unknown	1	24	2.66	Unknown	5	A	1.18
do	5	21	2 29	do	7	A	3.97
do	9	24	7 45	do	8	A	3.97
J Ady	9	22	13.93	do	9	A	3.97
F't R[illegible]vell	6	58	2 96	do	10	A	3.97

Willard & Besser's Addition.

Unknown, lot 10, block 19, amount 2.66.

NAME.	DES.	S.	T.	R.	AMT.
H W Lamberton	e hf sw qr and n hf sw qr	7	108	29	22.67
Earl Farthum	sw qr	23	109	29	14.57
M Garlb[illegible]er	ne qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	32	109	29
do	se hf se qr	31	109	29	15.91
Dennis O'Flynn	se qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	27	109	29	11.81
Wm P Smith	s hf ne qr and ne qr se qr and lot 2	2	107	28	13.85
T F Anderson	s e qr	20	107	28	15.14
H Wright	s e qr	8	106	28	14.10
William Gage	s w qr	17	106	28	13.73
Alex Wood	n e qr	1	105	28	41.00
Unknown	sw qr except 17 ac redm'd	5	105	28	14.66
H G Tryon	se qr nw qr	5	105	28	5.62
H G Tryon	ne qr nw qr	34	105	28	7.26
McMurtrie & Comstock	n hf sw qr	12	105	29	10.90
do	e hf sw qr and w hf se qr except 25 ac redeemed	12	105	29	33.36
Alex Wood	nw qr	6	105	27	49.87
Unknown	nw qr	9	108	25	19.28
A Frazer	n hf ne qr and ne qr nw qr	35	109	25	14.33
F Percival	ne qr sw qr	32	109	25	23.52

Internal Revenue Notice.

U. S. Assessor's Office,
First Collection District, Minn.
Rochester, July 17th. 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that the lists of all taxes assessed under the Excise Tax law of the United States within Division No 16, comprising Blue Earth, Watonwan, Brown, Renville, Cottonwood, Murray, Red Wood and Rock counties will be open for the inspection of all parties concerned for the space of fifteen [15] days from this date at the office of William Reid, Assistant Assessor, in the village of Mankato.

Further notice is hereby given that I will be at said office on the 3rd day of August, A. D., 1863, for the purpose of hearing all appeals which shall be made as provided under section 15 of the Excise Tax Law of the United States.

GEORGE W. BAKER,
Assessor First Dist. Minnesota.

PATENT FORCE PUMP.

THE undersigned has purchased the right to manufacture and sell, the KENTUCKY PATENT FORCE PUMP, one of which is now on exhibition at the Mankato House. This pump is very simple and convenient in all its parts, and peculiarly adapted to this climate. It is placed at the bottom of the well or cistern, and is worked by a handle at the top, the water being forced through an iron pipe. When not in action, the water remaining in the chambers readily finds its way back to the well again, and is consequently uncontaminated by any action of the metal upon it, and is also prevented from freezing for the same reason. For further particulars enquire of, JAMES T. BESSER.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.

Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
Proprietor.

ly

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL PROFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DuBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime.

Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee. Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DuBUISSON.
Mankato May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &C,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work, is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRNG AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand.

Cash paid for green and dry hides.

Mankato, June 26, 1863.

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

——

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges

Medicines,

Fancy Goods,

Soaps, Brushes,

Patent Medicines,

Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils

Glass,

Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,

Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,

or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN.☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office. F. M. Johnson, Agent.

St. Paul, Feb. 10th, 1863 July17-tf.

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.

OF

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obediance to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune chalenges comparrison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1.33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1.25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1.10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.

One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;

Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,)	$18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,)	35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World.

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Critical Notices of the Press.

The volumns Bound constitute of themselves a liberary of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world.—N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People: and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts: and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, by mail, post-paid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents. Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eight cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00; Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year ,$5,00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2,50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2,50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted for postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must be paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS.
Franklyn Square, New York.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS.

Russell & Co.'s GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEAGHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plows,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:

Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains. Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

Iam Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.

Mankato, April 23rd 1863.

NEW LIVERY & Sale Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.

☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜

☞Charges moderate.☜

D. H. TYNER.

DEFE TIVE PAG

Farmers' Journal.

MANKATO, FRIDAY, JULY 31, 1863.

Keeping Farm Accounts.

Although there has been not a little written in Agricultural papers about keeping farm accounts, still I have never appreciated the importance of it so fully as I have of late.

I am right glad that the Legislature of our State has passed an act requiring the collection of agricultural and horticultural statistics. It will be of untold benefit to our country pecuniarily; and I am able to conceive no other enterprise, that, if it is continued as it should be, will tend to elevate the character of our farmers as much as the effectual carrying out of the design of the legislature in this respect.

The design is a noble and grand one. We who profess to approve of it do not half appreciate its importance and the good effects that will most certainly attend it. Notwithstanding our first effort will be, like all other experiments very imperfect, and the tangible results, by way of statistics, very incomplete; still the way will be prepared for results that could never have been attained by any private enterprise.

But very few farmers keep accounts of the productions of their farms, and if they are interrogated with reference to the debt and credit, and productiveness of their fields, they are not able to give any more correct answers than they could give were they asked what relation their children may be to the prince of Denmark.

Occasionally we meet with a farmer who keeps a correct account of everything, and he will answer any question that you may ask him about his farming operations by referring to his books or diary.

In my rambling through the county I have met with several who not only keep statistics of their farming operations, but who keep a diary by which they can tell exactly what themselves and workmen were engaged in during every day of the year.

When I was on the farm of Mr. Thomas Gould of Aurora, in this county, he showed me his diary, by which he could tell just what every man was engaged in, not only during whole days, but parts of days. And Mr. Gould assured me that this practice had saved him, during one year, over $60— a handsome remuneration for a few leisure moments each day, and for a little paper and ink.

A few days ago I was at the residence of Messrs. Thornton, extensive farmers, situated on the outskirts of this city who gave me statistics from their books of their large farm, and even the number of fruit trees was entered on their books.

Such things speaks well for the intelligence of farmers, and if farmers would accustom themselves to keep minute accounts of everything that they have anything to do with how much more intelligent they would appear, and how the practice would tend to elevate their vocation.

Farmers, let your sons have paper and ink to keep accounts, and aid them in doing it. One of my little sons has a book and pencil, in which he keeps a penny account of everything that is consumed in our family. A man or boy will perform just as much work, and sleep just as many hours when he keeps his accounts well as when he does not.—Country Gentleman.

Butter and Butter Making.

"That is a woman's subject," says one. Perhaps it is, but, why let the woman have the making of butter and the telling about it too?

There is good butter and there is bad butter—and it is all made from cream, and the cream is taken from the milk—and the milk is taken in its pure state from the cow. When it comes to the light of day, there is no bad taste or bad smell to it, provided the cow is in good health. Then what is the matter with half the butter found in the market?—There is a screw loose in somebody's machinery. Many machines can't be fit to run, judging from the articles made. They should be put in repair. new hands put to the crank, or the old ones put to thinking.

"Poor butter! why, bless your stars, dear man, I never made poor butter—my butter always sells."

Don't dispute it, dear madam, but is it always eaten, and with a good relish? That is the question. If not, what's the matter? Can the cow be at fault? Is it the milk? Is it the churn? If neither of these, what is it? Let us investigate the matter. Here is a tub of poor butter right from a contry cellar. It looks badly, smells badly, and tastes—"badder."

What is the history of that butter? The outside of the firkin looks dingy and dark colored—mould has gathered into the crevice between a bin of potatoes on one hand and a bin of turnips on the other, flanked by a dozen or two heads of decaying cabbages. Situated thus, the foul air penetrates the mass and the consequence is bad butter.

The wife protests that it was well made, and sweet when packed. We will not dispute her. Perhaps she has done her part well, and put it in the best place she could find. From her shoulders there falls the responsibility of the two of bad butter.

It rests with him whose duty it is to provide better accommodations. Many a poor woman bears the blame that in justice belongs to another.

Let suitable conveniencies be furnished the jaded and perplexed housewife, and better results will follow her labors. The woman who has the care of a family of little ones, has to milk the cows, set her milk in a scanty supply of old pans, because her lord and master can't afford more and better ones, uses the old dash churn and hurries her butter on into a tub, situated as described above, cannot be expected to send good butter to market, unless impossibilities are expected of her. This is no more than is expected of many women at the present day. They might adopt the saying of the poor old lady, who went begging, and said she had no kettle nor nothing to cook it in. There is probably no class of women laboring under more disadvantages than the common house-wives.

As a general thing they should protest against doing the milking. In haying time perhaps they may do it to the advantage of all concerned. Or when there is but a small family they may do it during the most of the summer. She should have a good convenient place to set her milk. It should not be in the attic among the rats, neither down cellar with the cabbages. The supply of pans should be ample. Two or three quarts in a seven quart pan is enough. The cream will rise quicker, and there will be more of it than if set in deeper pans.

A cool, dry, clean place should always be provided for pans of milk. A good churn should be provided. Butter bowls and ladles should be furnished. The salt should be procured, lacking nothing of its flavor. Nice, sweet tubs should be on hand.

Assistance should be rendered at all times when needed, that every operation may be performed at the right time and with dispatch.

Thus provided and thus situated, the butter-maker has no excuse for butter. She will be interested in her business. She will take pride in her calling. Some good work on dairy farming ought to be on the shelf. O. L. Flint's Milch Cows and Dairy Farming is one needed. She should keep in view always the flavor and keeping qualities of her butter. The hands should be kept out of it entirely. However much they may be cleansed with soap and water, there is a constant natural effusion of matter from them. The butter absorbs it and rancid or bad flavored butter is the consequence. A moment's unprejudiced thought will convince any one of the impropriety of working butter with the bare hands. The practice should be discarded as one of the old ways of bad management. The neatness of it may well be called in question.

Butter should never be washed in water unless it be to remove the impurities which may have been imparted to it in working with the bare hands.—Journal of Agriculture.

What Farmer Boys Should Know.

Every farmer's boy should know how, sooner or later,

1. To dress himself, black his own shoes, and cut his brother's hair, wind a watch, sew on a button, make a bed, and keep all his clothes in perfect order, and neatly in place.
2. To harness a horse, grease a wagon, and drive a team.
3. To carve and wait on table.
4. To milk the cows, shear the sheep, and dress a veal or mutton.
5. To reckon money and keep accounts accurately, and according to good book-keeping rules.
7. To write a neat, appropriate, briefly expressed business letter, in a good hand, and fold and subscribe it properly, and write contracts.
7. To plow, sow grain or grass seed, drive a mowing machine, swing a scythe, build a neat stack and pitch hay.
8. To put up a package, build a fire, whitewash a wall, mend broken tools, and regulate a clock.

There are many other things which would render boys more useful to them-selves and others—these are merely a specimen.

From Artemus Ward, Jr.

WASHINGTON, May, 8 1863.

The Rebel Confederacy air not altogether Bragg'd yet.

But Hooker is all right.

Its the prevalyent of men high in military orthority here, that Hooker is all right.

I think so. So dus Old Abe.

Solemnly.

A. L. sed a gen'ral rain was Joe's greatest enermy.

"Air Gen'ral Rain a Copperhead?" I askt. "They're his greatest enermies."

"I mean," sez the Pres., I mean the rain from the element."

"O," sez I.

"A. L." I remarked agane, the Copperheads want Little Mack back to the army. Wot do you think about it."

"I can't afford it," sez he.

"Why not ?" sez I.

"Wal," sez he, "when he had command b4 he had 125,000 men facin rebels, and dun nothin but holler for more. Now that the rebs has 150,000, Young Nap, wood require 48,000, an still do nothin but holler fer more. So I carn't afford it."

"You air altogether right." sez I "Ant'there's one Gen'ral, Mr. Pres., you warnt right ort."

"Wot Gen'ral's that ?" sez he.

"A Gen'ral Draft."

An its comin to pars soon ef not sooner. But I'm exempter from the Conscription. Ive just discovered that nine fatherless and motherless orpans depend on me for support. An I intend 2 continoo in the supportin Biz till the draft air over.

The rebels—alias Copperheads—has been defeated in Conn. They've had thar pison fangs extracted a few. Its not troo, as the C. H. jernals assert that 100,000,000,000,20½ voluntiers returned from the army to these states fer the purpose of votin for the Union Govner. Scarcely. I questioned an intelligent contraband, and he sed it wasn't troo: I thort it was a more ov a vicey vercey,, so I askt a bloomin hero ef 100 Copperheads didn't leave the ranks to carst their votes for the C. H. Gov. ov Conn.

"None," sez he.

"How do you know ?" sez I.

"Why," sez he, "thar's not that many Copperheads in our army."

I was satisfied.

These C. H.'s air gay and festive sarpents. They want the nigger an the constitution preserved whole, They go in for Nigger and one Constitution, but not one country. Hardly. They don't keer a specked donkey what becums ov the Union. Whites, and the Union itself, so the Constitution & Slavery is preserved whole as they Was, Is, or Shood Be. accordin to thar idee ov things. Espeshilly Slavery. These Copperheads tell you, kotin wot they think Scriptoors ort to say, "Wot shall it prophet a man if he ganes the whole world, and the next too, incloodin a portion of Noo Jersey, ef he losses the Constitution?"

These same enermies of the Government have lately adopted a stunnin thing in the way of a Badge. It's a hefty idee—immence: They tare orf the defenseless femail wot lives on copper pennies, who has her hed tied up in rags with Liberty onto it —just as they hav bin tarin the pin fethers out ov the Burd ov Liberty, an tryin to smash everything else that has enny thing to do with Liberty. This badge they pin onto thar kotes, and think they'll pass for patriots—or any other riots. They muchly remind me ov the rebels when they display the Stars and Stripes to betray our solgers to gory graves. It means the same thing—an more 2. Sez a Copperhead to me the other day proudly displayin his badge:

"I'm a copperhead."

"An a chucklehed too," sez I. "But its a prety good idee for your party to ware those things. Its the only thing that sez Liberty. Phact."

"Yer a d—— abolishener," he civiliy replied, "Yer warnt to see the South lickt—that wot ales yer."

"I'll bet it is," sed I. "I'd like to see it done putty soonly, 2. But say, woodn't it be more appropriate ef, in-stead of Liberty, your Badge had on it the Constitution As It Is—eh?"

"Yer a——"

I didn't linger for the cuss to finish the sentenz, but I shoodn't wonder ef he was goin to call me an abolitioner agane, prefaced with a cuss word. I'll wager a moatilated greenback against a Wilmington shinplaster he was.

Onst upon a time I heard a copperhead make a speech. For treason, Jeff Davis in his parmiest days can't excel it. Nary time, The Cop. Hed. hisst 4th in the following style, or words to that effect, vizzard :

Feller Reptiles.—The abolishners air still persecootin the Confederacy. In a dispatch from Injiany [Those is my native State. A. W. Jr.,] it is stated that the Gen'ral commandin has "issoed an order to prevent our Southren brethr'n from convartin Yankee Bonns into Dollar Jewelry." This my hearers, is but another evidence ov the despotic power claimed an exercised by the minions ov the administration. To issoo prononesighamentato (I think that's what he called it,) against the south jest becuz they amooz themselves by makin stew pans out ov Lonkon's solgers' skull, and thus live up to the Constitution As It Is, where it refer to the "pursoot ov happiness"—I say to issoo a prononesighamentato for this, is so supremely ridiklus, that one can scarcely believe his earsight. How lorng, O how lorng air such petty acts of tyrany 2 larst. Ef our Southern friends chouse to cave wounded Union solgers heds and jab bayonets throo thar bodies, they will not be deterred from sich human acts by military orders—all ov which prove, my friends, concloosively porve slavery to be the niggers and and poor whites proper spear.

The reptile sed sum more, but suffishent for the evil is the day thereof, as the poick sez. After the C. H. got throo, a furrin lookin chap who was in the crowd, seein I was the only loyal personage in the assembled multitood, approached the undiuders an whispered :—

"My friend, kin you tell me the quickest way to get to the North ? I am a stranger in the U. S., an have lost me reckoning. I want to get to to the North ?"

"To the North ?" sez, "Why you air in the North." The chap looked doobious & sez he :

"Don't trifle with me, stranger. I see I've got into the very hot hed of treason. I wood like to get North among Union men."

I larft one ov my gay and happy larfs, and sez, "You are in a copperhead meetin. which air the same thing as a hot hed bed of treason—or eny other bed ov treason. But you are in the North 2.

I had to talk to the chap near 4 and 20 hours ear I could convins him he was in the North. An then he sed the house must be occupied by rebels. But it wasn't tho—nor Southern rebels—only Northern traitors.

2 troo! 2 troo!
Yours sum more,
A. WARD, Jr.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE
Mankato Weekly Union,
Published every Friday by
CHARLES H. SLOCUM,
AT
ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of
PRINTING
Neatly and cheaply executed
SUCH AS
CARDS,
PROGRAMMES,
BILL-HEADS,
CIRCULARS,
POSTERS.
ETC,,

Having received a supply of
NEW MATERIAL
from the East, am prepared to do
PLAIN AND FANCY WORK
in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

PATENT FORCE PUMP.

THE undersigned has purchased the right to manufacture and sell, the KENTUCKY PATENT FORCE PUMP, one of which is now on exhibition at the Mankato House. This pump is very simple and convenient in all its parts, and peculiarly adapted to this climate It is placed at the bottom of the well or cistern, and is worked by a handle at the top, the water being forced through an iron pipe. When not in action, the water remaining in the chambers readily finds its way back to the well again, and is consequently uncontaminated by any action of the metal upon it and is also prevented from freezing for the same reason. For further particulars enquire of, JAMES T. BESSER,

MANKATO HOUSE.

MANKATO - MINNESOTA.

THIS House has been thoroughly renovated newly papered and painted, with many new improvements, which makes it now equal as to comfort and convenience to any House in the State.

General Stage Office for all points in he State.

Good barn and stabling with attentive ostler. Baggage conveyed to and from steamboats free of charge. Wines, liquors, cigars, etc., con stantly on hand.

☞Farmers will find this House a good place to stop, it being centrally located, plenty of barroom, and charges moderate.

may 7 H. H. Shaubhut.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
BLUE EARTH COUNTY. }

MANKATO, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 13th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet been redeemed, I will execute and deliver to the purchasers of said lands at said sale, or their assignees, deeds for the same on and after the 17th day of January, A. D., 1864, unless said lands shall before that time have been redeemed. And notice is also given [illegible] description of [illegible] of said land [illegible].

CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.	NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.
Unknown	1	24	28.66	Unknown	1	A	1.48
do	5	24	2.29	do	7	A	3.97
do	9	24	7.45	do	8	A	3.97
J Ady	9	28	13.93	do	9	A	3.97
F C Roosevelt	6	58	2.96	do	10	A	3.97

Willard & Besser's Addition.

Unknown, lot 10, block 19, amount 2.66.

NAME.	DES.	S.	T.	R.	AMT.
H W Lamberton	e hf nw qr and n hf sw qr	7	108	29	4.17
Earl Parthum	sw qr	31	109	29	11.7
M Garlinger	ne qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	32	109	[illegible]	[illegible]
do	se hf se qr	31	109	29	15.21
Dennis O'Flynn	se qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	27	109	29	11.81
Wm P Smith	s hf ne qr and ne qr se qr and lot 2	2	107	28	13.85
T F Anderson	e qr	20	107	28	15.14
H Wright	se qr	8	106	28	11 10
William Gage	s w qr	17	106	28	13.73
Alex Wood	ne qr	1	105	28	41.00
Unknown	sw qr except 17 ac redm'd	5	105	28	14.66
H G Tryon	se qr nw qr	5	105	28	5.62
H G Tryon	ne qr nw qr	34	105	28	7.26
McMurtrie & Comstock	n hf sw qr	12	105	29	10.90
do	e hf sw qr and w hf se qr except 25ac redeemed	12	105	29	33.36
Alex Wood	nw qr	6	105	27	49.87
Unknown	nw qr	9	108	25	19.28
A Frazer	n hf ne qr and ne qr nw qr	35	109	25	14.33

Internal Revenue Notice.

U. S. ASSESSOR'S OFFICE, }
First Collection District, Minn. }
Rochester, July 17th, 1863. }

NOTICE is hereby given that the lists of all taxes assessed under the Excise Tax law of the United States within Division No 16, comprising Blue Earth, Watonwan, Brown, Renville, Cottonwood, Murray, Red Wood and Rock counties will be open for the inspection of all parties concerned for the space of fifteen [15] days from this date at the office of William Reid, Assistant Assessor, in the village of Mankato.

Further notice is hereby given that I will be at said office on the 3rd day of August, A D., 1863, for the purpose of hearing all appeals which shall be made as provided under section 15 of the Excise Tax Law of the United States.

GEORGE W. BAKER,
Assessor First Dist. Minnesota.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
In District Court. }
County of Blue Earth—6th District.

To Aaron N. Dukes, James Thompson. Sen. Ralph A. Loveland, Peter Berry, John H. Burgess, Henry Himmelman, John A. Willard, Sheldon F. Barney, George A. Roberts and Benjamin F, Smith, defendants:

In the name of the State of Minnesota, you are hereby summoned to answer the complaint of Ezra R. Dibblee, John C. Work and Lansing C. Moore, plaintiffs, a copy of which is hereunto annexed, and to serve a copy of your answer to me at my office in Mankato, within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and if you fail to answer said complaint as required, the plaintiffs will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint. Dated January 27th, 1863.

FRANKLIN H. WAITE,
1-3w Atty for Plffs.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.
On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow :

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.

Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W, B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
1y Proprietor.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL POFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DEBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot. Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime. Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DEBUISSON
Mankato, May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

NEW
SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work, is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRING AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand

Cash paid for green and dry hides.

Mankato, June 26, 1863.

Mankato
DRUG STORE.

—_—

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps. Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,
or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S
SEWING MACHINES.

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN.☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office F. M. Johnson, Agent.

St. Paul, Feb. 10th, 1863 july17-tf.

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.
OF
The Chicago Tribune.
A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and and advocates are :—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obedience to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wildcat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune challenges comparison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers: in advance,	$1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1 25,)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1 10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, and one to getter up of the club,	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.

One year $7 00 | Six months, $1 00

TERMS OF THE TRI WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1:
Clubs of five, (rate of $3 61,) $18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 51) 35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address
TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

HARPER'S
New Monthly Magazine.

Critical Notices of the Press.

The volumes Bound constitute of themselves a library of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world —N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature. —Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, by mail, post-paid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents. Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eigh cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00; Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year ,$5.00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2.50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2,50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted for postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must be paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS.
Franklyn Square, New York.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co.'s GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEACHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plo s,

Agricultural Implements;

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:

Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains, Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

I am Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes 'Header'.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.

Mankato, April 23rd, 1863.

NEW LIVERY
&
Sale Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.
☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜
☞Charges moderate.☜
D. H. TYNER.

The Mankato Weekly Union.

CHARLES H. SLOCUM. "LIBERTY AND UNION, NOW AND FOREVER, ONE AND INSEPARABLE." Editor and Proprietor.

VOLUME 1. MANKATO, BLUE EARTH COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 7, 1863. NUMBER 4.

THE WEEKLY UNION,

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

CHARLES H. SLOCUM.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One Dollar and Fifty Cents per Year.

☞ All subscriptions paid in advance. ☜

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

1 square	1 week	$1 00	2 squares	6 months	9 00
1 "	2 weeks	1 50	2 "	1 year	15 00
1 "	3 "	1 75	3 "	1 week	2 25
1 "	4 "	2 00	3 "	2 "	3 00
1 "	5 "	2 25	3 "	3 "	4 00
1 "	6 "	2 50	3 "	4 "	5 00
1 "	7 "	2 75	3 "	3 months	9 00
1 "	2 months	3 00	3 "	6 "	12 00
1 "	3 "	3 75	3 "	1 year	20 00
1 "	4 "	4 50	¼ col	6 months	15 00
1 "	5 "	5 25	¼ "	1 year	25 00
1 "	6 "	6 00	½ "	6 months	18 00
1 "	1 year	10 00	½ "	1 year	30 00
2 "	1 week	1 75	¾ "	6 months	25 00
2 "	2 "	2 50	¾ "	1 year	40 00
2 "	3 "	3 00	[illegible]	1 year	50 00
2 "	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	1 year	70 00
2 "	3 months	6 00

Business cards of five lines or less, $5. Transient advertisements must be paid in advance—all others quarterly.

BUSINESS CARDS.

EVERETT P. FREEMAN
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
OFFICE.—Next door south of the Post Office, MANKATO, - - - - - MINN.
Prompt attention given to claims to be prosecuted before the State Board of Auditors, and to Court and Office business. Collections made and conveyancing done on reasonable tesmr

MANKATO INS. AGENCY.
HARTFORD.
PHOENIX.
MERCHANTS—FIRE INS. CO'S.
CHARTER OAK LIFE INS. CO.
Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid by:
JOHN N. HALL,
Resident Agent,

O. P. LIEBERG,
FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER —Having opened a Barber Shop with a view to establishing a permanent business in Mankato, I am prepared to wait upon gentlemen, and will guarantee satisfaction in every department of my business.
June 26, 1863.

G. A. STURGES, M. D.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
MANKATO, MINN.
OFFICE:—At his residence second door above the Mankato House.

Z. PADDOCK,
Attorney and Counselor at Law, and General Land Agent. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to him. Mankato, Blue Earth Co., Minn.

FRED'K HILDEBRANDT,
Manufacturer of and Dealer in all kinds of
FURNITURE & GILT MOULDING,
ALSO,
Imitation of Rosewood Mouldings, Ovals, Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames.
Ware Rooms in Schurmeier's Block, Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minn.

M. ZENOPOLSKI, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.
OFFICE:—Opposite the Clifton House.

DAVID WILCOX,
JUDGE OF PROBATE,
& ATT'Y AT LAW,
MANKATO - - - - - MINN.

WM. R. McMAHAN, M. D.
Office and Residence old at his stand, on the corner of Hickory and Second streets, one Block back of the Mankato House, where he will be found at all times, except when professionally absent.
He will furnish and compound his own medicines.

EDWARD OGLESBY,
Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hawley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work in his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October,

S. FINCH, O. O. PITCHER.
FINCH & PITCHER,
Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,
MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA.

MANKATO NURSERY.
THE Proprietor has for sale a choice collection of
Fruit Trees,
Comprising Apple, Pear, Cherry, Plum, and Quince Trees. Also a good assortment of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants, Rasp berries, Strawberries, and Pie Plant; together with
ORNAMENTAL TREES
Shrubs, Evergreens, Flowering Plants, &c
ROB'T GOODYEAR,
Mankato, Sept. 1861.

FAIRBANKS'
STANDARD
SCALES,
OF ALL KINDS.
FAIRBANKS, GREENLEAF & CO.,
172 LAKE STREET, CHICAGO.
☞ BUY ONLY THE GENUINE.

SOUTH BEND MILLS.
BIERBAUER & ROCKEY,
HAVING purchased the above mills, are prepared to manufacture all grades of FLOUR, CORN MEAL, ETC.
Wheat will be ground for every sixth bushel in quantities not less than ten bushels.
☞ Flour and mill stuffs always on hand at market prices. Feb 6-3m

Poetry.

NOT YET.

BY WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT.

O country, marvel of the earth!
O realm to sudden greatness grown!
The age that gloried in thy birth,
Shall it behold thee overthrown?
Shall traitors lay that greatness low?
No, land of hope and blessings, No!

And he who wears thy glorious name,
Thall we, like cravens, stand apart,
When those who thou has trusted nim
The death-blow at thy generous heart?
Forth goes the battle cry, and lo!
Hosts rise in harness, shouting No!

Are they who founded in our land,
The power that rules from sea to sea;
Bled they in vain, or vainly planned
To leave their country great and free?
Their sleeping ashes from below,
Send up the trilling murmur No!

Knit they the gentle ties which long
These sister States were proud to wear
And forged the kindly links so strong,
For idle hands in sport to tear?
For scornful hands aside to throw?
No, by our fathers' memory, No!

Our humming marts, our iron ways
Our wind-tossed wood on mountain crest;
The hoarse Atlantic, with its bays,
The calm, proud ocean of the West,
And Mississippi's torrent flow,
And loud Niagara, answer No?

Not yet the hour is nigh, when they
Who deep in Eld's deep twilight sit,
Earth's ancient kings shall rise and say,
"Proud country welcome to the pit!"
So soon art thou like us brought low?
No, sullen group of shadows, No!

For now behold the arm that gave
This victory in our fathers' day.
Strong as of old to guard and save—
That mighty arm that none can stay—
On clouds above and fields below,
Writes in men's sight the answer, No!

Select Miscellany.

THE UNEDUCATED WIFE.

CHAPTER III.

It is impossible to give you any idea of the agony and grief of Isidore; she seemed almost beside herself; and Fitzgerald, alarmed for her health, hurried her away as soon as possible after the burial of the old General, who was followed to his humble grave by his two children and the faithful Indians.

I shall pass over their journey; Isidore's wonder at the towns and cities they visited: and the consummation of their wishes in an union, which, as it was founded on the most disinterested attachment, promised interrupted happiness.

It was many months after their marriage, before Fitzgerald took his wife to his residence, on the banks of the Hudson. It was a most delightful place—large, convenient, elegant; and the gentle Isidore thought, as she wandered through the superb apartments, how gratified her dear grandfather would have been to see her mistress of such an establishment, and the wife of such a man as Fitzgerald. The library was her favorite apartment. There was a most romantic view of the windings of the river form its windows; it was commodious and well furnished with the most valuable books, and all that was necessary for the employment of an enlightened and cultivated mind, and the requisites for improving an ignorant one. Isidore was too timid to ask questions. She idolized her husband: looked up to him with a reverence, a respect, that placed her at such a distance from him, it was impossible for him to enter into the feeling of her mind or heart. Indeed, there was no one that she could make her confidant.

They had now been six months married; part of the time had been spent in traveling, and part at their delightful residence. Fitzgerald had brought home a distant relation of his, for a companion and friend to Isidore. She was fashionable and appeared amiable; and he thought that the genteel Caroline Moreland would be useful to his lovely wife, as she would need initiating into the polished circles which she must unavoidably enter. Many of his friends had called to see them; all were loud in praise of the exquisite little girl he had married. The house, he knew, would soon be filled with visitors from the city. He relied upon Caroline as a chaperone; but still he was too proud to acknowledge that his beautiful wife needed any instruction; and he feared it would pain her affectionate heart to inform her of her deficiencies. He was astonished to see that the charming creature, who, in the forest shades, moved with the grace of a young fawn, was, in the drawing-room, when surrounded with a fashionable party, stiff, awkward, and embarrassed. "But she is so young,—so very young," he would say, "it will soon wear off." Yet the very remedy he had provided, only increased the evil. Caroline was envious, indolent, and selfish; and the gentle and amiable Isidore could not unbosom herself to the cold-hearted votress of fashion. She sighed often when she felt her ignorance and awkwardness. Her devoted love to Albert made her so fearful of saying anything to mortify or disturb him, that she would often hesitate, stop, and tremble, when she was conversing, and saw her husband's eyes fixed on her. Fitzgerald had expected, for several days, some particular friends, to whom he wished his wife to be agreeable. He told her one morning, as she stood by the glass, arranging her hair, that Major Haircourt and Mr. Campbell would be with them on the following morning; and, gently pressing her hand, he added:

"Be yourself, my dear Isidore; imagine that we are in the the forest, that my friends are Sanaqua and Watapan; let me see you easy and cheerful before them. Shake off that timidity and fear that destroys all your movements. They are both elegant, polished gentlemen, and—"

He stopped—for he felt that Isidore, though exquisitely beautiful and amiable, was not a companion for an accomplished man. She raise her timid eyes to his, and endeavored to smile away her emotion; but her heart was full, and she took down her hair again to hide the tears that fell upon her bosom. He lifted the curls from her brow, and gently kissing her left the apartment.

"My fears are true!" said she, as soon as the door was closed; "he is ashamed of me! Oh! my revered grand-father, you was right when you said a child like me, without education, could never make such a man as Albert Fitzgerald happy."

She pressed her forehead with her hands, leaned on her dressing table, and wept bitterly. Little did the noble minded and kind hearted Fitzgerald know the pain he had inflicted. He loved the gentle creature deeply, devotedly, and would have pierced his own bosom sooner than wound her; but he began to see they had no sentiments in common, except their love of nature. She looked upon her husband almost with wonder, when she heard him display the rich treasure of his polished mind. Worlds would she have given, could she have commanded them, to have understood and conversed with him. She read—but her untutored mind, with none to regulate and guide it, was little benefitted by books; besides, they had crowds of company, and her time had been much occupied in walking the grounds, riding, sailing, music, dancing, visiting, &c.

Isidore often thought how much happier she should have been with Fitzgerald in the wilderness. There she was at home, "but here," she would say, "I shall be almost a burden to him for whom I could toil for ever."

The two gentlemen came, and Isidore, knowing they were her husband's particular friends, took great pains with her attire, and she never looked more beautiful that when she entered the room, leaning on Fitzgerald's arm. They gazed on her with admiring eyes, and soon procured a seat near her. Had her husband left her, all would have been well; but her wounded spirit shrunk from his observation, and she answered only in monosyllables. Finding it impossible to draw her into conversation, they soon retired to another part of the room. Caroline Moreland, as she seated herself on the sofa beside her, inquired.

"What is the matter with my good cousin, to-day? You look quite forlorn. Has your canary bird taken flight, or your little spaniel run away?"

Isidore blushed; she saw that Major Harcourt had heard the salutation, and she was confused and distressed. After a few moments silence, she said in a low.

"I have been indisposed, and had some idea of not leaving my room; but I thought a walk in the air might be of service to me."

"You don't look very ill," said Caroline. "I never saw you have more color; but you might as well have remained there," she continued in an under tone, and with a scornful look; we should scarcely have missed you."

Isidore felt too wretched even to reply to this unfeeling speech. The visitors were very animated and agreeable. The only one who appeared listless and dispirited was the innocent mistress of the mansion. She was unacquainted with fashionable life, and the fear of saying something that might displease her husband, kept her silent. He saw she was dull, and, drawing her arm within his, he proposed a walk around the garden, inviting as many as chose, to follow him.

"Come, Fitzgerald," said Major Harcourt, as they left the house, "you are too selfish; allow me the honor," and atempted to take the arm of Isidore; but she clung to her husband, who, confused at her showing so much reluctance to accept the proffered attention, said, as he hurried her down a retired avenue.

"Mrs. Fitzgerald is indisposed. I will return to you directly."

When they were quite out of hearing, he begged to know what was the matter, and why she appeared so unhappy? She sighed, and a tear shot into her eye.

"I am not well: and—

"Oh, if you really feel ill, retire; and I will apologize to our guest."

She was glad to avail herself of the opportunity, and was soon quietly seated in her own room.

Many weeks passed much in the same manner, and Isidore grew more and more weary of society. She was alone! Her only enjoyment was walking around the estate, gathering and decking herself with choice flowers, comforting the sick, and playing with the children of the tenants. One evening she was returning from such an excursion, and as the sun was setting behind a rich curtain of crimson and gold, she threw herself on a bank under the wall of a summer house, covered with honeysuckle and grapevine, to enjoy the scene. She had not been there long, when she heard voices, and not wishing to be seen, drew still further under the vines.

"It is vain you excuse her, on account of her being young. I tell you, Harcourt, she is a beautiful fool; and I pity Fitzgerald most sincerely. He has been fascinated by a pair of bright eyes. Did you see the expression of his face this morning, when some one asked her which was her favorite hero?"

"I did, Campbell, and felt for the distress of his lovely wife; but do you not see that it is her timid sweetness, united with her love for him, that makes her appear so much embarrassed and so awkward? She looks on him as a being of superior order; and her very anxiety not to mortify him, causes half her mistakes. There was no cause for her tears this morning. There are many agreeable and polite women who make their husbands very happy, that know nothing of Julius Caesar or Alexander; but the timid creature thought she ought to know, and feared that her husband would despise her for her ignorance."

"Well you will acknowledge she appears like a fool, and that she can never make Fitzgerald happy."

"I fear she never will; but she does not seem like a fool to a close observer. It was unfortunate for her, as well as our friend, that she had not married some poor man; then the duties and cares of her station would have wholly occupied her attention, and she would have been contented, yet, I am convinced, that she has mind enough, if it could be properly strengthened and cultivated. Were she a fool, she would be happy here, surrounded with everything, as as she is, to please the eye; but you see she is not, and I fear never will be, for Fitzgerald cannot send her away to school. He would not wound her gentle nature; and she has not resolution to leave him for a few years. If she had but a real female friend to advice her—if the mother of Fitzgeral were but alive—but Caroline Moreland is to envious of her beauty ever to be a friend to Isidore."

"I see how it will be; his house will soon be uninteresting to him, and he will travel again; perhaps go to Europe for a few years. Do you think, Harcourt, such a baby as she, is fit to leave without a protector?"

"But you know, my friend, she will not always be a baby."

"I don't know that; I fear she will; but, soft, here is Fitzgerald coming down the lawn; let's join him."

They left the summer-house; and the trembling Isidore, with her heart swelling with grief and mortification almost to agony, remained till they were out of sight; then hastening to her room, she locked her door and gave vent to her feelings. When the servant came to call her to tea, she was really indisposed; she desired him to tell his master that she was in bed with the headache; but should be quite well soon, if left alone. When Fitzgerald retired for the night, she seemed to be in a sweet slumber, and he stood by the window some moments watching the moon, over which the fleecy clouds moved rapidly. He saw the spire of the church illuminated by its rays. There reposed the bodies of his parents. He sighed deeply.

"Oh! my mother, my highly gifted and accomplished mother," said Albert, "how much I miss you. I fear—"

Again he sighed, but said no more. Isidore was so much agitated she found it almost impossible to feign sleep. She passed a restless night, but felt more calm in the morning, for her resolution was taken. She had determined to leave her husband; and, much as she loved him, to leave him for ever, unless she could qualify herself for the station in which he had placed her. She was much more composed, and appeared to more advantage than she had since her arrival at the mansion. She felt that she should make a great sacrifice in leaving one who was beloved beyond expression, but the thought gave firmness to her step, and expression to her countenance.

An opportunity soon offered to put her designs in execution. Fitzgerald concluded to accompany his friends to the city, and stay a few weeks, to settle some business. He knew that his wife and Caroline were invited to make a visit, at a country seat some miles distant, and told her, when he took leave, to ride, visit, walk, and amuse herself in her own way—he should not be gone long. Their visitors had all departed. Caroline said she should go the next day to Mrs. Bensel's as the house was too lonely with no one but Isidore for a companion. "Now," thought Isidore, "is the time." The first day after Caroline's departure was spent by this disinterested and amiable woman in planing and arranging her dangerous undertaking; the next, in packing her clothes and writing to her husband. She told the old steward that she wished him to speak a passage for her in the stage, on the morrow, as she intended to visit her husband.

"Going alone madam?" he asked; did not master wish me to take you down in the carriage?"

"No, David; you are to stay here. I shall leave the key of your master's room with you; so you can send us what we wish for in the city."

The old man, bowed and retired. She wandered round the rooms, wept long before her husband's picture; but retired early, as the stage was as to call for her at seven. The next day she was on her way to the city, towards which she travelled until night, after which it was impossible to get the smallest trace of her.

Fitzgerald returned in a few weeks; and when he approached his house, was surprised at not seeing Isidore, even at the window. Caroline was leaning quite over the balcony, and seemed looking for some one. He asked for his wife.

"Your wife? why she went to you three weeks ago!"

Fitzgerald turned pale, and, sinking on the steps, seemed lost in an agony of thought. He summoned all the domestics, but could learn nothing, only that she had left home to join him. He went to her room, examined everything, but could find no clue to guide him.

"She cannot have left me," said he. Oh, Isidore! who has torn you from my arms?"

At length, on opening his own desk, he discovered a letter addressed to him, in the hand-writing of his wife, and what was his astonishment at learning that she had left him and—for ever.

TO BE CONCLUDED.

The President.

As we write this article to day, July 1st, the dark and almost impenetrable war cloud is gathering its contending hosts in and around the nation. A few days, perhaps and we shall know that our noble army has been victorious in one of the grandest struggles ever witnessed on the Western Continent, or that our armies have failed and the capitol fallen into the hands of the enemy. It is not necessary for us to add that it is the prayer of union men that the enemy may be totally annihilated.

But, in the very midst of all the preparations for the impending conflict, the daring, the heroic, the chivalrous leader of the army, Gen. Hooker, is relieved of his command, and another general appointed as his successor. Hooker was the bravest among the brave, the most daring among the daring—right nobly has he earned the cognomen of "Fighting Joe Hooker." His name stands forth brightly on the historic page as one who has willingly endangered his life for the safety of his country.

Of Maj. Gen. George G. Meade, we know but little. He has rendered his country good service in the sphere in which he has acted. We shall not write laurals for him now, but prefer to wait until they are won. We hail him as the commander of a brave and noble army, and wish him great success. We sincerely hope that he is the Moses to lead this people out of the wilderness. But when we look back at the past we must. all loyal men must feel sorry that Hooker has been relieved, Yet we must believe that the President had good cause to remove him from command.

To remove a commander in the face of the enemy, when that enemy is straining every nerve to discomfort our army, is a hazardous piece of business. Either with cause or without cause, all the responsibility rests upon the President. We believe that all his officials acts have been done in good faith. President Lincoln is honest, he is patriotic, he is truthful, and he is true to the best interest of the republic. Other men may be selfish; they may turn traitors; they may seek their own aggrandizement in their country's ruin,—but none of these are possible with the President. He works for no faction, no party interests, but for the good of the whole country and the people. He has had great difficulties, but the trials and necessities of the present hour are enough to bow the head of the strongest mind to the earth. Are they not sufficient to seal the lips of every man against grumbling at the President?

He deserves the confidence of the entire people. Let it be given to him until this cursed rebellion shall be effectually crushed. We make this appeal in his behalf, not because he was elected on our party ticket, not because at one time he ran upon the republican ticket, but because he is the constitutionally elected and inaugurated President of the United States. He is the President of every American citizen, whether native or foreign born, and, as such, should be respected and supported. If there is any wrong in supporting the President, then commend us to that wrong. If advocating the restoration of the Union by a vigorous prosecution of the war makes one an abolitionist, then commend us to abolitionists. If believing in the ultimate success of our armies makes one fanatical, then commend us to fanaticism.—Hasting Conserver.

The Union League before the Grand Jury.

The Grand Jury of Crawford county, Ohio have recently been making an investigation of the Union League. A large number of witnesses from Crestline and Bucyrus were examined. We learn from the Bucyrus Journal, each witness was dismissed by the Grand Jury, with the assurance that the organization was not an objectionable one, and that the oath taken by them was not any more objectionable, and not unlike that taken by Grand Jurors themselves. The Journal gives a synopsis of the testimony taken, as furnished by the witnesses and reported by the Jury:

CHAS. BRIMSLEY'S EXAMINATION,

Foreman—Where do you reside?

Mr. Brimsley—At Crestline in this county.

F.—Do you know what we have summoned you here for?

B.—I do not;

F.—Do you know of a secret organization in Crestline?

B.—Yes I do.

F.—Is there an organization there hostile to the General Government?

B.—I do not know of any.

F.—Do you know of a secret Union organization?

B.—I do.

F.—Do you belong to that organization?

B.—I do.

F.—Do you obligate yourself in that organization that you will not divulge anything in regard to the business transaction?

B.—I do.

F.—Do you think the oath administered by the Clerk of the Court more binding than that administered by your Lodge?

B,—They are about the same—an oath is an oath.

F.—Give me the nature and objects of the organization,

B.—It is neither political nor religious, but strictly for the advancement of the cause of the Union, and the maintenance of the laws.

F.—How do persons become members of your order?

B.—By being proposed, if qualified they are accepted.

F.—What are the qualifications?

B.—A member must be a citizen of the United States, a good Union man an and adherent to the Constitution. No man that is a rebel, Secessionist, infidel, or mean man can get in.

F.—What do you mean by a rebel?

B.—Any man who will not subject himself to the Government is a rebel—let him live North or South.

F.—Do you as an organization, indorse the Union and the Constitution?

B.—We do, and nothing else.

F.—Do you indorse the President's proclamation?

B.—We do.

F.—Is it the intention of the order to aid the Government with all your power?

B.—It is, we are for the Union and nothing but the Union and Constitution.

F.—Do you intend to be good peaceable men?

B.—Yes, and nothing else.

F.—Do you indorse Lincoln and his advisers? and do you think he has done right in all respects.?

B.—It is a matter that is never admitted in our Lodge—politics is not our business; when the proper time comes we will show our likes and dislikes.

F,—Are you in favor of mob law?

B.—Not in the least.

F.—When you are satisfied that men are rebels or traitors, do you report the fact to the Lodge?

B.—We do.

F—What measures do you adopt with a rebel?

B.—We endeavor to persuade him to be a Union man and quit treasonable acts and language. If he does not, then we tell him he must, and has got to dry up.

Josiah Young testified:

F.—Whom do you admit?

Y,—All good Union men. We have among us, Republicans, Democrats, and a few Abolitionists.

F.—Why do you admit Abolitionists?

Y.—If they are not strictly loyal, we make them so.

F.—Do you go in for mob law?

Y.—We do not. It is our design to maintain and sustain the law. If a man violates law it is our duty to make him amenable to it.

MARTIN DEAL'S TESTIMONY.

F.—Do you belong to a secret organization known as the Union League?

D.—I belong to something of the kind, do not know certain as to the name.

F.—Do you or the members believe in encouraging riots?

D.—I do not, and do not belong to any such organization, or any organization that I am ashamed of, or to any that I am unwilling to give all the information in my possession, except the signs and pass words.

F.—Do you know of any organization having or have you concealed weapons?

D—I have none myself, nor has any organization to which I belong.

F.—What oath do you take?

D.—It is to maintain the laws of our country in opposition to riots and treason,

F.—Are you to defend any particular Administration or set of men?

D.—We are not.

F.—Are you to do this when you are called upon by the proper authorities, or on your own account?

D.—When I am called on.

Another witness:

What are the objects and principles of the Union organization?

They are of such a character that any man who is not a traitor or a rebel would be willing to endorse them at any time, or any place. We are "for the Union as it was and the Constitution as it is,"

How large is your organization?

On the first of January we numbered 60,000 members in this State; now we number, I suppose, from 90,000 to 150,000 in Ohio; I am also led to believe that we are very numerous in the loyal States, including Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri, and that the soldiers of the Southern and Western army belong to it in large numbers.

A Curious Married Couple.

In 1731, a girl named Mary East was engaged to be married to a young man for whom she entertained the strongest affection but upon his taking to evil courses, or to tell the whole truth being hanged for highway robbery, she determined to run no risk of any such disappointment from the opposite sex in future. A female friend of hers having suffered in some similar manner, and being of the like mind with herself, they agreed to pass for the rest of their days as man and wife, in some place where they were not known. The question of which should be the husband was decided by lot in favor of Mary East, who accordingly assumed the muscular habit, and under the name of James How, took a small public house at Epping for himself and consort. Here, and subsequently at other inns, they lived together in good repute with their neighbors for eighteen years—during which neither experienced the least pang of marital jealousy—and realized a considerable sum of money. The supposed James How served all the parish offices without discovery, and was several times foreman of juries. While occupying the White Horse at Poplar, however, his secret was observed by a woman who had known him in his youth; and from that time the happy couple became the victims of her extortion. First five, then ten, then one hundred pounds were demanded as the price of her silence, and even then these bribes were found to be insufficient. At last, however, the prosecutor pushed matters to far, and killed the goose that laid such golden eggs. James brought the whole matter against a magistrate, and attired, awkwardly enough, in the proper garments of her sex, herself witnessed against the offender. who was imprisoned for a considerable term. Exposure, however, of course followed upon the trial, and the White Horse had to be disposed of, and the landlord and landlady to retire from public life into retirement. After thirty-four years of pretended matrimony, Mrs. How died, the disconsolated widower survived long afterwards, but never again took to himself another spouse. Neither husband or wife had ever been seen to dress a jaunt of meat; nor did they give entertainments to their friends like other couples; neither although in excellent circumstances, (having acquired between three and four thousand pound,) did they keep man-servant or maid-servant, but Mary East served the customers and went on errands, while her wife attended solely to the affairs of the house.

* * *

CHRISTIANS MINGLING WITH THE WORLD.—Christians who wish ot preserve the spirit of their religion should be very careful how they mingle with the world. He who is pleased with the company of ungodly men, no matter however witty or learned, is either himself one with them or is drinking into their spirit. It is impossible to associate with such by choice without receiving a portion of the contagion. A man may be amused or delighted with such people, but he will return, even from the festival of wit, with a lean soul. Howsoever contiguous they may be, yet the Church and the world are separated by an impassable gulf.—Dr. Adam Clark.

* * *

IMPUDENT QUESTION.—To ask an unmarried lady how old she is.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

The Weekly Union.

Mankato, Friday, Aug. 7, 1863.

Republican Union Convention.

The Republicans and all other unconditional Union men throughout the State of Minnesota, who are earnest and honest supporters of the Administration, and who will stand by it without fear or favor in all its efforts to crush rebellion and maintain the Union, and who desire to see no cessation of hostilities until the glorious old flag of our country shall wave over a united Republic, "without a stripe erased or polluted, or a single star obscured,"—and all, in fine, who are uncompromisingly hostile to traitors, whether open, armed rebels in the South, or covert advocates in the North of a damaging and humiliating peace, will assemble in convention at St. Paul, at Ingersol's Hall, on Wednesday, August the 19th, 1864, at 11 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following offices:

Governor;
Lieutenant Governor;
Secretary of State;
State Treasurer;
Attorney General;
Auditor of State;
Clerk of the Supreme Court.

The different counties will be entitled to be represented in the Convention by Delegates, who are bona fide residents of the counties from which they are accredited, as follows:

Anoka	2	Morrison	1
Benton	2	Mower	2
Blue Earth	4	Nicollet	3
Brown	2	Olmstead	6
Carver	3	Pine	1
Chisago	2	Ramsey	8
Dakotah	7	Renville	1
Dodge	3	Rice	5
Faribault	1	Scott	5
Fillmore	9	Sherburne	1
Freeborn	3	Sibley	3
Hennepin	8	Stearns	3
Isanti	1	Steele	2
Goodhue	6	St. Louis	1
Houston	5	Wabashaw	7
Le Sueur	4	Winona	6
McLeod	1	Waseca	2
Meeker	1	Wright	3
Mille Lac	1	Washington	4

No Delegates will be admitted from unorganized or uninhabited counties, not enumerated above.

By order of the Republican Central Committee.

ROBT. F. FISK, Ch'n.
WILFORD L. WILSON,
ANDREW NESSEL,
D. BLAKELY,
J. B. GILFILLAN,
BENJ. F. SMITH.

ST. PAUL, July 8, 1863.

In response to the above call, the Republicans and all other unconditional union men named therein of Blue Earth County are hereby requested to elect delegates in the several towns to represent them in a County Convention to be held at Mankato, on Saturday, the 15th of August at 2 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of choosing four delegates to said State Convention.

The ratio of representation will be as follows:

Mankato,	7	Shelby,	2
South Bend,	4	Sterling,	2
Judson,	2	Mapleton,	1
Butternut Valley,	2	Danville,	1
Cereseo,	1	Le Ray,	1
Watonwan,	5	Jamestown,	1
Vernon,	2	Lime,	1

Ignoring past differences, mindful of present duties, and hopeful for the future, let us strive to put the right men in the right places, and while our gallant soldiers are shedding their blood so profusely to uphold our glorious union, let us show them that what their valor secures shall not be jeopardized by us at home.

Per order of the Republican Co. Com.
J. T. WILLIAMS,
July 24th, 1863. Chairman.

TOWN CAUCUSES.

In the call for the County Convention no time was mentioned for the several towns to hold their Caucuses. In order that it may be uniform we would suggest Friday, the 14th inst.

LITLE CROW'S REPORTED DEATH.

A correspondent from Capt. Fisk's expedition, to the Pioneer, says the reported death of Little Crow is credited by the General, Major Brown, and Capt. Forbes, all of whom are personally acquainted with him. If he is dead it will be likely to dishearten his band exceedingly, and may lead to their surrender. We shall know more about it within forty-eight hours.

"BULLY FOR YANCEY."

We were suprised to hear on the receipt of news of the death of the traitor Yancey, a young man, whose education had been slightly neglected, but who, on the whole is rather a good fellow, use the common phrase, "Bully for Yancey." It is well known that the Romans had a rule that was sacred with them, and that was, "to speak well of the dead." That rule should be strictly observed in this country. But we can't have everything as it should be. Should Vallandigham die, it would be just like some of the boys, to say of him as they did of Yancey, 'Bully for Vallandigham.' Unless something is done, the next thing we shall hear will be, "Bully for Old Kentuck," just because she has given the nice little majority of 20,000, for the Union Ticket. Whenever a man or set of men do their country the greatest good in their power, either by dying or otherwise, we should speak well of them. To guard against further violations of this rule, we will remind our readers of the election soon to be held in Ohio. When that is over and the news spreads from Maine to Georgia, that she has given 150,000, majority for the Union ticket, then depend upon it we shall hear, "Bully for Ohio."

These things cannot much longer be endured, because there are men in Minnesota who don't like to hear it. They never use the phrase (particularly when the Union is ahead,) and yet they are good Union men! BUT!

We hope for the credit of Minnesota that when the State election is over, and the Union ticket elected by 10,000 to 15,000 majority, we shall not hear that old sound "Bully for Minnesota." "Bully for ——well, we don't know who will be the Union candidate for Governor. If we did we could tell who would be "Bully."

[Communicated.]

FREDERICK DIEHR.

IT becomes our painful duty to-day to record the death of another brave soldier of freedom, Frederick Diehr, of this place, Sergeant in Company H. of the glorious old Minnesota First, who was wounded at the battle of Gettysburgh. Connected with the Quartermaster's department, his duties did not lead him into the fight, but, prompted by a noble sense of patriotism, he went in as a volunteer. He was first wounded on the left side by a piece of shell, and fell, and when getting up was struck by a ball which went through his lungs. His death took place in the Hospital tent of the Regiment on the 21st ult.

Well does the writer remember that upon the first call for men the name of Frederick Diehr was second upon the roll of honor. Calmly and deliberately he had resolved to tender to his adopted country a service which none but patriots voluntarily yield.

The Company which was at that time formed not being able to get into the First Regiment, was broken up. Sergeant Diehr, with a few others, proceeded to Fort Snelling and enlisted in this regiment, most of them in Co. H., Capt. Adams.

Nothwithstanding he entered a Company who were strangers to him, he rose by simple merit and fine soldierly qualities to the rank of Sergeant, and after passing through eighteen battles, received his death wound on the historic field of Gettysburgh.

The intelligence of his death was received here with universal sorrow. We had hoped to greet again all our brave and manly soldiers, when the war being ended, the nation should welcome back her heroes. This was not to be. He sleeps to-day in a patriot's grave far from home and friends but he rests a victor on a well worn field.

We hope that efforts will be made at some suitable time to remove his remains to this place. Our citizens would honor themselves by the act. Here let him sleep his last sleep among old friends and associations. Lay upon his grave the laurel wreath of victory. Let the story of his patriotism be perpetuated in the enduring marble.

Modest and unassuming in his deportment, he won the friendship of all. True and sincere will be the tears that will be shed to his memory. He fell, as thousands of his countrymen have fallen, heroically fighting for the liberties of his adopted country. His friends in that fatherland which has so nobly sympathized with us, have the consolation of knowing that he fell in a sacred cause—one dear to all in every land who love liberty.

ORDER OR ANARCHY.

We ask a careful perusal of the following article taken from the New York Times.

It has long been declared by the rebel journals, and also by the European journals in the interests of the rebels, that the Conscription act could not be enforced, and that this would compel a discontinuance of the war. The anti-war journals here in the North, while they in general have not ventured to recommend violent resistance to the Conscription, have yet studied to excite against it every unreasoning passion and prejudice. Malignants, too, of the Vallandigham type, have for months been doing their best, by artful harangues, to foment a spirit of resistance. These men understood their work thoroughly. Their business was to bring about violence, and at the same time keep themselves personally uncommitted to violence; and ANTONY himself never managed that business more skillfully. Every discerning man saw what it would end in—the mob in the street taking upon themselves all the risks, these gentry in their closets rejoicing in the fray in which they dared not mingle. The Government could not blind itself to this flagitious course of action. It made some effort to defeat it; but it was found that this only armed these public enemies with new power, for they turned it to their advantage by pretending that it was now a question of freedom of speech, and gained new influence by setting themselves up as its champions. Thus the dangerous element has been continually growing. It has spread more or less through every part of the North. It has reached all the baser portions of society everywhere, and made them restless, and ready for almost any violence. In most communities this spirit is effectually kept under by superior public opinion. But there are localities where this public sentiment has no such force. This has been shown in the rural districts by the outbreaks which have already occurred in Ohio and Indiana. It is now being shown amid a city population, where the passions of men are far more inflammable, and where the facilities for effective organization are far greater.

The practical question now is, how this spirit of resistance is to be met. Is it to be done by discussing the merits and necessities of the Conscription act? Decidedly No! It will be a fatal mistake for the friends of the Government to suspend their action on the turn of any such question. No man who is at heart for the war, by which alone the Government can be sustained, has a serious doubt about either the constitutionality, or the justice, or the propriety, or the necessity of this resort for replenishing the national armies. Even were it otherwise—were the measure actually one that could be reasonably questioned, it would not affect present duties one tittle. The one sole fact that must determine the the action of our public authorities against these demonstrations is, that the Conscription act stands on the National Statute Book a law. It was enacted by the two bodies in which, under the Constitution, "all legislative powers" are granted, and it was "approved" by the President. There has never been in this Republic a law of more absolute validity, or more perfect sanction. Until it is repealed, or pronounced by the highest Court unconstitutional and null, it must stand, and its requirements must be satisfied. The administrators of law have no alternative but to enforce its provisions, without fear or favor. Come what may, they are shut up to that line of action. And it is the duty of every law-abiding man to sustain them in it. The official or the citizen who falters is treacherous to every civil obligation.

The issue is not between Conscription and no-Conscription, but between order and anarchy. The question is not whether this particular law shall stand, but whether law itself shall be trampled under foot. Is this City to be at the mercy of a mob? Have the statutes of the land to await the approval of all the Jack Cades of society before they can attain any binding force? Nobody ever imagined that this conscription act would suit either rebels in the South or rebel sympathizers in the North. No valuable law is ever passed that has the favor of the evil-minded. Yield to them the ratification of our public legislation, and you will speedily be reduced to the condition of being without any law whatever. There is not a man's life in this City that is safe, nor a dollar's worth of property, if the spirit which dominated this City yesterday is to be left to its own working. It is as fatal to our whole civil and social organization as the plague is to the physical constitution of man. To give way before it is simply to invoke destruction.—N. Y. Times, July 14th.

DEATH OF THE HON. THOMAS COWAN.

This gentleman died at Traverse des Sioux on Sunday last. He had been a resident of Minnesota for the last fifteen years, and served several terms in our State Legislature.

Three Persons Shot near Glencoe.

Too late for publication in this issue we received, last night, a letter from Quartermaster Bond, at Glencoe, giving the particulars of another horrible Indian outrage in that vicinity, on Sunday. A German named Emmory was brought that afternoon into Glenco, wounded and faint from loss of blood. He had been shot in the shoulder by an arrow, at the house of a German family named Widewitch, four miles north of Glenco—had run, fell by the way, was picked up and brought to Glenco. He reported the Widewitch family murdered. The citizens armed themselves and hastened to the spot. They found the family still alive, but the woman had been shot through the face, her jaw broken, and some of her teeth knocked out, while her husband was shot through the thigh, the shoulder and elbow. They were brought to town and placed under surgical care. The man had been shot in the door-way, the woman through the window.

The Indians, three in number, fled at a false alarm, after committing some other outrages, and disappeared in the woods. Fires, as of haystacks, are raging in the Big Woods. The whole country is greatly alarmed. The letter will be given to-morrow.—Press.

WINNEBAGO CITY CORRESPONDENCE.

WINNEBAGO CITY,
Monday, Aug. 3d, 1863.

Harvesting progresses well. During the past few days the weather has been unusally fine, only a little too warm for comfort. The yield of wheat promises to be better than we anticipated. Our soil has proved itself admirably adapted to resist drought.

The reaper trial on Saturday was a decided success, although there were but five different patterns present. A machine made by Parker & Stone, of Beloit, a combined Reaper and Mower, two horse machine, in our opinion, has the lightest draft, cuts wider than most two horse machines, and turns corners equal to anything yet produced. But with these advantages it has serious *dis*advantages. It is so constructed that it cannot be raised or lowered except by moving the bearing of the drive wheel. Its mowing attachment cuts narrower than the reaping, and its operators were some time changing from one to another. It performed well, and was entered by J. P. Carlton, of Verona.

A machine made at Brockport, N. Y., by Seymour & Morgan, a heavy, four horse machine, self-raker, (racer) was run first by two horses, and afterwards by four, created considerable excitement by the novelty of its action, as well as by the excentricity of its driver. It seems to be a strong durable machine, and has a wide cut. The owner run it several times through a thicket of hazel brush without doing any harm to the machine, whereupon, a bystander told him he was liable to prosecution for trespass in cutting timber without permission, and he desisted. This machine seems well adapted to the use of such farmers as have broad acres and many of them. It did good work, and left the gavel wide on the ground. Binders find it necessary to carry a rake to gather it with, which perhaps is no disadvantage, as many good farmers require their binders to carry rakes after any machine. It was entered by John N. Jenkins of Winnebago City.

Another machine—made by Seymour & Morgan—a two horse self-raker, was entered by J. A. Latimer, of Winnebago City. It has a common five-foot cut, is easily raised or lowered to cut the stubble any reasonable length, appears to have no side draft, works equally well in grass or grain, and is easily arranged for either. It leaves the gavel wide but in very good shape. It was awarded the first premium.

Mr. James Crays, of Winnebago City, entered a machine, made at Rockford, Ill., by J. P. Manny. This machine differs from J. H. Manny's, by having the sickle attachment and the castor wheel behind the drive wheel. The grain wheel, also, is a castor wheel, which gives it a decided advantage over other machines in turning around. It has a spring steel sickle-beam, which is raised or lowered at will by the operator, by means of a lever at his right hand.—It has very little side draft, and seems to run very neatly and easily over the ground. This machine was awarded the second premium.

J. H. Dunham, of Verona, entered an old J. H. Manny's machine—pattern of 1861. It did very good work, leaves the gavel in better shape for binding without a rake than any other machine, is easily raised or lowered at the option of the driver, by a lever at his left hand; but it has some side draft; and does not run with so little cost of horse-flesh as some others, and in turning corners is far behind J. P. Manny's, or Parker & Stone's.

The day passed off very pleasantly and profitably, we think, to all those who had a mind to look on and learn. We were much disappointed that Mr. Shaubhut was not there with his binder. Many are confirmed in the belief that it is a humbug; but how are we to know without a trial? We are not yet prepared to decide against it.

We are not yet ready to set a limit to Yankee ingenuity or American invention. We remember when the hand sickle was the implement most advocated and the grain cradle was denounced as involving unnecessary waste. Go on! ye who make and vend labor-saving agricultural implements. Man "hath sought out many inventions. Seek ye for more, only don't bleed us too freely in your prices.

AGRICOLA.

Frank O'Brien has shown us a bullet his brother Henry, who was wounded at Gettysburg, found smashed in his cartridge box after the battle. He felt the bullet hit him, but luckily it struck against a piece of iron metal and his life was saved.—State News.

STERLING CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Union.

The perpetuity and prosperity of this great and glorious republic is, under divine guidance, entirely in the hands of the people. It is for us to say whether the blessings of civil and religious liberty shall be handed down, unimpared, to our children, or whether, by our folly and want of true patriotic principles, we shall leave them only the miserable inheritance of a country, torn to pieces by fractional jealousy and party strife. We as a people, must shape our own destiny. How shall we do it? Shall it be by imitating the conduct of the brutal rioters at New York, and rising in rebellion against any and every law that does not please us? Or shall we by precept and example, seek to uphold every law constitutionally enacted, whether state or national? What intelligent man does not see that if resistance to law is justified, the entire overthrow of our republican institutions must follow, and brute force be substituted for law and order.

And who is to blame for the late outbreak at New York? Not alone the chief of the drunken mob that perpetrated those outrages, but principally and primarily those speakers and writers who for party purposes systematically villified and slandered the government day by day, until their poor deluded dupes had been brought to believe that, instead of living under the best and finest government upon earth, they were the victims of a government more tyrannical and despotic than that of Austria or Russia.

It is undoubtedly our privilege to canvass freely the acts of our legislators and rulers; they are amenable to us for their public conduct. But when we assume the right to trample upon and resist the execution of laws constitutionally passed, it is a dangerous abuse of our privilege. And yet there are persons even in Blue Earth county, that maintain that the only "way to get rid of an obnoxious law is to resist it," "by force if necessary."

If such doctrine was held by poor ignorant sots only, it might be passed by without notice; but when some who are otherwise intelligent respectable citizens, give utterance to such sentiments, it becomes every lover of his country to raise his voice against such political heresies; for such teaching is not without effect in our country.

In some neighborhoods there appears to be an actual or implied combination to resist some of the laws passed by our last State Legislature. I allude more especially to the State poll tax and the dog laws. In some towns, I am told, little or nothing has been done to enforce those laws, and that in some communities a demonstration has been expressed to resist, by violence, their enforcement. I would gladly disbelieve such reports, for however such doings may accord with the general conduct of the denizens of Cow Bay, or Five Points, it would surely be a lasting disgrace to the virtuous law abiding farmers of Blue Earth county.

I give no opinion as to the laws in question. They may be good or they may be bad. It makes no difference to me. It is enough for me to know they are our laws. We made them, by our representatives, and if we don't like them, we can have them amended or repealed at the next legislative session. Till then I think we are bound by every principle of honor and patriotism not to oppose them. What, but the utter disregard of this fundamental truth brought on this wicked rebellion and awful war in which we are now engaged. And if I leave nothing else to my children, I will at least leave it as my dying injunction, that they should at all times, and under all circumstances, stand by the LAWS AND THE UNION.

SIDNEY.

LETTER FROM CO. E.

PIPE LAKE NEAR HUTCHINSON,
Thursday July 23, 1863.

To the Editor of the Union.

Yesterday we received the first number of your new paper in our camp, and I think the boys are generally pleased with it, especially at its enlargement from the size of the "Independent," its pioneer and predecessor.

Our camp is situated on the banks of Pipe Lake, and, if the lake only had a gravelly beach would be a splendid place; as it is we can only look upon its placid waters, and regret that we cannot enjoy bathing in its waves.

All kinds of game are quite plenty, such as geese, ducks, and chickens, and a deer has also been seen which comes the nearest to a redskin, that we have seen since we left Hutchinton. There are some cavalry stationed at this place, who are busy riding to the adjacent Posts. Communication is kept up daily between the Posts along the line. Day before yerterday about twenty five cavalry came through from Fort Ridgley, intending to scout among the Kandiyohi Lakes. Lieut. Col. Pfander of the M. M. Rangers accompanies them. They were unfortunate enough to lose some of their horses, while they were stopping to feed, which delayed them till this morning, when having recovered most of their horses they proceeded. When hear of Indians being seen and killed east of us, in the "big woods," also on the Minnesota River. It is gratifying to us to hear of the death of a redskin, and we often wish, that one might become our victim. I forgot to mention in its appropriate place, that the scouts, who have gone to the Lakes had with them two "Sioux Indians," loyal subjects, who will accompany them on the scout. It seemed a pity that they, who doubtless, last fall were as deep in blood of our citizens as many of those now running wild o'er the plains, should be employed by the government, and paid twenty shillings per diem, while many a poor, but honorable man, who might receive this position, is pushed aside and, "Lo the poor Indian" takes his place.

It is very dry here, as it has been every where in this part of Minnesota; but the other night we were visited with a copious shower of rain, which lasted from dark till nearly two o'clock in the morning.

The boys are mostly well and in good spirits as can be expected in this dull place so far from our relations and friends.

Yours truly.
W.

LATEST NEWS.

News by Friday Morning's Mail.

The news this morning is not important, and we give only such as our space will admit. The dates are up to the 5th.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5—A Charleston letter of the 31st, says the last of July passes away with everything promising success, though perhaps not as soon as we may wish. All things are working well. We know that anxiety is felt in Charleston for the safety of the city.

Last week there were hanging from the parapet of Sumter, as a protection to the walls, lines of cotton bales. It told us plainly that 15 inch shot were equal to its destruction, but the cotton bales are now gone, as they were set on fire by their own guns and they were obliged to take them down, and are now piled in scorched heaps behind the Fort. Everything betokens a fearful state of excitement on the part of the rebels here, which is very encouraging to us.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5—Among the drafted men in this city are members of the city councils, and several telegraph operators, ministers, lawyers, and representatives of all classes of business.

A party of drafted men attempted yesterday to escape from the city, but were apprehended as deserters.

BUFFALO, Aug. 5.—The draft commenced here and at Rochester to-day. No trouble in either place.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 5.—The Gazette's Columbus dispatch says considerable excitement prevailed there yesterday afternoon over the tearing down by invalid soldiers of a flag on which was inscribed the names of Vallandigham and Pugh. The Copperheads commenced gathering and swore vengeance on the authors of the act. Another invalid soldier in the crowd was badly beaten for approving of the act. All the soldiers in the city were arrested and put in the guard house to prevent further disturbance. In the evening a crowd assembled before the door of a store where the flag hung. After parading the streets the crowd went back to the store and presented the owner with a new flag which will be hung out to day. Further trouble is apprehended.

FORTRESS MONROE, Aug. 4.—The Baltimore American contains the following:

LAVILLO HILL, Aug. 3—News has been received here of the cavalry and artillery expedition under Col. Spear, They crossed the Chowan river at Welden, N. C., proceeded to Jackson, twelve miles from Weldon, near the Roanoke river, where the enemy was discovered in strong force.

Our advance made a splendid charge on the rebels' advance, and drove them back, capturing 70 prisoners.

Our loss was two killed and three wounded.

We captured sixty sixty bales of cotton and one hundred horses.

It has rained incessantly since the expedition started, rendering the roads nearly impassable. The men have suffered great hardship.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Advices from the Army of the Potomac says our army had crossed the Rappahannock and if an engagement was not progressing, it was at least imminent, though it is thought that Lee's probable retreat to Richmond might prevent it.

One of the most interesting relics of the time of the Pilgrims has been recently uncovered by the ever-moving ocean, on the eastern shore of Orleans, Cape Cod. It is the hull of a small vessel which was wrecked in that harbor in 1627—of which a particular account is given in Bradford and Morton, under that year. A portion of it was to be seen about eighty years ago, but it has since been entirely covered by the sand and salt meadow, most of the time twenty feet deep.

The Pittsburg papers say that the price of substitutes has risen considerably, and now ranges from three hundred to five hundred dollars each, according to the color of the party offering. Quite a number were secured at first at prices ranging from two hundred to two hundred and fifty dollars.

Have you ever watched an icicle as it formed? You notice how it froze, one drop at a time, until it was a foot long or more. If the water was clean, the icicle remained clear and sparkling in the sun, but if the water was slightly muddy, the icicle looked foul and its beauty was spoiled. Just so our characters are forming. One little thought or feeling at a time adds its influence. If every thought be pure and right, the soul will sparkle with happiness; but if impure and wrong, there will be grief and wretchedness.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Wanted.

THREE GOOD GIRLS AT THE CLIFTON HOUSE.

One to take charge of the Cooking department, the others to do dining room and other work usual in hotels. Liberal wages and steady employment given.

M. T. C. FLOWER, Proprietor
Mankato. Aug. 5th, 1863. 4w4

LIST OF LETTERS

REMAINING in the Post Office at Mankato for the month ending July 31st, 1863. Persons enquiring will please call for "advertised letters."

Amell Oliver
Benjamin W F
Barcard Emil
Benton George
Berry Emerson
Brown Susan
First Christan
Gilmore Ann
Gaorais Baptest
Gibbs O C
Hamond Lizzie
Hammond Chas
Hiland Mrs S H
Hages Joseph P
Jones John F
Jenkins Wm
Jenkins J A
Jennings Austin
[illegible] Johannes [illegible]
[illegible] 2
[illegible]

Miltes Mr
Miner B D 2
McDermont
Meagher John 2
Meagher Owen
ORiley James
Rounce William D
Leclavin Eleazar
Tosley Mary H
Patten William O
Paulson Miss Mary
Putman Ira R
Powell M V
Pike Enoch W
Phelps Capt
Wagoner John
Wagner Daniel
Warren Calvin 2
Weaver P H
Zarkar Miss
Zimmerman E

E. J. SIBLEY, P. M.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY virtue of an execution issued out of the District Court in and for the county of Blue Earth State of Minnesota, upon a Judgment rendered February 21st, 1863, and docketed March 6th, 1863, in said county, in an action wherein Daniel Wagner is plaintiff, and George Quiggles is defendant, and against said defendant, for the sum of $74 20, and upon which there now remains due and unpaid the sum of $74,20 and interest. I have levied upon all the right title and interest which the said George Quiggles had on the 21st day of February, 1863, or at any time thereafter, of, in and to the following described lands and real estate, in the county of Blue Earth State of Minnesota, to wit:

South-west quarter of south-east quarter and south-east quarter of south-west quarter, section ten, and west half of south-west quarter of south-east quarter, and north east quarter of south-west quarter of south-east quarter of section nine, all in township one hundred and five, north of range twenty-eight west.

Notice is hereby given that I will sell the above described lands and real estate, to the highest bidder for cash, on Saturday, the 19th of September, 1863, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the front door of the office of Register of Deeds in and for the County of Blue Earth, in Mankato, to satisfy the execution, together with costs and interest thereon. Dated August 7th, 1863.

D. H. TYNER,
6w4 Sheriff of Blue Earth County.

FINKLE & LYON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

THESE Machines make the lock stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do; will Hem, Fell, Gather, Cord, Braid, Bind, &c., and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family, for they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, or even the stoutest harness leather without changing the feed, needle or tension, or making any adjustment of Machaine whatever! !

They are simple in construction, and easily understood; and if any part is broken by accident, it is readily replaced.

These are PECULIAR FACTS, and will go far to determine the choice of any intelligent buyer.

PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE, OR SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

N. B.—Local Agents wanted in sections not yet occupied. Address,

FINKLE & LYON, S. M. CO.,
No. 538 Broadway, New York.

THE COUNTY.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

St. Paul—Arrives at 9 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Eastern—Arrives at 4 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Blue Earth City—Arrives at 5 P. M. and departs at 7 A. M. Closes 7 P. M.

Office hours—5 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays, 5 to 7 A. M., and 12 M. to 1 P. M.

R. J. SIBLEY, Postmaster.

THE Continental for August has come to hand, and is, as usual, filled with interesting reading matter.

ERRATA.—In our notice, two weeks ago, of the prizes awarded by Prof. Ferguson, Frances Williams should have been "Mary Milnor."

FAITH is the sheet-anchor of the soul dropped in the river of time, to take firm hold in the solid ground of Eternity.

THE ATLANTIC.—This sterling magazine we highly prize. It is one of the best we receive. The August number is before us, and the reading in this alone is well worth the subscription price.

ANY person wishing to purchase a good sewing machine of the Wheeler & Wilson or Finkle & Lyon patterns, can hear of a good bargain by applying at this office.

WE were present at the Reaper trial at Verona last Saturday, a report of which will be found in another column. We reserve for our next issue "Notes by the Way."

THE best place we know to get shaved, and have one's hair cut in style, is at Lieberg's, opposite the Clifton. As a good barber he has become quite popular, and if you go there once you will be sure to go the second time.

LADIES' NATIONAL.—We have not heretofore received this magazine. The present number contains some fine colored fashion plates, and a splended steel engraving. In its literature the National is conceded by the newspaper press to excel all other magazines of its kind.

JUDGE WILCOX, agent for Singer & Co.'s Sewing Machines, has two on exhibition and for sale at his office. The Singer machine has gained much popularity of late years, and always gives satisfaction. Call and see those on sale.

Co H, 4th Minn Regiment, left Fort Snelling on the 21st of April, 1862, numbering 103 men, and on the 23d of July, 1863, it had only 34 men fit for duty.

THE Record will please bear in mind that the article in the UNION, of the 31st ult entitled "An Inquiry," and which the Editor of that paper in his attempted reply, said was propounded by a Know Nothing, was written by a gentleman of foreign birth.

"A gentleman from Jerusalem," in passing through St. Peter, the other evening, discovered a "mares nest." He thinks there is some kind of a d——d League going on in that place that ought to be put down. "Oh, ye of little faith."

THE political shuffle for the fall campaign has commenced. All those not acquainted with the game where the Jack takes the "Ace," had better stand from under, as everything depends upon the trump. One thing is sure, however, "the race is not always to the "Swift."

AN IMPORTANT ORDER.—Jeff Davis has ordered the hind shoes taken off from General Pemberton. He says the General has eaten mule meat so long that no one is safe within reach of his heels.

READER, STOP AND THINK.—We suppose all of our readers buy and use D. B. Deland & Co.'s Chemical Saleratus, but if there are any of you who do not, just stop and think that impure saleratus is very detrimental to the health of yourself and family, while the Chemical Saleratus is as pure as snow, and is therefore perfectly healthy. It is manufactured at Fairport, Monroe Co., N. Y., and for sale by most merchants and grocers in the country.

PERSONAL.—Senator Wilkinson arrived in town Tuesday of this week, direct from Washington and the battle-field of Gettysburg. He succeeded in accomplishing the object of his visit which was to secure the exemption of the School Lands upon the Winnebago Reservation from the present sale. They will soon be turned over to the State and become a valuable acquisition to our School fund. It is a most desirable result, and has been accomplished without any flourish of trumpets on the part of Senator W.

He was also able to render timely and valuable assistance to our wounded and suffering heroes of the noble First Minnesota, who, upon the memorable field of Gettysburg covered themselves with a fresh glory.

WE are glad to assure our readers that their efforts in procuring subscribers to the UNION are appreciated. Within the past three weeks we have received over one hundred new subscribers, and still they come in at the average of six per day. We intend to have six hundred live subscribers at the close of the first year, so tell your neighbor to send in his name for the largest and cheapest paper in the Valley.

AGENTS.—The following persons have been appointed agents for the UNION at the places named. They are authorized to receive and receipt for money paid on subscription:

Mankato—MARTIN N. SLOCUM.
South Bend—LARS LEE.
Garden City—RAY & WILLIAMS.
Vernon—THOMAS SOWLES.
Shelbyville—H. A. BUCK.
Winnebago City—HOLLY and WELCH.
Verona—A. D. MASON.
Blue Earth City—W. J. C. ROBERTSON.
Fairmount—W. W. CARRINGTON.
Mapleton—S. MIDDLEBROOK.
Madelia—C. G. MULLEN.
New Ulm—J. C. RUDOLPH.
Judson—MR. GOODWIN.
Winnebago Agency—LUCIUS DYER.
Sterling—WILLIAM RUSSELL.

WE were visited with a heavy thunder storm on Tuesday which lasted two or three hours. The effect has been a perceptible rise in the river. But then, as B. F. Taylor remarks,

We heard a dozen men complain,
When Wednesday it began to rain;
Just as before when it was dry,
They mourned a drought with many a sigh,
And seemed most strangely to forget,
The Lord made water rather wet,
If all men's prayers were heard together,
We would have the queerest weather:
"My mill stands still, Oh Lord give rain!
"My grain is down—Oh, Lord refrain."
"My corn is parched—Ah, Susan's bonnet
"Don't let a drop of water on it!"
"Oh, not to-day, our washing's out!"
"Roll up, ye clouds! I go for trout!"
"The hen's come off—the brood is drowned!
"Ah, let it pour! my boat's aground!"

SHAKSPEARE MODERNIZED.—A correspondent says at the surrender of Vicksburg, while Gen. Pemberton was arranging the terms of surrender, one of his Colonels mounted a sugar bogshead, and gave, in a very eloquent manner, a brief history of their sufferings during the siege; and finally wound up with the following from Shakspeare.

"Soldiers! He that steals the purse of this Confederacy steals something that an elephant has stepped on, and bore on his whole helt. But he that filches from us its good name, robs it of what it never had; and I think they will have a good time using it across the waters, especially if the Rothschilds are there. And he that steals our mules robs us of something they don't eat in the North, and makes us hungry indeed."

A BUFFALO KILLED.—We learn from Mr. John Gordon one of the soldiers stationed at the South Branch of the Watonwan, that a detachment Capt. Skaro's Company, at Cedar Creek, discovered on Friday, a herd of Buffaloes seven in number, quietly grazing a short distance from the stockade, with some working cattle under charge of the detachment. They lingered around the place till morning, when the boys, unable to restrain their ardor for the chase, mounted horses and gave pursuit. After firing a few shots, they succeeded in wounding one huge old fellow, who enraged at his sudden stoppage, furiously charged on his pursuers, and put them to flight. They returned his fierce salutation with a charge from their rifles, and now credit themselves with the wonderful feat of killing a Buffalo. All success to the boys—and should any of the bloody Sioux make their appearance in the region of their quarters, may they deal to them as unsparing a dose of powder and ball, as they did to the burly king of the Prairie.

Sterling Items.

By our Special Reporter.

Harvesting progresses finely in this neighborhood; and though hands are scarce, yet having some eight or nine reapers in the town we are enabled to get our grain cut about as fast as it ripens. We think that with us, both wheat and oats will be fully an average crop. Wheat sown early will probably yield from fifteen to twenty-five bushels; that on land plowed this spring and sown rather late, may not be over ten or twelve.

On some farms the black-birds made sad havoc with the young corn, but where it was not thinned out by them the crop is now a promising one. Everybody is surprised at the healthy appearance of our gardens, considering the little rain we have had this season. The fact is, we have always found that we stand a long spell of dry weather better than any place I am acquainted with.

Just now the whooping cough is very prevalent among our children; otherwise we have little or no sickness among us.

Last Friday, Charles Randall, who carries the mail from Liberty to Sterling and Mapleton, narrowly escaped a serious accident. In descending the hill near the house of C. L. Francis, the whiffle-tree got unhitched and striking the horses' heels, caused them to run away, but getting detached from the wagon, they were stopped before doing more mischief than breaking the pole, and slightly injuring the driver and Miss Wilde, who, with Miss Graham, happened to be passengers.

THE National Thanksgiving was more generally observed yesterday so far as a public assemblage was concerned, than is usual in such cases. City Hall was densely packed at the hour of service by a congregation of loyal men and women.

Rev. B. Y. Coffin opened the exercises by reading the Scriptures, and then offered up a very appropriate prayer, after which some excellent singing by the choir.

The discourse by Rev. M. Hicks, from the words "Watchman, what of the night," &c., was listened to with great interest. It was worthy the author and the occasion.

After another song, Senator Wilkinson was waited upon and requested to address the assembly. He interested the audience with a most vivid discription of the part taken by the "Minnesota First" in the battle of Gettysburg. Having been upon the field shortly after the occurrence of the battle, he was able to explain why our gallant regiment was so terribly decimated in that memorable struggle. They were placed where only heroes and veterans could be trusted to stand the tremendous onslaught and because the General felt that there was the crisis of the battle. Before the meeting closed a collection was taken up for the Sanitary Commissoin, which amounted to $20

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING.—Lieut. Keysor's little child Fanny, aged about four years, came near losing its life, Wednesday of this week. The circumstances as we gathered them are:—The child was at the house of a neighbor, Mr. Milnor, and was standing at the well playing with the chain. The curbing was very low, and all at once she pitched forward and fell head first down the well, which was about ten feet deep. Mrs. Milnor heard the chain rattle, and instantly ran to the well to see what had become of the child, and found it at the bottom of the well, with its head in the water. She turned round and screamed loudly for help, and when she again looked into the well, the little child had somehow changed its position, and was standing on its feet in about two feet of water. Mr. Huffman, who heard the lady, was soon on the spot and rescued the child, who is now doing well. It was in the water about two minutes. It seems miracularous that a child could fall such a distance and in such a place without receiving serious, if not fatal injury.

THE Board of Sioux Commissioners left Minneapolis for St. Cloud yesterday, where they will hold a session of about two weeks. They will then return to Minneapolis and examine the submitted evidence, and make some arrangements to afford speedy relief to the most needy.

DIED.

In Mankato, Wednesday, July 29th, little FRANKIE, infant son of Jason F. and Sallie L. Wickersham.

"Thou mad'st us feel how very fair
God's earth could be, and taught us love;
And in life's tapestry of care,
A golden figure wove."

Mankato Market Reports.

CORRECTED EVERY THURSDAY BY O. WARD.

MANKATO, August 6, 1863.

WHEAT—50c. ℔ bushel.
RYE—40c.
BARLEY—60.
OATS—40c.
CORN—35@40c.
HAY—℔ ton, $4@5 00.
TIMOTHY—$2 ℔ bushel.
BEANS—White, ℔ bushel, $1 25.
BUTTER—10c.
LARD—8@9c.
SUGAR—12@13c; 16@20c.
TEA—1 50@1 60.
COFFEE—33⅓c.
RICE—10c ℔ lb.
SALT—4 50 ℔ barrel.
EGGS—8c ℔ doz.
CANDLES—Tallow, 15c; Sperm, 30c.
MEATS—Beef on foot, 3@4c. Pork, 5@6c. Mutton, 10@12c. Poultry, 10@12c.
POTATOES—1 00 ℔ bushel.
SIRUP—1 00 ℔ gallon.
WOOD—$2 00 ℔ cord.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SPERMATORRHOEA CAN BE CURED.—Dr. Rand's Specific cures Spermatorrhoea, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Loss of Power, &c., speedily and effectually. Its effects are truly magical. A trial of the SPECIFIC will convince the most skeptical of its merits. Price. $1 a box. Sent post-paid to any address, by S. C. UPMAN, 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA. Circular sent free.

DRUNKENESS CURED.—The inebriate may now bid defiance to the tempting cup. DR. ZANE'S ANTIDOTE FOR STRONG DRINK is a certain cure for Drunkenness. It creates a dislike for strong drink, and can be administered without the knowledge of the patent. Price $1 a box. Sent by mail to any address, by S. C. UPMAM, 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA; PA. Circular sent free.

JUST PUBLISHED,
The most Fascinating Book of the Season,
ENTITLED

"IN THE TROPICS."

EDITED BY RICH'D B. KIMBALL,
Author of "St. Leger," "Undercurrents of Wall Street," etc.

A bright, sparkling and genial book of residence, travel and adventure in the West Indies; presenting a graphical picture of tropical life, with alluring and picturesque sketches of luxuriant gardens, orange and lime groves, magnificent guava and cocoanut trees, mahogany forests, etc.

An elegantly printed and cloth-bound volume. Price, $1,25.

Sold by all booksellers, and sent by mail FREE, on receipt of price by

CARLETON,
Publisher, New York.
413 Broadway, cor Lispenard St.

Medical Advice free of Charge.

DOCTOR WHITTIER'S Theory, Symptoms, and Treatment of Chronic, Nervous, Urinary and Sexual Diseases, free in sealed letter envelope, for six cents to pre-pay postage. It is a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringment of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposure, and imprudence, in married and single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and should be read by every young person, to keep them off the shoals on which others have been broken in pieces. Amativeness clearly stated to be under the control of judicious treatment, and thereby prevent inclination to one very prolific cause of of disease. Nearly every case of disease can be treated without hinderance to business. Medicine sent by mail, secure from observation. Charges moderate; consultations by letter or at the office free; cures guaranteed; Office 67 St. Charles St., between 6th and 7th. P. O. Box 3092, St. Louis Mo. Circular Letter especially for ladies, nothing referring to Sexual Diseases for 3 cent postage.

MANKATO HOUSE.

MANKATO - MINNESOTA.

THIS House has been thoroughly renovated newly papered and painted, with many new improvements, which makes it now equal as to comfort and convenience to any House in the State.

General Stage Office for all points in the State.

Good barn and stabling with attentive ostler. Baggage conveyed to and from steamboats free of charge. Wines, liquors, cigars, etc., constantly on hand.

☞Farmers will find this House a good place to stop, it being centrally located, plenty of barroom, and charges moderate.

may 7 H. H. Shaubhut.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
BLUE EARTH COUNTY.

MANKATO, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 13th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet been redeemed, I will execute and deliver to the purchasers at said sale, or their assignees, deeds for the same on and after the 17th day of January, A. D., 1864, unless said lands shall before that time have been redeemed. And notice is also given that the sum set against each description of land in said list is the amount due the purchaser of said land on redemption.

CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.	NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.
Unknown	1	24	29.66	Unknown	1	36	1.48
do	5	24	2.29	do	7	A	3.97
do	9	24	7 45	do	8	A	3.95
J Ady	9	28	13.93	do	9	A	3.97
F C Roosevell	6	58	2 96	do	10	A	3.97

Willard & Besse Addition.

Unknown, lot 10, block 13, amount 2.06.

NAME.	DES.	S.	T.	R.	AMT.
H W Lamberton	e hf nw qr and n hf sw qr	7	108	28	22.07
Earl Parthum	sw qr	33	109	29	14.37
M Garlinger	ne qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	32	109	29
do	se hf se qr	31	109	29	15.91
Dennis O'Flynn	se qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	27	109	29	11.81
Wm P Smith	s hf ne qr and ne qr se qr and lot 2	2	107	28	13.85
T F Anderson	s e qr	20	107	28	15.14
H Wright	s e qr	8	106	28	14 10
William Gage	s w qr	17	108	28	13.73
Alex Wood	n e qr	1	105	28	41.60
Unknown	sw qr except 17 ac redm'd	5	105	28	14.06
H G Tryon	se qr nw qr	5	105	28	5.62
H G Tryon	ne qr nw qr	34	105	28	7.26
McMurtrie & Comstock	n hf sw qr	12	105	29	10.80
do	e hf sw qr and w hf se qr except 25 ac redeemed	12	105	29	33.36
Alex Wood	nw qr	6	105	27	49.87
Unknown	nw qr	9	108	25	19.28
A Frazer	n hf ne qr and ne qr nw qr	35	109	25	14.33
F Percival	ne qr sw qr	32	109	25	23.52

Internal Revenue Notice.

U. S. ASSESSOR'S OFFICE,
First Collection District, Minn.
Rochester, July 17th, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that the lists of all taxes assessed under the Excise Tax law of the United States within Division No. 16, comprising Blue Earth, Watonwan, Brown, Renville, Cottonwood, Murray, Red Wood and Rock counties will be open for the inspection of all parties concerned for the space of fifteen [15] days from this date at the office of William Reid, Assistant Assessor, in the village of Mankato.

Further notice is hereby given that I will be at said office on the 3rd day of August, A. D., 1863, for the purpose of hearing all appeals which shall be made as provided under section 15 of the Excise Tax Law of the United States.

GEORGE W. BAKER,
Assessor First Dist. Minnesota.

PATENT FORCE PUMP.

THE undersigned has purchased the right to manufacture and sell, the KENTUCKY PATENT FORCE PUMP, one of which is now on exhibition at the Mankato House. This pump is very simple and convenient in all its parts, and peculiarly adapted to this climate. It is placed at the bottom of the well or cistern, and is worked by a handle at the top, the water being forced through an iron pipe. When not in action, the water remaining in the chambers readily finds its way back to the well again, and is consequently uncontaminated by any action of the metal upon it, and is also prevented from freezing for the same reason. For further particulars enquire of, JAMES T. BESSER,

MISCELLANEOUS.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.

Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
1y Proprietor.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL PROFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DEBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime.

Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DEBUISSON
Mankato May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work, is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRING AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand.

Cash paid for green and dry hides.

Mankato, June 26, 1863.

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

—.—

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,

or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN.☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office. F. M. Johnson, Agent.

St. Paul, Feb. 10th, 1863 July17-tf.

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.

OF

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune exposes and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity: Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obediance to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wildcat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune challenges comparrison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1.33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1.25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1.10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.

One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;

Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,)	$18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,)	35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Criticrl Notices of the Press.

The volumns Bound constitute of themselves a liberary of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world.—N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People: and the popularity it has acequired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts: and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, BY mail, postpaid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents. Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eigh cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00: Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year ,$5,00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2,50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2,50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted for postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must BE paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS.
Franklyn Square, New York.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co's Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co.'s GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEACHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plows,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:

Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains, Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

Iam Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.

Mankato, April 23rd, 1863.

NEW LIVERY &

Sale Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.

☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜

☞Charges moderate.☜

D. H. TYNER.

Farmers' Journal.

MANKATO, FRIDAY, AUG. 7, 1863.

Farmers Produce Wealth.

We are not disposed to underrate the importance of other callings, but in the actual production of commodities, the farmer confessedly ranks highest. He comes the nearest to being a creator of wealth.

Compare, for a moment, the nature and results, of other pursuits with those of the husbandman. Take the manufacturer. He does but change the form of materials already produced to his hand. He adds, indeed to their utility, or beauty, or convenience, and in so doing is a public benefactor, but he is less a creator of values than the farmer. The miner does but bring up the crude ores already lying in the bowels of the earth; he does not create iron, lead, gold and silver. Yet let him receive his just reward. The man of commerce produces nothing, adds nothing to the world's wealth that did not exist before. He is simply a medium for the exchange of commodities. The commerce may be between individuals or nations, and the result be the same; it is only a barter of equivalents an exchange of six for half a dozen.

Something more than this can be affirmed of agriculture. It positively adds something to the stock of commodities. The crops gathered from a thousand hills were not there last Spring; the nation is positively richer by so much. Or, rather, what remains over, after the cost of production is taken out, is so much added to the common stock of wealth. Yet let not the farmer put on any unseemly airs. He could accomplish little without the aid and sympathy of other callings, and his products be of little value without them. The eye cannot say to the hand, I have no need of thee. Each fraternity of laborers is the friend and patron of the other; their interests are common. Let them hold each other in high esteem.

Hints for the Farmer.

SECOND CROPS.

Land which has produced a crop of early peas, beans or corn, or indeed any other vegetable that comes off early, should be prepared and sown in turnips. This crop will have sufficient time to mature, and will add very materially to the product of the farm with but a slight outlay of expense. The soil from which corn and other green forage crops has been removed, should also be managed in this way; or, if not appropriated to the production of some following crop, it should be plowed and put in a state of careful preparation for one the succeeding year. The working of lands in this manner, secures a fine tilth, and improves very considerably their productive powers.

ICE HOUSES

No farmer should be without an ice-house, and a supply of ice for summer use. It should be located near the dwelling-house, easily accessible, and so constructed as to afford perfect security to the contents. No one who has experienced the many important advantages of these structures, in not only furnishing ice for domestic use during the hot, sultry weather of summer, but in preserving meat, milk, butter, &c., will be long without one. The cost is comparatively a trifle, and the filling may be done at seasons when there is ordinarily little else to do. For twenty dollars, an ice-house capable of containing a sufficiency of ice for a family of eight or ten persons may be made and filled, and will endure for many years. There are many methods practiced in the erection of these useful structures, but as every one possesses his own ideas upon this subject, I shall suggest no rules, but leave every one to choose his own method; my object being simply to solicit attention to their value and utility on the farm.

STORE-ROOMS.

Rooms for the storage of corn, grain, &c., should be always so constructed as to afford perfect security to their contents, not only against the effect resulting from atmospheric phenomena, but from the ravages of insects, mice and other vermin. Great care should be observed in the management of this department.

Rooms for the storage of meats, butter, and other similar articles, should always be situated in the cellar, and be made as dry and airy as practicable, as mould and mustiness are detrimental to sweetness, and the preservation of the contents. Meat-barrels, tubs, and all other vessels used for packing articles of a perishable nature, should be kept perfectly clean and free from all unpleasant smell. The floor should be of stones, brick or cement, and the walls and ceiling frequently white-washed.

Rooms for the preservation of apples and other fruits, should be dry and cool. Clean bins, or casks, should be provided, and no article likely to engender mould, be admitted or allowed.

* * *

BLACK INK.—One quart soft water; four ounces nut-gall, one and a half ounces gum arabic; one and a half ounces copperas. Soak the nut-gall in three-fourths of the water the gum arabic in one-half the remainder, warmed, and the copperas in the other half. Let them stand in seperate vessels forty-eight hours, then mix ready for use. This ink will not spoil by freezing.—Rural New Yorker

"Doctor, Your Name."

The following incident of the war, related by Dr. Green in an address to the graduating class in Berkshire Medical College, may be used as a good illustration of (John 1:41) the strong desire in the new convert to proclaim to all around him, "What a Saviour I have found!"

Let me relate one incident that occurred while I was on the Peninsula during the bloody campaign of last summer. During the battle of Williamsburg, in the edge of the forest skirting the battle-field, a soldier was struck by a bit of a shell which severed the brochial artery. Faint from the profuse hemorrhage, he fell just as the surgeon was riding rapidly past toward the front to get orders for establishing a hospital at a certain point. The poor fellow had just strength to raise his bleeding arm and say, "Doctor please."

The doctor dismounted, and rapidly ligated the vessel, applied a compress and bandage, and administered a cordial.

As he turned away, the man asked, "Doctor, what is your name?"

"No matter," said the sergeon.

"But Doctor," said the wounded man, "I want to tell my wife and children who saved me!"

Heaven and Home.

I was reading the other day that on the shores of the Adriatic Sea, the wives of the fishermen, whose husbands have gone far off upon the deep, are in the habit at eventide of going down to the sea-shore, and singing, as female voices only can, the first stanza of a beautiful hymn; after they have sung it they listen, till they hear borne by the wind across the desert sea the second stanza, sung by their gallant husbands as they are tossed by the gale upon the waves, and both are happy. Perhaps if we would listen we too might hear on this desert world of ours some sound, some whisper borne from afar, to remind us that there is a heaven and home; and when we sing the hymn upon the shores of earth, perhaps we shall hear its sweet echo breaking in music upon the sands of time, and cheering the hearts of them that are pilgrims and strangers, and look for a city that hath foundation.—Dr. John Cumming.

MEDICINE TO HORSES.—I consider the usual method of giving medicine to horses by drenching, as it is called highly objectionable. In this process the horse's head is raised and held up, a bottle introduced into his mouth, his tongue pulled out, and the liquid poured down. In his struggle some of the medicine is quite likely to be drawn into his wind-pipe and lungs, and inflammation and fatal results sometimes follows. A better way is to mix the medicine with meal, or rye bran: make it into balls, pull out the horse's tongue and place a ball as far back in his mouth as possible, then release his tongue; he will almost certainly swallow the ball. Or, the dose may be mixed with meal and honey, or any other substance that will form a kind of jelly, placed upon a small wooden blade made of a shingle, and thrust into the back part of his mouth, when he will very easily swallow it—Patent Office Ag. Report.

Signs of a Good Ox.

At a recent legislative Agricultural meeting held at the State House, in Boston, Mr. Sheldon, of Wilmington, gave the following as his rule of judging a good ox: You should stand before him and be sure he has a fine hazel eye, large nostrils, broad at and above the eyes, rather slim horns, toes straight out before him, straight in the knees, bosom full, back straight and wide at the hips. If you find these points," said the speaker," you need not ask what breed he is, but if you want one buy him." He said that he had found that a black-eyed ox was not to be depended on, as he will kick and be ugly, while a short-headed ox will start quick from the whip, but he will soon forget it.

To Fatten Poultry.

Poultry should be fattened in coops and kept very clean. They should be furnished with gravel, but with no water. Their only food barley meal mixed so thin with water as to serve them for drink. Their thirst makes them eat more than they would, in order to extract the water that is among food. This should not be but in troughs, but laid upon a board, which should be clean washed every time fresh food is put upon it. It is foul and heated water which is the sole cause of pip.—American Stock Journal.

WHEN TO CUT WHEAT.—Here is something worth the consideration of all wheat raisers. A club of ten farmers in Chester county, Penn. made experiments in cutting wheat. Their conclusion was the best time to cut wheat was, "when the grain can be pressed between the thumb and finger, and leave nothing but the husk and a thick pulp, without any fluid around its edges." If cut earlier there will be loss; if later, there is less weight to the bushel A few days before or after makes little or no difference.

INFORMATION.—It may be convenient to know that a quart of flour weighs one pound; a quart of corn-meal one pound and two ounces; a quart of butter one pound and one ounce; a quart of best sugar one pound; a quart of white sugar powdered, one pound and one ounce; a quart of best brown sugar one pound and two ounces; that ten eggs weigh one pound, though this depends somewhat on the size; sixteen large table-spoonfuls make a pint,—Ohio Farmer.

Names of the Men of the Detachment of the 7th Regiment, and where Stationed.

Lieutenant RICE, commanding a detachment of the 7th Regiment at this place, has furnished us with the following list of the men under his charge:

AT MANKATO BARRACKS.

RANK.	NAME.	COMPANY.
1st Serg't	R. F. Norton,	Com'y B.
Prinl Mus	H. H. Rogers,	" B.
2d Sergt	J. Brackelsberg,	" D.
1st Corp'l	A. Burgess,	" F.
2d "	R. Jayger,	" K.
Private	Arter, Fred.	" K.
"	Boardman, Hugh	" A.
"	Brown, Arthur	" G.
"	Basil, Godfred	"
"	Coffrey, Michael	" A.
"	Dalla, Joseph	" B.
"	Fletcher, George	" B.
"	Hodge, Simon J.	" K.
"	Hole, Joseph	"
"	Halbert, George	" B.
"	Immerson, J.	" F.
"	Judd, Silas	" A.
"	Keithly, Samuel	" K.
"	Lawson, John	" G.
"	McMullen, Aaron	" F.
"	Messenger, A. E.	" H.
"	Odell, Moses B.	" K.
"	Perry, Frank L.	" K.
"	Rose, Jacob A.	" E.
"	Swanson, John S.	" C.
"	Server, John	" E.
"	Schmurker, John	" H.
"	Slocum, Martin N.	" A.
"	Van Buskirk John	" A.
"	Whipple, H. W.	" K.
"	Woodard, James N.	" E.
"	R D. Lefter,	" B.
"	S. Webster,	" A.

Sergt Bradelsberg belongs to Co. D, Fifth Regiment.

IN HOSPITAL AT MANKATO.

Private	E. Munger, steward	Com'y C.
"	H. Phillips, nurse.	" B.
"	James Lyon, cook.	" B.

SICK IN HOSPITAL.

Private	Anderson Swen	Com'y C.
"	Boil, Robert	" F.
"	Fredir, Daniel	" C.
"	Gibson, Ambrose	" I.
"	Hicky, Daniel I.	" A.
"	Joycox, A.	" E.
"	Miller, Robt H.	" E.
"	McDowell W. C.	" E.
"	Nastrom, Peter	" C.
"	Pinkham, David	" B.
"	Boice, Harwood V.	" E.
"	Watson, A. B.	" B.
"	Smalleu, James	" E.

A number of the men reported as in Hospital, are home on sick leaves, and some of the above have been discharged.

TIVOLI BARRACKS.

1st Serg't	Wm Colby,	Com'y C.
Private	Avrie, Obed	" B.
"	Beach, J. C	" B.
"	Barnes, James	" F.
"	Chapman, C. C.	" B.
"	Neal, Z. G.	" B.
"	Paul Bruno,	" F.
"	Redfield, David	" K.
"	Sherrer, John	" G.
"	Thomas, H.	" C.

WINNEBAGO AGENCY.

Private	Kalder, G. B.	Com'y E.
"	Hanson, Muns	" E.
"	Deffenbacher, Fred.	" E.

GARDEN CITY.

Private	Kinney, G L.	Com'y I.
"	Mann, Thomas	" I.
"	Moshier, Harvey	" I.

VERNON CENTER.

Private	Johnson, John	Com'y E.
"	Sackason, Carl	" C.
"	Hamre, Albert	" E.

WINNEBAGO CITY.

Private	Mountain, James	Com'y A.
"	Strong, David P.	" A.
"	Terry, G. R.	" A

Total number, 70.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE

Mankato Weekly Union,

Published every Friday by

CHARLES H. SLOCUM,

AT

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of

PRINTING

Neatly and cheaply executed

SUCH AS

CARDS,

PROGRAMMES,

BILL-HEADS,

CIRCULARS,

POSTERS.

ETC,,

Having received a supply of

NEW MATERIAL

from the East, am prepared to do

PLAIN AND FANCY WORK

in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
In District Court. }
County of Blue Earth—6th District.

To Aaron N. Dukes, James Thompson Sen. Ralph A. Loveland, Peter Berry John H. Burgess, Henry Himmelman John A. Willard, Sheldon F. Barney George A. Roberts and Benjamin F Smith, defendants:

In the name of the State of Minnesota, you are hereby summoned to answer the complaint of Ezra R. Dibblee, John C Work and Lansing C. Moore, plaintiffs. a copy of which is hereunto annexed, and to serve a copy of your answer to me at my office in Mankato, within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and if you fail to answer said complaint as required, the plaintiffs will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint. Dated January 27th, 1863.

FRANKLIN H. WAITE,
1-3w Atty for Plffs.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SPERMATORRHOEA CAN BE CURED—Dr. Rand's Specific cures Spermatorrhoea. Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Loss of Power. &c., speedily and effectually. Its effects are truly magical. A trial of the SPECIFIC will convince the most skeptical of its merits. Price. $1 a box. Sent post paid to any address, by S. C. UPMAN. 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA. Circular sent free.

* * *

DRUNKENNESS CURED.—The inebriate may now bid defiance to the tempting cup. DR. ZANE'S ANTIDOTE FOR STRONG DRINK is a certain cure for Drunkenness. It creates a dislike for strong drink, and can be administered without the knowledge of the patent. Price $1 a box. Sent by mail to any address, by S. C. UPMAM, 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA; PA. Circular sent free.

JUST PUBLISHED,

The most Fascinating Book of the Season,

ENTITLED

"IN THE TROPICS."

EDITED BY RICH'D B. KIMBALL,

Author of "St. Leger," "Undercurrents of Wall Street," etc.

A bright, sparkling and genial book of residence, travel and adventure in the West Indies; presenting a graphical picture of tropical life, with alluring and picturesque sketches of luxuriant gardens, orange and lime groves, magnificent guava and cocoanut trees, mahogany forests, etc.

An elegantly printed and cloth-bound volume Price, $1,25.

Sold by all booksellers, and sent by mail FREE, on receipt of price by

CARLETON,
Publisher, New York.
413 Broadway, cor Lispenard St.

Medical Advice free of Charge.

DOCTOR WHITTIER'S Theory, Symptoms, and Treatment of Chronic, Nervous, Urinary and Sexual Diseases, free in sealed letter envelope, for six cents to pre-pay postage. It is a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringment of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposure, and imprudence, in married and single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and should be read by every young person, to keep them off the shoals on which others have been broken in pieces. Amativeness clearly stated to be under the control of judicious treatment, and thereby prevent inclination to one very prolific cause of of disease. Nearly every case of disease can be treated without hinderance to business, Medicine sent by mail, secure from observation, Charges moderate; consultations by letter or at the office free; cures guaranteed; Office 67 St. Charles St., between 6th and 7th. P. O. Box 3092. St. Louis Mo. Circular Letter especially for ladies, nothing referring to Sexual Diseases for 3 cent postage.

MANKATO HOUSE.

MANKATO - MINNESOTA.

THIS House has been thoroughly renovated newly papered and painted, with many new improvements, which makes it now equal us to comfort and convenience to any House in the State.

General Stage Office for all points in he State.

Good barn and stabling with attentive ostler. Baggage conveyed to and from steamboats free of charge. Wines, liquors, cigars etc., constantly on hand.

☞Farmers will find this House a good place to stop, it being centrally located, plenty of barroom, and charges moderate.

may 7 H. H. Shanbhut.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
BLUE EARTH COUNTY. }

MANKATO, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 13th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet been redeemed, I will execute and deliver to the purchasers of said lands at said sale, or their assignees, deeds [illegible] shall before that time have been redeemed. And notice is also given that the sum set against each description of land in said list is the amount due the purchaser of said land on redemption.

CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.	NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.
Unknown	1	24	28.65	Unknown	1	76	1.48
do	5	24	2.29	do	7	A	3.97
do	9	21	7.45	do	8	A	3.97
J Ady	9	28	13.93	do	9	A	3.97
F C Roosevelt	6	58	2.96	do	10	A	3.97

Willard & Besser's Addition.

Unknown, lot 10, block 19, amount 2.16.

NAME.	DES.	S.	T.	R.	AMT.
H W Lamberton	e hf nw qr and n hf sw qr	7	108	28	22.67
Earl Portbum	sw qr	33	109	29	14. 7
M Garlinger	ne qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	32	109	29
do	se hf se qr	31	109	29	15.91
Dennis O'Flynn	se qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	27	109	29	11.81
Wm P Smith	s hf ne qr and ne qr se qr and lot 2	2	107	28	13.85
T F Anderson	s e qr	20	107	28	15.14
H Wright	s e qr	8	106	28	11 10
William Gage	s w qr	17	106	28	13.73
Alex Wood	n e qr	1	105	28	41.10
Unknown	sw qr except 17 ac redm'd	5	105	28	14.06
H G Tryon	se qr nw qr	5	105	28	5.62
H G Tryon	ne qr nw qr	31	105	28	7.26
McMurtrie & Comstock	n hf sw qr	12	105	29	10.96
do	e hf sw qr and w hf se qr except 25 ac redeemed	12	105	29	33.36
Alex Wood	nw qr	6	105	27	49.87
Unknown	nw qr	9	108	25	19.28
A Frazer	n hf ne qr and ne qr nw qr	35	109	25	14.33
F Percival	ne qr sw qr	32	109	26	23.52

Internal Revenue Notice.

U. S. ASSESSOR'S OFFICE, }
First Collection District, Minn. }
Rochester, July 17th. 1863. }

NOTICE is hereby given that the lists of all taxes assessed under the Excise Tax law of the United States within Division No 16, comprising Blue Earth, Watonwan, Brown, Renville, Cottonwood, Murray, Red Wood and Rock counties will be open for the inspection of all parties concerned for the space of fifteen [15] days from this date at the office of William Reid, Assistant Assessor, in the village of Mankato.

Further notice is hereby given that I will be at said office on the 3rd day of August, A D., 1863, for the purpose of hearing all appeals which shall be made as provided under section 15 of the Excise Tax Law of the United States.

GEORGE W. BAKER.
Assessor First Dist. Minnesota.

PATENT FORCE PUMP.

THE undersigned has purchased the right to manufacture and sell, the KENTUCKY PATENT FORCE PUMP, one of which is now on exhibition at the Mankato House. This pump is very simple and convenient in all its parts, and peculiarly adapted to this climate It is placed at the bottom of the well or eistern, and is worked by a handle at the top, the water being forced through an iron pipe. When not in action, the water remaining in the chambers readily finds its way back to the well again, and is consequently uncontaminated by any action of the metal upon it, and is also prevented from freezing for the same reason. For further particulars enquire of, JAMES T. BESSER.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.
Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
ly Proprietor.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL POFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DuBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery; Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, Percussion Caps, etc

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime.

Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DuBUISSON
Mankato, May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work. is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRING AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand

Cash paid for green and dry hides.

Mankato, June 26, 1863.

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

——

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges

Medicines,

Fancy Goods,

Soaps, Brushes,

Patent Medicines,

Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils

Glass,

Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,

Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,

or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN.☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office F. M. Johnson, Agent.,

St. Paul, Feb. 10th, 1863 July17-tf.

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.

OF

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obediance to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune chalenges comparrison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1.25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1 10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.

One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;

Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,)	$18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,)	35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World.

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Criticel Notices of the Press.

The volumns Bound constitute of themselves a library of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world. —N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People: and the popularity it has acequired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts: and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature. —Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say. none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, by mail, post-paid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents. Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eigh cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00; Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year $5,00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2,50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2,50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted for postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must be paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS,
Franklyn Square, New York.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co.'s GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEAGHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plo s,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves. Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:

Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains, Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

I am Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.

Mankato, April 23rd 1863.

NEW LIVERY

&

Sale Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.

☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜

☞Charges moderate.☜

D. H. TYNER.

The Mankato Weekly Union.

CHARLES H. SLOCUM. "LIBERTY AND UNION, NOW AND FOREVER, ONE AND INSEPARABLE." Editor and Proprietor.

VOLUME 1. MANKATO, BLUE EARTH COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 14, 1863. NUMBER 5.

THE WEEKLY UNION,

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

CHARLES H. SLOCUM.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One Dollar and Fifty Cents per Year.

☞ All subscriptions paid in advance. ☜

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

1 square	1 week	$1 00	2 squares	6 months	9 00
1 "	2 weeks	1 50	2 "	1 year	15 00
1 "	3 "	1 75	3 "	1 week	2 25
1 "	4 "	2 00	3 "	2 "	3 00
1 "	5 "	2 25	3 "	3 "	4 00
1 "	6 "	2 50	3 "	4 "	5 00
1 "	7 "	2 75	3 "	3 months	9 00
1 "	2 months	3 00	3 "	6 "	12 00
1 "	3 "	3 75	3 "	1 year	20 00
1 "	4 "	4 50	¼ col	6 months	15 00
1 "	5 "	5 25	¼ "	1 year	25 00
1 "	6 "	6 00	⅓ "	6 months	18 00
1 "	1 year	10 00	⅓ "	1 year	30 00
2 "	1 week	1 75	½ "	6 months	25 00
2 "	2 "	2 50	½ "	1 year	40 00
2 "	3 "	3 00	¾ "	1 year	50 00
2 "	4 "	4 00	1 "	1 year	70 00
2 "	3 months	6 00

Business cards of five lines or less, $5.
Transient advertisements must be paid in advance—all others quarterly.

BUSINESS CARDS.

EVERETT P. FREEMAN,
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
OFFICE.—Next door south of the Post Office, MANKATO, - - - - - - MINN.
Prompt attention given to claims to be prosecuted before the State Board of Auditors, and to Court and Office business. Collections made and conveyancing done on reasonable terms.

MANKATO INS. AGENCY.
HARTFORD.
PHOENIX.
MERCHANTS—FIRE INS. CO'S.
CHARTER OAK LIFE INS. CO.
Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid by:
JOHN N. HALL,
Resident Agent.

O. P. LIEBERG,
FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER.—Having opened a Barber Shop with a view to establishing a permanent business in Mankato, I am prepared to wait upon gentlemen, and will guarantee satisfaction in every department of my business.
June 26, 1863.

C. A. STURGES, M. D.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
MANKATO, MINN.
OFFICE:—At his residence second door above the Mankato House.

Z. PADDOCK,
Attorney and Counselor at Law, and General Land Agent. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to him. Mankato, Blue Earth Co., Minn.

FRED'K HILDEBRANDT,
Manufacturer of and Dealer in all kinds of
FURNITURE & GILT MOULDING.
ALSO,
Imitation of Rosewood Mouldings, Ovals, Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames.
Ware Rooms in Schnemeier's Block, Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minn.

M. ZENOPOLSKI, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.
OFFICE:—Opposite the Clifton House.

DAVID WILCOX.
JUDGE OF PROBATE,
& ATT'Y AT LAW,
MANKATO - - - - - - MINN.

WM. R. McMAHAN, M. D.
Office and Residence old at his stand, on the corner of Hickory and Second streets, one Block back of the Mankato House, where he will be found at all times, except when professionally absent.
He will furnish and compound his own medicines.

EDWARD OGLESBY,
Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hawley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work in his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October,

S. FINCH, O. O. PITCHER.
FINCH & PITCHER,
Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,
MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA.

MANKATO NURSERY.
THE Proprietor has for sale a choice collection of
Fruit Trees,
Comprising Apple, Pear, Cherry, Plum, and Quince Trees. Also a good assortment of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants, Rasp berries, Strawberries, and Pie Plant; together with
ORNAMENTAL TREES
Shrubs, Evergreens, Flowering Plants, &c.
ROB'T GOODYEAR.
Mankato, Sept. 1861.

FAIRBANKS'
STANDARD
SCALES,
OF ALL KINDS.
FAIRBANKS, GREENLEAF & CO.,
172 LAKE STREET, CHICAGO.
☞ BUY ONLY THE GENUINE.

SOUTH BEND MILLS.
BIERBAUER & ROCKEY,
HAVING purchased the above mills, are prepared to manufacture all grades of FLOUR, CORN MEAL, ETC.
Wheat will be ground for every sixth bushel in quantities not less than ten bushels.
☞ Flour and mill stuffs always on hand at market prices. Feb 6-3m

Poetry.

SMITE.

BY ALFRED B. STREET.

Smite for the Union, smite!
Traitors upon it are dashing!
On with your banner of light!
Freedom that banner upholds,
Her spirit has entered its folds,
Her purity glows in the white,
Her hopes in the azure are bright,
Her wrath in the crimson is flashing;
Smite for the Union,
Smite!

Smite! for the forms of our fathers
Frowning, bend low to our sight:
Their voices are heard on the gale
Sons, if ye cowardly fail,
Hide in the caverns of night!
But no, ye will on in your might!
The blacker the thunder-cloud gathers
Smite for the Union,
Smite!

Smite! for each manacled nation
Hangs on our struggle of Right;
Our triumph will nerve each anew
And we know but in battle's dew
Will Peace spread her blossom of white.
Then shout it from valley and hight,
Smite! 'tis our only salvation,
Smite!

Select Miscellany.

THE UNEDUCATED WIFE.

CHAPTER IV.

Her letter was short, but tender and impressive. It concluded by saying, "It will be useless to seek me, for I leave no trace behind; if you hear nothing from me in five years, think me with your blessed mother: and obtain a wife of whom she would not be ashamed. If I can make myself worthy of you I will return."

Fitzgerald was in an agony of grief; he remembered nothing but her artless loveliness, felt a thousand fears for her safety, scoured the country in every direction; spent months in seeking, but without ever getting a hint to guide his search beyond the night on which she left the stage. He went to the log cabin, but the Indians had heard nothing of her since she sent them presents of blankets, beads for their moccasins, &c.

A year passed away, and Fitzgerald began to think he should never hear from her more. He left his fine residence, where he could not remain, for everything reminded him of his lost wife and departed mother, and removed to the city.

Year after year rolled on, and the lovely Isidore was forgotten. Even Fitzgerald thought of her only at times, and as a bright vision that had long since passed away, for he had ceased even to hope that he should ever behold her again.

And where was the heroic girl who had made such sacrifices for him she loved? It would be beyond the limits of this narrative to relate all the perils she encountered; the toils, the dangers, and the difficulties she overcame, before she reached her aunt Waldorff in Germany, where she at last arrived in safety, and was kindly received; for Madam Waldorff, though she had her prejudices, and disliked the Americans; (rebels, as she always called them,) was an elegant and accomplished woman. She entered warmly into the plans of her lovely niece, procured for her every instructor necessary to improve, cultivate, and strengthen her really powerful mind; and Isidore was astonished at her own progress. It was indeed rapid, for what will not love accomplish? The first years were entirely devoted to her mind and heart? the last to accomplishments. Music was her favorite among these; and she performed delightfully upon the harp.

She said to her aunt one day, after playing for her some time.

"I have succeeded on this instrument beyond my most sanguine expectations,"

"My dear Isidore," said Madam Waldorff, "I am pleased and proud of your progress; but I shall grieve to part with you. I have often, since your arrival, lamented that I did not take you from your grandfather; but I felt vexed that your father should have been urged from his home, and thought the General deserved all the anxiety he felt. I have long since overcome such feelings; and now, my dear child, you are wound round my heart so firmly, that it will ache to part with you. I have seen for some time that your thoughts are wandering to that dear one for whom all your exertions have been made. You are anxious to see your husband in your assumed character; and though I dislike all deceit, I think if it ever was excusable, it is in your situation. I have a friend in whom I can confide, on the eve of embarking for America. You shall go with him as a relation, which you really are, though distant. He knows your story, and will aid you in every way. You shall see your husband. He cannot know you, for you are no more like the little trembler that came here five years ago than I am."

"How good you are, my more than mother. Do you think my husband will not know me?" said Isidore, as she walked up to a large mirror. "I am very tall now, and have, I believe, a rather more dignified and womanly appearance. But he will know me by my hair, which is of a peculiar color."

"I think not; besides, my dear, you can easily conceal it with a head-dress."

"Ah, true; but I shall betray myself, dearest aunt, by my emotions."

"Isidore, have you overcome so many difficulties, shown yourself so superior to most of your sex, and have not yet learned to control and conceal your own feelings? Be yourself, my child, and all will be well."

"I wonder if Mr. Campbell, when he now sees me, will recognize the baby, the fool." Isidore blushed as she said this, for she did not exactly like the resentment that rose in her bosom. "Alas, my dear aunt, I have so many faults and foibles yet to correct! for I would not return with any feelings but those of affection and tenderness towards my friends. My only wonder is, that my husband ever could have loved me. But now, I am sure that I am worthy of his love; sure that I can make him happy; sure that I possess, in the resources of my own mind, treasures that, for your kind attention to me, when I came a little ignorant child to your bosom, would have been lost for ever."

Isidore left her kind aunt soon after this conversation, with the friend she mentioned, and was on her return to America.

* * * * *

"Can you tell me, Emma," said Major Harcourt to his wife, as he seated himself beside her on a sofa, "who that elegant looking female is, leaning on an elderly gentleman's arm, by the door?"

"Yes; it is the beautiful stranger I told you of; a relation of Mr Welland's the great Holland merchant, and some say heiress to his immense wealth. She is very much admired, Is she not lovely?"

"Exquisitely beautiful indeed, and uncommonly graceful! I have been watching her for some time."

"Come, I will introduce you to her, Henry; she is as intelligent and accomplished as she is beautiful. But you seem amazingly struck. See, your earnest gaze has quite disconcerted her; that fair face is covered with blushes, and she has turned to her protector, with whom she is conversing very earnestly."

Harcourt felt a singular interest in the stranger, and said.

"Let us follow her, Emma. I never saw but one being that interested me half so much;" looking expressively at his wife, and pressing her arm as he spoke. They were soon by the side of the person who had attracted their observation, where they spent an hour delightfully. Emma promised to call for Miss Walstein next day, to walk on the Battery; and Major Harcourt, as they rode home, declared he had never conversed with a more intelligent and agreeable woman.

"My dear husband," said Emma, "if I was at all inclined to be jealous, I think I have some little cause for it now, for you appear perfectly fascinated with Miss Walstein, and have scarcely taken your eyes from her face."

"Indeed, Emma, she reminds me so much of some one I have seen, though for the life of me I cannot tell who, that I thought we must have met before; but it cannot be for she told me it was her first visit to this city. I will go with you to-morrow, and take Campbell, he will lose his heart, you may be sure, as she is exactly the woman I have often heard him describe, and wish to obtain." Emma smiled. "Why that smile? Do you not agree with me?"

"I think, my dear husband, your sudden and warm admiration is not consistent with your usual prudence and judgment."

"True, true; and I will say no more. Albert would have a fair right to laugh at me, should he know of my sudden and warm admiration of a beautiful woman."

The conversation then dropped. Emma told her husband that Campbell had called to say adieu; he was to sail for France in the morning."

Major Harcourt had made a most judicious choice when he selected from the beautiful and complished women that he visited, Emma Green. She was rather plain in her person, though graceful and elegant in her manner. He was sure of an agreeable companion, for her mind was well cultivated, and her disposition amiable.

Often would Fitzgerald, who was very intimate there, when he witnessed their perfect union and happiness, sigh and say,

"Ah, Harcourt, why was I so weak as to be fascinated by beauty alone? The voice of the good old General still sounds in my ear: 'Son of my friend, do nothing rashly.' Why did I not listen to his advice?"

"My dear Albert, you have learned a useful lesson, and I hope your next choice will do you honor."

"I shall never marry again," replied Fitzgerald.

In a few weeks Sophia Walstein and Mr. Welland were familiar guests at Major Harcourt's

"I think," said Emma to her husband, "that Fitzgerald rather avoids us of late. I met him this morning as we were walking in Broadway, and introduced Sophia to him; but he had little opportunity of seeing her, as her veil was down, and none of us conversing with her as she was seized with one of those fits of trembling that alarmed me so much the day you returned with him from the country. I hope she is not nervous. Albert ordered his carriage, and the ride soon restored her. I wish he would become acquainted with her. She is exactly calculated to make him happy, and it is quite idle to suppose he will ever hear from Isidore."

"I think as you do, Emma, but still his situation is an embarrassing one, as it would be dreadful indeed to marry one woman, and be claimed by another."

"True, Henry, but it is now almost six years since she left him; and could he obtain this lovely creature, he would be fortunate indeed. I never saw any one so much admired, and so worthy of admiration, that valued it so little. She prefers a social evening with me to the most splendid party, and a game at romps with your pet, Albert, to a walk with our most fascinating beaux. To-morrow she spends the day with us, and I am to send for her harp. Bring Fitzgerald home with you, and say nothing of our guest."

"I will," replied Harcourt.

After a day of social and refined enjoyment with her friends, at evening Miss Walstein took her harp. She was playing a Scotch air, when Harcourt came home with Fitzgerald. They stood some time at the open door, charmed with the melody. The latter seemed spell-bound. Was it the music that entranced him, or was he admiring the beautiful creature that touched the strings with her white and delicate fingers? The music ceased, and the fair musician hung over the instrument, pale and trembling. Her agitation was attributed to fatigue from playing so long; but she soon recovered herself. Fitzgerald was constantly examining her face, when he could do so without absolute rudeness, though after an hour spent in her society, he listened more than he looked, for he thought her uncommonly agreeable—still he appeared thoughtful, and at every pause in the conversation, quite dull.

Days and weeks passed, and Fitzgerald visited Sophia Walstein every day.

"Harcourt," said he, "you have drawn me into the society of this charming woman, whom it is impossible to know and not to love; and yet, whom it would be dishonorable for me to seek to obtain. Why do you smile? Do not trifle with me, Henry; you know not the struggle between my attachment and my sense of honor. I sometimes wish I had never seen her."

"I would not trifle with you, Albert; but you must have discovered Sophia's preference for you. Why not declare yourself?"

"Are you mad, Harcourt? Am I not a married man? The lost Isidore is forgotten by the world; her beauty and her virtues buried in oblivion; but I cannot forget the tenderness with which I once almost adored her. Yet I love Sophia, devotedly, ardently. There is something about her, though I have never mentioned it before, that often reminds me of Isidore. The expression of her eyes sometimes, when she gazes on me; the tone of her voice, particularly when it is a tone of tenderness, brings the artless, self-sacrificing creature before me, so forcibly that her name is involuntarily on my lips. It was this resemblance that first drew me to her; but it is her noble, cultivated, and accomplished mind, and lovely, amiable temper, that irresistibly attach me to Sophia Walstein. It has become almost impossible for me to conceal my feelings towards her, and this night I will tell her my history. It may be availing, and perhaps selfish; but I cannot resist the impulse that prompts me. If she despises and avoids me, I can but relinquish her society, which is already become so dangerous to my peace of mind, and quit a country in which I seemed doomed to meet with nothing but sorrow and mortification."

Fitzgerald walked the apartment in an agony of doubt and anxiety. Harcourt endeavored to soothe him, by telling him to fear nothing, and striving to convince him that he might indulge his attachment and seek its return with honor; but he continued pacing the room until the servant announced Miss Walstein, when he took his hat and rushed into the street.

He returned more composed, and, seating himself beside the object of his solicitude, attempted in vain to converse with his accustomed freedom. Sophia was talking of the importance of education to females.

"Will you hear my story, Miss Walstien?" at length he somewhat abruptly said. "It is a melancholy illustration of what you have just been saying; but I think I can tell it to you, though I scarcely know why I ask you to listen to it."

She turned very pale, and trembled excessively when he spoke of his wife; her artless loveliness, his regret and sorrow for her loss, and his long search for her. She looked on him with tenderness that assured him he was beloved. Still he became embarrassed as he began to speak of himself.

"This," said he taking Isidore's last letter from his pocket. "will explain what—my"

Sophia started from the chair, threw off the head-dress that confined and covered her luxuriant tresses, and letting the rich glossy ringlets fall over her neck and shoulders. cried.

"Well, I do know the contents of that letter; Albert, my dear beloved husband!" and sank almost lifeless into his arms!

He gazed upon her as if he doubted the evidence of his senses, then pressing her to his heart, exclaimed—

"Isidore! My wife!" with such a frantic cry of joy, that Harcourt and Emma rushed into the apartment.

To describe the suprise and happiness of all interested, would be impossible.

"Dear Isidore," said Fitzgerald, when they were all quietly settled, "how could a young, timid, and ignorant girl—pardon me for the word—leave her home, her husband, and thus alone travel to Germany without leaving any traces behind? It was the last place in the world I should have sought for you, as I knew you had a perfect dread of Madam Waldorff, on account of her treatment to your grandfather."

"True, Albert; but he told me, in his last moments, if I never saw you again, to go to her; and said she was noble and well educated, though proud. I knew she was rich, and had ample means to do for me all I wished. Had you examined your old wardrobe, you would have missed two suits of boy's clothes, that your mother had preserved, because, as you told me, your life had been saved in one of them, and the other you wore on your return from your first absence; these I wore after the first day, cutting off my hair, and staining my skin. You could not have known me yourself. You ask how I could leave you. To make the effort, it needed all the conciousness I felt of my unworthiness for the station in which you had place me; needed all the misery that I constantly suffered, and the mortification I caused you. Oh, Albert! before I could summon resolution to leave you, I heard myself called a fool! yes, a fool! and by your best friends, I do not wonder at it; for how can any one, perfectly uneducated, and ignorant even of the most common things, appear other than a fool, in the most intelligent and polished society? Riches may dazzle, and beauty may fascinate, but a highly intellectual and cultivated man cannot long love an ignorant woman; and you will acknowledge that it is a dangerous experiment for any such a man to take an uneducated girl, however beautiful, for a wife."

"Yes, yes, my love, I will," said Fitzgerald, "unless every woman were an ISIDORE."

Profit and Loss.

As rather an unscrupulous fellow named Ben was coming down town one morning, he met Tom, and stopped him.

"I say Tom," he said, "here's a pretty good counterfeit three. If you pass it I'll divide."

"Let's see the plaster," said Tom, and after examining it carefully, put it in his vest pocket, remarking, "it is an equal division—a dollar and a half a piece."

"Yes," said Ben.

"All right," said Tom, and off he went.

A few moments afterwards he quietly stepped into the store of his friend and purchased a can of oysters for a dollar and a half, laying down the three dollar bill for them. The clerk looked at the bill rather doubtingly, when his suspicions were calmed by Tom who said:

"There was no use looking, for he had received that note from Ben himself not ten minutes since.

Of course the clerk with this assurance forked over the dollar and a half in change, and with this deposit and the can of oysters, Tom left. Shortly afterward he met Ben, who asked if he had passed the note.

"Oh yes," said Tom, at the same time passing over a dollar and a half to Ben.

That evening when Ben made up his cash account, he was surprised to find the same old counterfeit three in the drawer, Turning to his locum tenens, he asked "Where did you get this cursed note? Didn't you know it is counterfeit?"

"Why," said the clerk, "Tom gave it to me, and I suspected it was fishy but he said he had just received it from you, and I took it."

The whole thing had penetrated the wool of Ben. With a particular grin he muttered "Sold!" and charged the can of oyster to profit and loss account.

Dipping up the Water.

Kneeling by the stream I saw
Kate, the farmer's daughter,
Drinking in her rosy palm,
Dipping up the water.

She had thrown her hat aside,
Bare were arm and shoulder;
Each unconscious arm displayed,
Made my love the bolder.

So I slowly, tenderly,
Went and knelt beside her,
Drank with her from out the stream—
Blushing Kitty Ryder.

And I said, "The poets tell us
Life is like a river;
Shall we not its waters sweet,
Always drink together?"

Many years have passed us by,
Like the flowing water,
But I drink life's stream to-day
With Kate, the farmers's daughter.

An Affecting Meeting.

We have witnessed in the course of our life some affecting scenes, produced by the workings of human feelings, yet we were never moved by any such exhibition as we were by what we were accidentally a spectator to this morning at the depot. The Pittsburg train had arrived, and the passengers were hurriedly alighting in that confused jingle peculiar to such occasions—old men jostled and jostling; well dressed gentility; seedy vice or respectability (in the world's eye one is as bad as the other); women and babies; pretty girls; wrinkled hags; sun-browned soldiers coming home to "see the folks;" pale convalescents from hospitals and camps; dashing officers with shoulder-straps and bright buttons, well oiled curls beneath jaunty caps, pulling jetty mustaches at pretty girls; soiled and weather-beaten veterans from recent battle-fields, hobbling painfully on crutches; old lady with band-box, frantic about her "chest;" little children who are continually getting under foot and getting away from their mother, who chicks around in the throng like an old hen calling her scattered brood; the man with the everlasting carpet-bag, and the man without anything at all, (happy fellow); distracted husband who has the care of his wife, half a dozen children, trunks, band-boxes, and an indefinite number of bags and bundles; jolly fellow, without any of the above incumbrances, jingling a solitary ten cent scrip in his pocket; the conductor, cheerful and complacent at the termination of his day's work; the brakeman, dusty and sooty, picking cinders out of his eyes; expressmen and baggagemen working with might and main to clear the cars of freight and baggage; policemen, ready to stop a pickpocket or a row—all constituting a scene which we somehow never tire of being a spectator to.

It was while we were enjoying such a spectacle this morning that we heard a sudden shriek, and then a female who had been standing near us observing the throng of passengers, rushed wildly forward and threw her arms around the neck of a pale and emaciated soldier, who, with several others, had just alighted from a car. He dropped the crutch on which he was leaning, and encircled her form with his arms. She seemed nearly frantic with joy, and showered a hundred kisses upon his wan and haggard face. The words she spoke were hurried and low, but uttered with that eagerness which denoted the depths of feeling from which they bubbled up. We caught the words, "husband," "dearest wife," and turned away. The scene was too sacred for an idle spectator to look upon. She led him away, her frail person fondly supporting his feeble and tottering steps, and oh, the look of love and affection with which she would look up into that thin and pallid face as they conversed. Coarse men who rarely know the melting mood, turned away to brush the moisture from the cheek as they witnessed that meeting.

The story is short. The soldier belonged to a Michigan regiment that was in the battle of Gettysburg. He was wrongly reported among the dead, and his almost distracted wife was on her way to the battle field in the insane hope of recovering his body from among the thousands slain. She arrived but this morning on the Detroit boat. The rest we have already told. The shock of surprise and joy at seeing her husband whom she considered dead, was very great, but she withstood it, and to-night they go on their way home, the happiest couple that we have met in a long, long day. With such a loving and attentive nurse as she must be, the soldier must recover from the wound he received at the memorable battle of Gettysburg.—Cleveland Leader.

NEW FASHION FOR THE HAIR.—The comb is henceforth an obsolete article in fashionable circles, and ladies are reverting to the Lady Godiva style of wearing the hair—that is, letting it flow down over the shoulders. Little girls having abandoned the once popular net, now have the hair crimped and then allowed to float loosely down the back. When the hair is of a light auburn or golden hue, it has a pretty effect, reminding one of the early English maidens, with names like Maude and Mary, who used to live in the days of the Round Table.

Older girls, and young and even middle aged ladies, have, however, made a compromise in the matter which is perfectly frightful. The hair is rumpled up so as to stand out on the head as if it had not been combed for a week, and then the back hair, also carefully rumpled, is loosely fastened up with a comb. The head is then considered arranged for the opera or ball room, and as seen then and there, suggests Tilly Slowboy after one of her "cow like gambols" around the cradle of Dot's baby.

Dressing with Taste.

If American ladies would learn that it is not so much by expensive material as by good taste in arranging, that good taste is exhibited, it might save a deal of pinching in many homes, and save husbands and fathers from a dreadful bankruptcy. There is good sense in the following paragraph:

It is strange that with all the time American women bestow upon dress, so few know how to prepare a suitable toilet with taste. To be well-dressed means, with most, to wear rich material, made up in gorgeous style, and with all the usual accessories of lace and jewelry, to add to the magnificence of the general effect.

Never was there a greater mistake. To be well dressed is only to have attire suited to time, place and circumstances, made in a becoming manner. This attire may be a shilling calico or a rich silk, and yet in either, if it is adapted to the conditions we have mentioned, a woman may be said to be well-dressed. Where household duties have to be performed, and the care of children depends partly upon the mistress of the house, a neat dress fitted gracefully to the figure, is much better for morning wear than the faded remains of more pretentious costume. Nothing looks more forlorn than to see a would-be lady performing household offices, of not the most refined character, in an old torn or dirty silk dress, or a soiled or draggled open wrapper.

One of the secrets of dressing well is to dress appropriately—another, to be careful of the details, the minutiae of the toilet. Though personal cleanliness, glossy well-brushed hair, neat shoes and stockings, are as essential to a good personal appearance as the material and fashion of the dress. Indeed, a lady who is particular in these minor matters can hardly ever be said to be ill-dressed, as this delicate refinement will not only excuse faults, but naturally show itself in the good taste which will guide her selection, no matter how small the cost may be.

Some persons have an extreme horror of being "caught" as they call it, in a morning dress. Why they should be so sensitive on this point it is difficult to say. If it is clean and adapted to the work in which they are engaged, there is no shame in wearing it; and, above all, it ought to be remembered that no attire is good enough for the family which is not good enough for mere acquaintances who may chance to favor you with their society. It is much better to be caught in a plain morning dress than to be caught very much overdressed, as some unlucky individuals are, at a small evening party. In one case there is real cause for mortification, in the other there is none.

A MAN keeping a country tavern not a thousand miles from this place engaged a hostler who had been pickled for a number of years with bad whiskey, and agreed to board him, and was to have all the liquor gentlemen left in the tumblers on the counter for his services. Jacob was in the habit of coming into the bar-room every few minutes through the day to see how much was left in the tumblers and drink what was left. One day the landlord was preparing a medicine to cure a ringbone on his horse, composed of Aquia Fortis, Oil Spike, and other powerful medicines, and came into the bar-room and set the tumbler which contained the ringbone medicine, and then stepped out of the room to see a man for a moment. While absent, Jacob came in, and seeing the tumbler on the counter nearly full, took it up and drank the contents and went out chopping wood near the back door. The landlord coming in soon after saw his medicine gone, and enquired of a man sitting in the room where his medicine was, and was informed that a man had just been in and drank what was in the tumbler. The landlord ran to the back door, and inquired of Jacob if he had drank that in the tumbler on the counter, to which he answered, "Yes sar." "Why, Jacob, it will kill you! Oh no, massa, pretty good brandy, best I had in a long time, it warms me up good." "But don't you see any difference since you drank it?" "Not much, massa, only when I wipe my month on my sleeve, I notice my breath burns a hole in my shirt."—Owatonna Plaindealer.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

The Weekly Union.

Mankato, Friday, Aug. 14, 1863.

Republican Union Convention.

The Republicans and all other unconditional Union men throughout the State of Minnesota, who are earnest and honest supporters of the Administration, and who will stand by it without fear or favor in all its efforts to crush rebellion and maintain the Union, and who desire to see no cessation of hostilities until the glorious old flag of our country shall wave over a united Republic, "without a stripe erased or polluted, or a single star obscured,"—and all, in fine, who are uncompromisingly hostile to traitors, whether open, armed rebels in the South, or covert advocates in the North of a damaging and humiliating peace, will assemble in convention at St. Paul, at Ingersol's Hall, on Wednesday, August the 19th, 1863, at 11 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following offices:

Governor;
Lieutenant Governor;
Secretary of State;
State Treasurer;
Attorney General;
Auditor of State;
Clerk of the Supreme Court.

The different counties will be entitled to be represented in the Convention by Delegates, who are bona fide residents of the counties from which they are accredited, as follows:

Anoka	2	Morrison	1
Benton	2	Mower	2
Blue Earth	4	Nicollet	3
Brown	2	Olmstead	6
Carver	3	Pine	1
Chisago	2	Ramsey	8
Dakotah	7	Renville	1
Dodge	3	Rice	5
Faribault	1	Scott	5
Fillmore	9	Sherburne	1
Freeborn	3	Sibley	3
Hennepin	8	Stearns	3
Isanti	1	Steele	2
Goodhue	6	St. Louis	1
Houston	5	Wabashaw	7
Le Sueur	4	Winona	6
Mcleod	1	Waseca	2
Meeker	1	Wright	3
Mille Lac	1	Washington	4

No Delegates will be admitted from unorganized or uninhabited counties, not enumerated above.

By order of the Republican Central Committee.

ROBT. F. FISK, Ch'n.
WILFORD L. WILSON,
ANDREW NESSEL,
D. BLAKELY,
J. B. GILFILLAN,
BENJ. F. SMITH.

St. Paul, July 8, 1863.

In response to the above call, the Republicans and all other unconditional union men named therein of Blue Earth County are hereby requested to elect delegates in the several towns to represent them in a County Convention to be held at Mankato, on Saturday, the 15th of August at 2 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of choosing four delegates to said State Convention.

The ratio of representation will be as follows:

Mankato,	7	Shelby,	2
South Bend,	4	Sterling,	2
Judson,	2	Mapleton,	1
Butternut Valley,	2	Danville,	1
Ceresco,	1	Le Ray,	1
Watonwan,	5	Jamestown,	1
Vernon,	2	Lime,	1

Ignoring past differences, mindful of present duties, and hopeful for the future, let us strive to put the right men in the right places, and while our gallant soldiers are shedding their blood so profusely to uphold our glorious union, let us show them that what their valor secures shall not be jeopardized by us at home.

Per order of the Republican Co. Com.
J. T. WILLIAMS,
July 24th, 1863. Chairman.

TOWN CAUCUS.

The unconditional Union electors of the town of Mankato, who subscribe to the terms of the above calls, are requested to meet in City Hall, this, Friday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, to choose seven delegates to represent Mankato in the County Convention to be held on the 15th inst.

Per order of the Town Committee.
JOHN LORIN,
T. T. PEIRCE.
Mankato, August 14th, 1863.

WHO WILL BE THE NOMINEES.

As the time appointed for the State Convention approaches, considerable is said about the persons likely to be selected as the nominees of that Convention, Differences of opinion seem to exists among true loyal men as to the most fit candidate for Govenor. Although public sentiment in this part of the State does not appear to have settled down upon any particular person as the especial favorite of the people, all agree that it is highly important, at this time, to select a man, concerning whose integrity, firmness and loyalty there should not be the least question. And with these requisites it is also important that a man of great firmness of character and decision of purpose, should be selected ; for however correct a man may be in other respects, if he is a man who will doubt or hesitate in a time of trouble, or in an emergency, he is not the man to be the Governor of a loyal State in a time like the present. We have confidence that the Convention will select such a man, and that the nominee of that Convention will be triumphantly elected.

Great Northwestern Festival.—At the meeting of the Executive Committee in Chicago; on Saturday, it was decided to hold a Convention of Delegates from the five Northwestern States, at Bryan Hall, at 10 o'clock, on the 1st of September, to perfect arrangements for the great Soldier's festival. A mass meeting of ladies and others interested will be held at the same place, at 3 o'clock, on the 2d.

Free Words in a Slave State.

In allusion to the frequent escapes of slaves from Missouri, the Nashville Union says:

"Whatever weakens the abominable system of slavery weakens the rebellion. Every blow at slavery is a blow at the Southern Confederacy. Every wound inflicted on the heaven defying and man degrading system of human bondage is a dagger thrust at the heart of the Richmond dynasty. When the night of death and damnation closes over this southern rebellion, may not a slave on our continent to kindle the flame of another rebellion, and bring down the wrath of God anew upon this nation.''

A TRIP TO THE MILITARY POSTS.

To the Editor of the Union.

I left Mankato on the 6th of August under orders from Capt. J. E. McKusick, A. Q. M., to visit the military posts in this Sub-District, and arrived the same day at the post on Lake Hanska under command of Capt. R. Stront. This post is situated on a high bluff close to the Lake and is built of sod, the wall is about six feet high. The situation is well chosen, and the post will undoubtedly show its self-efficiency if it ever should be attacked. Lake Hanska is surrounded by rich meadows, but as they were not burned over last fall, the old grass is still in the bottom, and makes mowing very difficult. From Lake Hanska, I went to Fort Wilkin, where I found Lieut. Jules Capon in command. Lieut. Capon is a thorough military man, and the building of his fort shows that the experience he has gained under the walls of Sebastopol has not been lost. Fort Wilkin is a queer structure made of sod, with four bastions one in each corner, so as to enable the garrison to keep up a cross fire parallel with each of the walls, in the case of an attempt on storming the fort. In the middle of the fort is a large square log-house, two stories high, with a lookout station on the top, 45 feet over the level ground. According to my opinion, Fort Wilkin is the best fort in this district, and it was built without one dollar extra expense to the Government. Lieut. Capon had cut about 50 tons of hay, but the late rain storm has destroyed more than half of it.

The next post on the line is the Camp on the south branch of the Watonwan, under command of Capt. D. W. Wellman. This fortification consists of a stockade, the logs standing on the end, and it is apparently not finished. At this post there is stationed a detachment of cavalry and the command of Lieut. J. Spencer which, in small squads patrol the country from Fairmount to Fort Ridgely.

Twelve miles south of Camp Watonwan is Fort Chanynska under command of Lieut. Paton. This fort is built square with two circular bastions in opposite corners. The garrison has substituted thatched shanties for tents and think them a great deal more comfortable and convenient. A few days previous to my arrival there were three buffaloes killed by some of the men and they expected to get more. Game is so very plenty in this vicinity that very little meat is used but what is killed by the garrison. The meadows around Chanynska are the best I have seen, and I suppose that more hay will be made there than at any of the other posts.

The last military post is at Fairmount under command of Capt. A. K. Skaro. The fortification consists of a stockade made of heavy logs, laid horizontal on the top of one another, and it is apparently a strong place. Capt. Skaro had his men out drilling during my stay, and they presented a very fine and soldier-like appearance.

*

The American Blockade---Important Decision in the Case of the Peterhoff.

The decision of Judge Betts, in the case of the Peterhoff, rendered on Saturday last, is one of the most important ever pronounced in our courts. It has been made so by the British Parliament and British newspapers, by the notice taken of it by the threats held out against the American people in the event of their judges condemning the vessel and her cargo.

The Court, however, looking at all the circumstances of the case, has arrived at a righteous decision ; and no doubt this case will be quoted hereafter by the English judges as a precedent. It is fully in accordance with the treaty of Paris defining blockade: and Earl Russell himself has admitted that the American blockade is as effective as any blockade can be. As to this particular case, Earl Russell said he "would not be satisfied with any decision that was not based in justice," It is highly probable, however, that he will be satisfied with this; particularly if the judgment on appeal should be affirmed by the highest court. But if he should not, we trust it will make no difference to our Government, and that it will stand to the last by the decisions of its own courts, which are only following the precedents laid down by Lord Stowell and other greats lights of the British Admiralty Court. If war is to arise out of the case, let it come; we will be fully prepared for it. But let there be no truckling to the impudent domination of John Bull.

STATE NEWS ITEMS.

A cow on the farm of S. H. Schyler, of Stewartville, Olmstead Co. Minn., a few days since had a calf and when fifteen hours old weighed one hundred and seventeen pounds. It is now on exhibition at the above place.—Owa. Plaindealer.

Stuck by Lightning.—During the rain-storm of last night, Caesar Knott's house, in the lower end of town was struck by lightning. Part of the siding was torn of from the gable end; it tore the plastering from the inside, and raised "Ned" generally with the stove-pipes, &c. No one was injured, though there were several persons in the house at the time.—Shakopee Argus.

To the Ladies.—It has probably been observed by our readers, from the census table we publish last week, that the females have a majority in town of one. Now if the odd woman will call at this office, and produce her vouchers to that effect, we will see that she receives a suitable testimonial at the hands of our citizens; who all, no doubt would liberally contribute of their substance for such an object. Let not the fact of our being a bachelor deter her in the least.—Conserver.

The Goodhue Volunteer says, Navigation is suspended so far as the larger boats are concerned; small boats continue to make occasional trips, but without much regularity. There is a great deal of travel on the river, and if there was convenience there would be more, The Lake City Times mentioned an instance when a little boat with six state-rooms and twelve chairs had on board 125 passengers. It is almost impossible to get freight. Messrs. Brown & Betcher informed us that they have had reapers on the way for ten days but they could not get them. We need a railroad.

Minnesota Apples.—Last Saturday we partook of a green apple pie made from apples grown in the garden of Robert Bell, Esq., of this city. Many of the trees died while they were yet young, but these that did weather the storm now bear finely. We have noticed the apples trees in several gardens in this city, and they all look well. Apples, and we believe, other fruit can be successfully raised in Minnesota, notwithstanding croakers.

Rather Costly.—Probably out of curiosity Mr. Goldberg shot Mr. Greer's dog. The dog was a valuable one, so Mr. Greer commenced a suit to recover his value. This brought Mr. Goldberg around, who offered to settle by getting another dog; but all dogs are not alike, and Mr. Greer thought he would just as soon have the cash. So they settled Mr. Goldberg paying $30, and all costs.—Goodhue Volunteer.

THE STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

A STATE FAIR TO BE HELD.

Office of the State Board of Agriculture, St. Paul. Aug. 8, 1863.

At a meeting of the State Board of Agriculture, held at the office of the Secretary of State to-day, there were present—Messrs, Ames, Stevens, Furber, Clark and Alex. Chambers by proxy, Charles Hoag, Esq., being duly authorized.

It was resolved, on motion of Colonel Stevens, that we hold a State Fair this fall, at Fort Snelling, on the 30th day of September, and the 1st and 2d days of October,

On further motion of Col. Stevens, J. Mace Eustis, of Minneapolis, was appointed General Superintendent of the Fair.

Maj. P. P. Furber, of St. Paul was on motion of Mr. Ames, appointed Superintendent of the Ladies Department, and instructed to prepare a Premium list for the same.

It was further resolved that the premium list of last year be adopted as far as practicable, and that Messrs. Ames and Wilson act as Committee in preparing and revising said list.

It was also ordered by the Board that the Secretary be authorized to procure the necessary printing and publishing.

On motion of Mr Furber, Col. Stevens was appointed a committee to correspond with Hon. Horace Greeley, in relation to his delivering the annual address, with full power to the procurement of him or some other suitable person.

On motion of Col. Stevens, the President, Secretary and Superintendent were appointed a committee to see that the Fair Grounds, buildings, &c., are put in the necessary condition, and that they be empowered to act in all cases for the Board.

On motion of Charles Hoag, the proceedings of the meeting were ordered to be published in all papers throughout the State, friendly to the cause of agriculture.

No further business coming before the meeting, the Board adjourned to meet at Fort Snelling on Monday, August 17th, at 2 o'clock P. M.

W. L AMES, President.
Chas. H Clark, Secretary

The Storm on Friday Night.

The thunder storm of Friday night was the most severe one we have had since 1858. It was accompanied by a high wind, which fairly amounted to a tornado and caused considerable damage.

The addition to the Catholic Cathedral, which has been recently finished, was unroofed, but no futher damage was done to that fine building.

Some small shanties along the railroad were unroofed and torn to pieces. No person injured, so far as we have heard.

A number of fine shade trees in various parts of the city were totally destroyed. Several person in speaking to us of the loss of some favorite tree that embellished their residence, said: "I would not have taken a hundred dollars for it."

We have not heard any farther particulars of damage done to buildings in the city, and believe that there were no other cases than those mentioned.

The main force of the tornado seems to have spent itself on the opposite side of the river. The marks of its devastation there show it to be the worst, and perhaps the only, hurricane that has ever visited this region. For a distance of about three miles, from the highland opposite the cave, in a north-easterly course, to the Mississppi at Kaposia, the tornado made a track of ruin about thirty rods wide, prostrating trees, fences, houses and haystacks, and all in its course. There were one or two houses and barns in its track, which it either laid in ruins or badly damaged. We have not yet ashertained the names of the sufferers, but learn that Mr.—Sweeney had a barn destroyed:

In West St Paul, near the lower ferry, two brothers named John and Patrick Fitzgerald, who had barns near together, had them both destroyed. John's barn was filled with hay, poultry, &c.; Patrick's with grain, hogs, &c. The hogs were all killed, and the two barns are a total loss.

It is fortunate that this tornado passed to the south of this point. Had it struck the city, the damage would have been incalculable. It would have unroofed or destroyed most of the houses in the city.—Press.

The Anticipated Marriage of Senator Sprague to Miss Chase.

As matrimonial alliances form an important part in European politics, so the proposed one between Senator Sprague and the daughter of Secretary Chase will prove to be highly advantageous to the Presidential aspirations of the latter. The Secretary himself, like Mr. Seward, but unlike most official dignitaries here has been prodigal of hospitalities, and hence as an element of strength in the social or fashionable life of the metroplis. When reinforced next winter by the millionarie and representative of millionaries, Sprague, Mr. Chase will be able to open the the political compaign with decided advantages, Important Revenue Decision.

The following letter from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue decides a question upon which there has been some controversy in this State, and which, it appears, has been under consideration by the Committee for about two months:

Treasury Department,
Office of Internal Revenue,
Washington, Aug. 4, 1863.

Sir: In reply to yours of May 30th, I have to say, that the law does not exempt sales of land for the payment of taxes, from the excise duty of 1-10 of one per cent. upon the gross amount of auction sales,

As sufficient land is sold to cover the expenses of sale, the duty in such case is not a charge upon the State or County Treasury, and there is, therefore no reason why an exemption should be allowed.

Very respectfully,
JOSEPH J. LEWIS,
Commissioner.

H. G. O. Morrison, Esq., Assessor Internal Revenue, St. Paul, Minn.

Who Commands at Washington?—The Washington correspondent of the Springfield Republican writes:

Mr. Lincoln oversees everything. Those persons who suppose that he contents himself with an easy-going, story-telling life are very much mistaken. He never takes his breakfast until he has made a visit to the War Office. He visits the War Dedartment several times a day, anb acquaints himself fully with everything that is going on. However it may be with the other departments, this one is not independent of Mr. Lincoln. In this military business the President exhibits a good deal of ability—more, I sometimes think, than Halleck does!"

The Death of Gen. Barksdale.

A correspondent of the Tribune, writing from the battle field of Gettysburg, July 6, says:

The following particulars of the death of the noted rebel General William Barksdale has just been communicated to me. Lieut. Col. Charles R. Livingston, of New York, A. A G., on Major General Doubleday's staff, on the night of Thursday, July 2, went out in the extreme front to discover if possible the body, he having been informed by a prisoner of the locality where Barksdale was shot. The spot was about a quarter of a mile in advance of our pickets, and Colonel Livingston, with his small party of stretcher-bearers, was once driven in by rebel scouts, but on a second attempt was so fortunate as to be successful. The body of the General was found when life was not yet extinct; but his wound was a mortal one. He was lifted upon the stretcher, and being a very heavy person, eight men were required to bear his weight. He declared with his last breath that he was proud of the cause he died in fighting for; proud of the manner in which he had received his death wound; that the rebels were invincible, and although repulsed to day were sure of victory to-morrow. He left with Colonel Livingston his watch, pocket book, and other trinkets, to be sent to his friends in Mississippi.

Barksdale, as every one knows, was an extremely bitter secessionist, who indulged in many and repeated threats, previous to the war, of the dissolution of the Union. The watch is a large gold one, elaborately chased; there are several articles of jewelry in addition to it.

Outrage by a Negro.

The Sullivan, Ind. Democrat of Thursday says:

Last Sunday evening, a young lady daughter of Wm. Miller, aged about nineteen, while returning from a visit to some friends near the river, was assaulted by a negro, about a mile from Watson's bridge, on the Carlisle and Merom road. The brute led her horse into a thicket near the creek, and attempted to commit an outrage on her person. The young lady struggled heroically, defeated his efforts to accomplish his brutal purpose. The fiendish monster then attempted to drown her in the creek and so far succeeded in getting her over the stream that her bonnet fell in. Her piercing shrieks at length induced him to abandon the attempt when he fled. Miss Miller is a young lady of irreproachable character. The people in the lower part of the country, we understand, have give the negroes notice that the last one of them must clear out within sixty days.

The Three Hundred Dollar Exemption.

To the Editor of the N. Y. Times:

You have been trying to vindicate the Draft from the charge that it throws the whole burden of the war upon the poor. You must know that when one hundred men are drawn, if fifty of them can pay their $300 they are released, and then their places must be filled by another draft from among the poor. If this is not releasing the rich and placing the burdens of the war, exclusively, on the poor, I should like to know what would be. Yours,

A Poor Man.

Our correspondent misunderstands the law entirely. It contains no such provision as he alleges. Every man who pays his $300 does escape personal service in the war, but his place is not filled by another draft. It is filled by inducing a substitute to volunteer. And this $300, which is paid by the rich as the price of their release, is distributed among the poor as an inducement to volunteer and to increase their pay by just that amount Not a single poor man will be drafted now who would not be if this $300 exemption clause were not in the law. But a great many would miss the $300 which now they can obtain as a bounty for volunteering.—Times,

How the Good News was Received in Paris.

Paris correspondent of the New York Herald, writing under date of July 21st, says:

Just before the commencement of the service (Sunday 19th.) a young man entered, and proceeding to the pew of the American Minister, handed a paper to Mr. Dayton. The latter eagerly and hastily read it, and whispered to Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, who was sitting next to him. That gentleman copied the dispatch on a piece of paper and sent it the pulpit, and in a moment the gospel of good news was whispered round the house that "Vicksburg was ours;" and a low buzzing murmur and a general smile of joy upon the faces of the audience showed how it affected them. I greatly fear that little attention was paid to the sermon that morning, for everybody was anxious for the service to be over, that they might exchange congratulations on the glorious news. When it was at length finished and the congregation had gathered in the vestibule of the chapel, and on the sidewalk in front of it, there was a general shaking of hands, and a general exchange of joyous words. The ladies were particularly enthusiastic. A struggle for mastery between smiles and joyous tears was evidently in progress upon the fine face of Miss Dayton, the daughter of the American Minister, and the countenance of the American Consul's lady was fairly illuminated.

Rank in the Army.

The question of rank between the Major Generals of the army has been decided by the Board of officers to which it has been submitted by determining the following order of precedence.

Major General McClellan, appointed May 14, 1861, to take rank from same date.

Major General Fremont appointed July 1, to the rank May 14 1861.

Major General Banks, appointed June 5, to take rank May 16, 1861.

Major General Dix, appointed June 14, to take rank May 16, 1861.

Major General Butler, appointed May 16, to take rank May, 16, 1861.

The decision is upon two grounds: 1st, that an appointment may be antedated by the President, as in Gen. Fremont's case; and, 2nd, that in the order in which the names stood in the list when the appointments were sent into the Senate determines the rank between Generals Banks, Dix, and Butler, without regard to the actual date of appointment by the President.—Washington Republican.

A Sad Incident.

A lad not quite sixteen, in the army of the Potomac, was asked whether he had any brothers in the army, and answered: "I had one, but he was killed at Williamsburg; he felt at my side. I found him after the battle, dying. All he could say, 'Try and get a box to bury me in.' I could not find one, but got three cracker boxes, took the ends out, placed them end to end, and put his body into them; then with my bayonet and my hands, I hollowed out a place, not very deep, though I worked hours at it, and there I laid him with no one to help me, and there his body is now."

To have a man come to your house and insult you is a grave affair, but such was the case one day last week. A man of ordinary appearance, came into our office, walked boldly up to us, thrust his hand into his breast-pocket and withdrew—two dollar-bills! and proceeded to place them in our hands, which he did with some difficulty (we are not afraid of money) on account of our being all of a tremble, stating that it was to pay the printer. When we told him there must be some mistake as printers never took paper-money, (nor any other kind) he said it was all right only we 'couldn't see,' and left with our blessing. We are glad to state that we are now prepared for all such attacks. Come on delinquents.—Taylors Falls Monitor.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WANTED!

FIVE HUNDRED LABORERS

TO WORK ON THE

Minneapolis, Faribault, & Cedar Valley R. R.

THE Subscriber will pay in Cash, the highest price for laborers. Payments made on the 15th of each month. Work will be continued through the winter. Agents can be found at Minneapolis, Mendota, Northfield and Faribault D. J. CAMMERON.
Mendota, August 5, 1863. 5

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error actuated by a desire to benefit others will be happy to furnish to all who need it (free of charge) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience—and possess a Valuable Remedy—will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed) by addressing
JOHN B. OGDEN,
5-3m No. 60 Nassau Street, New York.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, executed by Cyrus Foot and Minerva Foot his wife, then of Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, to Ralph A. Loveland, then of Westport, Essex County, New York, dated the 16th day of June, A. D. 1858, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Blue Earth, on the 17th day of June, A. D. 1858, in book "B" of mortgages, on page 387, which said mortgage was given to secure the payment of the sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest according to the conditions of four certain promissory notes made by said Cyrus Foot to said Loveland or order, three for six hundred dollars each, payable respectively, on the first days of June in the years 1860, 1861 and 1863, and the other for five hundred and fifty dollars payable on the first day of June, 1862, and drawing interest from date until paid at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable annually on the first days of June each and every year, and all bearing even date with said mortgage, and upon which promissory notes and mortgage there is now claimed to be due, and is at the date of this notice, actually due and unpaid, the said sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest thereon from and after the said 16th day of June, 1858, at the rate of seven per cent per annum; and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured by said promissory notes and mortgage, nor any part thereof, and no part thereof has been collected or paid.

Therefore, by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained, and in conformity with the statutes in such case made and provided, the lands and premises described in and covered by said mortgage, to wit: The north-west quarter of section number (27) twenty-seven in township number (107) one hundred and seven, north of range number (28) twenty-eight west, according to the governmental survey and subdivisions of the same, and containing one hundred and sixty acres of land be the same more or less; together with all the appurtenances, and lying and being in the County of Blue Earth, and State of Minnesota, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder as the law directs and as authorized by said mortgage, at the front door of the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Blue Earth in Mankato, in said County, on the 26th day of September, A. D., 1863, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to satisfy the amount then due on said promissory notes and mortgage together with the taxes which have been paid thereon by the mortgagee, or which shall then be due on said premises, and the costs and expenses allowed by law. Dated at Mankato, August 14th, 1863.

RALPH A. LOVELAND,
Mortgagee.
Willard & Barney, Attorneys for Mortgagee, Mankato, Minn. 6w5

NEW DRUG STORE!

DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS
SOAPS, PERFUMERY,
AND
FANCY GOODS,

PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax,

Stationery,
BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE.

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions accurately put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the
New Drug Store,
JASON WICKERSHAM,
5 Mankato, Minn.

Valuable Lands for Sale.

BY direction of the Hon Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the lands hereinafter described, they being among the choicest and best farming land in Minnesota.

These lands comprise what are known as the Winnebago Trust Lands in the State of Minnesota, and will be sold to the highest and best bidder in tracts not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres each, under the provisions of a treaty concluded with the Winnebago Indians, April 15th, 1859, and an act of Congress, approved February 21st 1863, entitled "An act for the removal of the Winnebago Indians, and for the sale of their Reservation, in Minnesota, for their benefit."

No bid will be entertained at a rate less than two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

In case a bid is accepted, the party making the same will be notified as soon thereafter as practicable. If within thirty days after such notice the party shall fail to make payment to the undersigned, the land for which such bid was made will be subject to sale to any other person.

Patents will be issued and transmitted to purchasers as soon after payment as the same can be prepared. Payments may be made either in cash or in the certificates of indebtedness of the Winnebago Indians, issued by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for the debt of said Indians, and secured to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of said lands by the third article of the treaty above mentioned. The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved. All bids must be sealed and addressed to the undersigned, Washington City, D. C., and endorsed "Bid for Winnebago Trust Land."

"DESCRIPTION OF LANDS."

List of "Winnebago Trust Lands" subject to sale after July 1st, 1863:

Township 106, Range 23
SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
se qr	5
e hf sw qr	6
e hf	7
sw qr	7
	18 19
ne qr	30
sw qr	30
Township 107, Range 23
n hf	6
w hf sw qr	6
w hf nw qr	7
w hf sw qr	7
sw qr	30
n hf	31
w hf sw qr	31
Township 108, Range 23
n frac hf nw qr	31
se frac qr nw qr	31
Township 106, Range 24
	25
	26
	27
	28
	29
	30 31 32 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 24
	1
ne qr	3
sw qr	3
n hf	5
	6
ne qr	9
s hf	10
	11
ne qr	12
sw qr	12
nw qr	13
	14
e hf	15
nw qr	17
	18
lots 1, 2 and 3	21
	22
	23
n hf	24
	27
w hf	29
Township 108, Range 24
sw qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
sw qr	34
Township 106, Range 25
	25
	26 27
e hf	28
	30 31 32
e hf	33
	34 35
Township 107, Range 25
e hf	1
nw qr	1
w hf	2
ne qr	2
	13
Township 108, Range 25
se qr	33
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
e hf ne qr	34
w hf nw qr	34
w hf sw qr	34
e frac hf	35
nw qr	35
Township 106, Range 26
	1
	2 3
e hf	3
nw qr	4
ne qr	5
s hf	7
nw qr	11
e hf nw qr	12
	18 19
n hf	25
w hf	27
se qr	28
	30 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 26
w hf ne qr	3

Township 107, Range 26
SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
w hf	3
w hf se qr	3
se qr	4
	5
e hf	6
s hf nw qr	6
s hf	7
	8 9
nw qr	10
e hf	18
nw qr	18
e hf	19
w hf	20
w hf se qr	20
ne qr	24
sw qr	24
s hf	25
n hf	30
e hf nw qr	31
ne qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
w hf sw qr	32
w hf se qr	32
se se qr	32
se qr	34
sw qr	35
Township 108, Range 26
se ne qr	31
e hf se qr	34
sw se qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
e hf se qr	33
ne qr	34
Township 106, Range 27
se qr	1
s hf	2
se qr	3
ne qr	6
e hf se qr	6
w hf sw qr	6
sw qr	7
e hf	11
sw qr	11
	14
e hf nw qr	15
e hf sw qr	15
w hf	18
ne qr	18
w hf	19
se qr	19
ne qr	20
w hf	21
w hf ne qr	21
se qr	22
e hf nw qr	22
	23 27
e hf	28
Township 107, Range 27
n hf	2
ne qr	3
e hf sw qr	5
ne qr	6
w hf se qr	6
se nw qr	7
ne sw qr	7
nw ne qr	11
se qr	12
e hf nw qr	12
nw nw qr	12
ne qr	13
sw qr	13
e hf nw qr	13
sw nw qr	13
s hf ne qr	14
s hf nw qr	14
nw nw qr	14
sw qr	15
sw qr	17
n hf	18
sw qr	18
se qr	19
nw qr	20
sw qr	21
ne qr	22
se qr	26
nw qr	26
nw qr	28
se qr	29
s hf	31
ne qr	31
nw qr	32
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
Township 108, Range 27
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	31
nw qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
ne qr	32
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 of nw qr	32
se nw qr	32
sw qr	35

Bids will be received as above invited until the 1st of September next, at which time all bids then received will be examined and acted upon.

After the first of September next bids will be received for the lands then remaining unsold, and examined and acted upon the expiration of each period of two months.

WILLIAM P. DOLE,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs.
Washington City, D. C., Aug. 4th, 1863.

THE COUNTY.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

St. Paul—Arrives at 9 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Eastern—Arrives at 4 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Blue Earth City—Arrives at 5 P. M. and departs at 7 A. M. Closes 7 P. M.

Office hours—5 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays, 5 to 7 A. M., and 12 M. to 1 P. M.

R. J. SIBLEY, Postmaster.

REV. MR. MERCER will preach at Masonic Hall, next Sabbath morning and evening.

J. J. SHAUBUT has received the agency of Finkle & Lyons Sewing Machines for Mankato, and will have some machines on hand in a few days.

John F. Meagher has some new bathing dishes for bird cages that are very neat and cheap, and just the "needed article" for those who have pet canaries.

FRIEND SHAUBUT of the Mankato House has got some-thing new in his bar-room. Just call in and see it.

STATE TEACHER'S ASSOCIATION.—This body meets in Hasting on Wednesday and Thursday the 26th and 27th of August. It will be the third anniversary of the Association,

The Mite Society held its last meeting at the residence of A. D. Seward, Tuesday evening. It will meet next week at Mrs. Hubbells. Over six dollars was raised during the evening.

ARTHUR'S HOME MAGAZINE for September has come to hand. Its cheerful pages are as homelike as ever.

THE season of mad dogs is nearly upon us, and it will be well to remember that Copperheads bite as well as other dogs.

"THE most direct method of determining horse power is to stand near a mule and tickle his hind legs with a briar."

Wouldn't that be mule power?

"WANTED."—We call attention to the advertisement of the Clifton House in another column, for servant girls. Good wages and steady employment gi[illegible]n.

LABORERS WANTED.—The Minneapolis, Faribault and Cedar Valley R. R., are advertising for five hundred laborers to work on their road their advertisement in another column gives all needed information.

NOTWITHSTANDING the long rains and muddy roads, the Stages from St. Paul, Winona and Blue Earth arrive with great regularity, and we get St. Paul papers about nine o'clock every evening.

NEW DRUG STORE.—The new Store of Jason Wickersham, druggist, is now open, and his goods make a fine show. He is prepared to fill all orders with great care and promptness. See his advertisement in another column.

HEAVY RAINS.—For the past week we have had very heavy and frequent rain storms, extending as we notice by our exchanges, all over the Southern part of the State. The storm of last Thursday was accompanied by hail-stones as large as hazel nuts. We have heard of no serious damage being done in this section.

BUFFALOES KILLED.—From Lieut Lentz, Co. E, M. M. R. we learn that five fine buffaloes were seen ten miles west of New Ulm, one of which was killed by John Meyrs, a private in Capt Nix's Cavalry Co.

PRIZES AWARDED.—Last week prizes were awarded by Prof. Ferguson, to the following scholars:

Ella Locke,
Carrie Hall.
Frances King
Lillie Hemperly,
Frances Parrott,
Mary Hicks.
Libbie Hicks,
Fannie Sergeant
Mary Milner,
Elva Barrett,
Emma Hall,
Fannie Lytle,
Clara McKinney,
Clara Hersey,
Mary Higgins,
Walter Fowler,
James Thornton,
Victor Seward,
Frank Thayer,
Edgar Higgins,

SAD ACCIDENT.—We are pained to record a sad accident that befell our townsman, Sheriff Tyner, last Saturday evening. He was driving a horse belonging to George Andrus, in a sulky, and while crossing a bridge on Second street, one of the planks of the bridge tipped up and frightened the horse, which commenced kicking. At the first kick he hit Mr. Tyner on the leg just above the ankle, instantly breaking the bone, and making a frightful cut. In the operation of kicking the sulky was upset, and Mr. Tyner thrown to the ground. He was immediately conveyed to his residence, and Drs. Sturgis and McMahan sent for who set the broken limb. He is now doing well, but it will be many weeks before he will be able to appear again on our streets.

MIMS & WOMACK have got their Store filled with a choice lot of goods consisting of dry goods, groceries and Crockery, and are ready to wait on customers, no matter how fast they come. Ladies will bear in mind that they sell good calico for 18 cts. warranted to be fast colors.

POST SURGEON.—We forgot last week, to notice the apointment of Dr. Mattock, 2d Assistant Surgeon of the 7th Regiment, as Post Surgeon at Mankato. The Dr. was formerly Hospital Steward of the 2d Regiment, and by a faithful discharge of his duties, has worked his way up to his present position. He is a young man of fine attainments and deserving of success.

THE CROPS—We greatly fear the wheat crop will be damaged by the recent rains. A large quantity of grain was lying on the ground when the rain commenced, and we have not had sunshine enough to dry it out before another rain would set in. The farmers were not looking for rain, and were not prepared for such severe storms as we have had. We have heard a number say that their wheat was growing, and would be entirely ruined unless we had fair weather soon. If our farmers would take more pains in "stooking" up their grain it would stand heavy rains much longer and better than it does.

A SPLENDID SIGN.—One of the best specimens of workmanship in sign painting that we ever saw, is the new sign of "John F. Meagher." It is a gilded block letter, on black ground work, and is very finely shaded, surrounded by a very pretty border. The work, we believe, was done by Mr, James Cannon, one of the soldiers of the Minnesota First, who was recently discharged. That piece of work, will, of itself, establish Mr. Cannon's reputation as a sign painter.

The Sioux Indemnity Commission closes its session at St. Cloud to-day (Friday) and will open at Minneapolis next Monday, the 17th. Quite a number of claimants have claims that have not been heard, and this will be the only opportunity presented.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.—Some unprincipled parties have put up a large amount of worthless stuff called Saleratus, and scattered it all over the Western States, much to the detriment of D. B. DeLand & Co's excellent Saleratus. This worthless stuff is put up in blue or green paper and called "B. B. DeLand & Co.'s House Wife's Favorite," while D. B. DeLand & Co.'s House Wife's Favorite or Chemical Saleratus is put up only in bright red papers. Beware of the imposition.

"ANN OAD TO RANE"—A friend sends us the following "Oad" dedicated to "Rane:"

"Halloo! up among the clouds,
Who's that making such a clatter?
Any old cistern sprung a leak,
Or what under heaven's the matter?

"Leave off a sucking your thumbs,
Pretty time now to be a drowsing,
Just cast an eye down here,
Think how you'd like such a sousing

"Haven't seen the long faces, have you!
When a dozen men get together—
Haven't heard the old folks say,
'Really, this is quite a spell of wether.'

"I'll tell you what it is, up and down,
If you don't want us to get too hilarious
Nor spontaneously bust up on the spot,
You'd better dry up, or any other man."

A SOUTHERN planter being visited by a Confederate General of some notoriety, called up one of his negroes in the presence of the General, and bid him name the greatest general in America, (being almost sure he would name the one present.) The darkey hesitated for a moment, and then gave the following answer; "Me don't know many ob de ginrals, Massa. But dat "Ginral Mancipation" suits dis nigger to a cornstalk, Yah! Yah! Yah!!" Sambo was ordered to report "without delay" to "Capt Cornfield."

THE heavy rains have had the effect to raise the river at this place nearly two feet. We may yet succeed in getting sufficient water to allow of boats coming up from below. The river is a fickle stream, filled up with drift-wood, logs, and stumps and trees.

"Its heads of navigation are not few—
At each town they'll tell to you, as true,
That to this place boats longest run;
Here's some great city only just begun,
And strive to prove by strong allegation,
That this is, sure, the head of navigation
But the truth, if told, (it must be done,)
That to the Rapids catfish daily run.
The suckers, with their ministerial features,
Can run as far, 'tis said, or almost to, St. Peters;
And the tiny sun-fish, oh! 'tis perfect bliss
To know that they can run as far as this."

PERSONAL.—Hon. James Smith, State Senator from the St. Paul district has been stopping in town for the past few days.

Capt. Jerome Dane, of Co E. 9th Regiment, arrived in town Wednesday evening, direct from Hutchinson. He reports the boys in his command as being well and in good spirits. The Capt. has not fully decided to visit Cincinnati preparatory to an appointment as Colonel of one of the negro regiment.

Dr. W. W. Clark, Assistant Surgeon of the 10th Regiment arrived in town Wednesday, direct from Camp Goodhue.

JOSEPH HAAS, notorious as the keeper of a house of ill-fame situated about two miles from this place—was brought before Justice Johnston on Thursday the 6th inst. on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill.

S. F. Barney appeared in behalf of the State, and Messrs. Coon & Paddock for the defendant.

It appears from the testimony adduced on the trials that Haas missed some greenbacks which he had stored in the house to the amount of three hundred dollars. His suspicion rested at once on a famous courtesan by the name of Mary McCarty, who for some time past, has been a resident in the brothel kept by Haas, as the perpetrator of the robbery. On missing the money, he armed himself with a doubled barreled shot gun and revolver, and left his house in search of Mary (she being absent at the time,) swearing that she (Mary) had stolen his money and that he would take her life as soon as he found her. Not finding her immediately, he proceeded to the house of Mr. Nunich, told the story his loss, and leaving his shot gun in charge of Mrs. Nunich, left in a towering passion, brandishing his revolver and swearing revenge on the girl Mary. In a quarter of an hour he returned to Mr Nunich, and grasping the shot gun vehemently asserted that the stolen money was in the house concealed in a trunk belonging to Mary McCarty, and declared his intention of searching for it. Mr. Nunich told him he could search his house only by placing a search warrant in the hands of the proper authorities, and requested him to leave. Haas then commenced a furious assault upon the old man with the gun. A severe tussle ensued. Haas placing the gun with both barrels cocked against the breast of Mr. Nunich attempted to fire. At this juncture, a young man, son of Mr. Nunich, came to his father's assistance wrested the gun from the would be murderer, and forcing him down on the bed disarmed him of his revolver and ejected him from the house.

Justice Johnston, considering the allegation set forth in the complaint fully supported by the evidence, bound him over in the sum of five hundred dollars to appear at the next term of Court.

Indian Excitement at Madelia.

To the Editor of the Union.

The citizens of Madelia have once more had cause for excitement on account of Indians. On Monday the third inst., Mr. Bundy found one of his oxen killed in the woods about a mile and a half south-east of his place. The hide was cut in pieces, and the flesh cut off from the bone; and on searching the next day, they found the camping ground and also a dried muskrat, which convinced the citizens that Indians were around. The State Militia was called together immediately, and also messengers started to notify Co B. (at Hanska Lake) and K. of the 9th Regiment on the Watonwan. There was some cavalry at Hanska Lake, which started immediately, and arrived at Madelia about six o'clock P. M. They followed the trail until dark, and then renewed their search the next day. They followed the trial till after it crossed the lines.

It is believed there were eight or nine persons, but the conclusion that those who were hunting them came to, was, that part of the gang were whites. It did not appear they had any desire to kill, for their camp was not more than one mile from a dwelling house.

C.

MARRIED.

In Blue Earth City, August 12th, by A. J. Rose, Esq., Hon. JAMES B. WAKEFIELD and Miss NANCY REINHART, all of the same place.

Wanted.

THREE GOOD GIRLS AT THE CLIFTON HOUSE.

One to take charge of the Cooking department, the others to do dining room and other work usual in hotels. Liberal wages and steady employment given.

M. T. C. FLOWER, Proprietor.
Mankato, Aug 5th, 1863. 1w4

How a Democrat Paper Talks About the Draft.

The Boston Post, noticing the commencement of the draft in Massachusetts, says:

"The realities of the war have come more differently to our own doors than heretofore. The army must be resuscitated. There is no time for the dilatory process of volunteering. The enforced filling of the national ranks comes at a moment when, if the demand cannot be said to be gracefully yielded, it must be confessed that it is at a time when the national pulse beats the highest in the exultation of victory. It is a summons to join not a discomfited and broken-spirited soldiery, but a band of heroes, the monument of many a well-fought field."

The paper that talks in that way can afford to allow it political enemies to call it any hard names they please.

Inducements for Re-Enlistment.

We desire to re-publish prominently the fact that the Government has decided, in General Order No. 216, that all able-bodied men between eighteen and forty-five years of age, who have heretofore been enlisted, and have served for not less than nine months, who have been honorably discharged and can pass the examination required by the mustering regulations of the United States, may be enlisted in any regiment they choose, new or old, and when mustered into the United States service will be entitled to the $403 provided for recruiting veteran volunteers. This $402 comprises $300 exemption fund, $100 bounty, and $2 hand money. A regiment, battalion, or company of these recruits will bear the title of Veteran, provide half their number are veteran volunteers. The same benefit will be given to men who enlisted prior to Order No. 191, provided the conditions therein set forth are fulfilled.

A MURDEROUS ASSAULT.—We learn that as a young man by the name of F. M. Collins, residing in Clay township in this county, was returning to his home from Ioka, on horseback about 11 o'clock on Thursday night of last week, when not far from his home he was assaulted by two men, who rushed on him from each side of the road, one seizing his horse, and the other himself by the collar. He immediately drew a pistol and fired in the face of one of the ruffians—they also fired on him, a ball passing through his hat. His horse broke away, when shots were fired after him, and he turned and fired two other shots. When his horse had gone a few rods, it either fell or threw him, stunning him so that he was unconscious for some time. When he came to, no trace of his assailents could be found.

These are the facts as we have heard them. He has no positive knowledge of who his assailients were, but believes them to be some of the miserable cut throat copperheads from about Ioka, with whom he had some talk during his absence.—Washington (Iowa) Press.

A SOAPY SWINDLE.—A delicate appearing and rather nice young man is engaged in the undertaking of vending a new article of soap about this city. He represents himself as a discharged soldier, who has sought this region to regain the health lost while fighting the battles of his country and "only wants to pay expenses." With this end in view he offers a nice little cake of soap, about one inch and a half square, for the "small sum of twenty-five cents." It is warranted to remove ink, grease, and almost, everything else, from cloth, and comes wrapped up in a delicate paper that you must not take off when you use it. You must hang the article to which it is applied, in the sun for two hours, and this will enable the nice young man to canvass the entire neighborhood and depart for some other section of the city, The great feature about this soap is, that after using it a short time, you discover, "if you ain't quite a fool," that you have paid twenty-five cents for a very limited piece of rosin soap. St. Paul Press.

FRENCH INTERVENTION. The Rev. Conway, the representative of the abolitionists now in Europe, writes from Paris in regard to intervention, as follows:

As for France she means to interfere in behalf of the South. We may prepare for this. She will try hard to get England to join her; if England refuses she will try Spain; but if she has to act alone, France will interfere. I am sorry to say that the measure is a popular one in France. I have conversed with some of the most distinguished Parisians, and they say that the people agree with the Emperor in this more than in his Mexican raid, their general phrase being that "the war is as aimless and endless as it is bloody." France's motto of interference will be Poor Humanite.

The Providence Press announces that Secretary Chase and daughter and Gov. Sprague were at Kingston on Wednesday, and that rooms for the Secretary and his daughters had been engaged at South Kingston.

John Morgan threatened to cross the Ohio at Wheeling. Both Houses of the Legislature of West Virginia adjourned, organized the members into companies, elected officers, shouldered their muskets, and waited for the enemy. They would have passed a special act for John Morgan's discharge from further earthly liabilities, had he gone that way.

LATEST NEWS.

News by Friday Morning's Mail.

CAIRO, Aug. 11.—Gunboats are being prepared to co-operate with Gen. Steele's expedition in Arkansas.

Vicksburg is being put in a complete sanitary condition. Rations are still issued to upwards of 1,000 inhabitants.

It is reported that guerrilla Richardson returned with large reinforcements to carry out the conscription. He said he had instructions to conscript all light colored negroes between 18 and 45, to serve three years as soldiers, at the expiration of which time they will be manumitted and freed from service.

Twenty deserters delivered themselves up after listening to a speech from Gen. Logan at Marion.

A company of citizen scouts numbering about 60, organized in June last, to resist the rebel conscription, have thus far repelled every effort to capture them. They report to Gen. Dodge at Corinth. Their number is increasing daily, and they have either captured or driven out every officer sent to that section to enforce the conscription.

Letters from privates in Bragg's army report him falling back to Atlanta, Ga.

A considerable number of deserters who retainad their arms are in the mountains, near Pikevale, Ala., and organizing to resist the conscription.

The rebels in West Tennessee are pretty effectually broken up by the vigilance of Hurlburt's army.

WASHINGTON, Aug, 12—The report of the operations of the Army of the Tennessee from the day Gen. Grant assumed the immediate command of the expedition against Vicksburg until the surrender of that place is published in the official gazette.

He says it is a striking feature so far as his observation goes of the present volunteer army of the U. S., that there is nothing that men are called upon to do, mechanical or professional, that accomplished adepts cannot be found for the duty required.

He cannot close this report without an expression of thankfulness for his good fortune in being placed in co-operation with an officer of the navy who accored to every move which seemed for the interest or success of our army, his hearty and energetic support, Admiral Porter. He adds, and every efficient officer under him have ever shown the greatest readiness in their co-operation, no matter what was to be done, or what risk to be taken, either by their men or their vessels. Without their prompt and cordial support my movements would have been much embarrassed, if not wholly defeated.

NEW YORK, Aug 11—The following letter has been received from Newberne, the 9th. The Unionists in Eastern North Carolina are to hold, in a few days, a great Mass Convention, for the purpose of invoking our government to send sufficient force into this department to occupy Raleigh, Wilmington and Weldon, in order to force the rebel army to abandon Virginia, and thus restore those two great States to the Union at once.

Jeff. Davis is sick at Richmond and doubts are entertained as to his recovery.

It is said Gen. Lee has addressed a letter to Jeff. Davis, calling upon him not to hang the two federal officers now confined in Richmond, as his son, W. F. Lee, would, in consequence, be hung. If this is refused, he declared his intention to throw up his commission. It is not believed the rebels will hang our officers.

Some miscreants are reported to have been detected in an attempt to blow up Croton Acqueduct at Tarrytown, Monbay night. They broke into the powder magazine and stole kegs of powder which was found with them near the aqueduct. The evidence being insufficient the men were released.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 10.—During a session of the Court Martial at Corinth to-day, an altercation occurred between Col. Cornyn, of the 10th Missouri Cavalry, and Lt. Col. Bowen of the same regiment. Cornyn is reported to have Bowen; when the latter drew a pistol and shot for former in three places, killing him instantly There is great excitement among the troops, but no further trouble is apprehended. Gen. Dodge is sick.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—It is stated that Brigadier General Warren, Chief of Topographical Engineers, has been promoted to Major General.

A new rebel camp was discovered on Sunday, on Ponoy Mountain, near Culpepper.

Last night Mosby's guerrillas captured twelve sutlers' wagons, a short distance beyond Accotink Creek, south of Mount Vernon. A detachment of Federal troops is pursuing them.

Mankato Market Reports.

CORRECTED EVERY THURSDAY BY O. WARD.

MANKATO, August 13. 1863.

WHEAT—50c. ℔ bushel.
RYE—40c.
BARLEY—60.
OATS—40c.
CORN—35@40c.
HAY—℔ ton, $4@5 00.
TIMOTHY—$2 ℔ bushel.
BEANS—White, ℔ bushel, $1 25.
BUTTER—10c.
LARD—8@9c.
SUGAR—12@12c; 16@20c.
TEA—1 50@1 60.
COFFEE—33½c.
RICE—10c ℔ lb.
SALT—4 50 ℔ barrel.
EGGS—8c ℔ doz.
CANDLES—Tallow, 15c; Sperm, 30c.
MEATS—Beef on foot, 3@4c. Pork, 5@6c. Mutton, 10@12c. Poultry, 10@12c.
POTATOES—1 00 ℔ bushel.
SIRUP—1 00 ℔ gallon.
WOOD—$2 00 ℔ cord

THE INDIAN WAR.

IMPORTANT NEWS FROM SIBLEY'S EXPEDITION!

LITTLE CROW'S SON CAPTURED!

DEATH OF LITTLE CROW IS CONFIRMED,

The Indians Resolve to give General Sibley Battle.

A communication from Major Cook to Col. Miller, dated Camp Atchison, Aug. 2d, contains the following:

I received a communication from Gen. Sibley on the night of the 23rd, dated at Camp Kimball, July 22nd. He was then on the Indian trail four miles from the Missouri Coteau, which he would commence crossing on the following day, and would follow the trail wherever it might lead.

The detachment of two companies of infantry and one of cavalry, that left this camp on the 24th ult,, under command of Capt. Burt, to capture fifteen lodges of Indians that were said to be at Devil's Lake, returned yesterday; bringing Little Crow's son. They scoured the country about there thoroughly, but found only the Indian spoken of. He gave himself up without resisting, but told the scouts who first approached him if he had had any ammunition he should have fired at them.

He told them that he had come from near Hutchinson, and that his father was shot while picking berries. His story agrees with what was published a few weeks ago in the St. Paul Press. He had traveled all alone from where Little Crow was shot, and expected to find some of his tribe at Devil's Lake, but they had gone he knew not where. It is not decided yet what will be his fate.

The Indian said the Sioux intended to fight Gen. Sibley's troops on the day they left them—three days ago—and that Gen. Sibley's and Gen. Sully's Expeditions were near together. Seven half-breeds start to-morrow to make another attempt to get through with the mail for Gen. Sibley's camp. We are looking anxiously for the next news from that quarter.

MANKATO HOUSE.
MANKATO - MINNESOTA.

THIS House has been thoroughly renovated newly papered and painted, with many new improvements, which makes it now equal as to comfort and convenience to any House in the State.

General Stage Office for all points in he State.

Good barn and stabling with attentive ostler. Baggage conveyed to and from steamboats free of charge. Wines, liquors, cigars, etc., con stantly on hand.

☞Farmers will find this House a good place to stop, it being centrally located, plenty of barroom, and charges moderate.

may 7 H, H. Shaubhut.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World.

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Criticrl Notices of the Press.

The volumns Bound constitute of themselves a liberary of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world. —N, Y. Observer,

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People: and the popularity it has acequired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately ilustrated witn good wood-cents: and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more phliosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature. —Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Bolltmore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, by mail, post-paid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents. Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eigh cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00; Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year ,$5,00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2,50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2,50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted for postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must be paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS.
Franklyn Square, New York.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds.

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, andyou will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.,

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co.'s GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEACHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plows,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:
Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones. Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains. Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

Iam Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given toorders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.
Mankato, April 23r,d 1863.

NEW LIVERY
&
Sale Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.
☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜
☞Charges moderate.☜
D. H. TYNER.

Farmers' Journal.

MANKATO, FRIDAY, AUG. 14, 1863.

The Old Farm Gate.

Where, where is the gate that used to divide
The old shaded lane from the grassy road side?
I like not this gate so gay and so bright,
With its glittering latch and its trellis so white,
It is pretty I own, yet oh dearer by far
Was the red rusted hinges, and the weather-warped bar.
Here are fashion and form of a modernized date,
But I'd rather have looked on that old farm gate.

'Twas there, where my sisters would gather to play
In the shadow of twilight, or sunny mild day.
How we'd laugh and run wild mid those hillocks of sand,
Where temptations existed no child could withstand;
But to swing on the gate rails, to clamor and ride,
Was the utmost of pleasure, of glory and pride,
And the car of the victor, or carriage of state,
Never carried such hearts as the old farm gate.

Oh fair is the barrier taking its place,
But it darkens a picture my soul longed to trace.
I sigh to behold the rough staple and hasp,
And the rails that my glowing hand could scarcely clasp.
Oh how strangely the warm spirit grudges to part
With the commonest relic once linked to the heart!
And the brightest of fortune, the kindliest fate,
Would not banish my love for the old farm gate.

Selecting Calves for Rearing.

Those heifer calves only should be selected for rearing for milkers, whose mothers are good milkers, and whose sires have come from good milking stock; at the same time the calves should have those characteristics that indicate good milking qualities, viz: small fine head, rather long in the muzzles, bright eyes, small, well shaped legs, long round body, large hind quarters, set wide behind, soft skin, fine, silky hair, and above all, the udder and milk veins should be large and well developed.

The raising of bull calves for breeders, had better be left to those who have given their attention to it, and who have the facilities and means to procure the best animals to breed from.

But the best of the ordinary bull calves should be spared for the butcher and the team, and should possess certain points, viz: well shaped head, small ears, short thick neck, deep brisket, broad chest and shoulders, fine bone, long barrel-shaped body, straight back, wide loins, full quarters, tail thin and tapering, skin soft and not too thin.

Calves of a pretty color, but devoid of good points, are often selected for rearing, to become the mothers of the new herd, while valuable calves are fattened for veal, simply because their color is unpleasing to the eye.—State Atlas.

State Fair.

We learn that a special meeting of the State Board of Agriculture has been called to decide the question of holding a State Fair this fall.

The Board has been very tardy in this matter, and appear to have lacked confidence in the capacity of our soil to produce good crops without rain. But the fact is, the Board is composed of gentlemen reared in other States, where rain is necessary to the maturity of crops.

Our exhibition, we have no doubt, will be a creditable one, and prove a success. The agriculturists of the State desire to meet once a year. It is necessary they should. For two years they have suspended this festive occasion, waiting the pleasure of "grim-visaged war," but now are disposed to dispute the prerogative of the sword over the plow.

Pamona, Ceres, and other Divinities of peace demand their accustomed adorations which have been diverted to Mars, Juno and their implacable compeers.

Come, gentlemen, give us the Farmer's Jubilee.—State Atlas.

HINTS TO HOUSEKEEPERS.—A good washing fluid may be made of hot water and plenty of soap.

Sweetmeats may be kept a long time by putting them in a safe place, and never setting them upon the table.

A plenty of fresh, sweet butter, and a good appetite, will keep bread from moulding.

Children's dresses wear longer by letting them reach their ankles.

Woolen rags should always be washed in sweet oil before they are made into flannel cakes.

Pork should alwys be salted down—never up.

A regard for decency requires that salad should be dressed before appearance at the table.

Milk that has stood for sometime should be permitted to sit down.

Carpets will prove more durable if you take care not to tread upon them.

TRAP FOR WIRE-WORMS.—A correspondent of the London Gardeners' Chronicle was successful in ridding a grape-vine border of wire-worms by the following plan: Potatoes were cut in slices half an inch thick, and inserted at intervals along the border, about two inches below the surface. A small stick was placed to show the locality of each piece. The potatoes were regularly inspected every morning for about three weeks, and large numbers of worms were daily found in them. In this way the ground was ultimately cleaned of these destructive pests.

Bed Bugs.

An old bachelor wrote to the Rural for a receipt for killing bed bugs, which haunted the poor old wretch through the "long and dreary nights." Here are some of the responses:

If the old bachelor who is nightly beseiged with bed bugs will go to the druggist's and get a pint of alcohol, and two ounces of corrosive sublimate and put into it, and apply it to every crack and crevice of his bedstead and bed room with a feather, I will warrant him to be more speedily rid of them than if he went to the trouble and expense of the Yankee girl, who would fail to clear them out even with a dozen sharp sticks.—Lydia.

Noticing an inquiry of an old bachelor for a cure for bed bugs, I send two which I think will be found as sure and considerably cheaper (in these war times,) than the one given by "W."

No. 1.—Take hog's lard and mix copperas in it as long as it will contain it. Then fill every crack and hole about the room and bedstead with the mixture and your bed bugs will disappear in double-quick.

No. 2.—Get vermillion green, such as is used by painters, and serve your room and bedstead in the above manner, and the bed bugs will "skedaddle" to Canada or some other place as fast as did some of our brave young men last fall.—Farmer's Daughter.

I know of a sure way to get rid of bed bugs. Take a straw and tickle their ears; this will make them open their mouths, and then have a little kerosene oil ready to put in. This will fix them; and I don't know of a better employment for an old bach.—Lisbon (N. Y.) Rural.

Use the Kitchen Slops.

Just now the English papers are full of articles upon the use of sewage or waste of cities. Bringing this subject down to individuals, we might write a long article on the waste of the house, had not this subject been so frequently presented in the columns of the Agriculturist. Again we say, allow no fertilizing material to go to waste. The water from the kitchen is rich in elements of fertility. The soap used in washing, potliquor, salt, etc., are all needed by the garden, and will amply repay for the saving and applying to the plants. On many farms the sink-spout discharge into a gutter, and the waste water is allowed to soak away or evaporate, and just along the edges of this gutter will be found a most luxuriant growth of weeds, showing plainly that the ground here is richer than elsewhere. Let the kitchen waste be collected in a sunken hogshead or cistern, and applied in a liquid form to the plants in the garden, or run it to a convenient distance from the house to an excavation which can be readily supplied with muck, which will absorb the liquid, and many dollars' worth of manure now wasted, will be annually saved.

The "physical appearance" of some men sometimes changes the current of events. A case occurred a few days ago. The children of two neighbors had their daily quarrels and fights, which resulted occasionally in bruised faces and torn garments. The father of one family, believed his children to have been maltreated and being a passionate man, concluded that the surest way to settle the differences between their households permanently would be to chastise the head of the family, although as yet he had never seen him. He thereupon procured a rawhide, and abruptly entered his neighbor's tenement, inquiring in a threatening tone for "the man of the house."

"I am here, sir," said a personage of upwards of six feet and weighing some two hundred and twenty pounds, as he approached to learn the business of his neighbor.

"Did I understand you that you were the gentleman of the house?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, I—I just dropped in, sir, to see if this is your rawhide!"

FALL FEEDING GRASS LAND BENEFICIAL.—A writer in the Boston Cultivator says he had two meadows. On one he turned his cattle shortly after mowing, each year, and fed it off close to the ground. The other having some young trees on a portion of it, the cattle were kept out, and the after-growth allowed to rot on the ground. The hay crop on the former continued to improve in quality and quantity each succeeding year till last year, when the crop was light; while on the latter, it decreased year by year, and last year it would scarcely pay the expense of cutting.

CURE FOR SCRATCHES.—"Non Equus" contributes to the Agriculturist the following remedy for scratches in horses, which he says is infallible: Mix one ounce of verdigris (sub-acetate of copper) with a gill of unsalted lard, and daily anoint the affected parts with a teaspoonful of the ointment. The feet and legs of the animal should be washed in warm soap-suds, and wiped dry, before applying this preparation.

Washington, visiting a lady in his neighborhood, on leaving the house a little girl was directed to open the door. He turned to the child and said:

"I am sorry, my dear, to put you to so much trouble."

"I wish, sir," she replied, "it was to let you in."

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE
Mankato Weekly Union,
Published every Friday by
CHARLES H. SLOCUM,
AT
ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of

PRINTING

Neatly and cheaply executed
SUCH AS
CARDS,
PROGRAMMES,
BILL-HEADS,
CIRCULARS,
POSTERS,
ETC,,

Having received a supply of
NEW MATERIAL
from the East, am prepared to do
PLAIN AND FANCY WORK
in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
In District Court. }
County of Blue Earth—6th District.

To Aaron N. Dukes, James Thompson Sen. Ralph A. Loveland, Peter Berry John H. Burgess, Henry Himmelman John A. Willard, Sheldon F. Barney George A. Roberts and Benjamin F Smith, defendants:

In the name of the State of Minnesota, you are hereby summoned to answer the complaint of Ezra R. Dibblee, John C. Work and Lansing C. Moore, plaintiffs, a copy of which is hereunto annexed, and to serve a copy of your answer to me at my office in Mankato, within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and if you fail to answer said complaint as required, the plaintiffs will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint. Dated January 27th, 1863.

FRANKLIN H. WAITE,
1-3w Atty for Plffs.

Wanted.

THREE GOOD GIRLS AT THE CLIFTON HOUSE.

One to take charge of the Cooking department, the others to do dining room and other work usual in hotels. Liberal wages and steady employment given.

M. T. C. FLOWER, Proprietor.
Mankato. Aug. 5th, 1863. 4w1

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY virtue of an execution issued out of the District Court in and for the county of Blue Earth, State of Minnesota, upon a judgment rendered February 21st, 1863, and docketed March 6th, 1863, in said county, in an action wherein Daniel Wagner is plaintiff, and George Quiggles is defendant, and against said defendant, for the sum of $74,20, and upon which there nows remains due and unpaid the sum of $74,20 and interest, I have levied upon all the right title and interest which the said George Quiggles had on the 21st day of February, 1863, or at any time thereafter, of, in and to the following described lands and real estate, in the county of Blue Earth State of Minnesota, to wit:

South-west quarter of south-east quarter and south-east quarter of south-west quarter, section ten, and west half of south-west quarter of south-east quarter, and north-east quarter of south-west quarter of south-east quarter of section nine, all in township one hundred and five, north of range twenty-eight west.

Notice is hereby given that I will sell the above described lands and real estate, to the highest bidder for cash, on Saturday, the 19th of September, 1863, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the front door of the office of Register of Deeds in and for the County of Blue Earth, in Mankato, to satisfy the execution, together with costs and interest thereon. Dated August 7th, 1863.

D. H. TYNER.
6w4 Sheriff of Blue Earth County.

FINKLE & LYON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

THESE Machines make the lock stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do; will Hem, Fell, Gather, Cord, Braid, Bind, &c., and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family, for they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, or even the stoutest harness leather, without changing the feed, needle or tension, or making any adjustment of Machaine whatever! ! !

They are simple in construction, and easily understood; and if any part is broken by accident, it is readily replaced.

These are PECULIAR FACTS, and will go far to determine the choice of any intelligent buyer.

PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE, OR SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

N. B.—Local Agents wanted in sections not yet occupied. Address,

FINKLE & LYON, S. M. CO.,
4 No. 538 Broadway, New York.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SPERMATORRHOEA CAN BE CURED.—Dr. Rand's Specific cures Spermatorrhoea, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Loss of Power, &c., speedily and effectually. Its effects are truly magical. A trial of the SPECIFIC will convince the most skeptical of its merits. Price. $1 a box. Sent post-paid to any address, by S. C. UPMAN. 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA. Circular sent free.

DRUNKENESS CURED.—The inebriate may now bid defiance to the tempting cup. DR. ZANE'S ANTIDOTE FOR STRONG DRINK is a certain cure for Drunkenness. It creates a dislike for strong drink, and can be administered without the knowledge of the patent. Price $1 a box. Sent by mail to any address, by S. C. UPMAM, 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA; PA. Circular sent free.

JUST PUBLISHED,
The most Fascinating Book of the Season,
ENTITLED

"IN THE TROPICS."

EDITED BY RICH'D B. KIMBALL,
Author of "St. Leger," "Undercurrents of Wall Street," etc.

A bright, sparkling and genial book of residence, travel and adveuture in the West Indies; presenting a graphical picture of tropical life, with alluring and picturesque sketches of luxuriant gardens, orange and lime groves, magnificent guava and coccanut trees, mahogany forests, etc.

An elegantly printed and cloth-bound volume. Price, $1,25.

Sold by all booksellers, and sent by mail FREE, on receipt of price by

CARLETON,
Publisher, New York.
413 Broadway, cor Lispenard St.

Medical Advice free of Charge.

DOCTOR WHITTIER'S Theory, Symptoms, and Treatment of Chronic, Nervous, Urinary and Sexual Diseases, free in sealed letter envelope, for six cents to pre-pay postage. It is a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringment of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposure, and imprudence, in married and single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and should be read by every young person, to keep them off the shoals on which others have been broken in pieces. Amativeness clearly stated to be under the control of judicious treatment, and thereby prevent inclination to one very prolific cause of of disease. Nearly every case of disease can be treated without hinderance to business, Medicine sent by mail, secure from observation, Charges moderate; consultations by letter or at the office free; cures guaranteed; Office 67 St. Charles St., between 6th and 7th. P. O. Box 3092. St. Louis Mo. Circular Letter especially for ladies, nothing referring to Sexual Diseases for 3 cent postage.

MANKATO HOUSE.

MANKATO - MINNESOTA.

THIS House has been thoroughly renovated newly papered and painted, with many new improvements, which makes it now equal as to comfort and convenience to any House in the State.

General Stage Office for all points in he State.

Good barn and stabling with attentive ostler. Baggage conveyed to and from steamboats free of charge. Wines, liquors, cigars, etc., con stantly on hand.

☞Farmers will find this House a good place to stop, it being centrally located, plenty of barroom, and charges moderate.

may 7 H. H. Shaublut.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
BLUE EARTH COUNTY. }

MANKATO, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 13th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet been redeemed, I will execute and deliver to the purchasers of said lands at said sale, or their assignees, deeds for the same on and after the 17th day of January, A. D., 1864, unless said lands shall before [illegible] notice is also given that the sum set against each description of land in said list is the amount due the purchaser of said land on redemption.

CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.	NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.
Unknown	1	24	28.66	Unknown	1	76	1.48
do	5	24	2.29	do	7	A	3.97
do	9	24	7.45	do	8	A	3.97
J Ady	9	28	13.23	do	9	A	3.97
F C Roosevelt	6	58	2.96	do	10	A	3.97

Willard & Besse Addition.

Unknown, lot 10, block 19, amount 2.66.

NAME.	DES.	S.	T.	R.	AMT.
H W Lamberton	e hf nw qr and n hf sw qr	7	108	28	22.07
Earl Parthum	sw qr	33	109	29	14.87
M Garlinger	neqr sw qr and w hf sw qr	32	109	29
do	se hf se qr	31	109	29	15.91
Dennis O'Flynn	se qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	27	109	29	11.81
Wm P Smith	s hf ne qr and ne qr se qr and lot 2	2	107	28	13.85
T F Anderson	s e qr	20	107	28	15.14
H Wright	s e qr	8	106	28	14.10
William Gage	s w qr	17	106	28	13.73
Alex Wood	n e qr	1	105	28	41.00
Unknown	sw qr except 17 ac redm'd	5	105	28	14.06
H G Tryon	se qr nw qr	5	105	28	5.62
H G Tryon	ne qr nw qr	34	105	28	7.26
McMurtrie & Comstock	n hf sw qr	12	105	29	10.90
do	e hf sw qr and w hf se qr except 25 ac redeemed	12	105	29	33.36
Alex Wood	nw qr	6	105	27	49.87
Unknown	nw qr	9	108	25	19.28
A Frazer	n hf ne qr and ne qr nw qr	35	109	25	14.33
F Percival	ne qr sw qr	32	109	26	23.52

Internal Revenue Notice.

U. S. ASSESSOR'S OFFICE, }
First Collection District, Minn. }
Rochester, July 17th, 1863. }

NOTICE is hereby given that the lists of all taxes assessed under the Excise Tax law of the United States within Division No. 16, comprising Blue Earth, Watonwan, Brown, Renville, Cottonwood, Murray, Red Wood and Rock counties will be open for the inspection of all parties concerned for the space of fifteen [15] days from this date at the office of William Reid, Assistant Assessor, in the village of Mankato.

Further notice is hereby given that I will be at said office on the 3rd day of August, A. D., 1863, for the purpose of hearing all appeals which shall be made as provided under section 15 of the Excise Tax Law of the United States.

GEORGE W. BAKER,
Assessor First Dist. Minnesota.

PATENT FORCE PUMP.

THE undersigned has purchased the right to manufacture and sell, the KENTUCKY PATENT FORCEPUMP, one of which is now on exhibition at the Mankato House. This pump is very simple and convenient in all its parts, and peculiarly adapted to this climate. It is placed at the bottom of the well or cistern, and is worked by a handle at the top, the water being forced through an iron pipe. When not in action, the water remaining in the chambers readily finds its way back to the well again, and is consequently uncontaminated by the action of the metal upon it, and is also prevented from freezing for the same reason. For further particulars enquire of,

JAMES T. BESSER.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.
On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.
Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling publicthat his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
ly Proprietor.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL PROFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DeBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime. Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DeBUISSON
Mankato, May 4, 1860. [3-13-y]

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work, is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRNG AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand.

Cash paid for green and dry hides.
Mankato, June 26, 1863.

Mankato
DRUG STORE.

——

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,
or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st, Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN.☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office. F. M. Johnson, Agent.

St. Paul, Feb. 10th, 1863 July17-tf.

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.
OF

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obediance to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune chalenges comparrison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1 25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1 10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.
One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;

Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,)	$18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,)	35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Critierl Notices of the Press.

The volumns Bound constitute of themselves a liberary of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world.—N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the Americau People: and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately ilustrated with good woodcuts: and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty-five cents they will send any number, BY mail, post-paid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents. Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eigh cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00; Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year ,$5,00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2,50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2,50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted for postage. The postage upon Harper's Magazine must be paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS.
Franklyn Square, New York.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, andyou will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co.'s GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEACHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plows,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:

Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Leg and Cable Chains. Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

Iam Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given toorders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.
Mankato, April 23r,d 1863.

NEW LIVERY
&
Sale Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.
☞Horses kept by the day or week.
☞Charges moderate.
D. H. TYNER.

The Mankato Weekly Union.

CHARLES H. SLOCUM. "LIBERTY AND UNION, NOW AND FOREVER, ONE AND INSEPARABLE." Editor and Proprietor.

VOLUME 1. MANKATO, BLUE EARTH COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 21, 1863. NUMBER 6.

THE WEEKLY UNION,

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

CHARLES H. SLOCUM.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One Dollar and Fifty Cents per Year.

☞ All subscriptions paid in advance. ☜

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

1	square	1 week	$1 00	2	squares	6 months	9 00
1	"	2 weeks	1 50	2	"	1 year	15 00
1	"	3 "	1 75	3	"	1 week	2 25
1	"	4 "	2 00	3	"	2 "	3 00
1	"	5 "	2 25	3	"	3 "	4 00
1	"	6 "	2 50	3	"	4 "	5 00
1	"	7 "	2 75	3	"	3 months	9 00
1	"	2 months	3 00	3	"	6 "	12 00
1	"	3 "	3 75	3	"	1 year	20 00
1	"	4 "	4 50	¼	col	6 months	15 00
1	"	5 "	5 25	¼	"	1 year	25 00
1	"	6 "	6 00	⅓	"	6 months	18 00
1	"	1 year	10 00	⅓	"	1 year	30 00
2	"	1 week	1 75	½	"	6 months	25 00
2	"	2 "	2 50	½	"	1 year	40 00
2	"	3 "	3 00	¾	"	1 year	50 00
2	"	4 "	4 00	1	"	1 year	70 00
2	"	3 months	6 00

Business cards of five lines or less, $5.

Transient advertisements must be paid in advance—all others quarterly.

BUSINESS CARDS.

EVERETT P. FREEMAN.
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
OFFICE.—Next door south of the Post Office, MANKATO, - - - - - - MINN.
Prompt attention given to claims to be prosecuted before the State Board of Auditors, and to Court and Office business. Collections made and conveyancing done on reasonable terms

MANKATO INS. AGENCY.
HARTFORD.
PHOENIX.
MERCHANTS—FIRE INS. CO'S.
CHARTER OAK LIFE INS. CO.
Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid by:
JOHN N. HALL,
Resident Agent,

O. P. LIEBERG,
FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER.—Having opened a Barber Shop with a view to establishing a permanent business in Mankato, I am prepared to wait upon gentlemen, and will guarantee satisfaction in every department of my business.
June 26, 1863.

G. A. STURGES, M. D.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
MANKATO, MINN.
OFFICE:—At his residence second door above the Mankato House.

Z. PADDOCK,
Attorney and Counselor at Law, and General Land Agent. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to him. Mankato, Blue Earth Co., Minn.

FRED'K HILDEBRANDT,
Manufacturer of and Deale in all kinds of
FURNITURE & GILT MOULDING,
ALSO,
Imitation of Rosewood Mouldings, Ovals, Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames.
Ware Rooms in Schurmeier's Block, Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minn.

M. ZENOPOLSKI, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.
OFFICE:—Opposite the Clifton House.

DAVID WILCOX.
JUDGE OF PROBATE,
& ATT'Y AT LAW,
MANKATO - - - - - - MINN.

WM. R. McMAHAN, M. D.
Office and Residence old at his stand, on the corner of Hickory and Second streets, one Block back of the Mankato House, where he will be found at all times, except when professionaly absent.
He will furnish and compound his own medicines.

EDWARD OGLESBY,
Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hawley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work in his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October,

S. FINCH, O. O. PITCHER.
FINCH & PITCHER,
Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,
MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA.

MANKATO NURSERY.
THE Proprietor has for sale a choice collection of
Fruit Trees,
Comprising Apple, Pear, Cherry, Plum, and Quince Trees. Also a good assortment of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants, Raspberries, Strawberries, and Pie Plant; together with
ORNAMENTAL TREES
Shrubs, Evergreens, Flowering Plants, &c.
ROB'T GOODYEAR,
Mankato, Sept. 1861.

FAIRBANKS'
STANDARD
SCALES,
OF ALL KINDS.
FAIRBANKS, GREENLEAF & CO.,
172 LAKE STREET, CHICAGO.
☞ BUY ONLY THE GENUINE.

SOUTH BEND MILLS.
BIERBAUER & ROCKEY,
HAVING purchased the above mills, are prepared to manufacture all grades of FLOUR, CORN MEAL, ETC.
Wheat will be ground for every sixth bushel in quantities not less than ten bushels.
☞ Flour and mill stuffs always on hand at market prices. Feb6-3m

Poetry.

A DOMESTIC TEMPEST.

D. M. A.

Young people suppose were they wed they'd be free
From life's petty trials—but list, and we'll see Whether bridegrooms are perfect as poets oft sing,
Or brides uncorrupted by earth venemed sting.
Behind the home curtain we'll silently peep,
And rouse a young couple who quietly sleep—
Perhaps we may learn from their loving discourse
That e'en wedded love needs centrifugal force;
A "something" to balance the lever of life,
And equal the claims of the husband and wife.

"Ho hum," says the gent, with a stretch and a yawn,
"Come, love, let's arise, it is long since the dawn;
(So soundly I've slept, I'm as cross as two sticks)
Come, darling, awake—'tis already past six!"

The lovely companion starts up in surprise
Stares vaguely around and then closes her eyes,
Again on the pillow she lays her little head,
And dreams of poor coffee and yellow-white bread.

"I vow," mutters Snooks, "that's decidedly cool—
I wonder if Nellie thinks I am a fool!
I'll teach her the odds"—and his slumbering 'dear'
Awakes by a voice breathing shrill in her ear,
"Come, Nellie, arouse—'tis your husband's desire
That you should get up and kindle the fire!"

Poor madam, aroused from her comfortless dream,
By the sound of that voice 'twixt a yell and a scream,— Forgetting not Snooks, but Snooks' temper, thus spake, Ignited with passion, this answer doth make—

"Indeed, Mr. Snooks, I shall do no such thing—
I've sung long enough at the flap of your wing;
And you know very well 'tis no duty of mine
Such things to perform, and I'll gladly resign
The office, and say 'tis my ardent desire
That you should get up and kindle the fire."

Now, Snooks, from a woman, such language can't bear,
And like a young lion he starts from his lair,
And buttoning his waistcoat, his temper to tame,
Thus argues the case with his obstinate dame—

"Oh dear, what a fuss you do make o'er life's ills!
I vow, dearest Nell, you're as odd as the Hills!
Come, do as I bid, like a dutiful wife—
You know you are bound to obey me thro' life."

"And you to protect me. Hast done it, I ask,
Say, when was the time that you lightened my task,
Ah! little I thought when you made me your bride
Such sorrow and anguish this bosom should hide:
I wish I had never been married—I do—
At least that I ne'er had been married to you;
And I won't build the fire—so mind what I say.
I can't, shan't and will not your mandates obey."

"Tut, tut, honored madam, beware how you tood,
Or I'll show you what virtue exists in my boot,
And bring to your vision a practical view
Of ancient Petruchio taming a shrew."

"Well done, Mr. Snooks, you discourse like man!
Let all modern heroes award you the van!
Bianca shall struggle with you, and not Kate,
So, gentle Petruchio, list to your fate:
You've insulted, abused me; I've borne it for years;
The world deem me happy, they see not my tears,
My wrongs shall be published, the law I'll enforce,
And justice shall grant me a bill of divorce.
I'll not build your fire if you have none to-day—
Farewell, Mr. Snooks, I am going away."

"Ha, ha! my sweet beauty you're spunky, I vow!
How gracefully sits that dark frown on your brow!
You speak like a woman—a woman of sense
So do as you will—I shall make no defence
And when 'tis all settled, why, then I shall go
And marry 'sweet Bertha'—my old flame, you know.
But what shall be done with our dear little boy,
The pride of his father, his solace and joy.
Of course you'll not want him, he's so much like me,
So madam, I'll take him. Farewell, you are free."

"Oh dear, Mr. Snooks, do you mean what you say?"

"Of course, Mrs. Snooks—what wonder, I pray?
You care nothing for him, else why will you roam,
And bring such disgrace to your kindred and home?"

"Dear husband! forgive me, you've melted my heart!
I never once dreamed 'twas so wretched to part.
I WILL build the fire, if you'll get me some shavings,
And try to forget all my passionate ravings

"N. y, my dearest Nell, I am burning with shame,
'Tis I, only I, that am ever to blame;
Were I less impulsive, our home were like Heaven,
I can't wait for breakfast, 'tis now half-past seven!
Good bye, love—remember you have your desire,
And I, for the future will kindle the fire."

* * * * * * * *

Their confab is ended—the tempest is o'er
And love's gentle day-star is beaming once more;
So now, gentle reader, we'll bid them adieu
And should this dark picture unfold to your view
A lesson whose teachings shall profit you aught,
Not vain is the etching my labor hath wrought.

Select Miscellany.

AN UNMEANT REBUKE.

Charles Nelson had reached his thirty-fifth year, and at that age he found himself going down hill. He had once been one of the happiest of mortals, and no blessing was wanted to complete the sum of his happiness. He had one of the best of wives, and his children were intelligent and comely. He was a carpenter by trade, and no man could command better wages, or be more sure of work. If any man attempted to build a house, Charles Nelson must boss the job, and for miles around, people sought him to work for them. But a change has come over his life. A demoniac look was in his eye, and he had turned back with the evil spirit. A new and experienced carpenter had been sent for by those who would no longer depend upon Nelson, and he had settled in the village and now took Nelson's place.

On a back street, where the great trees threw their green branches over the way, stood a small cottage, which had once been the pride of its inmates. Before it, stretched a wide garden, but tall, rank weeds grew up among the choking flowers, and the paling of the fence was broken in many places, and the house itself had once been white, but it was now dingy and dark. Bright green blinds had once adorned the windows, but they now had been taken off and sold. And the windows themselves bespoke poverty and neglect, for in many places the glass was gone, and shingles, rags and old hats had taken its place. A single look at the house and its accompaniments told the story. It was the drunkard's home!

Within sat a woman yet in the early years of life, and though she was still handsome to look upon, the bloom was gone from her cheek and brightness had faded from her eyes. Poor Mary Nelson! Once she had been the happiest among the happy, but now none could be more miserable! Near her sat two children, both girls, and both beautiful in form and feature, but their garbs were all patched and worn, and their feet shoeless. The eldest was thirteen years of age, and the other two years younger. The mother was hearing them recite a grammar lesson, for she had resolved that her children should not grow up in ignorance. They could not attend the common school, for thoughtless children sneered at them, and made them the subject of sport and ridicule, but in this respect they did not suffer, for their mother was well educated, and she devoted such time as she could spare, to their instruction.

For more than two years, Mary Nelson! had earned all the money that had been used in that house, People hired her to wash, iron and sew for them, and besides the money paid, they gave her many articles of food and clothing. So that she lived on, and the only joys that dwelt with her now were teaching her children and praying to God.

Supper time came, and Charles Nelson came reeling home. He had worked the day before at helping to move a building, and the money he received supplied him with rum for several days. As he stumbled into the house the children crouched close to their mother, and even she shrank away, for sometimes her husband was ugly when thus intoxicated.

O, how that man had changed within two years! Once there was not a finer looking man in town. In frame he had been tall, stout, and compact and perfectly formed, while his face bore the very beau ideal of manly beauty. His noble form was bent, his limbs shrunken and tremulous, his face all bloated and disfigured. He was not the man who had once been the fond husband and doating father. The loving wife had prayed and wept and implored, but all to no purpose; the husband was bound to his drinking companions of the bar-room, and would not break the bonds.

That evening, Mary Nelson ate no supper, for all the food she had in the house, was not more than enough for her husband and children; but when her husband had gone she went out and picked a few berries, and thus kept her vital energy alive. That night the poor woman prayed long and earnestly, and her little ones prayed with her.

On the following morning Charles Nelson sought the bar-room as soon as he arose, but he was sick and faint, and the liquor would not revive him, for it would not remain on his stomach. He had drank very deeply the night before, and he felt miserable.

At length, however, he managed to keep down a few glasses of hot sling but the close atmosphere of the bar-room seemed to stifle him and he went out.

The poor man had just sense enough left to know that if he could sleep he should feel better, and he had just feeling enough to wish to keep away from home, so he wandered off towards a wood not far from the village, and sunk down by the side of a stone wall, and was soon buried in a profound slumber. When he awoke the sun was shining down hot upon him, and raising himself to a sitting posture he gazed about him. He knew that it was afternoon, for the sun was turning towards the west. He was just upon the point of rising when his motion was arrested by the sound of voices near at hand. He looked through a chink in the wall, and just upon the other side he saw his two children picking berries, while a little further off were two more girls, the children of the carpenter who had lately moved into the place.

Come Katy, said one of these latter girls to her companion, "let's go away from here, because if anybody should see us with those girls they'd think we played with them. Come.

"But the berries are thick here," remonstrated the other.

"Never mind—we'll come out some some other time when those little ragged drunkard's girls are not here."

So the two favored ones went away hand in hand, and Nelly and Nancy Nelson sat down upon the grass and cried.

"Don't cry Nancy," said the eldest throwing her arms around her sisters neck.

"But you are crying, Nelly!"

"O, I can't help it sobbed the stricken one.

"Why do they blame us?" murmured Nancy, gazing up into her sister's face. "O, we are not to blame. We are good and kind, and loving, and we never hurt anybody. O, I wish somebody would love us, I should be so happy."

"But we are loved, Nancy. Only think of our noble mother. Who could love us as she does?"

"I know—I know, Nelly; but that aren't all. Why don't papa love us as he used to?" Don't you remember when he used to kiss us and make us so happy? O, I wish he could be so good to us once more. He is not'—

"—sh, sissy! don't say anything more, He may be good to us again: if he only knew how we loved him I know he would. And then I believe God is good, and he surely will help do something, for mother prays to him every day."

"Yes," answered Nelly, "I know she does, and God must be our father sometime."

"He is our father now sissy."

"I know it, but he must be all we shall have by and by, for don't you remember that mother told us that a cold finger was laid upon her heart, and that she might leave us one of these days, and God—"

"—sh. Don't, don't Nancy; you'll

The words were choked with sobs and tears, and the sisters wept long together. At length they arose and went away, for they saw more children coming.

As soon as the little ones were out of sight, Charles Nelson started to his feet. His hands were clenched, and his eyes were fixed upon a vacant point with an eager gaze.

"My God!" he gasped, "what a villain I am. Look at me now! what a state I am in, and what have I sacrificed to bring myself to it! And they love me yet, and pray for me!"

He said no more for some moments; he stood with his hands still clenched, and eyes swimming in tears were turned upward, and his clasped hands raised above his head. A moment he remained so and then his hands dropped by his side, and he started homeward.

When he reached his home he found his wife and children in tears, but he affected not to notice it. He drew a shilling from his pocket—it was his last—and handing it to his wife, he asked her if she would send and get him some milk and flour and make him some milk porridge. The wife was startled by the strange tone in which this was spoken, for it sounded just as the voice had sounded in days gone by.

The porridge was made nice and nourishing, and Charles ate it all.

He went to bed early, and early on the following morning he was up He asked his wife if she had milk and flour enough to make him another bowl of porridge.

"Yes, Charles," she said. "We have not touched it."

"Then if you are willing, I should like some more."

The wife moved quickly about the work, and ere long the food was prepared. The husband ate it, and felt better. He washed and dressed, and would have shaved had his hand been steady enough. He left his home and went at once to a man, who had just commenced to frame a house.

"Mr. Manly," he said, addressing the gentleman alluded to. "I have drank the last alcoholic beverage that ever passes my lips. Ask me no questions, but believe me now while you see me true. Will you give me work?"

"Charles Nelson, are you in earnest?" asked Manly in surprise.

"So much so, sir, that were death to stand upon my right hand, and yonder bar-room upon my left, I would go with the grim messenger first."

"Then there is my house lying about us in rough timber and boards. I place it all in your hands, and shall look to you to finish it. While I can trust you, you may trust me. Come into my office and you shall have the plan I have drawn."

We will not tell how the strong man wept, or how his noble friend shed tears to see him thus; but Charles Nelson took the plan—and having studied it for a while, he went out, where the men were at work getting the timber ready, although he worked but little, for he was not strong yet, but he arranged the timber, and gave directions for framing. At night he asked his employer if he dared trust him with a dollar.

"Why, you have earned three," replied Manly.

"And will you pay me three dollars a day?

"If you are as faithful as you have been to-day, for you will save me money at that.

The poor man could not speak his thanks in words, but his looks spoke for him, and Manly understood them. He received his three dollars, and on his way home he stopped and bought first a basket, then three loaves of bread, a pound of butter, some tea, sugar, and a piece of beef-steak, and he had just one dollar and seventy-five cents left. With this load he went home. It was some time before he could compose himself to enter the house, but at last he went in and set the basket upon the table.

"Come, Mary," he said, "I have brought something home for supper. Here, Nelly, you take the pail and run over to Mr. Brown's and get a couple of quarts of milk."

He handed the child a shilling as he spoke and in a half bewildered state she took the money, and hurried away.

The wife started when she raised the cover of the basket, but she dared not speak. She moved about like one in a dream, and ever and anon she would cast a furtive glance at her husband. He had not been drinking—she knew it—and yet he had money to buy rum with if he wanted it. What could it mean? Had her prayers been answered? O, how fervently she prayed then.

Soon Nelly returned with the milk, and Mrs. Nelson had the table out. After supper Charles arose, and said to his wife.

"I must go up to Mr. Manley's office to help him arrange plans for his new house, but I'll be home early."

A pang shot through the wife's heart as she saw her husband turn away, but still she was far happier than she had been before for a long while. There was something in his manner that assured her and gave her hope.

Just as the clock struck nine the well-known footfall was heard strong and steady. The door opened, and Charles entered. His wife cast a quick, keen glance into his face, and she almost uttered a cry of joy when she saw how he was changed for the better. He had been to the barber's and the hatter's. Yet nothing was said upon the subject. Charles wished to retire early, and his wife went with him. In the morning the husband arose first and built the fire. Mary had not slept until long after midnight, having been kept awake by the tumultuous emotions that had started up in her bosom, and hence she awoke not so early as usual. But she came out just as the tea-kettle and potatoes began to boil, and breakfast was soon ready.

After the meal was eaten, Charles arose, put on his hat, and then turning to his wife he asked:

"What do you to day?

"I must wash for Mrs. Bixby."

"Are you willing to obey me once more?"

"O—yes."

"Then work for me to day. Send Nelly over to tell Mrs. Bixby that you are not well enough to wash, for you are not. Here is a dollar, and do with it as you please. Buy something that will keep you busy for yourself and children."

Mr. Nelson turned towards the door, and his hand was upon the latch. He hesitated and then turned back. He did not speak, but he opened his arms, and his wife sank upon his bosom. He kissed her, and then having gently placed her in a seat, he left the house. When he went to his work that morning he felt well, and very happy. Mr. Manley was by to cheer him, and this he did by talking and acting as though Charles had never been unfortunate at all.

"It was Saturday evening, and Nelson had been almost a week without rum. He had earned fifteen dollars, ten of which he had now in his pocket.

"Mary," he said, after the supper table had been cleared away, there are ten dollars for you, and I want you to expend it in clothing for yourself and children, I have earned fifteen dollars during the last five days. I am to build Squire Manley's great house, and he pays me three dollars a day. A good job, isn't it."

Mary looked up, and her lips moved, but she could not speak a word. She struggled a few moments, and then burst into tears. Her husband took her by the arm and drew her upon his lap, and pressed her to his bosom.

"Mary," he whispered, while tears ran down his cheeks, "you are not deceived. I am Charley Nelson once more, and will be while I live. Not by any act of mine shall another cloud cross your brow." And then he told her of the words he had heard on the previous Monday, while he lay behind the wall.

"Never before," said he, "did I fully realize how low I had fallen, but the scales dropped from my eyes then, as though some one had struck them off with a sledge. My soul started up to a standing point, from which all the tempters of earth cannot move it. Your prayers are surely answered, my wife.

Time passed on, and the cottage once more assumed its garb of pure white, and its whole windows and green blinds. The roses in the garden smiled, and every way did the improvement work. Once again was Mary Nelson among the happiest of the happy, and their children chose their own associates now.

Business Rules.

1. Do not undertake a business with which you are not perfectly acquainted, any sooner than you would attempt, if blind, to survey a city. First thoroughly understand what you propose to do. Serve an apprenticeship before taking a single step involving risk.

2. Never attempt a business for which you have no taste or tact. Seek to do that for which you have a natural faculty and relish. Don't aspire to be a merchant when you should be a farmer or a day laborer.

3. Never connect yourself in partnership with those in whom you have not perfect confidence—with those to whom you would not be willing, sick or well, at home or abroad, living or dead, to entrust all your business affairs.

4. Never attempt to do more business than you can safely do on your own capital.

5. Avoid the taking of extraordinary risks of long credits, no matter what profits are in prospect.

6. Give no credit whatever to any one who does not possesss a good moral character.

7. Supervise carefully your own business, (not your neighbor's,) and look after your clerks and see that they are faithful in the performance of all their duties.

8. Let all those with whom you have dealings or intercourse, understand distinctly, that you will not lend yourself, for sake of trade, to do any mean thing—anything which your conscience will not approve.

9. Never lend your name by endorsement or otherwise, except under most extraordinary circumstance, and then let the act be guarded with every possible security.

10. Never allow yourself or your partners to draw a dollar from the concern to invest in any "outside operation" whatever.

11. In forming a copartnership, insist that a limited, fixed sum only shall be drawn by each partner for personal expenses.

12. Under no circumstances whatever, deal in stock. Don't believe any one of the thousand marvellous tales of a fortune in that direction. They are a trap and a lie.

13. Keep all your accumulated profits in your business as long as you own a dollar. When you have more capital than you can use, then it will be proper to invest outside.

14. Never borrow of banks or other sources, if you can avoid it. If temporary assistance is needed, seek it from a tried friend, or from a sound banking institution, and then return the loan, on the day fixed, with the most rigid punctuality.

15. Have an eye on the condition of the country, its crops, and the general prospect for business, and look out sharp for the movements of politicians, who, in nine cases out of ten, care more for re-election than for our commercial interests or our prosperity.

A Strong Character.

Strength of character consists of two things; power of will, and power of self-restraint. It requires two things, therefore, for its existence; strong feelings, and strong command over them. Now it is here we make a great mistake; we mistake strong feelings for strong character. A man who bears all before him, before whose frown domestics tremble, and whose bursts of fury make the children of the household quake; because he has his will obeyed, and his own way in all things, we call him a "strong man." The truth is, that he is the weak man; it is his passions that are strong; he, mastered by them, is weak.

You must measure the strength of a man by the power of the feelings he subdues, not by the power of those which subdue him. And hence composure is very often the highest result of strength. Did we never see a man receive a flagrant insult, and only grow a little pale, and then reply quietly? That is a man spiritually strong. Or did we ever see a man in anguish stand as if carved out of solid rock, mastering himself? Or one bearing a hopeless daily trial remain silent, and never tell the world what cankered his home-peace? That is strength. He who, keenly sensitive, with manly powers of indignation in him, can be provoked, and yet restrain himself, and forgive—these are the strong men.

Prayer From the Heart.

It is observable, that when a man is to swim over some river, having thrown himself into the water, he passeth as far as he can by the strength of his first stroke, and then being as it were at a stand, he fetched another stroke, and so a third, and a fourth, till he comes to the place where he would be. So in the matter of prayer, in our addresses unto God, we must do as that godly martyr of Christ, Mr. John Bradford, was said to do, not to ramble from one petition to another, till he had brought his heart into a perfect frame of prayer, so that every passage of prayer had its full work. As for instance, in the Lord's Prayer, when a man shall say, Thy kingdom come, and then shall be thinking with himself, O, but if it should not come, what a case am I in, that am thus unprovided? Then in the midst of these thoughts, say, Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven, letting the tongue go on, whilst the heart is on something else; this is an error, a green wound easy to be cured, being one good thought instead of another, which is to be done by serious and deliberate attendance, and careful dwelling on one particular, till another be presented.

GOD'S ACTS INSCRUTABLE TO MAN.—Take a straight stick, and put it into the water, and it will seem crooked. Why? because we look upon it through two mediums, air and water; there lies the deceptio visus; thence it is that we cannot discern aright. Thus the proceeding of God in his justice, which in themselves are straight, without the least obliquity, seemed unto us crooked; that wicked men should prosper, and good men be afflicted; that the Israelites should make the bricks, and the Eyptians dwell in the houses; that servants should ride on horseback, and princes go on foot; these are things that makes the best Christians stagger in their judgments. And why? but because they look upon God's proceedings through a double medium of flesh and spirit; that so all things seem to go cross, though, indeed, they go right enough. And hence it is that God's proceedings in his justice are not so well discerned,—the eyes of man alone being not competent judges thereof.

DR. Lawson's physician had the dreadful habit of profane swearing. Lawson consulted him once about his health. The physician, swearing, said:

"Sir, you are the slave of a bad habit, and you will not soon recover unless you give it up."

"And what is the habit?" replied Lawson.

"Smoking," said the other.

"Well," said Lawson, "I can abandon the pipe; but you will permit me to give you a hint too, as to a vile habit of your own?"

"What is that?"

"I refer to your habit of profane swearing." replied the divine.

"True said the doctor; "but that is not an expensive habit like yours."

"Ah, sir," said Dr. Lawson. you will discover it to be a very expensive habit indeed when the final account is handed to you.

QUESTION ANSWERED.—A clergyman one Sunday informed his hearers that he should divide his discourse into three parts—the first should be terrible, the second horrible, and the last sublime. Assuming a dramatic, tragic attitude, and wishing to bring the sulphurous lake as vividly before the mind's eye of his hearers as possible, he swung his right arm wildly, pointing to about the middle of the church, with eyes seemingly transfixed with horror, he exclaimed, in a startling agonizing tone:

"What's that I see there?" Still louder, and with a vigorous swing: "What's that I see there?"

Here a little old woman cried out in a shrill treble tone:

"Why, its nothing but my little black dog; he wont hurt nobody."

Boanerges concluded to leave out the "terrible" that time.

At church some clasp their hands so tight in prayer time, that they cannot get them open when the contribution box comes round.

The Weekly Union.

Mankato, Friday, Aug. 21, 1863.

Republican Union Ticket.

For Governor,
STEPHEN MILLER,
of Stearns County.

For Lieutenant Governor,
CHARLES D. SHERWOOD,
of Fillmore County.

For Secretary of State,
DAVID BLAKELY,
of Olmsted County.

For Auditor of State,
CHARLES McILRATH,
of Nicollet County.

For State Treasurer,
CHARLES SCHEFFER,
of Washington County.

For Attorney General,
GORDON E. COLE,
of Rice County.

For Clerk of the Supreme Court,
GEO. F. POTTER,
of Houston County.

Union County Convention.

The Republicans, and all unconditional Union men of Blue Earth County are hereby requested to elect delegates in the several towns to represent them in a County Convention to be held at Mankato, on Saturday, the 5th of September, at 2 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of choosing delegates to the District Convention, to nominate one Senator and three Representatives, for the 17th Legislative District, and placing in nomination, candidates for the following county offices:—

Register of Deeds; Sheriff; Treasurer; Judge of Probate: County Surveyor; one County Commissioner for the 2d District; and one for the 3rd District.

The several towns are requested to hold their caucuses on Thursday, the 3rd of September, at 3 o'clock P. M.

The ratio of representation will be as follows:

Mankato,	7	Shelby,	2
South Bend,	4	Sterling,	2
Judson,	2	Mapleton,	1
Butternut Valley,	2	Danville,	1
Ceresco,	1	Le Ray,	1
Watonwan,	5	Jamestown,	1
Vernon,	2	Lime,	1

Ignoring past differences, mindful of present duties, and hopeful for the future, let us strive to put the right men in the right places, and while our gallant soldiers are shedding their blood so profusely to uphold our glorious Union, let us show them that what their valor secures shall not be jeopardized by us at home.

Per order of the Republican Co. Com.
J. T. WILLIAMS,
Aug. 21st, 1863. Chairman.

WE have the pleasure this morning of placing at our mast-head, the Union ticket nominated at St. Paul. The mail came in so late that we have no time for comment.

THE OBJECT ACCOMPLISHED—SIBLEY'S ORDER No. 51.

We are informed by General Order No. 51, that the Indian Expedition is at an end. The great Expedition upon which the eye of Minnesota has been centered for the last three months has arrived at its destination, accomplished its object, and is now on its return. The Expedition, upon which we may say, the fate of Minnesota depended, has, according to the order above mentioned, been entirely successful. The object of the Government has been accomplished; the Indians routed, many of them killed, an immense number of buffalo hides destroyed, all their culinary apparatus, entirely demolished,—dried buffalo meat (their sole dependence) captured, their transportation cut off, and, to cap the climax, their fine army,—the pride of their nation,—is cut up, "demoralized," and driven, in confusion across the mighty Missouri.

We have entire possession of their country and their towns. Their firesides have been demolished,—their hearth-stones removed, and, in a word, they are gone, "without baggage," toward the setting sun. The wide and deep flowing Missouri rolls between us an impenetrable barrier to all further raids and outrages upon our frontier, and, what is more, the General informs us that all their prospects for the future are hopeless indeed. They have been driven into the waste wilderness to starve and die. The "places that once knew them will know them no more forever."

Sic transit gloria mundi.

Without wishing to be classed as a croaker, or faultfinder—without setting up our opinion against the "experience in the peculiar traits of Indian character" possessed in so large a degree by Generals Pope and Sibley, we must say with all truth, and from a heartfelt conviction of right, that we can't see it in that light from where we sit. By shifting our position and looking at the matter in a different light, we might see the "moral effect" it would have on these hordes of "remorseless savages." If we were in expectation of another star we might see the physical effect upon them, but, as it is, we cannot.

We cannot see that the object of the expedition has been accomplished. If, as the General's order indicates, the object was simply to drive the Indians across the Missouri river, the trifling advantage gained will not warrant the means expended, and the bootless toil and unnecessary privations will receive but little else than sympathy from a community who confidently expected the complete annihilation of the Indians.

Gen. Sibley says the expedition was a success. Gen. Pope telegraphs to Washington, in his usual happy style, "that Indian hostilities may be considered at an end on this side of the Missouri." We hope that for once Pope is right. But the sequel tells a different tale. We had been but a day's march from the river before the red devils were among our mules, and in our rear! What reason have we to suppose that our Indian troubles are at an end—what reason to believe that small bands will not pass our army and be here before the Expedition returns?

Let us hope for the best, but not lull ourselves into a feeling of security with the vain hope that the Indians have been driven away never to return. We will not ask why the pursuit was not kept up, or why the Expedition did not stay there a few days and recruit, after the last battle, which was a small affair, and then capture the families of the Indians—subsisting, in the meantime, on the "immense quantities of pemmican" which were lying along the route.—We will not ask why the troops were recalled ten miles, just on the eve of victory, or why an effort was not made to capture or prevent the women and children from crossing, as a correspondent writes, that from the General's position, they were plainly seen on the rising ground. We will take it for granted that to accomplish such things was impossible! But we can't endorse or believe all that the vanity of the commanding General would have us, in his order. We have been humbugged and deceived so much within the last year or two by orders and congratulatory addresses, that it has got to be an old story. The people ought to be the judges of the victories achieved and advantages gained. The order is anything but flattering to those who were engaged.

Too much credit cannot be awarded to the soldiers and officers for the courage and endurance they have shown in their tedious march. They acquitted themselves nobly and did all that was asked of them, and would have done more had it been required.

The "object" accomplished is small compared to the vanity displayed in order No. 51.

POWERS OF ATTORNEY REQUIRE A ONE DOLLAR STAMP EACH.

The Collector of Internal Revenue for this district, has handed us for publication the following letter which will interest those concerned;

[OFFICIAL.]

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
WASHINGTON, Aug. 8, 1863.

SIR. In reply to yours of the 30th ult., inclosing communication from Mr. S. Finch, I have to say that powers of attorney executed in accordance with General Order No 208 from the War Department, require a one Dollar stamp each.

By the act of March 3d, powers of attorney relating to certain Classes of Claims against the Government are exempt from stamp duty, but those now under consideration are not included. If there be any unnecessary hardship resulting from the requirement of such instruments, the remedy lies with the War Department and not with this Office,

Very Respectfully.
JOSEPH J. LEWIS.
Commissioner.

JOHN N. HALL.
Collector of Int. Rev,
Mankato, Minnesota.

ROUTES TO THE EAST.

IT IS A MATTER OF SURPRISE, not to say of actual unbelief, to many, if not most of the people of the Northwest, West and Southwest, that from Green Bay and LaCrosse, on the North, to Cairo and St. Louis, on the South, the shortest route to New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, lies through PITTSBURG. When we add that this route, so generally supposed to be a circuitous one to New York, is actually nearly one hundred miles shorter than the route via Toledo, Buffalo, and Albany, and sixty miles less distance than via Toledo & Erie Railway; this fact becomes only the most astounding to the large number of persons who have heretofore regarded Buffalo as on the direct line to New York. A further advantage of the route via Pittsburg, is, that there is but one change of cars, between Chicago and New York or Philadelphia, an advantage of great moment to ladies and families, and withal of no less comfort to business men: All these advantages can be be secured, by buying your ticket to the East over the PITTSBURG, FORT WAYNE & CHICAGO RAILWAY, which can be had in Chicago, and at all the Ticket Offices of all prominent lines in the West.

The REDUCTION OF FARE just made by this line, to $18,00 from Chicago to New York, a privilege belonging to the shortest line to make the rates, should induce our people generally to try this new and admirably appointed line, whereby they can reach the East in less time and for a lower fare than by any other route.

Capt. Fisk's Expedition.

We learn from Col. Marshall that the apprehensions expressed by a correspondent of the Pioneer as to the safety of Capt. Fisk's Expedition are without any reasonable foundation, and that his route does not, as there indicated, "lie through the heart of a hostile country," but passes far to the north of it.

Capt. Fisk's route diverged from that of Gen. Sibley's at Lake Jessie, whence he went in a northwesterly direction above the Big Bend of the Missouri, toward the valley of the Mouse river, while Gen. Sibley found and pursued the Indians in a southwesterly direction from Lake Jessie. Capt. Fisk's course lay over a hundred miles north of the point on the Missouri where Gen. Sibley left the routed, panic-stricken, and starved horde of Indians.

There are no hostile Sioux on his route, and no fears need be felt of any danger to the expedition from this source.—Press.

LETTER FROM THE WINNEBAGO AGENCY.

WINNEBAGO AGENCY, D. T.
July 27, 1863.

To the Editor of the Union.

Without doubt many of your readers are somewhat anxious concerning the horde of the red men that left your County in May last: others, perhaps, cherish a feeling of interest and concern in the welfare of the few white men whom circumstances, in a measure, compelled to follow them. We are situated near the bank of the Missouri river, upon an extensive bottom some ten miles in length, in the rear of which rises a bluff accessible at any place to the easy ascent of wagons and teams. Immediately in front of the agency is an extensive belt of timber, which follows the river almost entirely the whole length of the river. Extensive preparations have been made and are now being carried out of making farms, and breaking and fencing the same. For nine miles in length the breaking plough has done its duty, and men who have followed the fortunes of the Indians since their exit from Wisconsin say that the soil is more productive than that of Long Prairie, and will yield its due share of all the cereals. For a few weeks after our arrival here it was very dry and dusty, and by the paper we see that our Minnesota friends make the some complaint. For the last few weeks I never saw finer weather; the heavens have opened and the rain has fallen, and the prairie and bluffs have assumed their mantle of green. The Indians, on their arrival, were dissatisfied but immediately procured bark from the large cotton woods and erected their lodges. This dissatisfaction has largely abated. Parties of them almost daily bring in deer and antelope, both of which are found in abundance. Buffaloes have been seen and captured.

Boats of twelve hundred tons burden navigate the river for a long way above us. Six have landed here within the past ten days; some in government and some on private account. No country can boast of better or cooler water; several wells have been dug and water found at ten to twenty feet. No fear is felt of the Indians; no one goes armed save a company of Cavalry located here. Boarding houses, offices, saw-mill, trading post are and have been for some time erected and in running condition. The Winnebagoes and Sioux mix up like the members of one family, and are friendly in all their relations, save gambling. The Sioux cannot compete with them in that accomplishment.

This wing of the great Indian expedition has passed, in command of Gen. Sulley, some four thousand strong, with its long train of wagons, and ere this, is in the neighborhood of Fort Pierre. If any of your neighbors feel unsafe in regard to the Indians come up here. F.

WINNEBAGO AGENCY, D. T.,
July 29, 1863.

I am seated beside a large cedar log, that is awaiting its turn among a hundred others to be made into shingles. My propensity to whittling could not be curbed, and so I sat, jack knife in hand, and in motion. I went back in my thoughts to Minnesota.—I feel sorry and glad; sorry that so much timber has been so ruthlessly snatched by Government from the hands of the old Indian Regency, and then besides, your "neighbor" has less material from which to make sensation items. I see by an occasional paragraph in his sheet that, instead of returning thanks for the removal of those red devils out of his regency's pilfering reach, he is hugely disposed to find fault with those who did remove them. "'Tis hard to kick against the pricks." The man shows the virus within him. On the other hand, glad that Southern Minnesota will reap untold benefits by their riddance of such a plague, and so peacefully and rapidly accomplished. Minnesota has a large debt to pay to her worthy Senator Morton S. Wilkinson for his untiring efforts in their behalf. He has done what he has said he wo'd do, and Colonel Thompson, the efficient Superintendent, is carrying out the plans of the Government here to the very letter. No better man ever undertook such a task, or accomplished the same in so short a time. No white man will interfere with them here until long after this generation has departed, if ever. It is emphatically an Indian country. The short dry buffalo grass is full of nutriment for their ponies, and hay can be cut in abundance for winter use, and it is a long way from any body. F.

FROM THE THIRD REGIMENT.

HELENA, ARKANSAS,
July 31, 1863.

To the Editor of the Mankato Union.

Having a few leisure moments, I will give your readers a short sketch of the 3rd Regiment and what it has done. We left Fort Hieman, Ky., June 3rd, for Vicksburg, Miss.; got to Haines Bluff on the 8th. There we heard the first heavy guns from Grant; were at Haines Bluff one week and then went to Snider's Bluff, some three miles nearer the scene of conflict. There we remained and heard Grant's thunder until the fall of Vicksburg. We did not participate in any of the fights, but did what was assigned to us. The officers and men were ready for what might come. Our guns were in the best of order; cartridge-boxes were full, but,—Vicksburg has fallen and we have been sent to this place. Here we wait for orders. Our General has gone to Memphis; when he returns we will move somewhere, but where remains a secret. The boys have a good deal of sport with the rebels. They have not forgotten how to jayhawk yet. Things are different from what they were last year. Last year the rebel property was protected; this year it is eaten, and what a soldier cannot eat he can carry off if he chooses, and not be put in the guard-house; and when we go on picket our orders are, "not to take anything we cannot find." Secesh grumbles, but who cares? Let them make their cries to Jefferson; for if he cannot supply their wants Abraham won't. They went to look for their rights, and if they can find them in a better way than a Federal soldier can, they can do better than the prisoners could who were taken at Vicksburg. They were willing to say that they had got theirs.

The health of the Regiment is very good at present. Our doctors are worthy of much praise for their attention to the sick and providing for their wants. Only two men have died out of the regiment since it left the State in January. There was eight months from the time the last one died in Minnesota till the first one died in Mississippi.

The time is short, and I must close till some future time. Until then I remain ever yours, * Extract from a Letter from Co. I. 5th Iowa Cavalry.

I have nothing to write you of much importance as news. We are stationed here on picket and patrol duty.—We have been in two pretty heavy skirmishes, but no one hurt, as usual, from Co. I. We belong to the 1st brigade, 2d Cavalry division, 14th Army Corps, which is a reserve corps, consequently we are stationed along the route from Nashville to the front of the army, which is now near where it was last summer; that is, along the Tennessee River, and the left resting at Huntsville, Ala. There was but little resistance to Rosecrans' advance. He rather out-generaled Bragg this time; flanked him at Tullahoma.—Grant and Banks have cleared the Mississippi River; Meade has driven Lee out of Pennsylvania, and Morgan and the most of his forces captured. All this has been accomplished within the past month. At this rate it will not take long to close up this war.

The weather here has been much cooler and more comfortable than it was last summer, though it has been quite warm for the past few days.—The health of the company is good. Lamp and Preckle have been sent to the hospital since you left, and Pease discharged. Vannice is quite sick in quarters. Fall is acting orderly, not appointed yet. Not many changes have occurred in the Regiment. Sam Paul is Captain of Co. A; Sam Richer 1st Lieut.; Welhite, 2d Lieut. of Co. C; Young Major; Oscar, Col. Lowe's clerk, will be 2d Lieut. of Co. E, vice Wheeler, resigned, and Lea Marvin Captain. Your friend Squires is trying for a discharge. He has a certificate of disability. Quartermaster Smith has been promoted to Captain, and assigned to duty in St. Louis. Peterson is not here. Jim McNaly is Quartermaster of this regiment. We are well mounted, and armed with Sharp's carbines and Colt's revolvers.

A HERO.—The correspondent of the New York Herald speaks thus of Sergeant Bennett, who is a son of Mr. M. O. Bennett, of Tivoli:

Commissary Serg't Bennett, of the Forty-fourth New York, alone took twenty-five rebel prisoners belonging to the Fifth Texas regiment. He told them to surrender and they refused, "Company E. fall in," he called out; the men did not wait a second call, but surrendered at once. They were a good deal chagrined at learning how they had been taken in. What makes the Sergeant more the hero, is the fact that his duty did not require him to go into the fight; he was acting solely on his own hook, and the result showed acted well his part.

THE SIBLEY EXPEDITION.

THE BATTLE OF BIG MOUND.

Our first discovery of the whereabouts of the foe, was made about one o'clock, and after a march of nearly twenty miles, so that the time was not the most favorable for an enthusiastic or long pursuit. But the troops welcomed the opportunity before them and were eager for an encounter. We were then encamped upon the banks of a lake, and as the Indians were already beginning to appear upon a high mound about a mile distant, the General at once ordered the train to be corralled, entrenchments thrown up, and a line of battle formed.

The first brush of the campaign was opened by a sad affair, and one which will bring sorrow to many hearts. While the camped was being arranged for the defence, several officers ventured upon a ridge a quarter of a mile distant, the better to get a view of the scattered and incoming foe. Among them was Dr, Weiser of Shakopee, Surgeon to the First Minnesota Mounted Rangers, whose acquaintance with the Indians led him to risk a parley with two or more of the naked rascals who beckoned him on in a friendly manner When not more than three feet from him, the treacherous friends suddenly turned and shot him dead. Solon Stevens of Mankato, a bold scout who was standing near, was also fired upon and slightly wounded. Fortunately the body of the Doctor was obtained unscalped, and brought into camp immediately.

This savage murder opened the fire. At once from the semi-circle of hills around, the savages began to appear, and for a while they seemed to be gathering for a grand dash upon the camp. A six pounder was advanced in front so as to bear upon the mound where the enemy seemed the thickest. The several shells thrown produced magical effects. The first battalion of cavalry was sent out on the right with the Seventh Regiment. But not till Col. Marshall closed up upon them with a splendid skirmish line, himself in advance, did they begin a universal retreat. On the right Major Bradley advanced with two companies of the Seventh, and Captain Taylor's and Anderson's companies of cavalry dismounted. The General left Col. Baker and all but one company (Capt. Edgerton's) of the Tenth, in charge of the camp, and advanced to plan the pursuit. But it was so much scattered as to be well nigh beyond his control. Colonel Marshall had left the cavalry and artillery in the lurch, and with five companies was pressing on at double quick, driving the Indians, to the number of 900 or 1,000, from ridge to ridge for nearly five miles. On the right, Major Bradley, with Gillfilan's and Stevens' companies of the Seventh, and Captain Anderson's and Taylor's companies, flanked the Indians after having driven them back with grand success. The Sixth Regiment, which had been deployed about the left of the camp, advanced in skirmish line for five or six miles, and then returned as ordered. The cavalry at length took the lead, after the Seventh had driven the enemy over the third or summit range, and the artillery was ordered forward to their support. Still on went the Seventh at double-quick, although fagged out by the previous long march of the day, and not having had any thing to eat or drink for nearly twelve hours, pressing close upon the cavalry.

As the cavalry took the lead, Col. Marshall left his line, which did not then require his presence, and, in accordance with the desire and permission of Col. McPhail, led the right of the third battalion of cavalry. At length the gallant Colonel saw a chance to make a dash and cut off the retreat of a party of Indians. He called to the cavalry to follow him. Some followed, and he got almost within pistol-shot, of a considerable body of Indians. Col. McPhail had led down a ravine to the left, and had now the entire battalion following him, properly obeying his order. Col. M. found himself without support, and was obliged to retrace his steps from rather close quarters, He then resumed command of his own line. By this time the artillery came up, and for ten miles the chase was continued across the prairie. The Seventh at length halted, and were bivouacking for the night with the intention of renewing the pursuit in the morning, when Col. McPhail and the cavalry returned, in accordance with an order from the General. Col. Marshall desired to remain upon the ground at all events, and so did Capt. Jones, with the battery, but Col. McPhail was the ranking officer, and he considererrd it best that all should return, although it seemed unfortunate indeed to be obliged to lose so much ground after having reached the rear of the Indians train and killed a number of their men. In fact it seemed as though complete success was fairly at hand. Had blankets and provision been sent forward, so that the men could have remained on the ground and resumed the pursuit in the morning there is but little doubt that the train could have been overhauled, and the whole captured. But the General knew well that his large train must not be exposed to too much risk, and further, was at so great a distance from the advanced forces that he was unable after nightfall, and without information as to the exact location of the Indian train, to give decisive orders. Although the chance of full success was thus lost, yet there are many things to be considered before indiscriminate judgments are heaped upon Gen. Sibley. Certain it is that men and horses were so completely used up to have advanced much further the night of the pursuit. The coming up with the Indians so handsomely, driving such a large number of warriors from hill to hill, was in itself a grand success. Then routing them from their camps in such haste that they were obliged to throw away a great amount of their property, and better yet, killing and wounding a number in their train, altogether formed a successful termination to the first day's work.

The casualties of the first day's fight were greater than of any other. Besides Dr. Weiser and Lieut Freeman (an account of whose death is given elsewhere), privates Stark and Murphy of the Rangers were killed, and private Heslep wounded.

THE BATTLE OF STONE LAKE.

We left camp Tuesday morning with unusual carelessness, there being no suspicions whatever that any body of Indians were lurking about. Just at the moment when the train was in the greatest confusion, being scattered about in as many as half a dozen places, suddenly there was a sharp firing in front, which was sufficient announcement of the presence of Indians. One needed but to glance about to secure ample proof of the fact. From every surrounding hill the cunning prowlers dashed down, till the camp and outstarting train seemed to be entirely encircled. The greatest number seen at any one time, is variously estimated from 1,000 to 1,600, and all were mounted. Such a scene of hurry and bustle as ensued, has seldom attended an Indian surprise. But the General was in the advance, as usual, and unrolled order and a plan from the chaos in almost a moment's time. The Tenth Regiment was at the head of the column and Col. Baker was equal to the emergency. His men were soon deployed for a long distance on the right and left, and half a dozen good volleys joined with shell from the six-pounder of Captain Jones, effectually checked the cowards in front. On the left, Col. Crooks also deployed his men in a handsome manner, as did Col. Marshall, on the right. On all sides the savages retreated, howling war songs, shaking their blankets, and making themselves impudent generally. They only managed to capture two of our mules. They killed or wounded none of our men, although they tried the old dodge of displaying the national colors in front of our line and beckoning to an interview. By the time the train was in readiness to move, not a red skin was to be seen. At times, during the march of the day, they appeared in the distance, their evident purpose being to delay us as much as possible, the better to afford them time for flight across the Missouri. The battle of Stone Lake was, most truly, one of magnificent distances and sudden disappearances, but the first dash was a bold one for Indians, and quite worthy to be noted as a battle in a running record of the campaign. We camped that night at a distance of eight miles from the Missouri. Our tents were not wholly pitched when a cavalryman came in with the scalp of an Indian scout, whom he had shot with his carbine in a ravine near by. We also brought a captive into camp that day in the shape of a Teton Indian, at whom over thirty shots had been fired, but who was taken finally uninjured. He reported the Indian force as very large, numbering several thousand warriors, all of whom were united against the whites. He himself, he stated, had come across the Missouri with a hunting party, and was asleep when our forces came upon him. Two or three days after he was released, it not being thought advisable to unnecessarly provoke the enmity of the Indians across the Missouri. It was also on that day's march that Private Platt, a wounded cavalryman, died in an ambulance. He was buried at moonlight on the banks of the Apple Creek.

Long and rapid marches, want of water and forage, days of fighting and nights of watching, and the rapidly lessening stock of provisions, compelled Gen Sibly here to relinquish the further pursuit. The Indians were now upon a river they could cross and recross with more facility than our soldiers, and which was bordered by almost impenetrable thickets—the prickly ash abounding. The animals, especially, were in a position which precluded any more rapid or sustained marches.

Two days were spent upon the branches of the Missouri, and for three successive evenings cannon were fired, and signal rockets sent up, in the vain hope that Gen. Sully might be within answering distance; and on the first instant, after thoroughly destroying the stuff abandoned by the Indians, the camp was broken up, and the expeditionary force again in motion; homeward bound.

The point on the Missouri reached by General Sibly, was in latitude 46° 42', longitude 109° 35', about forty miles by land below Fort Clarke. The distance from Fort Snelling, by the line of march, was made by Col. Crooks to be 585 miles.

MURDER OF LIEUT. FREEMAN.

At the time the events of the first day's battles were recorded, I failed to give the sad story connected with the death of Lieut. Freeman and the disappearance of Mr. Bracket, beef contractor of the expedition. On the morning of that day, the Lieutenant, with Mr. Brackett, left the train for a buffalo chase. We heard nothing more of them till just as the battle of Big Mound was commencing, when three Indian scouts came in on foot greatly excited. and reported that Freeman had been shot dead by a party of Indians who had come suddenly upon them. While the Indians were securing the horses of the five, the scouts managed to secrete Mr. Brackett in the grass and promised to return for him if he would wait there. The murderous Indians suffered the scouts to go unharmed, assuring them first of the intention of the Indians to decoy General Sibly into an ambush by means of a flag of truce. The General did not require this news, however, to incite him to eschew all flags of truce. A party was sent out immediately to search for Mr Bracket, but, although the pursuit was so long and diligently continued, nothing could be found of him save his supposed tracks to the trail of the train. The body of Lieut. Freeman was found, and in the morning it was brought into camp in an ambulance. An arrow had pierced his breast, and the tomahawk and scalping knife had left bloody traces about his head. Poor fellow! We buried him in the common grave of Dr. Weiser and privates Stark and Murphy, and at the same time mourned for George Brackett, as really as though we were adding his remains also to the soldiers' grave There were some, however, who felt certain that he had escaped, and that he would yet be found alive upon our return to Camp Atchison.

OUR CASUALTIES.

The entire list of our casualties up to this date (July 31st) is as follows:

Killed.—Dr. Weiser. of Shakopee, Surgeon to the Mounted Rangers.

F. J Holt Beever. aid to General Sibley, with rank of Lieutenant.

Lieutenant Freeman, of the Mounted Rangers.

G. A. Stark, of St Peter, of the Rangers.

John Murphy, of Waseca, of the Rangers—killed by lightning.

John Platt, of Filmore county, Co. L. Mounted Rangers.

John Miller, of the Sixth Regiment.

Wounded.—Andrew Moar, of Filmore county, of the Mounted Rangers.

The health of the brigade up to this time, has been remarkably good, there having been no death from sickness,

LATEST NEWS.

News by Friday Morning's Mail.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The flagship Densmore, from off Charleston, has arrived. Letters say that since Monday evening affairs there have been rather monotonous. We have been exchanging shot and shell with the rebels all night and day, probably doing little damage to either side. The enemy's object was to retard Gen. Gilmore's siege works, but they have all been perfected several days.

Reinforcements continue to arrive daily, and quite a large force is now on the islands.

Wednesday night the rebels fired on our works with grape and canister, on information given by sutlers who deserted to the enemy. We lost two killed and two wounded The Monitors went up in the night and attacked Fort Wagner. The rebel guns were soon silenced.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

LOST.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That Sioux Half Breed Scrip was issued by the proper Department, on November 24th, 1856, to Marion Robertson, as follows:

No, 492	A	for	40	acres.
" "	B	"	40	"
" "	C	"	80	"
" "	D	"	160	"
" "	E	"	160	"

And that during the recent Indian outbreak at Red Wood Lower Sioux Agency, all said Scrips were wholly destroyed by the Indians, or otherwise lost. Any person finding the same or portions thereof, by notifying me shall be suitably rewarded.

Dated at Faribault, August, 1863.
JANE A. ROBERTSON,
Guardian.
Attest C. L. LOWELL,
Att'y,
4w 6

THE COUNTY.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

St. Paul—Arrives at 9 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Eastern—Arrives at 4 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Blue Earth City—Arrives at 5 P. M. and departs at 7 A. M. Closes 7 P. M.

Office hours—5 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays, 5 to 7 A. M., and 12 M. to 1 P. M.

R. J. SIBLEY, Postmaster.

IMPROVING.—We are pleased to learn that the health of our friend Mr. Tyner is improving.

OUR farmers are nearly through harvesting, and the last few days of warm weather has enabled them to stack the most of their grain.

PUB DOC.—Senator Ramsey will please accept our thanks for public documents recently received.

REV. W. LIVERMORE, of St. Peter, will hold services at Masonic Hall, at 3 o'clock P. M. next Sunday.

A GOOD ISSUE.—The last number of the Record was one of the best we have read in a long time. We hope it will continue in the same strain for the next six months.

IN another column will be found a call for a County Convention to nominate County officers, and elect delegates to attend the District Convention.

DISSOLVED.—The late firm of Wellcome & Smith, at Garden City, was dissolved on the 17th inst., by mutual consent.

WE do not know who the District Committee is, but its about time the proper authorities were attending to their duties in making a call for a District Convention.

SATISFIED.—Many housewives who have been using Soda for years have become satisfied that DeLand & Co.'s Chemical Saleratus is better for all purposes than soda, and therefore cannot be induced to use Soda, or any other brand of Saleratus.

CRUEL.—Some of our lady friends who have plenty of canaries, are turning them loose to care for themselves, so we are informed. Two or three have been caught, lately, in an almost starved condition.

WHO is Janitor of City Hall? and whose business is it to get it in order for services on the Sabbath? The floor, certainly, is not a very clean one for ladies to drag their skirts over. A small investment in brooms, and their vigorous use, would "convert" lots of ladies we wot of.

GAME—Is abundant in this vicinity. Chickens and Ducks are brought in in large quantities by the "mighty Nimrods" who abide in our midst.—A party of four—famous for deeds of daring, went out a few days ago, and succeeded, after an enormous use of gunpowder, in slaughtering seven chickens. That's where the expression "Seven up," originated!

WHITE GERMAIN WHEAT.—Mr. T. Parson, of this place, has shown us a few heads of wheat of the above name, which was raised on the farm of Mr. Hunt, a few miles below town. It is a new variety, and will yield, it is said, from fifty to seventy bushels per acre. The external appearance of the kernel resembles somewhat the club and Scotch fife wheat, but the internal appearance is more like the Rice wheat. Mr. P. has some for sale.

BATHING.—We went out to bathe the other day, in company with some friends, but did not observe a dark cloud of wind in the west. We had nearly performed our ablutions, when

The winds commenced to blew,
And the sand commenced to flew,
And we were quite amaz-ed.

The remainder of this thrilling tale can only be found in the Mankato UNION, published every year for one dollar and fifty cents per week.

PLAYED OUT.—Ice water has nearly played out in Mankato. We have so many inveterate drinkers of ice water in our vicinity that the stock is about used up. Nothing but "Ice Water" is drank in this town. That accounts for the shallowness of the river about here.

THE TOWN OF CAMBRIDGE.—A few weeks ago we published a short article about this town then named Oak Grove. It has improved so much, and has such a bright future before it, that we again notice it, adding items of interest gathered from friends living there. About the first of May there was not a single family living in the township; now there are over forty voters, all well to do farmers.—They have among them a large amount of stock. Messrs. Barron and Goodman have 40 head of cattle, and 25 sheep. Mr. Patterson 20 head of cattle; Mr. Bean 75; Mr. Dane 12; Mr. Matthews 12; Mr. Stratton 40; June and McCullock 20; Mr. Attenberg 25; Mr. Remington 9; and Mr. Stebbins 150 sheep. The town lies between the Maple and Cobb rivers, which are skirted with timber. On every quarter section a claim shanty can be seen, and from five to twenty acres of breaking on each one.

They have preaching every Sunday, and have organized a Sunday School and Bible Class which numbers over fifty scholars. Another good feature of this town is that every voter is a Republican and Union man,—firm supporters of the Government. They will apply for an organization as soon as the County Board meets.

Our friends, however, have poor luck in choosing a name for their town. The name of "Oak Grove" was changed to that of "Cambridge" because there was a post office in Anoka county by that name. There is also a post office in Isanti county named Cambridge, so they will have to change again. If they will allow us to suggest a name, we will give them "Oak Vale," "Oak Farm," or "Woodlawn."

A PEEP BEHIND THE CURTAINS.—We hold it the duty of every public journalist to keep his readers posted on all the important events of the day, and we intend to discharge our duty in this respect so far as in our power lies. Owing to a brief residence and a limited acquaintance, we have, at times, found it difficult to discharge this duty in a satisfactory manner, but the kindness of friends, and our own perseverance, has enabled us to overcome many obstacles, and, as the result of some of our labors we understand that considerable of a breeze has lately sprung up on the subject of who shall be the next Democratic nominee for State Senator in this district. The admirers of our excellent friend, Memorial Porter, insist that he is just the man for that dignified and profitable position.—He is peculiarly gifted in the "memorial" business, and "his long former experience as President of a Know Nothing Lodge in Pennsylvania," say they, "well qualifies him to throw light on legislative or Senatorial matters, whenever he opens his "dark lantern." But a most powerful opponent confronts him, in the person of our "Watonwan Attorney," who is an indomitable worker, and who has the inside track. The friends of the learned counselor suggest "that memorials have played out," and that it was only through the super-human efforts of their sage disciple of Blackstone, that the dog and poll tax laws were passed the last winter. His legal acumen is bound to thrust upon him a position of honor and of profit.

But the harmony on the Senatorial question is only excelled by their calm, hopeful countenances as they sit around the council fires of the old Hunker Democracy, and converse in regard to the County offices. The numerous friends of the spruce Captain, who was also formerly a resident of the State of Watonwan, say that he is worthy of the Register's loaf that is to be baked this fall—that his military services in behalf of his country demand that much reward. But some of the old "thick heads," whose hearts have been warmed by Democratic fire, (i. e. rot gut,) whose once shining locks are now gray from devotion to Democracy, and whose tongues have learned to wag to the Mark-ing of time, however Wise it may have been, meanly insinuate that the military services were performed before the "mustering in" took place, and hint around that their affable friend William, their standing candidate, will be back from the gold mines in time to be put on the course this fall.

The holding of the county purse is exciting a deal of interest. Our deserving German friends have put forward their fleetest hare (Hoerr), but the sachems declare that hares run only in snow-time, and that "Johnny" is the proper person to cast up accounts, and hold the purse-strings of the county.

But the wheel-horses of the Democracy are in the greatest agony as to how they can best play the old game of bamboozling the people. A few of the ponderous weights of that most pure and worthy institution insist that the spinal marrow of the infant Democracy is still too weak for the darling to stand alone on its own legs, and suggest a kind of mongrel amalgamation ticket; while others swear they will "bolt" if any new-born Democrat is on the course—that the party is strong enough this season to play a "lone hand," and "nothing but the Simon pure old Hunker Democrats will suit them."

Some of the "lesser lights" have been talked about for other county offices, which pertain more of honor than profit, and few of the glorious old Democracy have suggested that their German supporters should not be forgotten in the distribution of these lucrative County positions. But the contest waxes very warm when such a thing is proposed, and the sachems, looking through "a glass darkly," cannot see the "point," and declare that they have "a sure thing on the Germans every time." "The loaves and fishes," say they, "must be reserved for the weak brethren whose faith is thereby strengthened." The Democratic Germans, whose claims for favor have, and are thus, being prematurely nipped in the bud, most righteously insinuate to their countrymen "that they are as good as a Pennsylvania Know Nothing, and equally as deserving,"

So the war has begun, and the fluttering around their camp fires will end in thunder and lightning of whose terrific peal and meteor flashes our readers shall be duly informed.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION.—Pursuant to a call of the County Committee the Republicans and Union men of this County, met in City Hall last Saturday afternoon. Judge Wilcox was called to the chair, and Mr. Ecstorm, of South Bend appointed Secretary.

The chair appointed as a Committee on credentials, J. Thompson, of Garden City, E. Middlebrook, of Sterling, and H. Hartman, of Mankato.

Mr. Dunscombe of Mankato, desired information in regard to the re-apportionment by the County Committee. The Chairman of said committee explained the matter satisfactorily to nearly every one present.

The Committee reported that delegates were present from Mankato, South Bend, Judson, Butternut Valley, Watonwan, Sterling, and Lime.

Two delegates were present from the town of Cambridge, an unorganized town in township 106 Range 25. Discussion arising as to their right to a seat in the Convention they finally withdrew their credentials.

On motion the Convention proceeded to elect singly, by ballot, delegates to attend the State Convention at St. Paul.

Messrs, J. T. Williams, and E. P. Freeman, of Mankato, E. P. Evans, of Garden City; and George Owens of Butternut Valley, were chosen.

The Convention instructed the County Committee to re-apportion the County, and establish as a basis of representation of one delegate for every twenty voters, and one for every fraction under and one over twenty, giving each town credit for the soldiers in the service.

Winnebago City Items.

By our special Reporter.

The prospect for grown wheat grows small and beautifully less. Every day the sun shines as it did yesterday. Four of the first working days of last week were poor days for harvesting. Thursday brought joy to the farmers,—with its warm sun and gentle breeze. Most people were done cutting by that time, and Friday there was hustling too and fro; men and wagons in hot haste among the wheat shocks, and many a pointed wheat stack showed at night that, notwithstanding the oppressive heat during the day, the people in this vicinity had shown considerable energy in securing as large an amount of their crops as was possible for one day.—Saturday morning it looked unfavorable. A dark cloud in the north-west showed itself early in the morning.—Farmers looked awry. Soon the thunder began to mutter and rumble, and farmers grumbled audibly. Up the storm came, in its fury, and swept over us; but it was more noise than water. It did not wet the grain more than a heavy dew would have done, and the wind and sun soon dried it away, and we were at it again. Sunday the heat was very oppressive.—The air was quite still, but in spite of the heat, and notwithstanding the fatigue of the two previous days, we noticed some whose anxiety for their worldly goods overcame their piety, and stacking went on. Some people seem to forget that the same Benign Creator who gave us rain last summer when we so much needed it, commanded us a great many years ago to keep the Sabbath day holy, doing therein no servile work. We often make great mistakes in failing to have confidence in our friends. We can acknowledge God's Providence when He witholds His blessings for a long time, and gives us them again, but we are apt to forget that every day is under his control. Sufficient greed of gain to work on the Sabbath indicates more confidence in the "Almighty Dollar" than in the Almighty God.—We prefer to trust the latter.

Last week a mass convention was held in Blue Earth City to appoint delegates to the State Convention.—We were not present, but we understand that Messrs. J. B. Wakefield and H. W. Holly were appointed.—We are no politician, and cannot tell whether there was any political shuffling or not. We suppose, however, that some one will be prepared when the delegates get into Convention to "play it alone" and win.

It is important that we have a complement of State officers who will vigorously sustain the Government. Men who are in earnest, in crushing out this accursed rebellion. Men without the least atom of Copperheadism about them; no, not so much as the smell of verdigris about their clothes. And we confidently expect none others will be selected to receive our suffrages.

Sterling Items.

By our Special Reporter.

That we have at length a paper deserving the patronage of the Republicans of Blue Earth Co., is matter for congratulation. Some of us farmers have long thought it too bad that we should be dependent upon "Madam Rumor" for our knowledge of events transpiring around us. We think that in some respects what is going on at the (is to be) city of Mankato is of more importance to us than what is doing at Chicago or New York.—True it is not as large as either of those villages; nor has it any hotels that are quite equal to the Sherman House, or the Astor; but we have those that suit both our tastes and our pockets a good deal better. Then we have a special interest in Mankato. It is our county seat; (long may it wave.) There stand our public bublic buildings, and though the one is not as ponderously gloomy as the Toombs at New York, or the other as magnificent a building as the Capitol at Washington, still they are ours, for better or worse. With regard to the size of one of the buildings, we can only say that we devoutly hope that for the next fifty years it may be found large enough for all who, for the improvement of their morals, may need board there. The other building is already a "wee bit" too small to accommodate those who do or should do the business of the County there. In due season we hope to see that remedied.

Then, Mr. Editor, we want you to understand that we farmers as a general thing are not "narrow-minded souls." If we are poor, we can rejoice in the prosperity of others. We like to hear from time to time of the progress our fellow citizens are making; who are building, and who are improving their property. And don't forget, if it ever happens, when the city authorities have found out that it is good policy to improve the roads that lead to your town; and that they have begun "to mend their ways" generally. Then, as a public journalist, should "nothing extenuate or aught set down in malice," you will, perhaps, tell us, from time to time, of the high crimes and misdemeanors that occur around us, and the just punishment the law inflicts upon the guilty, as a warning to others.

And last. but not least, we shall look to the UNION as our leader in the mighty conflict now pending between those that believe that the peace, happiness and perpetuity of these United States can be obtained only by the entire suppression of Slavery, and that party that still clings to that "sum of all villianies" and would again place the free States under its control.

WE have reliable information that the draft for this district will take place as soon as the crops are secured. Drafted persons who go to Rochester for examination, will be paid fifty cents per day and mileage.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

For the Week ending August 20th.

MANKATO HOUSE.—C Chapman & wife, Tivoli; E P Evans, Garden City; J W B Williams, Camp Wilkin; H W Holly Winnebago City; C C Proctor, St Paul; Cyrus Hill, Concord, N H; J A Wiswell, Garden City; John Kinney, Belle Plaine; J H Ray, Garden City; W K Snow, St Peter; E Munch St Paul; H Munch, do; Lt Col J F Marsh, Ft Ridgely; S DeWolf, Rochester; T M Pugh, South Bend; A C Dunn, Winnebago City; J W Palmer, Eaton, Ohio; J Hyman, Milwaukee; L Thomas, Chicago; Thomas Spence, La Crosse; E Bogalt, Romeo, Mich; J D Roat, Red Wing; S Culver, Cold Spring; Samueul Culver, N Y; G Culver, M Defi. S N Knight, St Paul; M Frink and lady, St. Louis, Mo; M N Adams, St. Paul; E H St Peter; G K Moulton, Winnebago City; W F Irwin, Woodstock, Ill.

CLIFTON.—J L Sanborn, Stirling; H M DeWolf, do; S Stevens, Minneappolis; Lieut Roberts, St Paul; J Furber, Garden City, E Middlebrook, Stirling; W H Blackmer, Liberty; C G Mullen, Madelin; W F Thompson, Portage City, Wis; C U Barker, do; P Corrick, do; J K Miller, do; L Gates, Mapleton; M L Johnson, do; Miss M Dutton, Cincinnati; Miss L Van Cleve, St. Anthony; Ira S Smith, St Peter; W Mowry, Minneapolis; A I Shaw, Freeport, Ill; H F Large, New York; H Stratton, Camvridge; Ira S Smith, St Peter; Alvah Bagley, Cambridge; J. Taylor, Winnebago City; W H Austin, Mrs Cheeney and daughter, Garden City.

MARRIED.

On the 19th inst., at Butternut Valley, by the Rev. Joseph Rees, MR. A. G. BURGESS, of Co. F., 7th Regt. and Miss. ELIZABETH SHIELD, of the above place.

DIED.

At Le Sueur, on the fifth inst., after a long and severe illness, Mrs. ADELINE FARMER, aged forty-one years.

The deceased leaves a large family and extensive circle of friends to mourn her loss. In her last hours she evinced a calmness and willingness to die that was truly gratifying to her surviving friends. She was conscious to the last moment, and to each member of her family she gave a cheerful word of advice; after which she expressed a desire to leave this world of care and pain, to seek a better, brighter home, where sickness never comes.

White hands, folded as in sleep,
On a calm and peaceful breast;
Eyes, that never more shall weep,
Closed at last in blissful rest:

Feet, that weary long have been,
Resting sweetly, now, and still;
Heart, that's throbbed in joy and pain,
Quiet now, by God's own will.

Earthly troubles now are gone.—
Gone all sorrow, grief, and pain:
Rest thee now; the race is won;
Never more thou'll try again.

Mankato Market Reports.

CORRECTED EVERY THURSDAY BY O. WARD.

MANKATO, August 20, 1863.

WHEAT—50c. ℔ bushel.
RYE—40c.
BARLEY—60.
OATS—40c.
CORN—35@40c.
HAY—℔ ton, $4@5 00.
TIMOTHY—$2 ℔ bushel.
BEANS—White, ℔ bushel, $1 25.
BUTTER—10c.
LARD—8@9c.
SUGAR—12@13c; 16@20c.
TEA—1 50@1 60.
COFFEE—33⅓c.
RICE—10c ℔ lb.
SALT—4 50 ℔ barrel.
EGGS—8c ℔ doz.
CANDLES—Tallow, 15c; Sperm, 30c.
MEATS—Beef on foot, 2c. Pork, 5@6c. Mutton, 10@12c. Poultry, 10@12c.
POTATOES—1 00 ℔ bushel.
SIRUP—1 00 ℔ gallon.
WOOD—$2 00 ℔ cord.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SPERMATORRHOEA CAN BE CURED.—Dr. Rand's Specific cures Spermatorrhoea, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Loss of Power, &c., speedily and effectually. Its effects are truly magical. A trial of the SPECIFIC will convince the most skeptical of its merits. Price. $1 a box. Sent post-paid to any address, by S. C. UPMAN. 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA. Circular sent free.

DRUNKENESS CURED.—The inebriate may now bid defiance to the tempting cup. DR. ZANE'S ANTIDOTE FOR STRONG DRINK is a certain cure for Drunkenness. It creates a dislike for strong drink, and can be administered without the knowledge of the patent. Price $1 a box. Sent by mail to any address, by S. C. UPMAM, 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA; PA. Circular sent free.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it (free of charge) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience—and possess a Valuable Remedy—will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed) by addressing
JOHN B. OGDEN.
5-3m No. 60 Nassau Street, New York

MISCELLANEOUS.

CLIFTON HOUSE,
Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.
M. T. C. FLOWER.
1y Proprietor.

Mankato
DRUG STORE.
——
A Fresh and Complete Assortment of Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,
Just received at the Drug Store, by
J. R. TINKCOM.
Pure Wines,
or Medicinal purposes.
Strychnine always on Hand.
Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

NEW DRUG STORE!
DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS
SOAPS, PERFUMERY,
AND
FANCY GOODS
PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax,
Stationery,
BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE.
Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions accurely put up.
For good articles at low prices call at the
New Drug Store,
JASON WICKERSHAM,
5 Mankato, Minn

Valuable Lands for Sale.

BY direction of the Hon. Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the lands hereinafter described, they being among the choicest and best farming land in Minnesota.

These lands comprise what are known as the Winnebago Trust Lands in the State of Minnesota, and will be sold to the highest and best bidder in tracts not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres each, under the provisions of a treaty concluded with the Winnebago Indians, April 15th. 1859, and an act of Congress, approved February 21st 1863, entitled "An act for the removal of the Winnebago Indians, and for the sale of their Reservation, in Minnesota, for their benefit."

No bid will be entertained at a rate less than two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

In case a bid is accepted, the party making the same will be notified as soon thereafter as practicable. If within thirty days after such notice the party shall fail to make payment to the undersigned, the land for which such bid was made will be subject to sale to any other person.

Patents will be issued and transmitted to purchasers as soon after payment as the same can be prepared. Payments may be made either in cash or in the certificates of indebtedness of the Winnebago Indians, issued by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for the debt of said Indians, and secured to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of said lands by the third article of the treaty above mentioned. The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved. All bids must be sealed and addressed to the undersigned, Washington City, D. C., and endorsed "Bid for Winnebago Tract Land."

"DESCRIPTION OF LANDS."

List of "Winnebago Trust Lands" subject to sale after July 1st, 1863:

SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
Township 106, Range 23
se qr	5
e hf sw qr	6
e hf	7
sw qr	7
	18 19
ne qr	30
sw qr	30
Township 107, Range 23
n hf	6
w hf sw qr	6
w h f nw qr	7
w hf sw qr	7
sw qr	30
n hf	31
w hf sw qr	31
Township 108, Range 23
n frac hf nw qr	31
se frac qr nw qr	31
Township 106, Range 24
	25
	26
	27
	28
	29
	30 31 32 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 24 1
ne qr	3
sw qr	3
n hf	5
	6
ne qr	9
s hf	10
	11
ne qr	12
sw qr	12
nw qr	13
	14
e hf	15
nw qr	17
	1
lots 1, 2 and 3	21
	22
	23
n hf	24
	27
w hf	29
Township 108, Range 24
sw qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
sw qr	34
Township 106, Range 25
	25
	26 27
e hf	28
	30 31 32
e hf	33
	34 35
Township 107, Range 25
e hf	1
nw qr	1
w hf	2
ne qr	2
	13
Township 108, Range 25
se qr	33
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
e hf ne qr	34
w hf nw qr	34
w hf sw qr	34
e frac hf	35
nw qr	35
Township 106, Range 26
	1
	2 3
e hf	9
nw qr	4
ne qr	5
s hf	7
nw qr	11
e hf nw qr	12
	18 19
n hf	25
w hf	27
se qr	28
	30 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 26
w hf ne qr	3
w hf	3
w hf se qr	3
se qr	4
	5
e hf	6
s hf nw qr	6
s hf	7
	8 9
nw qr	10
e hf	18
nw qr	18
e hf	19
w hf	20
w hf se qr	20
ne qr	24
sw qr	24
s hf	25
n hf	30
e hf nw qr	31
ne qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
w hf sw qr	32
w hf se qr	32
se se qr	32
se qr	34
sw qr	35
Township 108, Range 26
se ne qr	31
e h f se qr	31
sw se qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
e hf se qr	33
ne qr	34
Township 106, Range 27
se qr	1
s hf	2
se qr	3
ne qr	6
e hf se qr	6
w hf sw qr	6
sw qr	7
e hf	11
sw qr	11
	14
e hf nw qr	15
e hf sw qr	15
w hf	18
ne qr	18
w hf	19
se qr	19
ne qr	20
w hf	21
w hf ne qr	21
se qr	22
e hf nw qr	22
	23 27
e hf	28
Township 107, Range 27
n hf	2
ne qr	3
e hf sw qr	5
ne qr	6
w hf se qr	6
se nw qr	7
ne sw qr	7
nw ne qr	11
se qr	12
e hf nw qr	12
nw nw qr	12
ne qr	13
sw qr	13
e hf nw qr	13
sw nw qr	13
s hf ne qr	14
s hf nw qr	14
nw nw qr	14
sw qr	15
sw qr	17
n hf	18
sw qr	18
se qr	19
nw qr	20
sw qr	21
ne qr	22
se qr	26
nw qr	26
nw qr	28
se qr	29
s hf	31
ne qr	31
nw qr	32
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
Township 108, Range 27
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	31
nw qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
ne qr	32
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 of nw qr	32
se nw qr	32
sw qr	35

Bids will be received as above invited until the 1st of September next, at which time all bids then received will be examined and acted upon.

After the first of September next bids will be received for the lands then remaining unsold, and examined and acted upon at the expiration of each period of two months.

WILLIAM P. DOLE,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs.
Washington City, D. C., Aug. 4th, 1863.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.
H. P. CHRISTENSEN,
IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of
SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,
SUCH AS
DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,
OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.
Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.
He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.
Threshing Machines,
McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S
REAPERS & MOWERS
Russell & Co.'s GRAIN DRILL,
which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.
Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of Moline Plows,
and a general assortment of
FARMING IMPLEMENTS
such as
SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES,
HOES &c., &c.
Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEAGHER,
DEALER IN
STOVES, HARDWARE,
Iron, Plo s,
Agricultural Implements,
AND MANUFACTURER OF
COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,
FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.
All Articles Warranted as Represented.
I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.
A FULL ASSORTMENT OF
AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,
from a HOE to a
THRESHING MACHINE.
A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:
Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains. Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for
CASH ONLY.
Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.
Iam Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.
☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.
JOHN F. MEAGHER.
Mankato, April 23rd 1863.

NEW LIVERY
&
Sale Stable.
D. H. TYNER
HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent
HARNESS HORSES,
ALSO,
Fine Buggies & Carriages
And will add to his stock as occasion may require.
PASSENGERS
Conveyed to any part they wish.
☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜
☞Charges moderate.☜
D. H. TYNER.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Farmers' Journal.

MANKATO. FRIDAY. AUG. 21, 1863.

The Old Crow.

On the limb of an oak sat a jolly old crow,
And chatted away with glee—with glee,
And he saw the old farmer go out to sow,
And he cried it is all for me—for me.

Look, look! how he scatters the seed around
He is wonderful kind to the poor—the poor;
If he'd empty it down in a pile on the ground,
I could find it much better, I'm sure—I'm sure.

I've learned all the tricks of this wonderful man,
Who has such a regard for the crow—the crow,
That he lays out his ground in a regular plan,
And covers his corn in a row—a row.

He must have a very great fancy for me.
He tries to entrap me enough—enough;
But I measure the distance as well as he,
And when he comes near I'm off—I'm off.
—State Atlas.

Fall Plowing.

The advantages of fall plowing have been very generally admitted, until the present year.

The ability of land to withstand the effects of severe drouths, when ploughed in the Fall, has caused some to doubt the benefit of Fall plowing.

In looking over the proceedings of the Farmer's Club, we find it a prevalent opinion, that the crops of Fall plowed land were not so good as those of land plowed in the Spring.

It must be admitted that close packed land will be dried deeper than land that lies loose and mellow; consequently, land plowed in the Spring will be much looser than when plowed in the Fall previous. In such a season as the present, a most extraordinary one, the lighter the land the better; and the preference must be given to Spring plowing. But, we may not have another season like this for years to come, and it would be folly to shape our policy to suit seasons that so rarely occur.

The general character of our soil is loose enough, if plowed in the Fall, to receive all the rain that may fall in the Summer following, without rendering it more compact than the wheat crop requires; and, in ordinary seasons, our best crops have been grown from the land plowed in the Fall, and heavily rolled in the Spring after sowing.

This season is perhaps the only one since our State has been settled, when our wheat crop has been better on land plowed in the Spring. Therefore, as a question of excellence of crops, merely, without allusion to any other advantages, Fall plowing is preferable to Spring plowing.

But other reasons out-weigh any objections that can be urged against it. It is admitted on all hands, that in common seasons, early sown grain produces much better crops than late sown; and the earlier the better, after the frost is sufficiently out of the ground to admit the seed. If plowing is deferred till spring, we cannot get our land prepared in season to put in our large fields of wheat in time. We thus burden the Spring with labor that should have been done in the Fall previous.

Another advantage is, if plowed early in the Fall, many of the seeds of weeds will germinate and be killed by the frosts of Winter.

Wheat sown early in Spring will outstrip the weeds in early growth, and gain possession of the land. This cannot be expected if we wait till the ground gets in a suitable condition to be plowed in the Spring.

There might be a precise time to plow land in Spring, in season to sow with equal advantage with Fall plowing, if we had force enough to perform the labor in a day or two. But that is not probable. To be viewed in any light, Fall plowing of wheat and oat lands is the safest course our Henepin county farmers can adopt.—State Atlas.

HAY.—Hay is much injured by frequent dews and a hot sun. It should as much as possible be cured in the cock; should be raked up in winrows, within two or three hours after cutting, always supposing that a machine is used, and cocked up as soon as possible thereafter. Should clover predominate, this rule should be imperative. Let it remain so over one night and one day, the weather at the same time promising fair. Let the cocks be opened just before hauling in, so as to let the air pass through. If a little salt be added when stacked or hauled to the barn, it will improve the hay, and make it more palatable for the stock. Good hay should be green and bright when a year old, and it will, if not burnt and bleached by the suns of many days. Some people call hay what may properly be called straw, and very poor at that.—Rockford Register.

CURE FOR ST. VITUS' DANCE.—Of blacksnake root, take a root about four inches long, the fibres belonging, and put into a pint of water. Drink a wineglass full three times a day.

CURE FOR MORTIFICATION.—A table spoonful of pulverized charcoal, one of honey, one of rye meal, and one of yeast, made into a poultice, and applied over the place.

MAKING TEA.—Water for making tea should be used the moment it boils. If it is boiled some time, that all the gas that is in it escapes with the steam and it will then not make tea of the best flavor. Clear, pure soft water is the best.

WANTED!

FIVE HUNDRED LABORERS
TO WORK ON THE

Minneapolis, Faribault, & Cedar Valley R. R.

THE Subscriber will pay in Cash, the highest price for laborers. Payments made on the 15th of each month. Work will be continued through the winter. Agents can be found at Minneapolis, Mendota, Northfield and Faribault. D J. CAMMERON.
Mendota, August 5, 1853. 5

JUST PUBLISHED,
The most Fascinating Book of the Season,
ENTITLED

"IN THE TROPICS."

EDITED BY RICH'D B. KIMBALL,

Author of "St. Leger," "Undercurrents of Wall Street," etc.

A bright, sparkling and genial book of residence, travel and adventure in the West Indies; presenting a graphical picture of tropical life, with alluring and picturesque sketches of luxuriant gardens, orange and lime groves, magnificent guava and cocoanut trees, mahogany forests, etc.

An elegantly printed and cloth-bound volume. Price, $1,25.

Sold by all booksellers, and sent by mail FREE, on receipt of price by

CARLETON,
Publisher, New York.
413 Broadway, cor Lispenard St.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, executed by Cyrus Foot and Minerva Foot his wife, then of Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, to Ralph A. Loveland, then of Westport, Essex County, New York, dated the 16th day of June, A. D., 1858, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Blue Earth, on the 18th day of June, A. D., 1858, in book "B" of mortgages, on page 387, which said mortgage was given to secure the payment of the sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest according to the conditions of four certain promissory notes made by said Cyrus Foot to said Loveland or order, three for six hundred dollars each, payable respectively, on the first days of June in the years 1860, 1861 and 1863, and the other for five hundred and fifty dollars payable on the first day of June, 1862, and drawing interest from date until paid at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable annually on the first days of June each and every year, and all bearing even date with said mortgage, and upon which promissory notes and mortgage there is now claimed to be due, and is at the date of this notice, actually due and unpaid, the said sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest thereon from and after the said 16th day of June, 1858, at the rate of seven per cent per annum; and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured by said promissory notes and mortgage, nor any part thereof, and no part thereof has been collected or paid.

Therefore, by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained, and in conformity with the statutes in such case made and provided, the lands and premises described in and covered by said mortgage, to wit: The north-west quarter of section number (27) twenty-seven in township number (107) one hundred and seven, north of range number (28) twenty-eight west, according to the governmental survey and subdivisions of the same, and containing one hundred and sixty acres of land be the same more or less; together with all the appurtenances, and lying and being in the County of Blue Earth, and State of Minnesota, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder as the law directs and as authorized by said mortgage, at the front door of the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Blue Earth in Mankato, in said County, on the 26th day of September, A. D, 1863, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to satisfy the amount then due on said promissory notes and mortgage together with the taxes which have been paid thereon by the mortgagee, or which shall then be due on said premises, and the costs and expenses allowed by law. Dated at Mankato, August 14th, 1863.

RALPH A. LOVELAND,
Mortgagee.

WILLARD & BARNEY, Attorneys for Mortgagee, Mankato, Minn. 6w5

Medical Advice free of Charge.

DOCTOR WHITTIER'S Theory, Symptoms, and Treatment of Chronic, Nervous, Urinary and Sexual Diseases, free in sealed letter envelope, for six cents to pre-pay postage. It is a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringment of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposure, and imprudence, in married and single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and should be read by every young person, to keep them off the shoals on which others have been broken in pieces. Amativeness clearly stated to be under the control of judicious treatment, and thereby prevent inclination to one very prolific cause of of disease. Nearly every case of disease can be treated without hinderance to business. Medicine sent by mail, secure from observation. Charges moderate; consultations by letter or at the office free; cures guaranteed; Office 67 St. Charles St., between 6th and 7th. P. O. Box 3092. St. Louis Mo. Circular Letter especially for ladies, nothing referring to Sexual Diseases for 3 cent postage.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
BLUE EARTH COUNTY. }

MANKATO, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 13th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet been redeemed, I will execute and deliver to the purchasers of said lands at said sale, or their assignees, deeds for the same on and after the 17th day of January, A. D. 1864, unless said lands shall before that time have been redeemed. And notice is also given that the sum set against each description of land in said list is the amount due the purchaser of said land on redemption.

CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.	NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.
Unknown	1	24	28.66	Unknown	1	76	1.48
do	5	24	2.21	do	7	A	3.97
do	9	21	7.45	do	8	A	3.97
J Ady	9	28	13.93	do	9	A	3.97
F C Roosevelt	6	58	2.96	do	10	A	3.97

Willard & Besser's Addition.

Unknown, lot 10, block 19, amount 2.06.

NAME.		S.	T.	R.	AMT.
H W Lamberton	[illegible]	7	108	28	[illegible]
	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Earl Paribaun	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
M Garlinger	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Dennis O'Flynn	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	15.91
Wm P Smith	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	11.81
T F Anderson	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	13.85
H Wright	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
William Gage	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Alex Wood	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Unknown	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
H G Tryon	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	14.66
H G Tryon	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
McMurtrie & Coon	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Alex Wood	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	33.36
Unknown	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
A Frazer	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
P Percival	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	13.52

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office. F. M. Johnson, Agent.
St. Paul, Feb. 10th, 1863 July17-tf.

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.
OF

TheChicagoTribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune esposes and and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obediance to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune chalenges comparrison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1.25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1.10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.
One year $7 60 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;

Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,)	$18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,)	35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address
TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Criticel Notices of the Press.

The volumns Bound constitute of themselves a liberary of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world.—N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, by mail, post-paid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents. Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, freight at the expense of the purchaser, for [illegible] per volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00. Two copies one year, $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year, $5,00.

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2,50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes bound in cloth, $2,50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted for postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must be paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS,
Franklin Square, New York.

NEW DRUG STORE!

DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS
SOAPS, PERFUMERY,
AND

FANCY GOODS

PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax,

Stationery,
BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE.

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions accurely put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the

New Drug Store,
JASON WICKERSHAM,
5 Mankato, Minn.

Valuable Lands for Sale.

BY direction of the Hon. Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the lands hereinafter described, they being among the choicest and best farming land in Minnesota.

These lands comprise what are known as the Winnebago Trust Lands in the State of Minnesota, and will be sold to the highest and best bidder in tracts not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres each, under the provisions of a treaty concluded with the Winnebago Indians, April 15th, 1859, and an act of Congress, approved February 21st 1863, entitled "An act for the removal of the Winnebago Indians, and for the sale of their Reservation, in Minnesota, for their benefit."

No bid will be entertained at a rate less than two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

In case a bid is accepted, the party making the same will be notified as soon thereafter as practicable. If within thirty days after such notice the party shall fail to make payment to the undersigned, the land for which such bid was made will be subject to sale to any other person.

Patents will be issued and transmitted to purchasers as soon after payment as the same can be prepared. Payments may be made either in cash or in the certificates of indebtedness of the Winnebago Indians, issued by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for the debt of said Indians, and secured to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of said lands by the third article of the treaty above mentioned. The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved. All bids must be sealed and addressed to the undersigned, Washington City, D. C., and endorsed "Bid for Winnebago Tract Land."

"DESCRIPTION OF LANDS."

List of "Winnebago Trust Lands" subject to sale after July 1st, 1863:

SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
Township 106, Range 23
se qr	5
e hf sw qr	6
e hf	7
sw qr	7
	18 19
ne qr	30
sw qr	30
Township 107, Range 23
n hf	6
w hf sw qr	6
w h f nw qr	7
w hf sw qr	7
sw qr	30
n hf	31
w hf sw qr	31
Township 108, Range 23
n frac hf nw qr	31
se frac qr nw qr	31
Township 106, Range 24
	25
	26
	27
	28
	29
	30 31 32
	[illegible]
w hf	[illegible]
Township [illegible], Range [illegible]
	1
ne qr	3
sw qr	3
n hf	5
	6
ne qr	9
s hf	10
	11
ne qr	12
sw qr	12
nw qr	13
	14
e hf	15
nw qr	17
	18
lots 1, 2 and 3	21
	22
	23
n hf	24
	27
w hf	29
Township 108, Range 24
sw qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
sw qr	33
Township 106, Range 25
	25
	26 27
e hf	28
	30 31 32
e hf	33
	34 35
Township 107, Range 25
e hf	1
nw qr	1
w hf	2
ne qr	2
	13
Township 108, Range 25
se qr	33
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
e hf ne qr	34
w hf nw qr	34
w hf sw qr	34
e frac hf	35
nw qr	35
Township 106, Range 26
	1
	2 3
e hf	[illegible]
nw qr	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
Township 107, Range 26
w hf	3
w hf se qr	3
se qr	4
	5
e hf	6
s hf nw qr	6
s hf	7
	8 9
nw qr	10
e hf	18
nw qr	18
e hf	19
w hf	20
w hf se qr	20
ne qr	24
sw qr	24
s hf	25
n hf	30
e hf nw qr	31
ne qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
w hf sw qr	32
w hf se qr	32
se se qr	32
se qr	34
sw qr	35
Township 10[illegible], Range 26
se ne qr	31
[illegible]	31
[illegible]	31
n hf sw qr	31
e hf se qr	33
ne qr	34
Township 106, Range 27
se qr	1
s hf	2
se qr	3
ne qr	6
e hf se qr	6
w hf sw qr	6
sw qr	7
e hf	11
sw qr	11
	14
e hf nw qr	15
e hf sw qr	15
w hf	18
ne qr	18
w hf	19
se qr	19
ne qr	20
w hf	21
w hf ne qr	21
se qr	22
e hf nw qr	22
	23 27
e hf	28
Township 107, Range 27
n hf	[illegible]
ne qr	[illegible]
e hf sw qr	[illegible]
ne qr	[illegible]
w hf se qr	[illegible]
ne qr	[illegible]
e hf	7
se nw qr	7
ne sw qr	[illegible]
nw ne qr	11
se qr	12
e hf nw qr	12
nw nw qr	12
ne qr	13
sw qr	13
sw nw qr	13
s hf ne qr	14
s hf nw qr	14
nw nw qr	14
sw qr	15
n hf	17
sw qr	18
se qr	19
nw qr	20
sw qr	21
ne qr	22
se qr	26
nw qr	28
se qr	29
[illegible]	[illegible]
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	31
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, and	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]

Bids will be received as above invited until the 1st of September next at which time all bids then received will be examined and acted upon.

After the first of September next bids will be received for the lands then remaining unsold, and examined and acted upon the expiration of each week thereafter.

WILLIAM P. DOLE,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs.
Washington City, D. C., Aug. 4th, 1863.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE

Mankato Weekly Union,

Published every Friday by
CHARLES H. SLOCUM,
AT
ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of

PRINTING

Neatly and cheaply executed
SUCH AS
CARDS,
PROGRAMMES,
BILL-HEADS,
CIRCULARS,
POSTERS,
ETC.,

Having received a supply of

NEW MATERIAL

from the East, am prepared to do
PLAIN AND FANCY WORK
in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
In District Court. }
County of Blue Earth—6th District.

To Aaron N. Dukes, James Thompson Sen. Ralph A. Loveland, Peter Berry John H. Burgess, Henry Himmelman, John A. Willard, Sheldon F. Barney, George A. Roberts and Benjamin F. Smith, defendants:

In the name of the State of Minnesota, you are hereby summoned to answer the complaint of Ezra R. Dibblee, John C Work and Lansing C. Moore, plaintiffs, a copy of which is hereunto annexed, and to serve a copy of your answer to me at my office in Mankato, within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and if you fail to answer said complaint as required, the plaintiffs will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint. Dated January 27th, 1863.

FRANKLIN H. WAITE,
1-3w Atty for Plffs.

Wanted.

THREE GOOD GIRLS AT THE CLIFTON HOUSE.

One to take charge of the Cooking department, the others to do dining room and other work usual in hotels. Liberal wages and steady employment given.

M. T. C. FLOWER, Proprietor.
Mankato, Aug. 5th, 1863. 4w4

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY virtue of an execution issued out of the District Court in and for the county of Blue Earth, State of Minnesota, upon a judgment rendered February 21st, 1863, and docketed March 6th, 1863, in said county, in an action wherein Daniel Wagner is plaintiff, and George Quiggles is defendant, and against said defendant, for the sum of $74,20, and upon which there nows remains due and unpaid the sum of $74,20 and interest, I have levied upon all the right title and interest which the said George Quiggles had on the 21st day of February, 1863, or at any time thereafter, of, in and to the following described lands and real estate, in the county of Blue Earth State of Minnesota, to wit:

South-west quarter of south-east quarter and south-east quarter of south-west quarter, section ten, and west half of southwest quarter of south-east quarter, and north-east quarter of south-west quarter of south-east quarter of section nine, all in township one hundred and five, north of range twenty-eight west.

Notice is hereby given that I will sell the above described lands and real estate, to the highest bidder for cash, on Saturday, the 19th of September, 1863, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the front door of the office of Register of Deeds in and for the County of Blue Earth, in Mankato, to satisfy the execution, together with costs and interest thereon. Dated August 7th, 1863.

D. H. TYNER,
6w4 Sheriff of Blue Earth County.

FINKLE & LYON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

THESE Machines make the lock stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do; will Hem, Fell, Gather, Cord, Braid, Bind, &c., and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family, for they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, or even the stoutest harness leather, without changing the feed, needle or tension, or making any adjustment of Machine whatever!

They are simple in construction, and easily understood: and if any part is broken by accident, it is readily replaced.

These are PECULIAR FACTS, and will go far to determine the choice of any intelligent buyer.

PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE, OR SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

N.B.—Local Agents wanted in sections not yet occupied. Address,

FINKLE & LYON, S. M. CO.,
4 No. 538 Broadway, New York.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.
Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W, B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling publicthat his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
1y Proprietor.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL POFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DeBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime.

Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DeBUISSON.
Mankato, May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRNG AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand.

Cash paid for green and dry hides.
Mankato, June 26, 1863.

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

—,—

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by
J. R. TINKCOM.
Pure Wines,
or Medicinal purposes.
Strychnine always on Hand.
Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co.'s GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEAGHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plo s,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF
AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,
from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:

Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains, Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers; Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

I am Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.
Mankato, April 23rd 1863.

NEW LIVERY & Sale Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any place they wish.
☞Horses kept by the day or week.
☞Charges moderate.
D. H. TYNER.

The Mankato Weekly Union.

CHARLES H. SLOCUM, "LIBERTY AND UNION, NOW AND FOREVER, ONE AND INSEPARABLE." Editor and Proprietor.

VOLUME 1. MANKATO, BLUE EARTH COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 28, 1863. NUMBER 7.

THE WEEKLY UNION,
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY
CHARLES H. SLOCUM.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
One Dollar and Fifty Cents per Year.
☞ All subscriptions paid in advance.

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

1 square	1 week	$1 00	2 squares	6 months	9 00
1 "	2 weeks	1 50	2 "	1 year	15 00
1 "	3 "	1 75	3 "	1 week	2 25
1 "	4 "	2 00	3 "	2 "	3 00
1 "	5 "	2 25	3 "	3 "	4 00
1 "	6 "	2 50	3 "	4 "	5 00
1 "	7 "	2 75	3 "	3 months	9 00
1 "	2 months	3 00	3 "	6 "	12 00
1 "	3 "	3 75	3 "	1 year	20 00
1 "	4 "	4 50	¼ col	6 months	15 00
1 "	5 "	5 25	¼ "	1 year	25 00
1 "	6 "	6 00	⅓ "	6 months	18 00
1 "	1 year	10 00	⅓ "	1 year	30 00
2 "	1 week	1 75	½ "	6 months	25 00
2 "	2 "	2 50	½ "	1 year	40 00
2 "	3 "	3 00	¾ "	1 year	50 00
2 "	4 "	4 00	1 "	1 year	70 00
2 "	3 months	6 00

Business cards of five lines or less, $5.
Transient advertisements must be paid in advance—all others quarterly.

BUSINESS CARDS.

EVERETT P. FREEMAN,
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW.
OFFICE.—Next door south of the Post Office, MANKATO, - - - - - MINN.
Prompt attention given to claims to be prosecuted before the State Board of Auditors and to Court and Office business. Collections made and conveyancing done on reasonable terms.

MANKATO INS. AGENCY.
HARTFORD.
PHOENIX.
MERCHANTS—FIRE INS. CO'S.
CHARTER OAK LIFE INS. CO.
Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid by.
JOHN N. HALL.
Resident Agent.

O. P. LIEBERG,
FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER.—Having opened a Barber Shop with a view to establishing a permanent business in Mankato, I am prepared to wait upon gentlemen, and will guarantee satisfaction in every department of my business.
June 26, 1863.

G. A. STURGES, M. D.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
MANKATO, MINN.
OFFICE:—At his residence second door above the Mankato House.

Z. PADDOCK,
Attorney and Counselor at Law, and General Land Agent. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to him. Mankato, Blue Earth Co., Minn.

FRED'K HILDEBRANDT,
Manufacturer of and Dealer in all kinds of
FURNITURE & GILT MOULDING.
ALSO,
Imitation of Rosewood Mouldings, Ovals, Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames.
Ware Rooms in Schurmeier's Block, Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minn.

M. ZENOPOLSKI, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.
OFFICE:—Opposite the Clifton House.

DAVID WILCOX.
JUDGE OF PROBATE,
& ATT'Y AT LAW,
MANKATO - - - - - - MINN.

WM. R. McMAHAN, M. D.
Office and Residence old at his stand, on the corner of Hickory and Second streets, one Block back of the Mankato House, where he will be found at all times, except when professionally absent.
He will furnish and compound his own medicines.

EDWARD OGLESBY,
Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hawley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work to his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October,

S. FINCH, O. O. PITCHER.
FINCH & PITCHER,
Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,
MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA

MANKATO NURSERY.
THE Proprietor has for sale a choice collection of
Fruit Trees,
Comprising Apple, Pear, Cherry, Plum, and Quince Trees. Also a good assortment of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants, Rasp berries, Strawberries, and Pie Plant; together with
ORNAMENTAL TREES
Shrubs, Evergreens, Flowering Plants, &c
ROB'T GOODYEAR,
Mankato, Sept. 1861.

FAIRBANKS'
STANDARD
SCALES,
OF ALL KINDS.
FAIRBANKS, GREENLEAF & CO.,
172 LAKE STREET, CHICAGO.
☞ BUY ONLY THE GENUINE.

SOUTH BEND MILLS.
BIERBAUER & KOCKEY,
HAVING purchased the above mills, are prepared to manufacture all grades of FLOUR, CORN MEAL, ETC.
Wheat will be ground for every sixth bushel in quantities not less than ten bushels.
Flour and mill stuffs always on hand at market prices Feb 6-6m

Poetry.

WHEN THE BOYS COME HOME.

BY ETHEL LYNN.

From mast and spire the flag fling out,
From gladdened hearts send out a shout,
And words of welcome clamor out,
When "the boys" come home.

Let drum and trumpet beat and swell,
And passing banners—shot torn—tell
Of battles bravely fought and well,
Ere the boys come home.

Aside let busy traffic stay—
The throbbing heart of old Broadway
Poured out this side—two years to-day,
Since the boys left home.

Soon on the same old dusty track,
With slower pace, with mournful lack,
The crimson tide shall gather back,
When the boys come home.

Train eye and ear that scene to meet,
As watching earnestly the street,
At last you see way worn feet,
Bringing soldiers home.

How eager then the men will stare
On faces around them every where:
Mothers and wives be surely there,
When the boys come home.

Then, if the visage sadder grown,
Shall tell of wounds or fever moan,
Of bivouac, and ward, alone,
Since the boys left home.

Keep down the tears, press down the sigh,
And softly pray to God on high
That now, so soon, he may not die,
Just as he comes home.

But if he wears health's ruddy hue,
If tried, he still is stanch and true
To God, his country, and to you,
Shout a welcome home.

If he has erred and shunned the light,
Or, groping stumbled in the night
Point him to one who guides aright,
Till the boys get home.

Select Miscellany.

SPEECH OF SENATOR WILKINSON BEFORE THE REPUBLICAN UNION CONVENTION AT ST. PAUL.

I congratulate you upon the harmonious and patriotic action of this convention, which at this time I regard as an omen of grand and glorious results in the future.

There has never been an hour, since the breaking out of the rebellion, when the true friends of the Union, those who wish in sincerity and and in truth to perpetuate it for all time to come, should stand more firmly together than now.

Indeed I am inclined to think, that it is more important at this time, for the friends of freedom and of free government, to remain true to their convictions than ever before.

As victories attend our armies in the field, new complications and difficulties meet us in the forum. We are not engaged in fighting the battles with armed rebels only, but there is a war of ideas, going on at this hour, as well as a war of arms. The one is not less important than the other. The brilliant victories of our soldiers upon many a bloody battle-field, are not more important than the victories which are to be won, by the clash of ideas, in this country. There is great danger that amid the clash of arms, the roar of cannon, the groans of the dying, the bereavements of the surviving friends, the grand onward martial tread of our armies, and the report of brilliant successes, that our minds may be turned away from the desperate struggle of ideas, which is now being waged throughout the civilized world.

As our final success in the field becomes more and more certain, so do the political and moral dangers which environ us become more prominent and more formidable. Whenever we receive the report of a new and more brilliant victory, we are immediately approached by the half sympathizing friends of the rebellion with the idea, "now that we are successful the rebellion will shortly be crushed. Let us be merciful, and magnanimous to our enemies. Let us invite them as wayward sisters to return to the Union, and enter into the enjoyment of all the rights and privileges which they enjoyed before the rebellion broke out." In other words, it is strenuously urged upon us to regard the States and people in rebellion, whenever they lay down their arms, precisely as we regard those who have been shedding their blood and expending their treasure to defend this glorious government of ours. And right here lies the danger which stares us in the face. Human nature is forgiving and charitable. Severe suffering has a tendency to awaken this lofty sentiment in the human heart. It is, perhaps, wise that it should be so, but in its exercise we should not forget those loftier principles of justice and truth, upon the foundations of which all true excellence must rest. If in this fearful struggle which is going on in our country, we gain nothing but the mere triumphs of physical force upon the battle field, if no advance should be made in the moral conflict which is being waged, then, indeed, may we deeply deplore the sacrifices which have been made in this cruel war.

And this brings me to the consideration of one or two ideas which I wish to present to this Convention. In case of our final and complete success upon the field, and the abandonment of their cause by the rebels as hopeless, how are they to be treated in future by the people of the United States? Is the government of Minnesota and South Carolina on terms of perfect equality? Is South Carolina hereafter to have the same influence in the councils of this nation as Minnesota? The one loyal and earnestly devoted to the cause of the country—the other rebellious, treasonable, and anxious to destroy the country. Our Democratic friends tell us; that, although the people of South Carolina are in open rebellion against the Government, and entertain an inveterate hatred of the Union, and although every son of Minnesota is willing to pour out his blood to defend it, still they tell us that when the war shall have ended, and the people of South Carolina shall lay down their arms, that then they shall be entitled to all the constitutional rights which they possessed before they took up arms against the Government. And that their political relations with the Government will be in no wise changed; that their rebellion and treason has not in the least imperiled their constitutional rights. And, I am sorry to say that many—very many Union men entertain this view. As a legal question, it is easy of solution. As a political one, it is more difficult to determine. There can be no doubt, I think, that in law, the rebellious States hold and occupy towards the Government the position of public enemies. The gigantic proportions which this rebellion has attained, gives it the character of war. At first, not anticipating the extent to which this conflict had grown, or was likely to grow, we regarded it as a rebellion merely, and did not, so far as legislative and executive departments of the Government was concerned treat them as public, but as private enemies of the Government. But, as I said before, the vastness of the proportions to which this rebellion has grown, has given it the character of war. War, I mean, in the sense in which that term is used in international law. If this is war in which we are engaged, then of course each of the parties engaged in it must be governed by the rules and laws of war. They are entitled, and entitled only, to such rights as the laws of war secure to them. The argument which is so often made to us, that upon the cessation of hostilities, South Carolina has a right to occupy precisely the same position which she occupied before the rebellion, is, I think, entirely without foundation. The people of that State are enemies of the Government, and the simple fact that they have been conquered in the conflict of arms, in the conflict in which they sought to destroy the Government, does not make them the friends of the Government any more than they were before they were conquered. The winning of battles does not convert enemies into friends, nor traitors into patriots. Defeated, it is true—conquered, crushed—but they are enemies still, and entitled only to such rights as enemies under the laws of war are entitled; and, yet we are told that under the Constitution we will be obliged to receive these traitors back into the Senate and House of Representatives of these United States, to dictate and vote upon the policy and course to be pursued by this Government as soon as the war is over. In other words, we are told that we will be obliged to turn this Government over to the hands of the enemies, because we have triumphed over them in battle. The simple proposition, it seems to me, carries upon its face its own refutation. Its absurdity to my mind is apparent. But inasmuch as this idea seems to be prevalent among the people, I will occupy a moment or two in noticing the legal question. I think it can be shown upon the clearest reason and authority, that the States which have entered into this rebellion have forfeited and lost their positions as States.

The Government of the United States, did not, as the Rebels claim, emanated from the States, but emanate from the people. The relation between the people and the State, is that of allegiance on the one hand and protection on the other. This relation existing between the people and the general Government, cannot be dissolved by the action of the States. It subsists alike in territories and in States, and also in unorganized territories. The Rebel States claim the right to dissolve this relation which exists between the people and the Government, and to become independent of the Federal Government, though retaining the same territory as before. I suppose that every one who listens to me, will deny that they have any such right; and I insist that though they may forfeit their rights as States, the people are still bound by and under the jurisdiction of the Federal Government. While a State remains in the Union, obedient to the constitution, the people of that State are subject to a kind of double jurisdiction. They owe allegiance first to the Federal Government, and secondly to the government of the State. This allegiance which the people owe to the State, is not, and cannot be, inconsistent with the allegiance which they owe to the General Government. Now, if a State demands of its citizens the performance of duties which are inconsistent with the allegiance which those citizens owe to the Federal Government, then the citizens of those States are bound to repudiate their own State government and not the Federal Government. When the State places itself in antagonism to the General Government, the people thereof, being required to obey the Federal Government, must necessary repudiate that of their State. They cannot serve two masters who are at war with each other, "for either they will hate the one and love the other, or else they will hold to the one and despise the other." The allegiance which the citizens owe to the Government is primary in its character, and that which he owes to the State is secondary. In the State of South Carolina, for instance, every citizen is required to adjure his primary allegiance to the United States. If he is a loyal man, he will respect his allegiance to the Federal Government, and will utterly repudiate his allegiance to the State. He is precisely in the position he would be in were there no State government in South Carolina. There is no government in the rebel States that any one is bound to respect. But, on the other hand the people are bound to rise up in opposition to those local government.

The Government of the United States does not recognize the local government of the rebel States; indeed, it regards the people as being without any local government at all—and that in fact is the real condition of things in the rebel States.

These rebel States have forfeited all claim upon the people, and their rights to rule over them. The people thereof owe no allegiance to any except the Government of the United States. Their political situation is precisely that of the people in the unorganized Territories.

We are therefore under no legal or constitutional obligation to recognize the existence of the rebellious States, nor extend to them any political rights whatever. How then can the people regain their position in the Federal Union!

The answer is plain. Only by forming new constitutions, or reorganizing their old ones, and making application to Congress for readmission into the Union. And then Congress can admit such States upon such terms it may see fit to prescribe, or it can refuse to admit them altogether. I am clearly of the opinion that these States should never be admitted into the Union with constitutions allowing slavery. For slavery and nothing else was the cause of this rebellion. When we have the power should we not remove the cause of this war? If we suffer it to exist, then will our sacrifices have been in vain.

I rejoice that you have made the nominations which you have made, because I recognize in each of your candidates men devoted to the cause of the Union, and who will put forth the whole power of the State to sustain the cause of the nation, and this ticket I trust we be triumphantly elected.

PRAYER.—Fill up the void spaces of your time with meditation and prayer.

They are the safest who are most in their closets; who pray, not to be seen of men, but to be heard of God.

It is a comfort to Christians apart to think their prayers meet before a throne of grace; and their persons shall meet before a throne of glory.

There wants nothing but a believing prayer to turn a promise into a performance.

God is a great God, and therefore he will be sought; he is a good God, and therefore will be found.

The breath of prayer comes from the life of faith.

Whatever you want, go to God by faith and prayer, in the name of Christ, and never think his delays are denials.

They that spend their days in faith and prayer, shall end their days in peace and comfort.

GOING IT BLIND.—An "old salt," who had been on a bender, had "got what may be termed "sublimely mystified by his frequent imbibing of "the critter." Shivering along the streets, he thought he would go to the theatre and pass the remainder of the evening. Following some men he thought bound on the same voyage, he found himself in what he thought the pit, but it happened to be a meetinghouse, and the minister was preaching upon that text wherein it mentioned the sheep and the goats, and in order to make an impression upon the congregation he put the significant question: "Who will be a goat?" and paused, and then with still greater emphasis said; "Who will be a goat?" Our tipsy sailor could not brook the delay, and he at once responded: "As nobody [hic] else will be it, I'll be [hic] the goat rather than the [hic] play should stop."

Speech of Gen. Logan.

Gen. Logan, on his arrival at Chicago, fresh from the battle-field of Vicksburg, spoke to a small circle of friends as follows:

It makes no difference whether you call me Democrat or Republican, or Abolitionist—as some have of late named me. It does not change my feelings—does not alter my action.—I am for my country every time—for my country first, last, and always—and am fighting for the right of that country to be numbered among the honored nations of the earth. Until that is brought about, and this rebellion crushed out, I am but an American citizen. When that right shall have been asserted, then, should we find that there is something wrong in the fabric our fathers reared, something that we desire to change, it will be time enough to come up and demand the change. Now we have this accursed rebellion to root out. It must be rooted out. I am for using every means and all means for putting it to an end. If the people of the North would use the same force Jeff. Davis and his minions use—and were as unanimous as they are—for in the South force of arms compel every man to act as though he sanctioned the rebellion, whether he feels inclined or not—this war would be successfully terminated in less than six months.

Every mother's son who is opposed to the war should be compelled either to take up arms against us or for us. Then there would be no talk of peace here in the North, no talk of resistance, no such men as Vallandigham, no such cowards as those who support such men, and say these things.

Vallandigham says he has traveled over the Confederacy—using the term "Confederacy"—not the phrase so called Confederacy, (for I do not acknowledge the existence of any authority or Government in America aside from the United States)—and has not met man, woman, or child who does not sustain the war, and who is not determined to fight it out to the death or the bitter end. Vallandigham here simply lies. He tells what is not true, and he knows it.—Vallandigham, aside from the leading men—Jeff. Davis, Toombs and Stephens—did not, I venture to say, speak with a dozen persons while taking his involuntary trip through Dixie. Had he done so, his report would have been of a different color. The people who are fighting against this Government—the poor whites comprise the rank and file of the rebellion—nine-tenths of them do not know what they are fighting for, and do not know what they are fighting against. A majority of them do not know anything, and hundreds of them never saw the American flag in their lives until they saw it march into Vicksburg in triumph. They do not know the fourth of July, or anything or anything else that is good. But poor and ignorant as they are, let them express their own free minds, and they will, almost to a man, demand a speedy termination of this war; would submit to almost anything rather than to fight one day longer as they have been fighting. It is only by the force of the bayonet that their army is held together. Even that cannot prevent their deserters from flocking into Jackson by hundreds to take the oath of allegiance or to join the Union ranks. And I tell you what I know when I say that it will not be many days ere the entire State of Mississippi and Tennessee will be knocked loudly for re-admission to a Union which not long since their puny efforts could quickly dissolve. They are talking of it even now.

Speaking of being united, I tell you by the eternal God, there was never a more truthful sentence than—"Those who are not with us are against us;" and I reiterate it, and add that those who are not with us should be hung, or should be with their Southern brethren, fighting with them.

Let them either aid the Government or go where they can bolster up the tottering fragments of rebeldom. Better have a dozen foes fighting against us in the field than one behind our backs.

To all copperheads, peace men, agitators, anti war men, be they Republicans or Democrats—for we have them here pretending to be both—I have a word to say on the behalf of our brave soldiers. And you have undoubtedly been told that the war has its opposers in the ranks of the Union army.—It is an accursed and foul aspersion upon the fair fame of men who are willing to spill their blood, and give their lives to their country. They are for the Union. They fight for the people and their country, for the suppression of the rebellion. Let me say to all the opposers of this war: The time will come when men comprising this great army will come to their homes. They have watched the progress of events with interest. They have had their eyes upon these unmitigated cowards, these opponents of the country and the administration—(and the administration, I contend, is the country)—and when they return, it will do the soul of every truly loyal man good to see the summary manner in which they will cause these sneaks and peace agitators to seek their holes.

After expressing himself warmly against copperheads and sneaks, Gen. Logan concluded with the following characteristic apology:

"You will excuse me," gentlemen, if, in saying what I have said, I have been rather profuse and heavy in the way of emphasis. Two years away from civilization, with my men, has made me rather emphatic in all my thoughts and words in regard to certain things. I speak emphatically because I emphatically feel that which my tongue finds to say."

Names of the Months.

The names of the months were given by the Romans as follows:

January was so called from Janus an ancient king of Italy, who was deified after his death and derived from the word Januarius.

February is derived from the Latin word Febro, to purify; for in this month the ancient Romans offered expiatory sacrifices to purify the people.

March was anciently the 1st month is named after Mars, the ancient god of war.

April is named after the word Aprilus, or opening, because in April vegetables open and bud.

May is derived from the word Majores, and was so called by Romulus as a mark of respect to the spectators.

June was named from the word Junius, or the youngest.

July was named in honor of Julius Caesar.

August was named in honor of Augustus, by decree of the Roman senate.

September was named from the word Septem, or seven, being the seventh month from March.

October from the word Octo, or eight; it being the eighth month.

November from the word Novem, nine; being the ninth month.

December was named from the word Decem, ten; it being the tenth month from March, which was anciently the first.

Fort Sumter and rifled Ordnance--Interesting Experiments.

Gen. Gilmore has recorded, in a very full and valuable report of the reduction of Fort Pulaski, the results of his experiments on the power of rifled ordnance for effecting breaches in brick walls. It is not unlikely that he has by this time made still further tests of the same interesting nature—namely, the effect of rifled ordnance on the brick walls of Fort Sumter—though all the elements in the present problem will be on a far greater scale than those in the case of Pulaski. In that undertaking the guns used were 24, 32, and 42-pounder rifled guns, and 30-pounder Parrott rifles, and 8 and 10 inch Columbiads (smoothbore.) The three breaching batteries were established at a mean distance of 1,700 yards from Fort Pulaski. It was found that the 42 pounder, with a charge of eight pounds of powder, penetrated twenty-six inches; the 30-pound Parrott, with a charge of three and a half pounds, penetrated eighteen inches, and the 10-inch Columbiad, with a charge of twenty pounds, penetrated thirteen inches.

It will thus be seen that the heaviest rifled gun used on that occasion was the old 42 pounder. Now for the reduction of Fort Sumter, Gen. Gilmore has been mounting batteries of 200 and 300-pounder rifle guns—Parrotts—charged not merely with such insignificant charges as 3½, or 8, or even 20 pounds of powder, but with 50, 60, or 80 pounds. It is true that while the range in the fight of Pulaski was 1,700 yards, the distance from which he will be compelled to assail Sumter, (firing right over Wagner, as we believe is his intention,) will be just about double that distance. But when we reflect upon the prodigiously increased weight of the projectile, and the greatly increased charge of powder, it will be seen what effective work we may expect. The impact of shot, according to the well-known formula, is equivalent to the weight multiplied by the velocity; and the ordnance that Gen. Gilmore proposes to use presents both these factors on a scale that should produce 'stunning' effects. The 15 inch Dahlgren guns with which the Monitors attacked Fort Sumter last April, though huge in calibre, and carrying a projectile of the tremendous weight of 430 pounds, are still only smooth-bore, and being, from their construction, necessarily limited to a very low charge of powder. (35 lbs.,) they give results which might appear disproportionately small, were not all the elements taken into account. We hope Gen. Gilmore will soon be able to give us another "Report," furnishing data as to the penetrative power of his new powerful projectiles against Sumter's brick walls.

THREE more English blockade runners have been captured.

Editing a Paper under Difficulties.

A "near-Vicksburg" correspondent indulges in the following reflections:

"Publishing a newspaper in Vicksburg at the present moment must, indeed, be a laborious and unpleasant calling. Imagine an editor writing a secesh leader with Yankee leads flying about his puzzled head; his ink bottle upset by the jar of Federal mortars; the chimney of his office flying about his ears from a flying visit of a shell; occasional calls from visitors of a more solid material in the shape of forty pound shots, threatening each moment to knock down both his news-paper form and his 'human form divine' into 'pie;' his 'devil' shrieking 'copy' in his deafened ear; the foreman of the press-room a dead man at his press; a compositor cut off now and then with a huge 'take' of 'fat' in his fist, his galley of proof uncorrected, and the copy all blotted with his heart's blood; his correspondents cut off by a line of Yankee soldiers; no telegraph; no exchanges to clip from; paste and scissors' 'occupation gone;' his paper maker non est for some weeks, and his subscribers burrowing in caves, where his carriers cannot find them, and, in nine cases out of ten, when he does succeed in finding them, discovers only their dead bodies. All of these slight discouragements, added to those of the profession has naturally, in a time of peace, would seem sufficient to craze even the crazy pate of a Southern fire-eater of an editor.

"UNBENDING MORAL PRINCIPLE."—Some men possess it; they are men of independence, are real heroes.—Here is the picture:

Yes; just one man of unbending moral principle is mightier than all the horde of dishonest and fraudulent knaves. In his majestic presence they feel their own littleness and weakness and shame, and ready to slink away lest they blush beneath the gaze of his calm, clear eye. It is a noble sight, worth going far to look at, the man who stands erect and serene, with his foot on the red dragon of temptation, its seven heads and ten horns trodden down to dust! In all the world there is no sight so grand and lovely as this. He is nobler than any coronet can make him. He is richer than gold or precious stones can make him. He is mightier than kings and one of the greatest conquerors, for all men rejoice in his victory. Even those who have not the courage to follow him in his conflicts are glad to see him come forth from the life battle-field unscarred, and silently in their hearts they bless him.

An Act of Gallant Daring.

At the first unsuccessful attack upon Port Hudson, after the Federal troops had been repulsed, the open field separating between them and the rebel batteries, covered with the dead and dying, was swept by rebel shot and shell, cutting off from the sufferers the needed succor. Among the fallen was a Union officer—Gen Paine—grievously hurt. His condition was discovered from our lines, but who sufficiently daring—reckless rather—to face the "leaden rain and iron hail," and bring off the fallen hero? It is a fearful errand, and who undertakes it must do so with his life in his hand. And yet, must he who has so gallantly led them be left to die? Volunteers are called for, and appeal is made to those who dare, to rescue the fallen general. It was a perilous undertaking. How it was made and with what result, shall be told by the Chicago Tribune.—Portland Press.

"Four black soldiers voluntarily moved out to his rescue. They reach him, raise him tenderly in their arms, and the dangerous return journey is commenced. Rifles crack sharply from the rebel works; one and another of the brave bearers fall. Now all are down, and the wounded officer is still exposed. The peril of aiding him has been fearfully demonstrated. But again and again parties of colored men step forward by fours. The deadly missiles rain around them—again and again their ranks are thinned. Not until fourteen brave black men have offered up their lives was Gen. Paine brought safely within our lines.

"And these are our black allies.—These are the men into whose hands we so reluctantly entrusted the implements of war to aid us in crushing this rebellion. The whole records of the worlds heroism may be searched for an incident to surpass this. It will shine imperishable among the episodes of this contest."

LITTLE faults, no less than great crimes, can hide the light of heaven from the soul. Just breathe upon the glasses of a telescope, and the dew of your breath will shut out all the stars.

An Irish miller, who had held some petty military command, was observed one day coming into a town with a cart loaded with sacks of flour.—"Ho!" cried a wag of the place, "there comes Marshal Saxe with the flower of Tipperary!

DEFECTIVE PAGE

The Weekly Union.

Mankato, Friday, Aug. 28, 1863.

Republican Union Ticket.

For Governor,
STEPHEN MILLER,
of Stearns County.

For Lieutenant Governor,
CHARLES D. SHERWOOD,
of Fillmore County.

For Secretary of State,
DAVID BLAKELY,
of Olmsted County,

For Auditor of State,
CHARLES McILRATH,
of Nicollet County.

For State Treasurer,
CHARLES SCHEFFER,
of Washington County.

For Attorney General,
GORDON E. COLE,
of Rice County.

For Clerk of the Supreme Court,
GEO. F. POTTER,
of Houston County

Union County Convention.

The Republicans, and all unconditional Union men of Blue Earth County are hereby requested to elect delegates in the several towns to represent them in a County Convention to be held at Mankato, on Saturday, the 5th of September, at 2 o'clock P. M. for the purpose of choosing delegates to the District Convention, to nominate one Senator and three Representatives, for the 17th Legislative District, and placing in nomination, candidates for the following county offices:—

Register of Deeds; Sheriff; Treasurer; Judge of Probate; County Surveyor; one County Commissioner for the 2d District; and one for the 3rd District.

The several towns are requested to hold their caucuses at the usual places of holding elections, on Thursday, the 3rd of September, at 3 o'clock P. M.

The ratio of representation will be as follows:

Mankato,	7	Shelby,	2
South Bend,	4	Sterling,	2
Judson,	2	Mapleton,	1
Butternut Valley,	2	Danville,	1
Ceresco,	1	Le Ray,	1
Watonwan,	5	Jamestown,	1
Vernon,	2	Lime,	1

Ignoring past differences, mindful of present duties, and hopeful for the future, let us strive to put the right men in the right places, and while our gallant soldiers are shedding their blood so profusely to uphold our glorious Union, let us show them that what their valor secures shall not be jeopardized by us at home.

Per order of the Republican Co. Com.
J. T. WILLIAMS,
Aug. 21st, 1863. Chairman.

Republican Union Platform.

Resolved, that we, chosen to represent in convention the unconditional Union men of Minnesota, grateful to Almighty God for the success which has hitherto crowned the arms of our country and for the prospect thus opened of a speedy, honorable and lasting peace, do hereby, for our friends and constituents, reaffirm our determination to support our Government by every means in our power in the vigorous prosecution of this present war,—on our part, holy, just, and forced upon us by the criminal acts of others,—until not an enemy in arms shall be found within our borders. And to this we pledge our lives our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

2. That we tender our grateful thanks to the survivors of our glorious armies, and our warm sympathy to the relatives of their gallant dead, who have won for the country so glorious victories, for themselves imperishable renown, and for us all an assurance of liberty and safety for our children, under our beloved and now well-tried Government.

3. That with especial pride we point to the gallant achievements on many a hard-fought battlefield, of our Minnesota regiments. Their bravery, discipline, and patriotism have won for them a name that shall never die, and made it forever honorable to be a citizen of Minnesota.

4. That, without claiming for it exemption from error, we heartily endorse the general policy and conduct of our National Administration; and we point to the recent magnificent triumph of our armies as its best vindication from the charges of incapacity so freely brought against it by those who prefer national ruin, to success under the present Administration. Especially do we approve the emancipation proclamation, and the raising of black troops as being among the best possible measures to weaken the enemy and strengthen ourselves.

5 That our State Administration, and our Congressional Delegation deserve our hearty approbation for the zealous and efficient cooperation they have afforded the National Authorities in carrying on the war.

6 That we call upon those in authority to take such measures, by retaliation or otherwise, as shall effectually prevent brutal and barbarous treatment by the enemy of our soldiers, of whatever color.

7 That it is due to our shattered armies in the field, as well as to the sacred cause which they uphold, that their ranks should as speedily as possible be filled up by every means in our power. It is due to the country that the mobs raised to resist and prevent the draft, should not seem to have succeeded a day longer than is necessary to enforce the laws.

8 That the way to peace is and ever has been open to the rebels; the only condition we have ever sought to impose, is that they should lay down their arms and submit to the authority of the General Government. We protest against the making of any terms with them in advance as to their status as communities, when they shall have returned to their allegiance. Having been declared "public enemies" by a recent unanimous decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, they must accept the consequences that legitimately flow from having placed themselves in that position.

THE UNION CANDIDATES.

The nomination of Col. Stephen Miller, for the office of Governor gives entire satisfaction throughout the State. A better selection could not have been made. The Colonel is so well and favorably known for honesty, and integrity at home, capability and bravery on the field of battle; and his loyalty is so well established, that nothing we can say will add to his fame He is bound to be our next Governor, and will be elected by a rousing majority.

The selection of C. D. Sherwood; speaker of the House of Representatives last winter, for the office of Lieutenant Governor, is a good move, and the nomination will be ratified by the people this fall.

With Geo. F. Porter, the nominee for Clerk of the Supreme Court, we are well acquainted. He is a good Union man, and has the ability to discharge the duties of the office with credit.

Of the other nominees our readers are acquainted. They are the present incumbents of the offices for which they are nominated, and the satisfaction they have heretofore given is a guarantee of their re-election.

We have a good ticket in the field—one that cannot easily be beaten; and we expect every Union man in the State will labor valiantly for its triumphant election.

SIOUX INDEMNITY COMMISSION.

This Board of Commissioners closed their session at St. Cloud Friday evening, the 14th inst., having heard during their session there of about ten days, several hundred cases. Upward of two hundred persons living in the vicinity of Forest City had claims that were expected to have been heard, but the claimants were busy harvesting their grain and preferred to wait for a more convenient season.

The board promptly commenced its session at Minneapolis on the 15th inst., and have been in session ever since. Minneapolis will be the headquarters of the Commission the rest of the season.

There are upwards of a thousand cases still to be heard. We learn that a day or two since the number of claims filed to that date amounted to 2830, over 300 of which have been filed since the 1st of June. The number of claims in all, filed before the first of September, which is the limit of grace in filing them, will probably reach 3,000.

While the course of the Commissioners in general has given good satisfaction to all for the energy they have displayed in promptly hurrying through this matter, especial credit and praise should be awarded to Col. Cyrus Aldrich, who, since his connection with the Board, has worked day and night to promote the interests of the claimants, and who has not given himself even one day of rest since the Board commenced its labors.

We learn that the Board had a very pleasure time at St. Cloud, and were handsomely received and entertained there by Hon. Wm J. Parsons, Judge Evans, Col. Thomas, Captain Newson and others.

The Board have not yet decided upon the merits of any of the claims; but as soon as the remaining 1,000 cases are disposed of, some of which are quite large, and will require considerable time will then be devoted to classifying the claims and deciding upon their merits.

What class of claims will be entitled to the present relief is not yet determined upon, neither is the exact amount of money to be appropriated definitely known, as no information has been received from the Secretary of the Interior on that point.

Of one thing the community may be assured, that the Commissioners are doing their very best, not only to fairly and punctually hear their claims, but to finish up this whole Sioux Claims business so that they can make a final and elaborate report to be presented to the next Congress at its very commencement. By so doing it will not be an old story, and claimants will stand a better chance of receiving material aid from the General Government.

Notice to the People.

To the Editors of the St. Paul Press:

The undersigned, Commissioners "for the Eastern and Middle States, and for such of the Southern States as lie east of the Western line of the States of Virginia and North and South Carolina," meaning the "Potomac" and the country contiguous thereto, will leave this State on the 21st day of September next, for the purpose of taking the votes of the Minnesota soldiers—in the volunteer service of the United States—in said place, or belonging to the army of the Potomac; for the next election in the State. Therefore, all ballots for officers to be voted for at said election, to be used in said army, must be delivered to the Commissioner at St. Paul, or to the Commissioner at Austin, on or before the 20th day of said September.

St Paul, Minn., Aug 24. 1863.
SOLOMON SNOW, Austin
J. P. KIDDER, St Paul.
Commissioners.

The Union Republican State ticket of Wisconsin as just nominated, stands:

For Governor—J. T. Lewis.

Lieut. Governor—Wyman Spooner.

Secretary of State—Col. Lucius Fairchild.

Treasurer—S. D. Hastings.

Attorney General—Winfield Smith.

Bank Comptroller—W. H. Ramsey.

State Prison Commissioner—Henry Cordier.

School Superintendent—J. T. Pickard.

Letter From Co. E, 9th Regiment.

Pipe Lake, Aug. 16, 1863.

To the Editor of the Union.

The arrival of your paper at this post was somewhat delayed last week on the account of the delay of the mail from Watertown to Hutchinson, caused by some dislike, on the part of the mail carrier to go to Watertown without an escort; for which, when we take into consideration that the route lays through the "woods" most of the way, no one can blame him. But in due course of time, our letters and papers reached us, for which a soldier is ever grateful. The news this week appears to be unimportant. The greatest topic of discussion in camp for a day or two has been the probable death of "Little Crow," Commander in chief of the Indian forces. It is generally credited here now that the Indian killed by Mr. Lamson near Hutchinson was, indeed, "Little Crow" himself. We trust it is so.

There are two scalps hanging on the tent of Capt. Allen, which are the ones taken from off the two Indians killed a short time since about twenty-five miles west of here.

Two more of the red skins were pursued a few days afterward about the same distance, when coming to a lake, they succeeded in making their escape by swimming it with one horse leaving the other behind, but the horse stuck fast in the mud on the opposite side of the lake, and they were in to much of a hurry to stop and help him out. They left nearly everything behind them but their guns and ammunition. The horses were taken to Long Lake and I presume ere this are restored to their proper owners.

The boys, who were wounded in a skirmish with the two who were killed, are at Hutchinson in the hospital, where under the care of Surgeon Twitchell, they are doing finely, which every one who is acquainted with the Doctor, would be happy to acknowledge. Would there were more like him in the service.

Our Fort is nearly finished; we moved into it nearly two weeks since, and now we are having quite pleasant times, the palmier days of a soldier life; for when we look over our once happy country, and see the exposure, the toil and hardship, that is endured by those "who have gone before us" to fight the battles of our country for liberty, well may we be thankful that we are spared from all those trials. And yet we still desire to serve our country, as long as she is battling for the "Union as it was and the Constitution as it is."

We can but be thankful that the "God of battle" has been mindful of us in our Nation's distress.

To-morrow morning Capt. Allen with fifteen men leaves this place for Yellow Medicine, where they will meet Lieut. Col. Pfander and thirty men, when they will proceed to scout the country in the vicinity of Lac qui Parle, and I believe Lake Shetek. They will probably have a good time, and may see some Indians.

The Sutler of the 9th Regiment made us a visit on Friday. "Put," with his fund of good humor made the boys all glad to welcome him. He had all the little etcs, so needful to a soldier. He left this morning for Long Lake.

Game still continues to be plenty, especially chickens, and many a good meal we have had, which makes a very pleasant change in soldiers fare. Hoping soon to kill another red skin, I bid you good bye.

H.

GEN. SULLY'S EXPEDITION—ITS WHEREABOUTS.

Gen. Sibley's Expedition reached the Missouri, 160 miles above Fort Pierre, July 29th. By the following correspondence of the Dubuque Times of the 19th inst. we have the whereabouts and prospects of Sully's Expedition on the 30th of July—one day after Gen. Sibley reached the river:

Camp on North Bank Missouri River, (Near Ft. Pierre, Dacotah Territory,)
Headquarters 6th Ia Cav., July 30, 63

All that I can learn with regard to our future movements, is as soon as the balance of our supplies come up, for which three light draft steamboats and a train of thirty wagons have been dispatched, the expedition will start towards Devil's Lake, but from the lateness of the season, will not probably be able to get further than Painted Woods, where Little Crow wintered last winter.

Then, as it is reported, we return to Sioux City, sojourn there three weeks, and thence across the State to Dubuque, en route for Dixie. The latter is camp rumor, though generally believed and confidently expressed by nearly all the officers.

Had Gen. Sully been earlier placed in command of this division of Gen. Pope's department I believe the record of this expedition would have been such that none need to have been ashamed.

This expedition has been badly managed from the first, and with all Gen. Sully's ability and eminent fitness from long familiarity with the Indian country and Indian character, it will be impossible to redeem the time frittered away by his predecessor, to whom the failure of the expedition may be attributed.

Gloomy Feeling in the South.

The telegraph informed us yesterday that an improved tone of feeling prevails in Mississippi. We are glad to hear this, and wish it may be true, for the intelligence we have received recently from that State is of a very unpleasant character. As a specimen, we give a brief extract from a letter written by a young lady to her father in Mobile.

"There is a rumor that some of the farmers are going to keep their wheat until they can get gold for it; that is, they refuse Confederate money. Several of the rich men are carrying off their negroes and families. I have heard several say that they will take the oath of allegiance for the sake of protecting their property, but they will not consider it binding. Mrs. G., however, says she will not take it to preserve her property, nor for any other reason."

"We regret," continued the editor, "that the lady referred to has no children; there is need of more of that stock. From accounts which reach us, it would seem that the women are the only men in Mississippi. Nor are these accounts altogether a new thing, but merely the sequel to the story of the supineness of the stay-at home population there, which he heard long since, but was unwilling to believe in its full extent.—Mobile News.

NEWS ITEMS.

The Prince of Wales having gone to Halifax and left his wife at home the English papers had paragraphs saying that she was indisposed. The Morning Post is, however, out with the "interesting" statement that the general health of the lady is good but in recommending her to abstain from visiting Halifax, H. R. H.'s advisers have only sought to save her from over exertion, which "it is now desirable for her not to incur.

There were 617 deaths in Philadelphia last week, an increase of 85 over the previous week, and an increase of 105 over the same period last year.

There are many friends of Mrs. Anna Cora Mowatt, (now Mrs. William F. Ritchie,) who will be glad to hear that though her husband is editor of Jeff. Davis' especial organ, she is invincibly loyal to the Stars and Stripes. She is living in England, and is said to have lately come into possession of a handsome property.

Five copies of the Daily News were seized on Saturday morning by a Government detective on board the boat for Davis' Island with the following on the inside of the wrappers: "To the soldiers of the C. S. A., with compliments of Ben Wood."

Brigadier-General Joseph W. Revere, of the Excelsior Brigade, 2d Division, 3d Corps, has been dismissed from the service by the sentence of Court Martial for conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline, in marching his command three miles from the scene of action towards United States Ford, on the morning of the battle of Chancellorsville, May 3d. The President approved the sentence, and ordered it to be carried into execution.

An engineer corps composed of one captain, two lieutenants, and one hundred and eighty men has been organized in each division of the army of Gen. Grant. The object of these corps is to survey the country and make topographical maps of positions in advance of the army.

The receipts from internal revenue for nine months are about forty-four million.

Attempt at Stabing.—An elderly man named Dorington was arrested yesterday on charge of attempting to stab the wife of a drayman named Jack Whitaker, in lower town. The cause of the affray was an old family feud, at years' standing. Dorington was tried several years ago on charge of attempting to shoot Whitaker. Yesterday he went into Whitaker's house and tried to stab Mrs. W. Whitaker was compelled to attack him with a club in order to defend his wife, and inflicted several terrible wounds on Dorington's face and head. He was arrested and taken to the Police Station, covered with blood, where his wounds were dressed by Dr. Stewart. He will be tried to-morrow.

Letter From Horace Greeley—He Declines an Invitation to the State Fair.

Last year, in August, Horace Greeley was reminded, by the Corresponding Secretary of the State Agricultural Society, of an old promise to visit this State and deliver an address at the State Fair.

Just then the nation was in its darkest hour. McClellan had been defeated on the Peninsula—Washington was in danger. Mr. Greeley replied, in a letter which bore evidence of an intense anxiety, that under these gloomy circumstances; he felt it to be his duty not to desert for an hour a post where he might be of service to the country, but promised if the war concluded to visit us this year, or at some future time. The invitation was repeated this year by Col. Stevens, of Glencoe, in behalf of the Society, and the following is Mr. Greeley's letter in reply. Its hopeful and confident tone is in marked contrast to his last year's letter:

Office of the "Tribune," }
New York, Aug 16, 1863 }

My Dear Sir.—It is now some two years and a half since I accepted an invitation to visit Minnesota, and speak to her farmers at the State Agricultural Fair—an invitation which gave me pleasure in the reception, and still more in the anticipation of its fulfillment. I am still anxious that my life and the patience of my friends in Minnesota, may both hold out until I can be permitted to fulfill that engagement.

But those I (with all respect to others) most wish to meet with when I shall visit your State, are to-day in the National armies, braving exposure, fatigue, privation, and death for the life of their country. I begin to grow old, I shall probably never traverse your State but this once, and I want to be at leisure to do it with some deliberation. But still more do I wish to meet and thank the noble Minnesotians, no matter where they were born or what have been their past affinities or antipathies to me, who have consecrated their lives to their country's salvation.

You probably have noted that I have not always felt so sanguine of a happy issue from our present trials as many, if not most other loyal Americans have done. I have too often feared that disloyalty at the North would complete the ruin plotted and inaugurated by open treason at the South. It is possible, therefore, that I enjoy the brighter prospects that have recently opened before us more keenly than those who receive them as a matter of course. I now feel more than hopeful that the rebellion will be put down and the Union preserved. But the struggle is not yet over, nor is the result absolutely sure. And so long as there is anything to be done, or to be feared on the side of the Union, it seems to me that my post whether of duty or of danger, is here—more especially while the great and now most imminent peril of the national cause is that of Northern defection and hostility rather than of Southern treason.

Let me once more, then, beg the farmers of Minnesota to have patience with me, and to excuse my absence from their Fair this autumn, in the sanguine hope that the next summer's sun will smile upon our country reunited, peaceful and secure, and that I may visit you next autumn in the hope of meeting many heroes of our great struggle, safely returned from bivouac and the battle field, rejoicing in the grateful appreciation of their countrymen, and in the proud endearments of their happy wives and children.

Yours truly,
HORACE GREELEY.

We learn that Col. Stevens will attempt (in pursuance of the wishes of the Board) to secure the services of Hon. John Wentworth, of Chicago, on the occasion referred to in Mr. Greeley's letter.—Press.

Burning of Lawrence by a Band of Guerrillas, under Gen. Quantrel.

Leavenworth, Aug. 21.—about 6 o'clock last evening, the guerrilla chief, Quantrel, with a force about 800 strong, crossed from Missouri to Kansas, near the town of Gardner, sixty miles below here, and immediately started for Lawrence, arriving before that town at 4 o'clock this morning.

He posted a guard around the city, so that the citizens could not escape, and with the remainder of his men commenced pillaging the stores, shooting citizens and firing houses. A gentleman who managed to escape, secreted himself in a cornfield near the town. He reports that he swam the river at 8 o'clock, and on reaching the bluffs on this side, he had a plain view of the city, which was then a sheet of flames. From what he saw, he thinks the loss would reach two millions of dollars, and by his time perhaps much more, as they seemed determined to destroy everything that would burn.

We cannot learn that any resistance was made, the citizens being taken completely by surprise, the first alarm being the crackling of flames and the shouts of the rebels. Jas. H. Lane was in the city, and it is feared he has fallen into the hands of guerrillas, as it was almost impossible to escape through the lines.

A large number of Union troops was sent in pursuit of the rebels, but with what success, it is not yet learned.

Mayor Anthony, of this city, issued a proclamation, stating that the people of Leavenworth need not apprehend any trouble, but requests every able bodied citizen to provide himself with the best arms he can, and hold himself in readiness to aid our friends in any part of the State at a moments notice.

He censures the General commanding the district, who, he says, with five thousand troops under his command, has allowed a few hundred guerrillas to get fifty miles into the interior, burn a city, and destroy two millions of dollars' worth of property. He intimates that the citizens must depend upon themselves for defense—city and State.

THE CITY OF LAWRENCE.

Lawrence, the capital city of Douglas county, Kansas, is situated on the right bank of the Kansas river, seventy miles from its mouth. It was well and substantially built, and had a population of nearly 4 000 souls. The city was founded in 1854, by settlers from New England, under the auspices of the Emigrant Aid Society. It has always been a thriving, industrious, liberty-loving town.

LATEST NEWS.

News by Friday Morning's Mail.

Aside from Charleston news the telegraph gives us nothing of special interest. Charleston is being shelled and the non-combatants are leaving in one continuous stream.

New York, Aug. 24.—The steamer Constitution arrived this afternoon from Hilton Head, the 23d, and from Charleston Bar 5 30 P. M, of the same date. The bombardment was going on with great energy. The firing was very rapid. The last report from Morris Island was that Sumter had not responded to our guns for two days, Sumter is entirely demolished and Fort Moultrie has been silenced.

It is believed that what is left of Sumter is fully in General Gilmore's possession, and that ere this the flag which waved there until Major Anderson surrendered, is back in its old place, the identical one having been sent there some time since for that express purpose.

Unionism in Tennessee.

(Extract from a letter from a Union man in Tennessee.)

——, Tenn., July 15, 1863.

"The civil struggle here is, and will be, a terrible and bitter one. Parson Brownlow said to me the other day, 'slavery is dead.' You know his antecedents sufficiently to form a correct judgment of the significance of the remark. 'This will be the next great issue with us, and I am confident the decision will be in favor of freedom. At present it is ignored, because the higher and more vital question of union or disunion engages public attention, to the exclusion of all other minor issues. Gov. Johnson's language is, 'I sustain the government in all its measures to crush rebellion. We should not quarrel about the means, while we all agree upon the ends to be accomplished.' This is patriotism. The State Convention which met at Nashville on the 1st, and continued in session till the 7th, was perfectly harmonious and full of devotion to the Union. It recommended, among other measures to restore our State, the election of a Legislature in August next. This will be necessary, before our State can be re-districted under the last census, and an election for members of Congress held. When this is done, Tennessee will resume her position under the shadow of the old flag. I will mail to you to-morrow, a copy of the Memphis Bulletin for the 14th and 15th instant. The former contains the last day's proceedings of the Convention. The resolutions offered were unanimously adopted. In a Convention representing forty or fifty counties, and numbering two hundred members, not a man was found unwilling to sustain the administration, in carrying on the war for the defence of the Union. Unionism and patriotism are convertible terms with us. The refugees from East Tennessee are the most embittered people against treason and traitors in America. Eighteen thousand of them are in the National army, and six thousand Middle and West Tennesseans are marching beside them. Mr East, Secretary of State informed me that twenty-four thousand men are in the Union ranks at this time from our State. The Bulletin of this date, which I send you, contains an account of some of the recent outrages committed by the rebels in East Tennessee. The recital of them almost makes one's blood run cold, but I have not the slightest doubt of the accuracy of the statement. The facts are stated from written memoranda. If they could be reprinted and extensively circulated throughout the North perhaps they would modify the opinions of the sympathizers and apologists for treason in the loyal States. It forms a part, and probably not the blackest, of the history of this wicked rebellion You will find, in the same paper, a brief sketch of the proceedings on the 4th, at Nashville. Much enthusiasm was manifested; the national flag were profusely displayed throughout the city; cannon were fired from Capitol Hill during the day; and all classes seemed, for the time, to forget the war. The glorious successes with which God has recently crowned our arms, strengthen the faith of all the friends of the Union, and inspire them with a stronger hope for immediate and final victory. Every day makes the defeat of the rebels more and more apparent and inevitable."

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Flour for Sale.

THE undersigned has FIFTY Barrels of Fine Flour for sale at $3 50 per barrel
7 JOHN N. HALL.

Notice of Redemption from Tax Sale

Lot 10 in block 24, Mankato; sold June 4th, 1863 to Wm. F. Funk, Redeemed Aug. 24th, 1863, by L W. Powell.
CHAS. A. CHAPMAN, Auditor.
Mankato, August 23, 1863.

Notice.

AS I have been regularly authorized by F. M. Gunning, surviving partner of the late firm of "Hensley & Gunning," to settle up the business matters of said firm, all persons indebted to them are requested and advised to make immediate payment to me, or, during my temporary absence from town, to C H. Slocum, editor and proprietor of the Union. E P. FREEMAN.

☞BEFORE PURCHASING A

Piano or Melodeon,

REMEMBER

W. W. KIMBALL,

142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.,

DEALER IN
PIANOS
AND
MELODEONS!

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake St.
CHICAGO,
DEALER IN
"GOLD PRIZE MEDAL"
PIANOS,
MELODEONS,
SCHOOL ORGANS
AND Harmoniums

PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO'S	PIANOS.
J & C FISCHER'S	"
G. A. MILLER & CO'S	"
WM P EMERSON'S	"
J W. VOSE'S	"
KURTZMAN & HINZE'S	"
GROVESTIEN & CO'S	"

And other Boston and New York Manufactures.

☞The reputation of the Pianos of the above manufacturers is a sufficient guarantee of their merit; and every instrument sold by me will be

WARRANTED

in all respects to give

SATISFACTION.

MY MELODEONS

are from the best manufacturers, and inferior to none in the market.

An Illustrated Catalogue describing every instrument will be furnished upon application to me by mail, giving the PRICE and STYLES of the instruments.

☞Orders from the country will receive prompt attention

Address, before purchasing or looking elsewhere

W. W. KIMBALL,

7 142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.

Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS, on the twenty-third day of January, A. D., 1860, John C. Jones, of Blue Earth County, mortgaged to Edward R. Parry and Richard R Parry, the north half of the north-east quarter, and the south-east quarter of the north-east quarter of section twenty-eight, and the south west quarter of the north west quarter of section twenty-seven, all in township one hundred and nine north of range twenty-nine west, in Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, to secure the payment of one hundred and eighty-seven dollars and sixty-five cents and interest in six months from date; and said mortgage was duly recorded in book "D" of mortgages, on pages 117 and 118 in the Register's office in said County on the 23d day of January. A D. 1860, and whereas the whole mortgage debt, is past due, and but seventy-five dollars has been paid of the principal and interest, and the amount now due thereon is one hundred and sixty-five dollars, and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured, Now notice is hereby given to all whom it may concern, that if the said debt is not paid before that time, the following portion of said mortgaged land, to wit. The east half of the north-east quarter of section twenty-eight, and the south-west quarter of the north-west quarter of section twenty seven (27) all in township one hundred and nine north of range twenty-nine west, will be sold at public auction between the hours of 9 o'clock, A. M., and the setting of the sun, on the 15th day of October, A. D. 1863, at the office of the Register of Deeds in said County, by the sheriff of said county to satisfy said mortgage and costs, in pursuance of the power of sale attached to said mortgage.

Mankato Aug 28th 1863.
EDWARD R P RRY, } Mortgagees
RICHARD R. PARRY }
Finch & Fitcher, Attys for Mortgagees. 7

SINGER & CO'S.

Letter "A" Sewing Machine.

WITH ALL THE IMPROVEMENTS.

Is the best and cheapest and most beautiful of all Sewing Machines. This Machine will sew anything, from the running of a tuck in Tarlton to the making of an Overcoat—anything from Pilot or Beaver Cloth down to the softest Gauze or Gossamer Tissue, and is ever ready to do its work to perfection. It can fell, hem, bind, gather, tuck, quilt, and has capacity for a great variety of ornamental work. This is not the only Machine that can fell, hem, bind, and so forth, but it will do so better than any other Machine. The Letter "A" Family Sewing Machine may be had in a great variety of cabinet cases The Folding Case, which is now becoming so popular, is, as its name implies, one that can be folded into a box or case, which when opened makes a beautiful, substantial, and capacious table for the work to rest upon. The cases are of every imaginable design—plain as the wood grew in its native forest, or as elaborately finished as art can make them The Branch Offices are well supplied with silk, twist, thread, needles, oil, etc., of the very best quality,

I. M. SINGER & CO.,
458 Broadway, N. Y
Milwaukee Office, 17 Marshall House.
D. WILCOX, Agent, Mankato Minn.

EFECTIVE PAGE

THE COUNTY.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

St. Paul—Arrives at 9 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Eastern—Arrives at 4 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Blue Earth City—Arrives at 5 P. M. and departs at 7 A. M. Closes 7 P. M.

Office hours—5 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays, 5 to 7 A. M., and 12 M. to 1 P. M.

B. J. SIBLEY, Postmaster.

Agents for the Union.

The following are authorized to receive and receipt for monies paid on subscription to the Union:

Mankato—Martin N. Slocum.
South Bend—Lars Lee.
Garden City—Ray & Williams.
Vernon—Thomas Sowers
Shelbyville—H A. Buck R. Shannon
Winnebago City—Holly and Welch.
Verona—A. D Mason.
Blue Earth City—W J C. Robertson.
Fairmount—W W Carrington
Mapleton—S Middlebrook.
Madelia—C. G. Mullen
New Ulm—J. C Rudolph.
Judson—Mr Goodwin.
Winnebago Agency—Lucius Dyer.
Sterling—William Russell
Butternut Valley—Rev J. Jenkins.

Attention is directed to the "Notice" in our advertising column.

Wild plums are very plenty in this vicinity, and are being gathered very fast.

Wanted.—A smart, intelligent lad to learn the printing business. Apply at this Office.

Thanks.—Mrs. Ambrose Lorenz and Mrs. D. H. Tyner will please accept our thanks for very handsome bouquets received this week.

The Dakota Presbytery will meet in the Congregational Church at South Bend on the 4th of September. The opening sermon will be delivered at seven o'clock.

Aggravating.—To receive a letter from your friends in the East informing you that they are feeding their nicest apples to the hogs. A wag at our elbow says he would like to get one of those hogs.

The September number of the Continental Monthly is received. It contains many articles of real worth, and is fast taking rank among the first class journals of the day.

Arrived.—The Atlantic for September, with its fund of good reading, is on our table. No one can attentively read this valuable monthly without being largely benefitted.

The County Board.—The County Commissioners will meet next Tuesday. Our friends from Cambridge will bear it in mind, and be on hand with their petition for the organization of their town.

Broke Ground.—A commencement has been made in the building of the Presbyterian edifice in this place. Trenches have been dug and stone is on the ground for the foundation.

The St. Paul Papers state that the Minnesota River is rising. Perhaps it is below this place, but we fail to see it here, as it has been falling one inch per day for the last eight days. We have almost given up hopes of a rise this fall, yet we may get it about the middle of September.

Returned.—Our townsman O Ward, Esq., returned from the East Tuesday evening last, after an absence of nearly two months. We are glad to welcome him back. He has a large stock of new goods on the way, which will be received in a week or so, and ready for the inspection of his numerous patrons. We understand he is soon to remove his goods into the next building above, owned by J. R. Cleveland.

The Mite Society.—This Society had a very pleasant time at the residence of Mrs Slaughter last Tuesday evening. There was quite a large attendance, and over eight dollars was realized as the proceeds. The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, the 1st of September, at the residence of Mrs. Prael. All who are favorably disposed to the object of the Society are cordially invited to be present.

Good Tidings of Great Joy.—Tuesday's mail from the Blue Earth Valley, brought down the names of nineteen new subscribers to the Union, accompanied by the "ready." Three or four more such "lifts" will give us the largest subscription list of any newspaper in the Minnesota Valley, and the Union will therefore be the best medium for advertising. We are bound to have eight hundred subscribers by the first of January.

Democratic Mass Convention.—One of the largest and most enthusiastic Mass Conventions we ever attended, was held by the pseudo Democrats of this County, last Saturday, to elect delegates to attend the State Convention at St. Paul. There were thirty-seven persons present, seven of whom were Republicans and Union men, five Democrats from the country, and twenty-five from Mankato. The delegates elected very fairly represented the county, and were as follows: J. A. Wiswell, Garden City; S. F. Barney, J. S. Batcheler, Wm. Hoerr, Mankato.

A New Candidate.—It is rumored that our friend A. D. McSweeney, of South Bend, is a candidate for Legislative honors at the hands of the Democracy of this District. We are glad to hear it, as it is no more than right that he should have his turn. His countrymen of Le Sueur and Blue Earth Counties will demand his nomination, as he will carry that element against the popular "President of a Pennsylvania Know Nothing Lodge."

Personal.—Lt. Col. Tourtellotte, of the 4th Minnesota, who has been stopping in town for a few days, on a furlough, started back yesterday morning on his return to his regiment, which is quartered at Vicksburg.

We forgot to notice last week, the arrival of Capt. Thornton, Quartermaster in Gen. Grant's army. The Captain came back reduced in health, but has improved very much since his return.

Capt. Strout, of Co D. 9th Regiment, arrived in town Wednesday evening. The boys in camp are well, and have good times hunting.

The County Convention.—One week from to-morrow our County Convention meets to place in nomination persons to be supported at the election. We trust the Republicans and Union men throughout the County will see to it that their town caucuses are promptly held, and persons elected delegates who will be present at the Convention, and assist in nominating a good ticket. We have no choice of candidates other than that good competent men be placed in nomination.

A New Institution.—The Mankato Tin Horn and Tin Pan Band, consisting of upwards of a hundred talented performers, gave their first soiree Monday evening last in front of the residence of one of our citizens, who had the evening previous taken to himself a wife. Several of the most difficult compositions of Beethoven and Mozart were executed on the occasion by the leaders, who were well supported in the choruses by the whole band. It being their first appearance in public, they did themselves great credit, and their soul piercing music could be distinctly heard in any part of the town. But we think they were rather ungenerous, after the former widower, now bridegroom, had done the handsome thing and treated them well, to insist upon protracting their dulcet and melodious strains far into the night.

They should remember that enough of a good thing is as good as a feast.

Prizes Awarded.—To day Prof. Ferguson awarded prizes to his scholars as follows.

Ella Locke,	Emma Peat,
Elva Barrett,	Fannie Lytle,
Cornie Hall,	Maria Wampler,
Mary Hicks,	Orrin Thayer,
Libbie Hicks,	Victor Seward,
Clara Hersey,	Clara McKinney,
Fannie Sergeant,	Frank Thayer.
Mary Milner,

The Professor's school now numbers upwards of sixty scholars, all of whom attend quite regularly, and evince a growing interest in their studies.

No Chance for Dissatisfaction.—DeLand&Co. authorize those who sell their goods to tell purchasers to use one-half of a paper of their Chemical Saleratus, and then if they are not entirely satisfied with its superiority over Soda or any other brand of Saleratus to return the balance and get the money for the whole refunded. This Saleratus is perfect, therefore they are willing to let it stand or fall upon its own merit.

The Northern Statesman is the title of a new paper published at Monticello, Wright county. George Gray is announced as the publisher, and S. Bennett the editor. Mr. Bennett is well known and his editorial connection with the paper is proof that it will be ably conducted. The mechanical appearance of the paper will compare favorably with that of any sheet in the State.

The question is frequently asked "who are included in the third class of those subject to draft?" The answer is: the discharged soldiers who were in the army March 3d—the time when the conscription act was passed.

Pursuit of Quantrel's Guerrillas.

Gen. Lane is in pursuit of the guerrillas that burned Lawrence, and has succeeded in killing nearly seventy. Quantrel will not escape without serious loss.

The Copperhead Nominations.

The Democratic State Convention has placed in nomination the following ticket:

Governor—H. T. Welles, of Hennepin.
Lt Governor—A. D. La Due, of Dodge.
Sec'y of State—A. E Welch, of Goodhue
State Auditor—J. A. M'Kinny, of Fillmore
State Treas—Peter Wilkin, of Le Sueur.
Atty General—W. H Grant, of Ramsey.
Clerk of the Supreme Court—Hugo Petzhold, of Ramsey.

It is said that during the present month the value of the war material and general merchandise that has run safely into Wilmington cannot be less than three millions of dollars' worth, which is paid for in return cargoes, and obviates the necessity of cash payments. There ought to be vessels enough in the United States to close that port.

Sharon Conn., has voted $300 to every drafted man who shall serve or furnish a substitute. Torrington votes $150 to each man drafted who shall go, and $100 if he provides a substitute. Morris gives $100 to every man drafted who goes himself.

A gentleman presented a lace collar to the object of his adoration, and, in a jocular way, said, "Do not let any one else rumple it." "No, dear, said the lady, "I will take it off."

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

For the Week ending August 27th.

Clifton—C G Mullen, Madelia; H Stratton, Cambridge; A Eagley, Garden City; W H Conklin, Garden City; A K Cummins Wis; J Richards Blue Earth Co; Z M Fewer, Cleveland. Minn; T M Pugh, South Bend; S S Higgins Vernon; D C Wood, Crystal Lake; D Cross, Iowa; D S Twitchell, St. Peter; M O Bennett, Tivoli, Wm H Blackmer, Shelby; L Wilcox, Cambridge; Capt R Strout, Lake Hanska;

Mankato—C P Cook, Garden City; C H Hatch, D W Orr, D M Rankin, Pekin, Ills; J White; H W Holly, Winnebago City; Lt Col J E Tourtellotte, 4th Minn; E P Evans, Garden City; C Abel, Beaver Dam Wis; W F Elliott and lady, St. Peter; W W Clark, Henderson; J Flanders, Madelia; J C Trowbridge, Woodstock, Ill; H P Norton, Wilton; O H Reed, Janesville, Wis; G H Everts Oswego, N Y; Col Jas Collard, Pittsburg; D W Wellman, Camp Marsh; H Greenleaf, St. Paul; J McDonald, Pittsburg, Pa; H L G Williams, Milwaukee; W G Gates, St Paul; C P Cook, Garden City; C C Bowen, Detroit; J W Babcock, St Anthony; E Beckman, Rochester;

Mankato Market Reports.

CORRECTED EVERY THURSDAY BY O. WARD.

Mankato, August 27, 1863.

WHEAT—52c. ℔ bushel.
RYE—40c
BARLEY—60.
OATS—40c
CORN—45@47c.
HAY—℔ ton, $4@5 00
TIMOTHY—$2 ℔ bushel.
BEANS—White, ℔ bushel, $1 25.
BUTTER—10c
LARD—8@9c
SUGAR—12@12c; 10@3c.
TEA—1 5 @1 60.
COFFEE—31c.
RICE—10c ℔ lb.
SALT—4 50 ℔ barrel.
EGGS—8c ℔ doz.
CANDLES—Tallow, 15c; Sperm, 50c
MEATS—Beef on foot, 2c. Pork, 5@6c. Mutton 10@12c Poultry, 10@12c.
POTATOES—1 00 ℔ bushel.
SIRUP—1 00 ℔ gallon.
WOOD—$2 00 ℔ cord.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Spermatorrhœa can be Cured.—Dr. Rand's Specific cures Spermatorrhœa Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Loss of Power, &c., speedily and effectually. Its effects are truly magical. A trial of the Specific will convince the most skeptical of its merits. Price $1 a box. Sent post paid to any address, by S. C. UPMAN, 403 Chesnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa. Circular sent free.

Drunkenness Cured.—The inebriate may now bid defiance to the tempting cup. Dr. Zane's Antidote for Strong Drink is a certain cure for Drunkenness. It creates a dislike for strong drink, and can be administered without the knowledge of the patient. Price $1 a box. Sent by mail to any address, by S C UPMAM, 403 Chesnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa. Circular sent free.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error actuated by a desire to benefit others will be happy to furnish to all who need it (free of charge) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience—and possess a Valuable Remedy—will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed) by addressing

JOHN B OGDEN.

5m No. 60 Nassau Street, New York

LOST.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That Sioux Half Breed Scrip was issued by the proper Department, on November 24th, 1856, to Marion Robertson, as follows:

No.
432	A	for	40	acres.
"	B	"	40	"
"	C	"	80	"
"	D	"	160	"
"	E	"	160	"

And that during the recent Indian outbreak at Red Wood Lower Sioux Agency, all said Scrips were wholly destroyed by the Indians or otherwise lost. Any person finding the same or portions thereof, by notifying me shall be suitably rewarded.

Dated at Faribault, August 1863.

JANE A. ROBERTSON, Guardian.

Attest C. L. Lowell. Att'y. 4w6

MANKATO HOUSE.

MANKATO - MINNESOTA.

THIS House has been thoroughly renovated newly papered and painted, with many new improvements, which makes it now equal as to comfort and convenience to any House in the State.

General Stage Office for all points in the State.

Good barn and stabling with attentive ostler. Baggage conveyed to and from steamboats free of charge. Wines, liquors, cigars, etc., constantly on hand.

☞Farmers will find this House a good place to stop, it being centrally located, plenty of barroom, and charges moderate.

may 7. H. H. Shaubhut.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE

Mankato Weekly Union,

Published every Friday by

CHARLES H. SLOCUM,

AT

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of

PRINTING

Neatly and cheaply executed,

SUCH AS

CARDS,

PROGRAMMES,

BILL-HEADS,

CIRCULARS,

POSTERS.

ETC.,

Having received a supply of

NEW MATERIAL

from the East, am prepared to do

PLAIN AND FANCY WORK

in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, In District Court.
County of Blue Earth—6th District.

To Aaron N. Dukes, James Thompson Sen Ralph A Loveland, Peter Berry John H Burgess, Henry Himmelman, John A. Willard, Sheldon F. Barney, George A Roberts and Benjamin F. Smith, defendants:

In the name of the State of Minnesota, you are hereby summoned to answer the complaint of Ezra R. Dibblee, John C Work and Lansing C Moore, plaintiffs, a copy of which is hereunto annexed, and to serve a copy of your answer to me at my office in Mankato, within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and if you fail to answer said complaint as required, the plaintiffs will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint. Dated January 27th, 1863.

FRANKLIN H. WAITE, Atty for Plffs.

1 3w

Wanted.

THREE GOOD GIRLS AT THE CLIFTON HOUSE.

One to take charge of the Cooking department, the others to do dining room and other work usual in hotels. Liberal wages and steady employment given.

M T C. FLOWER, Proprietor.

Mankato, Aug. 5th, 1863. 4w4

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY virtue of an execution issued out of the District Court in and for the county of Blue Earth, State of Minnesota, upon a judgment rendered February 21st, 1863, and docketed March 6th, 1863 in said county, in an action wherein Daniel Wagner is plaintiff, and George Quiggles is defendant, and against said defendant, for the sum of $74 20, and upon which there now remains due and unpaid the sum of $74 20 and interest, I have levied upon all the right title and interest which the said George Quiggles had on the 21st day of February, 1863, or at any time thereafter, of, in and to the following described lands and real estate, in the county of Blue Earth State of Minnesota, to wit:

South west quarter of south-east quarter and south-east quarter of south west quarter, section ten, and west half of south west quarter of south east quarter, and north east quarter of south-west quarter of south east quarter of section nine, all in township one hundred and five, north of range twenty eight west.

Notice is hereby given that I will sell the above described lands and real estate, to the highest bidder for cash, on Saturday, the 19th of September, 1863, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the front door of the office of Register of Deeds in and for the County of Blue Earth in Mankato, to satisfy the execution, together with costs and interest thereon. Dated August 7th, 1863.

D. H TYNER, Sheriff of Blue Earth County.

6w4

FINKLE & LYON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

These Machines make the lock stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do; will Hem, Fell, Gather, Cord, Braid, Bind, &c., and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family, for they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, or even the stoutest harness leather, without changing the feed, needle or tension, or making any adjustment of Machine whatever!!!

They are simple in construction, and easily understood: and if any part is broken by accident, it is readily replaced.

These are peculiar facts, and will go far to determine the choice of any intelligent buyer.

Please call and examine, or send for Circular.

N. B.—Local Agents wanted in sections not yet occupied. Address,

FINKLE & LYON, S. M. CO.,

4 No 538 Broadway, New York.

J. J. SHAUBUT, Agent for Mankato

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL PROFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DeBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot Percussion Caps, etc

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime. Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F R PRAEL. H. DeBUISSON

Mankato, May 4. 1860. [5-43-y]

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRING AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand

Cash paid for green and dry hides.

Mankato, June 26, 1863.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:50 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:45 P. M.
Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:45 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:45 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER, Proprietor.

ly

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

——

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges

Medicines,

Fancy Goods,

Soaps, Brushes,

Patent Medicines,

Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils

Glass,

Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,

Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,

or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

NEW DRUG STORE!

DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS
SOAPS, PERFUMERY,
AND

FANCY GOODS

PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax,

Stationery,

BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions securely put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the

New Drug Store,

JASON WICKERSHAM, Mankato, Minn

5

Valuable Lands for Sale.

BY direction of the Hon Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the lands hereinafter described, they being among the choicest and best farming land in Minnesota

These lands comprise what are known as the Winnebago Trust Lands in the State of Minnesota, and will be sold to the highest and best bidder in tracts not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres each, under the provisions of a treaty concluded with the Winnebago Indians, April 15th, 1859, and an act of Congress, approved February 21st 1863, entitled "An act for the removal of the Winnebago Indians, and for the sale of their Reservation in Minnesota, for their benefit"

No bid will be entertained at a rate less than two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

In case a bid is accepted, the party making the same will be notified as soon thereafter as practicable. If within thirty days after such notice the party shall fail to make payment to the undersigned, the land for which such bid was made will be subject to sale to any other person.

Patents will be issued and transmitted to purchasers as soon after payment as the same can be prepared. Payments may be made either in cash or in the certificates of indebtedness of the Winnebago Indians, issued by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for the debt of said Indians, and secured to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of said lands by the third article of the treaty above mentioned. The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved. All bids must be sealed and addressed to the undersigned, Washington City, D. C. and endorsed "Bid for Winnebago Tract Land"

"DESCRIPTION OF LANDS."

List of "Winnebago Trust Lands" subject to sale after July 1st, 1863:

SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
Township 106, Range 23
se qr	5
e hf sw qr	6
e hf	7
sw qr	7
	18 19
ne qr	30
sw qr	30
Township 107, Range 23
n hf	6
w hf sw qr	6
w hf nw qr	7
w hf sw qr	7
sw qr	30
n hf	31
w hf sw qr	31
Township 108, Range 23
n frac hf nw qr	31
se frac qr nw qr	31
Township 106, Range 24
	25
	26
	27
	28
	29
	30 31 32 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 24
	1
ne qr	3
sw qr	3
n hf	5
	6
ne qr	9
s hf	10
	11
ne qr	12
sw qr	12
nw qr	13
	14
e hf	15
nw qr	17
	1
lots 1, 2 and 3	21
	22
	23
n hf	24
	27
w hf	29
Township 108, Range 24
sw qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
sw qr	34
Township 106, Range 25
	25
	26 27
e hf	28
	30 31 32
e hf	33
	34 35
Township 107, Range 25
e hf	1
nw qr	1
w hf	2
ne qr	2
	15
Township 108, Range 25
se qr	33
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
e hf ne qr	34
w hf nw qr	34
w hf sw qr	34
s frac hf	35
nw qr	35
Township 106, Range 26
	1
	2 3
e hf	9
nw qr	4
ne qr	5
s hf	7
nw qr	11
e hf nw qr	12
	18 19
n hf	25
w hf	27
se qr	28
	30 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 26
w hf ne qr	3
w hf	3
w hf se qr	3
se qr	4
	5
e hf	6
s hf nw qr	6
s hf	7
	8 9
nw qr	10
e hf	18
nw qr	18
e hf	19
w hf	20
w hf se qr	20
ne qr	24
sw qr	24
s hf	25
n hf	30
e hf nw qr	31
ne qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
w hf sw qr	32
w hf se qr	32
se se qr	32
se qr	34
sw qr	35
Township 108, Range 26
se ne qr	31
e hf se qr	31
sw se qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
e hf se qr	33
ne qr	34
Township 106, Range 27
se qr	1
s hf	2
se qr	3
ne qr	6
e hf se qr	6
w hf sw qr	6
sw qr	7
e hf	11
sw qr	11
	14
e hf nw qr	15
e hf sw qr	15
w hf	18
ne qr	18
w hf	19
se qr	19
ne qr	20
w hf	21
w hf ne qr	21
se qr	22
e hf nw qr	22
	23 27
e hf	28
Township 107, Range 27
n hf	2
ne qr	3
e hf sw qr	5
ne qr	6
w hf se qr	6
se nw qr	7
ne sw qr	7
nw ne qr	11
se qr	12
e hf nw qr	12
nw nw qr	12
ne qr	13
sw qr	13
e hf nw qr	13
sw nw qr	13
s hf ne qr	14
s hf nw qr	14
nw nw qr	14
sw qr	15
sw qr	17
n hf	18
sw qr	18
se qr	19
nw qr	20
sw qr	21
ne qr	22
se qr	26
nw qr	26
nw qr	28
se qr	29
s hf	31
ne qr	31
nw qr	32
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
Township 108, Range 27
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	31
nw qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
ne qr	32
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 of nw qr	32
se nw qr	32
sw qr	35

Bids will be received as above invited until the 1st of September next at which time all bids then received will be examined and acted upon.

After the first of September next bids will be received for the lands then remaining unsold, and examined and acted upon the expiration of each period of two months.

WILLIAM P. DOLE,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs.
Washington City, D. C., Aug. 4th, 1863.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co's GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES,

HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEACHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plows,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:

Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains, Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil; Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

I am Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted

JOHN F. MEAGHER,

Mankato, April 23rd 1863.

NEW LIVERY & Sale Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.
☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜
☞Charges moderate.☜
D. H TYNER.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Farmers' Journal.

MANKATO, FRIDAY, AUG. 28, 1863.

Your Evenings, Boys.

Great boys and little boys, here is a question which concerns you all. How do you spend your evenings? If your parents or guardians allow you to go from home in the evening, where do you go, and how is the time spent by you? Read this little account and think of the lesson it teaches.

Joseph Clark was a fine looking and as healthy a lad as ever left the country to go into a city store. His cheek was red with health, his arm strong, and his step quick. His master liked his looks and said. "That boy will make something.

He had been a clerk about six months when Mr. Abbott observed a change in Joseph. His cheeks grew pale, his eyes hollow, and he always seemed sleepy. Mr. Abbott said nothing for awhile. At length finding Joseph alone in the counting-room one day he asked him if he was well.

"Pretty well, sir," answered Joseph.

"You look sick of late," said Mr. Abbott.

"I have the headache sometimes," the young man said.

"What gives you the headache?" asked the merchant.

"I do not know as I know sir?"

"Do you go to bed in good season?"

Joseph blushed. "As early as most of the boarders," he said.

"And how do you spend your evenings, Joseph?"

"Oh, sir, not as my pious mother would approve," answered the young man; tears starting in his eyes.

"Joseph," said the old merchant, "your character and all your former usefulness and prosperity depend upon the way you spend your evenings. Take my word for it, it is a young man's evenings that make or break him."

"WHAT CAN I DO?"—A young lady was heard to say, "I wish I could do something for my country; I would willingly become a nurse in a hospital, but I have not the physical strength. What can I do?"

A friend replied, "You can sing."

"Yes, I can sing; but what of that?"

"Go to one of the hospitals and sing for the soldiers."

The idea seemed to please her. She accompanied a friend who was long used to such visits, and who introduced her by saying to the patients—

"Here is a young lady who has come to sing for you.

At the mere announcement every face was aglow with animation—every eye was riveted upon her with expectant pleasure. She sang a few songs, commencing with the glorious "Star Spangled Banner." As the thrilling notes of that song rang through the apartment, one poor man, who had been given up by the physicians as an almost hopeless case, half raised himself in his cot, leaned his head upon his hand, and drank in every note like so much nectar. The effect was electrical. From that hour he began to amend, and finally recovered.—Presbyterian.

CURE FOR CANCERS.—A piece of sticking plaster was put on a cancer with a circular piece out of the centre a little larger than the cancer, so that the cancer and a small circular rim of healthy skin next to it was exposed. Then a plaster made of the chloride of zinc, blood root and wheat flour was spread out on a piece of muslin the size of the circular opening, an applied to a cancer for twenty four hours. On the removing of it, the cancer will be found to have been burned, and appear of the color and hardness of an old shoe sole; the rim outside of it will appear white and parboiled as if scaled by hot steam. The wound is now dressed and the rim so separates, the cancer coming out in a hard lump, and the place heals up. The plaster kills the cancer so that it sloughs out like dead flesh and never grows again.

HOME OF THE WORKING MAN.—Resolve—and tell your wife of your good resolution. She will aid all she can. Her step will be lighter and her hand busier all day, expecting the comfortable evening at home when you return. Household affairs will have been well attended to. A place for everything and everything in its place, will, like some good genius, have made even an humble home the scene of neatness, arrangement and taste. The table will be ready at the fireside. The loaf will be of that order which says, by its appearance, You may cut and come again. The cups and saucers will be waiting for supplies. The kettle will be singing and the children, happy with fresh air and exercise will be smiling in their glad anticipation of the evening meal when father is at home, and of the pleasant reading afterwards.—Helps.

GRAPES.—French preserve grapes the year around by coating the clusters with lime. The bunches are picked just before they are thoroughly ripe, and dipped in lime water of the consistency of thin cream. They are then hung on wires, and when dry dipped the second time and then hung up to remain. The lime coating keeps out the air and checks any tendency to decay. When wanted for the table, dip the clusters in warm water to remove the lime.

WANTED!

FIVE HUNDRED LABORERS

TO WORK ON THE

Minneapolis, Faribault, & Cedar Valley R. R.

THE Subscriber will pay in Cash, the highest price for laborers. Payments made on the 15th of each month. Work will be continued through the winter. Agents can be found at Minneapolis, Mendota, Northfield and Faribault. D. J. CAMMERON.

Mendota, August 5, 1863. 5

JUST PUBLISHED,

The most Fascinating Book of the Season,

ENTITLED

"IN THE TROPICS,"

EDITED BY RICH'D B. KIMBALL.

Author of "St. Leger," "Undercurrents of Wall Street," etc.

A bright, sparkling and genial book of residence, travel and adventure in the West Indies; presenting a graphical picture of tropical life, with alluring and picturesque sketches of luxuriant gardens, orange and lime groves, magnificent guava and cocoanut trees, mahogany forests, etc.

An elegantly printed and cloth bound volume. Price, $1 25.

Sold by all booksellers, and sent by mail FREE, on receipt of price by

CARLETON,
Publisher New York
413 Broadway, cor Lispenard St.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage executed by Cyrus Foot and Minerva Foot his wife, then of Blue Earth County State of Minnesota, to Ralph A. Loveland, then of Westport, Essex County, New York, dated the 16th day of June, A. D., 1858, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Blue Earth, on the 19th day of June A. D. 1858, in book "B" of mortgages, on page 387 which said mortgage was given to secure the payment of the sum of twenty three hundred and fifty dollars ($2 350 00) and interest according to the conditions of four certain promissory notes made by said Cyrus Foot to said Loveland or order, three for six hundred dollars each, payable respectively on the first days of June in the years 1860 1861 and 1862, and the other for five hundred and fifty dollars payable on the first day of June, 1862 and drawing interest from date until paid at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable annually on the first days of June each and every year, and all bearing even date with said mortgage, and upon which promissory notes and mortgage there is now claimed to be due, and is at the date of this notice, actually due and unpaid, the said sum of twenty three hundred and fifty dollars ($2 350 00) and interest thereon from and after the said 16th day of June, 1858, at the rate of seven per cent per annum; and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured by said promissory notes and mortgage, nor any part thereof and no part thereof has been collected or paid.

Therefore by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained, and in conformity with the statutes in such case made and provided the lands and premises described in and covered by said mortgage, to wit: The north west quarter of section number (27) twenty seven in township number (107) one hundred and seven, north of range number (28) twenty eight west, according to the governmental survey and subdivisions of the same, and containing one hundred and sixty acres of land be the same more or less, together with all the appurtenances, and lying and being in the County of Blue Earth and State of Minnesota, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder as the law directs and as authorized by said mortgage, at the front door of the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Blue Earth in Mankato in said County on the 26th day of September, A. D., 1863, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day to satisfy the amount then due on said promissory notes and mortgage together with the taxes which have been paid thereon by the mortgagee, or which shall then be due on said premises and the costs and expenses allowed by law. Dated at Mankato, August 14th, 1863.

RALPH A. LOVELAND,
Mortgagee.

WILLARD & BARNEY, Attorneys for Mortgagee, Mankato Minn. 6w5

Medical Advice free of Charge.

DOCTOR WHITTIER'S Theory, Symptoms, and Treatment of Chronic, Nervous, Urinary and Sexual Diseases, free in sealed letter envelope, for six cents to prepay postage. It is a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringment of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposure, and imprudence, in married and single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and should be read by every young person, to keep them off the shoals on which others have been broken in pieces. Amativeness clearly stated to be under the control of judicious treatment and thereby prevent inclination to one very prolific cause of of disease. Nearly every case of disease can be treated without hindrance to business. Medicine sent by mail, secure from observation. Charges moderate; consultations by letter or at the office free; cures guaranteed; Office 67 St. Charles St., between 6th and 7th. P O Box 3032, St. Louis Mo. Circular Letter especially for ladies, nothing referring to Sexual Diseases for 3 cent postage.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
BLUE EARTH COUNTY.

MANKATO, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 12th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet been redeemed, I will execute and deliver to the purchasers of said lands at said sale, or their assignees, deeds for the same on and after the 17th day of January, A. D., 1864, unless said lands shall before that time have been redeemed. And notice is also given that the sum set against each description of land in said list is the amount due the purchaser of said land on redemption.

CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.	NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.
Unknown	1	24	$6.66	Unknown	1	16	1.48
do	5	24	2 19	do	7	A	3.97
do	9	24	7 45	do	8	A	3.97
J Ady	9	28	13.43	do	9	A	3 97
F C Roosevelt	6	58	2 95	do	10	A	3.9

Willard & Besser's Addition.

Unknown, lot 16, block 10, amount 2 46.

NAME.	DES.	S.	T.	R.	AMT.
H W Lamberton	e hf nw qr and w hf sw qr	7	108	28	22.67
Earl Parham	sw qr	23	109	29	14..7
N Garlinger	ne qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	22	109	29
do	s hf se qr	21	109	29	15 91
Dennis O'Flynn	se qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	27	109	29	11.81
Wm P Smith	s hf ne qr and ne qr se qr and lot 2	2	107	28	13 85
T P Anderson	s e qr	20	107	28	13 14
H Wrecht	s e qr	8	106	28	14 10
William Gigo	s w qr	17	106	28	13.73
Alec Wood	n e qr	1	105	28	41.00
Unknown	sw qr except 17 ac redeem'd	3	105	28	14 16
H G Tryon	se qr nw qr	5	105	28	5 62
H G Tryon	ne qr nw qr	34	105	28	7.26
McMurtrie & Comstock	n hf sw qr	12	105	29	10.90
do	e hf sw qr and w hf se qr except 15 ac redeemed	12	105	29	23 36
Alex Wood	nw qr	6	105	27	49 87
Unknown	nw qr	9	108	25	19.28
A Frazer	n hf ne qr and ne qr nw qr	25	109	25	14.33
F Percival	ne qr sw qr	2	109	28	23.52

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSON'S Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN.☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the Wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office. F M Johnson Agent.

St. Paul, Feb 10th, 1863. July17-tf.

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863

OF

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obedience to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wild cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune challenges comparison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1 25)	6 00
Ten copies (rate of $1 10)—	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE

One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;

Clubs of five, (rate of $3 61,) $18 00

Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 51,) $35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World.

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Critical Notices of the Press.

The volumes Bound constitute of themselves a library of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier

The most popular Monthly in the world. —N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People: and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature. —Trubner's Guide to American Literature London

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class that delights in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, BY mail, post-paid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents. Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eight cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3.00; Two copies one year $5.00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year, $5.00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2.50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2.50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted for postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must be paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS.
Franklyn Square, New York.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE

Mankato Weekly Union,

Published every Friday by

CHARLES H. SLOCUM,

AT

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of

PRINTING

Neatly and cheaply executed

SUCH AS

CARDS,

PROGRAMMES,

BILL-HEADS,

CIRCULARS,

POSTERS.

ETC.,

Having received a supply of

NEW MATERIAL

from the East, am prepared to do

PLAIN AND FANCY WORK

in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
In District Court.
County of Blue Earth—6th District.

To Aaron N. Dukes, James Thompson Sen Ralph A Loveland, Peter Berry John H. Burgess, Henry Himmelman, John A. Willard, Sheldon F Barney, George A Roberts and Benjamin F. Smith, defendants:

In the name of the State of Minnesota, you are hereby summoned to answer the complaint of Ezra R. Diddee, John C Work and Lansing C Moore, plaintiffs, a copy of which is hereunto annexed, and to serve a copy of your answer to me at my office in Mankato, within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and if you fail to answer said complaint as required, the plaintiffs will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint. Dated January 27th, 1863.

FRANKLIN H WAITE,
Atty for Plffs.

1 3w

Wanted.

THREE GOOD GIRLS AT THE CLIFTON HOUSE.

One to take charge of the Cooking department, the others to do dining room and other work usual in hotels. Liberal wages and steady employment given.

M. T. C. FLOWER, Proprietor.

Mankato, Aug. 5th, 1863. 4w4

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY virtue of an execution issued out of the District Court in and for the county of Blue Earth, State of Minnesota, upon a judgment rendered February 21st, 1863, and docketed March 6th, 1863 in said county, in an action wherein Daniel Wagner is plaintiff, and George Quiggles is defendant, and against said defendant, for the sum of $74 20, and upon which there now remains due and unpaid the sum of $74.20 and interest, I have levied upon all the right title and interest which the said George Quiggles had on the 21st day of February, 1863, or at any time thereafter, of, in and to the following described lands and real estate, in the county of Blue Earth State of Minnesota, to wit:

South west quarter of south-east quarter and south-east quarter of south west quarter, section ten, and west half of south west quarter of south east quarter, and north east quarter of south-west quarter of south-east quarter of section nine, all in township one hundred and five, north of range twenty-eight west.

Notice is hereby given that I will sell the above described lands and real estate, to the highest bidder for cash, on Saturday, the 19th of September, 1863, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the front door of the office of Register of Deeds in and for the County of Blue Earth in Mankato, to satisfy the execution, together with costs and interest thereon. Dated August 7th, 1863.

D. H. TYNER,
Sheriff of Blue Earth County.

6w4

FINKLE & LYON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

THESE Machines make the lock stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do; will Hem, Fell, Gather, Cord, Braid, Bind, &c., and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family, for they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, or even the stoutest harness leather, without changing the feed, needle or tension, or making any adjustment of Machine whatever!!

They are simple in construction, and easily understood: and if any part is broken by accident, it is readily replaced.

These are PECULIAR FACTS, and will go far to determine the choice of any intelligent buyer.

PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE, OR SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

N. B.—Local agents wanted in sections not yet occupied. Address,

FINKLE & LYON, S. M. CO.,
No. 138 Broadway, New York.

4

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL PROFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DeBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, Pt. glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime.

Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DeBUISSON.

Mankato, May 4, 1860. [3-45-y]

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRING AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand

Cash paid for green and dry hides.

Mankato, June 26, 1863.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.

Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
Proprietor.

1y

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

——

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges

Medicines,

Fancy Goods,

Soaps, Brushes,

Patent Medicines,

Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils

Glass,

Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,

Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,

or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

NEW DRUG STORE!

DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS
SOAPS, PERFUMERY,
AND

FANCY GOODS

PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax.

Stationery,

BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions securely put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the

New Drug Store,

JASON WICKERSHAM,
Mankato, Minn

5

Valuable Lands for Sale.

BY direction of the Hon Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the lands hereinafter described, they being among the choicest and best farming land in Minnesota.

These lands comprise what are known as the Winnebago Trust Lands in the State of Minnesota, and will be sold to the highest and best bidder in tracts not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres each, under the provisions of a treaty concluded with the Winnebago Indians, April 15th, 1859, and an act of Congress, approved February 21st 1863, entitled "An act for the removal of the Winnebago Indians, and for the sale of their Reservation, in Minnesota, for their benefit."

No bid will be entertained at a rate less than two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

In case a bid is accepted, the party making the same will be notified as soon thereafter as practicable. If within thirty days after such notice the party shall fail to make payment to the undersigned, the tract for which such bid was made will be subject to sale to any other person.

Patents will be issued and transmitted to purchasers as soon after payment as the same can be prepared. Payments may be made either in cash or in the certificates of indebtedness of the Winnebago Indians, issued by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for the debt of said Indians, and secured to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of said lands by the third article of the treaty above mentioned. The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved. All bids must be sealed and addressed to the undersigned, Washington City, D. C., and endorsed "Bid for Winnebago Tract Land."

"DESCRIPTION OF LANDS."

List of "Winnebago Trust Lands" subject to sale after July 1st, 1863:

SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
Township 106, Range 23
se qr	5
e hf sw qr	6
e hf	7
sw qr	7
	18 19
ne qr	30
sw qr	30
Township 107, Range 23
n hf	6
w hf sw qr	6
w hf nw qr	7
w hf sw qr	7
sw qr	30
n hf	31
w hf sw qr	31
Township 108, Range 23
n frac hf nw qr	31
se frac qr nw qr	31
Township 106, Range 24
	25
	26
	27
	28
	29
	30 31 32 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 24
	1
ne qr	3
sw qr	3
n hf	5
	6
ne qr	9
s hf	10
	11
ne qr	12
sw qr	12
nw qr	13
	14
e hf	15
nw qr	17
	1
lots 1, 2 and 3	21
	2
n hf	24
	27
w hf	29
Township 108, Range 24
sw qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
sw qr	34
Township 106, Range 25
	25
	26 27
e hf	28
	30 31 32
e hf	33
	34 35
Township 107, Range 25
e hf	1
nw qr	1
w hf	2
ne qr	2
	15
Township 108, Range 25
se qr	33
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
e hf ne qr	34
w hf nw qr	34
w hf sw qr	34
e frac hf	35
nw qr	35
Township 106, Range 26
	1
	2 3
e hf	9
nw qr	4
ne qr	5
s hf	7
nw qr	11
e hf nw qr	12
	18 19
n hf	25
w hf	27
se qr	28
	30 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 26
w hf ne qr	3

SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
Township 107, Range 26
w hf	3
w hf se qr	3
se qr	4
	5
e hf	6
s hf nw qr	6
s hf	7
	8 9
nw qr	10
e hf	18
nw qr	18
e hf	19
w hf	20
w hf se qr	20
ne qr	24
sw qr	24
s hf	25
n hf	30
e hf nw qr	31
ne qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
w hf sw qr	32
w hf se qr	32
se se qr	32
se qr	34
sw qr	35
Township 108, Range 26
se ne qr	31
e hf se qr	31
sw se qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
e hf se qr	33
ne qr	34
Township 106, Range 27
se qr	1
s hf	2
se qr	3
ne qr	6
e hf se qr	6
w hf sw qr	6
sw qr	7
e hf	11
sw qr	11
	14
e hf nw qr	15
e hf sw qr	15
w hf	18
ne qr	18
w hf	19
se qr	19
ne qr	20
w hf	21
w hf ne qr	21
se qr	22
e hf nw qr	22
	23 27
e hf	28
Township 107, Range 27
n hf	2
ne qr	3
e hf sw qr	5
ne qr	6
w hf se qr	6
se nw qr	7
ne sw qr	7
nw ne qr	11
se qr	12
e hf nw qr	12
nw nw qr	12
ne qr	13
sw qr	13
e hf nw qr	13
sw nw qr	13
s hf ne qr	14
s hf nw qr	14
nw nw qr	14
sw qr	15
sw qr	17
n hf	18
sw qr	18
se qr	19
nw qr	20
sw qr	21
ne qr	22
se qr	26
nw qr	26
nw qr	28
se qr	29
s hf	31
ne qr	31
nw qr	32
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
Township 108, Range 27
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	31
nw qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
ne qr	32
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 of nw qr	32
se nw qr	32
sw qr	35

Bids will be received as above invited until the 1st of September next at which time all bids then received will be examined and acted upon.

After the first of September next bids will be received for the lands then remaining unsold, and examined and acted upon the expiration of each period of two months.

WILLIAM P. DOLE.
Commissioner of Indian Affairs.
Washington City, D. C., Aug. 4th, 1863.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co's GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEAGHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plows,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:

Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains, Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

I am Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.

Mankato, April 23rd 1863.

NEW LIVERY
&
Sale Stable,

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.
☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜
☞Charges moderate.☜

D. H. TYNER.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

The Mankato Weekly Union.

CHARLES H. SLOCUM, "LIBERTY AND UNION, NOW AND FOREVER, ONE AND INSEPARABLE." Editor and Proprietor

VOLUME 1. MANKATO, BLUE EARTH COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 4, 1863. NUMBER 8.

THE WEEKLY UNION,

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY
CHARLES H. SLOCUM.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
One Dollar and Fifty Cents per Year.
☞ All subscriptions paid in advance. ☜

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

1 square	1 week	$1 00	2 squares	6 months	9 00
1 "	2 weeks	1 50	2 "	1 year	15 00
1 "	3 "	1 75	3 "	1 week	2 25
1 "	4 "	2 00	3 "	2 "	3 00
1 "	5 "	2 25	3 "	3 "	4 00
1 "	6 "	2 50	3 "	4 "	5 00
1 "	7 "	2 75	3 "	3 months	9 00
1 "	2 months	3 00	3 "	6 "	12 00
1 "	3 "	3 75	3 "	1 year	20 00
1 "	4 "	4 50	¼ col	6 months	15 00
1 "	5 "	5 25	¼ "	1 year	25 00
1 "	6 "	6 00	⅓ "	6 months	18 00
1 "	1 year	10 00	⅓ "	1 year	30 00
2 "	1 week	1 75	½ "	6 months	25 00
2 "	2 "	2 50	½ "	1 year	40 00
2 "	3 "	3 00	¾ "	1 year	50 00
2 "	4 "	4 00	1 "	1 year	70 00
2 "	3 months	6 00

Business cards of five lines or less, $5.
Transient advertisements must be paid in advance—all others quarterly.

BUSINESS CARDS.

EVERETT P. FREEMAN.
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
OFFICE—Next door south of the Post Office, MANKATO, - - - - - MINN.
Prompt attention given to claims to be prosecuted before the State Board of Auditors, and to Court and Office business. Collections made and conveyancing done on reasonable terms.

MANKATO INS. AGENCY.
HARTFORD.
PHOENIX.
MERCHANTS—FIRE INS. CO'S.
CHARTER OAK LIFE INS. CO.
Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid by.
JOHN N. HALL.
Resident Agent.

O. P. LIEBERG,
FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER.—Having opened a Barber Shop with a view to establishing a permanent business in Mankato, I am prepared to wait upon gentlemen, and will guarantee satisfaction in every department of my business.
June 26, 1863.

G. A. STURGES, M. D.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
MANKATO, MINN.
OFFICE:—At his residence second door above the Mankato House.

Z. PADDOCK,
Attorney and Counselor at Law, and General Land Agent. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to him. Mankato, Blue Earth Co., Minn.

FRED'K HILDEBRANDT,
Manufacturer of and Dealer in all kinds of
FURNITURE & GILT MOULDING.
ALSO,
Imitation of Rosewood Mouldings, Ovals, Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames.
Ware Rooms in Schurmeier's Block, Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minn.

M. ZENOPOLSKI, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.
OFFICE:—Opposite the Clifton House.

DAVID WILCOX.
JUDGE OF PROBATE,
& ATT'Y AT LAW,
MANKATO - - - - - MINN.

WM. R. McMAHAN, M. D.
Office and Residence old at his stand, on the corner of Hickory and Second streets, one Block back of the Mankato House, where he will be found at all times, except when professionally absent.
He will furnish and compound his own medicines.

EDWARD OGLESBY,
Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hawley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work in his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October,

S. FINCH, O. O. PITCHER.
FINCH & PITCHER,
Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,
MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA.

MANKATO NURSERY.
THE Proprietor has for sale a choice collection of
Fruit Trees,
Comprising Apple, Pear, Cherry, Plum, and Quince Trees. Also a good assortment of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants, Rasp berries, Strawberries, and Pie Plant, together with
ORNAMENTAL TREES
Shrubs, Evergreens, Flowering Plants, &c
ROB'T GOODYEAR,
Mankato, Sept. 1861.

FAIRBANKS'
STANDARD
SCALES,
OF ALL KINDS.
FAIRBANKS, GREENLEAF & CO.,
172 LAKE STREET, CHICAGO.
☞ BUY ONLY THE GENUINE.

SOUTH BEND MILLS.
BIERBAUER & KOCKEY,
HAVING purchased the above mills, are prepared to manufacture all grades of FLOUR, CORN MEAL, ETC.
Wheat will be ground for every sixth bushel in quantities not less than ten bushels.
☞ Flour and mill stuffs always on hand at market prices. Feb 6-3m

Poetry.

ANTICIPATION.

BY MINNIE MARY LEE.

In an humble peasant's garden,
  At close of an afternoon,
She stood midst a shower of blossoms
  That sprang from the heart of June;
And fairer than the evening flowers
  Was the maiden in her bloom.

O never a gleam of sunset
  Hath kissed more bonnie brown hair,
Or even a breeze of evening
  Fanned brow more purely fair;
Nor ever by royal Princess
  Been worn more queenly air.

There, standing amidst the flowers,
  With distant songs of birds,
Her heart hymned out its happiness
  In musical, mystical words,
That fluttered forth into beauty
  Like so many gay winged birds.

To-day I am happier maiden
  Than ever was queen on her throne.
For I'm to be bride to-morrow
  Of Walter, my faithful, my own,
And I'm to be envied mistress
  Up there in his mansion of stone.

He says I shall wear richest jewels;
  And satins and laces so fine,
That no other bride of Ben Avon
  Shall wear such gay dresses as mine;
Nor one in such marvellous splendor,
  And beauty and brilliance shall shine

She turned, with a coquetish glancing,
  Her eyes on a diamond ring,
And then on a brilliant bracelet,
  A rare gemmed, fairy like thing;
And thus did her kindled fancy
  Float afar on a gorgeous wing.

A little month more, and the flowers
  Are mournfully torn, with the sod,
And beautiful Nelly, the dreamer
  Is laid 'neath the noisome clod,—
All her radiant visions evanished,
  Her soul gathered home to its God.

While up in the princely mansion,
  A lady high born doth dwell,
The bride of Sir Walter, the faithless,
  Who broke the heart of poor Nell,
And you never would think by his smiles
  That he knows this story I tell

Select Miscellany.

GOD'S SOLDIERS.

'If I were only a strong man!'

A sick girl sat propped up with cushions, near an open window, in the early September days, while summer yet lingered among the green leaves and flowers with which she had beautified the land. Her face was almost ghostly in its whiteness. Far back in their sockets lay her eyes, which neither pain nor wasting sickness had been able to dim. Her shadowy hands, with their long transparent fingers, lay, one across her bosom, the other resting, like a piece of exquisitely cut marble, on a purple cushion.

Not very far away from the gates of death. The road had already gone down from the sunlit plains, and was crowding in among the shadowy cypresses. Not far away from the gates of death. She knew it, and was not afraid.

'If I were only a strong man!' The tremulous fife, shrill but exhilerant; the throbbing drum, changing the time in which her heart was beating; the reverberant tread of armed men—these were yet in her ears, though the pageant was gone. Weak, sick, dying as she was, her soul was quickened by a new inspiration.

'But I can do nothing,' She sighed a little while afterwards, letting the white lids, with their thick fringes, fall over her glittering orbs,

'Nothing, Alice?'

The shut lids flew open, and the bright eyes were in the questioner's face.

'What can I do? I am not a man.'

'No, You are a weak, sick girl.'

'So weak, that these poor hands cannot even knit.'

'Just so weak, Alice.' The voice was burdened with tenderness.

'There are sick soldiers in our hospitals. But I cannot even visit them, nor do so small a thing as hold a cup of cold water to feverish lips.'

'No, you cannot even this.'

'I am helpless I can do nothing! And yet, I would give my life, if that would avail anything, for our country. To me, people do not seem to be half in earnest—do not seem to comprehend the peril in which we are involved. Men talk of business and gain, and women of dress and pleasure, as if no enemy were at the gates, mad for our destruction. I feel, sometimes, as if I must cry out from the windows, and warn the people of a danger they do not appear to dread.'

'If you could infuse your spirit into one who has the strength to stand up in the face of our enemies.'

The sick girl raised her head among the cushions, in a half surprised way.

'My spirits into another?' she said.

'Yes.'

'Into whom?'

The answer did not come until her question was repeated. Then the name 'Howard' was spoken.

'Howard?' It was evident that a pang had gone through her heart. Her lids fell quickly, and her face buried itself among the purple cushions.

'When our country is in danger, God lays upon us the duty of offering for its defence even our most precious things.'

The sick girl lifted her head again. If the pale face could be paler, it was paler now.

'Howard is brave and patriotic,' she said.

'I believe it, Alice.'

The eyes were shut again. A hard struggle was in progress,

'If I were not so weak, Aunt Phoebe. If the time were not so near at hand.' Her lips quivered and tears fell over her cheeks. Silence followed,

'Three years, or for the war! I should never see him again in this world! Oh, Aunt Phoebe, I am not strong enough for this!'

'Only in the degree that God gives us strength are we strong enough for any trial,' was gently answered. 'You asked, 'What can I do?' and the question is answered. Pour into another heart your strong enthusiasm. Vitalize another soul with your intense patriotism. I have watched you closely, Alice, when Howard has been here. You are not, apparently, the same girl then that you are when he is absent. You do not talk as strongly about the war; and if he shows any thing like military ardor, are silent: Not a single stimulus, so far as observed by me, have you offered to his love of country. Is this right? Are you doing your highest duty in thus seeking to hold him back from the ranks of patriots and defenders? I think Howard brave; I know him to be sound in principle. He belongs to that class of men who make the best soldiers. And why is he not in the army? The answer is with you. Speak the fitting word, and he will move at once to the call of duty. Into his manlier strength your warm life shall flow. On the battle-field your brave words will be in his thought and make him invincible. What can you do, Alice? You can give a man to the army of freedom—a man filled with your own spirit, counting not his life dear so that his country is saved.'

'Leave me to myself, Aunt Phoebe,' said the sick girl. 'God will no doubt give me strength; but I feel very weak now.'

Aunt Phoebe laid her lips tenderly on Alice's forehead, and then went out.

For a long time shadowing lashes lay closed upon white cheeks. The pale, thin mouth was shut. It was a sad mouth now. Was there strength enough? Could the sick girl bear this parting with her lover?—a parting in which there was little promise? And deeper still than this went the pang. She thought of wounding and of death. Could she give that precious one these? Send him away by a word to encounter, in his own dear person, the terrible things of which she had read as befalling in battle? Her weak heart shuddered. She grew faint and sick before the images imagination wrought into almost life-like existence. But this state passed. Other thoughts flowed into her mind, and changed the character of its creations She did not see the dark things of fear, but the great successes that lay beyond the strife of battle-fields. And now was revived the old ardor of patriotism. Up from the valley of doubt and fear she walked with firm steps and eyes fixed on the mountain-tops beyond. She had been ready to give all for her country—even her own life, if that poor offering could have availed anything—all but this! Now she was equal to the last great duty.

'I am strong in Thy strength,' she said, lifting her eyes meekly upward. 'Take all of earthly supports. I will lean upon Thy everlasting arm.'

The shadowy lashes no longer lay close down over her white cheeks. The pale, thin mouth, shut so tightly a little while before, was parted, and the sad expression gone. The clear eyes looked out upon the sunny sky and pleasant landscape. Her heart beat in renewed strength.

'Oh, Howard!' What a flash of joy went over her countenance! The door had opened and a young man entered. He was in age not past twenty-three; yet he had a firmly-set mouth, an eye of strength, and the step of one whose thoughts were already maturing into distinct life purposes.

'Dear Alice!' he said, and kissed her. Then taking her little hand, thin and colorless almost as snow-flake, he held it very tightly, sitting down and bending towards her as she lay among the purple cushions—gazing into her face and drinking in of its sweetness.

'If you were not so weak, Alice.' There was a meaning in his voice beyond the mere expression of regret. Alice felt this, and as she tightened her hand in his hand, answered—

'If I were not so weak—what then, Howard?'

His mouth grew serious. He looked at her for a little while, and then his eyes dropped to the floor.

'What then?' She pressed him for an answer.

'I would go from you for a little while.'

He saw her start. But instead of grief or pain, a soft smile lay upon her lips.

'Where?'

He stood up, drawing his form erect.

'I am a man—strong and of full stature.'

She did not answer, but her eyes were in his face.

'Do you understand me, Alice?' His voice was just a little unsteady. He sat down again, taking the hand he had relinquished a moment before.

'I think so.' She spoke very evenly.

'When our country calls upon us, Alice, God calls.'

'I believe it,' she answered,

'It has called upon me—has been calling for months. The summons is in my ears day and night, and, without sin, I can no longer remain disobedient. But how can I go, and you so weak, so frail? Oh, Alice, it is not that love has diminished, but the call of my duty grows more and more trumpet-like every hour.'

'You speak truly, Howard,' was the firmly given answer. 'When our country calls upon us, God calls. I have heard the voice, and recognizing it as the voice of God, have looked up asking. What can I do? I, so weak, so helpless—not able to minister even to my own needs. Oh, I have trembled in every nerve with excess of desire to respond.'

'Let me take your spirit, darling!' said the young man, bending down to her until his breath was upon her cheeks. 'Let me lift from your weak shoulders the burden of active duty and lay it upon my own. Strengthen me with your love! Say to me, go forth and offer the service of two hearts. I am ready to bear your gage of honor to the battle field as a true loyal knight.'

No fear came upon her heart. God was giving her strength for the hour. Her face grew warm, and the shrunken flesh, infilled by stronger pulsations, seemed to round with the fullness of health.

'Go forth,' she answered, 'and may God give you courage and endurance!'

The sick girl laid her head upon the bosom of her lover, and in the enthusiasm of the hour was happy.

But did not her steps falter as she moved along this new path of duty. No. Her love of country was genuine, and the ardor that flowed from this love no evanescent heat. For herself, she knew that her steps were daily descending to the river of death, and that in a very short time she would be amidst the encompassing waves Over the river faith saw the land of immortals, and the shining ones on the bank ready to receive her soul. She had conquered the human weakness that would hold her beloved to her side, and in saintly strength given him to his country in the hour of need.

How brave he looked in his uniform! How strong—how manly! Pride twined itself with her love, Never a word of weakness—never a look of pain—never a hindering tear. But always an inspiring strength. She hardly seemed to him a frail, dying woman, but a beautiful spirit, pointing the way through danger to duty.

The time of parting came. Alice had not dared to trust herself to think of this hour. Would she have strength for the trial? Strength of spirit? Yes. But the heart would beat faster and stronger with human emotions; and the frail body might not bear the strain.

'God's love and God's strength go with you, Howard!' She tried to be calm and brave. 'Be a true soldier! I shall be near you—always near you, Howard!'

He kissed her over and over again. Drew her wildly to his heart. Gave her a long look of impassioned love. Then, without utterance, tore himself from the room.

A messenger reached him an hour afterwards as he was marching to the place of embarkation, his regiment having been ordered to the Capital. The nature of this summons was such that he obtained leave to remain behind, and join his regiment on the next day.

The ordeal of parting had been to severe for Alice. The strength that came to her was unnatural, an excitement that consumed. When the scene passed she became so weak and tremulous that she could no longer sit among the cushions in her great arm chair, but had to be lifted to the bed, where she lay with shut eyes, and had breathed so low that Aunt Phoebe, as she stood over her, was sometimes in doubt whether the chest moved or not. Half an hour she thus lay. Then her lips moved, and as Aunt Phoebe bent down her ear she caught the whispered name Howard. It was then that she dispatched the messenger, who was just in time to reach the young soldier before his departure.

'Alice!' The voice went down to the region of consciousness. Slowly the lids upraised themselves, and there was light and joy in the eyes that looked in her lover's face.

'Oh, Howard!'

'You know me Alice?'

She smiled sweetly, but feebly; and her eyelids began to droop as if they were heavy with sleep.

'Alice!' he called tenderly, 'Alice!' She looked at him again.

'Do you know me, Alice?'

'Yes.'

'Who am I?'

Her eyes, now fixed and becoming glassy, were looking steadily into his eyes.

"God's soldier!"

As the words left her lips a brief smile played over them. Then the eyelids fell, and a veil was drawn over the ashen face. It was the veil of death!

'God's soldier!' said the young man, as, three days afterwards, he turned in tears from a new-made grave. 'Without fear, or reproach!' Amen.'

Prompt to the call of duty; patient under suffering; all-enduring; tender to the sick as a woman; quick to help the weak; pure from all sin; and brave as a lion in battle—so did this soldier of God, into whose life had flowed the lofty enthusiasm of another life, move among his fellows. Into their spirits his spirit was infused. They felt the motions of his undaunted courage, and found in his true words fitly spoken, an inspiration to noble deeds. Give such men to our armies, and having justice on our side, victory is sure to perch upon our banner.

God's soldiers! Men inspired by no thirst of blood—no hatred of their fellow man—no mere love danger and mad adventure, but self-devoted for their country; strong and brave from duty; ready to lay down their lives to defend great principles of human rights when assailed. These are they who, in the present great contest, are most needed. Send them forth, true wives, mothers, sisters, maidens! You know them. Lay no restraining hands upon their garments—put no hinderance in their way. God's soldiers must now to the field for all the powers of hell are moving to destroy the outposts of civil freedom. T. S. A.

A Sub Clerical Scapegrace.

Many good stories are told of Dr. Lawson, a Presbyterian minister in Scotland, who was so absent minded that he was sometimes quite insensible to the world around him, One of his sons, who afterward became a highly esteemed Christian minister, was a very tricky boy, perhaps mischievous in his tricks. Near the names lived an old woman of crabbed temper, and rather ungodly in her mode of living. She and the boy had quarrelled, and the result was he took a quiet opportunity to kill one of her hens. She went immediately to Dr. Lawson, and charged his son with the deed. She was believed, and as it was not denied, punishment was inflicted. He was ordered to abide in the house, and to make the sentence more severe his father took him into his study, and commanded him to sit there with him. The son was restless, and frequently eyed the door.

At last he saw his father drowned in thought, and quietly slipped out. He went directly to the old woman's and killed another hen, returning immediately, and taking his place in the library, his father having never missed him. The woman speedily made her appearance, and charged the slaughter again upon him. Dr. Lawson, however, waxed angry—declared her to be a false accuser, as the boy had been closeted with him all the time—adding: "besides, this convinces me that you had just as little ground for your first accusation; I therefore acquit him of both, and he may go out now. The woman went off in high dudgeon, and the prisoner in high glee.—Atlantic Monthly.

The First Minnesota Ordered to New York.

We are permitted to make the following extract from a letter of Sergeant Brack of the First Minnesota:

CAMP NEAR MORRISVILLE. Aug. 15.

We are very pleasantly encamped in a large field about three miles from what was the town of Morrisville. Our cavalry burned it down last winter, in revenge for being fired on from the houses in the villiage. There were twelve or fourteen houses in the villiage.

ALEXANDRIA, Aug. 16.

I had written the above lines when we received orders to pack up right away and be ready to march immediately, as the regiment was ordered to report at Alexandria to Gen. Halleck and await further orders. We left our camp and rejoined the regiment, started for Bealton's Station at 4 o'clock, P. M. We were reviewed by Gen, Warren, the commander of the Second Corps. The whole of our division was drawn up to see us off and as we passed them they presented arms and cheered us.

We reached the stationed about 7 o'clock and got aboard the cars about 9. Reaching Alexandria about midnight, we went into camp in the suburbs of the city and are there now.

We are going to New York harbor. We did not know this until this afternoon, when the order was read to be ready to embark for New York harbor. We are going to be quartered on Governor's Island. There are two regiments from our corps with us, the 8th Ohio and 7th Michigan. The order for us to embark, said the regiments had been selected on account of their good discipline. It is understood that we go for the purpose of enforcing the draft, if force is necessary; and if we are called on to enforce the conscription law in New York City, you depend on it, we will not use blank cartridges as they did, frighten the mob before, but we will give them the benefit of a few Minnie balls.

When you write, direct to the First Minnesota Regiment, Carroll's Brigade, Governor's Island, N. Y.

THINKING BETTER OF IT.

John Brent sat in his counting house. His face wore a worried look. At times he drummed idly with his fingers upon the desk; at others he vacantly turned back and forth the leaves of the ledger that lay before him. The civil war had broken out, and his business was very much depressed.

A few customers had repudiated their bills—many had forsaken him—while others bought so sparingly that it was not much of an object to wait upon them. Then, too, he had received several letters from his tenants, stating that in view of the war and the want of employment, they were unable to pay the rents they had contracted to pay, or which he contemplated demanding for the opening year.

He was a man well to do in the world, and the times had not driven him to any straits, or materially affected his position. Still he was fond of making money, and loved the excitement of business, and this sudden stagnation fretted him. While under this despondent mood, a young man entered his office. He was a sprightly, intelligent looking fellow, he approached the merchant quietly, holding his hat in his hand.

'Good morning, Master Wentworth,' said the merchant moodily.

'Mr. Morgan sent me over,' said the young man, 'to see if you would let him have eight hundred dollars for a few days. He was disappointed in certain quarters, and finds himself short this morning.'

'Tell Mr. Morgan,' said the merchant, gruffly, 'that I cannot possibly accommodate him. I am sick and tired of his applications.

'They have not been so frequent,' suggested the lad.

'Sufficiently so for me, sir.' 'He has always found a friend in you, Mr. Brent—and in every instance I am sure that your kindness has been appreciated. Has he not always fulfilled his promises promptly?'

'Did you not on one occasion receive a similar favor at his hands?'

'Master Wentworth, that will do. I am not in any mood to be catechised.—My own affairs are at loose ends, and I have my own source of worriment. I cannot let Mr. Morgan have the money!'

'I do not wish you to be offended at me, Mr. Brent. I do not wish to dictate you, or argue beyond the privilege of my years. The esteem in which I hold my employer, and my desire not to have him misrepresented is my excuse. Shall I report to him this conversation?'

'You are at liberty to report what you please. Mr. Morgan must look elsewhere.'

The young man departed, and Mr. Brent arose and walked slowly up and down the room, with his hands behind his back. The occurrence just described had added to his worriment. He felt out of humor with himself, and, as a consequence, with everybody else.

When he went home in the evening he carried his ill humor with him and influenced all who came in contact with him. He put his younger children aside—had no kind smile for his oldest daughter, who had placed his wrapper and slippers so cosily by the fire—and spoke harshly to his wife. The latter looked up in wonderment, but said nothing. She sensibly concluded that business matters had ruffled his temper and that it would soon wear off.

When he returned to the store the next day he was still out of humor, but with himself alone. He felt ashamed of the manner in which he had treated Mr. Morgan. He had the money in the bank, had no especial, or urgent use for it, and a dash of the pen would have been sufficient.—What would Mr. Morgan think of him? Had he done right? The matter worried him, he fretted under the accusation of his conscience. Perhaps Mr. Morgan had been refused in other quarters, and was sorely pressed.—What if it should drive him to the wall? Would he not be to blame?—Why did he add insult to the refusal? In what manner could he make reparation? He was just debating whether he should not yet offer to accommodate his friend, and apologise for his conduct, when a gentleman entered the office.

'Good morning, Mr. Brent.'

'The same to you, Carson—take a chair.'

'Why—no—I have hardly time.—Are you pressed for funds to day?'

'Not at all, Carson.'

'Well, I'm glad of it. You know I promised to lift that note at noon. It is for twenty-eight hundred dollars. I could do so now, only I hold a note against Mr. Morgan, and he is unable to pay to-day,'

'For how much is the note you hold against Morgan?' Asked Brent, quickly.

'For eight hundred dollars.'

'Then I will take it in part payment.'

'You will? Good, here is the note and my own check for two thousand dollars. That entitles me to that little 'scrip.'

'Here it is,' said the merchant opening his desk and handing his friend the redeemed note.

That afternoon Mr. Morgan entered the office of Mr. Carson. There was a painful expression on his face, and a restlessness in his movements.

Mr. Carson, I cannot pay that note to-day. I would do so willingly, but God knows I can't.'

'I have disposed of it Mr. Morgan.'

'You have? You did not throw it into the bank?'

'No—I did not. John Brent is your creditor, I paid part of my indebtedness to him with it this morning.'

'I am sorry,' said Mr. Morgan.

'Why?' asked the other in surprise.

'He is indulgent. Are you not good friends?'

'I cannot say that we are. There is at least a misunderstanding between us, I wanted to borrow of him yesterday, and he refused me, point blank, and very uncivilly too.'

'That is strange Morgan; there must be a mistake somewhere. It is unusual with him.'

'It was. I cannot comprehend it. I am sensitive about going to him now.'

'I do not see why you should be. Believe me the matter can be righted. He asked me for the note, and took it so willingly that it does not in the least correspond with the conduct you attribute to him.'

Mr. Morgan posted off to John Brent. The latter received him kindly.

'You have seen Mr. Carson?'

'I have.'

'He told you of the transfer?'

'Yes, that is what brought me here.'

'You need not give yourself any trouble about the note, Mr. Morgan. You can pay it whenever it suits you to pay it. If you are furthur pressed I will aid you. I owe you an apology. I am most heartily ashamed of my conduct, it has been a source of much worriment to me. But when your clerk applied to me, my mind was exercised by losses and perplexities in business, and I acted under the pressure of the moment. You will excuse my hasty, unkind reply?'

'Most willingly, Mr. Brent. You have taken a load off my mind, and you have my heartfelt thanks. I will lift that note at an early day.'

'Give yourself no trouble about it Mr. Morgan.'

John Brent was in a capital humor the remainder of the day. He was pleased with himself. He had made reparation in the best manner he could, and his business prospects did not appear so gloomy after all.

When home that evening, his wife said to him:

'My dear, you remember old Moses Ames, living at Harmony Court?'

'Yes—what of him?

'His wife was here yesterday. She says her husband cannot pay the rent for this quarter, and probably not for the next. You won't eject them?'

'Hardly; what is their plea?'

'Want of steady employment.—Half of the book-binders are in the same fix. He will pay you when his sons send their first wages home.'

'Has he any boys in the army?'

'Three.'

'Three! Good for old Ames.—Tell his wife they shall live rent free during the war, no matter how long it lasts.'

That was just like John Brent. His wife came and stood by his side.

'You could not have given me that reply yesterday evening,' she said.

'I did not dare to ask you. What was the matter?'

'O, nothing—only that I made a fool of myself.'

And John Brent related to his wife the affair with Morgan.

AN amusing thing occurred in the 24th Ohio. A few days since a soldier passing to the lower part of the encampment, saw two others from his company making a rude coffin.—He inquired who it was for.

"John Bunce," said the others.

"Why replied he, John Bunce is not dead yet. It is too bad to make a man's coffin when you don't know if he is going to die or not."

"Don't trouble yourself," replied the others." "Dr. Coe told us to make the coffin, and I guess he knows what he give him.

AVARICE is more opposed to economy than liberality is.

The Weekly Union.

Mankato, Friday, Sept. 4, 1863.

Republican Union Ticket.

For Governor,
STEPHEN MILLER,
of Stearns County.

For Lieutenant Governor,
CHARLES D. SHERWOOD,
of Fillmore County.

For Secretary of State,
DAVID BLAKELY,
of Olmsted County,

For Auditor of State,
CHARLES McILRATH,
of Nicollet County.

For State Treasurer.
CHARLES SCHEFFER,
of Washington County.

For Attorney General,
GORDON E. COLE,
of Rice County.

For Clerk of the Supreme Court,
GEO. F. POTTER,
of Houston County.

Union County Convention.

The Republicans, and all unconditional Union men of Blue Earth County are hereby requested to elect delegates in the several towns to represent them in a County Convention to be held at Mankato, on Saturday, the 5th of September, at 2 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of choosing delegates to the District Convention, to nominate one Senator and three Representatives, for the 17th Legislative District, and placing in nomination, candidates for the following county offices:—

Register of Deeds; Sheriff; Treasurer; Judge of Probate: County Surveyor; one County Commissioner for the 2d District; and one for the 3rd District,

The several towns are requested to hold their caucuses at the usual places of holding elections, on Thursday, the 3rd of September, at 3 o'clock P. M.

The ratio of representation will be as follows:

Mankato,	7	Shelby,	2
South Bend,	4	Sterling,	2
Judson,	2	Mapleton,	1
Butternut Valley,	2	Danville,	1
Ceresco,	1	Le Ray,	1
Watonwan,	5	Jamestown,	1
Vernon,	2	Lime,	1

Ignoring past differences, mindful of present duties, and hopeful for the future, let us strive to put the right men in the right places, and while our gallant soldiers are shedding their blood so profusely to uphold our glorious Union, let us show them that what their valor secures shall not be jeopardized by us at home.

Per order of the Republican Co. Com,
J. T. WILLIAMS,
Aug. 21st, 1863. Chairman.

Republican Union Platform.

Resolved, that we, chosen to represent in convention the unconditional Union men of Minnesota, grateful to Almighty God for the success which has hitherto crowned the arms of our country and for the prospect thus opened of a speedy, honorable and lasting peace, do hereby, for our friends and constituents, re-affirm our determination to support our Government by every means in our power in the vigorous prosecution of this present war,—on our part, holy, just, and forced upon us by the criminal acts of others,—until not an enemy in arms shall be found within our borders. And to this we pledge our lives our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

2. That we tender our grateful thanks to the survivors of our glorious armies, and our warm sympathy to the relatives of their gallant dead, who have won for the country so glorious victories, for themselves imperishable renown, and for us all an assurance of liberty and safety for our children, under our beloved and now well-tried Government.

3. That with especial pride we point to the gallant achievements on many a hard-fought battle-field, of our Minnesota regiments. Their bravery, discipline, and patriotism have won for them a name that shall never die, and made it forever honorable to be a citizen of Minnesota.

4. That, without claiming for it exemption from error, we heartily endorse the general policy and conduct of our National Administration; and we point to the recent magnificent triumph of our armies as its best vindication from the charges of incapacity so freely brought against it by those who prefer national ruin, to success under the present Administration. Especially do we approve the emancipation proclamation, and the raising of black troops as being among the best possible measures to weaken the enemy and strengthen ourselves.

5 That our State Administration, and our Congressional Delegation deserve our hearty approbation for the zealous and efficient cooperation they have afforded the National Authorities in carrying on the war.

6 That we call upon those in authority to take such measures, by retaliation or otherwise, as shall effectually prevent brutal and barbarous treatment by the enemy of our soldiers, of whatever color.

7 That it is due to our shattered armies in the field, as well as to the sacred cause which they uphold, that their ranks should as speedily as possible be filled up by every means in our power. It is due to the country that the mobs raised to resist and prevent the draft, should not seem to have succeeded a day longer than is necessary to enforce the laws.

8 That the way to peace is and ever has been open to the rebels; the only condition we have ever sought to impose, is that they should lay down their arms and submit to the authority of the General Government. We protest against the making of any terms with them in advance as to their status as communities, when they shall have returned to their allegiance. Having been declared "public enemies" by a recent unanimous decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, they must accept the consequences that legitimately flow from having placed themselves in that position.

GIVES IT UP!

We publish in another column a very praise-worthy article of the candidates on the Democratic State Ticket, Its authorship can be traced by the credit given at its close. The editor virtually gives up the contest on the State Ticket, and hopes that on the county ticket men will be placed in nomination "who will, at least, receive the cordial support of the party." Verily, "Othello's occupation's gone." Such "demoralization" is truly affecting.

REMARKS UNNECESSARY.

We thought to make a few remarks on the abilities of the several candidates placed in nomination by the Copperheads at St. Paul last week; but we find in the St. Paul Pioneer and Mankato Record, articles praising them so highly, that any words of comment from us is unnecessary. We ask for a careful perusal of the articles which will be found in another column.

THE Minnesota River Baptist Association will hold its next anniversary at Traverse des Sioux, on the 19th and 20th of September.

Patrons! lo your Interests!

You who are patrons of schools, should notice, that, while your children are absent from school one day or two, they not only loose that day, but a certain per, cent, of what they learned the day, before. Remember that punctuality is one of the noblest acquirements, and when once acquired, it ensures success to us in any vocation of life. The one who attempts one business, or trade to day and another to morrow, seldom meets with success; while he who devotes his whole time and concentrates all his energies in one pursuit, is the one who prospers.

"A word—if we are wise—will do."

Indians Near Paynesville.

EXCITING ADVENTURE OF A COUPLE OF ST. CLOUD GENTLEMAN.—On Saturday, while Dr. J. V. Wren, Post Surgeon for Richmond and Paynesville, and Capt. T. M. Newson, C, R., were returning from Paynesville, and when about three miles this side, three objects were discovered on an emminence a half mile off, observing the movements of these gentlemen as they passed along in their buggy. After some inspection it became apparent that they were Indians, and this idea was confirmed when one of them arose from his recumbent position, folded his blanket around him and started down a ravine that lead to the road some distance in advance, with the evident intention of cutting our party off But they had heard of Indians before, and were not to be intimidated by anything of this kind; and moreover the Dr. had observed that the miserable red-skin had no gun, and he did not fear the bow and arrows. So, giving the Captain the reins, he took his own rifle, and with perfect coolness prepared to give the wary foe a warm reception. They drove along as before, the near approach to danger failing to effect them, and they talked as calmly as though there were seated in their respective offices in this city. Approaching the ravine, Doctor got his rifle in position and closed his teeth firmly, Coming directly opposite, they found that they were in advance of the enemy, and stopping the buggy waited for his coming, prepared to surprise him. After a moment's suspense a huge—sand-hill crane came stalking along, and seeing the warlike array, started off on his barn-door wings, followed shortly by the two others on the hill. The Doctor took the reins and made the best time to this city that is on record, After they reached here, the story seemed too good too keep.

Their mistake, however, is not to be wondered at. The peculiar state of the atmosphere on the prairie frequently magnifying objects at a short distance so that they can be resolved into anything. It is in this way that two-thirds of our Indian stories have orginated; and this party certainly deserve credit for ferreting the matter out. It was but the day before that a squad of men from Paynesville had made a charge in another direction on a brace of these big cranes, they having been reported as Indians.

The Captain says that when the Doctor had his rifle in position to shoot, near the ravine, he observed that both his eyes were shut. but we think this must have been a mistake.—St. Cloud Democrat.

Incidents of the Burning of Lawrence.

COMMENCEMENT OF THE MASSACRE.

About sunrise, or a little before, on the 21st inst., four men forcibly entered the house of a Rev Mr. Snyder, living about a mile southeast of Lawrence, and pierced him through and through with balls from their revolvers, while lying in bed by the side of his wife. At the same time, a body of about three hundred well mounted beings in the shape of men, all armed to the teeth, dashed into town and spread themselves instantly over the whole business part of the place, shooting down every man who dared to show himself.

UNARMED SOLDIERS SHOT DOWN.

In this dash two small camps of recruits, on Massachusetts street (one of white and the other colored) were surrounded, and the poor defenceless fellows, without a gun in camp, and begging most piteously for their lives, were pierced through and through with bullets, and all but four of the two unfilled companies left mangled corpses on the ground.

THE BANKS.

Were robbed as well as the safes of the stores and offices. One man gave up all he had, and was then shot down. It is supposed they carried away in greenbacks some $100,000. The other property—except horses—they took away, was not much, The loss is estimated at between one and two millions.

GEN. LANE.

had a miraculous escape. He heard the firing and saw Willis' stable burning, and made tracks through a large corn field near his house. Inquiries were made by the gang for Lane's house, and a Mr. Spicer was detailed by them to show his house. Placing a pistol to his head, they compelled him to pilot them to Lane's house. They could not catch the General but burnt his house. The Gen. soon after made his appearance, and is now after the murderers.

INCIDENTS.

I cannot refrain from giving you an instance or two of the savage barbarity practiced by these demons. They brought Mr. Trask to the door of his house and told him if he would give up his money they would not shoot him, but as soon as he had given it up he was instantly shot. He then tried to escape by running, but they followed and shot him dead.

Dr. Griswold was in his house when they attacked him. His wife put her arms around him, and begged most piteously for his life, when one of them passed his arm holding the revolver, around her; and shot the Doctor through the haert.

One of the most cowardly acts was the shooting of men, women and children as they passed down under the bank toward the river.

A gun smith by the name of Palmer, and his son, were burnt up in their shop before dying from their wounds.

A riding party of two ladies and gentlemen were met just outside the city, and compelled to go back. Quantrell invited the ladies to ride beside him into the city, and they did so.

News Items.

BY a recently published correspondence between the rebel authorities at Charleston and the War Department at Richmond, it appears that the U. S. colored soldiers captured at Morris Island have been turned over recently to the State authorities of South Carolina.

THE Catawba, one of the iron gunboats building at the navy yard in Cincinnati, is rapidly approaching completion, but will probably not be lanuched for several months. Her model is the same as Ericson's monitors, but much smaller.

The Hartford Courant has a subscriber who has taken that paper for sixty-four years. He is ninety-two years old, and probably will never die, so long as he continues to pay for his paper regularly. Go thou and do likewise.

THE Hon. John A. Kasson, formerly First Assistant Postmaster General, has arrived at his home in Iowa from the International Postal Congress at Paris. Through the action of this Congress, which was convened mainly through the exertions of Mr. Kasson, all foreign postal rates will be greatly reduced and simplified.—Already three or four treaties have been formed, on the new basis abolishing general accounts between the United States and foreign countries, saving much expense in exchange, and much trouble in postal affairs.—It is the intention of the Postmaster General to obtain one rate to all countries beyond France, receiving a large reduction on existing rates, and a uniform single weight of one half ounce, with a greatly reduced rate on newspapers and other matter sent by mail.

Alice B. Haven (formerly Alice B. Neal) died on sunday last at her residence in Mamaroneck, Westchester county, New York, at the age of thirty-five years. Her maiden name was Emily Bradley, but while a school girl she sent, under the pseudonyme of Alice G Lee, many attractive sketches to the Saturday Gazette, then recently established by Joseph C. Neal, in Philadelphia. She was married to Mr. Neal in 1846, and at his request assumed and has since retained the name of Alice. On the death of her husband, in 1849, she took the editorial charge of the Gazette, and conducted it for several years, contributing at the same time poems, sketches, and tales to the leading magazines. In 1853 she was married to Mr. Samual L. Haven, and since resided in Westchester county.

STATE ITEMS.

ASSIGNED.—We learn that Major Wm. B. Leach, of this place, has been ordered to Boston Harbor, and placed in charge of the conscripts who are collecting there.—Hastings Conserver.

DR. S. H. Chute, of St. Anthony, has presented to the editor of the Minneapolis News some apples from a tree eleven years old, which has borne regularly for the past four years.—Ibid,

HORSE THIEVES.—Last spring David Hancock lost two horses, and has probably spent fifty dollars in searching for them. About two weeks ago one of them was returned to him by a Norwegian, who claimed to have taken him up. The horse had been painted, showing conclusively that unfair means had been resorted to, to prevent discovery, and leading to the reasonable belief that he was stolen. —Volunteer,

A GOOD HIT.—Among the conscripts in Madison county, N. Y., is Mr. Baker, of the Democratic Union. Whereupon his neighbor of the Dispatch wickedly remarks that as the editor of the Union "has been vehement in denunciation of the 'three hundred dollars clause,' we expect soon to bid him 'farewell,' and record his 'departure for the seat of war.' "—Ex.

RAILROAD ITEMS.—Matters are progressing finely with the Winona and St. Peter railroad. The Company have been able, during the harvest season, to keep a large force of hands at work; and had it not been for the very low stage of water in the river, which prevented heavy timbers for their bridges from being run down, would be ready to open out to St. Charles by the 1st of September. It is hoped now that the road will be in running order to that place by the 1st of October.—Winona Republican.

BURGLARY.—Last Thursday night, the store of Mr C. Clauson, on the corner of Plum and Third Streets, was broken into, and goods to the amount of $300, stolen and carried away. Mr. Clauson suspected a person who had lately come down the river in a skiff, being the burglar, and immediately telegraphed to Lake City to have the individual arrested as he went by. The officer kept watch, and sure enough he caught the gentleman as he was going through the lake, and recovered the greater portion of the goods. The thief was taken to the hotel and confined in an upper room, but singular to relate, made his escape, leading to the reasonable suspicion that bribery had something to do with it, as, we are told, the thief attempted to purchase his release when first arrested. Mr. Clauson recovered all but about fifty dollars worth of his goods, but at an expense of nearly fifty dollars.—Goodhue Volunteer.

The Democratic State Convention.

We publish elsewhere a brief synopsis of the proceedings of the Democratic State Convention, including the platform adopted and the ticket nominated.

The ticket, on the whole, is a weak one, and does not, we think, give satisfaction to the Democracy of the State. Mr. Wells, the gubernatorial nominee, is said to be a very agreeable and clever gentleman, and as far as we know, fully competent for the position to which he aspires. He is not the man, however to inspire the party with the hope of success, as would have been the case with Senator Rice, or General Gorman.

Messrs. La Due and McKinney, for Lieutenant Governor and State Auditor, are recognized as among the leaders of a small but radical element of the party. They have each made themselves personally obnoxious by the bitterness with which they have always advocate their views and which, we regret to say, are such as we are not willing to endorse.

Major Welch, for Secretary of State, is a very good man. and by his gallant services in the field has given the best evidences of his devotion to the Union cause. We do not think, however, that he will accept the nomination.

Mr. Grant, for Attorney General, is a second rate criminal lawyer, with abilities not in accordance with his aspirations.

With the remainder of the ticket, we are not acquainted, but hope they are good men.

So far as the platform is concerned, we see nothing very objectionable in it, If the ticket placed upon it was composed of men, all of whom, by their past acts and deeds, gave the assurance that they were really and earnestly in favor of the principles embodied therein, we think it would be more acceptable to the people. But, for ourself at least, we are very strongly inclined to doubt their professions.

If the platform as adopted was the unanimous choice of the Convention, we are at a loss to understand the rejection of the amendment offered by Col. Robertson. It is not inconsistent with the other resolutions, but embodies more clearly and definitely the opinions apparently intended to be enunciated by the convention.

There is no disguising the fact, that the result of the convention is very different from what was expected by the masses of the party, and what we were lead to anticipate from the character of the gentlemen composing it. Indeed, we are assured that the result was not in accordance with the views of a large majority of the delegates, but was brought about by the bungling conduct of those representing the conservative element, and the trickery of the radicals.

There never was a better opportunity to achieve a Democratic victory in Minnesota than before the meeting of the State Convention, which, however, has blasted all hopes of success and virtually disorganized the party. The matter might be remedied by another convention, but we do not think the present nominees would resign for that purpose. Having triumphed over the conservatives, they will prefer an ignominious defeat to the slightest concession on their part,—Record.

The Democratic State Ticket.

It has become a custom to notice in detail the nominees of political conventions; partly for the gratification of the public curiosity, and partly as a matter of duty incumbent upon the public press, We submit to the requirements of this custom, in respect to a majority of the candidates presented by the Democratic State Convention, very much as the patient takes ipecac at the hands of the doctor—with a most revolting sensation at the pit of the stomach.

The nominee for Governor, Mr. H. T. Welles, of Hennepin county, and the candidate for Secretary of State, Major A. E. Welch, of the 4th Regiment, are exceptions to the irretrievably base material of which the ticket is composed.

Mr. Welles is a gentleman of fair parts, good education, high tone, and comfortable property. The nomination does him infinite injustice, in bringing him into public contempt, when he has done nothing to merit such a wrong. Socially a gentleman, he is classed with a parcel of low fellows, destitute of character or brains, who calculate to maintain themselves through the canvass on the strength of association with a citizen of unblemished reputation, and whose future claim to respectability will be the fact of such association. Mr. W. owes it to his good repute as a man, and to his utter disgrace as a politician, that he should instantly retire from the unenviable connection in which the convention has placed him.

Major Welch is a young man of thorough education and correct training. He had just finished his collegiate course when the war broke out, and, with all the enthusiasm of a patriotic, impulsive nature, he helped to raise a company for the glorious 1st Minnesota, and entered the service as a lieutenant. He was wounded and taken prisoner at the first Bull Run battle, confined as such for months in Southern prisons, and, while thus in captivity, was rewarded for his gallantry and his sufferings, by promotion to his present rank. He returned to the State while our Indian troubles were upon us, and took command of the Third Regiment, and with that participated in the battle of Wood Lake, where he was a second time wounded. On his recovery he joined his regiment, the Fourth, and remained with it until after the surrender of Vicksburg,—being in the previous battles, and particularly in the famous assault, whereat he received a third wound. He is now at home on sick furlough. He is a talented, noble, gallant young man and officer; and we cannot conceive that he will allow himself to remain on this infamous ticket.

Mr. A. D. La Due, the nominee for Lieutenant Governor, we have known for fifteen years, and each year of the fifteen has added to our original conviction that he is an ass, absolute and irredeemable. He is insufferably vain, without a single quality outside of his vast impudence to be vain of—a weak, blatant, uncompromising ass. His nomination, however, has the merit of propriety in it; for, taking the convention as a whole, was, propably, the fittest representative to be found of the loyalty and intelligence of its members.

The candidate for State Auditor is John H. McKinney, editor of the Chatfield Democrat. He comes as near being a rebel as the fears of a political prison will allow him to be, and his paper is as pestiferous a sheet as limited brains, stimulated by a disloyal heart, enable him to make it.

The nominee for State Treasurer is Peter Wilkins, of Le Sueur county. We don't know that there is anything infamous attacked to Peter Wilkins; he is simply unfit for any position of responsibility, public or private William H. Grant, of Ramsey County, is the nominee for Attorney General. Mr. Grant is of the Quirk and Snap order of attorneys—what they call in New York "Tombs' lawyers," and which signifies the lowest and most contemptible in the profession. He is generally found in the police courts, or before a petty magistrate, for the criminal in the one place, and for the plaintiff in the other, in small cases involving five and ten dollars of damages. He is recognized by the respectable portion of the bar only under protest, and ranks simply as a low, vulgar dissipated pettifogger. He, however, properly represents the convention that placed him where he is.

Mr. Hugo Petzold, the candidate for Clerk of the Supreme Court, is a poor, miserable vagabond, but who, degraded as he is, cherishes too high a sense of self-respect to permit his name to remain on the ticket. His card, declining the nomination tendered, is printed elsewhere.

With this exception the list of candidates is complete. A Democratic convention, in nominating such a set of men for high positions, has put its party outside the pale of support by any man who cherishes any sentiment of public duty or of personal honor. Its action is a deliberate insult to the loyal, intelligent masses whom its members represented. It has cast the brave old organization into the dirty depths of the gutter; and, since it has fallen into such unworthy hands, there let it lie, and rot.—St. Paul Pioneer.

Operations Against Charleston.

From the Richmond Dispatch, August 20.

The object of general interest and attention now is Charleston. The enemy have a particular hatred for that city, and would enjoy sweet revenge in its capture. He concentrating all the strength of enginery, naval and land, which in his power to bring to bear upon its defences. The weight of metal that will be employed before the decision of the question whether Charleston shall be taken or not, will exceed that concentrated in any of the sieges of this war, so notable for them. The enemy is never so completely at home as he is in such attacks. Let him but undertake an enterprise where his machinery and the spade are chiefly available, and he proceeds upon it with a perseverance and energy that have never been surpassed. So in the essay to break through the defenses at Charleston and reach the heart of the city, he is engaged in the employment that suits him best of all. if any that is warlike can suit him at all. The bombardment of that place will, perhaps, exceed anything in the history of the kind. But there are defending Charleston as brave men as ever walked the earth—men who love their country, and consider it glorious to die for it. They are commanded by an officer who is one of the best military men of his day, and who has earned a brilliant fame in this war. If taken at all, the place will not be reached until all that man can do has been done to defend it; and we are gratified to learn from the Charleston Mercury that it has been determined to defend the city "street by street, house by house, as long as there is a foot of earth left to stand upon."—This is in accordance with the expressed wish of the convention of South Carolina in 1851, when an attack was anticipated. But Charleston has not fallen, and there is good reason to be not only hopeful but cheerful about its fate. It will be settled soon, and, we hope, by the signal repulse of the enemy.

Incidents of Campaigning.

From North Carolina come the following incidents of soldier life, which has been told me of the siege of Newbern:

Just before the battle began a militia Captain was endeavoring to get a company of home guards organized to go down to meet the "invader." The men were on the ground, and the Captain, who had evidently never read Hardee's tactics, wanted to form them into two ranks; but instead of the usual order, "In two ranks form company—march!" substituted one entirely original, and shouted at the top of his voice, "In two lines right smart—go ahead!"

That is almost as good as the following report of a sergeant of one of the colored regiments lately organized. Every one who has ever seen a dress parade knows that just before the ranks are broken, the Adjutant gives the order, "First Sergeants to the front and centre!" when the representatives of all the companies form a line at the front and centre of the regiment, and each one, from Company A to K, after making the proper salute, says, "Company—all present or accounted for." The usual routine had been performed in the colored regiment, and the Sergeants ordered to the front, when the sable Orderly of Co. A, after coming to a shoulder and bringing his left hand to a salute, forgot what to say, and in that position looked right and left, greatly embarrassed. "How is your Company?" asked the Adjutant With a chuckle of relief Sambo quickly replied, "Cowpany all well, tankee, sir."

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Notice of Redemption from Tax Sale

Lot 10 in block 24, Mankato; sold June 4th, 1863 to Wm. F. Funk, Redeemed Aug. 24th, 1863, by L. W. Powell.
CHAS. A. CHAPMAN, Auditor.
Mankato, August 23, 1863.

SINGER & CO'S.
Letter "A" Sewing Machine.
WITH ALL THE IMPROVEMENTS.

IS the best and cheapest and most beautiful of all Sewing Machines. This Machine will sew anything, from the running of a tuck in Tarlton to the making of an Overcoat—anything from Pilot or Beaver Cloth down to the softest Gauze or Gossamer Tissue, and is ever ready to do its work to perfection. It can fell, hem, bind, gather, tuck, quilt, and has capacity for a great variety of ornamental work. This is not the only Machine that can fell, hem, bind, and so forth, but it will do so better than any other Machine. The Letter "A" Family Sewing Machine may be had in a great variety of cabinet cases. The Folding Case, which is now becoming so popular, is, as its name implies, one that can be folded into a box or case, which, when opened makes a beautiful, substantial, and capacious table for the work to rest upon. The cases are of every imaginable design—plain as the wood grew in its native forest, or as elaborately finished as art can make them. The Branch Offices are well supplied with silk, twist thread, needles, oil, etc,, of the very best quality,

I. M. SINGER & CO.,
458 Broadway, N. Y.
Milwaukee Office, 17 Marshall House.
D. WILCOX, Agent Mankato, Minn.

Flour for Sale.

THE undersigned has FIFTY Barrels of Fine Flour for sale at $3,50 per barrel.
7 JOHN N. HALL.

Notice.

AS I have been regularly authorised by F. M. Gunning, surviving partner of the late firm of "Hensley & Gunning," to settle up the business matters of said firm, all persons indebted to them are requested and advised to make immediate payment to me, or, during my temporary absence from town, to C. H. Slocum, editor and proprietor of the UNION. E. P. FREEMAN.

☞BEFORE PURCHASING A
Piano or Melodeon,
REMEMBER
W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.,
DEALER IN
PIANOS
AND MELODEONS!

PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake St.
CHICAGO,
DEALER IN
"GOLD PRIZE MEDAL"
PIANOS,
MELODEONS,
SCHOOL ORGANS
AND
Harmoniums

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO'S PIANOS.
J. & C. FISCHER'S "
G. A. MILLER & CO'S "
WM. P. EMERSON'S "
J. W. VOSE'S "
KURTZMAN & HINZE'S "
GROVESTIEN & CO'S "
And other Boston and New York Manufactures.

☞The reputation of the Pianos of the above manufacturers is a sufficient guarantee of their merit; and every instrument sold by me will be
WARRANTED
in all respects to give
SATISFACTION.

MY MELODEONS
are from the best manufacturers, and inferior to none in the market.

An Illustrated Catalogue describing every instrument will be furnished upon application to me by mail, giving the PRICE and STYLES of the instruments.

☞Orders from the country will receive prompt attention Address, before purchasing or looking elsewhere

Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons

W. W. KIMBALL,
7 142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS, on the twenty-third day of January, A. D., 1860. John C. Jones, of Blue Earth County, mortgaged to Edward R. Parry and Richard R Parry, the north half of the north-east quarter, and the south-east quarter of the north-east quarter of section twenty-eight, and the south west quarter of the north west quarter of section twenty-seven, all in township one hundred and nine north of range twenty-nine west, in Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, to secure the payment of one hundred and eighty-seven dollars and sixty-five cents and interest in six months from date; and said mortgage was duly recorded in book "D" of mortgages, on pages 117 and 118 in the Register's office in said County on the 23d day of January, A. D., 1660, and whereas the whole mortgage debt, is past due, and but seventy-five dollars has been paid of the principal and interest, and the amount now due thereon is one hundred and sixty-five dollars, and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured; Now notice is hereby given to all whom it may concern, that if the said debt is not paid before that time, the following portion of said mortgaged land, to wit. The east half of the north-east quarter of section twenty-eight, and the south-west quarter of the north-west quarter of section twenty-seven (27) all in township one hundred and nine north of range twenty-nine west, will be sold at public auction between the hours of 9 o'clock, A. M., and the setting of the sun, on the 13th day of October, A. D., 1863, at the office of the Register of Deeds in said County, by the sheriff of said county to satisfy said mortgage and costs, in pursuance of the power of sale attached to said mortgage.
Mankato, Aug. 28th, 1863.
EDWARD R P RRY, } Mortgagees
RICHARD R. PARRY, }
FINCH & FITCHER, Attys for Mortgagees. 7

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.
OF
The Chicago Tribune.
A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.
Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obediance to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wildcat Skinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune challenges comparison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1.33)	4.00
Five copies, (rate of $1.25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1.10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.
One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.
One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;
Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,) $18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,) 35 00
☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address
TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

THE COUNTY.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

St. Paul—Arrives at 9 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.
Eastern—Arrives at 4 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.
Blue Earth City—Arrives at 5 P. M. and departs at 7 A. M. Closes 7 P. M.
Office hours—5 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays, 5 to 7 A. M., and 12 M. to 1 P. M.

R. J. SIBLEY, Postmaster.

Agents for the Union.

The following are authorized to receive and receipt for monies paid on subscription to the UNION:

Mankato—MARTIN N. SLOCUM.
South Bend—LARS LEE.
Garden City—RAY & WILLIAMS.
Vernon—THOMAS SOWERS.
Shelbyville—H. A. BUCK, R. SHANNON.
Winnebago City—HOLLY and WELCH.
Verona—A. D. MASON.
Blue Earth City—W. J. C. ROBERTSON.
Fairmount—W. W. CARRINGTON.
Mapleton—S. MIDDLEBROOK.
Madelia—C. G. MULLEN.
New Ulm—J. C. RUDOLPH.
Judson—MR. GOODWIN.
Winnebago Agency—LUCIUS DYER.
Sterling—WILLIAM RUSSELL.
Butternut Valley—REV. J. JENKINS.

NOTICE.—Should anything spicy appear in the UNION this week, it can easily be accounted for, as the editor is absent at St. Paul, and the "devil" is running the paper on his own "hook."

DOING WELL.—Sheriff Tyner whose leg was broken by a kick from a horse a few weeks ago, is getting on finely.

PROGRESSING.—Charlie Heinze's new building is rapidly approaching completion. It will be an ornament to the town, and reflects credit upon the enterprise of its builder.

THE many friends of Rev. Mr. Hicks will be pained to learn that he is still confined to his room, by sickness. He is attended by Dr. E. B. Mattocks.

MITE SOCIETY.—The next meeting of this society will be held on Tuesday of next week, at the residence of Mr. Brink. We bespeak for it a full attendance.

CAPT. M. A. Dailey of Steele county, has resigned the office of State Senator, owing to his position in the army. The vacancy will be filled at the November election.

AID SOCIETY—The next regular meeting of the Ladies Soldiers Aid Society will be held at the residence of Frances T. Waite, on Thursday Sept 10th at 2 o'clock P. M.

THE correspondent who sent us a few lines of poetry, forgot to send along her real name as a guarantee of good faith. We take no notice of communications unless the real name of the author is given, confidentially.

IMPROVEMENT.—We notice that the residence of Dr. McMahon is being much improved in appearance, by the application of a good coat of paint. Every improvement of the kind adds much to the good looks of our town.

THANKS.—Mr. Ambrose Lorenz will receive our thanks for a fine lot of Apples. Ambrose's is the place to get a good thing in the Liquor, Segar, or Apple line and, may his Apple barrel like the widows Cruise of oil never run dry.

ALL IS WELL THAT ENDS WELL.—Thus exclaimed many thousands after trying the celebrated Chemical Saleratus of DeLand & Co. They say it works like a charm, and they always have nice light bread, biscuit, cakes, &c. It never fails.

PERSONAL—O. P. Light Chaplin of the 7th regiment, arrived in town last Tuesday evening from Sibly's Expedition.

Capt. J. Dane left for Hutchinson on Wednesday. We are glad to learn that he returns to his command much improved in health.

RETURNED.—After an absence of several months, we are pleased to notice the arrival among us of our enterprising townsman Wm. Irving. We understand that he is expecting on a stock of goods in a few days. We bespeak for him a reasonble share of patronage.

A GOOD PIECE OF WORKMANSHIP.—U. S. Collector Hall has, in his office a large new counter, made of butternut, which is a fine piece of work.

It contains fifty different compartments. It was gotten up by Charlie Heilborn, who has done a "bigthing" for himself, this time, sure.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—The house of Hon. J. B. Wakefield, of Blue Earth City, was struck by lightning last Friday. It was unoccupied, but contained a few of Uncle Sam's rifles. The lightning went down the chimney and entered the barrels of two of the guns, bursting them entirely open. No other damage was done.

SERENADE.—Messrs. Rogers, Harmon Tyner, and ——— will please accept our thanks and the thanks of others, for that Serenade of Monday evening last. We have seldom, if ever, listened to such really soul-enchanting music The soft sweet tones of the violin and dulcimer sounded full and clear upon the evening air, and the correct execution of the pieces played, was highly creditable to the serenaders.

Acrostic.

Go where the martial glories stand,
Enshrined on land and ocean flood;
On every crimson field and plain,
Red with the blood of heroes slain;
Go where Potomac's waters flow,
Enthroned a chieftain slumbers low;
Where nations tears bedew the sod,
And mourn beneath afflictions rod;
Strong was the arm they once did trust,
How powerless now in silent dust,
In cold oblivion—now no more,
Nor heeds the thundering battles roar;
Go view the hights of Bunker's mound,
Trenton's field's and Monmouth's ground.
O! brave Virginia's conquering son,
None other than a Washington. V.

HORRIBLE DEATH.

MR. ED.—It becomes our painful duty to request you to record the death of Capt. D. S. Beef of this place. He departed this life on the 1st inst., after suffering for a long time from a derangement of the intestines; finally resulting in a fit of spontaneous combustion causing the old fellow to make a hasty exit from this mortal stage to a happier and better camping ground. Though we do not wish to eulogize, no man perhaps in the whole army was so deservedly popular; from his long connection with the Commissary Department he had acquired an extensive acquaintance, and officers and privates alike delighted to bask in the sunshine of his smile, which like sweet incense continually sent forth a savory smell, and even in death he diffused a delightful aroma so strong and intense, that it was only by a frequent application of salt herring and whiskey (to the mourners I mean) that the chief mourners comprising six brave Invalids succeeded in the kindly office of intering his mortal remains.

MOURNER.

From the Expedition.

Quite a party arrived from the Expedition last night, having come on in advance. We noticed among those who arrived here. were Capt. H. P. Grant of company A, 6th regiment, absent on sick leave, and Sutler Leavens of the 10th regiment. Mr. Brackett, Capt. Chase, J. A. Russell (of the PRESS office) and others, stopped at Minneapolis, where Mr. Brackett's friends were holding a celebration over his return.

Mr. Leavens informs us that the Expedition was making good time on the return. They were to be at Sauk Centre to morrow, and at St. Cloud on Saturday. This will bring them to Fort Snelling on Thursday or Friday of next week. The troops are in good health, and rejoicing at the prospect of getting back to "America" once more. No incidents worthy of mention had happened.—Press

St. Peter Items.

The following items from our St. Peters correspondent came to hand too late for our last issue:

Items of news in this city, are tolerably scarce at present. Farmers are busily at work, gathering in their crops—hence, the business lull in town. The sports of the field attract the city Nimrods to the country. Chickens are found in great numbers.

New wheat, grapes, plums, black berries and melons, in limited quantities, have found the market-places. The evidence of prosperity and plenty abound on every hand.

The political atmosphere, for the most part, is tranquil. The Democracy met in Convention on Saturday last, and chose delegates to attend the nominating Convention, which is to be holden at St. Paul. To all appearances the loyal element was in the ascendant—for it is generally conceded that two or three delegates chosen were war Democrats and would favor the nomination of some reliable loyal man, for Governor. The Copperhead element can claim but one of the delegates, if any. It has lost one of its most influencial members since the election last spring, at which time, a dozen or so openly boasted of having voted a "Copperhead ticket," and that their boasting, should not belie their action so headed each one.

This wealthy Democrat of doubtful loyalty, who had removed to a distant part of the State, returned a day or two since, and avowed himself hostile to the nomination of any such man as Henry M. Rice. In this he is entirely consistent—for it well accords with his action at the spring election, in this town. At the urgent request of the Chairman, the meeting "manifested its sense" by the election of two war delegates, which certainly speaks well for the Democracy of Nicollet County.

Immigrants still continue to arrive in quest of home. Our fertile soil and salubrious climate very naturally attracts the attention of emmigrants from all parts of the country. Upon inquiry I learn that many who have recently come among us are from the border States. We welcome them to our broad acres. There is still room for many more.

NOW AND THEN.

Sterling Items.

To the Editor of the Union:

For the information of those not acquainted with our locality, we would say that the Town of Sterling is situated about 20 miles S. by W. of Mankato.

The Maple River and Rice Creek run nearly through the centre of the Town S. to N. while a part of the Maple and the outlet from Jackson's Lake crosses the Town nearly E. and W., which with the Lake Lura on the S. E., and Jackson's or Lake Ida on the W. gives us living water on some 21 sections.

A belt of timber from a half to one mile in breadth, follows the course of the Maple, thus affording sufficient timber for our use. This, with the additional fact that most of our land is dry and rolling, accounts for the way our Town comes to have no government land now for sale within its limits. All has been taken by actual settlers or non-residents.

There, is, however, some eight sections of good land, some timber and some prairie, still unoccupied, most of which is for sale on reasonable terms. And if the parties owning land here, or their agents, would only advertise in your paper, or send their terms to our post office, they might hear of purchasers, as emigrants are frequently enquiring for land; but failing to find the terms readily, they go further.

We have a sawmill and post office near the centre of the Town, also a free cemetery on land the property of the town, part of which has been laid out and put under fence, giving some fifty-one lots, nineteen feet by ten, affording ample room for some years to come for the decent interment of our dead.

Three school houses have been erected, and the fourth is to be during the next winter. Four day and two Sunday schools have been sustained during the summer. In one District, a school was taught for four months last winter, and it is determined to have one taught for the same period in the coming winter, and it is hoped that ere long each of our districts will be prepared also to sustain a school summer and winter, as we think eight month's schooling a year little enough to enable us to raise STERLING men and women. Such as by their intelligence and virtue shall be fitted to hand down the blessings of civil and religious liberty to future generations unimpaired.

We have recently introduced a complete set of Mitchell's outline maps into one of our schools. at a cost of fifteen dollars and ten cents, including freight charges, and think ourselves amply repaid for the outlay in additional interest manifested by the children and their evident improvement in geographical knowledge.

We have found what John Randolph called the "Philosopher's Stone." That is, we pay our way as we go. We have always done so (as a town) in the past, and intend to do so in the future. Though this year we have voted no tax for town purposes, having sufficient funds in hand to pay our current expenses.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, we hope no one will suspect us of a desire to puff our Town into notice, as though we were doing so much better than others; on the contrary we shall be happy to hear through your columns that our Sister Towns are doing far better than us. We only design to 'provoke unto love and good works.' We think that if all our towns would report progress from time to time, we should have something to show to our friends in the East. They would see that we are not quite such barbarians as some of them appear to think we are. Then mailing a copy now and then of your paper might enlighten some of them, and induce them to come and settle among us.

Acknowledgement.

CHICAGO SAN. COM ROOMS,
CHICAGO, Aug. 21, 1853.

Mrs. J. R. TINKCOM, Sec. Mankato Ladies' Soldiers' Aid Society:

DEAR MADAM:—Many thanks for your very welcome remittance of twenty dollars and fifty cents ($20.50.) The many similar proofs which we have had, that the hearts of our friends respond immediately to the wishes of ours, have greatly cheered us in our work, which is almost too onerous. We have been shipping heavily of late, as perhaps you have seen by the Chicago Tribune of the 17th, to which we desire to refer you. Your money, with the various other sums that go to prove in the aggregate a handsome sum, will assist this work, which only money can accomplish.

Your very much obliged,
E. B. McCAGG, Cor. Sec.
Per Mrs. E. C. HENSHAW.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

For the Week ending Sept. 3d.

MANKATO HOUSE.—O Reison, Capt, T R Smith, Fort Abercombie; Mary Guyn, N Y.; T Miller, Shelby; F B Smith, Salene, Wis; Chas. A Warner, Chaska, Minn; A J Jewett, T M Boynton, Garden City; J J White, Camp Wilkins; W H Marston, St. Peter; E Farnham, St. Paul; Sam W Walton, Ohio; John Folsom, St. Paul; Mrs Laure & 5 children, Rochester, Minn; J Johnson, S M Smith, N. Y. M M Adams, St Paul; J M Thompson, Garden City. Jas McDonald, 69th N Y V; Mr Fields w and d, Mich; J H Ballard, O A Drener, J B B Lapham, L Dearborn, St Paul, E B Harney, Henderson; C F Rust, Rev E Livermore, St Peter; Jas Randolph, J C Easton; Chatfield; J H Fry, Winfield, Conn; J A, Willard & w, Garden City; E J Ayer, Henderson; J T Smith, Milwaukee; J S Starks, Pleasant Mound; Mrs Corb, Isaac D Rool, Red Wing; Dr Welcome, H B Barney, Garden City; Jas Fallon & w, Buffalo, N Y; R W Roberts, Chicago; J S Fuller, Farribault; J S Snow, Henderson; T D Williams, St Paul; Wm Irving, Mankato; J A James, J Ball, Brickton, Ill, Henry C Day, Gloversville, N Y; Geo R Kingsley, Blue Earth City; L H Berg, E L Hempall, Robt Jones, Margaret Conner, John Hargrave, St Peter; Mrs Miller, Spirit Lake;

CLIFTON.—W Cady, Vernon; John Derey; George Hays, Watonwan; Wm Colby, Taylor Falls; C F Butterfield Watonwan; A B Hough, Brown Co; H Hutchinson, Ireland Co; T T Pierce, Winnebago Agency; D B Mitchell, Thomas G Davis, Chas McCaid, St. Peter; M F Irvin Ill; George Hays, Watonwan; George Gay, Chanyuska; Lieut. Patten, Fairmount; G Sherlock, St. Paul; Ziber Broughton, do; George Battorn, Chanyuska; Job Starfford, N Y; H S Hatch, L L Station; J C Clarks & lady, Judson; T M Pugh, South Bend; Ambrose Craig & lady, Danville; Henry Craig, do; L Mencham, Judson; Mr. Darling, Shelby; C H Slocum, St Paul; E L Case, Vernon; Nathaniel Stevens, Willow Creek; J H Threll, lady & son, Shelby; H Hoit & lady, Winnebago City; Maria Hoit, Jennette Hoit, do; P F Eckstorm, South Bend; B Williams, do; S L Filmore, Lake Hanska; W H Wadsworth, Owatona; Geo W Yearly, do; P V Bell, Winona; O Ward, Mankato; Harm Thorner Tivoli; Pratt & Foster, Cambridge; A Johnston & lady Winneshiek.

Mankato Market Reports.

CORRECTED EVERY THURSDAY BY O. WARD.
MANKATO, Sept. 3, 1863.

WHEAT—50c. ℔ bushel.
RYE—40c.
BARLEY—60.
OATS—40c.
CORN—35@40c.
HAY—℔ ton, $4@5 00.
TIMOTHY—$2 ℔ bushel.
BEANS—White, ℔ bushel, $1 25.
BUTTER—10c.
LARD—8@9c.
SUGAR—12@13c; 16@20c.
TEA—1 25 @1 50, 175
COFFEE—33½c.
RICE—10c ℔ lb.
SALT—4 50 ℔ barrel.
EGGS—10c ℔ doz.
CANDLES—Tallow, 15c; Sperm, 30c.
MEATS—Beef on foot, 2c. Pork, 5 @6c. Mutton, 10@12c. Poultry, 10@12c.
POTATOES—1 00 ℔ bushel.
SIRUP—1 00 ℔ gallon.
WOOD—$2 00 ℔ cord.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SPERMATORRHOEA CAN BE CURED.—Dr. Rand's Specific cures Spermatorrhoea, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Loss of Power, &c., speedily and effectually. Its effects are truly magical. A trial of the SPECIFIC will convince the most skeptical of its merits. Price, $1 a box. Sent post-paid to any address, by S. C. UPMAN, 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA. Circular sent free.

DRUNKENESS CURED.—The inebriate may now bid defiance to the tempting cup. DR. ZANE'S ANTIDOTE FOR STRONG DRINK is a certain cure for Drunkenness. It creates a dislike for strong drink, and can be administered without the knowledge of the patent. Price $1 a box. Sent by mail to any address, by S. C. UPMAM, 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA; PA. Circular sent free.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it (free of charge) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience—and possess a Valuable Remedy—will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed) by addressing

JOHN B. OGDEN,
5-3m No. 60 Nassau Street, New York

LIST OF LETTERS

REMAINING in the Post Office at Mankato for the month ending Aug. 31st, 1863. Persons enquiring will please call for "advertised letters."

Anderson Charles
Barnes Franklin
Burnett Geo
Bacon W D
Cooper H C
Cady Stephen
Cole Abram
Cameron D J
Downing Mattie J
Dart J
Englehart Cemon
Francis Asa
Frendall Mrs
Fitch John
Hiltesheim Joseph
Harceing J
Hellfach 2
Kennedy Mary F
Lewis John
Lease John
Lake Mrs L
Lutz Fortiere
May Nicholas
May Jacob
Mallauner Miss
Morto Alexander 2
Merton Miss Mary
Magner Margaret
Robinette Harriette
Rice G A
Tiving Andw A
Scofield Nathaniel
Smith John W
Share Carrie
Thomas Hon H L
Torhgon Elizabetl.
Winkleman I S
Wever P S 2

R. J. SIBLEY, P. M.

SOUTH BEND MILLS.

BIERBAUER & ROCKEY,

HAVING purchased the above mills, are prepared to manufacture all grades of FLOUR, CORN MEAL, ETC.

Wheat will be ground for every sixth bushel in quantities not less than ten bushels.

☞Flour and mill stuffs always on hand at market prices. Feb 6-3m

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE
Mankato Weekly Union,
Published every Friday by
CHARLES H. SLOCUM,
AT
ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of
PRINTING
Neatly and cheaply executed
SUCH AS
CARDS,
PROGRAMMES,
BILL-HEADS,
CIRCULARS,
POSTERS.
ETC.,

Having received a supply of
NEW MATERIAL
from the East, am prepared to do
PLAIN AND FANCY WORK
in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

LOST.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That Sioux Half Breed Scrip was issued by the proper Department, on November 24th, 1856, to Marion Robertson, as follows:

No, 492 A for 40 acres.
" " B " 40 "
" " C " 80 "
" " D " 160 "
" " E " 160 "

And that during the recent Indian outbreak at Red Wood Lower Sioux Agency, all said Scrips were wholly destroyed by the Indians, or otherwise lost. Any person finding the same or portions thereof, by notifying me shall be suitably rewarded.

Dated at Faribault, August, 1863.

JANE A. ROBERTSON,
Attest C. L. LOWELL, Guardian.
Att'y, 4w 6

MANKATO HOUSE.

MANKATO - MINNESOTA.

THIS House has been thoroughly renovated newly papered and painted, with many new improvements, which makes it now equal as to comfort and convenience to any House in the State.

General Stage Office for all points in he State.

Good barn and stabling with attentive ostler. Baggage conveyed to and from steamboats free of charge. Wines, liquors, cigars, etc., con stantly on hand.

☞Farmers will find this House a good place to stop, it being centrally located, plenty of barroom, and charges moderate.

may 7 H, H. Shaubhut.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY virtue of an execution issued out of the District Court in and for the county of Blue Earth, State of Minnesota, upon a judgment rendered February 21st, 1863, and docketed March 6th, 1863, in said county, in an action wherein Daniel Wagner is plaintiff, and George Quiggles is defendant, and against said defendant, for the sum of $74,20, and upon which there nows remains due and unpaid the sum of $74,20 and interest, I have levied upon all the right title and interest which the said George Quiggles had on the 21st day of February, 1863, or at any time thereafter, of, in and to the following described lands and real estate, in the county of Blue Earth State of Minnesota, to wit:

South-west quarter of south-east quarter and south-east quarter of south-west quarter, section ten, and west half of south-west quarter of south-east quarter,—and north-east quarter of south-west quarter of south-east quarter of section nine, all in township one hundred and five, north of range twenty-eight west.

Notice is hereby given that I will sell the above described lands and real estate, to the highest bidder for cash, on Saturday, the 19th of September, 1863, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the front door of the office of Register of Deeds in and for the County of Blue Earth, in Mankato, to satisfy the execution, together with costs and interest thereon. Dated August 7th, 1863.

D. H. TYNER,
6w4 Sheriff of Blue Earth County.

FINKLE & LYON'S
SEWING MACHINES.

THESE Machines make the lock stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do; will Hem, Fell, Gather, Cord, Braid, Bind, &c., and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family, for they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, or even the stoutest harness leather, without changing the feed, needle or tension, or making any adjustment of Machaine whatever!!!

They are simple in construction, and easily understood: and if any part is broken by accident, it is readily replaced.

These are PECULIAR FACTS, and will go far to determine the choice of any intelligent buyer.

PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE, OR SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

N. B.—Local Agents wanted in sections not yet occupied. Address,

FINKLE & LYON, S. M. CO.,
4 No. 538 Broadway, New York.
J. J. SHAUBUT, Agent for Mankato.

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL POFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.
Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DuBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime. Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DuBUISSON
Mankato, May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

NEW
SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work, is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRNG AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand.

Cash paid for green and dry hides.
Mankato, June 26, 1863.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.
Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
1y Proprietor.

Mankato
DRUG STORE.

—‚—

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by
J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,
or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

NEW DRUG STORE!

DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS
SOAPS, PERFUMERY,
AND
FANCY GOODS

PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax,

Stationery,
BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE.

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions accurely put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the

New Drug Store,

JASON WICKERSHAM,
5 Mankato, Minn

Valuable Lands for Sale.

BY direction of the Hon. Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the lands hereinafter described, they being among the choicest and best farming land in Minnesota.

These lands comprise what are known as the Winnebago Trust Lands in the State of Minnesota, and will be sold to the highest and best bidder in tracts not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres each, under the provisions of a treaty concluded with the Winnebago Indians, April 15th, 1859, and an act of Congress, approved February 21st 1863, entitled "An act for the removal of the Winnebago Indians, and for the sale of their Reservation, in Minnesota, for their benefit."

No bid will be entertained at a rate less than two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

In case a bid is accepted, the party making the same will be notified as soon thereafter as practicable. If within thirty days after such notice the party shall fail to make payment to the undersigned, the land for which such bid was made will be subject to sale to any other person.

Patents will be issued and transmitted to purchasers as soon after payment as the same can be prepared. Payments may be made either in cash or in the certificates of indebtedness of the Winnebago Indians, issued by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for the debt of said Indians, and secured to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of said lands by the third article of the treaty above mentioned. The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved. All bids must be sealed and addressed to the undersigned, Washington City, D. C., and endorsed "Bid for Winnebago Tract Land."

"DESCRIPTION OF LANDS."

List of "Winnebago Trust Lands" subject to sale after July 1st, 1863:

SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
Township 106, Range 23
se qr	5
e hf sw qr	6
e hf	7
sw qr	7
	18 19
ne qr	30
sw qr	30
Township 107, Range 23
n hf	6
w hf sw qr	6
w hf nw qr	7
w hf sw qr	7
sw qr	30
n hf	31
w hf sw qr	31
Township 108, Range 23
n frac hf nw qr	31
se frac qr nw qr	31
Township 106, Range 24
	25
	26
	27
	28
	29
	30 31 32 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 24
	1
ne qr	3
sw qr	3
n hf	5
	6
ne qr	9
s hf	10
	11
ne qr	12
sw qr	12
nw qr	13
	14
e hf	15
nw qr	17
	1
lots 1, 2 and 3	21
	22
	23
n hf	24
	27
w hf	29
Township 108, Range 24
sw qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
sw qr	34
Township 106, Range 25
	25
	26 27
e hf	28
	30 31 32
e hf	33
	34 35
Township 107, Range 25
e hf	1
nw qr	1
w hf	2
ne qr	2
	13
Township 108, Range 25
se qr	33
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
e hf ne qr	34
w hf nw qr	34
w hf sw qr	34
e frac hf	35
nw qr	35
Township 106, Range 26
	1
	2 3
e hf	9
nw qr	4
ne qr	5
s hf	7
nw qr	11
e hf nw qr	12
	18 19
n hf	25
w hf	27
se qr	28
	30 33
w hf	24
Township 107, Range 26
w hf ne qr	3
w hf	3
w hf se qr	3
se qr	4
	5
e hf	6
s hf nw qr	6
s hf	7
	8 9
nw qr	10
e hf	18
nw qr	18
e hf	19
w hf	20
w hf se qr	20
ne qr	24
sw qr	24
s hf	25
n hf	30
e hf nw qr	31
ne qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
w hf sw qr	32
w hf se qr	32
se se qr	32
se qr	34
sw qr	35
Township 108, Range 26
se ne qr	31
e hf se qr	31
sw se qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
e hf se qr	33
ne qr	34
Township 106, Range 27
se qr	1
s hf	2
se qr	3
ne qr	6
e hf se qr	6
w hf sw qr	6
sw qr	7
e hf	11
sw qr	11
	14
e hf nw qr	15
e hf sw qr	15
w hf	18
ne qr	18
w hf	19
se qr	19
ne qr	20
w hf	21
w hf ne qr	21
se qr	22
e hf nw qr	22
	23 27
e hf	28
Township 107, Range 27
n hf	2
ne qr	3
e hf sw qr	5
ne qr	6
w hf se qr	6
se nw qr	7
ne sw qr	7
nw ne qr	11
se qr	12
e hf nw qr	12
nw nw qr	12
ne qr	13
sw qr	13
e hf nw qr	13
sw nw qr	13
s hf ne qr	14
s hf nw qr	14
nw nw qr	14
sw qr	15
sw qr	17
n hf	18
sw qr	18
se qr	19
nw qr	20
sw qr	21
ne qr	22
se qr	26
nw qr	26
nw qr	28
se qr	29
s hf	31
ne qr	31
nw qr	32
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
Township 108, Range 27
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	31
nw qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
ne qr	32
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 of nw qr	32
se nw qr	32
sw qr	35

Bids will be received as above invited until the 1st of September next, at which time all bids then received will be examined and acted upon.

After the first of September next bids will be received for the lands then remaining unsold, and examined and acted upon the expiration of each period of two months.

WILLIAM P. DOLE,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs.
Washington City, D. C., Aug. 4th, 1863.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Farmers' Journal.

MANKATO, FRIDAY, SEPT. 4, 1863.

Stirring the Soil in Dry Weather.

That frequent stirring of the soil is the cheapest and most effectual way of protecting crops against drouth is proved by the fact that a soil plowed or cultivated often in a dry time is moist almost to the surface, while land neglected is dry to a great depth. Some farmers, from false reasoning, infer that if a new surface is continually exposed to the sun and air, the effect will be to dry the soil still more. But the atmosphere, even in the dryest and hottest weather, is more or less charged with moisture; to prove which, we have only to present a cold surface to the atmosphere, as a pitcher of ice-water, for instance, when the moisture of the air will be condensed and form in large drops on the outside of the pitcher. By frequent stirring, the soil is kept loose and porous, and the air, coming in contact with the cold earth, is robbed of its moisture by condensation, in the same manner as in the example of the pitcher, given above. The oftener the soil is stirred, the more new surface will be presented for action in the same manner; but when land is suffered to remain idle, a crust is formed on the surface which is impenetrable to the atmosphere, and no such effect can take place.—Gen. Farmer.

Mending and Darning.

Most of our fair readers have a decided aversion to that part of their duty which falls under the "patching and darning" denomination. They are of opinion that "a rent may be the incident of a day; a darn, premeditated poverty." But it they only knew how pretty a well executed piece of repair looks, when you see in its warp and woof the bright threads of economy, and independence, and womanly thrift, crossing and recrossing one another, they would lay aside embroideries and crotchet work, and take up instead the mending basket.

We rode down town the other day, when the only other occupants of the stage were a young gentleman and a lovely young girl of, we should think, about eighteen. She was the prettiest, freshest looking girl one would wish to see,—there were no tell-tale traces of midnight parties and headachy mornings in those peach blossom cheeks and clear, bright eyes, and the numberless little items of her dress were as fresh and trim as she herself—from the pink bonnet strings down to the neatly fitting gloves and delicate gaiter boots. If we had been an old batchelor or a young one either, we would certainly have fallen in love with that girl, particularly after we discovered that she was as industrious as pretty. And how do you suppose we found it out? The handkerchief that lay in her lap told us so. The neat little darn, elaborately executed, in its corner, with the small white stitches and skillful handiwork, had a tongue quite audible to our ears. Time, and patience, and wise economy had been there.—The gentleman sitting opposite saw the little token also; we noticed his eye turning from the handkerchief to the blooming face, and back to the handkerchief again, and we knew perfectly well what he was thinking of—the good wife that young lady wo'd make, and how neat her husband's stockings and cravats would be!—Poor fellow, the edges of his shirt bosom were a little frayed, and one or two buttons were missing, whose detection the most skillful arrangement of his cravat ends could not conceal. Perhaps he had a wife who didn't believe in mending and darning—perhaps none at all. However that may have been, his admiring eyes appreciated the darn on the handkerchief more than if it had been the richest and most sight-destroying embroidery—not for what it was, but for what it betokened.

Girls! don't shrink from a mended place as if it were a plague spot; the longer your old things last, the better able you will be to have new ones by-and-by. Sensible people read your characters in little things; and nobody will think the worse of you, whatever be your station in life, for the exercise of economy and thrift.—A stitch in time saves nine, and sometimes a great deal more than that.—English paper.

* * *

HOLD ON.—Hold on to your tongue when you are just ready to swear, lie, or speak harshly, or use any improper word.

Hold on to your hand when you are about going to strike, pinch, scratch, steal, or do any improper thing.

Hold on to your foot when you are on the point of kicking, running away from study, or pursuing the path of error, shame or crime.

Hold on to your temper when you are angry, excited, or imposed upon, or others are angry about you.

Hold on to your heart when evil associates seek your company, and vite you to join in their games, mirth and revelry.

Hold on to your good name at all times, for it is more valuable to you than gold, high places, or fashionable attire.

Hold on to the truth, for it will serve well, and do you good throughout eternity.

Hold on to your virtue—it is above all price to you, in all times and places.

Hold on to your character, for it is, and ever will be, your greatest wealth.

WANTED!

FIVE HUNDRED LABORERS

TO WORK ON THE

Minneapolis, Faribault, & Cedar Valley R. R.

THE Subscriber will pay in Cash, the highest price for laborers. Payments made on the 15th of each month. Work will be continued through the winter. Agents can be found at Minneapolis, Mendota, Northfield and Faribault D J. CAMMERON.

Mendota, August 5, 1853. 5

JUST PUBLISHED.

The most Fascinating Book of the Season,

ENTITLED

"IN THE TROPICS."

EDITED BY RICH'D B. KIMBALL,

Author of "St. Leger," "Undercurrents of Wall Street," etc.

A bright, sparkling and genial book of residence, travel and adventure in the West Indies; presenting a graphical picture of tropical life, with alluring and picturesque sketches of luxuriant gardens, orange and lime groves, magnificent guava and cocoanut trees, mahogany forests, etc.

An elegantly printed and cloth-bound volume. Price, $1 25.

Sold by all booksellers, and sent by mail FREE, on receipt of price by

CARLETON,
Publisher, New York.
413 Broadway, cor Lispenard St.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, executed by Cyrus Foot and Minerva Foot his wife, then of Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, to Ralph A. Loveland, then of Westport, Essex County, New York, dated the 16th day of June, A. D., 1858, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Blue Earth, on the 18th day of June, A D. 1858, in book "B" of mortgages, on page 387, which said mortgage was given to secure the payment of the sum of twenty three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest according to the conditions of four certain promissory notes made by said Cyrus Foot to said Loveland or order, three for six hundred dollars each, payable respectively, on the first days of June in the years 1860, 1861 and 1863, and the other for five hundred and fifty dollars payable on the first day of June, 1862 and drawing interest from date until paid at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable annually on the first days of June each and every year, and all bearing even date with said mortgage, and upon which promissory notes and mortgage there is now claimed to be due, and is at the date of this notice, actually due and unpaid, the said sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest thereon from and after the said 16th day of June, 1858, at the rate of seven per cent per annum; and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured by said promissory notes and mortgage, nor any part thereof, and no part thereof has been collected or paid.

Therefore, by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained, and in conformity with the statutes in such case made and provided, the lands and premises described in and covered by said mortgage, to wit: The north-west quarter of section number (27) twenty-seven in township number (107) one hundred and seven, north of range number (28) twenty-eight west, according to the governmental survey and subdivisions of the same, and containing one hundred and sixty acres of land be the same more or less; together with all the appurtenances, and lying and being in the County of Blue Earth, and State of Minnesota, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder as the law directs and as authorized by said mortgage, at the front door of the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Blue Earth in Mankato, in said County, on the 26th day of September, A. D, 1863, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to satisfy the amount then due on said promissory notes and mortgage together with the taxes which have been paid thereon by the mortgagee, or which shall then be due on said premises, and the costs and expenses allowed by law. Dated at Mankato, August 14th, 1863.

RALPH A. LOVELAND,
Mortgagee.

WILLARD & BARNEY, Attorneys for Mortgagee, Mankato, Minn. 6w5

Medical Advice free of Charge.

DOCTOR WHITTIER'S Theory, Symptoms, and Treatment of Chronic, Nervous, Urinary and Sexual Diseases, free in sealed letter envelope, for six cents to pre-pay postage. It is a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringment of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposure, and imprudence, in married and single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and should be read by every young person, to keep them off the shoals on which others have been broken in pieces. Amativeness clearly stated to be under the control of judicious treatment, and thereby prevent inclination to one very prolific cause of of disease. Nearly every case of disease can be treated without hinderance to business, Medicine sent by mail, secure from observation. Charges moderate; consultations by letter or at the office free; cures guaranteed; Office 67 St. Charles St., between 6th and 7th. P. O. Box 3092, St. Louis Mo. Circular Letter especially for ladies, nothing referring to Sexual Diseases for 3 cent postage.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,}
BLUE EARTH COUNTY. }

MANKATO, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 13th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet be n redeemed, I will execute and deliver to the purchasers of said lands at said sale, or their assignees, deeds for the same on and after the 17th day of January, A. D., 1864, unless said lands shall before that time have been redeemed. And notice is also given that the sum set against each description of land in said list is the amount due the purchaser of said land on redemption.

CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.	NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.
Unknown	1	24	28.66	Unknown	1	76	1.48
do	5	21	2.29	do	7	A	3.97
do	9	24	7 45	do	8	A	3.97
J Ady	9	28	13.93	do	9	A	3.97
F C Roosevelt	6	58	2 96	do	10	A	3.97

Willard & Besser's Addition.

Unknown, lot 10, block 19, amount 2.06.

NAME.	DES.	S.	T.	R.	AMT.
H W Lamberton	e hf nw qr and s hf sw qr	17	108	28	22.07
Earl Parthum	sw qr	33	109	29	14.87
M Garlinger	ne qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	32	109	29
do	s e hf se qr	31	109	29	15.91
Dennis O'Flynn	se qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	27	109	29	11.81
Wm P Smith	s hf ne qr and ne qr se qr and lot 2	2	107	28	13.85
T P Anderson	se qr	20	107	28	15.14
H Wright	s e qr	8	106	28	14 10
William Gage	s w qr	17	106	28	13.73
Alex Wood	n e qr	1	105	28	41.00
Unknown	sw qr except 17 ac redeemed	5	105	28	14.06
H G Tryon	se qr nw qr	5	105	28	5.62
H G Tryon	ne qr nw qr	34	105	28	7.26
McMurtrie & Comstock	n hf sw qr	12	105	29	10.90
do	e hf sw qr and w hf se qr except 25 ac redeemed	12	105	29	33.36
Alex Wood	nw qr	6	105	27	49.87
Unknown	nw qr	9	108	25	19.28
A Frazer	n hf ne qr and ne qr nw qr	25	109	25	14.33
F Percival	ne qr sw qr	32	109	28	23 52

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office F. M. Johnson, Agent.

St. Paul, July 17th, 1863 July17-tf.

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.

OF

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obediance to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune challenges comparison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1 25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1 10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.

One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;

Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,)	$18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,)	35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World.

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Criticl Notices of the Press.

The volumes Bound constitute of themselves a liberary of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world. —N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People: and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts: and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature. —Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, BY mail, postpaid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents. Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eigh cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00; Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year ,$5,00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2,50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2,50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted for postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must BE paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS.
Franklyn Square, New York.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE

Mankato Weekly Union,

Published every Friday by

CHARLES H. SLOCUM,

AT

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of

PRINTING

Neatly and cheaply executed

SUCH AS

CARDS,

PROGRAMMES,

BILL-HEADS,

CIRCULARS,

POSTERS.

ETC.,

Having received a supply of

NEW MATERIAL

from the East, am prepared to do

PLAIN AND FANCY WORK

in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
In District Court. }
County of Blue Earth—6th District.

To Aaron N. Dukes, James Thompson Sen. Ralph A. Loveland, Peter Berry John H. Burgess, Henry Himmelman, John A. Willard, Sheldon F. Barney, George A. Roberts and Benjamin F. Smith, defendants:

In the name of the State of Minnesota, you are hereby summoned to answer the complaint of Ezra R. Dibblee, John C. Work and Lansing C. Moore, plaintiffs, a copy of which is hereunto annexed, and to serve a copy of your answer to me at my office in Mankato, within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and if you fail to answer said complaint as required, the plaintiffs will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint. Dated January 27th, 1863.

FRANKLIN H. WAITE,
1-2w Atty for Plffs.

Wanted.

THREE GOOD GIRLS AT THE CLIFTON HOUSE.

One to take charge of the Cooking department, the others to do dining room and other work usual in hotels. Liberal wages and steady employment given.

M. T. C. FLOWER, Proprietor.

Mankato, Aug. 5th, 1863. 4w4

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY virtue of an execution issued out of the District Court in and for the county of Blue Earth, State of Minnesota, upon a judgment rendered February 21st, 1863, and docketed March 6th, 1863, in said county, in an action wherein Daniel Wagner is plaintiff, and George Quiggles is defendant, and against said defendant, for the sum of $74,20, and upon which there nows remains due and unpaid the sum of $74,20 and interest, I have levied upon all the right title and interest which the said George Quiggles had on the 21st day of February, 1863, or at any time thereafter, of, in and to the following described lands and real estate, in the county of Blue Earth State of Minnesota, to wit:

South-west quarter of south-east quarter and south-east quarter of south west quarter, section ten, and west half of south-west quarter of south-east quarter, and north east quarter of south-west quarter of south-east quarter of section nine, all in township one hundred and five, north of range twenty-eight west.

Notice is hereby given that I will sell the above described lands and real estate, to the highest bidder for cash, on Saturday, the 19th of September, 1863, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the front door of the office of Register of Deeds in and for the County of Blue Earth, in Mankato, to satisfy the execution, together with costs and interest thereon. Dated August 7th, 1863.

D. H. TYNER,
6w4 Sheriff of Blue Earth County.

FINKLE & LYON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

THESE Machines make the lock stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop stitch Machines do; will Hem, Fell, Gather, Cord, Braid, Bind, &c., and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family, for they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, or even the stoutest harness leather, without changing the feed, needle or tension, or making any adjustment of Machaine whatever! !

They are simple in construction, and easily understood: and if any part is broken by accident, it is readily replaced.

These are PECULIAR FACTS, and will go far to determine the choice of any intelligent buyer.

PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE, OR SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

N. B.—Local Agents wanted in sections not yet occupied. Address,

FINKLE & LYON, S. M. CO.,
4 No. 538 Broadway, New York.
J. J. SHAUBUT, Agent for Mankato.

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL PROFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DeBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime. Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DeBUISSON.
Mankato, May 4, 1860. [2-43-y]

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work, is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRNG AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand

Cash paid for green and dry hides.

Mankato, June 26, 1863.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:15 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.

Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
1y Proprietor.

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

——

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,

or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

NEW DRUG STORE!

DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS

SOAPS, PERFUMERY,

AND

FANCY GOODS

PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax,

Stationery,

BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE.

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions securely put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the

New Drug Store,

JASON WICKERSHAM,
5 Mankato, Minn

Valuable Lands for Sale.

BY direction of the Hon. Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the lands hereinafter described, they being among the choicest and best farming land in Minnesota.

These lands comprise what are known as the Winnebago Trust Lands in the State of Minnesota, and will be sold to the highest and best bidder in tracts not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres each, under the provisions of a treaty concluded with the Winnebago Indians, April 15th, 1859, and an act of Congress, approved February 21st 1863, entitled "An act for the removal of the Winnebago Indians, and for the sale of their Reservation, in Minnesota, for their benefit."

No bid will be entertained at a rate less than two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

In case a bid is accepted, the party making the same will be notified as soon thereafter as practicable. If within thirty days after such notice the party shall fail to make payment to the undersigned, the land for which such bid was made will be subject to sale to any other person.

Patents will be issued and transmitted to purchasers as soon after payment as the same can be prepared. Payments may be made either in cash or in the certificates of indebtedness of the Winnebago Indians, issued by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for the debt of said Indians, and secured to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of said lands by the third article of the treaty above mentioned. The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved. All bids must be sealed and addressed to the undersigned, Washington City, D. C. and endorsed "Bid for Winnebago Tract Land."

"DESCRIPTION OF LANDS"

List of "Winnebago Trust Lands" subject to sale after July 1st, 1863:

SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
Township 166, Range 23
se qr	5
e hf sw qr	6
e hf	7
sw qr	7
	18 19
ne qr	30
sw qr	30
Township 167, Range 23
n hf	6
w hf sw qr	6
w hf nw qr	7
w hf sw qr	7
sw qr	30
n hf	31
w hf sw qr	31
Township 168, Range 23
n frac hf nw qr	31
se frac qr nw qr	31
Township 166, Range 24
	25
	26
	27
	28
	29
	30 31 32 33
w hf	34
Township 167, Range 24
	1
ne qr	3
sw qr	3
n hf	5
	6
ne qr	9
s hf	10
	11
ne qr	12
sw qr	12
nw qr	13
	14
e hf	15
nw qr	17
	1
lots 1, 2 and 3	21
	22
	23
n hf	24
	27
w hf	29
Township 168, Range 24
sw qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
sw qr	34
Township 166, Range 25
	25
	26 27
e hf	28
	30 31 32
e hf	33
	34 35
Township 167, Range 25
e hf	1
nw qr	1
w hf	2
ne qr	2
	13
Township 168, Range 25
se qr	33
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
e hf ne qr	34
w hf nw qr	34
w hf sw qr	34
e frac hf	35
nw qr	35
Township 166, Range 26
	1
	2 3
e hf	9
nw qr	4
ne qr	5
s hf	7
nw qr	11
e hf nw qr	12
	18 19
n hf	25
w hf	27
se qr	28
	30 33
w hf	34
Township 167, Range 26
w hf ne qr	3
w hf	3
w hf se qr	3
se qr	4
	5
e hf	6
s hf nw qr	6
s hf	7
	8 9
nw qr	10
e hf	18
nw qr	18
e hf	19
w hf	20
w hf se qr	24
ne qr	24
sw qr	24
s hf	25
n hf	30
e hf nw qr	31
ne qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
w hf sw qr	32
w hf se qr	32
se se qr	32
se qr	33
sw qr	35
Township 168, Range 26
se ne qr	31
e hf se qr	31
sw se qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
e hf se qr	33
ne qr	34
Township 166, Range 27
se qr	1
s hf	2
se qr	3
ne qr	6
e hf se qr	6
w hf sw qr	6
sw qr	7
e hf	11
sw qr	11
	14
e hf nw qr	15
e hf sw qr	15
w hf	18
ne qr	18
w hf	19
se qr	19
ne qr	20
w hf	21
w hf ne qr	21
se qr	22
e hf nw qr	22
	23 27
e hf	28
Township 167, Range 27
n hf	2
ne qr	3
e hf sw qr	5
ne qr	6
w hf se qr	6
se nw qr	7
ne sw qr	7
nw ne qr	11
se qr	12
e hf nw qr	12
nw nw qr	12
ne qr	13
sw qr	13
e hf nw qr	13
sw nw qr	13
s hf ne qr	14
s hf nw qr	14
nw nw qr	14
sw qr	15
sw qr	17
n hf	18
sw qr	18
se qr	19
nw qr	20
sw qr	21
ne qr	22
se qr	26
nw qr	26
nw qr	28
se qr	29
s hf	31
ne qr	31
nw qr	32
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
Township 168, Range 27
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	31
nw qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
ne qr	32
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 of nw qr	32
se nw qr	32
sw qr	35

Bids will be received as above invited until the 1st of September next, at which time all bids then received will be examined and acted upon.

After the first of September next bids will be received for the lands then remaining unsold, and examined and acted upon the expiration of each period of two months.

WILLIAM P. DOLE,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs.
Washington City, D. C., Aug. 4th, 1863.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N.Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS.

Russell & Co.'s GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEACHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plows,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cuttery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:

Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains, Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

I am Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.

Mankato, April 23rd 1863.

NEW LIVERY

&

Sale Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.

☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜

☞Charges moderate.☜

D. H. TYNER.

The Mankato Weekly Union.

CHARLES H. SLOCUM, "LIBERTY AND UNION, NOW AND FOREVER, ONE AND INSEPARABLE." Editor and Proprietor

VOLUME 1. MANKATO, BLUE EARTH COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 11, 1863. NUMBER 9.

THE WEEKLY UNION,

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY CHARLES H. SLOQUM.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
One Dollar and Fifty Cents per Year.
☞ All subscriptions paid in advance. ☜

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

1 square	1 week	$1 00	2 squares	6 months	9 00
1 "	2 weeks	1 50	2 "	1 year	15 00
1 "	3 "	1 75	3 "	1 week	2 25
1 "	4 "	2 00	3 "	2 "	3 00
1 "	5 "	2 25	3 "	3 "	4 00
1 "	6 "	2 50	3 "	4 "	5 00
1 "	7 "	2 75	3 "	3 months	9 00
1 "	2 months	3 00	3 "	6 "	12 00
1 "	3 "	3 75	3 "	1 year	20 00
1 "	4 "	4 50	¼ col	6 months	15 00
1 "	5 "	5 25	¼ "	1 year	25 00
1 "	6 "	6 00	⅓ "	6 months	18 00
1 "	1 year	10 00	⅓ "	1 year	30 00
2 "	1 week	1 75	½ "	6 months	25 00
2 "	2 "	2 50	½ "	1 year	40 00
2 "	3 "	3 00	¾ "	1 year	50 00
2 "	4 "	4 00	1 "	1 year	70 00
2 "	3 months	6 00

Business cards of five lines or less, $5.
Transient advertisements must be paid in advance—all others quarterly.

BUSINESS CARDS.

EVERETT P. FREEMAN·
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW.
OFFICE.—Next door south of the Post Office, MANKATO, - - - - - MINN.
Prompt attention given to claims to be prosecuted before the State Board of Auditors, and to Court and Office business. Collections made and conveyancing done on reasonable terms.

MANKATO INS. AGENCY.

HARTFORD.

PHOENIX.

MERCHANTS—FIRE INS. CO'S.

CHARTER OAK LIFE INS. CO.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid by:
JOHN N. HALL,
Resident Agent.

O. P. LIEBERG,
FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER.—Having opened a Barber Shop with a view to establishing a permanent business in Mankato, I am prepared to wait upon gentlemen, and will guarantee satisfaction in every department of my business.
June 26, 1863.

G. A. STURGES, M. D.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
MANKATO, MINN.

OFFICE:—At his residence second door above the Mankato House.

Z. PADDOCK,
Attorney and Counselor at Law, and General Land Agent. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to him. Mankato, Blue Earth Co., Minn.

FRED'K HILDEBRANDT,
Manufacturer of and Dealer in all kinds of
FURNITURE & GILT MOULDING,
ALSO,
Imitation of Rosewood Mouldings, Ovals, Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames.
Ware Rooms in Schurmeier's Block, Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minn.

M. ZENOPOLSKI, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.
OFFICE:—Opposite the Clifton House.

DAVID WILCOX.
JUDGE OF PROBATE.
& ATT'Y AT LAW.
MANKATO - - - - - MINN.

WM. R. McMAHAN, M. D.
Office and Residence old at his stand, on the corner of Hickory and Second steets, one Block back of the Mankato House, where he will be found at all times, except when professionally absent.
He will furnish and compound his own medicines.

EDWARD OGLESBY,
Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hawley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work in his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October,

S. FINCH, O. O. PITCHER.
FINCH & PITCHER,
Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,
MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA.

MANKATO NURSERY.
THE Proprietor has for sale a choice collection of
Fruit Trees,
Comprising Apple, Pear, Cherry, Plum, and Quince Trees. Also a good assortment of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants, Rasp berries, Strawberries, and Pie Plant; together with
ORNAMENTAL TREES
Shrubs, Evergreens, Flowering Plants, &c.
ROB'T GOODYEAR,
Mankato, Sept. 1861.

FAIRBANKS'
STANDARD
SCALES,
OF ALL KINDS.
FAIRBANKS, GREENLEAF & CO.,
172 LAKE STREET, CHICAGO.
☞ BUY ONLY THE GENUINE.

SOUTH BEND MILLS.

BIERBAUER & ROCKEY,
HAVING purchased the above mills, are prepared to manufacture all grades of FLOUR, CORN MEAL, ETC.
Wheat will be ground for every sixth bushel in quantities not less than ten bushels.
☞ Flour and mill stuffs always on hand at market prices. Feb 6-3m

Poetry.

WHEN I MEAN TO MARRY.

BY JOHN G. SAXE.

When do I mean to marry?—Well—
'Tis idle to dispute with fate;
But if you choose to hear me tell,
Pray listen while I fix the date:—

When daughters haste, with eager feet,
A mother's daily toils to share:
Can make the puddings which they eat,
And mend the stocking which they wear;

When maidens look upon a man
As in himself what they would marry,
And not as army soldiers scan
A sutler or a commissary;

When gentle ladies who have got
The offer of a lover's hand,
Consent to share his "earthly lot,"
And do not mean his lot of land;

When young mechanics are allowed
To find and wed the farmer's girl,
Who don't expect to be endowed
With rubies, diamonds and pearls;

When wives, in short, shall freely give
Their heart and hand to aid their spouses,
And live as they were wont to live
Within their sires' one-story houses;

Then, madam—if I'm not to old—
Rejoiced to quit this lonely life,
I'll brush my beaver, cease to scold,
And look about me for a wife!

Select Miscellany.

THE VALUE OF ENERGY.

BY MRS ANNA TREAT.

Mrs. Mervin was seated in her neat sitting room, towards the close of the short winter day, busily sewing. Her work basket, piled high with garments cut and ready for making, was on the table by her side. Who has not a pleasant remembrance of mother's work-basket, so rarely empty? In that willow repository was always to be found the little roll of soft linen for cut fingers; the identical button needed; or, just the piece of ribbon for the boy's hatband. There too was mother's ball of wax, bearing the impress of little teeth. Many are the old memories that are stirred up by the sight of a work-basket, and with them all is associated the memory of the patience, gentleness, and love of the dear one whose hands were tireless in the labor of the family.

The little sitting-room was in faultless order. The bookcase and chairs of maple shone brightly in the reflection of the cheerful coal fire in the grate. There were no tongs in the corners, no finger-marks upon the doors, to indicate the presence of little ones in the family. Mrs. Mervin was a fastidious housekeeper, and perhaps thought order to be regarded before comfort. At any rate her four good, healthy, happy children were constantly rebuked for the overflowing life they manifested. They would come in from the streets with muddy boots; and play horse with the chairs; and scatter chestnut shells with lavish freedom over the carpet; but the worst effect of it was that it fretted their mother keenly. She was not aware how much and how easily worried she was by occurrences so slight and so usual in a family. She was, when married, somewhat past her youth. Her brothers and sisters were early married and settled, and she was left at the old homestead, the dutiful housekeeper of her old parents, who were both sickly. In their well ordered home undisturbed quiet and tranquility reigned. She learned to love the calm, uneventful course of her life, and when at the death of her parents she married Mr. Mervin, a prosperous mechanic, and a man of strong home affections, with a nature like the sunshine of summer, overflowing with gladness, it was hardly to be wondered at that the sudden strange from her former life was too startling to be agreeable. But, although she was at first shocked to find that her husband did not walk with the cat-like tread of a slippered invalid, nor speak with the faint voice of weakness, and that he had an inveterate habit of slamming doors, when fairly aroused from the torpor of her former life—his quick, elastic tread, and cheerful, manly tones, seemed a positive relief.

But with the advent of her children, Mrs Mervin lost her peace and serenity. To find that she could not keep her rooms in faultless order; that the little rogues, regardless of chance callers, would scatter the contents of her work-basket over the floor, and pile their building blocks on the sofa, were sources of serious trouble to her; for she was not a woman to pass quietly over little disturbing incidents. When during the presence of visitors any little mishap occurred, which a few laughing words of apology would easily have set right, her confusion and distress were so evident as to be positively painful to see.

Then, she could not have her meals punctually ready; and although her husband, thoughtful and considerate beyond the average of his race, never found fault, but cheerfully relieved her of the cares which hindered her efforts, (an unexampled fact,) still she valued her reputation as a housekeeper too highly to allow it to be encroached upon by maternal cares. In short, she was in danger of falling into Mrs. Joe Gargerey's way, 'making cleanliness far more unpleasant than dirt could possibly be.'

But there was a great stamping of little feet and a chorus of little voices in the hall, and then the door opened and in came the troop, rosy, bright-eyed, each eager to tell mother the news first.

'Now, Fred, and Louis, and Georgie, you may take my jackstones if you'll let me tell mother all about it,' said Willie, the oldest, holding the white pebbles up, above the reach of the little brown hands.

'All right; hand over,' was the cheerful answer; and, seated upon the floor, they began dexterously tossing and catching the stones.

'Now, mother,' began Willie, eagerly, having paid for his right as spokesman, 'We've just been down to see Jimmy West. He is a little lame boy our teacher told us about. He can't walk, nor even rise from his bed. He is about as old as Freddy too, and he looks so pale. Can we take him some of our nice grapes, and some of our toys and books? He likes to read." The little speaker paused, with tears in his bright eyes.

'I don't care what you take to him; do as you please,' was the cold, impatient reply, 'Here you are, boys, with your hats still on, and you forgot to wipe your feet on the doormat. Why will you be so heedless?'

Willie turned away with quivering lip, too much grieved to speak. A cold permission had been given, but sympathy had been denied him.

'Why, mother, spoke up bright little Fred, with a look of charming frankness, 'It's so hard for a fellow to remember. I meant to have tho't, I'm sure.'

'Well, Fred, said the mother,' smiling in spite of herself, 'I see your father is coming. Be ready to take his coat and boots, and bring his gown and slippers.'

The boys rushed joyously to the door. In came the father, caught Louis up on his shoulder; put his hat on Fred's curly head, drawing it over his eyes; tossed a new magazine upon his wife's work table; and finally found a seat upon the floor, in consequence of the manoeuvres of Master George, who attempted to place himself beside Louis.

The uproar of merriment at such a downfall subsided as the mother said complainingly—

'Children, you distract me with your noise. Why did you not get your father's gown and slippers as I told you. Do it now, and then come in and be quiet.'

'Yes, boys,' said their father, 'we must not be so rude. We will have our frolics out of doors.'

Quiet was soon restored, and Mrs. Mervin withdrew to prepare tea. During the evening Willie was subdued and sad. He did not join in his brothers' games, but sat moodily in the corner. Once or twice his mother praised him for his quiet behavior, but the kind words awoke no pleasure in the sober little face. Finally the children's bedtime arrived, and the young irrepressibles were sufficiently calm to think of such a thing as sleep. Willie sedately led the way, carrying the candle, and the parents were left in peaceful possession.

'What healthy little rogues they are,' was the father's comment, as he cut the leaves of a periodical preparatory to reading aloud. (The model man!)

'Yes, indeed,' said Mrs. Mervin, with motherly pride. 'And how well Willie behaved to-night. If they would always be so quiet I should be so glad.'

'I don't know. His sad little face pained me. What had clouded it?'

Mrs. Mervin reflected, 'I haven't thought of it since; but he burst in to the room to-night to tell me of a little lame boy he had seen. He wished to take some things to him; and I gave him permission to do so, although I presume I didn't enter into his feelings as much as he expected. I was more anxious to have him clean his boots at the time, than anything else.' Mr. Mervin looked grave.

'A little lame boy, you say? Jimmy West, I presume.'

'Yes! that was the name,' said Mrs. Mervin, wonderingly.

'I too called there to-night, just after the boys left. James West, the father of this little boy, was an old friend of mine. He was a gentle, timid, sensitive-minded person, too shrinking and retiring to battle with the world. If he had possessed wealth to foster his delicate fancies, he might have been happy. But poverty was his inheritance. His health would not permit of any very active labor, and the rebuffs he met with in his attempts at authorship (he was quite a fine poet in my opinion,) were so many shocks upon his mind and physical health. He married a poor but most excellent girl, whose energetic labors supported them, though scantily. But James died at the early age of twenty-eight. This I learned from his widow. She has only lately moved to this place. I heard of their being here, and thought I would call on my way home.'

'How was the little boy's lameness produced?' asked Mrs. Mervin, with much interest.

"He was walking in a field, and came to a ditch about four feet wide. What would one of our boys have done in the same case?'

'Leaped it at one bound.'

'Just so; but he—timid and lacking energy like his father, shrank from the attempt, and tried to place a board across. The board fell on his foot, and twisted it badly. He took cold in it, and he has never had the use of it since. When his mother had told me of it, she spoke of the healthy fellows who had been in a few moments since with so much envy. How earnestly she wished that her boy co'd shout with as much strength, and run and leap with as much vigor and life. But her boy's misfortune seemed only to endear him to her, and many were the fond glances she bestowed on the wan little face on the pillow. And no wonder, he has a sweet expression,' and Mr. Mervin relapsed into a state of revery.

For a few moments the "shining bit of steel" in Mrs. Mrs. Mervin's fingers flew swiftly over the white garment she was making, and then the work fell from her hands, and she looked up in her husband's face with tearful eyes. 'O Walter,' she said, falteringly, 'we have so much to be thankful for; and I have been so ungrateful. I never again can wish to quell this God-given life, which will be as a rare talent in their world-battle.'

The next morning, Willie and his brothers were surprised and pleased to receive permission to visit the little lame boy, and take him such fruit and books as they might select; and further, that their mother would accompany them. So a basket was partly filled with delicious grapes, that had been carefully stowed away in cotton. A bowl of delicate jelly was placed in the middle. A few rosy apples found room in the intervals, and little Louis, with his own hands, placed at one end a small cake that had been baked for himself. A satchel of interesting books was prepared, and they started on their walk.

The widow's cottage, though small and humble, had a grass plot, and was surrounded by trees. In summer it might be very pleasant. In the city a poor widow's home is small, narrow, and unhealthy in its closeness. In the blessed country there is room for all.

The where lay the little invalid was a model of neatness. The mother was a sweet, intelligent person, with whom Mrs. Mervin was much charmed. She was industriously binding shoes for the shop, and scarcely laid aside her work when the caller entered. She was making haste to finish her work, that she might buy Jemmy some grapes and jelly, luxuries which he coveted so much. The children exchanged glances, and Freddy, quite forgetting himself, shouted gleefully, 'Didn't you know it? We've got some!' and drawing the cover from the basket, he set it in her lap. She gave one glance within, and then with her eyes filled with happy tears, and with a look of gratitude to Mrs. Mervin, silently passed it to Jimmy. The look of perfect happiness that overspread the pale face, seemed to Mrs. Mervin too great a reward.

During the pleasant conversation that followed, she ascertained that Mrs. Wells took in sewing; and it was very natural that Mrs. Mervin should conclude that she had too much sewing to do alone; and when she took her leave, after a pleasant, sociable call, it was settled that the widow should, for an ample recompense, assist her.

A change gradually made itself manifest in Mrs. Mervin's household. There was no more easy comfort and less formality. The children romped as much as ever, but their mother could not rebuke them when she tho't that when they were men the restlessness would be power. When at times there was too great confusion, a gentle word acted magically in quieting it, for the children found that there was a great deal of consideration exercised toward them, and thus, gradually, they came to practice the same good quality. As they grew older, the restless activity that had characterized their childhood, merged into the safe, broad channels of energetic industry. The little lame boy was always a favorite with them. They constructed for him a little cart, and it was always a delight to them to wheel him about. But he finally recovered the use of his foot, though he always walked lame. The noble boys always befriended him, and he looked up to them as true heroes, worthy of all honor. To whatever trades or professions they may, as men, devote themselves, it is certain that they will carry thereto no small share of that most desirable of all capital, the true elements of success,—energy, activity, and persevering industry.

In the opening speech of the Governor General of Canada, delivered in Parliament, the establishment of telegraphic and postal communication between Lake Superior and the Pacific coast was recommended as a matter for the consideration of the Parliment.

The Mother and her Dying Child.

A babe of beauty lay upon its mother's breast, its little form convulsed with agony. The mother bent upon it eyes in which the fire of intellect seemed almost quenched in horrified forebodings.

"Oh, God!" she cried, "take not away my darling! Take wealth, take health—take all I have besides in life; but spare me this, the idol of my soul."

An angel passed that way, and threw upon that mother a psychial power, and to her gaze displayed a scene of life-long, woe. In the foreground stood the form of a man, every lineament of his face was marred by sin, and the glance of his eye, scorched by the fire of passion, strangely reminded her of her babe.

"Oh!" she cried, "take me away from this scene of sin and sorrow. Its atmosphere poisons my very breath."

Slowly the mind's canvas was rolled backward, and she beheld a youth of fair proportions, and much external beauty; but with the seal of profligacy already upon his brow. Still more strongly in him did the mother discern a resemblance to her dying child; and yet the sight was painful.

One more backward fold of the canvas, and a beautiful boy stood before her, the counterpart of her suffering one. For a moment joy sprung up in her soul, and she bent forward to imprint a kiss upon his noble brow. Then from out his young heart came emanations which told of an impetuous will and tumultuous passions, and she felt that she posessed not the power to stay its headlong course.

Sick at heart, she turned away, while the panorama was rolled along, leaving her again with her agonized child.

"Darest thou ask for it a long earthlife?" the angel said, "and venture all thou hast seen?"

"Yes! yes!" she cried, "even this.' Naught can intimidate a mother's heart' and she hugged to her bosom more closely the dying child.

For a moment a curtain of darkness hid it from her vision. Then her eye was directed upward, where hosts of ministering spirits were congregated, filling the air with songs of joy and in the midst of that throng of heavenly ones, she beheld her babe upward borne by angel-hands, and sheltered by the wings of a Saviour's love.

As she looked it expanded in beauty and purity, until too bright for mortal comprehension. Then from all that vast throng went up this chant, filling her soul with joy and peace unutterable:—

"The Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed it; and shall lead it into living fountains of pure water, and God shall wipe away all tears from its eyes."

Then said the angel—"What sayest thou now, mother? Wilt thou still choose the fate of thy child?"

"Lost in wonder, love and praise," the subdued mother fell upon her knees, and in child-like trust exclaimed, "Not my will, but thine, O God, be done." Take back, if thou seest best, this precious treasure. Blest am I that it was ever lent me. Oh! is it not a joy, a blessing, to have a flower so rich and rare transplanted from my own to the Saviour's embrace, there to expand and bloom forever in an atmosphere of heavenly love?

So she folded the soft white hands upon the pulseless bosom, placed winter snow-drops and myrtle about its last, last earthly pillow, with calm serenity. And when the cold earth fell with a dull, material sound upon the little coffin containing the beautiful clay casket, the mother's spirit eye was again following the flight of her heavenly babe, and her spirit ear was drinking in these soft love-tones, sent back to her upon the breeze of a life supernal—"Mother, darling, live a life of love, then shalt thou come to my home of love, and enfold me once more in thine embrace."

Most beautifully has the mother learned this lesson, sent her by a loving Father's hand. And now she moves about her home like a thing of beauty, which is a joy forever. And the emanations arising from her loving heart of gratitude to God for all the treasures left her, create a celestial atmosphere, in which her guardian angel can often show her the panorama of the heavenly life of her babe.—
Rochester, N. Y. MRS. S. B. D.

It Never Dries Up.

I was staying at a village on the Welsh coast, where the people had to bring all their water from a well. Not a single house had a pump. At all hours of the day, but chiefly before breakfast and before tea-time, little feet and great—often unshod, but very active—might be seen, in any numbers, passing along a narrow lane, with every kind of pitcher, kettle or can, to a fresh water well. Not a very trustworthy friend, after all, was this village well.

'Is this well ever dry?' I inquired of a girl near it.

'Dry? Yes ma'am, very often in hot weather.'

'And where, in such a case, do you go for water?'

'To the spring, a little way out of the village.'

'And if the spring fails, what do you do then?'

'We go to the well higher up—the best water of all.'

'But what would you do in case the well higher up failed?'

'Why, ma'am, that never dries up—never. It is always the same, in winter as well as in summer.'

I went to see this precious well that never dried up. I was a clear, sparkling rivulet, coming down from high hills—not with torrent leap and roar; but with the steady flow and soft murmur of fullness and freedom. It flowed down to the highway-side. It was within reach of every child's pitcher. It was enough for every empty vessel. The small birds came down thither to drink. The ewes and lambs have trodden down a little path to its brink. The thirsty beasts of burden, along the dusty road, as I could see by their tracks, knew the way to the bountiful well that never dried up.

It reminded me of the waters of life and salvation, flowing from the 'Rock of Ages,' and brought within the reach of all men by the gospel of Jesus Christ. Every other brook may go dry in the days of drouth and adversity, but this heavenly spring never ceases to flow.

Without waiting until earth's way-side brooks shall fail, let us all hasten at once with our hearts, to the heavenly well, which "never dries up."

A LIFE THOUGHT.

I heard a man who had failed in business, and whose furniture was sold at auction, say that when the cradle, and the crib and the piano went, tears, would come, and he had to leave the house to be a man. Now there are thousands of men who have lost their pianos, but who have found better music in the sound of their children's voices and footsteps going cheerfully down with them to poverty, than any harmony of chorded instruments. Oh! how blessed is bankruptcy when it saves a man's children! I see many men who are bringing up their children as I should bring up mine, if when they were ten years old, I should lay them on a dissecting-table, and cut the sinews of their arms and legs, that they could neither walk nor use their hands, but only sit still and be fed. Thus, rich men put the knife of indolence and luxury to their childrens energies, and they grow up fatted, lazy calves, fitted for nothing, at twenty-five, but to drink deep and squander wide; and the father must be a slave all his life, in order to make beasts of his children. How blessed, then, is the stroke of disaster which sets the children free, and gives them over to the hard but kind bosom of Poverty, who say to them 'Work!' and working makes them mend.—Beecher.

This Hand Never Struck Me

We recently heard the following most touching incident, A little boy had died, His body was laid out in a darkened retired room waiting to be laid away in the grave, His afflicted mother and bereaved little sister went in to look at the sweet face of the precious sleeper, for his face was beautiful even in death. As they stood gazing on the form of one so loved and beautiful, the little girl asked to take his hand. The mother at first did not think it best; but as the child repeated the request, and seemed very anxious about it, she took the cold hand of her sleeping boy, and placed it in the hand of his weeping sister.

The dear child look at it for a moment, caressed it fondly, and then looked up to her mother through the tears of affection and love, and said: "Mother this little hand never struck me!"

What could be more touching and lovely?

Young readers, have you always been so gentle to your brothers and sisters, that were you to die, such a tribute could be paid to your memory? Could a brother or sister take your hand, were it cold and say: "This hand never struck me?"

What an alleviation to our grief, when we are called to part with friends, to be able to remember only words and actions of mutual kindness ann love! How bitter must be the sorrow, and how scalding the tears of remorse, of an unkind child, as he looks upon the cold form, or stands at the grave of a brother or sister, a father or mother, towards whom he had manifested unkindness.

God is for the Union.—It was a happy and amusing conceit of a little four or five year old boy, who saw a rainbow a few days since for the first time in his life. His father took him out doors and showed him a fine one which spanned the sky, and the first exclamation of the child was the inquiry, "Hallo! who put that up there?" "The father answered that "God put it there." After looking intently and delightedly a few moments, he exclaimed, again, "Oh! oh! red white and blue! God is for the Union, ain't He?" That boy's head and heart are as sound as a Bible. God is, indeed for the Union.

It's Dark.

The following beautiful sentiment is taken from "Meister Karl's Sketch Book," entitled The Night of Heaven. It is full of touching tenderness. "It is dark when the honorable and honest man sees the result of long years swept cruelly away by the knavish, heartless adversary. It is dark when he feels the clouds of sorrow gather around and knows that the hope and happiness of others are fading with his own. But in that hour the memory of past integrity will be a true consolation, and assure him even here on earth of gleams of light in heaven. It is dark when the voice of that sweet child once so fondly loved, is no more heard around in murmurs. Dark when the light, pattering feet no more resound without the threshold, or ascend, step by step, the stairs. Dark, when some well known air recalls the strain once attuned by the childish voice now hushed in death. Darkness, but only the day-spring of immortality and the infinite light of heaven.

Pleasing Everybody.—We do not remember having read anything better than the following sentiments. They are true to the letter:

"Heaven help the man who imagines he can dodge his enemies by trying to please everybody. If such an individual ever succeeded, we should be glad to know it. No that we believe in a man's going through the world trying to find beams to knock his head against; disputing every man's opinion, elbowing and crowding all who differ from him. That again is another extreme. Other people have a right to their opinion—so have you—don't fall into the error of supposing that they respect you more for your coat every day to match the color of theirs. Wear your own colors in spite of wind and weather, storm and sunshine. Its costs the vacilliating and irresolute ten times the trouble to wind, shuffle and twist, that it does honest, manly independence to stand its ground. Take what time you want to make up your mind; having once made it up, stick to it, like a burr to a chestnut."

Eye-Sight.

Milton's blindness was the result of over work and dyspepsia.

Multitudes of men and women have made their eyes weak for life by the too free use of their eye-sight, reading small print and doing fine sewing. In viewing these things it will be well to observe the following rules in the use of the eyes;

Avoid all sudden changes between light and darkness.

Never begin to read, or write, or sew for several minutes after coming from darkness to a bright light.

Never read by twilight, or moonlight, or of a cloudy day.

Never read or sew directly in front of the light, window or door.

It is better to have the light from above obliquely over the left shoulder.

Never sleep so that on first waking the eyes shall open on the light of a window.

Do not use the eye sight by a light so scant that it requires an effort to discriminate.

The moment you are instinctively prompted to rub the eyes, that moment cease using them.—Hall's Journal of Health.

A Graceful Compliment to a Wife.—The following neat and beautiful reply was made by the late Daniel O'Connell, in a response to a toast given in compliment to his wife, who was the object of his long and affectionate attachment. It was given at a political meeting. The English language could furnish nothing more touchingly tenderly and graceful:

"There are some topics of so sacred and sweet a nature, that they may be comprehended by those who are happy, but they cannot be possibly described by any human being. All that I shall do is to thank you in the name of her who was the disinterested choice of my youth; who was the ever cheerful companion of my manly years; and who is the sweetest solace of that 'sear and yellow leaf' age at which I have arrived. In her name I thank you; and this you may readily believe, for experience, I think, will show to us all that man cannot battle and struggle with the malignant enemies, unless his nest at home is warm and comfortable—unless the honey of human life is commended by a hand he loves."

Cute.—We hear a good anecdote concerning a soldier laddie on one of our gunboats. The vessel was just going into action, and our soldier was upon his knees, when an officer sneeringly asked him if he was afraid.

'No, I was praying,' was the reply.

'What were you praying for?' continued the officer.

'Praying that the enemy' bullets may be distributed the same way as the prize money is—principally among the officers!' was the quick retort.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

The Weekly Union.

Mankato. Friday. Sept. 11, 1863.

Republican Union Ticket.

For Governor,
STEPHEN MILLER,
of Stearns County.
For Lieutenant Governor,
CHARLES D. SHERWOOD,
of Fillmore County.
For Secretary of State,
DAVID BLAKELY,
of Olmsted County,
For Auditor of State,
CHARLES McILRATH,
of Nicollet County.
For State Treasurer.
CHARLES SCHEFFER,
of Washington County.
For Attorney General,
GORDON E. COLE,
of Rice County.
For Clerk of the Supreme Court,
GEO. F. POTTER,
of Houston County.

County Ticket.

For Sheriff,
ELIJAH MIDDLEBROOK.
For Register of Deeds,
BENJAMIN F. SMITH.
For Treasurer,
A. T. LINDHOLM.
For Judge of Probate,
DAVID WILCOX.
For County Surveyor,
WILLIAM L. COON.
For County Coroner,
T. T. PEIRCE.
For County Commissioners,
1st Dist.—H. ROBERTSON.
2d Dist.—L. G. M. FLETCHER.
3d Dist.—JOHN J. ROBERTS.

Republican Union Platform.

Resolved, that we, chosen to represent in convention the unconditional Union men of Minnesota, grateful to Almighty God for the success which has hitherto crowned the arms of our country and for the prospect thus opened of a speedy, honorable and lasting peace, do hereby, for our friends and constituents, re-affirm our determination to support our Government by every means in our power in the vigorous prosecution of this present war,—on our part, holy, just, and forced upon us by the criminal acts of others,—until not an enemy in arms shall be found within our borders. And to this we pledge our lives our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

2. That we tender our grateful thanks to the survivors of our glorious armies, and our warm sympathy to the relatives of their gallant dead, who have won for the country so glorious victories, for themselves imperishable renown, and for us all an assurance of liberty and safety for our children, under our beloved and now well-tried Government.

3. That with especial pride we point to the gallant achievements on many a hard-fought battlefield, of our Minnesota regiments. Their bravery, discipline, and patriotism have won for them a name that shall never die, and made it forever honorable to be a citizen of Minnesota.

4. That, without claiming for it exemption from error, we heartily endorse the general policy and conduct of our National Administration; and we point to the recent magnificent triumph of our armies as its best vindication from the charges of incapacity so freely brought against it by those who prefer national ruin, to success under the present Administration. Especially do we approve the emancipation proclamation, and the raising of black troops as being among the best possible measures to weaken the enemy and strengthen ourselves.

5 That our State Administration, and our Congressional Delegation deserve our hearty approbation for the zealous and efficient cooperation they have afforded the National Authorities in carrying on the war.

6 That we call upon those in authority to take such measures, by retaliation or otherwise, as shall effectually prevent brutal and barbarous treatment by the enemy of our soldiers, of whatever color.

7 That it is due to our shattered armies in the field, as well as to the sacred cause which they uphold, that their ranks should as speedily as possible be filled up by every means in our power. It is due to the country that the mobs raised to resist and prevent the draft, should not seem to have succeeded a day longer than is necessary to enforce the laws.

8 That the way to peace is and ever has been open to the rebels; the only condition we have ever sought to impose, is that they should lay down their arms and submit to the authority of the General Government. We protest against the making of any terms with them in advance as to their status as communities, when they shall have returned to their allegiance. Having been declared "public enimies" by a recent unanimous decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, they must accept the consequences that legitimately flow from having placed themselves in that position.

District Convention.

The Delegates of the Union Republican Convention of the 17th Representative and Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Le Sueur and Blue Earth, will meet at Kasota, in Le Sueur County, on Monday the 14th day of September, 1863, at 2 o'clock P. M., to select candidates for Representatives and Senator for said District.

Sept. 7th, 1863. J. J. THORNTON,
Ch'n Dist. Com.

OUR COUNTY TICKET.

The Union Convention which met last Saturday was the most successful and harmonious one we have had for years, and the ticket nominated is composed of such good material that it gives universal satisfaction, and not a doubt exists as to its trimuphant election. There is a general desire on the part of every Union man to support the whole ticket, and work earnestly for its election.

The candidate for Sheriff, Mr. Elijah Middlebrook, of Mapleton, is a gentleman of acknowledged ability, undoubted honesty of purpose, and has held a similar position in Winneshick Co, Iowa, where he gave universal satisfaction. He will make a good officer.

For Register of Deeds, we have Col. B. F. Smith, late of the Third Minnesota. He is well known throughout the County and State as a man of sterling worth. He was formerly a member of the Ohio Legislature, and Auditor of the county in which he then resided, in that State. He removed to Minnesota about seven years ago, and has been identified with our County interests ever since. He is perfectly conservant with the duties of the office and has ability to discharge them satisfactorily.

A. T. Lindholm, the candidate for Treasurer, has never been before the people for any county position. He is well known in this vicinity as a gentleman of practical experience as a book-keeper and accountant, and no one doubts his ability for the office. The office of Treasurer has heretofore been in good hands, and the incumbent for the last four years, have kept the Treasurers books in good shape, We are glad that the office is to be filled by an equally competent person.

Wm. L. Coon, is the nominee for County Surveyor. He is a young lawyer of ability, and has practical experience as a Surveyor, and will do himself and the county credit.

With the remainder of the ticket aside from Mr. Fletcher we are not acquainted. We hear them all spoken of as good men in every way reliable and competent.

Taken separately, and as a whole, the ticket is one that will be hard to beat.

TRIUMPH OF THE RECORD CLIQUE

This well known clique held a convention at Garden City last Monday, and went through the farce of nominating a County ticket. We regret that our special reporter was unable to attend, as a record of its harmonious proceedings ought to be handed down to future generations. The ticket was partially cut and dried in secret caucus, but through the treachery of two of the Mankato delegates, the strongest and most deserving candidate for Treasurer was defeated.

The ticket placed in nomination is as follows.

Sheriff—George Andrews, of Mankato.
Register—David Parks, of Vernon.
Treasurer—John F. Meagher, of Mankato.
Judge of Probate—T. S. Hayes, of Vernon.
County Surveyor—E. Goodridge, of Lime.
Coroner—Dr Brown, of Mankato.
County Com.—And. Hanna, 1st Dist.
Mr. Hugh—2d Dist.
H. Goodrich—3d Dist.

The ticket is decidedly the weakest one, in every respect, that could have been gotten up, and is admitted to be such by leading democrats in the County. If there is no better material in the so-called democratic party of this County out of which to manafacture a ticket, it is about time the party was disbanded and blown up—the present one is certainly not worth the money to buy powder with for that purpose.

Our worthy German friends, who are largely in the majority, have been entirely ignored, and have vowed their determination to bolt the clique ticket. Mr Batcheler, the only deserving candidate for Register, made a speech during the convention, and said that "he would not accept the nomination when prominent Democrats had pledged themselves to vote the Republican ticket." This and "mine Cot in Himmel. I'll fix' em," were expressions used to show dislike to the ticket.

We shall pay our respects to the candidates in a future issue.

A resolution was adopted, and then the meeting soon after adjourned, the "clique" laughing in their sleeves at the good joke they had played, and brothers Bacheler and Hoerr murmuring half audibly to themselves, "Miserable comforters are ye all."

THE SIOUX CLAIMS.

A letter from Minneapolis gives us some items that may interest those concerned.

The whole number of claims filed by the 1st of September was 2935. Nearly 800 of these have not yet been heard. The Commissioners have at last received information from the Secretary of the Interior that $200,000,00 is the amount which will be at their disposal for the present relief. Just who will be entitled to relief from this fund has not been definitely decided upon, but in two or three weeks they will commence to adjudicate the cases, and decide what class of claimants are entitled to relief.

THE DEMOCRATIC STANDARD BEARERS.

The Chatfield Democrat and the St. Cloud Union, are the only Democratic papers in the State that support the Copperhead ticket, and these, so far as respectability and influence are concerned, amount to just nothing at all. The editor of the Chatfield Democrat, who is a candidate on the ticket, is an arch traitor and copperhead, whose paper teems with abuse of the government on all occasions. He deserves, and we hope will yet receive, a place along with John Morgan and Vallandigham.

The Union, conducted by mere stripplings, without experience or ability, swallows the Convention, nominations, and platform, and in that has its "opinion" simmered down. What a stomach the editor must have!

The nominee for Governor on the Democratic Ticket, in conversation with us a few days ago, said "there would be no contest this fall, as the party could not expect to achieve any success whatever, unless it had newspapers of conceded ability and influence to advocate its cause."

Mr. Welles hit the nail square on head that time, and never uttered a more truthful remark. The Democratic ship that once bore its hydra head so proudly, has lost its ballast, and the rats have nearly deserted it.

DISTRICT CONVENTION.

The District Convention for the Seventeenth Legislative District to nominate a Senator and three Representatives, will be held at Kasota, Le Sueur County, on Monday next, the 14th inst.

The delegates are as follows:—

BLUE EARTH COUNTY,
J. F. Loring, Mankato.
G. A. Beireis, Le Ray.
Thos. M. Pugh, South Bend.
Levi Scott, Garden City.
Wm. Russell, Sterling.
LE SUEUR COUNTY,
Peter Cheadle, Cleveland.
Amasa Stewart, Le Seuer,
J. S, Little, Kasota
A. B Rodgers, Waterville.
Perry Wilson, Cordova.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

Pursuant to call the delegates from the several towns met in the City Hall, Saturday afternoon, Sept. 5th.

William Russell, of Sterling, was elected Chairman, and Jason Wickersham, of Mankato, Secretary. Messrs. J. W. B. Welcome, Minor Porter, and Mr. McBruls were appointed a committee on credentials.

The Committee reported delegates present from all the towns but Jamestown and Ceresco.

The Convention then proceeded to the nomination of County Officers.

Messers. Thomas Sowers and C. H. Whitney being appointed tellers.

On the first ballot for Sheriff B. D. Pay, received 7 votes; E Middlebrook, 14; William Hodgson, 4; William Miller, 5;

2d Ballot—Pay 12; Middlebrook, 13; Hodgson, 5;

3d Ballot—Pay, 11; Middlebrook, 14; Hodgson, 1; Wm. Lee, 4.

4th Ballot—Pay, 9; Middlebrook, 14; Lee, 7,

5th Ballot—Pay, 13; Middlebrook, 12; Lee, 3.

6th Ballot—Pay, 11; Middlebrook, 16, Lee, 3.

Elijah Middlebrook, of Mapleton, having received a majority of all the votes cast on the sixth ballot was declared elected.

On an informal ballot for Register of Deeds, the vote stood A. T. Lindholm, 3; B. F. Smith, 20; A. O. Perkins, 4.

A formal ballot was then had when B. F. Smith, received 26 votes, A. D. Seward, 2; A. O. Perkins, 2.

B. F. Smith of Vernon, was declared the nominee for Register of Deeds.

The Convention proceeded to nominate for County Treasurer. A. T. Lindholm, received 16 votes; A. O. Perkins, 6; and A, D. Seward, 8.

Mr Lindholm was declared elected.

David Wilcox was nominated for Judge of Probate, and elected by acclamation.

Wm. Coon, was unanimously nominated for County Surveyor.

For County Coroner, T. T. Peirce, was nominated by acclamation.

The Convention then proceeded to nominate delegates to the District Convention, with the following result:

J. F. Loring, Mankato.
G. A. Biereis, Le Ray,
Thos. M. Pugh, South Bend.
Levi Scott, Garden City.
William Russell, Sterling,

The delegates were empowered to substitute in case of non-attendance and instructed to vote for B. Y. Coffin for Senator and William Russell, of Sterling, for Representative.

The Convention appointed a County Committee as follows:

1st Dist—Robt. Wardlaw, of Lime.
2d " H. L. Gude, of Mankato.
3d " P. F. Eckstorm, of South Bend, (Chairman.)
4th " W. R. Greenwood, of Watonwan.
5th " Robt. Taylor, of Sterling.

For County Commissioners Henry Robertson, of Jamestown, was nominated from the 1st District; L. G. M. Fletcher, of Mankato, from the 2d; and John I. Jones, of Judson, from the 3d.

On motion, the Convention then adjourned sine die.

The Union County Convention for Hennepin County has placed in nomination the following ticket.

For Senator—Dorilus Morrison.

For Representative—John A. Coleman and Gilbert Graham.

For County Treasurer—John S. Walker.

ELECTION RETURNS.

CALIFORNIA ELECTION,

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.

The following dispatches were received.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 3.

To Abraham Lincoln,

Loyal California sends greeting. The Union and Congressional tickets are elected by a majority of 25,000 to 30,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.

To Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War:

The Union State ticket is carried by a large majority. There are large contributions to the Sanitary Fund.

GEO. WRIGHT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.

Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War:

We have "moved on the enemy's works," and they are ours. California, by her votes, bids you and the army God speed in your arduous and glorious work.

F. F. LOW.

VERMONT ELECTION.

MONTPELIER, VT., Tuesday Sept. 3,

The election for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and Treasurer, and three Members of Congress, and also Members of the Legislature, took place in this State to-day. The Hon. John Gregory Smith of St. Albans was the candidate of the Republican Union party, and the Hon. T. B. Readfield of Montpelier the nominee of the Peace or Seymour Democrats. Not much interest has been taken in the campaign by the friends of Mr. Smith, The Democrats have acted differently, and have labored energetically, under the hopes of realizing large gains.

In 1861 and 1862 the Democracy had little or no organization in the State, and generally were absent from the polls. We, therefore, so far as the returns have been received, give the vote as compared with that of 1860, when the two wings of the Democracy were strongly united. The vote of the State will be about 8,000 less than in 1860 when it amounted to 48,500.

We have returns from 34 towns, embracing about one-fourth of the State. They gave Smith 7,525 and Readfield 3,017. The same towns in 1860 gave Fairbanks (Rep.) 8,373, and Saxey and Harrey (Dems.) 3,663. Smith's majority so far is 202 less than that of Fairbanks.

Only two towns so far as heard from, give Democratic majorities.

We have the Legislature vote of 50 towns. All sent Union representatives but two. Among the members elected are W. D. Smith, St. Albans, W. G. Shaw, of Burlington. Chas. Read, of Montpelier, J. S. Marcy, of Royalton, O. P, Chandler of Woodstock, and S. M. Dorr, of Rutland.

The Senate will be unanimously Union, and the three Congressmen also Union by from 6,000 to 8,000 majority for each.

WILMINGTON ELECTION.

WILMINGTON, DEL., Sept. 3,

At the city election Major Gilpin (Union) was re-elected. The Unionists have carried every ward and precinct. The City Council is unanimously Union. All the Administration candidates, including Treasurer, Assessor, Alderman and Inspectors, were elected.

An Unforunate Accident--one soldier shoots another by mistake.

Correspondence of the St. Paul Press.

SILVER CREEK, Sept. 5th 1863.

Permit me to inform you of a terrible accident which occured at this place last Tuesday evening.

A squad of soldiers of Co. E, 8th Regt. Minn. Vols., being stationed here, one of them, Andrew Bertram, went down the path to the Lake to get a bucket of water. In returning he heard a noise in the brush imitating a bear. He went to the house and took his musket and gave the alarm that bruin was in camp. Immediately five men followed him down the path, and after proceeding four or five rods, he stopped and asked them if they did not hear a noise. Some said they did, and went within two rods of the place where they heard him scratching and growling.

Three of them viewed him, and thought surely it was a black bear. The party dividing, some ran around to cut off his retreat, but just as they parted, Bertram fired, when a loud shriek was twice heard exclaiming, "O!" When going up, what was their surprise to find Christopher Bailey breathing his last, having been shot directly through the body.

The affair has created an unusual excitement in Monticello, where the family resides. Both have the undivided sympathy of the public in their heart-felt grief, and they also exonerate young Bertram for the part he played in the melancholy tragedy.

Yours respectfully,
JOHN B PARVIN,
Sarg't Co E. 8 h Reg't M. V.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.—The representatives of the Democracy of his State mit in convention at St. Paul, on Wednesday last, for the purpose of nominating a good Democratic ticket. How they succeeded the world knows. We should imagine that the "Due" must have been very heavy and the "Wells" rather dry in the region about St. Paul, as the delegates that went from this city returned with spirits dampened and throats dry. They immediately adjourned to their respective homes to escape the sympathy of the many friends that awaited their arrival. They have all been extremely unwell since the convention, all from the effects of the heavy Dues, in the upper country.—Hastings Democrat.

From Sibley's Expedition--Twenty-four Miners Killed on the Missouri.

Rev. S. R. Rigg, the correspondent of the St. Paul Press, writes to that paper as follows, about the massacre of a party of miners who were descending the Missouri in small boats;

During our march to-day a messenger overtook us, bringing Gen. Sibley a dispatch from Abercrombie. It was to the effect that Standing Buffalo and a few others had visited Pembina or St. Joseph, and reported that a company of miners descending the Missouri on some kind of flat boat had been attacked by the Sioux, and twenty-four of them killed, including a woman. A child was taken captive. In the fight the Sioux lost forty men. They reported also that the Sioux had crossed back to this side of the Missouri, but in a wonderfully impoverished condition, and that they intend to winter at Devil's Lake.

Standing Buffalo represents seven chiefs as desirous of making peace with the white people, and who are willing to give up the murderers of last summer. If this can be accomplished, we may look with hope to the speedy settlement of these Indian troubles.

Two messengers from Major Camp, commanding the post of Fort Abercrombie, have just reached this place, bearing dispatches to Gen. Sibley, whose returning expedition is on its way homeward on the old Red River trail, a little to the southwest of the present road to Fort Abercrombie, and which is encamped to-night about fifteen miles from here. They bring the news that the Sioux have recrossed the Missouri river, driven thence by unfriendly Tetons.

The friendly chief, Standing Buffalo, with some of his people, were in the vicinity of Pembina, but nothing was known of his present or future intentions.

In addition to this news, which is derived from half breed scouts, we have intelligence from a similar source, that a party of twenty-four returning Salmon river miners, who were descending the Missouri river in small boats, were attacked by the Indians not far from the point where the engagement took place between Gen. Sibley's forces and the Indians, and, after a severe fight, in which a large number of the red devils were killed, every white man was massacred. Of course no particulars can be given of this sanguinary encounter, and they probably never will be known. Who the unfortunate men were, can only be left to conjecture.

Such is the news from Fort Abercrombie, and such, it is believed, is the tenor of the dispatches to Gen. Sibley. I give you the account as it reached me from the lips of the messenger, and I believe it is reliable.

LATEST NEWS.

News by Friday Morning's Mail.

CINCINNATI Sept. 9.—Gen. Crittenden's division of Rosecran's army took possession of Chattanooga today. The enemy evacuated yesterday retreating South.

FORTRESS MONROE, Sept. 9—It is reported that Morris Island has been evacuated by the rebels.

The Richmond Examiner of the 7th says that on the 5th Charleston witnessed another furious bombardment of Forts Wagner and Gregg by the enemy fleet and batteries. Firing began at daplight, and was maintained steadily until dark. A Monitor is now firing on Moultrie, and another assault on Wagner is expected to-night.

Busnside has captured Knoville, and Tennessee is now redeemed.

One more State captured by force of arms, and though pinned to the Union by bayonets, an opportunity will be afforded for returning reason.

Matters on the Potomac are quiet,

ANOTHER FROST.—The last nights of the month of August witnessed a number of serious frosts in this vicinity. Corn, Sorghum and vines on low ground suffered severely, being killed in many places where the July frost had spared them. Still we learn that a large portion of the corn crop throughout the County is yet uninjured, and much of it is nearly ripe. Corn will be scarce but the crop is by no means a failure. In the States South and East of us, the reports show the damage to be much more serious. In Wisconsin, Iowa and Northern and Central Illinois it was very severe, in many localities nearly ruining the corn, sorghum and tobacco crops. It extended even as far south as Kentucky, where the tobacco was somewhat damaged. Thus even this strange year's experience proves that Minnesota is more secure from damaging frosts than any other Western State.—Mantorville Express.

LIST OF PREMIUMS

To be awarded at the Fourth Annual Fair of the Faribault County Agricultural Society, to be held at Blue Earth City, on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct 7th and 8th, 1863.

CLASS A—HORSES.

Best Stallion 4 years old and over, $2 and Diploma.
2d best do	$1 00
3d best do	Dip.
Best 3 years old and over	2 00 & Dip.
Best Mare do	1 00
best 2 year old colt	1 00
best 1 do	1 00
best blood mare and colt	2 00
best sucking colt	Dip.
best pair draught horses	1 00
best pair matched horses	1 00
best saddle horse	1 00
best single carriage horse	1 00

JUDGES—C W, Wilson, A. Latimer, and H. T. Stoddard.

CLASS B—CATTLE.

best bull 3 years old and over	2 00
2d best do	1 00
best 2 years do	1 00
best 1 year do	1 00
best cow 3 years do	2 00
2d best do	1 00
best heifer 2 years do	50
best heifer one year do	50
best bull calf	50
best heifer calf	50
best pair working oxen	1 00

JUDGES—Thomas George: J. B. Cate, and W. F. C. Robertson.

CLASS C—SHEEP.

best buck	1 00
best ewe	1 00
2d best do	Dip.

JUDGES—James Pratt, Thomas Blair, and S. W. Brown.

CLASS D—SWINE.

best boar	1 00
2d best	50
best sow	1 00
best litter of pigs, 4 or more	1 00

JUDGES—J. H. Dunham, Amos Preston, and E. Rhodes.

CLASS E—POULTRY.

best pair chickens	50
best pair geese	50
best pair turkeys	50

JUDGES—T. J. Jenness, J. S, McCrary, and E. Young.

CLASS F—FARMING IMPLEMENTS.

best breaking plow	1 00
best stirring plow	1 00
best shovel plow	50
best cultivator	50
best harrow	50
best hand roller	50
best corn planter	1 00
best one horse hay rake	50
best ox yoke	1 00
best ax helve	25

JUDGES—P. C. Seely, J. S. Latimer, and George Spickerman.

CLASS G—FARM PRODUCTS.

best ½ bu wheat	50
best do oats	25
best do barley	25
best do rye	25
best sample field corn	25
best sample pop corn	25
best ½ bu timothy seed	25
best specimen red clover	25
best specimen white clover	25
best specimen broom corn	25
best ½ bu potatoes	25
2d best	Dip.
best ½ bu beans	50
best ½ bu peas	50
best specimen carrots	Dip.
do beets	Dip.
do rutabagas	Dip.
do turnips	Dip.
do watermelons	Dip.
do musk mellons	Dip.
do apple pie melons	Dip.
do tomatoes	Dip.
do ground cherries	Dip

JUDGES—Albin Johnson, Mr. Mount, and S. C. Seaton.

CLASS H—DAIRY AND KITCHEN.

best sample fresh roll butter	50
do pickled butter	50
do cheese	50
do maple sugar	Dip
do syrup	Dip.
do sorghum syrup	1 00 & Dip.
do sorghum sugar	do
do honey	50
best loaf of wheat bread	25
best loaf of corn bread	25
best pound cake	25
best pie, 2 or more	25
best sample native wine	Dip.
do jelly	"
do preserves	"
do vinegar (native)	"
best cured ham	25
best hard soap	Dip.
best soft soap	"

Competitors for premiums in this class must accompany their entries with a recipe for making the articles entered,

JUDGES—A. C Dunn, Mrs. S. W. Brown, Mrs E C Young, Mrs. A. C. Dunn, and Mrs. P. C. Seely.

CLASS I—MECHANICAL DEPARTMENT.

best panel door	1 00
best specimen of cabinet work	50
best specimen of horse shoeing	1 00
best specimen of blacksmith work	50
best post auger	50
best corn broom	50
best pair common boots	1 00
best pair ladies shoes	50
best churn	50
best butter firkin	50

Articles in this class must be manufactured in the county to entitle them to the above premiums.

JUDGES—G. B. Kingsley. Uri Hill, and George Hart.

CLASS J—DOMESTIC MANUFACTURES,

best straw hat	Dip.
2d best	"
best pair woolen mittens	"
best pair woolen stockings	"
best pair woolen socks	"
best pair fancy knit hose	"
best specimen of embroidery	"
best specimen of crotchet work	"
best made shirt	"
best made suit men's clothing	"
best made bonnet	"
best made bed quilt	"
best made rag carpet	"

JUDGES—G B. Kingsley, Mrs, H. J. Neal, Mrs. G. H. Goodnow, Mrs. Albin Johnson, Mrs. Wm. Dustin, and Mrs. B. Chute.

CLASS K—FLORAL DEPARTMENT.

best collection tame flowers	Dip.
best collection wild flowers	"
best collection artificial flowers	"

JUDGES—Miss Caroline Vanice, Miss Pratt, Miss Mount, Miss A. Sumner, and Miss V. Weir.

CLASS L—EQUESTRIANISM.

best exhibition lady's horsemanship	$2 00 & Dip.
2d best	1 00 & Dip.
3d best	50 & Dip.
4th best	50 & Dip.

JUDGES—J. S. Weir, J, C. Howland, and D. S. Law.

Exhibition open to all persons, whether citizens of this or any other county.

Members who have paid their yearly dues can exhibit their property and produce free of charge. Those that are not members must pay the amount of the premiums on the articles they exhibit.

Articles entered by persons living out of the county of Faribault, will only be entitled to diplomas

Winnebago City, Sept. 7th, 1863.
J. A. LATIMER,
President Faribault Co. Ag'l Society.

Flour for Sale.

THE undersigned has FIFTY Barrels of Fine Flour for sale at $3,50 per barrel
7 JOHN N. HALL.

Notice.

AS I have been regularly authorized by F. M. Gunning, surviving partner of the late firm of "Hensley & Gunning," to settle up the business matters of said firm, all persons indebted to them are requested and advised to make immediate payment to me, or, during my temporary absence from town, to C. H. Slocum, editor and proprietor of the UNION. E. P. FREEMAN.

☞BEFORE PURCHASING A
Piano or Melodeon,
REMEMBER
W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.,
DEALER IN
PIANOS
AND
MELODEONS!

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake St.
CHICAGO,
DEALER IN
"GOLD PRIZE MEDAL"
PIANOS,
MELODEONS,
SCHOOL ORGANS
AND Harmoniums

PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO'S PIANOS.
J. & C. FISCHER'S "
G. A. MILLER & CO'S "
WM P. EMERSON'S "
J. W. VOSE'S "
KURTZMAN & HINZE'S "
GROVESTIEN & CO'S

And other Boston and New York Manufactures.

☞The reputation of the Pianos of the above manufacturers is a sufficient guarantee of their merit; and every instrument sold by me will be

WARRANTED
in all respects to give
SATISFACTION

MY MELODEONS
are from the best manufacturers, and inferior to none in the market.

An Illustrated Catalogue describing every instrument, will be furnished upon application to me by mail, giving the PRICE and STYLES of the instruments.

☞Orders from the country will receive prompt attention

Address, before purchasing or looking elsewhere

W. W. KIMBALL,
7 142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.

Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS, on the twenty-third day of January, A. D., 1860, John C. Jones, of Blue Earth County, mortgaged to Edward R. Parry and Richard R Parry, the north half of the north-east quarter, and the south-east quarter of the north-east quarter of section twenty-eight, and the south west quarter of the north west quarter of section twenty seven, all in township one hundred and nine north of range twenty-nine west, in Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, to secure the payment of one hundred and eighty seven dollars and sixty-five cents and interest in six months from date; and said mortgage was duly recorded in book "D" of mortgages, on pages 117 and 118 in the Register's office in said County on the 23d day of January, A. D, 1860, and whereas the whole mortgage debt, is past due, and but seventy-five dollars has been paid of the principal and interest, and the amount now due thereon is one hundred and sixty-five dollars, and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured, Now notice is hereby given to all whom it may concern, that if the said debt is not paid before that time, the following portion of said mortgaged land, to wit. The east half of the north east quarter of section twenty-eight, and the south-west quarter of the north-west quarter of section twenty-seven (27) all in township one hundred and nine north of range twenty-nine west, will be sold at public auction between the hours of 9 o'clock, A. M., and the setting of the sun, on the 13th day of October, A. D, 1863, at the office of the Register of Deeds in said County, by the sheriff of said county to satisfy said mortgage and costs, in pursuance of the power of sale attached to said mortgage. Mankato, Aug 28th, 1863.

EDWARD R PARRY, } Mortgagees
RICHARD R. PARRY, }
FINCH & FITCHER, Attys for Mortgagees. 7

SINGER & CO'S.
Letter "A" Sewing Machine.
WITH ALL THE IMPROVEMENTS.

IS the best and cheapest and most beautiful of all Sewing Machines. This Machine will sew anything, from the running of a tuck in Turlton to the making of an Overcoat—anything from Pilot or Beaver Cloth down to the softest Gauze or Gossamer Tissue, and is ever ready to do its work to perfection. It can fell, hem, bind, gather, tuck, quilt, and has capacity for a great variety of ornamental work. This is not the only Machine that can fell, hem, bind, and so forth, but it will do so better than any other Machine. The Letter "A" Family Sewing Machine may be had in a great variety of cabinet cases. The Folding Case, which is now becoming so popular, is, as its name implies, one that can be folded into a box or case, which, when opened makes a beautiful, substantial, and capacious table for the work to rest upon. The cases are of every imaginable design—plain as the wood grew in its native forest, or as elaborately finished as art can make them. The Branch Offices are well supplied with silk, twist thread, needles, oil, etc., of the very best quality,

I. M. SINGER & CO.,
458 Broadway, N. Y.
Milwaukee Office, 17 Marshall House.
D. WILCOX, Agent Mankato, Minn.

Wanted.

THREE GOOD GIRLS AT THE CLIFTON HOUSE.

One to take charge of the Cooking department, the others to do dining room and other work usual in hotels. Liberal wages and steady employment given.

M. T. C. FLOWER, Proprietor.
Mankato, Aug. 5th, 1863. tn4

DEFECTIVE PAGE

THE COUNTY.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

St. Paul—Arrives at 9 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Eastern—Arrives at 4 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Blue Earth City—Arrives at 5 P. M. and departs at 7 A. M. Closes 7 P. M.

Office hours—5 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays, 5 to 7 A. M., and 12 M. to 1 P. M.

R. J. SIBLEY, Postmaster.

Agents for the Union.

The following are authorized to receive and receipt for monies paid on subscription to the UNION:

Mankato—MARTIN N. SLOCUM.
South Bend—LARS LEE.
Garden City—RAY & WILLIAMS.
Vernon—THOMAS SOWERS.
Shelbyville—H. A. BUCK, R SHANNON.
Winnebago City—HOLLY and WELCH.
Verona—A. D MASON.
Blue Earth City—W. J. C. ROBERTSON.
Fairmount—W W CARRINGTON
Mapleton—S MIDDLEBROOK.
Madelia—C. G. MULLEN.
New Ulm—J. C RUDOLPH.
Judson—MR. GOODWIN.
Winnebago Agency—LUCIUS DYER.
Sterling—WILLIAM RUSSELL.
Butternut Valley—REV. J. JENKINS.

Mrs. Potts, Milliner, starts next Monday for Chicago to purchase a new stock of Millinery goods.

WILLIAMS, of the St. Paul Press, says "the river is on a stand," What kind of a stand does he mean?

DEPUTY PROVOST MARSHAL.—We are glad to note the appointment of our townsman J. T. Williams as Deyuty Provost Marshal for this County, vice W. H. Blackmar, resigned.

AFTER NEW GOODS.—Mr. Mims, of the firm of Mims & Womack, has gone East after a stock of new goods.

FITTING UP.—The U. S. Collector's office at this place is undergoing thorough repairs, and when completed will be one of the most convenient offices in town.

NEW TAILOR SHOP.—Our old friend Wm. Irving, has cast his lot among us again, and will soon open a shop in the building recently occupied by O. Ward. May success follow.

QUARTERLY MEETING.—The Fourth Quarterly Conference of the Mankato station will be held to-morrow and Sunday. The Presiding Elder, Rev. A. G. Perkins will be present.

REMOVED.—O. Ward has removed his large stock of goods one door above his old stand on the corner of Front and Jackson street, He has secured a good location, and a building, the interior of which, presents a very fine appearance.

WE have on hand a large lot of St. Paul advertisements which we are unable to get in our paper this week. They will appear next week, and thereafter until all are published.

GRAPING.—Grapes are very plenty in this vicinity, and another frost or two will make them in fine picking order. "Graping, graping, who'll go a graping?"

WE receive from Washington "Monthly Reports of Agriculture," which are of interest to farmers. Those of our subscribers who would like to get them, can do so free of postage, by sending us their post office address.

NEW GOODS.—Mr. J. M. Thompson Esq., of Garden City, starts for the East to-morrow, after a stock of new goods. Mr. T. is a man of good judgment and taste, and will select a stock just suited to the wants of his customers.

WE have just received by Express a large lot of letter paper and envelopes of all kinds, including Soldiers union note paper and envelopes, which we sell at low rates.

WICKERSHAM has on hand a lot of letter paper of all kinds, such as fools cap, letter, Ladies note, billet and gilt-edge note, and envelopes of all kinds. He has also got a new pen for writing purposes, called the "Pig Pen." It is the best pen out.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNTY BOARD.—We were absent from town during the session of the County Board and, therefore, not able to get a report. In lieu thereof, we copy the report published by the Record last week.

MOUNTAIN JUNES.—Mr. Albert Turner, of Jamestown, presented us last week, with a few potatoes of the above variety, which are really giants in size. They look very much like the pink eye, and are excellent for table use. One of them is sufficient for a meal for a family of six or eight.

OWATONNA.—We spent last Sunday in this pretty town, and had a very pleasant time. It is one of the prettiest inland towns in the State, and contains a population of nearly five hundred inhabitants. It is destined to be the junction of the Minneapolis, Fairbault and Cedar Valley, and the Transit Railroad, and will eventually be a town of considerable importance.

NEW CLOTHING STORE.—S. Randall has opened a new clothing Store, on Front Street, second door above Jackson. We have examined both his stock and prices, and find the one good and well assorted, and the other reasonable and satisfactory. Give him a call.

AGENTS.—We have appointed J. M. Thompson, and Messrs, Ray & Williams, of Garden City, agents to receive and receipt for subscriptions to the UNION. We have already a fair list at that place, and through the efforts of those gentlemen it is bound to increase rapidly.

PENMANSHIP.—We learn that Professor A. Shaw will soon commence the instruction of a class in writing. Mr. Shaw's popularity and success are evidence of his ability and skill to teach this most useful art, and we hear him spoken of in the highest terms. This is a good opportunity for those wishing to perfect themselves in this accomplishment, to do so. He is stopping at the Clifton House, where he may be found ready to take the names of those wishing to join his class. His terms are very low, and his style of penmanship cannot be excelled.

THE celebrated Black Swan gave two concerts in this place on Wednesday and Thursday evenings last. City Hall was crowded to its utmost capacity. The singing was splendid and the playing on the Piano could not be excelled. We were pained to notice that the singer and audience were much annoyed by the talking and laughing of a parcel of boys who would have done themselves much credit had they been quietly seated beside their parents.

A CHANGE OF TIME.—The St. Paul mail does not arrive here now until nearly two o'clock A. M. The reason is, the Post Office Department has changed the order permiting the stage to leave St. Paul at four o'clock in the morning. They are obliged now to await the arrival of the Eastern mail, which usually gets into St. Paul from four to seven A. M. The subscribers to the daily papers do not, therefore, get them until the morning after they leave St. Paul.

The sales of Fairbanks' Scales the present year, particularly at the West, has been largely in advance of any previous year during the whole history of the Messrs. Fairbanks, business, which shows the unusual prosperity of those branches of business in which weighing is done, and also the increasing popularity with the public of these celebrated Scales.

TRY IT BY ALL MEANS.—If any of our readers have been troubled to make light and uniform biscuit, it is more than probable they do not use DeLand & Co.'s Chemical Saleratus. That is a pure article, not detrimental to health and sure in its effects. Try it by all means.

WORDS OF CHEER.—Every week we receive encouragement from new and old subscribers, expressive of their pleasure in perusing the Union, and of the course we are pursuing. From among the many received during our absence, we take from one the following, written by a lady up country, who not only approves of the Weekly Union, but goes in for unions "under all circumstances," We commend her good sense:

> "Having just returned home after an absence of some weeks during which time I have been blessed with the regular appearance of that pleasant and sociable looking sheet called the Mankato Weekly UNION, and finding no Minnesota paper in the house but the St Paul Press, I have just made up my mind to subscribe for your paper. Inclosed are the greenbacks and I hope soon to have the pleasure of perusing the columns of the Weekly once more I am for the Union under all circumstances, and think your paper decided ly the UNION for the people of Blue Earth and Faribault Counties."

MERCHANTS HOTEL, ST. PAUL.—During our late visit to St. Paul, we put up at this house, so well known for its excellent accommodations. It was formerly conducted by Messrs Shaw & Hunt; but the latter gentleman having taking charge of the Herndon House, at Hastings, Mr. J. J. Shaw is now sole proprietor and manager. It is one of the best hotels in the city, and in the Minnesota Valley is known as such. Mr. Shaw was very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. J. R. Pershall as Clerk,—a gentleman in every way competent. Mr. P. was for a number of years, Clerk on the Steamer Antelope, which runs between Carver and St. Paul, and there gained much of his popularity. His acquisition to the Merchants has drawn around him hosts of friends from the valley.

The tables of the Merchants are supplied with the best the market affords; the rooms neat, clean and in good order, and the employees of the house, attentive to the wants of the guest. Don't forget the Merchants, when you go to St. Paul.

THE REV. A. G. SMITH.—While at Fairbault the other day, we came across the reverend gentleman, above named. He was formerly a Methodist minister, and for a year or more was stationed at this place, where he gained many friends. Through the influence of Bishop Whipple, he has since left the Methodist Church and joined the Episcopal. Our readers will remember to have read in the St. Paul papers, a letter from Rev. Mr. Bowdish, of Faribault, containing an extract from a hand-bill, stating that Mr. Smith had hired a horse and buggy there for the purpose of coming to Mankato; that he had not been to Mankato, but had absconded taking with him another man's wife and child. He seems to have been foiled in the accomplishment of his ends, or else been made the dupe of others; as, when we saw him he was just returning without the horse and buggy.

As soon as he arrived in town he was immediately arrested and placed in jail. Two or three days previous to his return, he wrote to his wife evidently preparing the way for her to receive him, stating that he had been captured by a band of six Indians, led by a white man, and that they intended to kill him. The leader of the band proved to be a Mason, and, as he himself, was a mason, he made himself known, and they then consented to spare his life, but kept him a close prisoner for twelve days. The Indians, he alleges, kept his horse and buggy, but he does not state how he made his escape, or what become of the woman and child.

Another story runs thus; That the woman had arranged to elope with a young blacksmith of Faribault, who was to go down the Mississippi to some point in Iowa, and there await her arrival. She was to go away with Mr. Smith to Cedar Falls, get all the money of him she could, and while he was disposing of the horse and buggy, she was to take the cars and join her paramour on the river. Mr. Smith was to have his examination last Monday, when the truth will probably be arrived at.

Mr. Smith has a very estimable wife, and family of children, who do not thus deserve to be allied to a rascal.

P. S. Since writing the above we learn from the Faribault Republican that a letter was received on Monday evening, by Bishop Whipple, which proves conclusively that Smith was entirely mistaken as to being captured by the Indians; that instead of having been a wandering fugitive from Sioux captivity, he has been playing the imposter in Jacksonville, Ill., under the assumed cognomen of Rev. Mr. Chester, of the Methodist Church, Faribault, Minnesota, instead of plain Mr. Smith, divinity student in the B. S. University' and introducing another Mr. Smith's Mrs. Smith as his amiable wife; Mrs. Rev. Chester, where he preached to the Jacksonville Methodist Society one Sabbath. Having satiated his love with the strange Mrs. Smith, he seems to have made up his mind to leave his Mrs. Chester to the hospital care of the Jacksonville Methodists, and hiring a store, to blind the people, under pretence of going East for goods, he went to Springfield, assumed the role of a policeman, and sent back to the bogus Mrs. Chester a sad account of her bogus husband's brutal murder in that city and left for home. This aroused the ire of his companion in infamy, and she at once made a confession of the whole truth, and a letter was at once dispatched to Bishop Whipple to put him on his guard against farther imposition from the Rev. Scoundrel.

The prospects are now that if justice is done, Smith, after a few weeks' preperation at the Fuller House, he will remove to Stillwater, and occupy a permanent position in the public institution of that city.

MEETING OF THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—The board of County Commissioners met pursuant to law, on Tuesday last, in this place. Much of the time so far has been spent in abating and equalizing taxes.

From the official records we condense the follow matters of general interest to our readers:

Valuation of Real and Personal Property.—The following is the valuation of the personal and real property in the county for 1863:

	Personal	Real
Mankato,	88,430	220,907
South Bend	12,257	34,908
Judson	6,648	61,516
Butternut Valley,	4,566	35,323
Ceresco,	2,524	38,184
Watonwan,	18,528	66,437
Vernon,	10,206	66,783
Shelby,	14,242	64,643
Sterling,	10,129	29,307
Mapleton,	5,315	18 054
Danville,	4,389	13,309
Le Ray,	1,193	30,142
Jamestown,	1,181	17,692
Lime,	5,975	36,050
	185,583	731,225

The total amount of taxable property in Blue Earth County is to 916,838, one-third of which is in Mankato,

In the valuation of personal property, there has been an increrse of about $30,000 in Mankato township. The remainder of the county is about the same as last year.

The real property was assessed last year, though there has been an increase of four or five thousand dollars.

New Towns Organized.—In accordance with a petition from the new settlement on Cobb river, township 106, range 25, was organized under the name of Medo. The voters thereof are authorized to meet at the residence of Mr. H. H. Stratton, at ten o'clock on the 19th of September and perfect the organization of their town.

Another petition was received from the settlers in the vicinity of the old agency, and in accordance therewith township 107, range 25, was organized under the name of McClellan. The first meeting was appointed at the house of Lucius Dyer, at ten o'clock on the 19th of September.

School Examiners,—The following persons were appointed school examiners for the several commissioned districts, 1st, Owen Meagen, 2d, E, P. Freeman; 4d, B. Y. Coffin; 4th, J. M. Thurston; 5th, Stephen Middlebrook.

New Towns Attached.—The town of McClellan was attached to the first commissioner district; and the town of Medo to the 5th.

County Taxes.—The commissioners voted to levy a tax of one and a half mills to pay the judgment obtained against Blue Earth county in favor of Henry Foster; and four mills to defray the current expenses of the county for the ensuing year.

New Military District,—The towns of Medo and McClellan have been organized into a new military district

For want of time our hotel arrivals are unavoidably crowded out.

GRAIN BURNED.—We learn that a man—we have forgotten the name—residing in the town of Spring Lake, had six stacks of grain burned last week. Said to have been done by an incendiary.—Shakopee Argus.

DIED.

In West Mankato, at the house of Mrs. Hanna, after a lingering illness. David Frank, son of Chaplain O. P. and N. J. Light, aged 2 months and 12 days.

"I take these little lambs," said He,
"And lay them in my breast;
Protection they shall find in me,
In me be ever blest." [COM.]

Mankato Market Reports.

CORRECTED EVERY THURSDAY BY O. WARD.

MANKATO, Sept. 10, 1863.

WHEAT—50c. ℔ bushel.
RYE—40c.
BARLEY—60.
OATS—40c.
CORN—35@40c.
HAY—℔ ton. $4@5 00.
TIMOTHY—$2 ℔ bushel.
BEANS—White, ℔ bushel, $1 25.
BUTTER—10c.
LARD—8@9c.
SUGAR—12@13c; 16@20c.
TEA—1 25 @1 50.1 75
COFFEE—33½c.
RICE—10c ℔ lb.
SALT—4 50 ℔ barrel.
EGGS—10c ℔ doz.
CANDLES—Tallow, 15c; Sperm, 30c.
MEATS—Beef on foot, 2c. Pork, 5 @6c. Mutton 10@12c. Poultry, 10@12c.
POTATOES—1 00 ℔ bushel.
SIRUP—1 00 ℔ gallon.
WOOD—$2 00 ℔ cord.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SPERMATORRHOEA CAN BE CURED.—Dr. Rand's Specific cures Spermatorrhoea, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Loss of Power, &c., speedily and effectually. Its effects are truly magical. A trial of the Specific will convince the most skeptical of its merits. Price. $1 a box. Sent post paid to any address, by S. C. UPMAN. 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA. Circular sent free.

DRUNKENESS CURED.—The inebriate may now bid defiance to the tempting cup. DR. ZANE'S ANTIDOTE FOR STRONG DRINK is a certain cure for Drunkenness. It creates a dislike for strong drink, and can be administered without the knowledge of the patent. Price $1 a box. Sent by mail to any address, by S. C. UPMAM, 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA; PA. Circular sent free.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it (free of charge) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience—and possess a Valuable Remedy—will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed) by addressing
JOHN B. OGDEN,
5-3m No. 60 Nassau Street, New York

WANTED!

FIVE HUNDRED LABORERS

TO WORK ON THE

Minneapolis, Faribault, & Cedar Valley R. R.

THE Subscriber will pay, in Cash, the highest price for laborers. Payments made on the 15th of each month.. Work will be continued through the winter. Agents can be found at Minneapolis, Mendota, Northfield and Faribault. D. J. CAMMERON.
Mendota, August 5, 1853. 5

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL POFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DeBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime. Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞ Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DeBUISSON
Mankato, May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work, is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRNG AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand.

Cash paid for green and dry hides.

Mankato, June 26, 1863.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul. Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M. 6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M. 12:05 M.
5:00 P. M. 5:35 P. M.
Leave St. Anthony. Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M. 8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M. 2:35 P. M.
6:00 P. M. 6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
ly Proprietor.

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

——

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,

or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato. Dec. 17, 1860.

NEW DRUG STORE!

DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS SOAPS, PERFUMERY, AND

FANCY GOODS

PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax,

Stationery,

BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE.

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞ Prescriptions securely put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the

New Drug Store,

JASON WICKERSHAM,
5 Mankato, Minn

Valuable Lands for Sale.

BY direction of the Hon. Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the lands hereinafter described, they being among the choicest and best farming land in Minnesota.

These lands comprise what are known as the Winnebago Trust Lands in the State of Minnesota, and will be sold to the highest and best bidder in tracts not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres each, under the provisions of a treaty concluded with the Winnebago Indians, April 15th, 1859, and an act of Congress, approved February 21st 1863, entitled "An act for the removal of the Winnebago Indians, and for the sale of their Reservation, in Minnesota, for their benefit."

No bid will be entertained at a rate less than two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

In case a bid is accepted, the party making the same will be notified as soon thereafter as practicable. If within thirty days after such notice the party shall fail to make payment to the undersigned, the land for which such bid was made will be subject to sale to any other person.

Patents will be issued and transmitted to purchasers as soon after payment as the same can be prepared. Payments may be made either in cash, or in the certificates of indebtedness of the Winnebago Indians, issued by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for the debt of said Indians, and secured to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of said lands by the third article of the treaty above mentioned. The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved. All bids must be sealed and addressed to the undersigned, Washington City, D. C, and endorsed "Bid for Winnebago Tract Land."

"DESCRIPTION OF LANDS."

List of "Winnebago Trust Lands" subject to sale after July 1st, 1863:

SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
Township 106, Rnnge 23
se qr	5
e hf sw qr	6
e hf	7
sw qr	7
	18 19
ne qr	30
sw qr	30
Township 107, Range 23
n hf	6
w hf sw qr	6
w hf nw qr	7
w hf sw qr	7
sw qr	30
n hf	31
w hf sw qr	31
Township 108, Range 23
n frac hf nw qr	31
se frac qr nw qr	31
Township 106, Range 24
	25
	26
	27
	28
	29
	30 31 32 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 24
	1
ne qr	3
sw qr	3
n hf	5
	6
ne qr	9
s hf	10
	11
ne qr	12
sw qr	12
nw qr	13
	14
e hf	15
nw qr	17
	1
lots 1, 2 and 3	21
	22
	23
n hf	24
	27
w hf	29
Township 108, Range 24
sw qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
sw qr	34
Township 106, Range 25
	25
	26 27
e hf	28
	30 31 32
e hf	33
	34 35
Township 107, Range 25
e hf	1
nw qr	1
w hf	2
ne qr	2
	13
Township 108, Range 25
se qr	33
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
e hf ne qr	34
w hf nw qr	34
w hf sw qr	34
e frac hf	35
nw qr	35
Township 106, Range 26
	1
	2 3
e hf	9
nw qr	4
ne qr	5
s hf	7
nw q	11
e hf nw qr	12
	18 19
n hf	25
w hf	27
se qr	28
	30 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 26
w hf ne qr	3
w hf	3
w hf se qr	3
se qr	4
	5
e hf	6
s hf nw qr	6
s hf	7
	8 9
nw qr	10
e hf	18
nw qr	18
e hf	19
w hf	20
w hf se qr	20
ne qr	24
sw qr	24
s hf	25
n hf	30
e hf nw qr	31
ne qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
w hf sw qr	32
w hf se qr	32
se se qr	32
se qr	34
sw qr	35
Township 108, Range 26
se ne qr	31
e hf se qr	31
sw se qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
e hf se qr	33
ne qr	34
Township 106, Range 27
se qr	1
s hf	2
se qr	3
ne qr	6
e hf se qr	6
w hf sw qr	6
sw qr	7
e hf	11
sw qr	11
	14
e hf nw qr	15
e hf sw qr	15
w hf	18
ne qr	18
w hf	19
se qr	19
ne qr	20
w hf	21
w hf ne qr	21
se qr	22
e hf nw qr	22
	23 27
e hf	28
Township 107, Range 27
n hf	2
ne qr	3
e hf sw qr	5
ne qr	6
w hf se qr	6
se nw qr	7
ne sw qr	7
nw ne qr	11
se qr	12
e hf nw qr	12
nw nw qr	12
ne qr	13
sw qr	13
e hf nw qr	13
sw nw qr	13
s hf ne qr	14
s hf nw qr	14
nw nw qr	14
sw qr	15
sw qr	17
n hf	18
sw qr	18
se qr	19
nw qr	20
sw qr	21
ne qr	22
se qr	26
nw qr	26
nw qr	28
se qr	29
s hf	31
ne qr	31
nw qr	32
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
Township 108, Range 27
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	31
nw qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
ne qr	32
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 of nw qr	32
se nw qr	32
sw qr	35

Bids will be received as above invited until the 1st of September next; at which time all bids then received will be examined and acted upon.

After the first of September next bids will be received for the lands then remaining unsold, and examined and acted upon the expiration of each period of two months.

WILLIAM P. DOLE,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs.
Washington City, D. C., Aug. 4th, 1863.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS.

Russell & Co.'s GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES,

HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEAGHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plo s,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:
Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains.
Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

I am Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞ Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.
Mankato, April 23rd 1863.

NEW LIVERY

&

Sale Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.

☞ Horses kept by the day or week. ☜

☞ Charges moderate. ☜

D. H. TYNER.

Farmers' Journal.

MANKATO, FRIDAY, SEPT. 11, 1863

FARMER'S GIRLS.

Up in the morning early, just at the peep of day,
Straining the milk in the dairy, turning the cows away,
Sweeping the floor in the kitchen, making the bed up stairs,
Washing the breakfast dishes, dusting the parlor chairs.

Brushing the crumbs from the pantry, hunting the eggs at the barn,
Cleaning the turnips for dinner, spinning the stocking yarn.
Spreading the whitening linen, down on the bushes below,
Ransacking every meadow, where the red strawberries grow.

Starching "the fixens" for Sunday, churning the snowy cream,
Rinsing the pails and strainer down in the running stream,
Feeding the geese and the turkies, making the pumpkin pies,
Jogging the little one's cradle, driving away the flies.

Grace in every motion, music in every tone,
Beauty of form and features thousands might covet to own,
Cheeks that rival spring roses, teeth the whitest of pearl.
One of these country maids, is worth a score of your city girls.

A SHORT LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN.—Keep good company or none. Never be idle. If your hands cannot be usefully employed, attend to the cultivation of your mind. Always speak the truth. Make few promises. Live up to your engagements. Keep your own secrets, if you have any. When you speak to a person, look him in the face. Good company and good conversation are the very sinews of virtue. Good character is above all things else. Your character cannot be essentially injured except by your own acts. If any one speak evil of you, let your life be such that none believe him. Drink no kind of intoxicating liquor. Never use tobacco in any form. Ever live, misfortunes excepted, within your income. When you retire to bed, think over what you have done during the day. Never play at any games of chance. Avoid temptation, through fear that you may not withstand it. Never run in debt, unless you see away to get out of it again. Save while you are young, that you may spend when you are old.

Potato Growing

A correspondent sends the following to the Rural New Yorker; I can give some valuable information on raising potatoes. I have been in possession of a secret for the last three years, that I know to be very valuable and should be generally known and the season is now at hand to put in practice. This new plan is the most important in dry seasons, as double the weight can be raised on the same piece of ground, and a good crop can be raised in quite poor land.

Now I will tell you how I manage; promising that I never yet had potatoes rot in the ground, and that I am sixty-three years old.

I plant my potatoes in the latter part of April or first of May, and in the old of the moon. When they get up six inches high, I plaster and dress them out nicely. Now for the secret. When the sett show for blossoming, then is the time to take two parts plaster, and one part fine salt; mix well together, and put one large spoonful of this compound on each hill; drop it as neatly in the centre of the hill as soon as possible. Just as the potatoes are ripe, take them out of the ground; and keep them in a cool dry place. Some farmers let their potatoes remain in the ground soaking through all the cold fall rains, until the snow flies. The potatoes become diseased in this way more and more every year; hence the potato rot.

A very good composition for preserving wood which is to be placed in the ground, and subject to decay, is made with coal, tar quick lime and ground charcoal. The tar is first heated in an iron vessels; then about a pound each of quick lime and charcoal to every five gallons, stirred among it until the whole has become thoroughly mixed. It is applied hot with a brush, or the wood may be dipped into it. This preparation resists the attacks of insects.

Things That I Have Seen.

I have seen careless housekeepers leave the milk standing in the milk pail until the cream began to rise, thus ensuing a waste of cream.

I have seen those same housekeepers set the newly strained milk here and there, wherever it happened, instead of keeping each milk by itself, thereby making themselves the trouble of looking it all over when the time for skimming it came.

I have seen the ground around the kitchen door strewn with potato peelings which had been thrown out with the water in which the potatoes were washed.

I have seen thoughtless housekeepers set away in a pine cupboard, flatirons so very warm that there was danger of the house taking fire by the means.

I have seen egg shells thrown into the fire, when the hens would have gladly made merry over them.

I have seen calico needlessly faded by being quickly washed and immediately put in some hard water to rinse.—Rural New Yorker.

A Brigade of black cavalry, on black horses, is talked about in Washington.

WANTED!

FIVE HUNDRED LABORERS
TO WORK ON THE
Minneapolis, Faribault, & Cedar Valley R. R.

THE Subscriber will pay in Cash, the highest price for laborers. Payments made on the 15th of each month. Work will be continued through the winter. Agents can be found at Minneapolis, Mendota, Northfield and Faribault. D J. CAMMERON.
Mendota, August 5, 1853. 5

JUST PUBLISHED,
The most Fascinating Book of the Season,
ENTITLED
"IN THE TROPICS."
EDITED BY RICH'D B. KIMBALL,
Author of "St. Leger," "Undercurrents of Wall Street," etc.

A bright, sparkling and genial book of residence, travel and adventure in the West Indies; presenting a graphical picture of tropical life, with alluring and picturesque sketches of luxuriant gardens, orange and lime groves, magnificent guava and cocoanut trees, mahogany forests, etc.

An elegantly printed and cloth-bound volume. Price, $1,25.

Sold by all booksellers, and sent by mail FREE, on receipt of price by
CARLETON,
Publisher, New York.
413 Broadway, cor Lispenard St.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, executed by Cyrus Foot and Minerva Foot his wife, then of Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, to Ralph A. Loveland, then of Westport, Essex County, New York, dated the 16th day of June, A. D., 1858, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Blue Earth, on the 18th day of June, A. D., 1858, in book "B" of mortgages, on page 387, which said mortgage was given to secure the payment of the sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest according to the conditions of four certain promissory notes made by said Cyrus Foot to said Loveland or order, three for six hundred dollars each, payable respectively, on the first days of June in the years 1860, 1861 and 1863, and the other for five hundred and fifty dollars payable on the first day of June, 1862, and drawing interest from date until paid at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable annually on the first days of June each and every year, and all bearing even date with said mortgage, and upon which promissory notes and mortgage there is now claimed to be due, and is at the date of this notice, actually due and unpaid, the said sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest thereon from and after the said 16th day of June, 1858, at the rate of seven per cent per annum; and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured by said promissory notes and mortgage, nor any part thereof, and no part thereof has been collected or paid.

Therefore, by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained, and in conformity with the statutes in such case made and provided, the lands and premises described in and covered by said mortgage, to wit: The north-west quarter of section number (27) twenty-seven in township number (107) one hundred and seven, north of range number (28) twenty-eight west, according to the governmental survey and subdivisions of the same, and containing one hundred and sixty acres of land be the same more or less; together with all the appurtenances, and lying and being in the County of Blue Earth, and State of Minnesota, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder as the law directs and as authorized by said mortgage, at the front door of the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Blue Earth in Mankato, in said County, on the 26th day of September, A. D, 1863, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to satisfy the amount then due on said promissory notes and mortgage together with the taxes which have been paid thereon by the mortgagee, or which shall then be due on said premises, and the costs and expenses allowed by law. Dated at Mankato, August 14th, 1863.
RALPH A. LOVELAND,
Mortgagee.
WILLARD & BARNEY, Attorneys for Mortgagee, Mankato, Minn. 6w5

Medical Advice free of Charge.

DOCTOR WHITTIER'S Theory, Symptoms, and Treatment of Chronic, Nervous, Urinary and Sexual Diseases, free in sealed letter envelope, for six cents to pre-pay postage. It is a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringment of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposure, and imprudence, in married and single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and should be read by every young person, to keep them off the shoals on which others have been broken in pieces. Amativeness clearly stated to be under the control of judicious treatment, and thereby prevent inclination to one very prolific cause of of disease. Nearly every case of disease can be treated without hinderance to business, Medicine sent by mail, secure from observation. Charges moderate; consultations by letter or at the office free; cures guaranteed; Office 67 St. Charles St., between 6th and 7th. P. O. Box 3092. St. Louis Mo. Circular Letter especially for ladies nothing referring to Sexual Diseases for 3. cent postage.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
BLUE EARTH COUNTY.
MANKATO, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 13th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet been redeemed, I will execute and deliver to the purchasers of said lands at said sale, or their assignees, deeds for the same on and after the 17th day of January, A. D., 1864, unless said lands shall before that time have been redeemed. And notice is also given that the sum set against each description of land in said list is the amount due the purchaser of said land on redemption.
CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.	NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.
Unknown	1	24	28.66	Unknown	1	76	1.48
do	5	24	2.29	do	7	A	3.97
do	9	24	7.45	do	8	A	3.97
J Ady	9	28	13.93	do	9	A	3.97
F C Roosevelt	6	58	2.96	do	10	A	3.97

Willard & Besser's Addition.

Unknown, lot 10, block 19, amount 2.06.

NAME.	DES.	S.	T.	R.	AMT.
H W Lamberton	e hf nw qr and n hf sw qr	7	108	28	22.07
Earl Parthum	sw qr	33	109	29	14.87
M Garlinger	ne qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	32	109	29
do	se hf se qr	31	109	29	15.91
Dennis O'Flynn	se qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	27	109	29	11.81
Wm P Smith	s hf ne qr and ne qr se qr and lot 2	2	107	28	13.85
T F Anderson	s e qr	20	107	28	15.14
H Wright	s e qr	8	106	28	14 10
William Gage	s w qr	17	106	28	13.73
Alex Wood	n e qr	1	105	28	41.00
Unknown	sw qr except 17 ac redm'd	5	105	28	14.06
H G Tryon	se qr nw qr	5	105	28	5.62
H G Tryon	ne qr nw qr	34	105	28	7.26
McMurtrie & Comstock	n hf sw qr	12	105	29	10.90
do	e hf sw qr and w hf se qr except 25 ac redeemed	12	105	29	33.36
Alex Wood	nw qr	6	105	27	49.87
Unknown	nw qr	9	108	25	19.28
A Frazer	n hf ne qr and ne qr nw qr	35	109	25	14.33
F Percival	se qr sw qr	32	109	28	23.52

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S
SEWING MACHINES.

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN.☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office. F. M. Johnson, Agent.
St. Paul, July 17th, 1863 July17-t

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.
OF
The Chicago Tribune.
A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.
Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obedience to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wildcat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune chalenges comparrison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1.25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1.10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.
One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.
One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;
Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,) $18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,) 35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address
TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

HARPER'S
New Monthly Magazine.
Critical Notices of the Press.

The volumes Bound constitute of themselves a liberary of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world. —N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People: and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts: and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature. —Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, by mail, postpaid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents. Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eigh cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00: Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year ,$5,00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2,50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2,50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted or postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must BE paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.
HARPER & BROTHERS.
Franklyn Square, New York.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE
Mankato Weekly Union,

Published every Friday by
CHARLES H. SLOCUM,
AT
ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of
PRINTING
Neatly and cheaply executed
SUCH AS
CARDS,
PROGRAMMES,
BILL-HEADS,
CIRCULARS,
POSTERS.
ETC,,

Having received a supply of
NEW MATERIAL
from the East, am prepared to do
PLAIN AND FANCY WORK
in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

LOST.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That Sioux Half Breed Scrip was issued by the proper Department, on November 24th, 1856, to Marion Robertson, as follows:

No, 492	A	for	40	acres.
" "	B	"	40	"
" "	C	"	80	"
" "	D	"	160	"
" "	E	"	160	"

And that during the recent Indian outbreak at Red Wood Lower Sioux Agency, all said Scrips were wholly destroyed by the Indians, or otherwise lost. Any person finding the same or portions thereof, by notifying me shall be suitably rewarded.
Dated at Faribault, August, 1863.
JANE A. ROBERTSON,
Attest C. L. LOWELL, Guardian.
Att'y, 4w 6

MANKATO HOUSE.
MANKATO - MINNESOTA.

THIS House has been thoroughly renovated newly papered and painted, with many new improvements, which makes it now equal as to comfort and convenience to any House in the State.

General Stage Office for all points in he State.

Good barn and stabling with attentive ostler. Baggage conveyed to and from steamboats free of charge. Wines, liquors, cigars, etc., con stantly on hand.

☞Farmers will find this House a good place to stop, it being centrally located, plenty of barroom, and charges moderate.
may 7 H. H. Shaubhut.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY virtue of an execution issued out of the District Court in and for the county of Blue Earth, State of Minnesota, upon a judgment rendered February 21st, 1863, and docketed March 6th, 1863. in said county, in an action wherein Daniel Wagner is plaintiff, and George Quiggles is defendant, and against said defendant, for the sum of $74,20, and upon which there nows remains due and unpaid the sum of $74,20 and interest, I have levied upon all the right title and interest which the said George Quiggles had on the 21st day of February, 1863, or at any time thereafter, of, in and to the following described lands and real estate, in the county of Blue Earth State of Minnesota, to wit:

South-west quarter of south-east quarter and south-east quarter of south-west quarter, section ten, and west half of south-west quarter of south-east quarter, and north-east quarter of south-west quarter of south-east quarter of section nine, all in township one hundred and five, north of range twenty-eight west.

Notice is hereby given that I will sell the above described lands and real estate, to the highest bidder for cash, on Saturday, the 19th of September, 1863, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the front door of the office of Register of Deeds in and for the County of Blue Earth, in Mankato, to satisfy the execution, together with costs and interest thereon. Dated August 7th, 1863. D. H. TYNER, 6w4 Sheriff of Blue Earth County.

FINKLE & LYON'S
SEWING MACHINES.

THESE Machines make the lock stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do; will Hem, Fell, Gather, Cord, Braid, Bind, &c., and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family, for they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, or even the stoutest harness leather, without changing the feed, needle or tention, or making any adjustment of Machaine whatever! ! !

They are simple in construction, and easily understood; and if any part is broken by accident, it is readily replaced.

These are PECULIAR FACTS, and will go far to determine the choice of any intelligent buyer.

PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE, OR SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

N. B.—Local Agents wanted in sections not yet occupied. Address,
FINKLE & LYON, S. M. CO.,
4 No. 538 Broadway, New York.
J. J. SHAUBUT, Agent for Mankato.

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the
Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL POFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.
Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DuBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Demines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, PGlass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, creussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime.

Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee. Mankato.
F. R. PRAEL. H. DuBUISSON
Mankato May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

NEW
SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles, and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in
Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line All kinds of

REPAIRNG AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand
Cash paid for green and dry hides.
Mankato, June 26, 1863.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.
On and after MONDAY, APRIL 27th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.

Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accomodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.
M. T. C. FLOWER.
1y Proprietor.

Mankato
DRUG STORE.

——

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by
J. R. TINKCOM.
Pure Wines,
or Medicinal purposes.
Strychnine always on Hand.
Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

NEW DRUG STORE!

DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS
SOAPS, PERFUMERY,
AND
FANCY GOODS

PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax,

Stationery,
BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE.

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions securely put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the
New Drug Store,
JASON WICKERSHAM,
5 Mankato, Minn

Valuable Lands for Sale.

BY direction of the Hon. Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the lands hereinafter described, they being among the choicest and best farming land in Minnesota.

These lands comprise what are known as the Winnebago Trust Lands in the State of Minnesota, and will be sold to the highest and best bidder in tracts not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres each, under the provisions of a treaty concluded with the Winnebago Indians, April 15th, 1859, and an act of Congress, approved February 21st 1863, entitled "An act for the removal of the Winnebago Indians, and for the sale of their Reservation, in Minnesota, for their benefit."

No bid will be entertained at a rate less than two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

In case a bid is accepted, the party making the same will be notified as soon thereafter as practicable. If within thirty days after such notice the party shall fail to make payment to the undersigned, the land for which such bid was made will be subject to sale to any other person.

Patents will be issued and transmitted to purchasers as soon after payment as the same can be prepared. Payments may be made either in cash or in the certificates of indebtedness of the Winnebago Indians, issued by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for the debt of said Indians, and secured to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of said lands by the third article of the treaty above mentioned. The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved. All bids must be sealed and addressed to the undersigned, Washington City, D C. and endorsed "Bid for Winnebago Tract Land."

"DESCRIPTION OF LANDS."

List of "Winnebago Trust Lands" subject to sale after July 1st, 1863:

SUBDIVISIONS.	SEC.
Township 106, Range 23
se qr	5
e hf sw qr	6
e hf	7
sw qr	7
	18 19
ne qr	30
sw qr	30
Township 107, Range 23
n hf	6
w hf sw qr	6
w hf nw qr	7
w hf sw qr	7
sw qr	30
n hf	31
w hf sw qr	31
Township 108, Range 23
n frac hf nw qr	31
se frac qr nw qr	31
Township 106, Range 24
	25
	26
	27
	28
	29
	30 31 32 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 24
	1
ne qr	3
sw qr	3
n hf	5
	6
ne qr	9
s hf	10
	11
ne qr	12
sw qr	12
nw qr	13
	14
e hf	15
nw qr	17
	1
lots 1, 2 and 3	21
	22
	23
n hf	24
	27
w hf	29
Township 108, Range 24
sw qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
sw qr	34
Township 106, Range 25
	25
	26 27
e hf	28
	30 31 32
e hf	33
	34 35
Township 107, Range 25
e hf	1
nw qr	1
w hf	2
ne qr	2
	13
Township 108, Range 25
se qr	33
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
e hf ne qr	34
w hf nw qr	34
w hf sw qr	34
e frac hf	35
nw qr	35
Township 106, Range 26
	1
	2 3
e hf	9
nw qr	4
ne qr	5
s hf	7
nw q	11
e hf nw qr	12
	18 19
n hf	25
w hf	27
se qr	28
	30 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 26
w hf ne qr	3
w hf	3
w hf se qr	3
se qr	4
	5
e hf	6
s hf nw qr	6
s hf	7
	8 9
nw qr	10
e hf	18
nw qr	18
e hf	19
w hf	20
w hf se qr	21
ne qr	24
sw qr	24
s hf	25
n hf	30
e hf nw qr	31
ne qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
w hf sw qr	32
w hf se qr	32
se se qr	32
se qr	34
sw qr	35
Township 108, Range 26
se ne qr	31
e hf se qr	31
sw se qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
e hf se qr	33
ne qr	34
Township 106, Range 27
se qr	1
s hf	2
se qr	3
ne qr	6
e hf se qr	6
w hf sw qr	6
sw qr	7
e hf	11
sw qr	11
	14
e hf nw qr	15
e hf sw qr	15
w hf	18
ne qr	18
w hf	19
se qr	19
ne qr	20
w hf	21
w hf ne qr	21
se qr	22
e hf nw qr	22
	23 27
e hf	28
Township 107, Range 27
n hf	2
ne qr	3
e hf sw qr	5
ne qr	6
w hf se qr	6
se nw qr	7
ne sw qr	7
nw ne qr	11
se qr	12
e hf nw qr	12
nw nw qr	12
ne qr	13
sw qr	13
e hf nw qr	13
sw nw qr	13
s hf ne qr	14
s hf nw qr	14
nw nw qr	14
sw qr	15
sw qr	17
n hf	18
sw qr	18
se qr	19
nw qr	20
sw qr	21
ne qr	22
se qr	26
nw qr	26
nw qr	28
se qr	29
s hf	31
ne qr	31
nw qr	32
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
Township 108, Range 27
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	31
nw qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
ne qr	32
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 of nw qr	32
se nw qr	32
sw qr	35

Bids will be received as above invited until the 1st of September next. at which time all bids then received will be examined and acted upon.

After the first of September next bids will be received for the lands then remaining unsold, and examined and acted upon the expiration of each period of two months.
WILLIAM P. DOLE,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs,
Washington City, D. C., Aug. 4th, 1863.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,
SUCH AS
DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,
McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S
REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co's GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of Moline Plows,
and a general assortment of
FARMING IMPLEMENTS
such as
SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEACHER,
DEALER IN
STOVES, HARDWARE,
Iron, Plo s,
Agricultural Implements,
AND MANUFACTURER OF
COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE.
FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.
All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF
AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,
from a HOE to a
THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:
Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Leg and Cable Chains, Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

I am Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.
JOHN F. MEAGHER.
Mankato, April 23rd 1863.

NEW LIVERY & Sale Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,
ALSO,
Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS
Conveyed to any part they wish.
☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜
☞Charges moderate.☜
D. H. TYNER.

BELL & HOWELL

DEFECTIVE PAGE

The Mankato Weekly Union.

CHARLES H. SLOCUM, "LIBERTY AND UNION, NOW AND FOREVER, ONE AND INSEPARABLE." Editor and Proprietor

VOLUME 1. MANKATO, BLUE EARTH COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 18, 1863. NUMBER 10.

THE WEEKLY UNION,

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

CHARLES H. SLOCUM.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One Dollar and Fifty Cents per Year.

☞ All subscriptions paid in advance. ☜

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

1 square	1 week	$1 00	2 squares	6 months	9 00
1 "	2 weeks	1 50	2 "	1 year	15 00
1 "	3 "	1 75	3 "	1 week	2 25
1 "	4 "	2 00	3 "	2 "	3 00
1 "	5 "	2 25	3 "	3 "	4 00
1 "	6 "	2 50	3 "	4 "	5 00
1 "	7 "	2 75	3 "	3 months	9 00
1 "	2 months	3 00	3 "	6 "	12 00
1 "	3 "	3 75	3 "	1 year	20 00
1 "	4 "	4 50	¼ col	6 months	15 00
1 "	5 "	5 25	¼ "	1 year	25 00
1 "	6 "	6 00	⅓ "	6 months	18 00
1 "	1 year	10 00	⅓ "	1 year	30 00
2 "	1 week	1 75	½ "	6 months	25 00
2 "	2 "	2 50	½ "	1 year	40 00
2 "	3 "	3 00	¾ "	1 year	50 00
2 "	4 "	4 00	1 "	1 year	70 00
2 "	3 months	6 00

Business cards of five lines or less, $5.

Transient advertisements must be paid in advance—all others quarterly.

BUSINESS CARDS.

EVERETT P. FREEMAN,
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
OFFICE.—Next door south of the Post Office, MANKATO, - - - - - MINN.

Prompt attention given to claims to be prosecuted before the State Board of Auditors and to Court and Office business. Collections made and conveyancing done on reasonable terms.

MANKATO INS. AGENCY.
HARTFORD.
PHOENIX.
MERCHANTS—FIRE INS. CO'S.
CHARTER OAK LIFE INS. CO.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid by.
JOHN N. HALL.
Resident Agent.

O. P. LIEBERG,
FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER.—Having opened a Barber Shop with a view to establishing a permanent business in Mankato, I am prepared to wait upon gentlemen, and will guarantee satisfaction in every department of my business.
June 26, 1863.

G. A. STURGES, M. D.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
MANKATO, MINN.

OFFICE.—At his residence second door above the Mankato House.

Z. PADDOCK,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law, and General Land Agent. Prompt attention paid to all business entrusted to him. Mankato, Blue Earth Co., Minn.

FRED'K HILDEBRANDT,
Manufacturer of and Dealer in all kinds of
FURNITURE & GILT MOULDING.
ALSO,
Imitation of Rosewood Mouldings, Ovals, Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames.
Ware Rooms in Schumacher's Block, Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minn.

M. ZENOPOLSKI, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.
OFFICE—Opposite the Clifton House.

DAVID WILCOX,
JUDGE OF PROBATE,
& ATT'Y AT LAW,
MANKATO - - - - - MINN.

WM. R. McMAHAN, M. D.
Office and Residence old at his stand, on the corner of Hickory and Second streets, one Block back of the Mankato House, where he will be found at all times, except when professionaly absent.
He will furnish and compound his own medicines.

EDWARD OGLESBY,
Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hanley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work in his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October,

S. FINCH, O. O. PITCHER.
FINCH & PITCHER,
Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,
MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA

MANKATO NURSERY.
THE Proprietor has for sale a choice collection of
Fruit Trees,
Comprising Apple, Pear, Cherry, Plum, and Quince Trees. Also a good assortment of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants, Rasp berries, Strawberries, and Pie Plant; together with
ORNAMENTAL TREES
Shrubs, Evergreens, Flowering Plants, &c
ROB'T GOODYEAR,
Mankato, Sept. 1861.

FAIRBANKS'
STANDARD
SCALES,
OF ALL KINDS.
FAIRBANKS, GREENLEAF & CO.,
172 LAKE STREET, CHICAGO.
☞ BUY ONLY THE GENUINE.

SOUTH BEND MILLS.
BIERBAUER & ROCKEY,
HAVING purchased the above mills, are prepared to manufacture all grades of FLOUR, CORN MEAL, ETC.
Wheat will be ground for every sixth bushel in quantities not less than ten bushels.
☞ Flour and mill stuffs always on hand at market prices. Feb 6-3m

Select Miscellany.

A STORY OF THE WAR.

BY JOHN ALFRED CONWELL.

"Harry Smythe, you are an incorrigible old bachelor, and a wife's tears will never moisten the flowers that may chance to bloom on your grave," said I, to my most intimate friend, one day, after he had strolled in to my room, and we had discussed the inexhaustible subject of married life versus single.

"I don't desire any woman to devote her tears to that purpose. I prefer the spring rains," dryly responded Harry; "but, to be candid with you, Frank, I'll tell you what I'll do. If I am not married in twelve months, you can wear the finest hat at Balderos', at my expense."

"Well, for fear your memory may be a little treacherous before the expiration of that time, suppose you just oblige me by writing that down; and taking a small scrap of paper from my desk, I handed it to him.

He took it with a smile and wrote as follows.

"MEM.—If I am not married in twelve months from this time, I promise and agree to pay for any hat at Balderos' that Frank Bird may select.
Jan. 15, 18— HARRY SMYTHE."

"Is that au fait?" he inquired.

"Yes, that will do. I am confident that I'll wear the hat. If I do not, will you allow me to present the fortunate woman you may bless with your very remarkable patronymic a dozen pair of kid gloves?"

"Certainly," he answered.

At this moment some one rapped sharply at the door.

"Come in," said I, and the servant girl entered with a letter in her hand.

"Plaze yer honor," she began, addressing me, "is Misther Smythe in your room? Och, faith an' there the gintleman is himself. The pinny post-office tould me to hand yez this letter. I would 'a' give it to yez sooner, but he did'nt bring it till this blessed mint; an' ye worn't in your room aither; an' I jist happened to think ye wor in here;" and with a courtsey that can only be learned in the bogs of old Ireland, Bridget withdrew.

"Look there, Frank," said Harry, tossing me the envelope. "dosen't that look very much like a lady's handwriting? Don't you begin to feel slightly doubtful about wearing that hat?

"It is a rather delicate specimen of chirography," I responded. "but you haven't said it was not from one of your absent sisters, or from one of your pretty cousins, Lulie or Matie. And if it is, I don't think I will be called upon to furnish Mrs. Harry Smythe with those gloves."

"You are determined to be very incredulous, it seems to me; but wait a moment, and I'll try and convince you—if you'll excuse me till I read it?"

"Of course, read it by all means—don't delay it a second."

A pleasant, glad smile, danced lightly over Harry's handsome features, as his eyes ran rapidly over the delicately-traced lines of the letter. Finally finishing it, he pointed to the signature and said, with mock gravity;

"I believe you have the honor of an acquaintance with my sister and cousin—is that the name of any one of them?"

I glanced at the foot of the note for an instant, and read the single name, "Mercedita."

"Are you satisfied now that I am a step farther on the road to married bliss than you thought?" inquired Harry.

"I'll be better satisfied if you'll inform me somewhat concerning Miss Mercedita. I judge from the name she is Spanish," said I.

"You are rather an impudent young man, but I'll tell you. The writer of the letter is a native and resident of Cuba, where I became acquainted with her during my sojourn on the island last winter. She and her father are at present in this country, at the Falls of Montmorenci, but will be in the city in a few days; so she writes me. When she arrives I'll ask her permission to introduce you, provided it will be any satisfaction to you."

"Thank you, Smythe, it will be a great pleasure; indeed; but it is strange you never mentioned this lady to me before."

"I'll tell you why some time," answered my friend; "but I'll see you again before long, as soon as my friends arrive I'll let you know," and with a graceful wave of his light ratan he bade me adieu.

I passed him in the street a day or two afterwards, but he was in a hurry and only had time to say:

"Kid gloves are going up, Frank."

"So are fine hats," I responded, as he disappeared in the crowded thoroughfare.

In about a week after he had received the letter spoken of he came into my room and asked me to take a stroll with him. I assented, and passing by the G—— hotel, I told Harry to step in with me a moment, as I was expecting a friend from the West and desired to see if he had come yet—knowing that when he came he would stop at that hotel.

I had glanced rapidly over the names on the register, and not seeing that of my friend, turned to go out when Harry, who had been looking over my shoulder, suprised me with a quick exclamation, and pointed to a boldly written name said:

"Frank, they are here. That is her father's name. And there is hers."

"The names to which he drew my attention were—

"Signor Antonio Flores, Havana; Signora Mercedita Flores, Havana."

Harry made some inquiries of the obliging clerk and learned that they had arrived but a short time before.

"I'll call on them this evening, Frank, and to-morrow I will have the pleasure of introducing you to one of the best as well as one of the most beautiful woman that ever lived in Queen Isabella's dominions—yes, or any body else's dominions"—he exclaimed, enthusiastically.

"Well, I am at your service at any and all times, Harry," I responded.

The following afternoon Harry made his appearance at my room, and began in his usual bluff style;

"Frank, I am on my way to the G—— hotel to call upon Donna Flores, and I give you just ten minutes to get ready to accompany me; so begin and be quick,"

"I am ready now. Lead on, Sir Desperate," was my reply, imitating his tone.

In a few moments we were in Signor Flores's private parlor.

I did not wonder at Harry's enthusiasm. The dark eyed and dashing young Spanish lady was very beautiful—a most magnificent type of the true southern beauty. Accomplished in all those wonderful winning ways, that cause some women to be so charming, and yet, with an air distingue and queenlike, I did not wonder that Harry's heart had been taken prisoner. Her eyes alone, overhung as they were by such long and gracefully curved lashes, were enough to captivate a much less susceptible person than he. Now flashing like a diamond of the purest water, and anon melting to the softest, mellowest light.

In a few moments Signora Mercedita's father entered, and bowing to us with a deal of dignity—for he belonged to a proud old Castilian family—he addressed a few words in his native tongue to his daughter. As he turned towards me I recognized him as one whom I had met in California some ten years previously; and mentioning it to him he remembered me instantly and seemed delighted. We entered into conversation, leaving Harry to entertain the Signora, doubtless to his satisfaction and her's too.

The old Spaniard would give me no peace now till I had heard all his adventures. After paying my devoirs to his daughter, we started away together, and I listened patiently till a late hour to his long story of the past ten years; a part of it delivered in a strange, "olla-podrida" style of English and Spanish mixed up together.

"But when will you visit Havana?" he inquired at the conclusion.

"I design sailing thence next week on the 'Forest Queen.'" I replied,

"Ah, I am so happy. We shall go on the same vessel," he responded.

"But it grows late," he continued, "I will detain you no longer. You will come and see us again? Good night my friend."

Early the next morning I met Smythe, and had barely time to congratulate him on having won the love of such a beautiful daughter of Eve, when he said:

"Frank, I learn that you are going to Cuba soon. When do you think of sailing?"

I told him when.

"Why General Flores and Mercedita are going in the steamer, and I have almost determined to go myself. If I can only find some excuse for doing so, I'll go," said he.

"Good, come and go, Harry; we'll have a pleasant voyage, and besides who knows but it may be dangerous for you to leave the pretty Donna in my company so long and you away. You might lose your sweetheart."

"I don't think your attention would be very dangerous; but, jesting aside, I'll try and arrange affairs so that I can accompany you. It will be so wretchedly dull here after you are all gone."

Finally Harry concluded to go, as I knew he would as soon as he mentioned it. And at the appointed time we were all ensconced on board of a magnificent floating palace en route for the sunny clime of the West Indies.

It was but a short time till we experienced a welcome change in the atmosphere. The cold and ice-clad North, enrobed in her mantle of snow and frost, gradually gave way to the warm and genial breezes of the tropics. We had a splendid band of music on board, and in the evening all the passengers remained on deck till late listening to its sweet strains. Harry and the gay Mercedita were generally among the last to retire to the saloon.

One night just after the distant shores of Cuba had first disclosed themselves to our view, like a cloud hung over the blue waters, and all the passengers, save my acquaintances and myself, had gone below, the clouds began to gather in deep, dense black masses on the horizon and roll up toward the zenith. The scene was grand—sublime. It grew intensely dark in a very short time. The huge dome of darkness overhead was unrelieved by a single star. The keen, angular lightning flashed vividly in the gloomy distance, lighting up the rolling vessel brilliantly and disclosing, in bold relief, the white "mad caps" dancing on the waves. Frequent and sudden gusts of wind swept hoarsely through the rigging, bending the tall masts like reeds in a hurricane. A wild storm was brewing.

Harry and the fair Signora were leaning over the bulwarks, watching the gathering storm, all unmindful of the great, scattered drops of rain that fell here and there—messengers of the coming tempest. Suddenly a wild scream made my blood run cold. My heart stood still. "Man overboard" was the startling cry borne through the vessel, and almost at the same instant I heard Harry frantically exclaim:

"My God, Frank, she is——"

I lost the remainder of the sentence in the noise of the rushing waters at the ship's side. He seemed perfectly crazed. My endeavors to quiet him were fruitless, and notwithstanding all my exertion he leaped overboard! I heard the sullen plunge of his body into the water, but could see nothing. All was dark save when lighted for a second by a phosphoric gleam on the waves, or a vivid flash of lightning that made the darkness only the more intense when it vanished, and the noise of the waves surging against the ship's side was terrific. I shuddered at the awful fate of Harry and his Mercedita.

The vessel's headway was checked as speedily as possible, boats were lowered, and light buoys and ropes thrown out. The sea was rolling fearfully, threatening every moment to engulf the boat or dash them in pieces against the hull of the steamer. The deafening thunder seemed to be crashing the very heavens in every direction, as peal after peal broke in rapid succession on the ear, and the rain, now falling in perfect floods, was swept by the gale almost horizontally into the faces of the brave sailors who were periling their lives to save two others.

The two were searched for as well as it could be done under the circumstances, and Harry was soon picked up half drowned, but Mercedita, after a long and fruitless searched was given up as lost. How could she have lived for an instant? She must have gone down to eternity—beneath those black, furious waves. The bare thought of her doom was fearful,

Poor Harry was restored to consciousness with difficulty and the first words he uttered were

"Tell me Frank, she is saved," and with such an imploring look on his countenance.

I could not reply and he read the truth on my silence, and sank back on his pillow with a deep groan.

The shock was fatal to Mercedita's poor old father. Bereft in his old age of his only and idolized child, he sank rapidly and ere we cast anchor beneath the frowning guns of the Moro, the old man was dead,

How I pitied poor Harry. Strange as it may appear, when he realized the dread truth, he seemed so perfectly listless and resigned that I feared that his mind was tottering in its throne. He was a changed being. All vivacity was gone; still, calm, quiet, never a smile played around his mouth; and as soon as he had followed the old Spaniard's remains to their last resting place, he returned to his native land. I shortly followed him.

As soon as he heard of my arrival he came to my room, pale and care worn, wretched. The strong man was fearfully changed. He did not refer to the sad catastrophe that had deprived him of the light of his life. My heart bled for him.

"Frank"—said he—"to-morrow I leave for the seat of war in Virginia, and may God grant me a speedy grave on the battle field I am of no use to any one. My remaining strength I freely dedicate to my country. All I ask is quick oblivion. Should I chance to fall, take this, lay it away somewhere and think of me sometimes"—and with averted face and tearful eyes he handed me a small case containing his own and the young Spanish woman's pictures.

"I start early"—he continued—"my relatives know nothing of my intentions. You may tell them when I am gone. Good bye, and may God bless and keep you my dear friend;" and Harry Smythe closed my door and walked rapidly away.

I had often heard indirectly from my friend, and indeed his rapid promotion from the ranks to the colonelcy of the regiment, not only made his name familiar to many to whom he was personally a stranger, but spoke volumes in favor of his gallantry. In fact, his bravery bordered on rashness. I received a letter from him a short time previous to the battle of Antietam. He seemed disappointed that he yet lived.

"I am miserable"—he wrote, "yet men envy me. They little know what I have suffered still. There have been moments, dear Frank, when I seriously thought of ending an existence that had grown to be agony itself. Yet I dare not appear before the throne of the Eternal God unsummoned by him. I have prayed earnestly for death—that I might soon pass away from a world all gloom to me. Why am I spared and so many cut down at my side? What is glory to me? Nothing—nothing—nothing. I have no ambition other than to die,

HARRY SMYTHE.

Gen'l. B. being an old acquaintance of mine, tendered me a position on his staff, and I accepted. He at this time commanded a brigade in the famous army of the Potomac. I joined his command on the eve of some warm work.

Thick clouds of smoke hung heavily over the fields of Antietam. The conflict still raged furiously. Heavy squadrons of cavalry swept by and were quickly lost amid clouds of dust. Regiment after regiment, of infantry, almost exhausted, and stained with powder, were hurried forward by the hoarse command of their officers. The long, quick rattling crash of musketry that opened the contest, and merged into one deep, continuous roar, and the dead all unheeded by the living, slept in their blood, still grasping saber or musket and with fury stamped on their blackened visages

The fire of the enemy began to slacken in our front, and their column soon gave way. The cavalry were ordered forward, while the veteran infantry who had been battling for hours, threw themselves on the ground completely exhausted. An occasional shell would sweep over our heads with a wild demon-like shriek, that gradually died away till the deadly missile plunged among the dense mass of troops far in our rear. And occasionally one would burst close to the position occupied by Gen. B— and his staff.

A weary officer, belonging to another division than ours, sat on his horse near us, undisturbed and cool. He had moved his fatigue cap and was wiping the perspiration from his forehead, when one of the enemy's shells feel and exploded at his horses's feet killing the animal instantly and wounding his rider. I happened to be dismounted at the time and hurried to his assistance. For an instant I was dumb with surprise. It was Harry Smythe. Yet, how changed. Haggard, thin and care-worn, he turned his face up to mine and said in a low voice.

"Is it you Frank? Am I done for? Give me some water."

"Here is water, sir"—said a voice near me, and a young soldier handed me his canteen. I gave some to Smythe and turned around to return the canteen to the soldier, when I saw him sink to the ground. I paid no attention to him, thinking he had fainted from over exertion, and proceeded to assist the surgeon dress Harry's wound. It seemed to be a severe one, yet he was as composed as if he were unhurt.

"Poor boy," said Harry, looking at the young soldier, and apparently forgetting his own injury; raise him up and see what is the matter with him." I did so and bathed his forehead, when he opened his dark eyes and whispered;

"Thank you. Is the colonel badly wounded?"

The sound of the voice, low as it was, startled Harry, and he raised himself on his elbow.

A strange feeling of mingled wonder and surprise flashed over me, and with difficulty I repressed a sudden expression of it.

"Frank," said Harry, quickly, I was at his side in a moment, but the excitement and exercise were too much, and, in connection with the loss of blood, caused him to faint. We carried him to the rear, and I was desired by Gen. B—— to remain near him. I did so with pleasure. The surgeon said his wound was not necessarily mortal; that though it would unfit him for further service in the field, he would in all probability survive it.

Next morning a lady called at the farm house we had converted into a hospital, and inquired for me. I was not as much surprised as I would have been had I not assisted the young soldier who fainted the previous day.

She was shown in, and sat down on a camp stool, her face buried in her lap, and sobbing violently. I was at a loss what to do, when she raised her head and brushing away her tears, said:

"Can I see Har— Col. Smythe to-day?"

I replied that I could not answer till I had consulted the surgeon. I did so, and he gave his consent, saying that the colonel was not so badly injured as he at first supposed, and that the presence of his friends or relatives would tend to rally him, as he seemed as though he wanted to die.

I escorted the lady to the small room where Harry was lying, and pointing to his cot, told her to enter. Harry as soon as he saw her, threw up his arms, exclaiming:

Oh, heavens! is this real or am I dead?

Be quiet, Smythe, said I: you are still on earth, and likely to remain there some time.

As I turned away I heard the lady say, My dear Harry, and him exclaim, Is it really you, my Mercedita?

It was Mercedita. I came back in an hour and heard from her own lips the story of her strange appearance when we had thought her dead for months.

The night she fell overboard her clothing buoyed her up till she caught a light buoy. To this she clung and cried for help as loudly as she could. The wind and waves prevented us from hearing her cries, and it was so dismally dark we could not possibly see her, and soon she was carried far away from us. She had the presence of mind to lash herself to the frail support to which she clung, and almost drowned as wave after wave passed over her, remained so till morning, when fortunately a vessel passed close by her. She was seen and rescued and carried to France, whence the vessel was bound. Luckily she possessed a watch and diamond ring, and disposing of these, secured sufficient funds to defray her expenses. After a great deal of trouble and delay she started for Liverpool and sailed for the United States. Arriving here she learned, from the captain of the vessel in which she had embarked for Cuba, of the death of her father and of Harry's enlistment, but not of the regiment to which he belonged. She concluded to adopt the bold and rash expedient of enlisting, and did so with the above result.

That evening the chaplain of Harry,s regiment bound them together in the presence of the commanding general and several other officers, and Harry, taking my hand, smiled joyfully add whispered:

Frank don't forget that dozen of kids.

◆

Abolitionists.

[From the Catholic Telegraph, Aug. 25.]

There are many persons who think that to call a man an Abolitionist is sufficient to establish their claim to be considered of superior intellect. It is with them a kind of logic made easy, and compensates for the absence of argument, and removes the necessity and fatigue of proving a proposition. It is a good word, when properly used. A man may be an Abolitionist when he is zealous for the removal of evil of any kind. It is as good as applied to drunkenness and profanity—but it has no significance now when applied to slavery. That great nuisance is already abated, the slaveholders have left far behind them the emancipators of the North.

The word has often been applied unjustly to the editor of this paper. We never deserved it. Always devoted to the cause of order, we never felt that we could justly assail what the law protected, But things are changed. Slavery is abolished by the action of its friends, The slaveholder, in his mild attempt to destroy the North, has only destroyed himself. There is no parallel case in history, where the very cause for which a war is undertaken, becomes, in the progress of events, the most fatal enemy to itself. We have seen the scorpion when surrounded by enemies and unable to escape, bury the fangs in its own body and sting itself to death. So has slavery acted—not however, by compulsion, but voluntarily. We never raised a hand against it; no words of a Catholic editor assailed it so long as it would be unjust and illegal to do so—but now it is dead, we will not consent to see its body festering on the highways. Let it be buried out of sight forever. Let it rest with all its horrors in the grave—let its memory fade from the recollection of men. It was an outrage against humanity, such as the history of no other nation could exhibit. There was something manly in reducing to slavery him whose sword has been beaten down by a stronger arm on the battlefield; there was a show of justice in reducing to bondage the debtor who could not pay his creditor, but for American slavery there was no excuse! It was a monstrous crime—from the seizure of the African in his own land to the moment of his death, when his body was wasted by toil, rather than disease, to uphold the luxury of a master.

Well, it has fallen, and we are called Abolitionists because we refuse our consent to its resuscitation! We are proud of being called so, under circumstances so creditable to the mind and heart. Many we ever deserve the name! We will bear its stigma joyfully through life, and carry it into eternity with honor. We struggle in a holy cause—religion and the human race. We maintain the sanctity of the marriage tie—the fidelity of the husband and wife to each other; we maintain the cause of justice, denying the right of any man to another's labor without his consent or compensation.

We maintain the right of the parents to the disposal of their children, and that no man, through the exercise of his power as a master, shall deprive human beings of instruction in the Christian religion, and of the means to save their souls. Can any man be a Catholic—a believer in the Christian faith and consider the question otherwise? With the long and shining list of names, from the earliest periods of Christianity to the present day, of Popes, Confessors and Doctors, to sustain our position, we cannot be driven from our ground—or rather we should say, the ground maintained by the Catholic Church in every age of her existence. If the question of American slavery was to be submitted to-morrow to a general council of the Church, the institution would perish—sunken deeper than ever plummet sounded. The voices in its favor would be as few and small as those which hesitated to speak out boldly with Catholic faith, when the doctrine of the Immaculate Conception was discussed.

It is monstrous that a cause so just as human liberty should be assailed, as it is at the present day, without a show of reason. We have never yet seen an argument which could raise a doubt as to the propriety of suppressing and abolishing American slavery—much less of restoring the thing to life. Notwithstanding this, a crowd of thoughtless men, filled to the utmost capacity of the heart with prejudice the most insane, cry out day and night against any one who dares to say a word in favor of its suppression. The very men who would profit most by the removal of slavery—the white working men, whom the slave power has shut out from the cotton and the sugar fields of the South—are the loudest and fiercest in their support of slavery! Who has ever seen a white laboring man with a bale of cotton or hogshead of sugar of his own raising? No one. It is impossible so long as slavery exists. He may dig on a levee, or drive a mule team, or sweep the wharves of a Southern town, but there his ambition must stop. The land belongs, or belonged to the aristocracy, and however generous, accomplished, refined and hospitable that aristocracy might have been, the poor white laborer must contemplate from afar the elegance in which he can never participate. There is then no reason why we should clamor for the restoration of slavery. We can readily understand the strong sympathy which binds the nobility of England and France to the Confederacy. It is natural—the result of the same ideas—the concord of hearts beating to the same emotions—the helping hand of the throne stretched forth to bring back the repentent children of Democracy to the pride and pomp of Great Britian; we can understand all this, and can fully appreciate the cordial regard with which England has cherished the South in their disastrous war, but why the poor man should hold up the skirts of the aristocracy in a cause which helps to crush him to the earth, is one of those mysteries of life which baffles the wisdom of the philosopher.

We have carefully confined our remarks, since the subject of slavery engaged our attention, to the moral question, avoiding at all times the political points. With the latter we have nothing to do. Our object has been to prove to the white working men of our faith that the Catholic Church is the enemy of slavery, and that its total disappearance from the land will be most beneficial to them.

They may from unkind motives, call us Abolitionists—but they cannot prove that we deserve to be so called in the opprobious sense in which they mean it. As a priest devoted most earnestly to the cause of our holy Church, and the temporal welfare of a great majority of her children, we have written honestly, truthfully, and, as we think, successfully, and as the subject is not exhausted, we hope to continue doing so. In the meantime, all we ask of our readers is to respect our motives, and we are satisfied that our words will not be in vain, nor destitute of the blessings which ever attend the advocacy of a just cause.

Government paid out thirty-four million dollars in gold, for interest on the public debt, during the year ending June. The amount of demand notes unredeemed is less than $200,000, hence customs, which, during the last fiscal year, produced about $69,000,000, are paid almost entirely in specie. Receipts of gold now largely exceed the necessities of the Government, and are accumulating in the office of the Treasury.

Industry is a good quality in man

DEFECTIVE PAGE

The Weekly Union.

Mankato, Friday, Sept. 18, 1863.

Republican Union Ticket.

For Governor,
STEPHEN MILLER.
For Lieutenant Governor,
CHARLES D. SHERWOOD.
For Secretary of State,
DAVID BLAKELY.
For Auditor of State,
CHARLES McILRATH.
For State Treasurer.
CHARLES SCHEFFER.
For Attorney General,
GORDON E. COLE.
For Clerk of the Supreme Court,
GEORGE F. POTTER.

17th LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT.

For State Senator,
B. Y. COFFIN.
For Representatives,
WILLIAM RUSSELL.
J. A. PHELPS.
FREEMAN TALBOT,

COUNTY TICKET.

For Sheriff,
ELIJAH MIDDLEBROOK.
For Register of Deeds,
BENJAMIN F. SMITH.
For Treasurer.
A. T. LINDHOLM.
For Judge of Probate,
DAVID WILCOX.
For County Surveyor,
WILLIAM L. COON.
For County Coroner,
T. T. PEIRCE.
For County Commissioners,
1st Dist.—H. ROBERTSON.
2d Dist.—L. G. M. FLETCHER.
3d Dist.—JOHN I. JONES,

Republican Union Platform.

Resolved, that we, chosen to represent in convention the unconditional Union men of Minnesota, grateful to Almighty God for the success which has hitherto crowned the arms of our country and for the prospect thus opened of a speedy, honorable and lasting peace, do hereby, for our friends and constituents, reaffirm our determination to support our Government by every means in our power in the vigourous prosecution of this present war,—on our part, holy, just, and forced upon us by the criminal acts of others,—until not an enemy in arms shall be found within our borders. And to this we pledge our lives our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

2. That we tender our grateful thanks to the survivors of our glorious armies, and our warm sympathy to the relatives of their gallant dead, who have won for the country so glorious victories, for themselves imperishable renown, and for us all an assurance of liberty and safety for our children, under our beloved and now well tried Government.

3. That with especial pride we point to the gallant achievements on many a hard-fought battle-field, of our Minnesota regiments. Their bravery, discipline, and patriotism have won for them a name that shall never die, and made it forever honorable to be a citizen of Minnesota.

4. That, without claiming for it exemption from error, we heartily endorse the general policy and conduct of our National Administration; and we point to the recent magnificent triumph of our armies as its best vindication from the charges of incapacity so freely brought against it by those who prefer national ruin, to success under the present Administration. Especially do we approve the emancipation proclamation, and the raising of black troops as being among the best possible measures to weaken the enemy and strengthen ourselves.

5 That our State Administration, and our Congressional Delegation deserve our hearty approbation for the zealous and efficient cooperation they have afforded the National Authorities in carrying on the war.

6 That we call upon those in authority to take such measures, by retaliation or otherwise, as shall effectually prevent brutal and barbarous treatment by the enemy of our soldiers, of whatever color.

7 That it is due to our shattered armies in the field, as well as to the sacred cause which they uphold, that their ranks should as speedily as possible be filled up by every means in our power. It is due to the country that the mobs raised to resist and prevent the draft, should not seem to have succeeded a day longer than is necessary to enforce the laws.

8 That the way to peace is and ever has been open to the rebels; the only condition we have ever sought to impose, is that they should lay down their arms and submit to the authority of the General Government. We protest against the making of any terms with them in advance as to their status as communities, when they shall have returned to their allegiance. Having been declared "public enemies" by a recent unanimous decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, they must accept the consequences that legitimately flow from having placed themselves in that position

THE LEGISLATIVE TICKET.

A more popular man for State Senator can not be found than the one whose name heads our Legislative ticket. Mr. Coffin, and Mr. Russell are gentlemen well known to every voter in the district, and we believe will poll a heavy vote this fall.

Messrs. Phelps and Talbot of Le Sueur are gentlemen with whom we are not much acquainted, further than that Mr. Phelps is an enterprising energetic go-ahead farmer, and Mr. Talbot is a very intelligent man, an Irishman by birth, and very popular in his county.

DISTRICT CONVENTION

The delegates from Blue Earth and Le Sueur Counties to nominate a State Senator and three Representatives met at Kasota, on Monday, the 14th inst.

Peter Cheadle was appointed Chairman, and Perry Wilson Sectary.

The delegates present from Blue Earth County were John Loring, Thos. M. Pugh, Wm. Russell.

And those present from Le Sueur County, were P. Cheadle, Amasa Stewart, Perry Wilson, Jas. S. Little.

On motion, B. Y. Coffin, of Blue Earth, was nominated by acclamation for Senator, and J. A. Phelps, Freeman Talbot, of Le Sueur, and Wm. Russell, of Blue Earth, for Representatives.

The following persons were appointed District Committee.

Freeman Talbot, of Le Sueur, Chairman, and M. T. C. Flower of Blue Earth.

The Convention then adjourned.

MISREPRESENTATION.

We admire truthfulness in both friend and foe, and when a man makes an assertion which proves to be untrue, and is ignorant of the fact, he is excusable; but when he wilfully persists in misleading the public, and making statements, of which there is not even the semblance of truth, he shows himself devoid of principle and manly bearing.

A case in point: The editor of the Record, since the UNION was started, has labored hard, in the endeavor to make his few readers believe that this paper, is owned and edited by persons other than ourself, and in his attempted replies to our articles, he evades the questions at issue, and attributes their authorship to, and vents his spite upon, Mr. J. N. Hall.

To those who know us a simple contradiction of this will be sufficient; and to those with whom we are yet unacquainted, we will state that we are alone the owner and editor of this paper, and the author of every editorial that has appeared in it since its commencement. We are working for the good of the party, and wedded to no man's interests. When we find ourself unable to write our own editorials, and control our paper indedently, we will quit the business.

COPPERHEAD NOMINATIONS.

The Democratic District Convention which met at Cleveland, on Monday last, nominated J. J. Porter, our Know Nothing friend, of Blue Earth, for the Senate, and Reuben Butters, and Mr. Meagher, of Le Sueur, and J. A. Wiswell of Blue Earth, Representatives.

THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET OF LE SUEUR COUNTY.

We have heard the names of but two or three of the candidates on this ticket, and those are sufficient to guarantee its utter defeat. Mort Tonsley is the candidate for Sheriff, and a Mr. Doran, for Register of Deeds. This Mr. Tonsley is a blatant Copperhead, disloyal in his sentiments and actions, and says he "would not sell himself for thirteen dollars a month any how." The Union men of Le Sueur County don't want a man for Sheriff, who is so ready to discourage enlistments, and they will show their appreciation of his worth on election day in strong terms.

The Convention endorsed the resolutions adopted by the Copperhead State Convention, at St. Paul, a knowledge of which fact will surely cause the defeat of the entire ticket.

LE SUEUR COUNTY NOMINATION.

The Union men of Le Sueur County have nominated the following ticket.

A. Cheadle, Register for Deeds, Amasa Stewart, Sheriff; A. E Lange, Treasurer, C. N. Perry, Judge of Probate; B. Abbott, County Attorney; County Surveyor, C. N. Perry,

We are not personally acquainted with any of the nominees, but understand the ticket to be a good one, composed of men in every way loyal.

THE DRAFT.

In the Portland district, Maine, of 1,970 conscripts examined, only 400 have been accepted as fit for duty. Of this number 319 have furnished substitutes and 14 have paid commutation money. The remainder have been sent to camp. The examination of the drafted men of Brigton and Naples, 107 in number, commenced on Saturday. Fifty odd have been examined and eight accepted.

In Rhode Island the work of examining the drafted men is nearly through, We have found (says the Providence Post) some able bodied men, but they nearly all pay their commutation fee or get substitutes. Thus far only nineteen drafted men in this State have put on the Federal uniform.

The Philadelphia Press of Wednesday states that the average number of drafted men who daily report themselves as ready to go to field is not more than three in each district. In the first district but one conscript was held for service. The remainder of those whose cases were examined either furnished substitutes or were exempted for sufficient cause. The tri-monthly report in the first district show the following figures:

Number examined,	273
Exempted for physical disability,	99
Exempted for other causes,	42
Only sons of widowed mothers,	12
Only sons of aged or infirm parents,	4
Aliens,	45
Furnished substitutes,	63
Paid commutation money,	4
Held for service,	4

Gen Gilmore has been promoted to Major General in the regular army.

Fire in Buffalo.

Sunday evening last a fire occurred in Buffalo, N. Y. which was supposed to be the work of incendiaries. Three large warehouses were consumed, the loss of which is estimated at $120,000.

From Maine.

The election returns from Maine raises still higher the pyramid of Union majorities. Corey the Union candidate for Governor, has 14,016 majority as far as heard from.

Senator Conness on the Rebellion.

The Philadelphia Press publishes the following extract of a letter from Senator Conness, of California, addressed to the editor, Col J. W. Forney:

Since I have thought at all, I have religiously believed in universal human liberty. For a while I restrained myself, whether rightfully or not, in obedience to a desire for peace and the obligations I felt I owed to the country as I found it. The enemies of right, human progress and of civil liberty everywhere have broken the peace I had fostered, and have relieved me of the obligation I have felt, by their malignant assaults upon our government. I would be less than a man did I not feel that everything must be done to strengthen the hands of those through whose acts alone we can save this great nation from destruction. I do not feel entitled to any credit for this. It is the simple duty of the citizen. It is true that all do not perform their duty. I do not know that our virtue is thereby magnified.

I have always been a democrat. I was only a democrat because democracy meant the greatest extension of civil rights to the human kind consistent with civil order. We were working out that simple problem peacefully until this war was made upon us to supplant liberty by slavery, and to degrade us in the estimation of mankind. Our enemies have forced upon us a contest between slavery and freedom, between barbarism and civilization, which they have said shall be determined by blows. They are discovering, that sensible people understood before, that blows can be received as well as given. The "Pine" is "swinging against the palm," and I say "God help them" to a severe and speedy punishment of their great unnatural crime against civil liberty!

There are those who profane and arrogate to themselves the term democracy, which they undertake to use in restraint of the government in this great fight to weaken its arms and to paralyze its limbs. O what a cruel and base use do they make of the democratic name! When, before this, where human rights were involved, were the democracy of the nation not on the war-path? Heretofore the name was the symbol of courage. They would use it to cover crime and cowardice. Those who are engaged in it will yet wish they had never been born"

The Sibley Expedition.

The following extract from a private letter, written by an intelligent soldier who went out with Sibley's swindling Expedition, has been handed us for publication. It shows that the rank and file of the men who make up Sibley's force, understand the character of that gigantic fraud which is being practiced upon the people of this State and the Government, and also the character of the men who are at the head of it.

The writer says:

"I suppose that you have heard all about our fight with the Indians long ago. We have been on a long, weary and useless tramp to the Missouri River, Saw some Indians, and killed a few old men who were so lame and crippled that they could not make their escape with the rest.

There is not room enough in this sheet to give you my opinion of the Expedition, and I could not do the subject justice if I should try, without swearing. It is enough to say that the Indians escaped, when, in my opinion, it might have been prevented.

I actually feel ashamed of myself to think I have, for one, been made such a fool of. I believe this "great expedition" is nothing but a Copperhead scheme to keep all the soldiers they can in the State. Sibley is a Copperhead, and some of his staff are but a little better, and should have been hung at Minneapolis when the Rebellion first broke out."—State Atlas.

The News.

The Federal army since the 2d of July, has met with continued successes, and the news is now such as to cheer the heart of every loyal man. In the siege of Charleston Gen. Gilmore is doing a noble work, and we hope soon to record its capture and complete destruction. God speed the right, and hasten on the good work.

NATIVE APPLES.—Wm. Younger who resides in the west end of Minneapolis Township, has several thrifty apples trees well laden with good sized apples. This fact is additional evidence that apples can be produced in Minnesota. To our mind the question is definitely settled.—Atlas.

Powers of Boards of Enrollment.

The question whether a Board of Enrollment's decision is final in a case of exemption has been before Judge CADWALADER (at Philadelphia) on a habeus corpus hearing. The complainant was illegally drafted for service; he, by his age, belonging to the second class of drafted men, who could not be called until the first class is exhausted. The Board of Enrollment decided that he was liable at that time to draft, and plead that their decision was final, and precluded examination by the legal tribunals. But the court, on a hearing, decided that this was not a claim of exemption, but a question of fact, affecting the legality of the draft in his case, and that was a proper subject for the court to inquire into, This case shows the necessity of guarding strictly the privilege of habeas corpus. If the court had received the plea of the Board as a sufficient justification of their act, and one which shut out any further inquiry, the man would have been compelled to serve, though illegally drafted. Now he has an opportunity of proving his allegation, which, if true, will release him from service, to which he is not subject under the law. The action of the Government may be impeded in some cases by the habeas corpus, but the attempts made to temporarily destroy or set aside this great privilege involve a great deal more danger to popular liberty than the freest action of the habeas corpus could do harm to the Government. For this reason it should be sacredly guarded by the courts and be sustained by the people.—Ledger.

Negroes not Enrolled in Kentucky.

Kentucky has a State law which forbids the recognition of blacks as citizens by making soldiers of them. Hence, when it was proposed to enroll blacks as well as whites for the conscription, a strong protest was sent up by the Union men of the State. It seemed to have been effectual. A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette says:

"It is curious illustration of the tenacity with which old prejudices still maintain their sway, that the Kentucky authorities have persisted in opposing the enrollment of free negroes in this State, under the conscription law, till they have probably succeeded in carrying their point.

"The whole matter was at best of the most trifling dimensions; not more than three to five hundred free negroes in the State were liable to draft, and of these probably fifty to seventy-five would have been drafted The recruiting officers say they lost quadruple that number of volunteers in a fortnight, during the excitement on the subject,

"Provost Marshal General Fry, it is said, has not actually consented to completing the enrollment without the negroes, but he has been informed of the circumstances, and notified that the negroes would be left out. The practical amount of the military force involved is so trifling that in this case it is probably about as well to give the old prejudices their way."

During the drafting in New York, the unpronounceable name of Benveltbonqnetors, 84 Bleecker street, was called out, but the name was such a sockdollager to the crier that all he could get out was the address, when he lustily called out "84 Bleecker street" omitting the name. After several repetitions, however, the crier got hold of the name, but the individual did not appear.

STATE ELECTIONS—The recent election in California has resulted in a glorious triumph for the Union party. Only partial returns have yet been received, but it is thought the Union majority will reach 25,000. Every effort was made by the copperheads to carry the State, and they had confidently hoped to succeed.

In Vermont too, the entire Union ticket has been elected by some 40,000 majority and that in the face of a vigorous opposition.

PARDON OF DUNPHY.—Gov. Swift yesterday pardoned Chas. Dunphy, who it will be recollected was convicted of the murder of a man named Michael Dugan, in Anoka County, in August, 1860. Dunphy was sentenced to be hung, but the sentence was subsequently commuted to imprisonment for life, his associate in the crime, Sanford Tripp, who was convicted at the same time of manslaughter, having made an affidavit fully exonerating Dunphy, and taking the whole responsibility of the deed upon himself.—Press 13.

At half past ten o'clock on Wednesday, morning H. C. Vanderbilt, of Philadelphia, was married to Miss Minnie Baldwin, a lady of this city, residing in Vartek Place. At fifteen minutes of twelve he died of heart disease. His remains have been taken to Philadelphia for interment.

Opinions of the Press.

We have clipped from our exchanges from time to time, the following flattering notices of the UNION. By perusing them our subscribers will learn what others think of us.

WEEKLY UNION.—We gladly welcome to our list of exchanges the Weekly Union which takes the place of the Independent, Mankato Minn. SLOCUM is a man after our own heart, and his readers will lose nothing by changing the Independent for the Union.—State Atlas.

The Mankato Independent has changed hands. CHAS. H. SLOCUM appears as editor and proprietor. The name of the paper has been changed to the Mankato Weekly Union. Success to the "Union."—Hokah Chief.

The Union is the title of a newspaper started at Mankato, which comes with full local columns and presenting a general good appearance.—St. Cloud Union.

Chas. H. Slocum, Esq., has purchased the Mankato Independent and changed its name to the Weekly Union. It comes to us this week enlarged and in every respect an improvement on the old Independent.—Stillwater Messenger.

We have received the first number of the Mankato Union; a good looking seven column Republican paper, published by Charles H Slocum. It it is filled with interesting local news, and is deserving the patronage of the people of that locality. Success to the Union!—Anoka Republican.

MANKATO UNION.—The Mankato Independent has changed hands, and at the same time changed its name, and now comes to us under the above title an ably edited and well arranged paper, largely made up of interesting local and agricultural items, and of nearly twice the size of the old Independent. CHARLES H. SLOCUM, editor and proprietor.—Rochester City Post.

NEW PAPER.—We have received the first number of the Mankato Union, a new and exceedingly interesting paper. It is edited by Chas. H. Slocum Esq. and is just what a country paper should be, a faithful gazetteer of the events of the day and particularly of the local news. No paper can be long interesting to its readers when the local column is habitually neglected. The Union takes the place of the Independent, but is a much better paper. Success to you, brother Slocum.—Red Wing Volunteer.

MANKATO UNION.—The Mankato Independent has changed hands and name, and now comes to us enlarged as a weekly. Mr. C. H. Slocum, the present proprietor and editor, gives evidence of a cultivated mind, well posted on the issues of the day. It is a well edited and well printed paper, We extend the right hand of fellowship to Mr. SLOCUM, and wish him abundant success.—Rochester Republican.

MANKATO WEEKLY UNION.—We have received the first two numbers of this vigorous sheet, which is edited and published by C. H. Slocum. We consider the Union the most valuable of our weekly exchanges.—Mower County Register.

The office of the Mankato Independent has changed hands, and now comes out as the Mankato Weekly Union. C. H. Slocum, editor.—Lesueur Gazette.

The Mankato Independent. has recently changed hands and come-out enlarged to a seven column with a new head, under the name of the Mankato Weekly Union. It is a well conducted sheet, true and loyal, and merits the patronage of the public.—Owatonna Plaindealer.

C. H. Slocum, formerly foreman of this office, has purchased the material of the Mankato Independent and issued the first number of the Union, a neatly printed seven column paper It has the true ring, and no doubt will be well supported.—Hastings Conservor.

The Mankato Union is the title of a news paper just started at Mankato, by C. H. Slocum. It is a seven column paper, and is as good looking country paper as we have in the State. We wish for it abundant success, pecuniarily—but in politics "nix."—Shakopee Argus.

The office of the Mankato Independent has passed into the hands of C. H. Slocum, and he last Saturday issued the first number of the Mankato Weekly Union. It has been increased to the size of the Daily PRESS, and makes a very creditable appearance.—St. Paul Press.

THE MANKATO UNION.—C. H. Slocum, Esq., of the Mankato Union called on us yesterday. The Union is now one of the best interior news papers in Minnesota, and under Mr. Slocum's able management, has greatly increased in circulation. Mankato is a live place, and needs a live man and a live paper just such as Mr. Slocum and the Union are.—St. Paul Press

We received a call the other day from C. H. Slocum, Esq., Editor of the Mankato Union, one of the liveliest and spiciest papers on our exchange list. We wish him much success in his newspaper enterprise.—State Atlas.

A PARTIAL FAILURE.—One of the disastrous effects of the August frost is apparent in the serious curtailment of the Cranberry crop. From all the information we can gather we are forced to the unwelcome conclusion, that the crop this year will be a very meagre one.

Enthusiasm for Col. Miller in the Army.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.

Correspondence of the St. Paul Press:

Hurrah! HURRAH!! HURRAH!!! were the words I heard the next morning—second morning after the first Bull Run battle. I went into the old church on Judiciary Square, where three companies of the Minnesota First were collected together, all still wet through, the church filled with the steam from their drying garments.

All was quiet—all engaged in low conversation, I was learning the names of the killed, wounded and missing, from a Sergeant in Company E, when hurrah hurrah! hurrah! broke out into a shout, I sprang up, and inquired what was the matter? News came into the church—"Col. Miller—Col. MILLER HAS COME TO SEE US!"

"Well," said I "what of that—what has he done?" anxious to know all about the officer of our brave old First

"About Col Miller, is it. Yes, he didn't run—he stuck by us. We knew where he was all the time."

The Colonel came in, and all the boys gathered around him and shook hands with him. It was a happy, hearty, mutual greeting, not easily forgotten.

And when I saw in your paper, received yesterday, that the Colonel was nominated for Governor of our young and beautiful State, I threw down the paper and hurrahed, just as the boys did for Col. Miller. The scene and shout in the old church came before me again; and I seemed to hear the shout as it came from the old church, waving and ringing across the Prairies of Minnesota—hurrah! hurrah for COL. MILLER.

No political juggler—no Indian Trader—whether he has one, two or five squaw wives, can prevent the election of Col. Miller. Good luck—an overwhelming victory to the brave Colonel.

I remain respectfully yours,
MINNESOTIUS.

Brownlow's Knoxville Whig, and Rebel-Ventilator!

I propose to publish a Weekly and Tri Weekly journal, bearing the above title, at Knoxville, in Tennessee, and the Weekly paper, made up from the contents of the Tri-Weeklies, I propose to send out to distant subscribers, for two dollars per annum, invariably paid in advance. Subscriptions and remittances will be forwarded to me at Cincinnati, from which point I expect to ship my paper and materials. I expect to issue the first number in October, as it was in that month, two years ago, my paper was crushed out, by the God-forsaken mob at Knoxville, called the Confederate Authorities. I will commence with this hell-born and hell-bound Rebellion, where the traitors forced me to leave off, and all who wish the paper will do well to begin with the first issue, as I intend that a single paper shall be worth the subscription price to any unconditional Union man!

In the rule of my editorial conduct, I shall adjure that serviiity which destroys the independence of the Press, and cast from me that factions opposition which give to party what is due to country. And whilst the name of my journal indicates in unmistakable terms its politics, I shall, as a faithful sentinel, forget Whigs, Democrats, Know Nothings, and Republicans, and remember only my Government, and the preservation of the Federal Union—as richly worth all the sacrifices of blood and treasure their preservation may cost—even to the extermination of the present race of men, and the consumption of all the means of the present age.

W. G. BROWNLOW,

September 7th, 1863.

The Siege of Charleston.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—We have received additional particulars by the Arago of the bombardment of Fort Moultrie by General Gilmore and Admiral Dahlgren. The firing had continued all day Tuesday, the 8th, and up to six o'clock, Wednesday. The firing continued with great fury, and the injuries to Fort Moultrie were of such a character as to indicate that the reduction of the fort would be effected with comparative ease.

The bombardment which began on Tuesday at daylight, was kept up during the day; though the facts are not positively known, there is no doubt in the minds of persons who witnessed the explosion of the magazine, that even if it was not the main one in the fort, the havoc inside was such as to materially lessen its capacity for resistance.

The firing ceased on Tuesday except from the rebel batteries. On Wednesday morning the fight was resumed. Two or three of Gen. Gilmore's batteries which were in range of Fort Moultrie, assisted in the cannonading, but only a part of the monitor fleet renewed the conflict.

The Ironsides, which has performed great service throughout, steamed towards Moultrie, and was firing rapidly when the Arago left.

The injuries to the walls of the fort were important. Observations were made late in the afternoon of Wednesday, by passengers on the Arago, who were on Morris Island, and it could be seen through the hazy atmosphere that the walls of the fort were broken in. This fort it was fully shown, would bear only a small amount of canonading compared with Sumter. The reduction will immediately follow, and the planting of batteries at Cummings Point,—a work which will soon be accomplished.

The firing from all the rebel forts and batteries in range of Morris Island upon our forces there, which began on the morning after the evacuation by Beauregard's troops, has since been severe and continuous. Our forces do not occupy in force the captured rebel fortifications.

It is represented that the rebel works will be of little use to Gen. Gilmore in his after operations. He can use the ground, which he is already doing, in spite of the fire, and when the new batteries in progress are completed, there is scarcely a position in the harbor but will be commanded by his guns, while Charleston will be within easy shelling distance.

The immediate fall of the city is not, however, expected. A new mode of removing obstructions has been adopted by General Gilmore, namely the employment of rebel prisoners in this duty. It is justly supposed that the rebels know quite as well if not better, how to handle their own infernal machines as the Union men, and their risk may possibly be less. Our soldiers and sailors are enthusiastically in favor of the new arrangement.

An Official Pamphlet—Anglo Rebel Pirates.

PARIS.—An important pamphlet, ascribed to an official organ, had been poplished entitled, "France, Mexico, and the confederates," It sets forth the interest France has in recognition of the Confederate States, and the impossibility of the restoration of the "American Union, maintaining that an American war would be useful to France; and, if separation between the North and South be definitely pronounced, the Confederate States would be the allies of France and would guarantee her from attack from the North. This would fulfill her hopes, and her manufactories would obtain cotton which is absolutely necessary.

LATEST NEWS.

News by Friday Morning's Mail

NEW YORK, Sept. 16—There is no truth in the report that General Hunter is to receive command of the Department of the Missouri. He is to have a command in the South-west.

The President has received unmistakable assurances from the French Emperor as well as from his Minister of Foreign Affairs, that France has no intention either to recognize the Southern Confederacy while its ability to maintain its independence is seriously contested, nor to plant any French colonies on the Western continent, or retain any permanent conquest in Mexico.

Gen. Pleasanton reached Rapidan river at Raccoon Ford, yesterday forenoon, after considerable heavy skirmishing between Culpepper and that point.

Up to that time no rebel infantry had been met, though a heavy force of rebel cavalry had been driven back by our forces. Fighting was going on at Raccoon Ford yesterday, the enemy vigorously resisting all our attempts to cross. It is supposed a brigade of rebel infantry was at that point, resisting our advance.

Gen. Foster telegraphs from Fortress Monroe that the main body of the rebel army is at Richmond, where Lee's headquarters now are, and there is no force of any consequence in Gen. Meade's front.

Pleasanton will probably ascertain the exact position of the rebel army in a day or two.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

STATE OF MINNESOTA }
COUNTY OF BLUE EARTH, }

To WILLIAM THOMAS:

You are hereby notified that a writ of attachment has been issued against you, and your property attached to satisfy the demand of Benjamin McCracken amounting to twenty seven (27.) dollars: Now, unless you shall appear before H W. Nelson, a justice of the peace in and for said county, at his office in the town of Vernon, on the twenty ninth (29.) day of October A D 1863 at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, judgment will be rendered against you, and your property sold to pay the debt

Dated this 9th day of Sept A. D 1863
BENJ. McCRACKEN,
Plaintiff.
10 6w*

WILLIAM IRVING,
MERCHANT TAILOR
and dealer in
Gentlemens' Furnishing Goods,
MANKATO, - - - - MINN.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY virtue of an execution issued out of the District Court in and for the county of Blue Earth, State of Minnesota, upon a judgment rendered February 21st, 1863, and docketed March 6th, 1863 in said county, in an action wherein Daniel Wagner is plaintiff, and George Quiggles is defendant, and against said defendant, for the sum of $74.20, and upon which there nows remains due and unpaid the sum of $74.20 and interest, I have levied upon all the right title and interest which the said George Quiggles had on the 21st day of February, 1863, or at any time thereafter, of, in and to the following described lands and real estate, in the county of Blue Earth State of Minnesota, to wit:

South west quarter of south-east quarter and south-east quarter of south-west quarter, section ten, and west half of south-west quarter of south-east quarter, and north east quarter of south-west quarter of south-east quarter of section nine, all in township one hundred and five, north of range twenty-eight west.

Notice is hereby given that I will sell the above described lands and real estate, to the highest bidder for cash, on Saturday, the 19th of September, 1863, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the front door of the office of Register of Deeds in and for the County of Blue Earth, in Mankato, to satisfy the execution, together with costs and interest thereon. Dated August 7th, 1863.

D. H. TYNER,
Sheriff of Blue Earth County.
6w4

DEFECTIVE PAGE

THE COUNTY.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

St. Paul—Arrives at 9 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Eastern—Arrives at 4 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Blue Earth City—Arrives at 5 P. M. and departs at 7 A. M. Closes 7 P. M.

Office hours—5 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays, 5 to 7 A. M., and 12 M. to 1 P. M.

R. J. SIBLEY, Postmaster.

Agents for the Union.

The following are authorized to receive and receipt for monies paid on subscription to the UNION:

Mankato—MARTIN N. SLOCUM.
South Bend—LARS LEE.
Garden City—RAY & WILLIAMS.
Vernon—THOMAS SOWERS.
Shelbyville—H A. BUCK, R SHANNON.
Winnebago City—HOLLY and WELCH.
Verona—A. D MASON.
Blue Earth City—W J. C ROBERTSON.
Fairmount—W W CARRINGTON.
Mapleton—S MIDDLEBROOK.
Madelia—C G. MULLEN
New Ulm—J. C RUDOLPH.
Judson—MR GOODWIN.
Winnebago Agency—LUCIUS DYER.
Sterling—WILLIAM RUSSELL.
Butternut Valley—REV J. JENKINS.

HON. WM. WINDOM,

Of Winona, and Member of Congress from Minnesota, will address the citizens of Blue Earth County, in MANKATO. SATURDAY EVENING Sept. 26th. Let there be a big gathering.

Hon. Cyrus Aldrich will accept our thanks for public documents.

Col. Stephen Miller, of the 7th, has been relieved of the command of the forces in garrison, and ordered to assume command at Fort Snelling.

WE understand an agency for Wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machines will soon be established here.

Judge Wilcox is agent for the Singer Machine, and knows how to sell them fast.

PERSONAL.—Quartermaster Green, of the 10th, passed through town yesterday, on his way home. He had with him a young elk, caught near Devils Lake, when he was with the expedition.

Quartermaster Cutter of the 7th, also arrived in town yesterday. He has come to settle up his old business matters.

Mr. Tyner is recovering slowly and thinks he will be able to bear his weight on his broken limb in a short time.

Col. JOHN SANBORN, of the 4th Minnesota has been appointed Brigadier General. A well earned star has fallen on his shoulders.

PRIZES AWARDED.—Prof. Ferguson awarded prizes, to the following scholars in his school, last week.

Mary Milner,
Elva Barrett.
Fannie Lytle,
Mary Higgins.
Ella Locke,
Carrie Hall,
Maria Wampler,
Belle Warren.

WE are glad to learn of the improved health of Rev. Mr. Hicks. He is now able to walk out daily.

LIEBERG'S SHAVING SALOON, is one of the institutions that is always open, and filled with victims bound to be "shaved."

ARTHUR'S MAGAZINE.—This sprightly monthly for October has been received. As usual, it contains many stories of exceeding interest.

REMOVAL.—Mrs. Oglesby has removed her stock of millinery goods to the room next door above the Post Office. From the manner in which she fill her orders, and she has lots of them, we judge her to be a good milliner. Give her a call.

WM. IRVING, Merchant Tailor, has received his new stock, and has opened his shop. He has some of the prettiest styles of vest patterns, and cloths for coats and pants that we have seen for a long time. His old customers will rally around him again without much ceremony.

BLUE EARTH COUNTY SOLDIERS IN HOSPITAL.—Among the list of sick and wounded soldiers in the various hospitals at St. Louis, we notice the following names;

B. F. Williams, Co. H. 2d Regt.
John Henderson, Co. D, 5th Regt.
Peter J. Tilman, Co. E, 5th "

ALWAYS GET THE BEST—Especially in getting Saleratus—as the best costs but a trifle for a year's supply, and the good costs but a trifle more than the poor. The best goes farther than the poor, and is much more healthy. We can recommend the Chemical Saleratus to be the best.

EYE WATER.—We met Dr. Durkee our noted "M. D." in St. Paul not long since, He stated that he is doing a smashing business, and had more patients on his hands than he could attend to. There is a good deal of virtue in the Doctors medicine, and we advise those afflicted with sore eyes to try it.

BLUE EARTH COUNTY FAIR.—The officers of the Blue Earth County Agricultural Society have decided that it will not be advisable to hold a County Fair this fall, as many of our farmers are not prepared for it, owing to our Indian troubles.

NEW GOODS.—Ward has received his fall stock of new goods, and has got his rooms completely filled. His store is crowded with customers every day. He has on hand a large amount of ready made clothing, which fact farmers will do well to remember.

WRITING CLASS.—Prof. Shaw's writing class, numbers over twenty scholars, and he is having good success. We hope our citizens will encourage the enterprise and send their children to a teacher who is every way competent, and who understands his business as few other teachers of his profession do. The next school will be to-morrow evening, and as there will be an opportunity offered to join the class, we hope our citizens will appreciate the benefits to be derived from a perfect knowledge of correct penmanship, and improve the present one.

But little is known of the movements of the Regiment just returned from the expedition. They will soon be sent South. Furloughs, however, will probably be given the boys to visit their friends.

Rumors are current that a party of Indians last week attacked and killed six soldiers who were cutting hay in the vicinity of Lake George, near Sauk Centre. A gentleman from Fort Ridgley yesterday, informed us that the Cavalry there had been ordered out, and would ascertain the truth in the matter.

MINNESOTA APPLES.—Mr. S. T. Mills, presented us with some apples last week that grew on his farm, about ten miles from town. Among them were Bellflowers, Russets, Talman Sweets, and Siberian Crab. They were good hardy specimens, and will keep through the winter, All of them will average ½ pound in weight. We never saw a larger apples, of those varieties, in the Eastern States.

Mr. Mills has engaged in apple raising systematically, and thus far has succeeded admirably.

ANOTHER INDIAN MURDER.—Sergeant Edwards, a member of the late Capt. Cady's company, while going from Kingston to Paynesville last Friday, in company with Capt. Butterfield, and another soldier, was shot almost dead by three Indians who attacked the party. The others left him, to secure assistance, and when they returned found him dead and scalped.

"Medo," the Press correspondent from this County, in speaking of the Copperhead nominations, calls Wiswell the Anti-Dog-Poll-Tax candidate. This is a mistake. Mr. Wiswell labored hard to secure the passage of the Dog and Poll Tax laws, the former of which was unpopular, and the latter an unjust law. He also worked strenuously against allowing the soldiers to vote, and cast his vote against the passage of that law. A pretty specimen he to ask the vote of soldiers!

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING.—Sunday afternoon we noticed a couple of horses trying to cross the river. One succeeded in doing so, where the water was nearly five feet deep. The other went into the water about a rod below where the other did, and stepped off into a deep hole, and sank out of sight. When he rose to the surface the current carried him down stream, and he finally lodged in some drift wood, The horse struggled nobly for a few moments, and finally succeeded in getting clear of the brush, and then came back on the same side from which he started, almost exhausted.

THE STATE ATLAS, published at Minneapolis, is decidedly the best weekly newspaper in the State. It is outspoken on all the questions of the day, and devotes considerable time and space to the agricultural interests of that county. Its circulation, also, which is far ahead of any other paper in the county, is rapidly increasing. Its jobbing department is equal to any in the State—Mr. King having recently received a stock of jobbing material that would astonish even a printer. This department is superintended by Mr. Newton, of New York City, who is a superior workman, and withal, a genial good fellow. Long may "King" reign.

FARIBAULT COUNTY FAIR.—The arrangements being made by the officers of the Agricultural Society in this County, indicate that their Fair will be one of great interest to every farmer in the the county. It will take place on the 7th and 8th of October at Blue Earth City. A circular track of one mile is being fitted up for the display of horsemanship. The owners of fast horses, as well as those who take delight in female equestrianism, are expected to be on hand and take part in the exercises. The Committee desire that all entries be made on the first day, so that they may have a fair chance to make a thorough examination of everything brought on the ground.

The Commitee, in closing their address make use of the following language;—It is expected of you that you will show your usual zeal by coming out on those days with your families, and all of the products of your farm that you desire to exhibit. This County Fair will do more to develop the wealth of our County, and stimulate its growth, than is generally supposed. You can well afford to make your arrangements so that you can spend two days for the Agricultural interests of one of the best Counties in this State, and we know you will do it."

Mankato Market Reports.

CORRECTED EVERY THURSDAY BY O. WARD.

MANKATO, Sept. 17, 1863.

WHEAT—50c. ℘ bushel.
RYE—40c
BARLEY—60.
OATS—40@50
CORN—35@40c.
HAY—℘ ton $4@5 00.
TIMOTHY—$2 ℘ bushel.
BEANS—White, ℘ bushel, $1 25.
BUTTER—10c
LARD—8@9c.
SUGAR—12@17c: 16@20c.
TEA—1 25 @1 50. 1 75
COFFEE—33⅓c.
RICE—10c ℘ lb.
SALT—4 50 ℘ barrel.
EGGS—10c ℘ doz.
CANDLES—Tallow, 15c; Sperm, 30c.
MEATS—Beef on foot, 2c. Pork, 5 @6c. Mutton 10@12c Poultry, 10@12c.
POTATOES— 5@40 ℘ bushel.
SIRUP—1 00 ℘ gallon.
WOOD—$2 00 ℘ cord.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SPERMATORRHOEA CAN BE CURED—Dr. Rand's Specific cures Spermatorrhoea, Seminal Weakness Impotency, Loss of Power, &c., speedily and effectually. Its effects are truly magical. A trial of the SPECIFIC will convince the most skeptical of its merits. Price, $1 a box Sent post paid to any address, by S. C. UPMAN, 493 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, Pa. Circular sent free.

DRUNKENNESS CURED—The inebriate may now bid defiance to the tempting cup. DR. ZANE'S ANTIDOTE FOR STRONG DRINK is a certain cure for Drunkenness It creates a dislike for strong drink, and can be administered without the knowledge of the patient. Price $1 a box. Sent by mail to any address, by S C UPMAM, 493 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, Pa Circular sent free.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error actuated by a desire to benefit others will be happy to furnish to all who need it (free of charge) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience—and possess a Valuable Remedy—will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed) by addressing

JOHN B OGDEN,
5-3m No. 60 Nassau Street, New York

☞BEFORE PURCHASING A

Piano or Melodeon,

REMEMBER

W. W. KIMBALL,

142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.,

DEALER IN

PIANOS
AND
MELODEONS!

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake St.
CHICAGO,
DEALER IN
"GOLD PRIZE MEDAL"
PIANOS,
MELODEONS,
SCHOOL ORGANS
AND Harmoniums

PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO'S PIANOS
J & C FISCHER'S "
G A MILLER & CO'S "
WM P EMERSON'S "
J W VOSE'S "
KURTZMAN & HINZE'S "
GROVESTIEN & CO'S "

And other Boston and New York Manufactures.

☞The reputation of the Pianos of the above manufacturers is a sufficient guarantee of their merit; and every instrument sold by me will be

WARRANTED
in all respects to give
SATISFACTION.

MY MELODEONS
are from the best manufacturers, and inferior to none in the market.

An Illustrated Catalogue describing every instrument will be furnished upon application to me by mail, giving the PRICE and STYLES of the instruments.

☞Orders from the country will receive prompt attention Address, before purchasing or looking elsewhere

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.

Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons
Melodeons

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S
SEWING
MACHINES

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office.

F. M Johnson, Agent.
St. Paul, July 17th, 1863 July17-t

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.
OF

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obedience to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune chalenges comparison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance	$1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1 25)	6 00
Ten copies (rate of $1 10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.

One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;

Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,)	$18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,)	35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage executed by Cyrus Foot and Minerva Foot his wife, then of Blue Earth County State of Minnesota, to Ralph A. Loveland, then of Westport, Essex County, New York, dated the 16th day of June, A D, 1858, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Blue Earth, on the 18th day of June, A. D. 1858, in book "B" of mortgages, on page 387, which said mortgage was given to secure the payment of the sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest according to the conditions of four certain promissory notes made by said Cyrus Foot to said Loveland or order, three for six hundred dollars each, payable respectively, on the first days of June in the years 1860, 1861 and 1863, and the other for five hundred and fifty dollars payable on the first day of June, 1862, and drawing interest from date until paid at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable annually on the first days of June each and every year, and all bearing even date with said mortgage, and upon which promissory notes and mortgage there is now claimed to be due, and is at the date of this notice, actually due and unpaid, the said sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest thereon from and after the said 16th day of June, 1858, at the rate of seven per cent per annum; and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured by said promissory notes and mortgage, nor any part thereof, and no part thereof has been collected or paid.

Therefore, by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained, and in conformity with the statutes in such case made and provided, the lands and premises described in and covered by said mortgage, to wit: The north-west quarter of section number (27) twenty seven in township number (107) one hundred and seven, north of range number (28) twenty-eight west, according to the governmental survey and subdivisions of the same, and containing one hundred and sixty acres of land be the same more or less, together with all the appurtenances, and lying and being in the County of Blue Earth and State of Minnesota, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder as the law directs and as authorized by said mortgage, at the front door of the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Blue Earth in Mankato, in said County on the 26th day of September, A D, 1863, at 10 o'clock in the fore noon of that day to satisfy the amount then due on said promissory notes and mortgage together with the taxes which have been paid thereon by the mortgagee, or which shall then be due on said premises, and the costs and expenses allowed by law. Dated at Mankato, August 14th. 1863.

RALPH A. LOVELAND,
Mortgagee.

WILLARD & BARNEY, Attorneys for Mortgagee, Mankato, Minn 6w5

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL POFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES. GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DuBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime.

Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato

F. R. PRAEL. H. DuBUISSON
Mankato, May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRNG AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand

Cash paid for green and dry hides.

Mankato, June 26, 1863.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.

Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
1y Proprietor.

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

***

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,

or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

NEW DRUG STORE!

DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS
SOAPS, PERFUMERY,
AND

FANCY GOODS

PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax,

Stationery,

BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE.

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions accurely put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the

New Drug Store,

JASON WICKERSHAM,
5 Mankato, Minn

Valuable Lands for Sale.

BY direction of the Hon. Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the lands hereinafter described, they being among the choicest and best farming land in Minnesota.

These lands comprise what are known as the Winnebago Trust Lands in the State of Minnesota, and will be sold to the highest and best bidder in tracts not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres each, under the provisions of a treaty concluded with the Winnebago Indians, April 15th, 1859, and an act of Congress, approved February 21st 1863, entitled "An act for the removal of the Winnebago Indians, and for the sale of their Reservation, in Minnesota, for their benefit."

No bid will be entertained at a rate less than two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

In case a bid is accepted, the party making the same will be notified as soon thereafter as practicable. If within thirty days after such notice the party shall fail to make payment to the undersigned, the land for which such bid was made will be subject to sale to any other person.

Patents will be issued and transmitted to purchasers as soon after payment as the same can be prepared. Payments may be made either in cash or in the certificates of indebtedness of the Winnebago Indians, issued by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for the debt of said Indians, and secured to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of said lands by the third article of the treaty above mentioned. The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved. All bids must be sealed and addressed to the undersigned, Washington City, D. C. and endorsed "Bid for Winnebago Tract Land."

"DESCRIPTION OF LANDS."

List of "Winnebago Trust Lands" subject to sale after July 1st, 1863:

SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
Township 106, Range 23
se qr	5
e hf sw qr	6
e hf	7
sw qr	7
	18 19
ne qr	30
sw qr	30
Township 107, Range 23
n hf	6
w hf sw qr	6
w hf nw qr	7
w hf sw qr	7
sw qr	30
n hf	31
w hf sw qr	31
Township 108, Range 23
n frac hf nw qr	31
se frac qr nw qr	31
Township 106, Range 24
	25
	26
	27
	28
	29
	30 31 32 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 24 1
ne qr	3
sw qr	3
n hf	5
	6
ne qr	9
s hf	10
	11
ne qr	12
sw qr	12
nw qr	13
	14
e hf	15
nw qr	17
	1
lots 1, 2 and 3	21
	22
	23
n hf	24
	27
w hf	29
Township 108, Range 24
sw qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
sw qr	34
Township 106, Range 25
	25
	26 27
e hf	28
	30 31 32
e hf	33
	34 35
Township 107, Range 25
e hf	1
nw qr	1
w hf	2
ne qr	2
	13
Township 108, Range 25
se qr	33
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
e hf ne qr	34
w hf nw qr	34
w hf sw qr	34
s frac hf	35
nw qr	35
Township 106, Range 26
	1
	2 3
e hf	9
nw qr	4
ne qr	5
s hf	7
nw q	11
e hf nw qr	12
	18 19
n hf	25
w hf	27
se qr	28
	30 33
w hf	24
Township 107, Range 26
w hf ne qr	3

SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
Township 107, Range 26
w hf	3
w hf se qr	3
se qr	4
	5
e hf	6
s hf nw qr	6
s hf	7
	8 9
nw qr	10
e hf	18
nw qr	18
e hf	19
w hf	20
w hf se qr	20
ne qr	24
sw qr	24
s hf	25
n hf	30
e hf nw qr	31
ne qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
w hf sw qr	32
w hf se qr	32
se se qr	32
se qr	34
sw qr	35
Township 108, Range 26
se ne qr	31
e hf se qr	31
sw se qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
e hf se qr	33
ne qr	34
Township 106, Range 27
se qr	1
s hf	2
se qr	3
ne qr	6
e hf se qr	6
w hf sw qr	6
sw qr	7
e hf	11
sw qr	11
	14
e hf nw qr	15
e hf sw qr	15
w hf	18
ne qr	18
w hf	19
se qr	19
ne qr	20
w hf	21
w hf ne qr	21
se qr	22
e hf nw qr	22
	23 27
e hf	28
Township 107, Range 27
n hf	2
ne qr	3
e hf sw qr	5
ne qr	6
w hf se qr	6
se nw qr	7
ne sw qr	7
nw ne qr	11
se qr	12
e hf nw qr	12
nw nw qr	12
ne qr	13
sw qr	13
e hf nw qr	13
sw nw qr	13
s hf ne qr	14
s hf nw qr	14
nw nw qr	14
sw qr	15
sw qr	17
n hf	18
sw qr	18
se qr	19
nw qr	20
sw qr	21
ne qr	22
se qr	26
nw qr	26
nw qr	28
se qr	29
s hf	31
ne qr	31
nw qr	32
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
Township 108, Range 27
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	31
nw qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
ne qr	32
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 of nw qr	32
se nw qr	32
sw qr	35

Bids will be received as above invited until the 1st of September next at which time all bids then received will be examined and acted upon.

After the first of September next bids will be received for the lands then remaining unsold, and examined and acted upon the expiration of each period of two months.

WILLIAM P. DOLE,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs.
Washington City, D. C., Aug. 4th, 1863.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co's Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co's GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEAGHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plows,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:

Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains. Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

Iam Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Thrashing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER,
Mankato, April 23rd 1863.

NEW LIVERY & Sale Stable,

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.
☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜
☞Charges moderate.☜
D. H. TYNER.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Farmers' Journal.

MANKATO, FRIDAY, SEPT. 18, 1863

Put Flowers on Your Table.

Set flowers on your table—a whole nosegay if you can get it, or but two or three or a single flower; a rose, a pink—nay, a daisy. Bring a few daisies and buttercups from your last field walk, and keep alive in a little water; aye, preserve but a branch of clover, or a handful of flowering grass—one of the most elegant, as well as cheapest, of Nature's productions—and you have something on your table that reminds you of the beauties of God's creation, and gives you a link with the poets and sages that have done it most honor. Put but a rose, or a lily, or a violet, on your table, and you and Lord Bacon have a custom in common; for that great and wise man was in the habit of having flowers in season upon his table—morning, we believe, noon, and night; that is to say, at all his meals, for dinner, in his time, was taken at noon. And why should he not have flowers at all his meals, seeing that they were growing all day? Now here is a fashion that shall last you forever, if you please—never changing with silks, and velvets, and silver forks, nor dependent upon caprice and change to give them importance and a sensation. The fashion of the garments of heaven and earth endures for ever, and you may adorn your tables with specimens of their drapery—with flowers out of the fields, and golden beams out of the blue ether. Flowers on a morning table are specially suitable to the time. They look like the happy wakening of the creation, they bring the perfumes of the breath of Nature into your room; they seem the representative and embodiment of the very smiles of your home, the graces of its good morrow—proof that some intellectual beauty is in ourselves, or those about us, some home Aurora (if we are so lucky as to have such a companion) helping to strew our life with sweets, or in ourselves some masculine mildness not unworthy to possess such a companion, or unlike to gain her.

The Homestead Act.

As there seems to be quite a misunderstanding as to the bearing of the Homestead act upon the rights of pre-emptors under former acts, the following information from the Commissioner of the General Land Office, upon which all the decisions of that office are based, is of importance. When a party has made an actual location by pre-emption or otherwise, in virtue of a bounty land warrant, he cannot lift the land warrant and enter under the homestead act, because having elected to satisfy his claim to a specific tract of land by locating a warrant, he must abide by his own act. A pre-emptor who has filed a declaratory patent, cannot convert his pre-emption into a homestead claim. A proviso in the sixth section of the homestead law of May 20th, 1862, is specific on this point, in declaring that all persons have the right to make the exchange if they have filed their declaratory patents prior to the passage of the act of May 20, 1862. Where the parties have filed since the passage of the law, they have no right to make the exchange, and consequently when any abandons his pre-emption, the land is freely open to the first homestead settler that may apply it.

THE TOMATO.—Dr. Bennett, a Professor of some celebrity, considers the tomato an invaluable article of diet, and ascribes to it very important medical proberties:

1st. That the tomatoe is one of the most powerful aperients of the liver and other organs; where calomel is indicated, it is probably one of the least harmful remedial agents known to the profession.

2d. That a chemical extract will be obtained from it, that will supercede the use of calomel in the cure of disease.

3d. That he has successfully treated diarrhea with this article alone.

4th. That when used as an article of diet, it is almost a sovereign remedy for dyspepsia and indigestion

5th. That it should be constantly used for daily food, either cooked, raw, or in the form of catsup, it is the most healthy article now in use.

Scene in a Street Car.

The following incident is vouched for by a correspondent of the Christian Register:

A daughter of Massachusetts, living in New York, was riding in a crowded street car. An intelligent looking young soldier, suffering from lameness, was standing. This lady kindly offered him her seat, which he politely declined; whereupon a city dame, occupying the next place, gathered up her robes, and scornfully said she thought things had come to a pretty pass, when a New York LADY offered her seat to a MAN especially to a SOLDIER.

"Shame upon you, madam," rejoined our humane friend, "have you no dear ones in the army?"

"No," was the reply, "MY husband should not go."

"Indeed!" was the patriotic answer, "I had rather be a SOLDIER'S widow than a COWARD'S wife."

An outburst of applause greeted the speaker. There was a happy finale to the incident. The lame soldier soon obtained the very next seat to the unfeeling woman who had so insulted him, "Glory to the woman who shows such spirit," adds the writer.

LIST OF PREMIUMS

To be awarded at the Fourth Annual Fair of the Faribault County Agricultural Society to be held at Blue Earth City, on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct 7th and 8th, 1863.

CLASS A—HORSES

Best St llion 4 years old and over, $2 and Diploma
2d best do	$1 00
3d best do	Dip.
Best 3 years old and over	2 00 & Dip.
Best Mare do	1 00
best 2 year old colt	1 00
best 1 do	1 00
best blood mare and colt	2 00
best sucking colt	Dip.
best pair draught horses	1 00
best pair matched horses	1 00
best saddle horse	1 00
best single carriage horse	1 00

JUDGES—C W, Wilson, A. Latimer, and H. T. Stoddard.

CLASS B—CATTLE.

best bull 3 years old and over	2 00
2d best do	1 00
best 2 years do	1 00
best 1 year do	1 00
best cow 3 years do	2 00
2d best do	1 00
best heifer 2 years do	50
best heifer one year do	50
best bull calf	50
best heifer calf	50
best pair working oxen	1 00

JUDGES—Thomas George: J B. Cate, and W. J. C. Robertson.

CLASS C—SHEEP.

best buck	1 00
best ewe	1 00
2d best do	Dip.

JUDGES—James Pratt, Thomas Blair, and S. W. Brown.

CLASS D—SWINE.

best boar	1 00
2d best	50
best sow	1 00
best litter of pigs, 4 or more	1 00

JUDGES—J. H. Dunham, Amos Preston, and E. Rhodes.

CLASS E—POULTRY.

best pair chickens	50
best pair geese	50
best pair turkeys	50

JUDGES—T. J. Jenness, J. S, McCrary, and E. Young.

CLASS F—FARMING IMPLEMENTS.

best breaking plow	1 00
best stirring plow	1 00
best shovel plow	50
best cultivator	50
best harrow	50
best hand roller	50
best corn planter	1 00
best one horse hay rake	50
best ox yoke	1 00
best ax helve	25

JUDGES—P. C. Seely, J. S. Latimer, and George Spickerman.

CLASS G—FARM PRODUCTS.

best ½ bu wheat	50
best do oats	25
best do barley	25
best do rye	25
best sample field corn	25
best sample pop corn	25
best ½ bu timothy seed	25
best specimen red clover	25
best specimen white clover	25
best specimen broom corn	25
best ½ bu potatoes	25
2d best	Dip.
best ½ bu beans	50
best ½ bu peas	50
best specimen carrots	Dip
do beets	Dip
do rutabagas	Dip
do turnips	Dip.
do watermelons	Dip
do musk mellons	Dip.
do apple pie melons	Dip.
do tomatoes	Dip
do ground cherries	Dip

JUDGES—Albin Johnson, Mr. Mount, and S. C. Seaton.

CLASS H—DAIRY AND KITCHEN.

best sample fresh roll butter	50
do pickled butter	50
do cheese	50
do maple sugar	Dip
do syrup	Dip
do sorghum syrup	1 00 & Dip
do sorghum sugar	do
do honey	50
best loaf of wheat bread	25
best loaf of corn bread	25
best pound cake	25
best pie, 2 or more	25
best sample native wine	Dip
do jelly	"
do preserves	"
do vinegar (native)	"
best cured ham	25
best hard soap	Dip
best soft soap

Competitors for premiums in this class must accompany their entries with a recipe for making the articles entered.

JUDGES—A. C Dunn, Mrs. S. W. Brown Mrs E C. Young, Mrs. A. C. Dunn, and Mrs. P. C. Seely.

CLASS I—MECHANICAL DEPARTMENT.

best panel door	1 00
best specimen of cabinet work	50
best specimen of horse shoeing	1 00
best specimen of blacksmith work	50
best post auger	50
best corn broom	50
best pair common boots	1 00
best pair ladies shoes	50
best churn	50
best butter firkin	50

Articles in this class must be manufactured in the county to entitle them to the above premiums.

JUDGES—G. B. Kingsley, Uri Hill, and George Hart.

CLASS J—DOMESTIC MANUFACTURES,

best straw hat	Dip
2d best	"
best pair woolen mittens	"
best pair woolen stockings	"
best pair woolen socks	"
best pair fancy knit hose	"
best specimen of embroidery	"
best specimen of crotchet work	"
best made shirt	"
best made suit men's clothing	"
best made bonnet	"
best made bed quilt	"
best made rag carpet	"

JUDGES—G B. Kingsley, Mrs. H. J. Neal. Mrs. G. H Goodnow, Mrs. Albin Johnson. Mrs. Wm. Dustin, and Mrs. B. Chute.

CLASS K—FLORAL DEPARTMENT.

best collection tame flowers	Dip.
best collection wild flowers	"
best collection artificial flowers	"

JUDGES—Miss Caroline Vanice, Miss Pratt, Miss Mount, Miss A. Sumner, and Miss V. Weir.

CLASS L—EQUESTRIANISM.

best exhibition lady's horsemanship $2 00 & Dip.
2d best	1 00 & Dip
3d best	50 & Dip.
4th best	50 & Dip

JUDGES—J. S. Weir, J. C. Howland, and D. S. Law.

Exhibition open to all persons, whether citizens of this or any other county.

Members who have paid their yearly dues can exhibit their property and produce free of charge. Those that are not members must pay the amount of the premiums on the articles they exhibit.

Articles entered by persons living out of the county of Faribault, will only be entitled to diplomas

Winnebago City, Sept. 7th, 1863.

J. A LATIMER,
President Faribault Co. Ag'l Society.

Flour for Sale.

THE undersigned has FIFTY Barrels of Fine Flour for sale at $3 50 per barrel
7 JOHN N. HALL.

Notice.

AS I have been regularly authorized by F. M Gunning, surviving partner of the late firm of "Hensley & Gunning," to settle up the business matters of said firm, all persons indebted to them are requested and advised to make immediate payment to me, or, during my temporary absence from town, to C. H. Slocum, editor and proprietor of the UNION. E. P. FREEMAN.

☞BEFORE PURCHASING A

Piano or Melodeon,

REMEMBER

W. W. KIMBALL,

142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.,

DEALER IN

PIANOS PIANOS
AND PIANOS MELODEONS!

PIANOS W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake St.
CHICAGO,
PIANOS DEALER IN
"GOLD PRIZE MEDAL"
PIANOS PIANOS,
MELODEONS,
SCHOOL ORGANS
PIANOS AND Harmoniums

PIANOS

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO'S	PIANOS
J & C FISCHER'S	"
G A. MILLER & CO'S	"
WM P EMERSON'S	"
J. W. VOSE'S	"
KURTZMAN & HINZE'S	"
GROVESTEEN & CO'S	"

And other Boston and New York Manufactures.

Melodeons. ☞The reputation of the Pianos of the above manufacturers is a sufficient guarantee of their merit; and every instrument sold by me will be

Melodeons. WARRANTED in all respects to give Melodeons. SATISFACTION.

Melodeons. MY MELODEONS are from the best manufacturers, and inferior to none in the market.

Melodeons. An Illustrated Catalogue describing every instrument, will be furnished upon application to me by mail, giving the PRICE and STYLES of the instruments.

Melodeons. ☞Orders from the country will receive prompt attention

Melodeons Address, before purchasing or looking elsewhere

W. W. KIMBALL,
7 142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS, on the twenty-third day of January, A. D., 1860, John C. Jones, of Blue Earth County mortgaged to Edward R. Parry and Richard R Parry, the north half of the north-east quarter, and the south-east quarter of the north-east quarter of section twenty-eight, and the south west quarter of the north west quarter of section twenty-seven, all in township one hundred and nine north of range twenty-nine west, in Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, to secure the payment of one hundred and eighty seven dollars and sixty-five cents and interest in six months from date; and said mortgage was duly recorded in book "D" of mortgages, on pages 117 and 118 in the Register's office in said County on the 23d day of January, A D, 1860, and, whereas the whole mortgage debt, is past due, and but seventy-five dollars has been paid of the principal and interest, and the amount now due thereon is one hundred and sixty-five dollars, and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured, Now notice is hereby given to all whom it may concern, that if the said debt is not paid before that time, the following portion of said mortgaged land, to wit. The east half of the north east quarter of section twenty-eight, and the south-west quarter of the north west quarter of section twenty seven (27) all in township one hundred and nine north of range twenty-nine west, will be sold at public auction between the hours of 9 o'clock, A. M., and the setting of the sun, on the 13th day of October, A. D, 1863, at the office of the Register of Deeds in said County, by the sheriff of said county to satisfy said mortgage and costs, in pursuance of the power of sale attached to said mortgage Mankato Aug 28th 1863.

EDWARD R P RRY, } Mortgagees
RICHARD R. PARRY }
FINCH & FITCHER, Attys for Mortgagees. 7

SINGER & CO'S.
Letter "A" Sewing Machine.

WITH ALL THE IMPROVEMENTS.

Is the best and cheapest and most beautiful of all Sewing Machines. This Machine will sew anything, from the running of a tuck in Tarlton to the making of an Overcoat—anything from Pilot or Beaver Cloth down to the softest Gauze or Gossamer Tissue, and is ever ready to do its work to perfection. It can fell, hem, bind, gather, tuck, quilt, and has capacity for a great variety of ornamental work. This is not the only Machine that can fell, hem, bind, and so forth, but it will do so better than any other Machine. The Letter "A" Family Sewing Machine may be had in a great variety of cabinet cases The Folding Case, which is now becoming so popular, is, as its name implies, one that can be folded into a box or case, which, when opened makes a beautiful, substantial, and capacious table for the work to rest upon. The cases are of every imaginable design—plain as the wood grew in its native forest, or as elaborately finished as art can make them. The Branch Offices are well supplied with silk, twist thread, needles, oil, etc., of the very best quality,

I. M. SINGER & CO.,
458 Broadway, N. Y
Milwaukee Office, 17 Marshall House
D. WILCOX Agent Mankato, Minn.

WANTED!
FIVE HUNDRED LABORERS

TO WORK ON THE

Minneapolis, Faribault, & Cedar Valley R. R.

THE Subscriber will pay in Cash, the highest price for laborers. Payments made on the 15th of each month. Work will be continued through the winter. Agents can be found at Minneapolis, Mendota, Northfield and Faribault. D J. CAMMERON.
Mendota, August 5, 1863. 5

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S
SEWING
MACHINES

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the Wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office. F. M. Johnson, Agent.
St. Paul, July 17th, 1863 July17-t

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.
OF

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obedience to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all 'Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper The Tribune chalenges competition with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1 25)	6 00
Ten copies (rate of $1 10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.
One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.
One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;

Clubs of five, (rate of $3 61,)	$18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50)	35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address
TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, executed by Cyrus Foot and Minerva Foot his wife, then of Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, to Ralph A. Loveland, then of Westport, Essex County, New York, dated the 16th day of June, A. D, 1858, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Blue Earth, on the 18th day of June, A. D, 1858, in book "B" of mortgages, on page 387, which said mortgage was given to secure the payment of the sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest according to the conditions of four certain promissory notes made by said Cyrus Foot to said Loveland or order three for six hundred dollars each, payable respectively on the first days of June in the years 1860 1861 and 1863, and the other for five hundred and fifty dollars payable on the first day of June, 1862, and drawing interest from date until paid at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, payable annually on the first days of June each and every year, and all bearing even date with said mortgage, and upon which promissory notes and mortgage there is now claimed to be due, and is at the date of this notice, actually due and unpaid, the said sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2,50 00) and interest thereon from and after the said 16th day of June, 1858, at the rate of seven per cent. per annum; and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured by said promissory notes and mortgage, nor any part thereof, and no part thereof has been collected or paid.

Therefore, by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained, and in conformity with the statutes in such case made and provided, the lands and premises described in and covered by said mortgage, to wit: The north-west quarter of section number (27) twenty seven in township number (107) one hundred and seven, north of range number (28) twenty-eight west, according to the governmental survey and subdivisions of the same, and containing one hundred and sixty acres of land be the same more or less, together with all the appurtenances, and lying and being in the County of Blue Earth and State of Minnesota, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder as the law directs and as authorized by said mortgage, at the front door of the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Blue Earth in Mankato, in said County, on the 26th day of September, A. D, 1863, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day to satisfy the amount then due on said promissory notes and mortgage together with the taxes which have been paid thereon by the mortgagee, or which shall then be due on said premises, and the costs and expenses allowed by law. Dated at Mankato, August 14th, 1863.

RALPH A. LOVELAND,
Mortgagee.
WILLARD & BARNEY, Attorneys for Mortgagee, Mankato, Minn 6w5

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL POFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.
Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DuBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, P. Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J S. Little's Lime. Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.
F. R. PRAEL. H. DeBUISSON
Mankato, May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line All kinds of

REPAIRING AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand

Cash paid for green and dry hides.
Mankato, June 26, 1863.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.
On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.

Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
1y Proprietor.

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

——

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by
J. R. TINKCOM.
Pure Wines,
or Medicinal purposes.
Strychnine always on Hand.
Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

NEW DRUG STORE!

DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS
SOAPS, PERFUMERY,
AND

FANCY GOODS

PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax,

Stationery,
BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE.

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions accurely put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the

New Drug Store,

JASON WICKERSHAM,
5 Mankato, Minn

Valuable Lands for Sale.

BY direction of the Hon Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the lands hereinafter described, they being among the choicest and best farming land in Minnesota.

These lands comprise what are known as the Winnebago Trust Lands in the State of Minnesota, and will be sold to the highest and best bidder in tracts not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres each, under the provisions of a treaty concluded with the Winnebago Indians, April 15th, 1859, and an act of Congress, approved February 21st 1863, entitled "An act for the removal of the Winnebago Indians, and for the sale of their Reservation, in Minnesota, for their benefit"

No bid will be entertained at a rate less than two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

In case a bid is accepted, the party making the same will be notified as soon thereafter as practicable. If within thirty days after such notice the party shall fail to make payment to the undersigned, the land for which such bid was made will be subject to sale to any other person.

Patents will be issued and transmitted to purchasers as soon after payment as the same can be prepared Payments may be made either in cash or in the certificates of indebtedness of the Winnebago Indians, issued by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for the debt of said Indians, and secured to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of said lands by the third article of the treaty above mentioned. The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved. All bids must be sealed and addressed to the undersigned, Washington City, D C. and endorsed "Bid for Winnebago Tract Land"

"DESCRIPTION OF LANDS."

List of "Winnebago Trust Lands" subject to sale after July 1st, 1863:

SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
Township 106, Range 23
se qr	5
e hf sw qr	6
e hf	7
sw qr	7
	18 19
ne qr	30
sw qr	30
Township 107, Range 23
n hf	6
w hf sw qr	6
w hf nw qr	7
w hf sw qr	7
sw qr	30
n hf	31
w hf sw qr	31
Township 108, Range 23
n frac hf nw qr	31
se frac qr nw qr	31
Township 106, Range 24
	25
	26
	27
	28
	29
	30 31 32 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 24
	1
ne qr	3
sw qr	3
n hf	5
	6
ne qr	9
s hf	10
	11
ne qr	12
sw qr	12
nw qr	13
	14
e hf	15
nw qr	17
	1
lots 1, 2 and 3	21
	22
	2
n hf	24
	27
w hf	29
Township 108, Range 24
sw qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
sw qr	34
Township 106, Range 25
	25
	26 27
e hf	28
	30 31 32
e hf	33
	34 35
Township 107, Range 25
e hf	1
nw qr	1
w hf	2
ne qr	2
	15
Township 108, Range 25
se qr	33
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
e hf ne qr	34
w hf nw qr	34
w hf sw qr	34
e frac hf	35
nw qr	35
Township 106, Range 26
	1
	2 3
e hf	9
nw qr	4
ne qr	5
s hf	7
nw q	11
e hf nw qr	12
	18 19
n hf	25
w hf	27
se qr	28
	30 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 26
w hf ne qr	3

SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
Township 107, Range 26
w hf	3
w hf se qr	3
se qr	4
	5
e hf	6
s hf nw qr	6
s hf	7
	8 9
nw qr	10
e hf	18
nw qr	18
e hf	19
w hf	20
w hf se qr	21
ne qr	24
sw qr	24
s hf	25
n hf	30
e hf nw qr	31
ne qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
w hf sw qr	32
w hf se qr	32
se se qr	32
se qr	34
sw qr	35
Township 108, Range 26
se ne qr	31
e hf se qr	31
sw se qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
e hf se qr	33
ne qr	34
Township 106, Range 27
se qr	1
s hf	2
se qr	3
ne qr	6
e hf se qr	6
w hf sw qr	6
sw qr	7
e hf	11
sw qr	11
	14
e hf nw qr	15
e hf sw qr	15
w hf	18
ne qr	18
w hf	19
se qr	19
ne qr	20
w hf	21
w hf ne qr	21
se qr	22
e hf nw qr	22
	23 27
e hf	28
Township 107, Range 27
n hf	2
ne qr	3
e hf sw qr	5
ne qr	6
w hf se qr	6
se nw qr	7
ne sw qr	7
nw ne qr	11
se qr	12
e hf nw qr	12
nw nw qr	12
ne qr	13
sw qr	13
e hf nw qr	13
sw nw qr	13
s hf ne qr	14
s hf nw qr	14
nw nw qr	14
sw qr	15
sw qr	17
n hf	18
sw qr	18
se qr	19
nw qr	20
sw qr	21
ne qr	22
se qr	26
nw qr	26
nw qr	28
se qr	29
s hf	31
ne qr	31
nw qr	32
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
Township 108, Range 27
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	31
nw qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
ne qr	32
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 of nw qr	32
se nw qr	32
sw qr	35

Bids will be received as above invited until the 1st of September next at which time all bids then received will be examined and acted upon.

After the first of September next bids will be received for the lands then remaining unsold, and examined and acted upon the expiration of each period of two months.

WILLIAM P. DOLE,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs.
Washington City, D. C., Aug. 4th, 1863,

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co.'s GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEAGHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,
Iron, Plows,
Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE.

FRONT ST. . . . MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF
AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,
from a HOE to a
THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:
Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains, Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

Iam Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER,
Mankato, April 23rd 1863.

NEW LIVERY & Sale Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages.

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.
☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜
☞Charges moderate.☜
D. H. TYNER.

The Mankato Weekly Union.

CHARLES H. SLOCUM. "LIBERTY AND UNION, NOW AND FOREVER, ONE AND INSEPARABLE." Editor and Proprietor.

VOLUME 1. MANKATO, BLUE EARTH COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 25, 1863. NUMBER 11.

THE WEEKLY UNION,

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

CHARLES H. SLOCUM.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One Dollar and Fifty Cents per Year.

☞ All subscriptions paid in advance. ☜

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

1 square	1 week	$1 00	2 squares	6 months	9 00
1 "	2 weeks	1 50	2 "	1 year	15 00
1 "	3 "	1 75	3 "	1 week	2 25
1 "	4 "	2 00	3 "	2 "	3 00
1 "	5 "	2 25	3 "	3 "	4 00
1 "	6 "	2 50	3 "	4 "	5 00
1 "	7 "	2 75	3 "	3 months	9 00
1 "	2 months	3 00	3 "	6 "	12 00
1 "	3 "	3 75	3 "	1 year	20 00
1 "	4 "	4 50	¼ col	6 months	15 00
1 "	5 "	5 25	¼ "	1 year	25 00
1 "	6 "	6 00	⅓ "	6 months	18 00
1 "	1 year	10 00	⅓ "	1 year	30 00
2 "	1 week	1 75	½ "	6 months	25 00
2 "	2 "	2 50	½ "	1 year	40 00
2 "	3 "	3 00	¾ "	1 year	50 00
2 "	4 "	4 00	1 "	1 year	70 00
2 "	3 months	6 00

Business cards of five lines or less, $5.

Transient advertisements must be paid in advance—all others quarterly.

BUSINESS CARDS.

EVERETT P. FREEMAN.
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW.

OFFICE.—Next door south of the Post Office, MANKATO. - - - - - MINN.

Prompt attention given to claims to be prosecuted before the State Board of Auditors and to Court and Office business. Collections made and conveyancing done on reasonable terms.

MANKATO INS. AGENCY.

HARTFORD.

PHOENIX.

MERCHANTS—FIRE INS. CO'S.

CHARTER OAK LIFE INS. CO.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid by

JOHN N. HALL,
Resident Agent.

O. P. LIEBERG,

FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER.—Having opened a Barber Shop with a view to establishing a permanent business in Mankato, I am prepared to wait upon gentlemen, and will guarantee satisfaction in every department of my business.
June 26, 1863.

G. A. STURGES. M. D.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
MANKATO, MINN.

OFFICE:—At his residence second door above the Mankato House.

Z. PADDOCK,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law, and General Land Agent. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to him. Mankato, Blue Earth Co., Minn.

FRED'K HILDEBRANDT,

Manufacturer of and Dealer in all kinds of
FURNITURE & GILT MOULDING.
ALSO,
Imitation of Rosewood Mouldings, Ovals, Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames.
Ware Rooms in Schurmeier's Block, Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minn.

M. ZENOPOLSKI, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.

OFFICE:—Opposite the Clifton House.

DAVID WILCOX.
JUDGE OF PROBATE,
& ATT'Y AT LAW,
MANKATO - - - - - - MINN.

WM. R. McMAHAN, M. D.

Office and Residence at his old stand, on the corner of Hickory and Second streets, one block back of the Mankato House, where he will be found at all times, except when professionally absent.
He will furnish and compound his own medicines.

EDWARD OGLESBY.

Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hawley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work in his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October.

S. FINCH, O. O. PITCHER.
FINCH & PITCHER.
Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,
MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA.

MANKATO NURSERY:

THE Proprietor has for sale a choice collection of
Fruit Trees,
Comprising Apple, Pear, Cherry, Plum, and Quince Trees. Also a good assortment of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants, Raspberries, Strawberries, and Pie Plant; together with
ORNAMENTAL TREES
Shrubs, Evergreens, Flowering Plants, &c.
ROB'T GOODYEAR,
Mankato, Sept. 1861.

FAIRBANKS'
STANDARD
SCALES.
OF ALL KINDS.
FAIRBANKS, GREENLEAF & CO.,
172 LAKE STREET, CHICAGO.
☞ BUY ONLY THE GENUINE.

SOUTH BEND MILLS.

BIERBAUER & ROCKEY,

HAVING purchased the above mills, are prepared to manufacture all grades of FLOUR, CORN MEAL, ETC.

Wheat will be ground for every sixth bushel in quantities not less than ten bushels.

☞ Flour and mill stuffs always on hand at market prices. Feb 6–3m

Select Miscellany.

FILIAL WORTH REWARDED.

> "My tale is simple and of humble birth,
> A tribute of respect to real worth."

"You are too parsimonious Henry," said Mr. D—— to one of his clerks, as they were together in the counting house one morning: "give me leave to say that you do not dress sufficiently genteel to appear as a clerk in a fashionable store."

Henry's face was suffused with a deep blush, and a tear trembled on his manly cheek.

"Did I not know that your salary was sufficient to provide more genteel habiliments," continued Mr. D., "I would increase it."

"My salary is sufficient, amply sufficient, sir," replied Henry, in a voice choked with that proud independence of feeling which poverty had not been able to divest him of. His employer noticed the agitation, and immediately changed the subject.

Mr. D. was a man of immense wealth and ample benevolence. he was a widower, and had but one child—a daughter—who was the pride of his declining years. She was not as beautiful as an angel, or as perfect as Venus: but the goodness, the innocence, the intelligence of her mind shone in her countenance, and you had but to become acquainted with her, to admire and love her. Such was Caroline Delaney when Henry became an inmate of her father's abode.

No wonder that he loved her with that deep and devoted affection—and readers had you known him you would not have wondered that that love was soon returned, for their souls were congenial: they were cast in virtue's purest mould—and although their tongues never gave utterance to what they felt yet the language of their eyes told too plainly to be mistaken. Henry was the very soul of honor, and although he perceived that he was not indifferent to Caroline, he still felt that he must conquer at once the passion that glowed in his bosom. "I must not endeavor to win her young and artless heart," thought he, "I am penniless, and cannot expect that her father would ever consent to her union with me—he has treated me with kindness, and I will not be ungrateful." Thus he reasoned, and he heroically endeavored to subdue what he considered an ill-fated passion. Caroline had many suitors, and some who were fully worthy of her; but she refused all their overtures with a gentle but decisive firmness. Her father wondered at her conduct, yet would not thwart her inclinations.

He was in the decline of life, and wished to see her happily settled before he quitted the stage of existence. It was not long ere he suspected that Henry was the cause of her indifference to others; the evident pleasure she took in hearing him praised, the blush that overspread her cheek whenever their eyes met, all served to convince the old gentleman, who had not forgotten that he was once young himself, that they took more than a common interest in each others welfare.

Thus satisfied, he forebore making any remarks upon the subject; but he was not as displeased at the supposition as the penniless Henry would have imagined.

Henry had now been about a year in his employ. Mr. Delaney knew nothing of his family, but his strict integrity, his irreproachable morals, his pleasing manners, all conspired to make him esteem him highly He was proud of Henry, and wished him to appear in dress as well as manners, as respectable as any one. He had often wondered at the scantiness of his wardrobe, for although he dressed with the most scrupulous regard to neatness, his clothes were almost threadbare. Mr. Delaney did not think that this proceeded from a niggardly disposition, and he determined to broach the subject, and if possible, ascertain the real cause; this he did in the manner we have related.

Soon after this conversation took place, Mr. Delaney left home on business. As he was returning, and riding through a beautiful village, he alighted at the door of a cottage and requested a drink. The mistress, with an ease and politeness which convinced him that she had not always been the humble cottager, invited him to walk in. He accepted her invitation—and here a scene of poverty and neatness presented itself, such as he had never before witnessed. The furniture, which consisted of no more than was absolutely necessary, was so exquisitely clean, that it gave charms to poverty, and cast an air of comfort all around. A venerable looking old man, who had not seemed to notice the entrance of Mr. D., sat leaning on his staff; his clothes were clean and whole, but so patched that you could have scarcely told which had been the original piece "That is your father, I presume," said Mr. D., addressing the lady.

"It is, sir."

"He seems to be quite aged."

"He is in his eighty-third year, and has survived all his children except myself."

"You have seen better days."

"I have; my husband was wealthy, but false friends have ruined him: he endorsed notes to a great amount, which stripped us of nearly all our property, and one misfortune followed another until we were reduced to poverty. My husband did not long survive his losses, and two of his children soon followed him."

"Have you any remaining children?"

"I have one who is my only support. My health is so feeble that I cannot do much, and my father, being blind needs great attention. My son conceals from me the amount of his salary,—but I am convinced that he sends me nearly all, if not the whole amount of it."

"Then he is not at home with you."

"No, sir; he is a clerk for a wealthy merchant in Philadelphia."

"Pray, what is your son's name?"

"Henry W——."

"Henry W——!" exclaimed Mr. Delaney, "why he is my clerk! I left him at my house not a fortnight since."

Here followed a succession of inquiries which evinced an anxiety and a solicitude that a mother only could feel,—to all of which Mr. Delaney, replied to her perfect satisfaction.

"You know our Henry," said the old man, raising his head from his staff, "well, sir, then you know as worthy a lad as ever lived. God bless him. He will bless him for his goodness to his poor old grandfather," he added in a tremulous voice, while the tears chased each other down his cheeks.

"He is a worthy fellow, to be sure," said Mr. D., rising and placing a well filled purse in the hand of the old man. "He is a worthy young man, and shall not want friends, be assured."

He left the cottage.

'Noble boy,' said he mentally, as he was riding leisurely along, ruminating on his interview, "noble boy, he shall not want wealth to enable him to distribute happiness. I believe he loves my girl, and if he does he shall have her, and all my property in the bargain."

Filled with this project, and determined if possible, to ascertain the true state of their hearts, he entered the breakfast room the next morning after his arrival home. Caroline was alone.

"So Henry is about to leave us to go to England and try his fortune," he carelessly observed.

"Henry about to leave us!" said Caroline, dropping the work she held in her hand, "about to leave us, and going to England!" she added, in a tone that evinced the deepest interest.

"To be sure; but what if he is, my child?"

"Nothing, sir, nothing—only I thought we should be very lonely," she replied, turning away to hide the tears she could not suppress.

"Tell me, Caroline," said Mr. D., tenderly embracing her, 'tell me do you not love Henry? You know I wish your happiness, my child. I have ever treated you with kindness, and you have never until now, hid anything from your father;"

"Neither will I now," she replied, hiding her face in his bosom. "I do most sincerely esteem him, but do not for the world tell him so, he has never said it was returned."

The daughter was left alone.

"Henry," said he, entering the counting house, "you expect to visit the country shortly do you—I believe you so told me."

"Yes, sir, in about four weeks."

"If it would not be too inconvenient," rejoined Mr. D., "I should like to defer it a week or two longer, at the least."

"It will be no inconvenience, sir; and if it would oblige you, I will do so with pleasure."

"It will most certainly oblige me, for Caroline is to be married in about six weeks, and I would not miss having you attend the wedding."

"I cannot stay sir—indeed I cannot!" replied Henry, forgetting what he had previously said.

"You cannot stay?" replied Mr. D., "why you said just now that you could."

"Yes, sir, but business requires my attention in the country, and I must go."

"But you said that it would not put you to any inconvenience, and that you would wait with pleasure."

"Command me in anything else, sir; but in that request I cannot oblige you," said Henry, rising and walking the room with a rapid stride.

Poor fellow; he had thought his passion subdued; but when he found that Caroline was so soon, so irrevocably to become another's, the latent spark burst forth into an inextinguishable flame, and he found it in vain to attempt to conceal his emotion.

The old gentleman regarded him with a look of earnestness—

"Henry, tell me frankly, do you love my girl?"

"I will be candid with you, sir,' replied Henry, unconscious that his agitation had betrayed him. Had I a fortune such as she merits, and as you, sir, have a right to expect, I should esteem myself the happiest of men could I gain her love.

Then she is yours, cried the delighted old man, say not a word about property, my boy, true worth is better than riches. I was only trying you, Henry,—and Caroline will never be married to any one but yourself.

The transition from despair to happiness was great. For a moment Henry remained silent; but his looks spoke volumes; at length he said:

I scorn to deceive you sir—I am poorer than you suppose—I have a feeble mother and an aged grandfather who are——,

I know it. I know it all, Henry, said Mr. D., interrupting him. I know the reason of your parsimony, as I called it, and I honor you for it—it was that which first put into my head to give you my Caroline—so she shall be yours, and may God bless you both.

They separated.

Shortly after this conversation, Henry avowed his love to Caroline and solicited her hand, and it is needless to say that he did not solicit in vain. Caroline would have deferred their union until the ensuing spring; but her father was inexorable. He supposed he would have to own a falsehood, he said, and they would willingly have him shoulder two; but it was too much—entirely too much—as he had told Henry, we shall have to defer it after all, for you have important business in the country about that time.

Be merciful, sir, said Henry, smiling, I did not wish to witness the sacrifice of my own happiness.

I am merciful, sir, and for that reason would not wish to put you to the inconvenience of staying. You said you would willingly oblige me, but you could not, indeed you could not!

You were once young, sir, said Henry.

I know it. I know it, replied he laughing heartily; but I am afraid too many of the old folks forget it—however, if you can postpone your journey, I suppose we must have a wedding.

We have only to add that the friends of Henry were sent for, and that the nuptials were solemnized at the appointed time, and that, blessed with the filial love of Henry and Caroline, the old people passed the remainder of their days in peace and happiness, Wildwood Scenes.

Beautiful wild woods! Pleasant retreat where I've passed some of the brightest, happiest hours of my life. Why, Fate, hast thou forced me from them? Why hast thou pressed to my lips the cup of gall, forcing me to drink from its contents even to embitter my whole life, rather than let me quaff from the cup of joy and love? The happiest hours of my life have been those passed with some dear friend away from the busy whirl of life, in some sequestered nook and quiet shade, where the fond dreams and bright hopes of my soul could be breathed forth to the responsive tones of a heart congenial with my own.

Dost wonder, reader, why the sight of a moss-covered stone, close to the limpid waters of some babbling brook, will make my heart so wildly bound, and cause the starting tear to dim my eye? 'Tis because it carries me back to a beautiful grove on the banks of the majestic Hudson, to the side of one upon whose brow was stamped the seal of true nobility, aye, all which the fondest wish or wildest dream of woman's love could picture.

A few short hours we passed together 'neath the shade of those old trees ere we parted, perhaps forever! Why did we ever meet, while between us rolled the waves so dark and cold which parted? Was it to try the strength of one and the principle of the other—to see if we could be lured from the path of duty? God only knows; but his grace and power upheld us, teaching us our duty, and, by his constantly assisting grace we will tread the narrow path marked down for us, although blindly we may have to grope our way over steep rocks and tangled underbrush, with blistering feet and aching hearts. But, no. We will not falter, knowing a Saviour's hand will be stretched forth to our support ere we shall sink beneath our burdens.

Never shall I pass that loved spot but my thoughts will go back to those brief hours of wild sweet joy which are flown forever. And dost thou ever think of them, dear friend and brother? Do your thoughts ever revert back to that sweet dream of happiness? And, shall we ever meet again otherwise than in the passing throng? Shall I ever again rest me against thy manly breast so closely as to feel every throbbing pulsation of thy heart? Hope would whisper yes, while reason tells me no.

And is it hard to ever wear a smiling lip and cheerful look before the world, while within exists a weary aching heart? God only knows how hard it is to bear this hidden secret, yet, in such hours, when heart and nature would rebel against the dictates of duty and reason, I cast myself upon the One powerful to save, and, in answer to my prayer, receive new strength from heaven to battle with the stern conflicts of life, trusting that God will remove the blight of my existence in his own good time.

Horrible Treatment of Union Prisoners in Richmond.

An inmate of Castle Thunder, the rebel prison for loyal Southerners and Northern civilians at Richmond, sends by a released prisoner a loud complaint of the barbarities which he and his fellow victims are made to endure. The writer says:

"There are now imprisoned here about one hundred and forty citizens of the loyal States. A majority of them have been incarcerated in this and other prisons for a long period; several of them for upwards of two years, and many for more than eighteen months. The indignities, outrages and privations we have had to suffer, can only be understood and appreciated by being witnessed. Barbarians seldom impose on prisoners treatment more inhuman than we suffer. Our only fare consists of scanty rations of bread and meat. The bread dealt out to each person every day is insufficient for a hearty man a single meal. The meat is equally stinted; but its quality is more faulty still. Occasionally, but seldom, we will have for two or three consecutive days wholesome beef; but generally we get nothing but horse and mule meat. Always after a cavalry fight our meat rations are more liberal. This is no exaggeration. We are not mistaken. It requires no skillful anatomist to distinguish between the bones of a beef and the bones of a horse or mule, as it requires no epicures to distinguish between the flesh of these animals. We have preserved many specimens of these bones, intending, if the Union army ever releases us from this God-forsaken place, to exhibit them in the North. If released by the rebels themselves we would venture to bring no bones with us but those of our own. As a gentleman who has suffered a protracted confinement was about leaving the prison for a flag of truce, some two months ago, samples of these bones were found in his carpet bag, when Captain Alexander vowed he would give him a bone to pick, and sent him back to his room where he still remains, charged with attempting to carry contraband information to the enemy.

Three times since the first of January we have received, as a change, bacon with bread; but it was in so nauseating and noxious a condition that few eat it, and those who did so were immediately thrown into fits of retching and vomiting.

The effect of this diet is very pernicious. Fully half of the prisoners are victims of scurvy, liver and bilious complaints. The only medicine the doctors have to administer for these disorders are salts and sulphur. The small-pox has broken out in the castle, especially in the apartment of the Union men. Little or no pains are taken by the officers of the prison to prevent the disease from spreading. Persons upon whom the disorder has broken out are allowed to remain a whole day and night among the other prisoners before being removed to the hospital, and convalescents, or rather patients a quarter cured, are returned to their rooms and companions with scabs upon their faces and in the same apparel worn by them during their sickness. If a single person escapes an attack of this disease it will be surprising.

We stand in constant dread of the caprices and cruelties of the commandant. Nearly every week some new restriction is imposed, some fresh tyranny inflicted. At least once a week he assembles his officers, clerks and detectives, with such friends as they see fit to introduce, in the officer's dining room, for a drunken carousal. Here the whole night is spent in drinking, gambling, &c., in which the women are allowed to participate, We are enabled to witness these debaucheries through the partitions between the rooms and through a small latticework near the ceiling. After each of these bacchanalian revels, if the captain has been successful, he is all smiles and liberality, if he has been, on the other hand, unfortunate—which it is usually his luck to be—he is profane and brutal as a pirate, and orders half a dozen niggers flogged, and twice as many prisoners tied up by the thumbs, or bucked and gagged, and manages, in the course of a few hours, to outrage every inmate of the castle."

SINCE the war began the New-York Tribune composing-room, alone, has been represented in the army by twenty-nine men who were employed at the case, setting type, previous to their enlistment. Since September 1st, 1862, the Tribune has been paying four dollars a week to the families of its compositors who are in the Union army. This is practical patriotism.

A Thought.

There are moments that come but seldom in life—once, twice, thrice, perhaps—when we stand revealed to ourselves. The key of destiny seems within our nerveless grasp, our fingers are closing upon it, and we seem compelled, by some strong, invisible agent, to unlock and enter the unknown region just before us, but, hidden from our wistful gaze. We have come through life so far; sometimes its pelting storms, its beating winds, have well-nigh made us shipwreck; then, again, its spring of soft indulgence, its summer of delicious and melting sunshine have borne down upon our steps, so that we were weak and weary, yet we are here at another point all untried, unknown; what shall we do? to stand idle we cannot; to retrace our steps we dare not; for night has closed in upon our past. Shall we venture the unknown? O God! thou alone must be our guide. We look not at the yawning chasms under our feet, nor heed the biting cold, or darkness of the night. Our souls are nerved with a high resolve, we trust our way with thee, O God! we place our trembling hand in thine, and our step is firm; we press on; it is well with us.

How to dry Sweet Corn.

When the corn is in good condition for eating, the grain being fully grown, boil a quantity of ears just enough to cook the starch, and then shell or cut off the grains and spread them in the sun till dried. The best way to dry the corn is to nail a piece of cloth of very open texture on a frame, which, if two feet wide and five feet long, will be of convenient size to handle. If the corn is spread thinly upon thin cloth, it will dry quickly without souring. It should be covered with a piece of mosquito netting to keep off the flies. Another person gives the following directions for drying sweet corn:—"As soon as the corn is fit for the table, husk and spread the ears in an open oven, or some quickly drying place. When the grains loosen shell the corn, or shell as soon as you can. Then spread upon a cloth to dry in the sun, or on a paper in a warm oven; stir often, that it may dry quickly and not overheat. It more resembles the undried by its being whole, is sweeter, and retains more of its natural flavor by drying faster. When wholly dried expose it to the wind by turning it slowly from dish to dish—the wind blows off all the troublesome white chaff."—Exchange.

A Bible Lesson.

A learned pedagogue at Nantucket used every morning to read passages in the Bible, and expounded the same as he proceeded, in order that he might, by asking questions as to what they remembered of his comments, ascertain who were the bright boys of the school. On one occasion he read from the book of Job thus:

"There was a man in the land of Uz, and his name was Job, who feared God and eschewed evil. Eschewed evil, that is, eschewed evil as I do tobacco—he would have nothing to do with it."

With this very clear and forcible elucidation of the word "eschew," he proceeded, and a number of verses were commented on in a similar clear and intelligent manner.

After a long interval, when the young mind had had time to digest its food, the pedagogue called upon one of the youngest boys, and the following dialogue ensued:

"Who was the man that lived in Uz?" inquired the schoolmaster.

"Job."

"Was he a good man?"

"Yes."

"What did he do?"

"He chewed tobacco when nobody else would have any thing to do with it," was the answer.

The boy was permitted to take his seat.

"WHAT A 'FIX.'"—At the late democratic convention, a fellow whom we will call A. was very anxious to be nominated for lieut. governor on the copperhead ticket. So he went around to his next friend, B., when the following conversation took place:

"Now B., I've got a d—n good show for the nomination of lieut. governor, and I want all my old friends to go in for me. I hope you'll do your best."

"I did not know you were a candidate," said B., scratching his head and looking amazed.

"Yes, I am," said A. "now go in big." Here B.'s eyes were fixed on vacancy, and he looked very solemn. At length A. aroused him from his reverie by inquiring what he was thinking about. Scratching his head and speaking very moderately, B. replied:

"I was just thinking that if you are nominated for lieut. governor, and our ticket is elected, and the governor should die, what a h—l of a fix the state would be in!"—Mil. Sentinel.

Men cannot make satisfaction for sin, though they seem to find satisfaction in it.

A Speculative Youngster.

A young lad named Willy S—— was staying one night with his uncle, whose residence was in the suburbs. Just before retiring, Willy found a five cent piece, which he handed to his uncle, who gave him a dime for his honesty. Willy thought within himself it was a good way of doubling his money, if he told his uncle he had found that also he would be rewarded by at least a quarter, so in the morning, taking from his pocket the same identical piece his relative had given him, after playing about on the floor for a time, he put his hand into the corner and held up the dime and cried, "Oh uncle, I have found more money!" "Thank you," said the relative, with a quiet smile, and pocketed the coin, leaving poor Willy with his hopes dashed to the ground and as poor as he was in the first place. It has entirly cured him of speculation.

Josh Billings Takes a Risk.

I kum tu the conclushun lately that life was onsartin, that the only wa fur me tu stand a chans with other foks, wuz to git my life insured, and sa i kauled on the Agent uv the Garden Angel life assurance Co., and ansurd the follerin questchuns which wuz putt to me ovur the top uv a pair uv gould spicakuls by a leetle slik, fat old feller with a leetl round gra hed.

QUESTCHUNS.

1st—Are yu mail or femail? ef so stait how long yu hev bin so.

2d—Air yu subjeck tu fitts, and ef so how much.

3d—What iz me precise fiten wate?

4th—Did u ever hev enny Anncestirs, and ef so how much?

5th—What iz ure leeglull opinyun uv the constitushunality uv the ten kommandmunts?

6th—Dew u ever hev enny knite mares?

7th—Air u marred and singul, or air u a batchallur?

8th—Du u bleve in fuchure state, if yew du stait it.

9th—Whut air yure privat centiments about a rush uv wrats tu the hed, ken it be did suckcessfulley?

10th—Hev yew ever kommitted sewiside, and ef so, how did it seam tew effect yew?

Aftur ansirin the abuv questchuns, like a man, in the konfermatif, the slik leetl fat old feller, gould spicakuls on, sed i wuz enshured fer life, and probly wood sta so fer a turm uv yeers, I thanked him and smiled wun uv mi moast pensive smiles.

SYMPATHY.—A story is told of a man, in Pittsburg, in search of a lost child, a few days since, being hailed by a ponderous Hibernian, who thrust his half-naked frame through the window of a dilapidated three-story wooden building.

"Is it a child ye want?"

"Yes."

"About three years old?"

"Yes."

"Has he fair hair?"

"Yes."

"Blue eyes?"

"Yes."

"Red stockings, an smoked colored gaiters?"

"Yes."

"Had he a plain dress and a white straw hat on 'im?"

"Yes! Yes! Have you got him up there with you?"

"Ah, no, sir, but I saw his mother a while ago looking for the darlin."

THINK.—Thought engenders thought. Place one idea upon paper, another will follow, and still another until you have written a page. You can not fathom your mind. There is a well of thought there which has no bottom.—The more you draw from it, the more clear and fruitful it will be If you neglect to think yourself, and use other people's, giving them utterance only, you will never know what you are capable of. At first your ideas may come in lumps, homely and shapeless—but no matter, time and perseverence will arrange and polish them learn to think you will learn to write; the more you think the better you will be enabled to express your ideas.

There are three kinds of Silence—the silence of peace and joy, the silence of submission and resignation, and the silence of desolation and despair. Lovely are they whose delight is in the first; and most wretched and miserable are those who are driven to the last.

Three things should be thought of by the Christian every morning; his daily cross, his daily duty, and daily privelege—how he shall bear the one perform the other, and enjoy the third.

Every good doctrine leaves behind it an eternal furrow ready for the planting of seeds which shall bring abundant harvest.

GOOD TEMPER.—Dont trust too much to good temper when you get into an argument. The Indian produces fire by rubbing of the driest sticks.

The Weekly Union.

Mankato, Friday, Sept. 25, 1863.

Republican Union Ticket.

For Governor,
STEPHEN MILLER.
For Lieutenant Governor,
CHARLES D. SHERWOOD.
For Secretary of State,
DAVID BLAKELY.
For Auditor of State,
CHARLES McILRATH.
For State Treasurer,
CHARLES SCHEFFER.
For Attorney General,
GORDON E. COLE.
For Clerk of the Supreme Court,
GEORGE F. POTTER.

17th LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT.

For State Senator,
B. Y. COFFIN.
For Representatives,
WILLIAM RUSSELL.
J. A. PHELPS.
FREEMAN TALBOT,

COUNTY TICKET.

For Sheriff,
ELIJAH MIDDLEBROOK.
For Register of Deeds,
BENJAMIN F. SMITH.
For Treasurer,
A. T. LINDHOLM.
For Judge of Probate,
DAVID WILCOX.
For County Surveyor,
WILLIAM L. COON.
For County Coroner,
T. T. PEIRCE.
For County Commissioners,
1st Dist.—H. ROBERTSON.
2d Dist.—L. G. M. FLETCHER.
3d Dist.—JOHN I. JONES,

Republican Union Platform.

Resolved, that we, chosen to represent in convention the unconditional Union men of Minnesota, grateful to Almighty God for the success which has hitherto crowned the arms of our country and for the prospect thus opened of a speedy, honorable and lasting peace, do hereby, for our friends and constituents, re-affirm our determination to support our Government by every means in our power in the vigorous prosecution of this present war,—on our part, holy, just, and forced upon us by the criminal acts of others,—until not an enemy in arms shall be found within our borders. And to this we pledge our lives our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

2. That we tender our grateful thanks to the survivors of our glorious armies, and our warm sympathy to the relatives of their gallant dead, who have won for the country so glorious victories, for themselves imperishable renown, and for us all an assurance of liberty and safety for our children, under our beloved and now well-tried Government.

3. That with especial pride we point to the gallant achievements on many a hard-fought battlefield, of our Minnesota regiments. Their bravery, discipline, and patriotism have won for them a name that shall never die, and made it forever honorable to be a citizen of Minnesota.

4. That, without claiming for it exemption from error, we heartily endorse the general policy and conduct of our National Administration; and we point to the recent magnificent triumph of our armies as its best vindication from the charges of incapacity so freely brought against it by those who prefer national ruin, to success under the present Administration. Especially do we approve the emancipation proclamation, and the raising of black troops as being among the best possible measures to weaken the enemy and strengthen ourselves.

5 That our State Administration, and our Congressional Delegation deserve our hearty approbation for the zealous and efficient cooperation they have afforded the National Authorities in carrying on the war.

6 That we call upon those in authority to take such measures, by retaliation or otherwise, as shall effectually prevent brutal and barbarous treatment by the enemy of our soldiers, of whatever color.

7 That it is due to our shattered armies in the field, as well as to the sacred cause which they uphold, that their ranks should as speedily as possible be filled up by every means in our power. It is due to the country that the mobs raised to resist and prevent the draft, should not seem to have succeeded a day longer than is necessary to enforce the laws.

8 That the way to peace is and ever has been open to the rebels; the only condition we have ever sought to impose, is that they should lay down their arms and submit to the authority of the General Government. We protest against the making of any terms with them in advance as to their status as communities, when they shall have returned to their allegiance. Having been declared "public enemies" by a recent unanimous decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, they must accept the consequences that legitimately flow from having placed themselves in that position.

AN ATTEMPT TO GET SOLDIERS VOTES FOR THE COPPERHEAD TICKET.

A highfalutin appeal to discharged soldiers, and a gross attack on Senator Wilkinson, appeared in last weeks Record, signed by W. B. Torry, a gentleman whose organ of self esteem appears to have been more largely developed by cultivation than God designed it should be, and who thus seek that noteriety through the newspapers, which he could in no other way gain.

We should not notice this matter even thus briefly were it not such a tissue of falsehoods, intended to influence the votes of our soldiers.

The animus of the article is plainly seen in the postscript at its close, as Mr. Torry was a disappointed applicant for the position of Deputy Provost Marshal, and a candidate before the County Convention for the office of Register of Deeds, where his name was not even mentioned.

The facts are that the Provost Marshal was not averse to the appointment of any man as Duputy, who was worthy and competent, and who was well known by the people in the county. It was not made a point that a discharged soldier should in any event receive the appointment.

And again,—Senator Wilkinson did not in any manner interfere. All the correspondence was between the Provost Marshal and Mr. Williams, who was requested to "mention a person as his (Mr. Blackmer,) successor," and took place about a week before the County Convention. The appointment was tendered to Col. B. F. Smith, who had the refusal of it, and who, on reflection, declined to accept on the grounds of its short duration

Mr. Torry tells the soldiers that he is a Republican and has always voted the Repulican ticket; yet in the paragraph above he urges them to scratch our Legislative ticket and vote for an arrant Copperhead, Verily, this is Republicanism, truly.

Take the article altogether, it is mere bush—"a great cry and little wool," and is a poor way to seek revenge.

A Few Indisputable Facts.

Since writing the reply to Mr. Torry, which will be found elsewhere, we have received a letter, containing information, for the truth of which we will vouch, stating that "neither Senator Wilkinson nor any other person have used, or even tried to use, any influence with the Provost Marshal in making the appointment in Blue Earth County. The fact of Mr. Williams having long resided in your county, being well acquainted throughout the same and an active business man was the reason he received his appointment."

"Possibly Mr. Torry has been informed by some of his quasi friends, that they have tried to obtain the position for him; if so, the sooner he is undeceived the better; for his name has never been mentioned to the Provost Marshal by any one. In fact, he has never received an application from Blue Earth County from any one, soliciting the appointment."

This is the thread which will break the camel's back, and destroy the sugar plum bait which Mr. Torry had prepared for our soldiers to swallow. We are sorry for his sake that he has thus been duped—that he has thus been made a tool of by a few designing copperheaded knaves, who would have him believe that he has "fought bled and died" for his country, and like Gen. Price at Booneville, reared a monument commemorative of his valorous deeds.

The sober second thought will convince our erring friend that he has been led astray, and that it is not always profitable to keep company with the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

Those Worthy Deeds.

The Record makes a great ado of the service of Messrs. Wiswell and Porter, Pray, tell us what they have done!

Here is the record—Mr. Porter, has attempted to do a great deal, but never succeeded in accomplishing anything. The House used to allow him an hour each morning in which to present memorials, every one of which were tabled.

Here is the record of the Mighty Dog-Poll-Tax Wiswell—the gentleman whose legal ability is so constitutional ly inclined that He voted against allowing the Soldiers to vote.

He voted for that famous Dog Tax Law.

He voted for the Poll Tax Law, which is so exceedingly popular in this County.

Such, is the record of these talented worthies who are the worshipped gods of the "Record Clique."

"I Will not run the Risk."

A gentleman in Shelbyville, who has always voted the Democratic ticket, but who is disgusted with the disloyal, Copperhead Know Nothing concern presented to the people, says he cannot afford to run the risk of voting for John J. Porter, who, if elected, will help elect a man of Southern proclivities for United States Senator." That is good common sense, and we are pleased to know that several influential Democrats in this and in Le Sueur counties have said the same thing.

MR. COFFIN NOT PLEDGED.

We have heard it asserted that Mr. Coffin, the Union Candidate for State Senator in this District, was pledged to the support of Senator Wilkinson for the United States Senate. We have to say that it is false in every particular. Mr. Coffin did not even solicit the nomination, and is before the people unpledged to the support of any man. He is a well educated, high-minded man, against whose character not even a suspicion has ever been cast, and it is a knowledge of this fact which leads the clique to drum up these false charges,

The fact of the matter is, the nomination of Mr. Coffin has knocked the wind out of their sails entirely. They don't know how to get over it. It has fallen like a thunder clap in their camp and demoralized their forces. Mr. C., is a popular man, and will be hard to beat.

A Game of Double Dealing.

The clique are trying to pull the wool over the eyes of the uninitiated. They refuse to hoist the State Ticket in their organ, but support an equally disloyal county ticket, both of which they intend to vote this fall. It is currently reported that their State and County tickets were all printed and sent to the soldiers to vote; while at home they would make the people believe that they repudiate the one, and support only the other.

This deceitful game won't win,

"What Shall We Do?"

The Record clique are greatly disturbed by the recent re-organization of their State Ticket. They have printed all the soldier's votes and sent them away, and now comes up a new ticket which puts another face on matters entirely. "What shall we do?" is the question these poor care-worn creatures ask each other. Verily, the way of the transgressor is hard.

A KNOW NOTHING CANDIDATE.

John J. Porter, the Candidate for State Senator on the Copperhead ticket, is an out and out Know Nothing. He dont believe in foreigners holding office, but he is very anxious to secure their votes, Why don't the Clique deny it. Its reputation for truth will suffer, if it don't SOLDIERS! LOOK OUT FOR BOGUS TICKETS.

The Democrats of this County have attempted to palm off upon the soldiers in the field, a lot of bogus tickets. But the brave boys of Capt. Dane's Company quickly detected the fraud, and curses, loud and deep, were muttered against the tricky poltroons, who had thus insulted our soldiers.

They printed two sets of tickets, both headed "Soldiers Union Ticket," In one of them the Republican Union State Ticket is given. Chas. McIlrath's name appears for State Treasurer, and Chas. Scheffer's name for State Auditor. Then follows the Democratic Legislative and county ticket, excepting the name of E. A. Parks, for Register of Deeds, which is scratched, and that of B. F. Smith written instead.

On the other is the Democratic State Ticket; but the names of H. T. Welles for Governor, and Peter Wilkin for Treasurer, are the only ones printed, spaces being left in which to write the names of the other nominees. Then follows the Democratic Legislative and County Tickets, which are not scratched.

This nicely concocted plan had a two-fold object. First, they thought it would pass undiscovered by the soldiers, who would vote the Republican State Ticket. Every vote cast for Charles Scheffer for State Auditor, would add to that of Peter Wilkin for Treasurer, and they hoped thus to secure his election.

Second, they were afraid to present their disloyal Legislative and county tickets, knowing that the soldiers would not vote it, so they scratched the name of E. A. Parks, their candidate for Register, who is known to be as black-hearted a traitor as ever lived, and wrote Col. B. F. Smith's name instead. The soldiers all know Col. Smith to be brave and loyal, and they would vote for him to a man.

All these schemes were planned for the purpose of securing votes for John J. Porter, for State Senator, as they have no possible chance of electing their county ticket.

John J. Porter is at heart a copperhead, though he claims to be loyal. He is a tool in the hands of copperheads. He lends himself to their use, and seeks an election as State Senator, that he may vote against the election of a loyal Union man for United States Senator, Soldiers! Any man or set of men who will, in these times of peril to our common country, fuse with that element of society who are endeavoring to embarrass the Administration in its efforts to put down this rebellion, deserves to be ostracised from Society, and do you, by your votes lay them away in a political grave so deep that they cannot even hear the sound of Gabriel's trump.

Soldiers! Beware of bogus tickets. Beware of Copperheads, for they are deceit and treachery personified.

New Wheat.—Large quantities of the new crop of wheat is being offered in our market. The quality is excellent, and the yield per acre much better than was anticipated by the most sanguine. Prices paid, rule from sixty-five to eighty cents for Spring wheat.—Ex.

HISTORY OF THE SIOUX MASSACRE OF AUGUST 1862, WITH ITS ANTECEDENTS AND CONSEQUENCES.

St. Peter, Sept. 24th 1863.

To the Editor of the Union.

Having been granted the privilege of perusing the advance sheets of the forthcoming "History of the Massacre," by Messrs. Bryant and Murch, of St. Peter, Minn., with permission to copy the table of contents and make some extracts for publication, I herewith transmit a few, hastily chosen, for the many readers of your paper. The following is the table of contents.

Chapter I.—Sioux Indians on the Mississippi, from the discovery by Hennepin to the Massacre of 1862.

Chapter II.—Conspiracy against the whites with the grievances of the Indians—Soldier's Lodges—Councils—Ink pa-du-tah war—The failure of the attempt to take Fort Ridgley and the Agencies two weeks before the outbreak on the 18th of August.

Chapter III.—Events transpiring immediately preceding the Massacre.

Chapters IV. V, VI. & VII.—The Massacre and its consequences.

Chapters VIII. & IX.—Battles of New Ulm and Fort Ridgley.

Chapter X.—Movements of troops in 1862.

Chapter XI.—Battles of Birch Coolie and Wood Lake.

Chapter XII.—Release of the captives, and trial of the murderers.

Chapter XIII—Execution of the condemned Indians.

Chapter XIV.—Removal of the Sioux and Winnebagoes

Chapters XV. to XIX, inclusive.—Personal naratives.

Chapter XX.—Expedition of 1863—Brig. Gen. Sibley's command—Brig. Gen. Sully's command

From the above table of contents, it will be seen that the volume promises to be one of peculiar and startling interest. The authors have spared no pains to make this a faithful record of the gloomy events of that truly heart sickening period. The personal narratives of the suffering, terror-stricken fugitives, are of strange but mournful interest, The long suffering and hopeful endurance of those who eluded the fatal tomahawk and the leaden messenger of death, are pictures of the actual that sicken the heart.

This volume will be issued from the press before the dawn of a new year, and will be gotten up in a neat and elegant style. In our next, we will find space for one or two narratives.

"To arrive at some idea of the field of slaughter, the position and number of the fugitive army, suddenly driven from their homes and harrassed by the infuriate savage in their flight, we here append a list of the Counties and their estimated population for 1862.

1	Blue Earth.	5,500
2	Brown,	3,000
3	Cottonwood,	100
4	Faribault,	2,100
5	Jackson,	300
6	Kandiyohi,	150
7	Lincoln,	50
8	Mongalia.	600
9	Martin,	50
10	Meeker,	1,400
11	Murray	50
12	McLeod,	2,000
12	Nicollet,	4,500
14	Renville,	700
15	Sibley,	4,300
16	Stearns,	5,200
17	Wright,	4,500
18	Watonwan,	100
	Total,	34,600

Some idea can be formed of the mass of refugees moving before their savage pursuers to places of safety. Over thirty thousand panic-stricken inhabitants at once desert their homes in the midst of an indiscriminate slaughter of men, women and children! All this distracted multitude from the wide area of eighteen counties, are on the highways, and by ways, hiding now in sloughs, and now in the grass of the open prairie, some famishing for water and some dying, for want of food; some bare footed, some in torn garments and some] entirely denuded of clothing; some by reason of wounds, crawling on their hands and dragging their torn limbs after them, were all making their way over a country in which no white man could offer succor or administer consolation. The various emotions that struggled for utterance in that fragmentary mass of humanity, cannot be even faintly set forth in words, The imagination faint and aghast, turns from the picture in horror and dismay! What indellible images are burned in upon the tablets of the souls of thousands of mothers bereft of their children by savage barbarity! What unavailing tears fall unseen to the ground from the scattered army of almost helpless infancy, now reduced by cruel hands, to a life of cheerless orphanage! How many yet linger around the homes loved, hiding from the keen-eyed savage, awaiting the return of father, mother, brother, sister or friend, who can never come again to their relief! We leave the reader to his own contemplations, standing in view of this mournful picture, the narration of which "the heart sickens to pursue and turns away with becoming silence.

The scene of the panic extended to other counties and portions of the State remote from all actual danger. The Territory of Dakota was depopulated, except a few towns on the western border, Eastward from the Minnesota river to the Mississippi, the inhabitants fled from their homes to the towns of Red Wing, Hastings, Wabasha and Winona; and thousands again from these places to Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and some to distant New England friends."

* * * * * *

"The town of Mankato, twelve miles above St. Peter was in a more critical condition for some time, than any other place on the Minnesota river. The Winnebagoes were located in its immediate vicinity, and, Little Priest, one of the chiefs, with some thirteen men was known to be in consultation with Little Crow, and a constant communication was kept up between them and the Sioux. The whole tribe of Winnebagoes were in the most violent agitation, holding frequent councils and war dances, ominous of some impending outbreak amongst them. The town of Mankato had no troops at the time to defend the place. A company of citizens had been raised and sent forward to New Ulm, on Wednesday the 20th of August, three days after the outbreak; and had the Winnebagoes chosen, at that time to attack the town, it must have fallen an easy prey to savage ferocity. Nor did the danger of this occurrence cease with the advance of the army under Col. Sibley to Fort Ridgley. As late as the 2d of September, some 300 Sioux had left the vicinity of Yellow Medicine, with the design of attacking Mankato and Saint Peter—and had advanced as far as Birch Coolie, where they discovered a detachment of Col. Sibley's forces; and the battle which followed, resulted in the discomfiture of the Sioux. Had they not discovered this company of whites, there can be no reasonable doubt that Mankato and St. Peters would have fallen into their hands."

By way of reflection, the following extract is given:

"Had New Ulm and Fort Ridgley fallen on the first attack, Mankato and St. Peter would have been taken before the State troops could have offered the proper assistance. Had New Ulm fallen on the 19th when it was attacked, and Fort Ridgley on the 20th, when the attack was made on it, Mankato and St. Peter could easily have been reached by the 21st, when the State troops were at Shakopee—50 miles below St. Peter. The successful defense of these places—New Ulm and Fort Ridgley—was accomplished by the Volunteer citizens of Nicollet, Le Sueur and Blue Earth Counties, who reached New Ulm by the 19th of August, and the Renville Rangers who timely succored Fort Ridgley by a forced march of 45 miles in one day.

Whatever credit is due the State troops for the successful defense of the frontiers, and the rescue of the white captives, should be gratefully acknowledged by the citizens of Minnesota. Such deeds are worthy of lasting honor to all those who were participators in those glorious achievements. But to the brave men who first advanced to the defense of New Ulm and Fort Ridgley, higher honor and a more lasting debt of gratitude is due from the inhabitants of the Valley of Minnesota. Let their names be honored among men. Let them stand side by side with the heroes of other days. Let them rank with the veteran soldiers, who, on Southern battle-fields have fought nobly for Constitutional Freedom and the perpetuity of the Union of these States. These are, all of them, worthy men, who like!

Patriots have toiled, and in their Country's cause
Bled nobly, and their deeds, as they deserve.
Receive proud recompense. We give in charge
Their names to the sweet lyre The historic muse
Proud of her treasure, marches with it down
To latest times: and sculpture in her turn
Give bonds, in stone and ever during brass,
To guard them, and immortalize her trust."

NOW AND THEN.

Rescue of a Boy Seventeen Years Old from the Sioux.

An intelligent Swiss boy who for ten months was a captive among the Sioux Indians, came down with the Red River train which reached this city last Thursday. We have obtained from him an account of his captivity and having arranged it connectedly, present it in narrative form, principally in his own language.—Ed. Press.

NARATIVE OF JOHN EUNI.

My name is John Euni. I was born in Switzerland, and was seventeen years old the second of last May. I have a step-father, and three brothers and three sisters living. My mother died last fall, and my oldest sister, together with her husband was killed by Indians last year.

When the Indian outbreak commenced my step-father, and brothers and sisters, were living on a farm near the Red Wood Agency. I was not at home then but had gone to Big Stone Lake to cook for George Lud, Henry and Anthony Manderfield, and George Hillyer, who had been employed by the government to cut hay, and build a blacksmith shop and stable. It was on the 25th or 26th of August that the Indians attacked us. We were through gathering hay, and were on the lake cutting logs for the buildings when the attack commenced. Henry Manderfield was killed where they were at work. Lud and Hillyer were not murdered until they had gone thirty miles below the lake, and Anthony Manderfield escaped entirely. He is now in a calvary company stationed at New Ulm.

I ran to the woods and hid myself, but about noon, the Indians having gone I supposed, I came out and went back to the stores when I was taken prisoner. The Indian who captured me was named Eu-kosh-nu, meaning "the man with short hair." He lived near the stores and did not take part in the massacre. At first he was going to let me go and took me acroos the lake, but after I had gone about half a mile, he came after me and made me go back with him. I remained at this Indian's house for two days without going about, but on the third day I went with his son down to the lake. While there an Indian named Hut-te-ste-mi, (an alligator that sleeps) came up and shot me with a horse pistol, the ball lodging in my side. He undoubtedly intended to kill me, and without waiting to see the result, walked away as soon as he had fired.

The Indian boy that was with me, ran and told his father that I was wounded, and Eu-kash-nu came and carried me to his house, and washed my wound, and made me as comfortable as he could. After doing this he took down his gun and said he was going to shoot the Indian that had wounded me. I induced him to leave his gun, but he took a hatchet, and went to where Hut-te-ste-mi was, and taking his pistol away from him, broke it on a stone. This led to a difficulty between them, and Hut-teste mi threatened to kill Eu-kosh-nu. Eu-kosh-nu was afraid he might come to his house, and kill me also, so he sent me to his cousin's, about a quarter of a mile distant. I remained there five days, the Indian giving me medicine. He also succeed in extracting the ball from side. At the end of the five days, I went back to the house of Eu-kosh-nu, and lived there a month

Thirty lodges then started for Devil's Lake, taking me along with. I walked the first day, but then I could not healed. Eu kosh-nu had nothing but two little ponies, so that I could not ride, and he accordingly gave me to the son of the Indian that I spent five days with at Big Stone Lake. He had four ponies, a mule and a wagon, and I remained with him all the rest of the time that I was in captivity.

We did not go to Devil's Lake at this time, but halted fifty miles this side, and after remaining there one week started for Missouri. Only nine of the thirty lodges went to the river, and by the time we reached there it was very cold and there was a quantity of snow on the ground

Coming to the river we found a camp of Yanctons, but only remained with them one night, and then started up the river. After going fifteen miles we came upon a camp where three hundred Yanctons were located, and spent a week with them. Taking up the line of march we again proceeded, and the third day out from the Yanctons camp, found another camp of Yanctons, where there were five hundred lodges.

Reorganization of the Democrat Ticket.

The Chairman of the Democrat State Central Committee, writes to the Press as follows:

The vacancies on the Democratic State Ticket have been filled so that it is now composed as follows:

Governor.—Henry T. Wells of Hennepin.

Lieut Governor.—James S. Norris of Washington.

Secretary of State,—Amos Coggswell of Steele.

Auditor.—John H. McKinney of Fillmore.

Treasurer.—Joseph Edelbroeck of Stearns.

Attorney General.—W. H. Grant of Ramsey.

Clerk Supreme Court.—Jacob Mainzer of Ramsey.

LATEST NEWS.

News by Friday Morning's Mail.

Washington, Sept. 21.

According to official dispatches received here, dated as late as 5 o'clock yesterday P. M., Gen Rosecrans had information that Longstreet's corps had reinforced Bragg before the battle of Saturday, and it was subsequently stated by deserters from the rebel army, that Ewell's corps had also come to his assistance.

A prisoner from Bragg's army says, Mobile has been stripped of troops for Bragg's army, and that some troops have been sent to him from Charleston; also, that troops from Lee's army were in the late fight—in fact, that the whole Confederacy seemed concentrated there for that attack on Rosecrans.

On Sunday an engagement commenced late in the morning. The first gun was fired at 9 A. M., but no considerable firing took place till 10 o'clock. Previous to 10 o'clock Gen. Rosecrans rode the whole length of our line.

Soon after the battle commenced Gen. Thomas, who held the left, began to call for reinforcements.

About 12 o'clock word came that he had been forced to retire.

The second line of reinforcements were then sent to him, and McCook's whole corps, which was on the right, and Reynolds on the centre, was sent to him.

General Thomas telegraphed on Monday forenoon that the troops are in high spirits, He brought off all his wounded.

Rosecrans' order for concentrating the entire command was easily accomplished Monday night. It is now in strong defensive position and can easily hold out till reinforced.

Gen. Roscrans has performed wonders in reaching his present position after fighting with his single command against the immense forces of picked troops that were combined against him.

At last accounts he had established communications with the cavalry of Gen. Burnside, who is severely censured for not having arrived earlier.

Two of Rosecrans divisions are reported not to have behaved very well.

It is believed Rosecrans will be put in a position to enable him to resume the offensive. Meantime he is thought to be strong enough to hold his ground.

There is at least reason to believe that the attention of what remains of Lee's army will soon be occupied.

Rosecrans is fighting the whole Southern Confederacy. A gentleman who left Falmouth few days ago, reports there was no rebel force in or near Fredericksburg, and but few pickets were to seen

The Herald's Washington special says nothing has been talked of or thought of in Washington to-day except the fate of Rosecrans army. It is officially ascertained that he has, fallen back to Chattanooga to await the arrival of Burnside's forces, which were yesterday within 30 miles and expected to be up with him today, when a forward movement would be promptly made on the lines of the enemy at Pigeon Mountain.

The utmost confidence is left that upon the junction of Burnside with Rosecrans, the enemy will be badly beaten and compelled to fall back upon Rome or Atlanta

In the meantime much solicitude is expressed in regard to the movements of Gen Meade to take advantage of the depletion of the rebel army in Virginia.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

STATE OF MINNESOTA.
SALE OF SCHOOL LANDS

In accordance with an act entitled "An act to establish the State Land Office, and for other purposes," approved March 10th, 1862, the following parcels or tracts of land will be sold at public auction at the office of the County Treasurer, in the town of Mankato, County of Blue Earth, on Saturday, the twenty-first day of November, 1863, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Lands on which fifteen per cent of the purchase money must be paid down.

Part of Sec.	Sec	Town	Range	App val pr acre	App val of imp.
DANVILLE.
sw¼ sw¼	16	105	25	6 00
se¼ sw¼	16	105	25	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	105	25	5 00
nw¼ ne¼	36	105	25	5 00	25 00
LIME.
ne¼ ne¼	16	109	27	5 00	25 00
SHELBYVILLE.
nw¼ ne¼	16	105	28	9 00
sw¼ ne¼	16	105	28	9 00
sw¼ nw¼	16	105	28	5 00	11 00
sw¼ sw¼	16	105	28	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	105	28	9 00
se¼ se¼	16	105	28	10 00
VERNON.
ne¼ ne¼	16	106	28	5 00	100 00
se¼ ne¼	16	106	28	5 00	50 00
ne¼ nw¼	16	106	28	5 00	30 00
ne¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	25 00
nw¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00
sw¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	200 00
se¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	50 00
WATONWAN.
se¼ se¼	16	107	28	5 00	50 00
ne¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
nw¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
sw¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	107	28	5 00	100 00
JUDSON.
sw¼ ne¼	36	108	28	5 00	40 00
se¼ ne¼	36	108	28	5 00
e½ nw¼	36	108	28	5 00	100 00
ne¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	30 00
nw¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00
sw¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	75 00
se¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	30 00
ne¼ se¼	36	108	28	5 00
nw¼ se¼	36	108	28	5 00	100 00
sw qr se qr	36	108	28	5 00	Imp.
se qr se qr	36	108	28	5 00	125 00
BUTTERNUT VALLEY.
Lot 8, 38.90 ac	16	109	29	5 00
sw qr sw qr	16	109	29	5 00
se qr sw qr	16	109	29	5 00
Lot 9, 46.70 ac	16	109	29	5 00
lot 10, 53.46 ac	16	109	29	5 00
ne qr ne qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr ne qr	36	109	29	6 00
sw qr ne qr	36	109	29	6 00
se qr ne qr	36	109	29	7 00
ne qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00	30 00
sw qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00	40 00
se qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00
ne qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00	8 00
sw qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00
se qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00	100 00
nw qr se qr	36	109	29	5 00
sw qr se qr	36	109	29	6 00

The balance of the purchase money is payable at any time within twenty years, at the option of the purchaser, if interest at seven per cent. per annum is annually paid in advance.

Interest to the first day of June, 1864, must be paid at the time of the purchase.

Persons purchasing lands upon which other parties have made improvements, will be required to pay the owner of the same the appraised value of the improvements, one half to be paid at the time of the sale, and the balance within eighteen months thereafter, with interest at seven per cent. per annum,

In case the person occupying or improving the land has damaged the same, the appraised amount of damage will be deducted from his improvements, and when the occupant is the offender, the damage will be added to the price of the land.

No lands will be sold for less than the appraised value.

Purchase money payable in specie and legal tender notes.

CHAS. McILRATH,
Com. of State Land Office.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
County of Blue Earth, }
To William Thomas:

You are hereby notified that a writ of attachment has been issued against you, and your property attached to satisfy the demand of Benjamin McCracken amounting to twenty seven ($27.) dollars: Now, unless you shall appear before H. W. Nelson, a justice of the peace in and for said county, at his office in the town of Vernon, on the twenty ninth (29.) day of October A. D. 1863 at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, judgment will be rendered against you, and your property sold to pay the debt.

Dated this 9th day of Sept. A. D. 1863
BENJ. McCRACKEN,
Plaintiff.
10-6w

WILLIAM IRVING,
MERCHANT TAILOR
and dealer in
Gentlemens' Furnishing Goods,
MANKATO, MINN.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

THE COUNTY.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

St. Paul—Arrives at 9 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Eastern—Arrives at 4 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Blue Earth City—Arrives at 5 P. M. and departs at 7 A. M. Closes 7 P. M.

Office hours—5 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays, 5 to 7 A. M., and 12 M. to 1 P. M.

R. J. SIBLEY, Postmaster.

Agents for the Union.

The following are authorized to receive and receipt for monies paid on subscription to the UNION:

Mankato—MARTIN N. SLOCUM.
South Bend—LARS LEE.
Garden City—RAY & WILLIAMS.
Vernon—THOMAS SOWERS.
Shelbyville—H. A. BUCK, R. SHANNON.
Winnebago City—HOLLY and WELCH.
Verona—A. D. MASON.
Blue Earth City—W. J. C. ROBERTSON.
Fairmount—W. W. CARRINGTON.
Mapleton—S. MIDDLEBROOK.
Madelia—C. G. MULLEN.
New Ulm—J. C. RUDOLPH.
Judson—MR GOODWIN.
Winnebago Agency—LUCIUS DYER.
Sterling—WILLIAM RUSSELL.
Butternut Valley—REV. J. JENKINS.

HON. WM. WINDOM,

Of Winona, and Member of Congress from Minnesota, will address the citizens of Blue Earth County, in MANKATO. SATURDAY EVENING, Sept. 26th.

Let there be a big gathering.

Hon. William Windom will address the citizens of Winnebago City, on Monday evening, Sept. 28th.

WHAT is Union League? A counter irritant to a disease called "K. G. C."

THE communication from Miss M——, of Winnebago City, got mislaid and was not found until too late for this issue. It will appear in our next.

THE Ladies Sewing Society will meet at the residence of Mrs. J. T. Williams Tuesday afternoon of next week. A full attendance is requested, as there will be important business before the Society.

SELECT SCHOOL.—Miss Amarette Patterson proposes to open a select school in town soon. She is a good teacher, deserving of encouragement, and we hope our citizens will give her that support which she so well merits.

MITE SOCIETY.—The Mite Society met at the residence of Mrs. Hubbell, Tuesday evening last. The attendance was very large and every one enjoyed themselves well. The next gathering will be at the residence of Mrs. W. R. McMahon, next Tuesday evening.

WE understand that the Ladies of Mankato will give a supper to Capt. Dane's Company previous to their departure South. We believe this is the Company that the Record denominated as "Dane's Thieves." We suppose the editor will keep a close lookout on his property during their stay in town.

MILITARY.—All the companies of the 7th have been furloughed until the 30th inst., and ordered to report to Fort Snelling on that date.

The 10th Regiment passed through St. Peter Tuesday evening on its way to Fort Snelling.

Capt. Skaro's Company at Fairmount. will be relieved by one Company of the Mounted Rangers.

All the Companies of the 9th have been furloughed, and ordered to report at Fort Snelling or Winona by the 3d of October.

DEPUTY PROVOST MARSHAL.—Capt Chas. H. See, of Rochester, has appointed J. T. Williams, Esq., of this place, Deputy Provost Marshal, in place of Wm. H. Blackmer, who resigned the position. Mr. Williams is a very competent and worthy man, and will give good satisfaction. He is one of the most faithful and hard-working Republicans we have among us, and are none more deserving of the position which he has been called to fill.

WE are requested by the Superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Sabbath School, to state to our citizens that there are a large number of books belonging to the School, scattered through the town, and it is hoped they will endeavor to collect them up and return them to the School.

WE notice that the Methodist Sabbath School of this place, are endeavoring to purchase a new library for their School. They intend to raise fifty dollars, and have thus far succeeded in getting about forty of it. We trust they will not fail in raising the requisite amount.

WORTH CONSIDERING.—Good diet makes healthy children and healthy adults. Good Saleratus helps to make nutritious, healthy diet. Hence use DeLand & Co's Chemical Saleratus, as it is perfectly pure and better than Soda for all purposes.

PERSONAL.—M. D. Flowers, son of M. T. C. Flowers, of the Clifton House, arrived in town Tuesday evening, from Memphis. He enlisted in the 8th Illinois, and participated in the battles of Iuka. Corinth and Hatchie, and since that time has been in the Adj. Gen. department.

E. P. Evans, Esq., of Garden City, started for Massachusetts Wednesday morning, and will be absent about four weeks.

John F. Meagher, Esq., has gone East after his fall stock of goods, Capt. A. K. Skaro, of Co. D, 9th Regiment, passed through town Wednesday, with his family, on his way to St. Peter. He is closing up his business preparatory to going South.

Dr. E. B. Mattocks, of the 7th Regiment, Post Surgeon at this place, departed for St. Peter, Wednesday. We are sorry to lose the Doctor from among us. He has gained many friends during his stay here, who will long to behold his smiling countenance.

We are pleased to greet our old friend L. W. Collins, 1st Lieutenant of Co. F. 7th Regiment. "Ren." as we used to call him, looks hale and hearty, and likes the idea of going South. He possesses all the qualities requisite to make a good officer, and as he is in the line of promotion, we wish him all that prosperity to which true merit entitles him.

R. D. Traver, Hospital Steward of the 7th, is stopping at the Clifton. He has come up to visit his many friends here. previous to his departure South. He is very popular with the Regiment, and makes an excellent Steward.

E. A. Trader, Adjutant of the 7th, and 2d Lieutenant Gilbert, of Co. G. 6th, are also in town on furlough.

Co. E. 9th Regiment, under command of Capt. Dane, arrived in town yesterday afternoon. The boys have received furloughs extending to the 3d of October, at which time they are to report at Fort Snelling.

John J. Shaubhut and H. P. Christensen arrived a few evenings since, direct from the East, where they have each of them purchased a large stock of fall and winter goods.

Lieut. Brown, of Co. G, 6th Regiment, arrived last evening, and will take command of the Invalid Corps at this place, thus relieving Lieut. Rice, of Co. B, 7th Regiment, who starts for Fort Snelling to-morrow morning.

BIG POTATOES.—Mr F. Mills, of Tivoli, presented us with some potatoes called the "Le Ray Whites," that were raised in Le Ray township. Three of them weigh five pounds and two ounces. Mr. Mills has nearly twenty bushels of the same sort.

ORGANIZED.—The citizens of McClellan Township have effected an organization in their town with the following result:

Supervisors, Asa White, Chairman, J. Y. Colwell, and Lucius Dyer; Clerk, Henry Foster; Treasurer, R. O. Bartlett; Assessor, Chas. Manaig; Justices Peace, J. L. Alexander, and J. Y. Colwell; Constables, Aaron Fayles, and Alexander Payer.

FIRE.—A fire was discovered in lower town Wednesday evening last, in a building occupied by Conrad Krout, as a saloon and dwelling house. When discovered, it was burning quite briskly in the south-east corner of the building. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. The damage was but trifling. Our informant, who is an exempt fireman, says the Hook and Ladder Company were not on hand, as usual.

SAD ACCIDENT.—We are pained to record the death of Mr. Moses Tyler who resides near Garden City, on Wednesday last. He was on his way to Washington Lake Mills, with a grist, and when beyond Kasota, and about to go up a hill, one of his horses acted rather strangely, and as he attempted to get out of the wagon to whip him, the horse kicked him in the breast. He was alone at the time, but a Mr. Sumner, soon came to his assistance, and he was removed to a house near by. He lived only about two hours. He leaves a wife and eight children to mourn his loss.

LAST evening we visited Professor Shaw's Writing Class in City Hall, and do not hesitate to pronounce it a fine affair. His class, (43 in number) has become interested, and every scholar already shows a marked improvement. We are convinced that the Professor will make a good scribe of the poorest scribbler in twelve lessons. We trust he will have a second term, for we can cheerfully recommend him to all lovers of so useful and beautiful an art. Improve the opportunity, for it is a good one.

SOUTHERN MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY.—Rev. James Thomson, who has been stopping in town for a few weeks, is on business pertaining to the establishing of a literary institution in Mankato. He has secured nearly forty acres of land in the south part of West Mankato, and is now soliciting subscriptions for building purposes. It is intended to erect a building of either brick or stone worth at least ten thousand dollars, and judging from the liberality of the subscriptions already made, and the indefatigable character of Mr. Thomson, we think the amount will soon be raised, and operations commenced. Mr. Thomson is absent from town, but as soon as he returns we shall refer to this matter more in detail.

AN UNGRACIOUS ACT.—Among the passengers who arrived in the stage a few nights ago, was Mrs. A. A. Tew, aged near sixty years, and mother of Mrs. J. B. Hubbell, She desired to be taken to her daughter's residence, but was told by the agent here, that he did not know where Mr. H. lived. She replied that she could direct him where to go, when he answered in substance, that he could not go until he had taken care of the stage. She was otherwise treated very uncivilly, and after an hour or so the agent took a lantern and went with her, going directly to the house without any difficulty whatever. We had supposed that Mr. Potter was very gentlemanly and courteous to passengers, but if our information is correct, it is time Burbank & Co., looked to their interests here.

Ladies' Festival.

The ladies of Mankato and vicinity will give a supper on Wednesday eve, 30th September, to the soldiers, previous to their departure to the South. The following ladies and gentlemen are requested to act on committees:

COMMITTEE OF ARRANGEMENTS.

D Lamb,	Mrs. J C. Wise,
J. J. Shaubhut,	Mrs. W. Reid,
A D. Seward,	Mrs. F. H. Waite,
H. Fowler,	Mrs. W. Bradley,
J Shoemaker,	Mrs. D. Lamb,
H. P. Christensen,	Mrs. W. R. McMahan,
C. Heilborn,
C. Wampler.

COMMITTEE FOR REFRESHMENTS.

In the 1st and 2d blocks, extending from the river to the bluff, Miss Josie Waite, and Miss Lizzie McMahon.
3d block, Miss A. Stock, and Miss S. Parret.
4th block, Mrs. DuBuisson.
5th block, Miss M. Todd.
6th block, Mrs. E. Williams.
7th block, Mrs. Hubbell.
8th block, Mrs. Marks,
9th block. Miss C. Pease.
10th block, Mrs. J. Brink, and Mrs. Geo, Cummings.

The officers and soldiers of Co. E, 9th Regiment, and all other soldiers in our town and vicinity are cordially invited to participate in the festivities. It is requested that the soldiers' wives will act as committees to wait upon the table, and it is hoped the citizens will contribute generously.

☞BEFORE PURCHASING A

Piano or Melodeon,

REMEMBER

W. W. KIMBALL,

142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.,

DEALER IN PIANOS AND MELODEONS!

PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake St.
CHICAGO,
DEALER IN
"GOLD PRIZE MEDAL"
PIANOS,
MELODEONS,
SCHOOL ORGANS
AND
Harmoniums

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO'S PIANOS.
J. & C. FISCHER'S "
G. A. MILLER & CO'S "
WM. P. EMERSON'S "
J. W. VOSE'S "
KURTZMAN & HINZE'S "
GROVESTIEN & CO'S "

And other Boston and New York Manufactures.

☞The reputation of the Pianos of the above manufacturers is a sufficient guarantee of their merit; and every instrument sold by me will be

WARRANTED

in all respects to give

SATISFACTION.

MY MELODEONS

are from the best manufacturers, and inferior to none in the market.

An Illustrated Catalogue describing every instrument, will be furnished upon application to me by mail, giving the PRICE and STYLES of the instruments.

☞Orders from the country will receive prompt attention

Address, before purchasing or looking elsewhere

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.

Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S
SEWING
MACHINES

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN.☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office.

F. M. Johnson, Agent.

St. Paul, July 17th, 1863 July17-t

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.

OF

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obediance to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune chalenges comparrison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1.25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1.10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.

One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;
Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,) $18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,) 35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, executed by Cyrus Foot and Minerva Foot his wife, then of Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, to Ralph A. Loveland, then of Westport, Essex County, New York, dated the 16th day of June, A. D., 1858, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Blue Earth, on the 18th day of June, A. D., 1858, in book "B" of mortgages, on page 387, which said mortgage was given to secure the payment of the sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest according to the conditions of four certain promissory notes made by said Cyrus Foot to said Loveland or order, three for six hundred dollars each, payable respectively, on the first days of June in the years 1860, 1861 and 1863, and the other for five hundred and fifty dollars payable on the first day of June, 1862, and drawing interest from date until paid at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable annually on the first days of June each and every year, and all bearing even date with said mortgage, and upon which promissory notes and mortgage there is now claimed to be due, and is at the date of this notice, actually due and unpaid, the said sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest thereon from and after the said 16th day of June, 1858, at the rate of seven per cent per annum; and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured by said promissory notes and mortgage, nor any part thereof, and no part thereof has been collected or paid.

Therefore, by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained, and in conformity with the statutes in such case made and provided, the lands and premises described in and covered by said mortgage, to wit: The north-west quarter of section number (27) twenty-seven in township number (107) one hundred and seven, north of range number (28) twenty-eight west, according to the governmental survey and subdivisions of the same, and containing one hundred and sixty acres of land be the same more or less; together with all the appurtenances, and lying and being in the County of Blue Earth, and State of Minnesota, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder as the law directs and as authorized by said mortgage, at the front door of the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Blue Earth in Mankato, in said County, on the 26th day of September, A. D., 1863, at 10 o'clock in the fore noon of that day, to satisfy the amount then due on said promissory notes and mortgage together with the taxes which have been paid thereon by the mortgagee, or which shall then be due on said premises, and the costs and expenses allowed by law. Dated at Mankato, August 14th, 1863.

RALPH A. LOVELAND,
Mortgagee.

WILLARD & BARNEY, Attorneys for Mortgagee, Mankato, Minn. 6w5

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL POFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DuBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Demines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, PGlass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, ercussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime.

Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DuBUISSON.

Mankato, May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work, is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRNG AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand.

Cash paid for green and dry hides.

Mankato, June 26, 1863.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.
Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling publicthat his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
1y Proprietor.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS, on the twenty-third day of January, A. D., 1860, John C. Jones of Blue Earth County, mortgaged to Edward R. Parry and Richard R Parry, the north half of the north-east quarter, and the south-east quarter of the north-east quarter of section twenty-eight, and the south west quarter of the north west quarter of section twenty-seven, all in township one hundred and nine north of range twenty-nine west, in Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, to secure the payment of one hundred and eighty-seven dollars and sixty-five cents and interest in six months from date; and said mortgage was duly recorded in book "D" of mortgages, on pages 117 and 118 in the Register's office in said County on the 23d day of January, A. D., 1860, and where as the whole mortgage debt, is past due, and but seventy-five dollars has been paid of the principal and interest, and the amount now due thereon is one hundred and sixty-five dollars, and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured, Now notice is hereby given to all whom it may concern, that if the said debt is not paid before that time, the following portion of said mortgaged land, to wit: The east half of the north east quarter of section twenty-eight, and the south-west quarter of the north-west quarter of section twenty-seven (27) all in township one hundred and nine north of range twenty-nine west, will be sold at public auction between the hours of 9 o'clock, A. M., and the setting of the sun, on the 13th day of October, A. D., 1863, t the office of the Register of Deeds in said County, by the sheriff of said county to satisfy said mortgage and costs, in pursuance of the power of sale attached to said mortgage. Mankato, Aug. 28th, 1863.

EDWARD R PARRY, } Mortgagees
RICHARD R. PARRY, }

FINCH & FITCHER, Attys for Mortgagees.

NEW DRUG STORE!

DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS
SOAPS, PERFUMERY,
AND

FANCY GOODS

PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax,

Stationery,

BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE.

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions accurely put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the

New Drug Store,

JASON WICKERSHAM,
5 Mankato, Minn

Valuable Lands for Sale.

BY direction of the Hon. Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the lands hereinafter described, they being among the choicest and best farming land in Minnesota.

These lands comprise what are known as the Winnebago Trust Lands in the State of Minnesota, and will be sold to the highest and best bidder in tracts not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres each, under the provisions of a treaty concluded with the Winnebago Indians, April 15th. 1859, and an act of Congress, approved February 21st 1863, entitled "An act for the removal of the Winnebago Indians, and for the sale of their Reservation, in Minnesota, for their benefit."

No bid will be entertained at a rate less than two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

In case a bid is accepted, the party making the same will be notified as soon thereafter as practicable. If within thirty days after such notice the party shall fail to make payment to the undersigned, the land for which such bid was made will be subject to sale to any other person.

Patents will be issued and transmitted to purchasers as soon after payment as the same can be prepared. Payments may be made either in cash or in the certificates of indebtedness of the Winnebago Indians, issued by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for the debt of said Indians, and secured to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of said lands by the third article of the treaty above mentioned. The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved. All bids must be sealed and addressed to the undersigned, Washington City, D. C. and endorsed "Bid for Winnebago Tract Land."

"DESCRIPTION OF LANDS."

List of "Winnebago Trust Lands" subject to sale after July 1st, 1863:

SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
Township 106, Range 23
se qr	5
e hf sw qr	6
e hf	7
sw qr	7
	18 19
ne qr	30
sw qr	30
Township 107, Range 23
n hf	6
w hf sw qr	6
w hf nw qr	7
w hf sw qr	7
sw qr	30
n hf	31
w hf sw qr	31
Township 108, Range 23
n frac hf nw qr	31
se frac qr nw qr	31
Township 106, Range 24
	25
	26
	27
	28
	29
	30 31 32 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 24
	1
ne qr	3
sw qr	3
n hf	5
	6
ne qr	9
s hf	10
	11
ne qr	12
sw qr	12
nw qr	13
	14
e hf	15
nw qr	17
	1
lots 1, 2 and 3	21
	22
	23
n hf	24
	27
w hf	29
Township 108, Range 24
sw qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
sw qr	34
Township 106, Range 25
	25
	26 27
e hf	28
	30 31 32
e hf	33
	34 35
Township 107, Range 25
e hf	1
nw qr	1
w hf	2
ne qr	2
	13
Township 108, Range 25
se qr	33
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
e hf ne qr	34
w hf nw qr	34
w hf sw qr	34
e frac hf	35
nw qr	35
Township 106, Range 26
	1
	2 3
e hf	9
nw qr	4
ne qr	5
s hf	7
nw q	11
e hf nw qr	12
	18 19
n hf	25
w hf	27
se qr	28
	30 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 26
w hf ne qr	3
w hf	3
w hf se qr	3
se qr	4
	5
e hf	6
s hf nw qr	6
s hf	7
	8 9
nw qr	10
e hf	18
nw qr	18
e hf	19
w hf	20
w hf se qr	20
ne qr	24
sw qr	24
s hf	25
n hf	30
e hf nw qr	31
ne qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
w hf sw qr	32
w hf se qr	32
se se qr	32
se qr	34
sw qr	35
Township 108, Range 26
se ne qr	31
e h f se qr	31
sw se qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
e hf se qr	33
ne qr	34
Township 106, Range 27
se qr	1
s hf	2
se qr	3
ne qr	6
e hf se qr	6
w hf sw qr	6
sw qr	7
e hf	11
sw qr	11
	14
e hf nw qr	15
e hf sw qr	15
w hf	18
ne qr	18
w hf	19
se qr	19
ne qr	20
w hf	21
w hf ne qr	21
se qr	22
e hf nw qr	22
	23 27
e hf	28
Township 107, Range 27
n hf	2
ne qr	3
e hf sw qr	5
ne qr	6
w hf se qr	6
se nw qr	7
ne sw qr	7
nw ne qr	11
se qr	12
e hf nw qr	12
nw nw qr	12
ne qr	13
sw qr	13
e hf nw qr	13
sw nw qr	13
s hf ne qr	14
s hf nw qr	14
nw nw qr	14
sw qr	15
sw qr	17
n hf	18
sw qr	18
se qr	19
nw qr	20
sw qr	21
ne qr	22
se qr	26
nw qr	26
nw qr	28
se qr	29
s hf	31
ne qr	31
nw qr	32
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
Township 108, Range 27
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	31
nw qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
ne qr	32
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 of nw qr	32
se nw qr	32
sw qr	35

Bids will be received as above invited until the 1st of September next. at which time all bids then received will be examined and acted upon.

After the first of September next bids will be received for the lands then remaining unsold, and examined and acted upon the expiration of each period of two months.

WILLIAM P. DOLE,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs.
Washington City, D. C., Aug. 4th, 1863.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

such as

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds.

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, andyou will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co.'s GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEAGHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plows,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE.

FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:

Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains. Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil; Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

Iam Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given toorders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.

Mankato, April 23rd, 1863.

NEW LIVERY & Sale Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.

☞Horses kept by the day or week.

☞Charges moderate.

D. H. TYNER.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

A Mexican Romance.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times relates that among the Mexican prisoners brought to France recently is a young Indian woman, only twenty-three years of age, who was Lieutenant Colonel of the regiment of Zacatecas, and who in the course of seven years, rose step by step, from the ranks, by her courage and talents. Originally she followed her husband to the army, and was soon promoted to the rank of 2d Lieut. for her distinguished bravery. The death of her husband, killed in action, afforded her an opportunity of avenging him and of arising another step. The French defeat at Guadaloupe, on the 5th of May, 1862, obtained for her the rank of Lieutenant Colonel, in which position she again greatly distinguished herself during the siege of Peubla.

This singular woman is said to handle the sword like a first-rate fencing master, and she made herself not only respected but feared by her soldiers, who looked upon her as a supernatural being. After Ortega surrendered at discretion, at Puebla, she was brought to Vera Cruz, and was lodged on board the Rhone until that vessel sailed for France. Her order of embarkation mentioned her rank, and gave her a right to sit at the field officers' table. She is said to be of agreeable personal appearance, although, as might be expected, rather masculine in her ways.

Terrible Bread Riot at Mobile.

Refugees lately arrived in our lines, bring exciting reports of the terrible condition of affairs in the southeast. One man, who left Mobile the 5th, states that there was a terrible riot of soldier's wives in Mobile on the 4th About 600 women and children collected at Spring Hall, armed with knives and hatchets, and marched through the principal streets carrying banners inscribed "Bread or Blood," "Peace" and the like inscriptions. Being soldier's wives, the proceedings were winked at by the soldiers, who made but little resistance.

Several stores were broken open—one owned by a Jew, who struck one of the women. Some policemen present arrested the Jew and beat him severely.

Many citizens left town—among them our informant, who says the riot was increasing when he left.

A QUAKER ON AN ARGUMENT.—Ah, said a sceptical collegian to an old Quaker, "I suppose you are one of these fanatics who believe the Bible ?' Said the old man, "I do believe the Bible. Do you believe it?" "No I can have no proof of its truth." "Then," inquired the old man, "does thee believe in France?" "Yes; for I know I have seen others who have. Besides, there is plenty of corroborative proof that such a country does exist. "Then thee will not believe anything thee or others has not seen ?" "No" "Did thee ever see thy own brains ?" "No," "Ever see a man who did see them ?" "No "Does thee believe thee hath any? This last question put an end to the discussion.

GUARD AGAINST VULGAR LANGUAGE.—There is as much connection between the words and thoughts, as there is between the thought and action. The latter are not only the expression of the former, but they often react upon the soul and leave the stain of their corruption there. A young man who allows himself to utter one vulgar or profane word, has not only shown that there is a foul spot in his mind, but by the utterance of that word he extends that spot and inflames it till, by indulgence, it pollutes and ruins the whole soul. Be careful of your words as well as your thoughts. If you can control the tongue so that no improper words are pronounced by it, you will soon be able, also, to control the mind, and save it from corruption. You extinguish the fire by smothering it, or by preventing bad thoughts from bursting out in language. Never utter a word anywhere which you would be ashamed to speak in the presence of the most refined female or the most religious man. Try this practice a little while. And you will soon have command of yourself.

PROVERBS.—1. Never inquire thou of the editor for the news; for behold, it is his duty at the appointed time to give it unto thee without asking.

2. When thou dost write for his paper, never say unto him. 'What thinkest thou of my piece?' for it may be the truth would offend thee.

3. It is not fit that thou shouldst ask of him who is the author of an article upon subjects of public concernment, for duty requires him to keep such things to himself.

4. When thou dost enter into the printing office, have a care unto thy self that thou touch not the type, for thou mightst cause the printer much trouble.

5. Never examine the proof-sheets, for it is not ready to meet thine eye that thou mayest understand it.

The Nashville Union puts this question: "The typhoid fever is very malignant at Vicksburg. If that city were garrisoned by negro soldiers, as it ought to be, thousands of valuable lives would be saved. Are not those who oppose the employment of acclimated negro soldiers in the South, in order to save the feelings of traitors, the deliberate murderers of our white soldiers?,,

To be in Christ is heaven below; and to be with Christ is heaven above.

LIST OF PREMIUMS

To be awarded at the Fourth Annual Fair of the Faribault County Agricultural Society, to be held at Blue Earth City, on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct 7th and 8th, 1863.

CLASS A—HORSES.

Best St llion 4 years old and over, $2 and Diploma
2d best do	$1 00
3d best do	Dip.
Best 3 years old and over	2 00 & Dip.
Best Mare do	1 00
best 2 year old colt	1 00
best 1 do	1 00
best blood mare and colt	2 00
best sucking colt	Dip.
best pair draught horses	1 00
best pair matched horses	1 00
best saddle horse	1 00
best single carriage horse	1 00

JUDGES—C. W, Wilson, A. Latimer, and H. T. Stoddard.

CLASS B—CATTLE.

best bull 3 years old and over	2 00
2d best do	1 00
best 2 years do	1 00
best 1 year do	1 00
best cow 3 years do	2 00
2d best do	1 00
best heifer 2 years do	50
best heifer one year do	50
best bull calf	50
best heifer calf	50
best pair working oxen	1 00

JUDGES—Thomas George: J. B. Cate, and W. J. C. Robertson.

CLASS C—SHEEP.

best buck	1 00
best ewe	1 00
2d best do	Dip.

JUDGES—James Pratt, Thomas Blair, and S. W. Brown.

CLASS D—SWINE.

best boar	1 00
2d best	50
best sow	1 00
best litter of pigs, 4 or more	1 00

JUDGES—J. H. Dunham, Amos Preston, and E. Rhodes.

CLASS E—POULTRY.

best pair chickens	50
best pair geese	50
best pair turkeys	50

JUDGES—T. J. Jenness, J. S, McCrary, and E. Young.

CLASS F—FARMING IMPLEMENTS.

best breaking plow	1 00
best stirring plow	1 00
best shovel plow	50
best cultivator	50
best harrow	50
best hand roller	50
best corn planter	1 00
best one horse hay rake	50
best ox yoke	1 00
best ax helve	25

JUDGES—P. C. Seely, J. S. Latimer, and George Spickerman.

CLASS G—FARM PRODUCTS.

best ½ bu wheat		50
best do oats		25
best do barley		25
best do rye		25
best sample field corn		25
best sample pop corn		25
best ½ bu timothy seed		25
best specimen red clover		25
best specimen white clover		25
best specimen broom corn		25
best ½ bu potatoes		25
2d best		Dip.
best ½ bu beans		50
best ½ bu peas		50
best specimen carrots		Dip
do	beets	Dip.
do	rutabagas	Dip.
do	turnips	Dip.
do	watermelons	Dip.
do	musk mellons	Dip.
do	apple pie melons	Dip.
do	tomatoes	Dip.
do	ground cherries	Dip.

JUDGES—Albin Johnson, Mr. Mount, and S. C. Seaton.

CLASS H—DAIRY AND KITCHEN.

best sample	fresh roll butter	50
do	pickled butter	50
do	cheese	50
do	maple sugar	Dip
do	syrup	Dip.
do	sorghum syrup	1 00 & Dip.
do	sorghum sugar	do
do	honey	50
best loaf of wheat bread		25
best loaf of corn bread		25
best pound cake		25
best pie, 2 or more		25
best sample native wine		Dip.
do	jelly	"
do	preserves	"
do	vinegar (native)	"
best cured ham		25
best hard soap		Dip.
best soft soap		"

Competitors for premiums in this class must accompany their entries with a recipe for making the articles entered.

JUDGES—A. C. Dunn, Mrs. S. W. Brown, Mrs. E. C. Young, Mrs. A. C. Dunn, and Mrs. P. C. Seely.

CLASS I—MECHANICAL DEPARTMENT.

best panel door	1 00
best specimen of cabinet work	50
best specimen of horse shoeing	1 00
best specimen of blacksmith work	50
best post auger	50
best corn broom	50
best pair common boots	1 00
best pair ladies shoes	50
best churn	50
best butter firkin	50

Articles in this class must be manufactured in the county to entitle them to the above premiums.

JUDGES—G. B. Kingsley, Uri Hill, and George Hart.

CLASS J—DOMESTIC MANUFACTURES,

best straw hat	Dip.
2d best	"
best pair woolen mittens	"
best pair woolen stockings	"
best pair woolen socks	"
best pair fancy knit hose	"
best specimen of embroidery	"
best specimen of crotchet work	"
best made shirt	"
best made suit men's clothing	"
best made bonnet	"
best made bed quilt	"
best made rag carpet	"

JUDGES—G. B. Kingsley, Mrs, H. J. Neal, Mrs. G. H. Goodnow, Mrs. Albin Johnson, Mrs. Wm. Dustin, and Mrs. B. Chute.

CLASS K—FLORAL DEPARTMENT.

best collection tame flowers	Dip.
best collection wild flowers	"
best collection artificial flowers	"

JUDGES—Miss Caroline Vanice, Miss Pratt, Miss Mount, Miss A. Sumner, and Miss V. Weir.

CLASS L—EQUESTRIANISM.

best exhibition lady's horsemanship $2 00 & Dip.
2d best	1 00 & Dip.
3d best	50 & Dip.
4th best	50 & Dip.

JUDGES—J. S. Weir, J, C. Howland, and D. S. Law.

Exhibition open to all persons, whether citizens of this or any other county.

Members who have paid their yearly dues can exhibit their property and produce free of charge. Those that are not members must pay the amount of the premiums on the articles they exhibit.

Articles entered by persons living out of the county of Faribault, will only be entitled to diplomas

Winnebago City, Sept. 7th, 1863.

J. A. LATIMER,
President Faribault Co. Ag'l Society.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE Makato Weekly Union,
Published every Friday by
CHARLES H. SLOCUM,
AT
ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of
PRINTING
Neatly and cheaply executed
SUCH AS
CARDS,
PROGRAMMES,
BILL-HEADS,
CIRCULARS,
POSTERS.
ETC.,

Having received a supply of
NEW MATERIAL
from the East, am prepared to do
PLAIN AND FANCY WORK
in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

FINKLE & LYON'S
SEWING MACHINES.

THESE Machines make the lock stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do: will Hem, Fell, Gather, Cord, Braid, Bind, &c., and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family, for they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, or even the stoutest harness leather, without changing the feed, needle or tension, or making any adjustment of Machine whatever!!!

They are simple in construction, and easily understood: and if any part is broken by accident, it is readily replaced.

These are PECULIAR FACTS, and will go far to determine the choice of any intelligent buyer.

PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE, OR SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

N. B.—Local Agents wanted in sections not yet occupied. Address,

FINKLE & LYON, S. M. CO.,
4 No. 538 Broadway, New York.
J. J. SHAUBUT, Agent for Mankato.

☞BEFORE PURCHASING A
Piano or Melodeon,
REMEMBER
W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.
DEALER IN
PIANOS
AND
MELODEONS!

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake St.
CHICAGO,
DEALER IN
"GOLD PRIZE MEDAL"
PIANOS,
MELODEONS,
SCHOOL ORGANS
AND
Harmoniums
HALLETT, DAVIS & CO'S PIANOS
A. & C. FISCHER'S "
G. A. MILLER & CO'S "
WM. P. EMERSON'S "
J. W. VOSE'S "
KURTZMAN & HINZE'S "
GROVESTEIN & CO'S "
And other Boston and New York Manufactures.

☞The reputation of the Pianos of the above manufacturers is a sufficient guarantee of their merit: and every instrument sold by me will be
WARRANTED
in all respects to give
SATISFACTION.

MY MELODEONS
are from the best manufacturers, and inferior to none in the market.

An Illustrated Catalogue describing every instrument, will be furnished upon application to me by mail, giving the PRICE and STYLES of the instruments.

☞Orders from the country will receive prompt attention

Address, before purchasing or looking elsewhere

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.

PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S
SEWING
MACHINES

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN.☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office. F. M. Johnson, Agent.

St. Paul, July 17th, 1863 July17-t

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.
OF
The Chicago Tribune.
A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.
Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obedience to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune challenges comparison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1.33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1.25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1.10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.
One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.
One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;
Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,) $18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,) 35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, executed by Cyrus Foot and Minerva Foot his wife, then of Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, to Ralph A. Loveland, then of Westport, Essex County, New York, dated the 16th day of June, A. D., 1858, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Blue Earth, on the 18th day of June, A. D., 1858, in book "B" of mortgages, on page 387, which said mortgage was given to secure the payment of the sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest according to the conditions of four certain promissory notes made by said Cyrus Foot to said Loveland or order, three for six hundred dollars each, payable respectively, on the first days of June in the years 1860, 1861 and 1863, and the other for five hundred and fifty dollars payable on the first day of June, 1862, and drawing interest from date until paid at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable annually on the first days of June each and every year, and all bearing even date with said mortgage, and upon which promissory notes and mortgage there is now claimed to be due, and is at the date of this notice, actually due and unpaid, the said sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest thereon from and after the said 16th day of June, 1858, at the rate of seven per cent per annum; and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured by said promissory notes and mortgage, nor any part thereof, and no part thereof has been collected or paid.

Therefore, by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained, and in conformity with the statutes in such case made and provided, the lands and premises described in and covered by said mortgage, to wit: The north-west quarter of section number (27) twenty-seven in township number (107) one hundred and seven, north of range number (28) twenty-eight west, according to the governmental survey and subdivisions of the same, and containing one hundred and sixty acres of land be the same more or less; together with all the appurtenances, and lying and being in the County of Blue Earth, and State of Minnesota, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder as the law directs and as authorized by said mortgage, at the front door of the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Blue Earth in Mankato, in said County, on the 26th day of September, A. D., 1863, at 10 o'clock in the fore noon of that day, to satisfy the amount then due on said promissory notes and mortgage together with the taxes which have been paid thereon by the mortgagee, or which shall then be due on said premises, and the costs and expenses allowed by law. Dated at Mankato, August 14th, 1863.

RALPH A. LOVELAND,
Mortgagee.

WILLARD & BARNEY, Attorneys for Mortgagee, Mankato, Minn. 6w5

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS
New Arrival of Goods for the
Fall and Winter Trade.
QUICK SALE! SMALL PROFIT!
DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.
Wholesale or Retail.
PRAEL & DeBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime. Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DeBUISSON.
Mankat, May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

NEW
SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.
JOHN D. JONES,
Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles
HARNESS, &c,
And Dealer in
Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work, is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRING AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand

Cash paid for green and dry hides.

Mankato, June 26, 1863.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.
SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:15 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:35 P. M.
5:00 P. M.	5:25 P. M.
Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:25 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:25 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:25 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

CLIFTON HOUSE,
Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling publicthat his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all, who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
1y Proprietor.

Mankato
DRUG STORE.
——
A Fresh and Complete Assortment of Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,
Just received at the Drug Store, by
J. R. TINKCOM.
Pure Wines,
for Medicinal purposes.
Strychnine always on Hand.
Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

NEW DRUG STORE!
DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS
SOAPS, PERFUMERY,
AND
FANCY GOODS.
PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax.
Stationery,
BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE.

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions accurely put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the
New Drug Store,
JASON WICKERSHAM,
5 Mankato, Minn

Valuable Lands for Sale.

BY direction of the Hon. Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the lands hereinafter described, they being among the choicest and best farming land in Minnesota.

These lands comprise what are known as the Winnebago Trust Lands in the State of Minnesota, and will be sold to the highest and best bidder in tracts not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres each, under the provisions of a treaty concluded with the Winnebago Indians, April 15th, 1859, and an act of Congress, approved February 21st 1863, entitled "An act for the removal of the Winnebago Indians, and for the sale of their Reservation, in Minnesota, for their benefit."

No bid will be entertained at a rate less than two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

In case a bid is accepted, the party making the same will be notified as soon thereafter as practicable. If within thirty days after such notice the party shall fail to make payment to the undersigned, the land for which such bid was made will be subject to sale to any other person.

Patents will be issued and transmitted to purchasers as soon after payment as the same can be prepared. Payments may be made either in cash or in the certificates of indebtedness of the Winnebago Indians, issued by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for the debt of said Indians, and secured to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of said lands by the third article of the treaty above mentioned. The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved. All bids must be sealed and addressed to the undersigned, Washington City, D. C., and endorsed "Bid for Winnebago Tract Land."

"DESCRIPTION OF LANDS."

List of "Winnebago Trust Lands" subject to sale after July 1st, 1863:

SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
Township 106, Range 23
se qr	5
e hf sw qr	6
e hf	7
sw qr	7
	18 19
ne qr	19
sw qr	30
Township 107, Range 23
n hf	6
w hf sw qr	6
w hf nw qr	7
w hf sw qr	7
sw qr	30
n hf	34
w hf sw qr	34
Township 108, Range 23
n frac hf nw qr	31
se frac qr nw qr	31
Township 106, Range 24
	25
	26
	27
	28
	29
	30 31 32 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 24
	1
ne qr	3
sw qr	3
n hf	5
	6
ne qr
s hf	10
	11
ne qr	12
sw qr	13
nw qr	13
	14
e hf	14
nw qr	17
lots 1, 2 and 3	21
	22
	23
n hf	24
	27
w hf	29
Township 108, Range 24
sw qr	32
w hf nw qr	33
sw qr	34
Township 106, Range 25
	25
	26 27
s hf	28
	30 31 32
e hf	33
	34 35
Township 107, Range 25
e hf	1
nw qr	1
w hf	2
ne qr	2
	13
Township 108, Range 25
se qr	33
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
e hf ne qr	34
w hf nw qr	34
w hf sw qr	34
e frac hf	35
nw qr	35
Township 106, Range 26
	1
	2 3
e hf	9
nw qr	4
ne qr	5
s hf	7
nw qr	11
e hf nw qr	12
	18 19
n hf	25
w hf	27
se qr	28
	30 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 26
w hf ne qr	3

SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
Township 107, Range 26
w hf	3
w hf se qr	3
se qr	4
	5
e hf	6
s hf nw qr	6
s hf	7
	8 9
nw qr	10
e hf	18
nw qr	18
e hf	19
w hf	20
w hf se qr	20
ne qr	21
sw qr	21
s hf	25
n hf	30
e hf nw qr	31
ne qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
w hf sw qr	32
w hf se qr	32
se se qr	34
se qr	34
sw qr	35
Township 108, Range 26
se ne qr	1
e hf se qr	31
sw se qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
e hf se qr	33
ne qr	34
Township 106, Range 27
se qr	1
s hf	2
se qr	3
ne qr	6
e hf se qr	6
w hf sw qr	6
sw qr	7
e hf	11
sw qr	11
	14
e hf nw qr	15
e hf sw qr	15
w hf	18
ne qr	18
sw hf	19
se qr	19
ne qr	20
w hf	21
w hf ne qr	21
se qr	22
e hf nw qr	22
	23 27
e hf	28
Township 107, Range 27
n hf	2
ne qr	3
e hf sw qr	5
ne qr	6
w hf se qr	6
se nw qr	6
ne sw qr	7
nw ne qr	11
se qr	12
e hf nw qr	12
nw nw qr	12
ne qr	13
sw qr	13
e hf nw qr	13
sw nw qr	13
s hf ne qr	14
s hf nw qr	14
nw nw qr	14
sw qr	15
sw qr	17
n hf	18
sw qr	18
se qr	19
nw qr	20
sw qr	21
ne qr	22
se qr	26
nw qr	26
nw qr	28
se qr	29
s hf	31
ne qr	31
nw qr	32
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
Township 108, Range 27
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	31
nw qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
ne qr	32
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 of nw qr	32
se nw qr	32
sw qr	35

Bids will be received as above invited until the 1st of September next, at which time all bids then received will be examined and acted upon.

After the first of September next bids will be received for the lands then remaining unsold, and examined and acted upon the expiration of each period of two months.

WILLIAM P. DOLE,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs.
Washington City, D. C., Aug. 4th, 1863.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.
H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of
SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,
SUCH AS
DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—mainly Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co's Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,
McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S
REAPERS & MOWERS
Russell & Co's GRAIN DRILL,

which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,
and a general assortment of
FARMING IMPLEMENTS
such as
SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES,
HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEACHER,
DEALER IN
STOVES, HARDWARE,
Iron, Plows,
Agricultural Implements,
AND MANUFACTURER OF
COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,
FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.
All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF
AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,
from a HOE to a
THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:
Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains, Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains, Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

I am Agent for J. A. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.
Mankato, April 23rd, 1863.

NEW LIVERY
&
Sale Stable.
D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,
ALSO,
Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.
☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜
☞Charges moderate.
D. H. TYNER.

The Mankato Weekly Union.

CHARLES H. SLOCUM. "LIBERTY AND UNION, NOW AND FOREVER, ONE AND INSEPARABLE." Editor and Proprietor'

VOLUME 1. MANKATO, BLUE EARTH COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 2, 1863. NUMBER 19.

THE WEEKLY UNION,
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY
CHARLES H. SLOCUM.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
One Dollar and Fifty Cents per Year.
☞ All subscriptions paid in advance.

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

1 square	1 week	$1 00	2 squares	6 months	9 00
1 "	2 weeks	1 50	2 "	1 year	15 00
1 "	3 "	1 75	3 "	1 week	2 25
1 "	4 "	2 00	3 "	2 "	3 00
1 "	5 "	2 25	3 "	3 "	4 00
1 "	6 "	2 50	3 "	4 "	5 00
1 "	7 "	2 75	3 "	3 months	9 00
1 "	2 months	3 00	3 "	6 "	12 00
1 "	3 "	3 75	3 "	1 year	20 00
1 "	4 "	4 50	¼ col	6 months	15 00
1 "	5 "	5 25	¼ "	1 year	25 00
1 "	6 "	6 00	½ "	3 months	18 00
1 "	1 year	10 00	½ "	1 year	30 00
2 "	1 week	1 75	½ "	6 months	25 00
2 "	2 "	2 50	½ "	1 year	40 00
2 "	3 "	3 00	¾ "	1 year	50 00
2 "	4 "	4 00	1 "	1 year	70 00
2 "	3 months	6 00

Business cards of five lines or less, $5.
Transient advertisements must be paid in advance—all others quarterly.

BUSINESS CARDS.

EVERETT P. FREEMAN.
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
OFFICE—Next door south of the Post Office. MANKATO, - - - - MINN.
Prompt attention given to claims to be prosecuted before the State Board of Auditors and to Court and Office business. Collections made and conveyancing done on reasonable terms.

MANKATO INS. AGENCY.
HARTFORD.
PHOENIX.
MERCHANTS—FIRE INS. CO'S.
CHARTER OAK LIFE INS. CO.
Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid by:
JOHN N. HALL.
Resident Agent.

O. P. LIEBERG,
FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER.—Having opened a Barber Shop with a view to establishing a permanent business in Mankato, I am prepared to wait upon gentlemen, and will guarantee satisfaction in every department of my business.
June 26, 1863.

G. A. STURGES, M. D.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
MANKATO, MINN.
OFFICE:—At his residence second door above the Mankato House.

Z. PADDOCK,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law, and General Land Agent. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to him. Mankato, Blue Earth Co., Minn.

FRED'K HILDEBRANDT,
Manufacturer of and Deale in all kinds of
FURNITURE & GILT MOULDING,
ALSO,
Imitation of Rosewood Mouldings, Ovals, Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames.
Ware Rooms in Schurmeier's Block, Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minn.

M. ZENOPOLSKI, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.
OFFICE:—Opposite the Clifton House.

DAVID WILCOX.
JUDGE OF PROBATE,
& ATT'Y AT LAW,
MANKATO - - - - - - MINN.

WM. R. McMAHAN, M. D.
Office and Residence old at his stand, on the corner of Hickory and Second streets, one Block back of the Mankato House, where he will be found at all times, except when professionally absent.
He will furnish and compound his own medicines.

EDWARD OGLESBY,
Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hartley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work in his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October,

S. FINCH, O. O. PITCHER.
FINCH & PITCHER,
Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,
MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA.

MANKATO NURSERY.
THE Proprietor has for sale a choice collection of
Fruit Trees,
Comprising Apple, Pear, Cherry, Plum, and Quince Trees. Also a good assortment of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants Raspberries, Strawberries, and Pie Plant; together with
ORNAMENTAL TREES
Shrubs, Evergreens, Flowering Plants, &c
ROB'T GOODYEAR,
Mankato, Sept. 1861.

FAIRBANKS'
STANDARD
SCALES,
OF ALL KINDS.
FAIRBANKS, GREENLEAF & CO.,
172 LAKE STREET, CHICAGO.
☞ BUY ONLY THE GENUINE.

SOUTH BEND MILLS.
BIERBAUER & ROCKEY,
HAVING purchased the above mills, are prepared to manufacture all grades of FLOUR, CORN MEAL, ETC.
Wheat will be ground for every sixth bushel in quantities not less than ten bushels.
☞ Flour and mill stuffs always on hand at market prices. Feb 6-3m

Poetry.

For the Union.

PASSING AWAY.

BY MISS T. M.

Passing away like the light of day,
Fades out from the starlit skies,
Passing away like the ocean spray,
When the tempest's fury dies.

Passing away to that unknown land,
Where the weary are at rest,
Going to join the angel band,
And dwell among the blest.

Passing away in the morn of life,
When the heart is full of joy,
Passing away in the noontide strife,
When pleasures are found to cloy.

Passing away at the close of day,
When the heart is weary and worn,
Treading the dim and shadowy way,
Which leads to that unknown bourn.

Passing away to that land of love,
Where the amaranth blooms again,
Passing away to our home above,
Where the Prince of glory reigns.

WINNEBAGO CITY, Sept.

Select Miscellany.

"CHERRY TIME."

BY AMY RANDOLPH.

The reapers were busy on the up land meadows that sloped toward the sun, the air was full of vanilla odors of new-mown hay, and the old brown robin, whose nest was in the maple boughs overhanging the Cliff-dean House, was carrolling its very heart out in liquid rivulets of song. Every created thing seemed drinking in the full glory of the summer morning, and reveling in the mere fact of existence.

That is, every created thing, save and except little Kitty Cliff—she wasn't happy a bit. For as she came round the densely shadowed honey suckle path, in sight of the front porch, her eye caught sight of two figures sitting under the swinging trails of a rose bloom, in an absorbing tete-a-tete—her cousin Georgia Carr, and Mr. Seymour Olcott!

The rosy flush of color died out around Kitty's temples—the long lashes drooped and grew misty. There it was no use striving against that coming flood of tears—Miss Kitty sat down on the grassy bank and cried heartily.

'I hope they will be happy!' sobbed Kitty; 'but oh! how I wish Georgia had never come here! I was so happy in fancying that Seymour liked me a little, and now—'

And Kitty cried again.

The path to the giant cherry-tree was short and shaded, as Kitty crept through it, never once looking back to the porch where Georgia and Seymour were so happy together; and the green gloom, studded with the ruby sparkle of innumerable ripe, dewy cherries, made her think of the "jewel-trees" she had read about in childhood, when the Arabian Nights seemed veritable truth, and Fairy Land an established fact!

'I wish I were a child again!' sighed Kitty, her lips beginning to quiver. 'Didn't I have nice times then, with never a lover to disturb them?—Didn't I climb up this old tree half a dozen times a day to see the blue eggs in the brown thrush's nest? I wonder if the nest is there now! I don't care!' ejaculated Kitty. I don't care a single bit, if I am eighteen. I mean to climb up into the old cherry tree again and fill my basket. I want to feel the cool leaves against my hot cheek. I want to be all alone with the blue air and the wind, and the brown thrushes. I know aunt Rachel would scold dreadfully, but I don't care.'

Kitty Cliff swung herself lightly into the gnarled fork of the sturdy old tree, and climbed up its branches as deftly as if she had been a bright-eyed squirrel. There was a considerable spice of romance about Miss Kitty, and it must be frankly confessed that she was a great deal more at home in her old cherry tree than she would have been at her neglected piano.

High up among the fluttering leaves she sat slowly gathering the ripe fruit into her little basket, and looking through a quivering dimness of tears at the reapers afar on the sunny meadow slopes, thinking the while how very, very miserable she was.

All at once the sound of voices struck her ear; she parted the leaves and looked from her airy perch, only to see Seymour Olcott and Georgia Carr establishing themselves comfortably under the shadow of this very cherry tree.

Poor little Kitty—there was no escape for her now. Prisoned among the swaying branches, she must be an unwilling auditor to the conversation of the two below.

'O, I wish they would go away!' thought Kitty, beginning to tremble as she laid her throbbing forehead against the friendly old tree. 'I cannot bear to hear him speaking words of love to Georgia! O why did I ever come here?' Her thoughts were cut short by Seymour Olcott's voice. He was stripping the leaves from a spray of forget-me-not, in an absent-minded sort of way, and spoke as if in resumption of some previous discussion.

'If you only knew, Georgia, how much doubt and apprehension I feel in approaching the subject of my love.'

'I can easily imagine it,' said Georgia, softly.

The pulses of Citty's heart seemed to grow chill, and a sick feeling of despair came over her.

'If I dared suppose for a moment,' went on Seymour, that the treasure of such a heart could ever be mine——'

'Why should you doubt it?' asked Georgia, smiling. 'Remember, Mr. Olcott, 'faint heart never won fair lady.''

'I believe that I shall take your advice,' said Seymour, 'and I am glad that I consulted you on the subject. Indeed, Georgia, my love for your cousin is the one absorbing passion of my life. I have watched her grow from the fair little girl into the beautiful woman, with an ever strengthening devotion, and now——. Well, I won't be sentimental, that is if I can help it,' he added, trying to smile; 'but of one thing I am assured—if Kitty refuses me, life will not be worth having! Come—let us return to the house. I will seek her at once and decide my fate!'

As their footsteps died away, the little captive damsel among the branches hid her burning face among the leaves and began to cry again. But they were happy tears—oh such blissful tears.

* * * * *

'Then you do really love me?'

Kitty Cliff was standing just where the sunset turned her chestnut curls to gold, in dainty robes of white muslin tied at the waist with broad blue ribbon. She had never looked fairer, nor more mischievous. A sense of power makes a woman dangerous.

'Love you, Kitty? it——'

'There, there, don't be sentimental if you can help it,' laughed Kitty. 'If I refuse you, life won't be worth having, and so—I will not refuse you!"

'Kitty!' ejaculated the perplexed lover, 'you heard me this morning. Where were you?'

'Never mind!' said Kitty saucily. And as soon as she could escape from Seymour Olcott's detaining hand, she ran up stairs to nestle her cheek against Georgia's shoulder and whisper to her as a very great secret, that she was to be married in the fall.'

Mr. Olcott never knew whether Hamadryads in the wood or the Robins in the tree carried his secrets to Kitty, but she will tell him the truth, perhaps, after they are married.

The Mouse that was a Rat.

A lady sat alone in her chamber. There was a nibbling sound behind the fireboard, which was not a board but only a frame covered with cloth. The lady had funny notions; mice seemed to her like little plump children; she liked them. 'There,' said she, 'is a mouse;' and she dropped some crumbs behind the fire-board.

This she did every day when she heard a movement behind the fire-board.

'Mice,' said she, 'are innocent. I never fear them. But rats! Ah! they are dreadful.'

The lady hoped, by-and-by, to coax her mouse out into her room. She lived alone, and was fond of pets.

Once or twice there came against the frame of the fire screen a gnawing so strong and loud that the lady was startled. 'What if a rat were there where I think is but a harmless mouse?' was the quick thought that made her flesh creep with terror. But she would not allow herself to believe such a thing possible; neither would she remove it. 'Pshaw,' she said; 'I am certain 'tis but a harmless mouse.' And she continued to pamper it with dainties.

At last one evening as she sat by her table writing, she heard a strange noise, and turning toward it saw, with great affright, a monstrous rat sitting on her hearth-stone and gazing with bold and wicked eye upon her. The poor, nervous lady was made quite sick by the disgust and terror which this revelation caused her.

Children, there is a moral to my story. Can you think what? I am thinking of it, ah! my blood runs cold as I consider that of which this story is a figure. How many of you are cherishing sins which you consider only as innocent mice; but which are really as strong and dangerous rats, waiting their time to spring out upon you and have you in their power? How many such mice am I cherishing? Let us all examine carefully and in good time the true character of our pets.—Springfield Rep.

A Hampshire man, noted for his calmness and a scolding wife, was one night stopped in the woods by a pretended ghost. "I can't stop my friend," said he. "If you are a man, I must request you to get out of the way and let me pass. If you are the devil, come along and take supper, for I married your sister!"

Ten Things Worth Remembering.

1. If you hitch your horse to a worm fence, always select an inside corner, because it is stronger, and because your horses will almost always tangle their halters in the projecting rails of an outside corner.

2. There, as well as elsewhere, if you tie with a loop knot, do not consider your horses tied unless the end of the halter is put through the loop.

3. Never rest a scope shovel against a fanning mill.

4. Do not prop a barn door open with a pitch-fork, for a gust of wind may break both door and fork.

5. Plan your garden so that it may be cultivated by a horse. Much labor may be thereby saved, and the culture will be much more thorough.

6. When ploughing in warm weather you desire to rest your team, stop on an eminence, if such there is, and always with your horses heads to the breeze. Five minutes in a favorable position, is better than ten in an unfavorable one.

7. Label all packages of seeds or medicine. A lady last spring offered me a package of what she said was choice lettuce seed; when I reached home I found that it contained melon seed.

8. A variety of farm products fills up the season, occupies the time of permanent help to advantage, and on the principle of "having two strings to one's bow," and of "having too many eggs in one basket," is more sure.

9. One of the greatest and most common defects in road repairing is a failure to even the surface. A turnpike left in hillocks is a long rough road to travel, and the little basins hold water, consequently they become mud holes.

10. Industry, carefulness, and skill, are the elements of success. More happiness is found associated with active habits than ever was, or ever will be found in connection with indolence.

Politeness and Truth.

Many persons plead a love of truth as an apology for rough manners, as if truth was never gentle and kind, but harsh, morose and forbidding. Surely, good manners and a good conscience are no more inconsistent with each other than beauty and innocence, which are strikingly akin, and always look the better for companionship. Roughness and honesty are indeed found together in the same person, but he is a poor judge of human nature who takes manners to be a guaranty of probity of character; or suspects the stranger to be a rascal because he has the manners of a gentleman. Some persons object to politeness, that its language is unmeaning and false. But this is easily answered. A lie is locked up in a phrase, and must exist, if at all, in the mind of the speaker. In the ordinary compliments of civilized life, there is no intention to deceive, and consequently no falsehood. Polite language is pleasant to the ear, and soothing to the heart, while rough words are just the reverse—if not the product of ill temper, are very apt to produce it. The plainest of truths, let it be remembered, can be conveyed in civil speech, while the most malignant lies may find utterance and often do, in the language of the fish market.

A GOOD "GOAK.—A whole-souled wag from St. Louis, now in this State on a visit, went out to Excelsior the other day, and stopped with friend Galpin. Feeling as if he would like to shoot some wild ducks, he requested Mr. Galpin to inform him where he could find some, and was directed to a certain spot. He went, and lo, he found a whole flock of fine ducks, lazily floundering in a muddy pond. He popped away, and bagged a fine lot. Triumphantly he wended his way back to the hotel, and called in Friend Galpin to see his game. Emptying the contents of his well stuffed game bag out on the grass, the reader may imagine the surprise of mine host to find that his whole flock of tame ducks lay dead at his feet. Both parties, of course, felt badly sold. The one for directing where ducks could be found and the other for not knowing tame from wild ducks. Our friend Galpin retired to seek consolation from his better-half; the other to imbibe a solace for disappointed ambition, exclaiming as he went: 'D——n the ducks; I thought they were the tamest wild ducks I ever saw.' Exit. And so the drama ends.

TEA CULTURE IN CALIFORNIA.—An effort is being made in California to test the cultivation of tea. Mr. H. A. Sonntag, at the Mission, a short distance from San Francisco, has one thousand thrifty looking plants of this year's growth from seed procured by a gentleman in China. The climate of California is about the same as that of the best tea growing sections of China. As tea plants must be four years old before the leaves are suitable for picking, some time must elapse before the success of the experiment of growing tea in California can be determined.

Emancipation in Maryland.

The address of the Union State Central Committee to the people of Maryland, says:

We disavow all measures for the violent abrogation of slavery in our midst. We claim that in the exercise of our prerogatives as American citizens, we give it to ourselves to discuss fairly, and finally to dispose of the evil, and we hereby declare it to be our conviction that the dignity, honor and prosperity of our people alike demand that we should legally and constitutionally abolish the institution at the earliest period compatible with the interests of the State, and the permanent welfare, stability and unity of the nation. Since the people know that the substance of slavery is already gone, and that only the skeleton has been left, we are of the opinion that the sooner the skeleton is removed the better it will be for the true interests of the State and nation.

The men we present to you are in favor of supporting the administration in every effort to put down the rebellion, and in every measure which it has thought necessary for the permanent peace of the country when this shall have been subdued. We believe that the only way to put down the rebellion is to put it down by force of arms. For this purpose we are willing to vote every dollar necessary and give every available man, black or white. We do not think ourselves at all superior to our ancestors of revolutionary memory, who fought side by side with colored troops, nor to Andrew Jackson, who commanded and complimented the colored soldiers who fought with him at New Orleans. We believe it is the bounden duty of the President to use all the force and every weapon which God has put within his grasp and the laws of the United States has authorized him to wield, in the defence of the nation. Traitors have no choice as to the weapons to be used in their destruction; and loyal men only ask that they be speedy and sure.

Wouldn't Marry a Mechanic.

A young man commenced visiting a young woman who appeared to be well pleased. One evening he called when it was quite late which led the girl to inquire where he had been.

'I had to work to night.'

'Do you work for a living?' inquired the astonished girl.

'Certainly,' replied the young man, 'I am a mechanic.'

'My brother does not work and I dislike the name of a mechanic.'

This was the last time the mechanic visited the fastidious young woman. He is now a wealthy man, and has one of the best of women for a wife. The young woman who disliked the name of a mechanic is now the wife of a miserable fool—a regular vagrant about the grog shop—the poor miserable woman is obliged to take in washing to support herself and children.

Ye who dislike the name of mechanic, beware how you treat young men who work for a living. Far better discard the well-fed pauper, with his rings, jewelry, and brazeness, and take to your affections the callous-handed mechanic. Thousands have bitterly regretted their folly, who have turned their backs to honest industry. A few years of bitter experience has taught them a severe lesson. In this country, no man or woman, in our way of thinking, should be respected who will not work bodily and mentally, and who curl their lips contemptuously if they are introduced to a man who is obliged to work for a living.

The Book we are all Writing.

When you begin your writing books at school, you know they are all very much alike. The same picture may be on the covers, and the same white ruled paper inside—but when you take them home from school, how different! One, perhaps, is written in a clear, handsome hand, each page better than the one before it, even to the very end. All that see it admire and praise it.

Another is brought home scrawled, blotted, soiled and torn. They were nearly alike once; there was nothing to choose between them; but how different now.

Such a book each of us is writing. It is the book of our lives. We have already written many pages. Every sin is a blot. There is only one Being that can take out all these blots, and make the pages all clean, and help us to write out a good, fair book, growing better and better to the end. That Being is JESUS CHRIST.—Child's World.

ALWAYS HAPPY ALWAYS CHEERFUL.—"Why this constant, happy flow of spirit? 'No secret, doctor,' replied the mechanic, "I have one of the best of wives; and when I go to work she always has a kind word of encouragement for me, and when I go home, she meets me with a smile and a kiss, she is sure to be ready; and she has been doing many things during the day to please me, and I can not find it in my heart to speak unkind to any body." What an influence, then, hath woman over the heart of man, to soften it, and make it the fountain of cheerful and pure emotion! Speak gently, then, a happy smile and a kind word of greeting, after the toils of the day are over, costs nothing, and goes far towards making a home happy and peaceful.

An Indignant German.

A correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune gets off the following as an incident of the rebel invasion of Pennsylvania, showing how an indignant German Knight of the Golden Circle came to grief:

Mister——, he comes to me and says for von tollar he vill makes me von Knights of te Golden Schircles; dat he vill give me all te signs and grips, so as dat ven te Sondern man comes he shall not touch any of my proberty, but shall get all he vants from te Black Repablicans. So I gives de von tollar and he gives me de grips and de signs, and says I shall gives dem ven de Soudern man he comes and he no shteal from me; so I goes out and says, 'Mynheer, I ish Knights Golden Schircles; I give you de grip, de signs, de pass-words and efery-tings, so you leaves mine horses,' ven he say, 'to hell mit your grips,' and takes mine horses. Oh, I is ruined man; I gives mine tollar for de grips and it is nix goot, but ish so better as notings at all, for dey shteals from me vorse as anypody else. Oh, it ish von schwindle and I shall have my tollar back for de grips, &c.

WASN'T MUCH ACQUAINTED WITH HER HUSBAND.—Kansas City is a gay place, and they have queer specimens of humanity down there. If you don't believe it, read the following from the Journal, about a woman of doubtful loyalty, who was recently before the Provost Marshal:

'She gave as an evidence of her loyalty that her husband was killed in the 106th Ill. regiment. 'When did your husband go to Illinois?' 'About three years ago.' 'That was before the war, was it not?' 'Yes.' 'Why did you not go with him?' 'Well, I didn't like to go off so far with a man I wasn't much acquainted with.' 'You don't mean to say that your husband was so much of a stranger that you did not like to go with him?' 'Yes, I do. I had only been married to him about a year, and I wasn't going to leave my folks and go off to Illinois with a man I didn't know more about.'' What could he do but discharge her?

THE WORKMAN AHEAD.—A good story is told of a certain prominent railroad gentleman of this city, who is equally renowned for his ability to make and take a joke. A railroad employee, whose home is in Avon, came on Saturday night to ask a pass down to visit his family.

"You are in the employ of the railroad?" inquired the gentleman alluded to.

"Yes."

"You receive your pay regularly?"

"Yes."

"Well. Now suppose you were working for a farmer instead of a railroad, would you expect your employer to hitch up his team every Saturday night and carry you home?"

This seemed a poser, but it wasn't.

"No," said the man promptly, "I wouldn't expect that; but if the farmer had his team hitched and was going my way, I should call him a darn mean cuss if he wouldn't let me ride."

Mr. Employee came out three minutes afterward with a pass good for twelve months.

LORD ELDON'S FATHER.—After the death of his first wife, he rose one morning with the whimsical resolution of marrying any one of his maids who should first appear on his ringing the bell. He rang, and the chambermaid came up, to whom he abruptly said: "Get yourself ready, and go with me to be married." The silly girl, treating the affair as a joke, refused, and withdrew. He rang the bell a second time, when the cook maid appeared, to whom, he said: "Well, my girl, I intend this day to make you my wife; go and dress yourself with the best you have, and order the coach immediately." She took him at his word, dressed herself, and, coming down stairs, was met by the silly chambermaid, who asked her where she was going? "Abroad, I have my masters leave." She had scarcely uttered these words, when her master came down, and took her by the hand to the coach, which drove to St. Bennet's Church, where they were married.

Waiting time are times wherein God is pleased to give the people some sweet taste of his love, and lifts up the light of his countenance on them.

A GOOD IDEA.—At an entertainment in Winstead, Ct., recently, Mrs. Frank Moore, wife of the editor of the Winstead Herald, was awarded the premium as the handsomest married lady."

Trying to Sound Niagara.

The gentleman who has been trying the experiment of sounding the river Niagara below the falls writes as follows: Another attempt has been made with a similar iron of about ten lbs. weight attached to a No. 11 wire, all freely suspended, so as not to impede the fall of the weight. I then let the weight fall from the top of the bridge, at the height of 225 feet. It struck the surface fairly, with the point down, and must have sunk to some depth, but was not longer out of sight than one second, when it made its appearance on the surface about 100 feet down stream, and skipped along like a chip until it was checked by the wire. We then commenced hauling it in slowly, which made the iron bounce like a ball, when a cake of ice struck it and ended the sport. I am satisfied that no metal has sufficient specific gravity to pierce the current, even with a momentum of 225 feet. The velocity of the iron when striking, must have been equal to 124 feet per second, and consequently its momentum was nearly 5,000 pounds. Its surface opposed to the current was about 50 superficial inches. This will give us an idea of the strength of the current and at the same time hint at the Titan forces that have been at work to scoop out the bed of the Niagara river.

THE RIGHT KIND OF LIQUOR.—At the late temperance convention in Saratoga, a gentleman took occasion to utter a word of caution as to the circulation of evil reports concerning the loss of battles by the intemperance of commanding generals. He said that shortly before Vicksburg was taken, an anxious patriot went to the President to urge that Gen. Grant should be removed from his command because he "drinks." Mr. Lincoln calmly inquired of the visitor if he could tell what liquor Gen. Grant drinks. The man could not tell what it was. "I am sorry you can't inform me," said Mr. L., "for I should like to recommend some of the same kind of liquor to some other Generals."

BEWARE HOW YOU USE IT.—All admit the influence one sex has over the other. None will deny the influence the wife has over the son, or the sister over the brother; but while we know that we possess that influence, we should be careful, very careful how we use it. Man, in the majority of cases, will not be commanded or corrected in any measure. Tenderness, and persuasion and affection may and will accomplish much; while a different course will estrange him farther from you. Oh, how the words of a criminal, who was convicted for a State Prison offence now ring in our ears. He said: "One kind word, one affectionate look from my wife, would have saved me from this."

A Dutchman describing a rainy night, said; "Vell, last Friday night vash de voist as never vash. I thought to go down der hill to mine housh, but de fashter I valks the fashter I stand still, for de dark he vash so tick dat I could not stir mine poots, and de rain—dunder and blixen—in more as dree minnets mine skin vas vet to mine close. But after von leetle vile he stop quitten to rain someding, so I keep feelin for mineself all de vay long, and ven I comes to my own house to valk in, vat you tink—mine Cot! he belongs to somebody else.

FROM THE TIME that, at my mother's feet, or on my father's knee, I first learned to lisp verses from the Sacred Writings, they have been my daily study and vigilant contemplation. If there be anything in my style or thought to be commended, the credit is due to my kind parents in instilling into my mind an early love of the Scriptures.—Daniel Webster.

FAITH AND WORKS.—It is an unhappy division that has been made between faith and works. Though in my intellect I may divide them, just as in the candle I know there is light and heat, yet put out the candle and they are both gone—one remains not without the other; so it is with faith and works.

A little girl of four years was saying her prayers not long since, when her little brother, three years older, came slyly behind and pulled her hair. Without moving her head, she paused and said:—'Please Lord, excuse me a minute, while I kick Freddy.'

A TEMPERANCE PEOPLE.—One of our Western villages had passed an ordinance forbidding taverns to sell liquor on the Sabbath, to any person except travelers. The next Sunday every man in town was seen walking around with a valise in one hand and a pair of saddle bags in the other.

THE PATHS of virtue are plain and straight, so that the blind persons of the meanest capacity shall not err. Dishonesty requires skill to conduct it, and as great art to conceal.

The Weekly Union.

Mankato, Friday, Oct. 2, 1863.

Republican Union Ticket.

For Governor,
STEPHEN MILLER.
For Lieutenant Governor,
CHARLES D. SHERWOOD.
For Secretary of State,
DAVID BLAKELY.
For Auditor of State,
CHARLES McILRATH,
For State Treasurer,
CHARLES SCHEFFER.
For Attorney General,
GORDON E. COLE,
For Clerk of the Supreme Court,
GEORGE F. POTTER.

17th LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT.

For State Senator,
B. Y. COFFIN.
For Representatives,
WILLIAM RUSSELL,
J. A. PHELPS,
FREEMAN TALBOT,

COUNTY TICKET.

For Sheriff,
ELIJAH MIDDLEBROOK.
For Register of Deeds,
BENJAMIN F. SMITH,
For Treasurer,
A. T. LINDHOLM.
For Judge of Probate
DAVID WILCOX
For County Surveyor.
WILLIAM L. COON.
For Coroner,
T. T. PEIRCE,
For County Commissioners,
1st Dist.--H. ROBERTSON,
2d Dist.--L. G. M. FLETCHER,
3d Dist.--JOHN I. JONES,

Republican Union Platform.

Resolved, that we, chosen to represent in convention the unconditional Union men of Minnesota, grateful to Almighty God for the success which has hitherto crowned the arms of our country and for the prospect thus opened of a speedy, honorable and lasting peace, do hereby, for our friends and constituents, re-affirm our determination to support our Government by every means in our power in the vigourous prosecution of this present war,—on our part, holy, just, and forced upon us by the criminal acts of others,—until not an enemy in arms shall be found within our borders. And to this we pledge our lives our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

2. That we tender our grateful thanks to the survivors of our glorious armies, and our warm sympathy to the relatives of their gallant dead, who have won for the country so glorious victories, for themselves imperishable renown, and for us all an assurance of liberty and safety for our children, under our beloved and now well-tried Government.

3. That with especial pride we point to the gallant achievements on many a hard-fought battlefield, of our Minnesota regiments. Their bravery, discipline, and patriotism have won for them a name that shall never die, and made it forever honorable to be a citizen of Minnesota.

4. That, without claiming for it exemption from error, we heartily endorse the general policy and conduct of our National Administration; and we point to the recent magnificent triumph of our armies as its best vindication from the charges of incapacity so freely brought against it by those who prefer national ruin, to success under the present Administration. Especially do we approve the emancipation proclamation, and the raising of black troops as being among the best possible measures to weaken the enemy and strengthen ourselves.

5 That our State Administration, and our Congressional Delegation deserve our hearty approbation for the zealous and efficient cooperation they have afforded the National Authorities in carrying on the war.

6 That we call upon those in authority to take such measures, by retaliation or otherwise, as shall effectually prevent brutal and barbarous treatment by the enemy of our soldiers, of whatever color.

7 That it is due to our shattered armies in the field, as well as to the sacred cause which they uphold, that their ranks should as speedily as possible be filled up by every means in our power. It is due to the country that the mobs raised to resist and prevent the draft, should not seem to have succeeded a day longer than is necessary to enforce the laws.

8 That the way to peace is and ever has been open to the rebels; the only condition we have ever sought to impose, is that they should lay down their arms and submit to the authority of the General Government. We protest against the making of any terms with them in advance as to their status as communities, when they shall have returned to their allegiance. Having been declared "public enimies" by a recent unanimous decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, they must accept the consequences that legitimately flow from having placed themtves in that position.

INDIAN SUPPLIES.

Through the efforts of Senator Wilkinson, the Secretary of the Interior has empowered Col. Thompson, the Superintendent of Indian affairs, to establish a depot for the purchase of Indian goods, provisions, cattle, &c., at Mankato.

If this effort to open the route from Mankato to the Missouri proves successful, as we now see nothing to prevent, it will work greatly to the advantage of the people in this vicinity. It will furnish a ready market at our door, for from $100,000 to $150,000, worth of provisions, annually, and the people will receive the profit arising from the transportation of supplies to the place of destination. The establishment of a mail route from Mankato to the new agencies will be rendered necessary by the success of this enterprise, and a semi or tri weekly mail sent over the route to the military posts and Indian agencies on the Missouri.

Besides, this route is the most practicable one to the gold mines, which have been recently developed on the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains, the Black Hills, and in the valley of the Yellow Stone.

The excessive low water in the Missouri River the past season, has created the necessity which led to the establishment of this route, as it is now almost, if not quite, impossible to supply the Indians by the river.

Our people must see at once the immense advantage which this part of the State will ultimately derive from the success of this measure.

The Copperhead Record Supports the Copperhead Ticket.

The Record has finally come to its milk, and decided to support the traitorous ticket patched up and put forth by the Democratic State Committee. The following first rate notice from the Press is very much to the point:—

The Mankato Record, since the Copperhead nominations, has aptly personified the old scene of an ass between two bundles of hay, unable to decide which to eat. It grew faint and weary and at last true to its instincts, turned from the Union to devour the Copperhead bundle.

The weighty motive which induces the Wise Record to adopt this course, is the fact that Mainzer declared himself in favor of Col. Robertson's resolution and "says it also meets the approval of the committee and his associates upon the ticket," The Record adds, "with this assurance we hoist the ticket to the head of our paper."

It will be comforting to this sheet, which has been eagerly watching for an opportunity to 'bout face, to learn that no sooner had Mainzer appeared in his second card than he regretted it, and was sorely tempted to come out a third time repudiating the previous card and acknowledging that he had been deceived. It is only by strenuous efforts and daily labor that he is kept on the track at all and if he should decline after all, what would become of the Record.

It has fastened itself to the tail of the ticket and if that drops off it loses its strong hold. The friends of the Record need have no fears, however, for if Mainzer should fail to stand fast, that paper is sufficiently versed in acro batic performances to,

"Wheel about and turn about,
And do jus' so,
And every time it wheels about,
Jump Jim Crow."

◆

OUR Booneville-monument-rearing friend Torry has published another letter in reply to our article of last week, wherein he deals largely in Billings gate, and says he does not believe that we ever received the letter to which we referred. If he will take the trouble to call at our office we can easily remove his doubts, by permitting him to read the letter. We do not propose to give him further notoriety by refering to a matter which has no existence only in his imagination. He reminds us of a couple of gentlemen who were traveling together and one day met a skunk in the road. One of them proposed to kill it, but the other said "no, no, let the d—d thing alone; it will stink itself to death!",

The Record denies that Mr. Porter was ever a Know Nothing and says that he was elected Clerk of the County Court of Lancaster Pa., in 1854, as the Anti-Know Nothing candidate. This is false in every particular. In 1854 the Know Nothings carried that State by an overwhelming majority, and Mr. Porter was the Whig candidate, and was elected by the Whigs and Know Nothings. Mr. Porter was not only supported by the Know Nothings, but was a member of a Know Nothing Lodge, and familiar with all the "grips, signs, passwords, etc." Try again, will you?

Porter-Meagher Tobacco---A $1.60 Cent Campaign.

The brave boys of Co. E, previous to leaving Hutchinson and Long Lake, were presented with eight pounds of electionering tobacco, by Messrs Porter and Meagher. It was in a large package and laid where the boys would help themselves. After it was all disposed of, it was the cause of much sport and burlesquing in the company. "Give me some tobacco," says one, "Well—I—have nothing but Porter tobacco; if you will consent to vote for him you can have it." "Of course, of course," was the reply, and then the tobacco was freely distributed.

Colonel Miller and the Seventh Regiment.

Owing to injuries received in the service (affecting the small of the back and the kidneys) Col. Miller is unable to ride on horseback, and cannot, therefore, accompany the Seventh Regiment into active service. He has determined to resign, so soon as the necessary certificate of the settlement of his ordinance account can be received from the department at Washington.

The Seventh will go South under Lieut. Col. Marshal, who has been in command of the regiment during the period of its active service in the field. It is uncertain whether any promotion can be made to fill the vacancy of Colonel, owing to a late order not allowing such promotion where a regiment is below the minimum.

Col. Miller has joined in an application to have the rule suspended in this case, in consideration of the fact that the regiment would be above the minimum, of eight hundred and forty-four, if thirty men had not been transferred from it to the Third Battery. The regiment now reports eight hundred and seventeen, and with the thirty in the battery would have eight hundred and forty seven. —Press.

◆

WINNEBAGO AGENCY, D. T., Sept. 10.
To the Editor of the Union;

You will perhaps be surprised that I write from this place, as I was to be home, or on my way there, at this time.

Major Balcombe has not returned, on account of sickness in his family, and I cannot leave until he gets back.

Col. Thompson is in Washington on business connected with Indian affairs, and will not return before the 1st of October.

I must say that I am rather becoming attached to this place. Since the 1st of July there has quite a little village sprung up as if by magic. We are progressing rapidly with our stockade, enclosing an area of 400 feet, taking in all the agency buildings and trading houses. The pickets are of cedar, fifteen feet high, squared with the saw, and of sufficient thickness to defy Indian bullets. There are bastions at the corners, mounted with small artillery.

I have of late roamed over this, or rather those reservations, or at least the portions bordering the river, and am satisfied that Col. Thompson has made the best location that could have peen found between Fert Randall and Fort Pierre. The soil is evidently productive along the river, extending out from the river in wide alluvial bottom land, and in many places covered with considerable bodies of timber. There are numerous islands well wooded, many of them with cedar, of which we are building our fortifications, and from the number of rafts continually arriving the supply must be ample.

The Winnebagoes are daily becoming better satisfied with their new homes. They have of late extended their hunts, and have killed quite a number of buffalo and other game. The beaver abounds along the streams. Successful hunting gives them amusement, as well as affording them the means of supplying little wants. There has been much sickness among children. Many have died of whooping-cough and dysentery, contracted on the trip.

Col. Thompson deserves credit for his untiring energy and faithful oversight of every department connected with his charge, taking hold with his own hands, and his mechanical knowledge has been of great use to him, as none others could supply his place in fitting up the machinery for the mills, We all think, up here, that he is the "right man in the right place." M. R. W.

Another Attempt to Defraud the Soldiers.

The St, Paul Press has the following expose of the base attempt of the Copperheads in this County. to insult and defraud our soldiers, an account of which we published last week:

A correspondent has forwarded us a copy of the tickets printed by the Blue Earth Copperheads and forwarded to the soldiers. As was to be expected they have endeavored to perpetrate a gross fraud upon our absent voters.

They have prepared two tickets both headed "Soldiers' Union Ticket." One contains the Union State ticket but the names of Mr. McIlrath and Mr. Scheffer are interchanged so that it reads "For State Treasurer, Chas. McIlrath," "For State Auditor, Chas. Scheffer." Following this, is the Copperhead Legislative and County tickets for the Blue Earth District, with the exception of the E. A. Park, Copperhead nominee for Register of Deeds, which is marked out, and the name of the Union nominee, B. F. Smith, written in its stead.

The second style, reads for Governor, H. T. Welles, and for State Treasurer, Peter Wilkin, the balance of the Copperhead State ticket being left blank. Then follows the entire Copperhead Legislative and County ticket. They have the presumption to head this abortion "Soldiers' Union Ticket."

Soldiers should bear in mind that Charles McIlrath is candidate for State Auditor, and Charles Scheffer is candidate for State Treasurer on the Union ticket, and not vice versa as the Copperheads have printed it. Any votes cast for the fraudulent ticket would be the same as thrown away so far as those two officers are concerned Soldiers should make it an invariable rule to read over the whole ticket carefully before voting, and they can also set it down as certain that any tickets forwarded by the Copperheads contain some fraud, and although they may not be able to detect it at the time, they may rest assured that the only safe way will be to destroy the base impositions, and vote the tickets forwarded by Union men.

A Religious Copperhead.

The report of the proceedings of the Synod of St. Paul, which we publish this morning, contains one quite interesting item. A short time before the close of the Synod, a patriotic resolution was introduced, and unanimously adopted, of which the following is the first clause:

Resolved. That the Synod rejoices in the progress made by the Government of the United States, in the good work of putting down the great rebellion, as evidenced in recent victories.

To this noble sentiment, the pious Copperhead who furnishes our report, appends the following note:

"It is proper to state here, that when the above resolution was adopted unanimously, some member of the Synod were not present, who, with the reporter, whose attention at the time was given to the copying this report, would have dissented to the first clause of the resolution, but heartily concurred in the remainder."

We have only the doubtful statement of this religious Copperhead as evidence that any absentee would have voted against the "first clause," and we do not consider the word of a confessed traitor very goon testimony.

This is as fair a specimen of "stealing the livery of heaven to serve the devil in," as it is easy to conceive, and we greatly admire the religion of "the reporter." It is akin to that displayed by Judas Iscariot and if he will only complete the parallel by taking himself off in any of the supposed methods, that caused Judas to depart this life, even to bursting himself asunder, we will forbear further criticism.

In the meantime if he should survive until the next meeting of the Synod, greater credit will be reflected on that body by securing the services of some one besides this Copperhead ass, as "the reporter."—Press.

Statement of a Refugee from Charleston.

A young man, who has been in the employment of the Rebels in Virginia and South Carolina since the commencement of the rebellion, arrived in Philadelphia recently, on his way to Massachusetts. He left Charleston just before the famous "shelling" which General Gilmore bestowed upon the city a few weeks since, and came Northward, via Richmond, Gordonsville, Staunton, Winchester, and Martinsburgh. The Philadelphia Inquirer says of him.

"Our informant states that he was in Fort Moultrie when Admiral Dupont made the attack on Fort Sumter, and he says that the fire of the Monitors inflicted severe damage upon the Fort at that time; a hole was knocked into the Northeast face of the work large enough to drive a wagon through. Cotten bales and sand bags were afterwards filled into this aperature, and the walls were strengthened by piling up the same material against the walls on the inside. He says that word was telegraphed to Moultrie, from Sumter to concentrate its fire upon the Keokuk, and both forts fired broadsides at the unfortunate vessel simultaneously.

The line of torpedoes does not run entirely across the channel, and the main obstruction is an immense network of ropes, formed somewhat like a ladder, which extends across the channel. When a vessel designs leaving Charleston. word is sent to Sumter, and the ropework is drawn aside to premit the egress of the blockade runner. When a ship comes in, she lays to under Sumter until the process is re-enacted. This obstruction is supported by tar barrels. There are two floating batteries, ribbed with iron, and only two iron-clad rams in the harbor, namely, the Chicora and Palmetto State. Upon these the Rebels rely very much in their defense of Charleston.

In reference to the feeling of the people concerning the burning or surrender of that city, he says that the universal resolve of the inhabitants is, that they are willing that it should be burned rather than surrendered to General Gilmore. There were not over three hundred noncombatants in the city when Gilmore shelled it with Greek fire.

HOPE.—A bright and beautiful word is hope. It will come to us amid the darkness, and sing the sweetest song when our spirits are saddest; and when the lone soul is weary, and longs to pass away, it warbles its sunniest notes, and tightens again the slender fibers of our heart that grief has been tearing away.

MRS. BOETLER'S NARRATIVE.

ST. PETER, Oct. 1st.
To the Editor of the Union.

The following extract from the personal narrative of Mrs. Justina Boetler, of Renville County, is replete with terrible reality. The subject of this narrative lived on Beaver River, 10 miles from the lower Sioux Agency. She had three children, two of whom she took with her, a brother-in-law taking the younger—a babe. At the time she left her house, her husband was searching for his team. After rehearsing her hardships for the first five weeks, she gives the following simple but sad picture of her subsequent trials:

"At the end of five weeks the eldest of the two children died of starvation, and I had become too weak to get about, except with great difficulty. The night before the child died it asked piteously for water—but it was dark, and I was, in my weak condition, unable to get any for the suffering child. I told it to wait until morning, when I could see and she should have have some water. The poor child never saw the morning. She died during the night—and a chilly, dark, rainy and dismal night it was. I had no fire, and thin clothing we had on when we fled was not sufficient to keep myself and the children warm. It had not rained for four days. I and the children were bare footed. The dress I had taken from the house on my first visit, was our only cover from the element, Cold, wet, and starving I staid by the body of the dead child, being too much reduced, to either bury or get away from it. The body now became offensive and I crawled off some ten feet from it. There I remained until the Sunday following the death of my dear child, which occurred on the Wednesday previous,—and from Friday until Sunday ate the leaves of the grape vine, which from trial, I had learned would sustain life. My milk failed at the death of my eldest child, and I now commenced feeding the one yet living on grapes leaves. The first I gave it was on Sunday the fourth day after the failure of its nourishment from the breast,

The flies had become so troublesome near the dead child, that I was unable to remain longer near it. The strength I had gained from the grape leaves, enabled me to remove some fifty yards away. There I remained about two weeks longer, subsisting on grape leaves and water, But now another affliction came on me. A heavy frost came from the cold heavens and killed the grape leaves. My hopes of life seemed to fall, with the falling leaves, to the earth. The sources of life, one after another were failing. Weak and now emaciated, I still clung to life, though the future seemed dark and cheerless. Trusting in the gracious hand that feeds the young ravens, when they cry, I put forth all my strength to go in search of some sheltered, secluded spot, where the leaves might have escape the ravages of the frust, but found only a very few after a long and weary search, I retraced my steps and for many hours looked in vain for my child. Persevering in the search I at last found my darling one. In this way I remained until all the green leaves were gone.

To live longer in the woods seemed impossible. I now sought the field of my brother-in-law for food, leaving the child in the woods. I reached the field—distant one quarter of a mile—found a few potatoes and a small pumpkin. Unable to take both at once, I carried the potatoes a short distance, and the returned for the pumpkin—and thus by alternate efforts succeeded in getting both to the place of retreat. Now another affliction—horrible beyond expression came upon me. The whole family of snakes came, large and small, crawling around me in every form; as one company would leave, another would come; but finding they did me no harm, they ceased to be annoying, and indeed their company seemed agreeable, in my lonely condition. They were serpents in name, but angels beside the Indians I had escaped."

Mrs. Boetler states that she heard firing the Sunday after she went to the field; and supposing the Indians were about remained in her retreat another week. The weather had now become so cold, that she could not endure it longer. She adds:

"I concluded to return again to my own home, and if I must die, to die there; and yet I had hope that mercy was in store for one who had suffered so much. Trusting in the arm of Him who is stronger than man, and who is always better to us than our fears, I took up my child, and by the aid of a stick used as a cane, finally reached my own, once dear, but now desolate and cheerless home. I gathered the scattered feathers into a bed on the floor and laid the child down, as near dead as alive, and as white as alabaster. It was Saturday night and I lay down with my child, and slept in my own house, after an absence of nine weeks, On Sunday morning the sun rose bright and pleasant, and all nature looked cheerful, contrasting greatly with my lonely condition. I seemed more to enjoy the out door world, than my own desolate abode. As the sun had ascended the heavens some two hours the thought came forcibly upon me, to seek my retreat in the woods, and trust to the protection of a kind Providence, away from the abodes of civilized life, now so attractive to the Indian savage. Previous to my intended departure. among the rubbish of the plundered house, I had found a mutilated copy of the Bible which I had been accustomed to read. It seemed like an old friend; I opened it, and read its consoling truths. Heaven and its calm joys, came into my mind very gently, and gave me great consolation. I felt comparatively happy While in this exercise, trusting to the guiding hand of gracious Providence, two soldiers came to the door and gently opened it, a bench only being placed against it to keep it closed. As they looked cautiously in I crawled to meet them, under the impression that they were Indians, come to kill me. I could not even at a short distance distinguish any object. My sight had almost entirely failed, and yet my hearing was much more acute than ever before. I had been able to detect the slightest moan of my child, asleep or awake. I heard the soldiers clap their hands together, probably horrified at the sight of such an amaciated being as I was. I did not see who they were. I crawled up to them and took one of the by the hand, and begged them not to kill me. And looking up I saw the tears running down the face of them man. I knew then they were not Indians and was overjoyed at the thought of their being white men and soldiers too, in whom I could depend for protection."

Were further evidence needed to prove the base treachery and deceitfulness of the fiendish savage, the following picture, ought to satisfy the most fastidious. They are not to be trusted.

"We now return once more to the scene of blood and conflagration at the Agency. That white-haired interpreter—Philander Prescott now verging upon seventy years of age, alarmed, hastily left his house soon after meeting with Little Crow, and fled towards Fort Ridgley. The other members of the family remained—knowing that their relation to the tribe would save them. Mr. Prescott had gone several miles, when he was overtaken and most brutally murdered in cold blood. His murderers came and talked with him, and he reasoned with them thus, saying; 'I am an old man. I have lived with you forty-five years—almost half a century, My wife and children are amongst you, and are of your own blood. I have never done you any harm—have been your true friend in all your troubles: why should you wish to kill me?' Their only reply was. 'We would save your life if we could, but the white man must die; we cannot spare your life; our orders are to kill all white men; you are a white man! We cannot spare you.'

Seeing that all remonstrance was vain and hopeless, and that his hour had come, the aged man, with a firm step and noble bearing—such as became one who had done no wrong—sadly turned away from the deaf ear and iron heart of the savage, and with dignity and composure received the fatal messenger of death.

Thus perished, Philander Prescott, the constant friend of the Indian, by the hand of that perfidious race, whom he had so long and so faithfully labored to benefit, and to so little purpose."

NOW AND THEN.

FOREIGN NEWS.

BOSTON, Sept. 26.—The steamer Anglia, from Galway, 15th arrived at this port this p. m. Her dates are two days later than those already received.

Advices from Cherbourg, in the Courier du Havre says that the Confederate steamer Alabama will probably visit that port, and a letter addressed to Capt. Semmes, gives some foundation to the rumor.

PARIS, Sept. 13.—The Pays of this evening believes itself able to state that the maritime perfect Brest has opposed the seizure of the Confederate steamer Florida in consequence of an order from Paris issued as the Pay asserts with the object of the preserving the inviolability of the harbor as a military post.

The gates of Warsaw have been closed for ten days to any person desiring to enter or leave the city. Two hundred of the inhabitants have been transported to Liberia.

The Russian authorities have imposed enormous taxes upon the ancient provinces of Poland.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The America from Breman via Southampton, 16th, has arrived. The steamer Star sailed from Clyde to run the blockade, and two others were ready to follow.

Eighty of the Florida's crew arrived at Cardiff and proceeded to Liverpool.

The Confederate loan was 25 discount. Consuls 93⅜a93½ for money.

FRANCE.—Fould was preparing a finance report. It is said to be very favorable to the Russian reply to the last French note received.

The Nation says the tone of the Russian dispatch was very conciliating and does not revert to the discussion of the six points of armistice, nor conference.

The Times Paris correspondent says the attachment of the Florida will not be allowed to take place while in the imperial dock yard.

AUSTRIA.—General Corres denies the statement that Metternich has assured France that Austria would unconditionally ally herself with France in the Polish question, even to the extent of war with Russia.

Senator Wilkinson.

On Thursday last we had the pleasure of meeting Hon. M. S. Wilkinson, our United State Senator, for the first time. Although never having seen him before, we have known him by his public acts ever since he was elected to the high and honorable position he now holds. While residing in Ohio, and previous to our taking up our home in Minnesota, we felt proud of the vigorous and trustworthy Senator from Minnesota. No man from the West has taken so active, and at the same time, so influential a part in our great struggles as has this noble man. He is true to his country; true to the liberties of the nation; true to duty; He hates, with a righteous hatred, human slavery; and he is always politic and discreet in legislative acts. Minnesota should be proud of Senator Wilkinson. He is giving character to her people, and a name to them that will be respected.

We are glad to be able to announce that Mr. Wilkinson has consented to to speak to the people of Austin at some future time previous to election.—Mower County Register.

LATEST NEWS.

News by Friday Morning's Mail.

CINCINNATI. Sept, 30—The Gazstte says official dispatches received from Rosecran's last nigot, dated yesterday, P. M. reports the situation unchanged. Our army held a strong defensive position, and no attempt has been made by the enemy to dislodge us.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A special to the Post from Washington says thare is the highest authority for stating that the rumors current yesterday of disasters to the army are false.

She Republican of this morning says that good news has been received which will be made public in a few days.

The Union delegation of Missouri have requested the President to send them another General, and if they do not overstep the bounds of propriety ask thet the commander sent be Major General Butler. They believe that his presence there would restore order and peace in Missouri in less than sixty days. He would be received by their people with great rejoicing, and they would once more be permitted to feel that loyalty is due the government of Missouri.

No fears need be entertained that the army of the Potomac is weaker than the force in front. From latest advices it appears it largely outnumbers the enemy's army, placing infantry against the rebel line of all arms, while we have a very large force of cavalry besides, daily hanging over tue enemy, and making any movement on his part difficult.

Everything along the lines has been quiat since Thursday, and there is no indication of an immediate movement, unless by the enemy's force, for which we are fully prepared

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

LIST OF LETTERS

REMAINING in the Post Office at Mankato for the month ending Aug 31st, 1863. Persons enquiring will please call for "advertised letters."

Amell Oliver
Ashley
Beardsley John Q
Bliss Lt W C
Cook Wm W
Conklin Wm
Cook Abigail
Darr Gardner
Derby Jos W
Dunnberg Joseph
Evans James A
Ferber J T
Graham Ami
Inglehart Philip
Johnson Me'ina
Kirk Mrs Agnes
Miner Shepard Mr
Prosser Mrs E
Rankin D M 2
Skomaker Sophia
Stoddard H T
Shelby C H
Taytor Joseph
Worth & A

R. J. SIBLEY, P. M.

THE GREAT REBELLION.
BY
J. T. HEADLEY.
A History of the Civil War in the United States. In two volumes.
Sold by subscription, and obtained only through authorized agents. The first volume is now ready for distribution.

WHEN YOU WANT
BOOTS
AND SHOES
AT WHOLESALE
Don't fail to call on us at Saint Paul,
We have the
LARGEST STOCK IN THE STATE,
And sell at
LOW PRICES.
WM. J. SMITH & CO.,
12-6m Saint Paul Minn.

THE COUNTY.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

St. Paul—Arrives at 9 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Eastern—Arrives at 4 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Blue Earth City—Arrives at 5 P. M. and departs at 7 A. M. Closes 7 P. M.

Office hours—5 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays, 5 to 7 A. M., and 12 M. to 1 P. M.

R. J. SIBLEY, Postmaster.

Agents for the Union.

The following are authorized to receive and receipt for monies paid on subscription to the UNION:

Mankato—MARTIN N. SLOCUM.
South Bend—LARS LEE.
Garden City—RAY & WILLIAMS.
Vernon—THOMAS SOWERS.
Shelbyville—H. A. BUCK, R. SHANNON.
Winnebago City—HOLLY and WELCH.
Verona—A. D. MASON.
Blue Earth City—W. J. C. ROBERTSON.
Fairmount—W. W. CARRINGTON.
Mapleton—S. MIDDLEBROOK.
Madelia—C. G. MULLEN.
New Ulm—J. C. RUDOLPH.
Judson—MR. GOODWIN.
Winnebago Agency—LUCIUS DYER.
Sterling—WILLIAM RUSSELL.
Butternut Valley—REV. J. JENKINS.

Hon M. S. Wilkinson arrived in town last Monday, after a brief tour through the State.

NEARLY all of our merchants are receiving their fall stock of goods. We shall notice them in detail next week.

Don't forget the Faribault County Fair at Blue Earth City, next Wednesday. It promises to be an interesting occasion.

THE next meeting of the Ladies Soldiers Aid Society will be held at the house of Zachariah Paddock, Esq., Thursday October 8th at 2 o'clock P. M.

THE Democrats in Le Sueur County have followed the example set them by their brethern in this county, and are circulating bogus tickets,

NEW TOWN SITE.—We understand that a new town site has been located, and a town started, upon School Section number 16, about a mile above South Bend. The parties interested are from Fox Lake, Wis.

Our citizens were highly pleased to meet our worthy representative in Congress, Hon Wm. Windom, last Saturday evening. He delivered a strong Union speech, suited to the times, which was well received by a large audience.

DEPARTED.—Nearly all the boys in Capt. Dane's company started for the Fort yesterday morning. Sad were the partings that took place between friends who may never meet again. We wish the boys God speed, and a safe return from the war.

THE editor of the Record is informed that he did apply the term "thieves and plunderers" to Capt. Dane's company last fall, his own statement to the contrary notwithstanding. We refer him to the files of the Independent and Record of September and October, 1862.

A LIVE PAPER.—The La Crosse (Wis.,) Democrat, edited by M. M. (better known as "Brick") Pomeroy is one of the most lively, spicy, saucy, original and independent papers ever published in this country. If you want a paper, and you surely do now that winter is coming on, that you will relish and read from first to last, by all means send for it. Daily $7 a year, weekly $1,50 a year—$1, for eight months.

THE GREAT REBELLION.—Z. M. Flowers, canvassing agent for this popular work, in the Minnesota and Blue Earth Valleys, is now prepared to furnish subscribers with the first volume. It is a very popular, and destined to be a very valuable work, and the name of the celebrated author is a sufficient guarentee of its literary character and value. We trust every one will avail themselves of this means of getting a reliable history of the war. See advertisement.

MR. EDITOR,—By invitation from Mr. Shaw, the gentlemanly conductor of the Writing School now in progress in this place, I attended his school Tuesday evening as a visitor. I was gratified to find so many in attendance, such perfect order, and such masterly exhibition of skill in his profession, on the part of the teacher. I have attended writing schools, as a scholar, in my youth; but I have never before seen anything of this sort to be compared with Mr. Shaw's School. I hope our citizens, who desire to acquire a practical knowledge of this ornamental and useful art, will avail themselves of the present opportunity.

JAS. THOMSON.

A SPECIMEN OF GOOD PRINTING.—We have received a Mammoth poster printed for the State Fair, which is a credit to the office that got it up. In artistic skill it surpasses anything we have ever seen in the State, and its typographical appearance and execution does great credit to the Atlas Printing Company, of Minneapolis. Friend King is now able to compete with any office in the State, he has new job material, new presses, and a job printer who understands his "biz."

RETURNED.—Mrs. Potts, Milliner, returned from the East, Tuesday last, where she has been to purchase goods. Her fall stock will soon be here, and then, ladies, you can empty your purses of those "greenbacks," knowing you will get your money's worth.

RECOVERED.—We are pleased to meet upon the street again, Rev. Mr. Hicks, who has nearly recovered from his late sickness.

WRITING SCHOOL.—We again urge upon the attention of our citizens the necessity of improving the opportunity presented by Mr. Shaw, teacher of penmanship. His class, which numbers over forty scholars, has made very marked improvement, though the first term is only half out. We understand he proposes to teach a second term if a class equal to the present one can be formed. By all means do not neglect this opportuntity.

The following letter from the Chicago Sanitary Commission explains itself:—

CHICAGO, SEPT. 22, 1863.

To Mrs. J. R. Tinkcom, Sec. Ladies' Solders' Aid Society:

DEAR MADAM:—The object of this communication is to interest the ladies of your town in the approaching Fair, to be held the last of October and first of November in this place. Any information you may need may be obtained from the accompanying circular. Will you take pains to interest the country around, as far as possible. To aid you in this, I will mail several circulars, which you can send where you think they will effect the most. No words of persuasion are necessary to enlist you in this work. The late fearful loss of life in Rosecrans' division should nerve us to greater endeavors.

Should you need any further information, please write to the rooms of Chicago San. Commission, Yours Respectfully, Mrs. W. W. EVERTS.

The following named ladies are requested to receive donations for the North-western Fair, to be held at Chicago, for the Sanitary Commission, on the 27th October, 1863, viz.

Mrs. Lewis Branson,	Mrs. J. R. Tinkcom,
Mrs. A. Jackson,	Mrs. C. A. Chapman,
Mrs C. Dunscombe,	Mrs. D. H. Tyner,
Mrs. D. Buck,	Mrs. Miner Porter,
Mrs. T. Parsons,	Mrs. Frances Waite,
Mrs. P. K. Johnson,	Mrs. N. Wolebin.

The circular enumerating the articles desirable for the Fair, is so lengthy that we have not room to publish it. It contains every conceivable thing that can be made and sold. We hope the people of the county will interest themselves in this Fair, and send to the Committee appointed, everything they can contribute,

THE SOLDIERS' SUPPER.—The Supper given by the Ladies of Mankato, Wednesday evening, to our Soldiers who have been ordered South, was a decided success. Leech's Hall was filled to overflowing at an early hour, and music being in attendance dancing was the order of the evening, until supper was announced.

In the room, on the first floor a table was set nearly eighty feet in length, which was well supplied with all the delicacies and luxuries which our ladies know so well how to get up. The arrangements of setting the table, and waiting upon the guests, were superintended by Messrs. Seward and Wampler, and Mrs. Hubbell, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Brink, Mrs. Prael, Mrs. Tyner, Mrs. Bradley, and others, who deserve much credit. The table was spread four times before all could be accommodated.

After the supper was over, which was about eleven o'clock, the ladies and gentlemen repaired to he Hall above, and enjoyed themselves in tripping the "light fantastic toe" until long past midnight.

About four hundred persons were present, and the fact was fully established, that whenever the ladies of Mankato take hold of an enterprise of the kind it is sure to succeed.

EDMUND KIRKE, Author of Among the Pines, &c, and until recently one of the Editors of the Continental, is prepared to accept a limited number of invitations to Lecture before Literary Associations, during the coming fall and winter, on 'The Southern Whites: Their Social and Political Characteristics.' He can be addressed 'care of Continental Monthly, New York.'

We are requested to state that the Sioux Commissioners, being required to make a report and forward it, with all the claims presented, the testimony taken in each, and their findings in each, to the Secretary of the Interior, on or before the 1st day of December next cannot, and will not hear any testimony after the first of November. Claimants will please govern themselves accordingly, WM J. SMITH & CO.—Those in want of Boots and Shoes will do well to read the advertisement of Wm J. Smith & Co, of Saint Paul. We have been in their splendid store, in Thompson's new block, and can testify that what they say is true. They sell chiefly at wholesale, and many who buy at Milwaukee or Chicago, or even at the East, might find it to their advantage to give them a call before purchasing.

LADIES' SOLDIERS' AID SOCIETIES.—We have been permitted to examine the report of the Chicago Branch of U. S. Sanitary Commission for the month of August, and we find there have been received for shipment to Soldiers, in that month, 315 packages; there were shipped in the same month 1,171 packages. The total value of supplies shipped in the month of August was $18,450,00.

On the 28th of August the Commission received from the Aid Society of this place per Mrs Tincom, Secretary, $20,50. The total amount received from the State during the same month was $99,80.

SECESSION.—Secede from every name and kind of Saleratus except the Chemical Saleratus. This is the kind to use on every occasion. For sale by all grocers.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.—Rev Mr. Kellogg, of Chicago, is expected to preach at City Hall next Sabbath evening at 7 o'clock.

The resolutions passed at the Union meeting in Blue Earth City last Tuesday, came too late for this issue. They will appear next week.

A letter from Trenton, Georgia, says: "This place the county seat of Dane county, is an insignificant town of perhaps fifteen houses. It present now an appearance of almost complete desertion. The tavern of the village is a specimen. The landlady, with bare feet, came to the door, and, with the true southern accent and pronunciation, told us they had nothing to eat. I believed her. Keeping tarven and nothing to eat!"

A Richmond paper says: A letter from the army of northern Virginia says that ex-Brigadier General Pryor and all the members of his staff are now in the ranks of the Third Virginia cavalry, of Fitz Lee's brigade. Says the writer, General Pryor was put on double duty, not long since for missing "roll call;" Lieutenant Colonel ——, of a Virginia regiment, is also a private in the Third Virginia. This war has conclusively shown that distinguished politicians do not always make successful warriors.

It is stated that a diffident Hartford bachelor went to a sea shore in August to seek refuge from the loneliness of the celibacy, and one dark evening, enjoying the breeze on the piaza of his hotel happening to take a seat that had just been vacated by the husband of a loving wife, with whom the happy man had been chatting. In a few moments the lady returned, and mistaking the stranger for her husband, lovingly encircling his neck, and gave him an affectionate kiss, with the remark. "Come darling, it is about time to retire!" He did not faint, but the shock was very severe, Captains Sawyer and Flynn.

A young officer recently released from the Libby prison in Richmond, furnishes the following information in relation to Captains Sawyer and Flynn, who were condemned to death by Jeff. Davis:

Captains Sawyer and Flynn, it will be remembered, have been condemned to death in retaliation for the execution by Gen, Burnside of two rebel officers caught recruiting within his lines. The Richmond mob demanded the death of these brave and patriotic men, but the authorities were deterred by the threatened fate of Windor and Lee, held by us at Fortress Monroe. Captains Sawyer and Flynn are confined in a sort of cage or bin petitioned off from the cellar of the building. Measured by the eye, it appeared not larger than six feet by eight. The only light and air are admitted through a hole near the ceiling, about a foot square, through which also the food is passed down twice a day. This den is damp, dark and most shockingly filthy; and the unfortunate victims of rebel hatred are enduring within it a living death from day to day. The plan seems to be, since their cowardly tormenters dare not shoot or hang them, to torture their lives away by this long agony, and then report them as having died of sickness.

UNIONISM IN ARKANSAS.—It is well known that all of Northwestern Arkansas voted against Secession. It is, however, not so generally known that there was a very strong Union party in the counties south of the river, and that in Scott county there are nearly three hundred union men bushwhacking in the hills and timber. Colonel Phillips was in constant communication with them, supplied through secret channels with ammunition, and received much valuable information from them. A Union lady the wife of a Union planter, has been the principal means of communication. The stories of her daring and adroitness are many and interesting. Her husband was a slaveholder, but all his slaves have been run off. This lady at her last visit to Fort Blunt, was standing in the adjutant's office when the colored regiment marched in and by to their quarters. Several officers were conversing with her about the matter, and she was quite surprised at their soldierly appearance, etc. Colonel Phillips asked her if she liked the idea of negro soldiers.

"Why, sir," she replied with the utmost earnestness, "I like it. We in the South think it ought to have been done long ago. Slavery is the root of rebellion, and must be dug up."

WHY THEY HAVE RIOTS IN NEW YORK.—At an address recently delivered before the Young Men's Christian Association in New York, the following startling statistics were presented:

There are in New York 100,000 German Infidels; 350,000 persons who don't go to church; 12,000 families without bibles; 60,000 who never attend school; 15'000 vagrant and homeless children who graduate thieves and vagabonds; 6,206 sailors in port all the time; a floating population of 50,000; all sorts of bad books in circulation, and in any quantity; 90,281 arrests by the police last year, three-fourths of which were traceable to drunkenness; 6,000 places where liquor is sold; 25,000 abandoned women who keeping up their end of the so-called social evil, or one to every six young men in the city, 2,500 broihels; arrests in 1862 equalling in commitments to prisons one in every twenty-two of the entire citizenship; the cost of crime, and pauperism and moral obliquity more than $3,000 000 this year; half a million of wretched people living in tenement houses; 25,000 persons living under ground. Bless us! talk of riots, is it not a miracle that they don't have a riot every few minutes instead of one in ten or fifteen years.

REV. H. D. FISHER, Chaplain of the 5th Kansas, had a most marvellous escape from guerrillas. He was sick in the house when the fiends came after him. He escaped into a hole in the cellar and was passed by when the assassins went down there to find him. After they went up stairs and set fire to the house his wife got permission to take the carpet out. Mr. Fisher was informed of it, and while his wife and another lady were draging the carpet out, he got through a trap door in the floor and went out under the carpet, the rebels in the meantime continuing the search. The carpet was so thrown down in the yard as to conceal him, and he remained under it while the house burned down. There are many similar instances in which the women of Lawrence exhibited a courage and devotion as great as history has ever recorded. Stout men relate these deeds with tears of joy and pride filling their eyes.

The slanders of the Copperhead papers against the patriotism of the negro, are receiving frequent refutations. A negro in Rhode Island was enrolled in two towns, and drafted in both. Instead of taking advantage of this informality, he goes for one town, and sends a substitute for the other! What white man could do more! Out of fifty-three men drafted in Enfield, Connecticut, fify-two paid their $300. The remaining gentleman was a darkey, who expresses his determination to go and represent the town.

WELL ANSWERED.—The Nashville Union, replying to a contemptous remark of a copperhead paper that "Sambo is getting to be of great importance in these latter days," says:

"The negro has been of great importance for more than a generation. He has enabled a few aristocrats to rule the nation. He has given the cotten States all their importance. He has caused one foreign and one civil war already, and has become at last 'the chief corner stone of the confederacy., Who will deny 'Sambo's' importance?"

PRAISE is sometimes as hurtful as censure. It is as bad to be blown into the air as to be cast into a pit.

A rascally old bachelor says the most difficult surgical operation is to take the jaw out of a woman.

AFFLICTIONS are but as a dark entry into our Father's house: they are but as a dirty lane to a royal palace.

Notice.

AS I have been regularly authorized by F. M. Gunning, surviving partner of the late firm of "Hensley & Gunning," to settle up the business matters of said firm, all persons indebted to them are requested and advised to make immediate payment to me, or, during my temporary absence from town, to C. H. Slocum, editor and proprietor of the UNION. E. P. FREEMAN.

Mankato Market Reports.

CORRECTED EVERY THURSDAY BY O. WARD.

MANKATO, Oct. 1, 1863.

WHEAT—50c. ℔ bushel.
RYE—40c.
BARLEY—60.
OATS—40@50
CORN—35@40c.
HAY—℔ ton, $4@5 00.
TIMOTHY—$2 ℔ bushel.
BEANS—White, ℔ bushel, $1 25.
BUTTER—10c.
LARD—8@9c.
SUGAR—12@13c; 16@20c.
TEA—1 25 @1 50. 1 75
COFFEE—33½c.
RICE—10c ℔ lb.
SALT—4 50 ℔ barrel.
EGGS—10c ℔ doz.
CANDLES—Tallow, 15c; Sperm, 30c
MEATS—Beef on foot, 2c. Pork, 5 @6c. Mutton, 10@12c. Poultry, 10@12c.
POTATOES—35@40 ℔ bushel.
SIRUP—1 00 ℔ gallon.
WOOD—$2 00 ℔ cord.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SPERMATORRHOEA CAN BE CURED.—Dr. Rand's Specific cures Spermatorrhoea, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Loss of Power, &c., speedily and effectually. Its effects are truly magical. A trial of the SPECIFIC will convince the most skeptical of its merits. Price, $1 a box. Sent post-paid to any address, by S. C. UPMAN, 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA. Circular sent free.

DRUNKENESS CURED—The inebriate may now bid defiance to the tempting cup. DR. ZANE'S ANTIDOTE FOR STRONG DRINK is a certain cure for Drunkenness. It creates a dislike for strong drink, and can be administered without the knowledge of the patent. Price $1 a box. Sent by mail to any address, by S. C. UPMAM, 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA; PA Circular sent free.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it (free of charge) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience—and possess a Valuable Remedy—will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed) by addressing
JOHN B. OGDEN.
5-3m No. 60 Nassau Street, New York

☞BEFORE PURCHASING A
Piano or Melodeon,
REMEMBER
W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.,
DEALER IN
PIANOS
AND
MELODEONS!

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake St.
CHICAGO,
DEALER IN
"GOLD PRIZE MEDAL"
PIANOS,
MELODEONS.
SCHOOL ORGANS
AND
Harmoniums

PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO'S PIANOS.
J. & C. FISCHER'S "
G. A. MILLER & CO'S "
WM. P. EMERSON'S "
J. W. VOSE'S "
KURTZMAN & HINZE'S "
GROVESTIEN & CO'S "
And other Boston and New York Manufactures.

☞The reputation of the Pianos of the above manufacturers is a sufficient guarantee of their merit; and every instrument sold by me will be
WARRANTED
in all respects to give
SATISFACTION

MY MELODEONS
are from the best manufacturers, and inferior to none in the market.

An Illustrated Catalogue describing every instrument, will be furnished upon application to me by mail, giving the PRICE and STYLES of the instruments.

☞Orders from the country will receive prompt attention

Address, before purchasing or looking elsewhere
W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.

Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons.

THE
Mankato Weekly Union,
Published every Friday by
CHARLES H. SLOCUM,
AT
ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of
PRINTING
Neatly and cheaply executed
SUCH AS
CARDS,
PROGRAMMES,
BILL-HEADS,
CIRCULARS,
POSTERS.
ETC.,
Having received a supply of
NEW MATERIAL
from the East, am prepared to do
PLAIN AND FANCY WORK
in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S
SEWING
MACHINES

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office. F. M. Johnson, Agent.
St. Paul, July 17th, 1863 July17-t

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.
OF
The Chicago Tribune.
A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.
Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obediance to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune chalenges comparrison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1.25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1.10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.
One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.
One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;
Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,) $18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,) 35 00
☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address
TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, executed by Cyrus Foot and Minerva Foot his wife, then of Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, to Ralph A. Loveland, then of Westport, Essex County, New York, dated the 16th day of June, A. D., 1858, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Blue Earth, on the 18th day of June, A. D., 1858, in book "B" of mortgages, on page 387, which said mortgage was given to secure the payment of the sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest according to the conditions of four certain promissory notes made by said Cyrus Foot to said Loveland or order, three for six hundred dollars each, payable respectively, on the first days of June in the years 1860, 1861 and 1863, and the other for five hundred and fifty dollars payable on the first day of June, 1862, and drawing interest from date until paid at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable annually on the first days of June each and every year, and all bearing even date with said mortgage, and upon which promissory notes and mortgage there is now claimed to be due, and is at the date of this notice, actually due and unpaid, the said sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest thereon from and after the said 16th day of June, 1858, at the rate of seven per cent per annum; and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured by said promissory notes and mortgage, nor any part thereof, and no part thereof has been collected or paid.

Therefore, by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained, and in conformity with the statutes in such case made and provided, the lands and premises described in and covered by said mortgage, to wit: The north-west quarter of section number (27) twenty-seven in township number (107) one hundred and seven, north of range number (28) twenty-eight west, according to the governmental survey and subdivisions of the same, and containing one hundred and sixty acres of land be the same more or less; together with all the appurtenances, and lying and being in the County of Blue Earth, and State of Minnesota, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder as the law directs and as authorized by said mortgage, at the front door of the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Blue Earth in Mankato, in said County, on the 26th day of September, A. D, 1863, at 10 o'clock in the fore noon of that day, to satisfy the amount then due on said promissory notes and mortgage together with the taxes which have been paid thereon by the mortgagee, or which shall then be due on said premises, and the costs and expenses allowed by law. Dated at Mankato, August 14th, 1863.

RALPH A. LOVELAND,
Mortgagee.

WILLARD & BARNEY, Attorneys for Mortgagee, Mankato, Minn. 6w5

Valuable Lands for Sale.

BY direction of the Hon. Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the lands hereinafter described, they being among the choicest and best farming land in Minnesota.

These lands comprise what are known as the Winnebago Trust Lands in the State of Minnesota, and will be sold to the highest and best bidder in tracts not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres each, under the provisions of a treaty concluded with the Winnebago Indians, April 15th, 1859, and an act of Congress, approved February 21st 1863, entitled "An act for the removal of the Winnebago Indians, and for the sale of their Reservation, in Minnesota, for their benefit."

No bid will be entertained at a rate less than two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

In case a bid is accepted, the party making the same will be notified as soon thereafter as practicable. If within thirty days after such notice the party shall fail to make payment to the undersigned, the land for which such bid was made will be subject to sale to any other person.

Patents will be issued and transmitted to purchasers as soon after payment as the same can be prepared. Payments may be made either in cash or in the certificates of indebtedness of the Winnebago Indians, issued by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for the debt of said Indians, and secured to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of said lands by the third article of the treaty above mentioned. The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved. All bids must be sealed and addressed to the undersigned, Washington City, D. C., and endorsed "Bid for Winnebago Tract Land."

"DESCRIPTION OF LANDS."

List of "Winnebago Trust Lands" subject to sale after July 1st, 1863:

SUBDIVISION.	SEC.
Township 106, Range 23
se qr	5
e hf sw qr	6
e hf	7
sw qr	7
	18 19
ne qr	30
sw qr	30
Township 107, Range 23
n hf	6
w hf sw qr	6
w hf nw qr	7
w hf sw qr	7
sw qr	30
n hf	31
w hf sw qr	31
Township 108, Range 23
n frac hf nw qr	31
se frac qr nw qr	31
Township 106, Range 24
	25
	26
	27
	28
	29
	30 31 32 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 24
	1
ne qr	3
sw qr	3
n hf	5
	6 9
ne qr	10
s hf	10
	11
ne qr	12
sw qr	12
nw qr	13
	14
e hf	15
nw qr	17
	1
lots 1, 2 and 3	21
	22
	23
n hf	24
	27
w hf	29
Township 108, Range 24
sw qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
sw qr	34
Township 106, Range 25
	25
	26 27
e hf	28
	30 31 32
s hf	33
	34 35
Township 107, Range 25
e hf	1
nw qr	1
w hf	2
ne qr	2
	13
Township 108, Range 25
se qr	33
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
e hf ne qr	34
w hf nw qr	34
w hf sw qr	34
e frac hf	35
nw qr	35
Township 106, Range 26
	1
	2 3
e hf	9
nw qr	4
ne qr	5
s hf	7
nw q	11
e hf nw qr	12
	18 19
n hf	25
w hf	27
se qr	28
	30 33
w hf	34
Township 107, Range 26
w hf ne qr	3
w hf	3
w hf se qr	3
se qr	4
	5
e hf	6
s hf nw qr	6
s hf	7
	8 9
nw qr	10
e hf	18
nw qr	18
e hf	19
w hf	20
w hf se qr	20
ne qr	24
sw qr	24
s hf	25
n hf	30
e hf nw qr	31
ne qr	32
w hf nw qr	32
w hf sw qr	32
w hf se qr	32
se se qr	32
se qr	34
sw qr	35
Township 108, Range 26
se ne qr	31
e hf se qr	31
sw se qr	31
n hf sw qr	32
e hf se qr	33
ne qr	34
Township 106, Range 27
se qr	1
s hf	2
se qr	3
ne qr	6
e hf se qr	6
w hf sw qr	6
sw qr	7
e hf	11
sw qr	11
	14
e hf nw qr	15
e hf sw qr	15
w hf	18
ne qr	18
w hf	19
se qr	19
ne qr	20
w hf	21
w hf ne qr	21
se qr	22
e hf nw qr	22
	23
	22
e hf	28
Township 107, Range 27
n hf	2
ne qr	3
e hf sw qr	5
ne qr	6
w hf se qr	6
se nw qr	7
ne sw qr	7
nw ne qr	11
se qr	12
e hf nw qr	12
nw nw qr	12
ne qr	13
sw qr	13
e hf nw qr	13
sw nw qr	13
s hf ne qr	14
s hf nw qr	14
nw nw qr	14
sw qr	15
sw qr	17
n hf	19
sw qr	18
se qr	19
nw qr	20
sw qr	21
ne qr	22
se qr	26
nw qr	26
nw qr	28
se qr	29
s hf	31
ne qr	31
nw qr	32
e hf ne qr	33
w hf nw qr	33
Township 106, Range 27
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	31
nw qr	31
n hf sw qr	31
ne qr	32
lots 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 of nw qr	32
se nw qr	32
sw qr	35

Bids will be received as above invited until the 1st of September next, at which time all bids then received will be examined and acted upon.

After the first of September next bids will be received for the lands then remaining unsold, and examined and acted upon the expiration of each period of two months.

WILLIAM P. DOLE,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs.
Washington City, D. C., Aug. 4th, 1863.

JUST PUBLISHED,
The most Fascinnting Book of the Season,
ENTITLED
"IN THE TROPICS."
EDITED BY RICH'D B. KIMBALL,
Author of "St. Leger," "Undercurrents of Wall Street," etc.

A bright, sparkling and genial book of residence, travel and adventure in the West Indies; presenting a graphical picture of tropical life, with alluring and picturesque sketches of luxuriant gardens, orange and lime groves, magnificent guava and cocoanut trees, mahogany forests, etc.

An elegantly printed and cloth bound volume. Price, $1,25.

Sold by all booksellers, and sent by mail FREE, on receipt of price by
CARLETON,
Publisher, New York.
413 Broadway, cor Liepenard St.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Who is to Blame for the War?

Senator Douglas said in the last speech he ever made:

I ask you to reflect, and then point out any act that has been done; any one duty that has been omitted to be done, of which any one of these disunionists can justly complain. Yet we are told, simply because one party has succeeded in a Presidential election therefore they chose to consider that their liberties are not safe, and therefore they will break up the Government!

Alexander H. Stephens, the Vice President of the Southern Confederacy, said when the question of secession was pending before the people of Georgia:

What right has the North assailed? What justice has been denied? and what claim founded in justice and right has been withheld? Can either of you to-day name one single act of wrong, deliberately and purposely done by the Government at Washington of which the South has a right to complain? I challenge the answer.

News Items.

☞ A hard fisted Irishman by the name of MICHAEL LEE, a deserter from the 21st Iowa, performed a feat of lofty tumbling on Monday night last that came within an ace of giving him his discharge papers without a trial. He was in custody of a sleepy officer at the American House in this city, and, taking advantage of his charm's dreamy condition, he tied together some sheets and attempted to let himself down from the third story window; but alas! he fell, fortunately for him, breaking but one leg—landing on the steps some thirty feet below.

He crawled away some eighty rods to the thick brush skirting the river, where he lay concealed until night, when coming into town, he was discovered, followed to PHEENY's barn, there found concealed in the hay, and nabbed by Sheriff LOOMIS. The officers have had his leg set, and chained him to the bed-post, hoping to be able to send him safe, though sore and lame he may be, to the Fort in a few days.

It is equally impossible for deserters, horse-theives, or other villians, to escape the vigilance of detective Loomis, when he once takes the scent. All attempts to elude him prove abortive, and are generally abandoned first or last. HORACE was cut out for a detective, and proves an honor to the designer.—Rochester City Post.

A good story is told of one of the leading "Democratic" fuglers in this place. He met one of the delegates to the late Convention immediately on his landing here, anxious to know who were the nominees. "Guess the candidate for Governor," said the delegate; when the said gentleman in pursuit of Democratic knowledge proceeded to name every Democratic name of prominence from RICE down, without getting the right name, though he went very low on the calender. Giving it up, he was told it was H. T. WELLS.—"WELLS!" said this excellent "Democrat," with enthusiasm just the very man we wanted.—an excellent nomination! After learning the names of the other candidates, he scratched his poll abstractedly and turned to the delegate with the question—"What did you tell me was the name of the candidate for Governor, and where does he live?" If any one wishes to know what a "good Democrat" is, according to the modern definition of the term, we think this individual will furnish a living answer and an example of the article.—Winona Republican

THE STORY OF TWO BULLETS.—The Vicksburg correspondent of the Missouri Republican narrates the following singular incident:

"I lately saw at the headquarters of Col. Slack's brigade, which had once told a history. One was a rebel ballet of English manufacture, smuggled over by our dear brethren in Britain to shoot their dear brethren in America. The other was a national ball, of the Springfield rifle type. The former was fired from a rifle pit at Jackson, at our skirmishers. The latter was fired from our line of skirmishers at the rifle pit. They met midway in the air, were wedded by the contact, and fell harmless to the ground. They are now firm friends sticking each to the other closer than a brother or a lover."

The worst thing that can be found in all the sins that ever was committed is the contempt of God's authority. Now, there is as much contempt of the authority of the great God in the commission of little sins as there is in the commission of great sins.

If we obeyed the laws of God, children would be like spring blossoms. They would impart as much freshness and strength as they abstract. They are a natural institution, and nature is eminently healthy.

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL P OFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DeBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks Denims, bleached and Brown Sheetings an excellent article of Wool Yarn Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime. Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DeBUISSON.

Mankato, May 4, 1860. [2-43-y]

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work, is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRNG AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand.

Cash paid for green and dry hides.

Mankato, June 26, 1863.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 22th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:2? A. M.
11: 0 A. M.	12:?5 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:?5 P. M.
Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
6:00 A. M.	6:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:?5 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:?5 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understand, the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato either for business or pleasure, especially these from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
ly Proprietor.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS, on the twenty-third day of January, A. D., 1861, John C. Jones of Blue Earth County, mortgaged to Edward R. Parry and Richard R Parry, the north half of the north-east quarter, and the south-east quarter of the north-east quarter of section twenty-eight, and the south west quarter of the north west quarter of section twenty-seven, all in township one hundred and nine north of range twenty-nine west, in Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, to secure the payment of one hundred and eighty-seven dollars and sixty-five cents and interest in six months from date; and said mortgage was duly recorded in book "D" of mortgages, on pages 117 and 118 in the Register's office in said County on the 23d day of January, A. D. 1861, and whereas the whole mortgage debt, is past due, and but seventy-five dollars has been paid of the principal and interest, and the amount now due thereon is one hundred and sixty-five dollars, and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured. Now notice is hereby given to all whom it may concern, that if the said debt is not paid before that time, the following portion of said mortgaged land, to wit. The east half of the north east quarter of section twenty-eight, and the south-west quarter of the north-west quarter of section twenty seven (27) all in township one hundred and nine north of range twenty-nine west, will be sold at public auction between the hours of 9 o'clock, A. M., and the setting of the sun, on the 12th day of October, A. D. 1863, at the office of the Register of Deeds in said County, by the sheriff of said county to satisfy said mortgage and costs, in pursuance of the power of sale attached to said mortgage.

Mankato Aug 28th 1863.

EDWARD R P RRY, } Mortgagees
RICHARD R. PARRY }

FINCH & FITCHER, Att'ys for Mortgagees.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE To BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co's Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co's GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEACHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plows,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. . . . MANKATO

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENNS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:
Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass Sash, Grind Stones Spades Shovels Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains, Well Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns Bird Cages, Sheep Shears all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

I am Agent for J. J. Case's celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.

Mankato, April 2 nd 1863.

NEW LIVERY & Sale Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.
☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜
☞Charges moderate.☜
D. H. TYNER.

STATE OF MINNESOTA.

SALE OF SCHOOL LANDS

In accordance with an act entitled "An act to establish the State Land Office, and for other purposes," approved March 12th, 1862, the following parcels or tracts of land will be sold at public auction at the office of the County Treasurer, in the town of Mankato, County of Blue Earth, on Saturday the twenty first day of November 1863, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Lands on which fifteen per cent. of the purchase money must be paid down.

Part of Sec.	Sec	Town	Range	Appraised prices	Appraised of Imp.
DANVILLE.
sw¼ sw¼	16	105	25	6 00
se¼ sw¼	16	105	25	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	105	25	5 00
nw¼ ne¼	36	105	25	5 00	25 00
LIME.
ne¼ ne¼	16	109	27	5 00	25 00
SHELBYVILLE.
nw¼ ne¼	16	105	28	9 00
sw¼ ne¼	16	105	28	9 00
se¼ nw¼	16	105	28	5 00	11 00
sw¼ sw¼	16	105	28	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	105	28	9 00
se¼ se¼	16	105	28	10 00
VERNON.
ne¼ ne¼	16	106	28	5 00	100 00
se¼ ne¼	16	106	28	5 00	50 00
ne¼ nw¼	16	106	28	5 00	11 00
ne¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	25 00
nw¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00
sw¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	200 00
se¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	50 00
WATONWAN.
se¼ se¼	16	107	28	5 00	50 00
ne¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
nw¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
sw¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	107	28	5 00	100 00
JUDSON.
sw¼ ne¼	36	108	28	5 00	40 00
se¼ ne¼	36	108	28	5 00
e½ nw¼	36	108	28	5 00	100 00
ne¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	50 00
nw¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00
sw¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	75 00
se¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	30 00
ne¼ se¼	36	108	28	5 00
nw¼ se¼	36	108	28	5 00	100 00
sw qr se qr	36	108	28	5 00	Imp.
se qr se qr	36	108	28	5 00	125 00
BUTTERNUT VALLEY.
Lot 8, 38.90 ac	16	109	29	5 00
sw qr sw qr	16	109	29	5 00
se qr sw qr	16	109	29	5 00
Lot 9, 46 79 ac	16	109	29	5 00
lot 10, 53 46 ac	16	109	29	5 00
ne qr ne qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr ne qr	36	109	29	6 00
sw qr ne qr	36	109	29	6 00
se qr ne qr	36	109	29	7 00
ne qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00	30 00
sw qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00	40 00
se qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00
ne qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00	8 00
sw qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00
se qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00	100 00
nw qr se qr	36	109	29	5 00
sw qr se qr	36	109	29	6 00

The balance of the purchase money is payable at any time within twenty years, at the option of the purchaser, if interest at seven per cent. per annum is annually paid in advance.

Interest to the first day of June, 1861, must be paid at the time of the purchase.

Persons purchasing lands upon which other parties have made improvements, will be required to pay the owner of the same the appraised value of the improvements, one half to be paid at the time of the sale, and the balance within six months thereafter, with interest at seven per cent. per annum.

In case the person occupying or improving the land has damaged the same, the appraised amount of damage will be deducted from his improvements, and when the occupant is the purchaser, the damage will be added to the price of the land.

No lands will be sold for less than the appraised value.

Purchase money payable in specie and legal tender notes.

CHAS. McILRATH,
Com of State Land Office.

NEW DRUG STORE!

DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS
SOAPS, PERFUMERY,
AND
FANCY GOODS

PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax.

Stationery,

BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE.

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions accurately put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the

New Drug Store,

JASON WICKERSHAM,
5 Mankato, Minn

THE

Mankato Weekly Union,

Published every Friday by

CHARLES H. SLOCUM,

AT

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of

PRINTING

Neatly and cheaply executed

SUCH AS

CARDS,
PROGRAMMES,
BILL-HEADS,
CIRCULARS,
POSTERS.
ETC.,

Having received a supply of

NEW MATERIAL

from the East, am prepared to do

PLAIN AND FANCY WORK

in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

MANKATO HOUSE.

MANKATO - MINNESOTA.

THIS House has been thoroughly renovated newly papered and painted, with many new improvements, which makes it now equal as to comfort and convenience to any House in the State.

General Stage Office for all points in the State.

Good barn and stabling with attentive ostler. Baggage conveyed to and from steamboats free of charge. Wines, liquors, cigars etc., constantly on hand.

☞Farmers will find this House a good place to stop, it being centrally located, plenty of barroom, and charges moderate.

may 7 H. H Shaubhut.

Notice.

AS I have been regularly authorized by F. M Gunning, surviving partner of the late firm of "Hensley & Gunning" to settle up the business matters of said firm, all persons indebted to them are requested and advised to make immediate payment to me, or, during my temporary absence from town, to C H Slocum, editor and proprietor of the Union. E P FREEMAN.

SINGER & CO'S.

Letter "A" Sewing Machine.

WITH ALL THE IMPROVEMENTS.

IS the best and cheapest and most beautiful of all Sewing Machines. This Machine will sew anything, from the running of a tuck in Tarlton to the making of an Overcoat—anything from Pilot or Beaver Cloth down to the softest Gauze or Gossamer Tissue, and is ever ready to do its work to perfection. It can fell, hem, bind, gather, tuck, quilt, and has capacity for a great variety of ornamental work. This is not the only Machine that can fell, hem, bind, and so forth, but it will do so better than any other Machine. The Letter "A" Family Sewing Machine may be had in a great variety of cabinet cases. The Folding Case, which is now becoming so popular, is, as its name implies, one that can be folded into a box or case, which when opened makes a beautiful substantial, and spacious table for the work to rest upon. The cases are of every imaginable design—plain as the wood grew in its native forest, or as elaborately finished as art can make them. The Branch Offices are well supplied with silk, twist thread, needles, oil, etc., of the very best quality,

I. M SINGER & CO.,
458 Broadway, N. Y
Milwaukee Office, 17 Marshall House
D. WILCOX Agent Mankato, Minn.

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

——

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oil-
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps.
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,

or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
BLUE EARTH COUNTY. }
MANKATO, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 12th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet been redeemed. I will execute and deliver to the purchasers of said lands at said sale, or their assignees, deeds for the same on and after the 17th day of January, A. D., 1864, unless said lands shall before that time have been redeemed. And notice is also given that the sum set against each description of land in said list is the amount due the purchaser of said land on redemption.

CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.	NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.
Unknown	1	24	23.36	Unknown	1	76	1.48
do	5	24	2 23	do	7	A	3.97
do	9	24	7 45	do	8	A	3.97
J Ady	9	23	13 13	do	9	A	3.97
F C Roosevelt	6	58	2 95	do	16	A	3.97

Willard & Besser's Addition.

Unknown, lot 10, block 12, amount 2.16.

NAME.	DES.	S.	T.	R.	AMT.
H W Lamberton	e hf nw qr and n hf sw qr	7	108	28	22.67
Earl Parcham	sw qr	33	109	29	14. 7
M Gallager	ne qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	32	109	29
do	se hf se qr	31	109	29	15.91
Dennis O'Flynn	se qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	27	109	29	11.81
Wm P Smith	s hf ne qr and ne qr se qr and lot 2	2	107	28	13.65
T F Anderson	se qr	20	107	28	15 14
H Wright	se qr	8	106	28	14 10
William Gage	sw qr	17	106	28	13.73
Alex Wood	ne qr	1	105	28	41.03
Unknown	sw qr except 17 acr redeem'd	5	105	28	11.16
H G Tryon	se qr nw qr	5	105	28	5.02
H G Tryon	ne qr nw qr	34	105	28	7.26
McMurtrie & Comstock	n hf sw qr	12	105	29	16.9
do	e hf sw qr and w hf se qr except 15 ac redeemed	12	105	29	33.33
Alex Wood	nw qr	6	105	27	49 87
Unknown	nw qr	9	118	25	19.28
A Frazer	n hf ne qr and ne qr nw qr	35	119	25	14.53
F Percival	ne qr sw qr	32	119	2.	23 5.

STATE OF MINNESOTA }
COUNTY OF BLUE EARTH }

To WILLIAM THOMAS:

You are hereby notified that a writ of attachment has been issued against you, and your property attached to satisfy the demand of Benjamin McCracken amounting to twenty seven (27.) dollars: Now, unless you shall appear before H. W. Nelson, a justice of the peace in and for said county, at his office in the town of Vernon, on the twenty ninth (29.) day of October A. D 1863 at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, judgment will be rendered against you, and your property sold to pay the debt.

Dated this 9th day of Sept. A. D 1863

BENJ. McCRACKEN,
10-6w* Plaintiff.

WILLIAM IRVING,

MERCHANT TAILOR

and dealer in

Gentlemens' Furnishing Goods,

MANKATO, - - - - - MINN.

LIST OF PREMIUMS

To be awarded at the Fourth Annual Fair of the Faribault County Agricultural Society to be held at Blue Earth City, on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct 7th and 8th, 1863.

CLASS A—HORSES.

Best Stallion 4 years old and over, $2 and Diploma.
2d best do	$1 00
3d best do	Dip
Best 3 years old and over	2 00 & Dip.
Best Mare do	1 00
best 2 year old colt	1 00
best 1 do	1 00
best blood mare and colt	2 00
best sucking colt	Dip.
best pair draught horses	1 00
best pair matched horses	1 00
best saddle horse	1 00
best single carriage horse	1 00

JUDGES—C W. Wilson, A. Latimer, and H T Stoddard.

CLASS B—CATTLE.

best bull 3 years old and over	2 00
2d best do	1 00
best 2 years do	1 00
best 1 year do	1 00
best cow 3 years do	2 00
2d best do	1 00
best heifer 2 years do	50
best heifer one year do	50
best bull calf	50
best heifer calf	50
best pair working oxen	1 00

JUDGES—Thomas George: J. B. Cate, and W. J. C. Robertson.

CLASS C—SHEEP.

best buck	1 00
best ewe	1 00
2d best do	Dip

JUDGES—James Pratt, Thomas Blair, and S. W. Brown.

CLASS D—SWINE.

best boar	1 00
2d best	50
best sow	1 00
best litter of pigs, 4 or more	1 00

JUDGES—J. H. Dunham, Amos Preston, and E. Rhodes.

CLASS E—POULTRY.

best pair chickens	50
best pair geese	50
best pair turkeys	50

JUDGES—T. J. Jenness, J. S, McCrary, and E. Young.

CLASS F—FARMING IMPLEMENTS.

best breaking plow	1 00
best stirring plow	1 00
best shovel plow	50
best cultivator	50
best harrow	50
best hand roller	50
best corn planter	1 00
best one horse hay rake	50
best ox yoke	1 00
best ax helve	25

JUDGES—P C. Seely, J. S. Latimer, and George Spickerman.

CLASS G—FARM PRODUCTS.

best ½ bu wheat	50
best do oats	25
best do barley	25
best do rye	25
best sample field corn	25
best sample pop corn	25
best ½ bu timothy seed	25
best specimen red clover	25
best specimen white clover	25
best specimen broom corn	25
best ½ bu potatoes	25
2d best	Dip.
best ½ bu beans	50
best ½ bu peas	50
best specimen carrots	Dip.
do beets	Dip.
do rutabagas	Dip.
do turnips	Dip.
do watermelons	Dip.
do musk mellons	Dip.
do apple pie melons	Dip.
do tomatoes	Dip.
do ground cherries	Dip.

JUDGES—Albin Johnson, Mr. Mount, and S. C. Seaton.

CLASS H—DAIRY AND KITCHEN.

best sample fresh roll butter	50
do pickled butter	50
do cheese	50
do maple sugar	Dip.
do syrup	Dip.
do sorghum syrup	1 00 & Dip.
do sorghum sugar	do
do honey	50
best loaf of wheat bread	25
best loaf of corn bread	25
best pound cake	25
best pie, 2 or more	25
best sample native wine	Dip
do jelly	"
do preserves	"
do vinegar (native)	"
best cured ham	25
best hard soap	Dip.
best soft soap

Competitors for premiums in this class must accompany their entries with a recipe for making the articles entered.

JUDGES—A C Dunn, Mrs. S W Brown Mrs E C. Young, Mrs. A. C. Dunn, and Mrs. P. C. Seely.

CLASS I—MECHANICAL DEPARTMENT.

best panel door	1 00
best specimen of cabinet work	50
best specimen of horse shoeing	1 00
best specimen of blacksmith work	50
best post auger	50
best corn broom	50
best pair common boots	1 00
best pair ladies shoes	50
best churn	50
best butter firkin	50

Articles in this class must be manufactured in the county to entitle them to the above premiums.

JUDGES—G. B. Kingsley, Uri Hall, and George Hart.

CLASS J—DOMESTIC MANUFACTURES,

best straw hat	Dip
2d best	"
best pair woolen mittens	"
best pair woolen stockings	"
best pair woolen socks	"
best pair fancy knit hose	"
best specimen of embroidery	"
best specimen of crotchet work	"
best made shirt	"
best made suit men's clothing	"
best made bonnet	"
best made bed quilt	"
best made rag carpet	"

JUDGES—G B. Kingsley, Mrs H. J. Neal, Mrs. G. H Goodnow, Mrs Albin Johnson, Mrs. Wm. Dustin, and Mrs. B. Chute.

CLASS K—FLORAL DEPARTMENT.

best collection tame flowers	Dip.
best collection wild flowers	"
best collection artificial flowers	"

JUDGES—Miss Caroline Vanice, Miss Pratt, Miss Mount, Miss A. Sumner, and Miss V. Weir.

CLASS L—EQUESTRIANISM.

best exhibition lady's horsemanship	$2 00 & Dip.
2d best	1 00 & Dip.
3d best	50 & Dip.
4th best	50 & Dip.

JUDGES—J. S. Weir, J. C. Howland, and D. S. Law.

Exhibition open to all persons, whether citizens of this or any other county.

Members who have paid their yearly dues can exhibit their property and produce free of charge. Those that are not members must pay the amount of the premiums on the articles they exhibit.

Articles entered by persons living out of the county of Faribault, will only be entitled to diplomas.

Winnebago City, Sept. 7th, 1863.

J. A. LATIMER.
President Faribault Co. Ag'l Society.

JUST PUBLISHED,

The most Fascinating Book of the Season,

ENTITLED

"IN THE TROPICS."

EDITED BY RICH'D B. KIMBALL,

Author of "St Leger," "Undercurrents of Wall Street," etc.

A bright, sparkling and genial book of residence, travel and adventure in the West Indies; presenting a graphical picture of tropical life, with alluring and picturesque sketches of luxuriant gardens, orange and lime groves, magnificent guava and cocoanut trees, mahogany forests, etc.

An elegantly printed and cloth bound volume. Price, $1.25.

Sold by all booksellers, and sent by mail FREE, on receipt of price by

CARLETON,
Publisher New York.
413 Broadway, cor Lispenard St.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World.

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Critical Notices of the Press.

The volumes Bound constitute of themselves a library of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world.—N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts: and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature. —Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, BY mail, post-paid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents. Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eight cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00; Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year ,$5,00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2.50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2.50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2 50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted for postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must be paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS.
Franklyn Square New York.

Medical Advice free of Charge.

DOCTOR WHITTIER'S Theory, Symptoms and Treatment of Chronic, Nervous, Urinary and Sexual Diseases, free in sealed letter envelope, for six cents to prepay postage. It is a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringment of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposure, and imprudence, in married and single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and should be read by every young person, to keep them off the shoals on which others have been broken in pieces. Acutiveness clearly stated to be under the control of judicious treatment, and thereby prevent destination to one very prolific cause of disease. Nearly every case of disease can be treated without hinderance to business. Medicine sent by mail, secure from observation. Charges moderate; consultations by letter or at the office free; cures guaranteed; Office 67 St. Charles St, between 6th and 7th. P O Box 3092, St. Louis Mo. Circular Letter especially for ladies nothing referring to Sexual Diseases for 5 cent postage.

FINKLE & LYON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

THESE Machines make the lock stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do: will Hem, Fell, Gather, Cord, Braid, Bind, &c., and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family, for they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, or even the stoutest harness leather, without changing the feed, needle or tention, or making any adjustment of Machaine whatever!!!

They are simple in construction, and easily understood: and if any part is broken by accident, it is readily replaced.

These are PECULIAR FACTS, and will go far to determine the choice of any intelligent buyer.

PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE, OR SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

N. B.—Local Agents wanted in sections not yet occupied. Address,

FINKLE & LYON, S. M. CO.,
4 No. 538 Broadway, New York.
J. J. SHAUBUT, Agent for Mankato.

Minn

The Mankato Weekly Union.

CHARLES H. SLOCUM, "LIBERTY AND UNION, NOW AND FOREVER, ONE AND INSEPARABLE." Editor and Proprietor.

VOLUME 1. MANKATO, BLUE EARTH COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 9, 1863. NUMBER 13.

THE WEEKLY UNION,
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY
CHARLES H. SLOCUM.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
One Dollar and Fifty Cents per Year.
☞ All subscriptions paid in advance. ☜

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

1 square	1 week	$1 00	2 squares	6 months	9 00
1 "	2 weeks	1 50	2 "	1 year	15 00
1 "	3 "	1 75	3 "	1 week	2 25
1 "	4 "	2 00	3 "	2 "	3 00
1 "	5 "	2 25	3 "	3 "	4 00
1 "	6 "	2 50	3 "	4 "	5 00
1 "	7 "	2 75	3 "	3 months	9 00
1 "	2 months	3 00	3 "	6 "	12 00
1 "	3 "	3 75	3 "	1 year	20 00
1 "	4 "	4 50	¼ col	6 months	15 00
1 "	5 "	5 25	¼ "	1 year	25 00
1 "	6 "	6 00	⅓ "	6 months	18 00
1 "	1 year	10 00	⅓ "	1 year	30 00
2 "	1 week	1 75	½ "	6 months	25 00
2 "	2 "	2 50	½ "	1 year	40 00
2 "	3 "	3 00	¾ "	1 year	50 00
2 "	4 "	4 00	1 "	1 year	70 00
2 "	3 months	6 00

Business cards of five lines or less, $5.
Transient advertisements must be paid in advance—all others quarterly.

BUSINESS CARDS.

EVERETT P. FREEMAN.
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW.
OFFICE—Next door south of the Post Office. MANKATO, - - - - - MINN.
Prompt attention given to claims to be prosecuted before the State Board of Auditors and to Court and Office business. Collections made and conveyancing done on reasonable terms.

MANKATO INS. AGENCY.
HARTFORD.
PHOENIX.
MERCHANTS—FIRE INS. CO'S.
CHARTER OAK LIFE INS. CO.
Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid by.
JOHN N. HALL.
Resident Agent.

O. P. LIEBERG.
FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER.—Having opened a Barber Shop with a view to establishing a permanent business in Mankato, I am prepared to wait upon gentlemen, and will guarantee satisfaction in every department of my business.
June 26, 1863.

G. A. STURGES, M. D.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
MANKATO, MINN.
OFFICE:—At his residence second door above the Mankato House.

Z. PADDOCK,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law, and General Land Agent. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to him. Mankato, Blue Earth Co., Minn.

FREDR'K HILDEBRANDT,
Manufacturer of and Dealer in all kinds of
FURNITURE & GILT MOULDING.
ALSO,
Imitation of Rosewood Mouldings, Ovals, Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames.
Ware Rooms in Schuremeier's Block, Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minn.

M. ZENOPOLSKI, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.
OFFICE:—Opposite the Clifton House.

DAVID WILCOX.
JUDGE OF PROBATE,
& ATT'Y AT LAW,
MANKATO - - - - - MINN.

WM. R. McMAHAN, M. D.
Office and Residence old at his stand, on the corner of Hickory and Second streets, one Block back of the Mankato House, where he will be found at all times, except when professionaly absent.
He will furnish and compound his own medicines.

EDWARD OGLESBY,
Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hawley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work in his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October,

S. FINCH, O. O. PITCHER.
FINCH & PITCHER,
Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,
MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA.

MANKATO NURSERY.
THE Proprietor has for sale a choice collection of
Fruit Trees,
Comprising Apple, Pear, Cherry, Plum, and Quince Trees. Also a good assortment of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants, Rasp berries, Strawberries, and Pie Plant; together with
ORNAMENTAL TREES
Shrubs, Evergreens, Flowering Plants, &c
ROB'T GOODYEAR.
Mankato, Sept. 1861.

FAIRBANKS'
STANDARD
SCALES,
OF ALL KINDS.
FAIRBANKS, GREENLEAF & CO.,
172 LAKE STREET, CHICAGO.
☞ BUY ONLY THE GENUINE.

SOUTH BEND MILLS.
BIERBAUER & ROCKEY,
HAVING purchased the above mills, are prepared to manufacture all grades of FLOUR, CORN MEAL, ETC.
Wheat will be ground for every sixth bushel in quantities not less than ten bushels.
☞ Flour and mill stuffs always on hand at market prices. Feb 6-3m

Select Miscellany.

KITTY'S WAGER.

'It's against my principles,' said Parker Pelham, buttoning his pockets, and inclining his chair at an angle of forty-five degrees against the piazza railing. 'Taxes, taxes, nothing but taxes. Government must suppose a man made of money; and then, right on top of that, every woman of your acquaintance expects you to pay funds into her private Treasury. It's all nonsense—and I for one won't be victimized. Besides, I don't consider it fair for us men to be bled at every pore, while the women keep their purses intact. If you womenkind are so vitally interested in hospitals, and all that sort of thing, why don't you lend a helping hand yourself?'

Mr. Pelham screwed up his lips, tapped his fingers on the railing, and nodded his head, as one who should say, 'I rather guess you'll find that argument unanswerable.'

Kitty Brace, standing among the roses that shut out the June sunshine, turned round so suddenly, that the tinted petals showered softly down around her like a pink snowstorm. Parker instinctively moved his chair back, as he caught the dangerous sparkle of her hazel eyes, and saw the crimson pennon of defiance fluttering across her cheeks.

'Please to explain yourself, Mr. Pelham,' said Kitty, clasping a sprig of roses very tightly in her two little hands, lest they should descend wrathfully on Parker's ears, in spite of her determination to be very 'proper' and dignified. 'Have we not denied ourselves every unnecessary luxury? Nay, have we not even parted with our jewels and trinkets to send aid to those who suffer in our country's behalf?'

'That's all very fine,' said Parker, turning up his nose in lofty disregard of feminine logic. 'Smooth sailing, smooth sailing! You may talk as much as you like, Miss Kitty, but you'll never persuade me you are in earnest until I see you make some sacrifice worth boasting of.'

'I don't want to boast,' said Kitty indignantly; 'but oh! if I were only a man—if I could only earn some money!'

'You'd do unheard of things, I've no doubt,' said Parker, sarcastically. 'But you can earn money if you choose to try.'

'How, pray?'

'Well, for instance, those crimson sprinkled strawberry beds on the side hill—a man would turn 'em into money quick enough; a woman don't choose to take that trouble—it's easier to beg.'

'Yes,' said Kitty, taking no notice of the covert sneer, 'but nobody wants strawberries here—there's no market for them.'

'There is in the city, I suppose. Ah, yes—that's right, Miss Kitty—curl your lips and toss your head. Come now—here's an exemplification of my assertion, that you shrink from the slightest effort in this cause. You expect us to do everything, while you are willing to do nothing. Now, I'm not afraid to wager fifty dollars that you wouldn't sell five dollars' worth of strawberries to keep your soldiers from want.'

Kitty was silent for a moment—then she drew out her little morocco pocket book with solemn emphasis.

'I'll call witnesses, sir, and the wager shall be registered.'

Parker Pelham eyed the little beauty as if he scarcely understood her.

'Mind, you are to sell them yourself, Miss Kitty, no manoeuvering.'

'Set your heart at rest, Mr. Pelham; all the conditions of your bargain shall be complied with.'

'But, Miss Kitty, have you reflected? Such a a very unladylike thing—'

'I see nothing unladylike in endeavoring to serve my country's defenders,' said Kitty, quietly, a lampent smile sparkling in her eyes as she noted Parkers perturbed brow. 'Fifty dollars is a very neat little sum. And now I must go to see about some baskets for my berries—there's no time to be lost.'

'Fifty dollars!' feebly muttered Mr. Pelham, as the light dress fluttered down the garden walk. 'What a confounded fool I was! why couldn't I have said five instead. But ofcourse I'm perfectly safe—she'll never do such a thing—never!'

'Strawberries. Who'll buy my strawberries?'

Mrs. Leclere was reading in her cool, quiet parlors as the silvery voice echoed through the street. Instinctively she rose and pushed aside the curtains.

A slender figure in a brown calico dress, her face shaded by a blue-ribboned bonnet, was leaning over the area railings, on which she dexterously balanced a basket of ripe strawberries, glowing scarlet through their covering of fresh vine leaves.

Mrs. Leclere shaded her eyes with her hand and looked again.

'Why Kitty Brace, can it be possible that it is you?'

'I myself, and no other,' laughed Kitty. 'I'm selling strawberries on a wager—will you by some?'

'Buy some? of course. Give me a dozen baskets, and then come in, you little witch, and tell me all about it.'

'Not just now—haven't time,' answered Kitty, demurely; 'but you shall hear of it by-and-by.'

Mrs. Leclere thought Kitty had never looked so pretty in tulle and pearls as she did under the quaint shadow of that shaker bonnet—her eyes dancing with suppressed mischief, and the brown curls tucked behind her ears; and the old maid behind the window blinds of the opposite house thought it "very queer" to see Mrs. Leclere lean from her casement to kiss the strawberry girl.

'Strawberries? how much be they a basket?'

Mrs. Jones rubbed the soapsuds from her sodden fingers, and polished them off on her check apron, as she opened the basement door.

'Five cents?' that's too much; I won't give but four. James Adolphus, if you don't keep your hands out of that strawberry basket, I'll skin you. I'd calculated on gettin' a few for preservin', but sugar's so awful high. Julius Alexander, come in out of the street this minute, or I'll come after you. I'd put up two jars o' pineapples, but James Adolphus got at one, and t'other blowed up with a band on Easter Sunday. Can't ye give me four baskets for a shillin'? Them baskets is the biggest cheats—don't hold half they pretend to. Take postage stamps? Well, pour 'em out. My gracious; if here ain't a strawberry leaf in one of the baskets. Look here, young woman, don't you ever show your face here again selling strawberries. A leaf—just to fill up, I'll warrant. Where do you expect to go to when you die, I'd just like to know?'

The door was slammed in Kitty's face with more emphasis than politeness. Strawberries had its unpleasant aspects as well as most other occupations in thisworld; but our little heroine was undismayed. It takes a good deal to daunt a courageous woman.

Late in the afternoon, Mr. Parker Pelham's clerk came softly into the back office, where his master was busily engaged in writing.

'I beg your pardon, sir, but do you wish to buy any strawberries?'

'Strawberries—no,' said Parker, abstractedly.

'I told the young person so, sir, but dear me—here she is now.'

There was a defiant little tap on the door, and then Miss Kitty Brace walked in, her hazel eyes sparkling like two stars under the shaker bonnet.

'You don't wish to purchase, Mr. Pelham? That's fortunate, for I've sold every berry. Please to count my change—I believe it amounts to nine cents over and above the specified five dollars.'

Parker Pelham stared at the double handful of postage currencies in blank astonishment and dismay.

'You don't mean to say, Miss Kitty, that——'

'I do mean to say that I have won the wager, sir.'

How pretty she looked in that moment of bright animation. Ordinarily Parker Pelham would have hesitated long, ere parting with a red cent of his hoarded money, but beauty is a wonderful subduer. All the treasured hopes of months leaped up in that one moment of fascination.

'I own myself vanquished, Miss Kitty,' he said, handing over a neatly folded fifty dollar bill. 'Take it,—and——'

He paused a moment in awkward uncertainty.

'Kitty, will you take my heart, too?'

'Thank you, sir,' said Kitty, demurely, 'but I should scarcely know what to do with the article. My promised husband is fighting under the stars and stripes; and one heart is all I can take care of at one time. Good evening, sir.'

Alas, for the humiliated and discomfited Parker Pelham, was it not hard enough to lose fifty dollars, but he must lose a sweetheart, too? But all the Rothschilds never felt so rich as Kitty Brace when she enclosed that fifty dollar bill to purchase comforts for the soldiers.

FRANKLIN, when he was ambassador to France, being at a meeting of a literary society, and not well understanding the French when declaimed, determined to applaud when he saw a lady of his acquaintance express satisfaction. When they had ceased, a little child who understood French, said to him, 'But, grand papa, you always applauded the loudest when they were praising you!' Franklin laughed heartily, and explained the matter.

—An uncongenial marriage often ruins two excellent persons.

—A sheriff officers is a man who never leave another in distress.

—There is a truth of fiction more fully veracious than the truth of facts.

Capt. Ike Billings Writes a Friendly Letter.

MR. EDITOR.—You ask me questions about the draft that bothers me. It's curis how it duz act, but it waz jist so in scripter times, "2 wimmen was at a mill grinding (corn i reckon,) one was took, and the t'other want took." There aint enny doubt, but the draft iz for 3 years, or thereabouts, but i think a person would hav a rite to sell out hiz chances at enny time durin the 3 years, or thereabouts, for a premium, provided he could sho to the government that he waz conshientzly opposed to hard tack and bilyus fever.

Agin: Aleyens aint liable for the draft, espeshilly if tha cum from the city ov Ireland, and hav bin in the habit, for the last 5 years, ov votin the Democratic ticket.

Againly: Widder wimmen and their only son is exempt, provided the widders husband has already sarved 2 years in the war, and iz willing to go agin; i beleve the supreme corte haz desided this thing forever.

Onse more: If a drafted man should run awa with hiz draft, he probably wouldn't be allowed to stand the draft agin. This looks severe at first site, but the more you look at it the more you can se the wisdom into it.

Onse morely: Xempt ar those who hav bin drafted into the stait prizzin, for triing to git an honest livin bi supportin 2 wifes at onst, also, all them people who ar crazee, and unsound on the goose, and all nuespaper korrespondents and fools in general.

Onse morely again: No substitute will be acksepted, who is less than 3 or more than 10 feet high, he must know how to chaw terbacker and drink whiskee, and musn't be afeered ov the itch nor the rebels. Moral karrakter aint required, the government furnishes that and fashuns.

Conclusively: No person can be drafted but twice in two different plases without his consent, but awl men haz a rite to be drafted at least onst; I don't think even a writ ov habus corpus could deprive a man ov this laste, blessed privilege.

The City of London.

London City now covers one hundred and twenty-one square miles, having increased three fold since the year 1850; and brick and mortar still capture the fields. The population, according to the report of the Registrar general, augments at the rate of about one thousand a week—half by birth, and half by emigration.

Notwithstanding the enormous wealth of the population, it is recorded in the report of the Registrar as a remarkable fact, that five in six of those who leave the world, die in the public institutions—workhouse, hospital, asylum or prison. Nearly one in eleven of the deaths are in the workhouse. This shows that poverty follows at the heels of wealth, and fastens on the multitude with relentless grasp. Every sixth person dies either a pauper or a criminal! Can this be said of any other city on the globe? And how great a number who barely manage to escape this fate! The severe competition for subsistence and wealth which characterizes London life is a terrible ordeal for any human being to pass through, and thousand fails in the attempt, crushed beneath the golden Juggernaut.

"It is now notorious," says a London Exchange, "that in the large establishments where some hundreds of assistants are employed, the great majority are broken down tradesmen, crushed by the competition of capital. Even these occupations are obtained with difficulty, and the less fortunate gradually sink lower in the scale, until they are driven into the public institutions where they meet with an untimely death. The list is farther swelled by that class who, born in a respectable sphere and well educated, sink into degradation through sheer love of display, and vanity of living beyond their means. It is on record that out of 8,000 convicts who have passed through their probation at Pentonville, 1,000 have fallen through this terrible vice; and it is stated that most of the number were originally respectable in more than an ordinary degree.

Louis Napoleon's Mother.

Hortense grew up to be one of the most beautiful ladies in Europe. The Duchess of Abrantes thus describes her when seventeen years of age:—She was fresh as a rose, and though her fair complexion was not relieved by much color, she had enough to produce that freshness and bloom which constituted her chief beauty. A profusion of light hair played in silken locks around her soft and penetrating blue eyes. The delicate roundness of her slender figure was set off by the elegant carriage of her head. But what formed the chief attraction of Hortense was the grace of her manners. She had wit without the smallest ill-temper. I have seen many princesses in their courts and in Paris, but I never knew one who had any pretension to equal talents with Hortense.

IRISH ADVICE TO IRISHMEN IN AMERICA.—The following is from the United Irishman (Dublin,) August 29:

From the tone of the British journals we are induced to believe that England is at the bottom of the resistance to the draft for the Federal army. It is quite natural that men should be opposed to conscription of the kind, and that such a measure would be more especially unpopular in a free country like America. It is, therefore, the more easy to stir up opposition to it. English gold is at work in New York. Her emissaries are there taking advantages of the popular prejudices and doing more to damage the cause of the Union than if she had actually recognized the independence of the Southern States.

The London Times has an article gloating over the anticipated resistance of Gov. Seymour to the draft. It would certainly be playing the game of the country to perfection. England would give the Governor a million pounds sterling if he could be induced to take such a step. It might tend to the prolongation of the war or the destruction of the Union, but most unquestionably to the complete annihilation of Irish influence in America, and an end to all hope for the freedom of our fatherland in our generation. Let them stand, to the last, by the flag that has been borne alongside their own in battle, and under whose folds alone they can find freedom and protection

A POPULAR DANISH STORY.—In the village of Ebberup in Funen, there lived a wealthy farmer, who had to go one day to market with a load of barley, so one of his neighbors, a cottager, asked leave to go with him for the sake of fetching home some goods in the empty cart. The farmer had no objection, so the cottager followed the cart on foot, and as it was a very hot day, he pulled of his worsted stockins and wooden shoes, and stuffed them under the barley in the back of the cart. It happened to be on Sunday, and they had to pass close by a church on the roadside. The man had got a little way behind the cart, so that he could hear that the minister was in the pulpit. It struck him that the farmer was driving very slow, he might as well turn in and hear a bit of the sermon, he could soon make up with the cart again. He did not like to go so far into the church that the minister could see him, so he stood inside the door. The Gospel for that day was about the rich man and the beggar. Just as the traveler entered the church the minister shouted out, "But what became of the rich man?" The Ebberup man thought the minister was speaking to him so he stepped forward and said, "He drove on to Assens with a load of barley." "No," thundered the minister, "he went to hell." "Mercy on us!" cried the other, running out of church, "then I must look after my shoes and stockins!"

IT is often said that knowledge is power—and this is true. Skill or faculty of any kind carries with it superiority. So, to a certain extent, wealth is power, rank is power, and intellect is power, and genius has a transcendant gift of mastery over men. But higher, purer, and better than all, more constant in its influence, more lasting in its sway, is the power of character—that power which emanates from a pure and lofty mind. Take any community, who is the man of most influence? To whom do all look up with reverence? Not the smartest man, not the cleverest politician, not the most brilliant talker, but him who in a long course of years, tried by the extremes of prosperity and adversity, has approved himself to the judgment of his neighbors, and of all who who have seen his life, as worthy to be called wise and good.

GREATNESS.—All greatness consists in this: In being alive to what is going on around one; in living actually; in giving voice to the thought of humanity; in saying to one's fellows what they want to hear at that moment; in being the concretion, the result of the present world. In no other way can one affect the world than in responding thus to its needs, in embodying thus its ideas. You will see in looking in history, that all great men have been a piece of their time; take them out and set them elsewhere, and they will not fit so well; they were made for their day and generation. The literature which has left any mark, which has been worthy of the name, has always mirrored what was doing around it; not necessarily daguerrotyping the mere out side, but at least reflecting the inside—the thoughts, if not the actions of men—their feelings and sentiments even if treated of apparently far-off themes.

—It is as important in guarding your secrets as in protecting your treasure, to keep your chest locked.

—Ridicule is a kind of weapon that should have a button of good nature on the point of it.

A WORD TO PRINTERS.—Printers and newspaper publishers should be, of all others, men of taste, and have a high appreciation of the beautiful in their art. The grand accomplishment of a few men of genius for craft have crowned it with that beauty which once the artist's pencil alone could give: and to rude metal is not given a power that charms the eye as did the masterpieces of Angelo. The development of the age of taste in our business has begun, and types shadowed like the sun-clad rays of evening, or gemmed like the crystal drops of purest fountain, are wrought by the hand of genius to please the eye of taste. The most graceful figures that an educated imagination could invent make reading a pictured dreams, and charm the mind even for a time from the most eloquent subject which they present. Magnificent combinations of colors, presents a picture of beauty, as well as a source of information, have been invented. The fingers of the scientific chirographer have lost their power as we behold the perfect scroll and flourishes which adorn the delicate style of script of the present day, and in those higher branches of the art, which perfect and perpetuate the skill of the engraver, description fails to tell the wonderful advancement which the past few years have witnessed.

It is our duty cordially to appreciate this noble development of our art, and to extend a cheering aid to those masterspirits of the craft who are making it the wonder of this wonderful age. First among these, most entitled to the thanks of American typographers, is the firm of L. Johnson & Co., Philadelphia, Pa., who, with patient zeal, have been for the last ten years labouring to bring the art to that high standard which it occupies. Invention after invention, combination after combination, blending all that is beautiful in types, borders, cuts, and the hosts of other things belonging to that which talks of the skill of the profession, have followed on each other in rapid succession in their specimen sheets, until it is like listening to the tones of beautiful music, or beholding the canvas that an artist's hand has clothed with the imagery of life, or drinking in the inspiration of the poet's spell, to gaze upon them. We commend their labours to the craft. Give their zeal a welcome, gentlemen, and a proper encouragement.—Nacogdoches Chronicle.

The Result of Street Education.

Keep your children off the street.

By that we mean, do not let them make acquaintances on the sidewalks. If they frequent public schools, you must establish a sort of verbal quarantine at your own door, and examine the youthful tongue once a day, to see if it has not a secretion of slang upon it.

Mrs. Careful's little son Manfred came running into the paternal mansion the other day, shouting to the cook:

"Now then, old girl, slap up that dinner."

"Why? Manfred!" began the astonished mother, "where did you learn such language? who have you been playing with?"

"Me," said the hopeful. "I generally play with Dick Turner, 'cause he's a bully boy with a glass eye. That's so."

The fond mother was about to express some astonishment at the optical misfortune of Dick, when the son continued:

"Ma, I'm going to buy a plug. Jem Smith wears one, and I'm as big as he is."

"A plug!" gasped the mother.

"Yes, sir-ee, a plug. I've got the spondulicks salted down in my box, sure; it's bound to come."

The mother at this juncture ordered the youngster up stairs, and sent for a man servant to interpret the slang.

A KENTUCKY ANECDOTE.—A gentleman owned a slave who was a very intelligent fellow, and a Universalist. On one occasion he illustrated the character of his religion in the following manner. A certain slave had obtained a license of the Baptists to preach. He was holding forth in the presence of many of his colored brethren at one time, when he undertook to describe the process of Adam's creation. Said he 'When God made Adam, he stooped down, scraped up a little dirt, wet it a little, warmed it in his hands, and squeeze it in the right shape, and den lean it up against the fence to dry.—' 'Stop dere,' said our Universalist darkey; 'You say dat are de first man eber made?' 'Sartain,' said the preacher. 'Den,' said the other, 'jess tell whar dat ere fence come from!'—'Hush!' said the preacher, 'two more questions like dat would spile all de teology in de world!'

—It is easier to make up one's mind to early rising than one's body.

—The two faculties of speech and speech-making are wholly diverse in their natures.

—The hours should be instructed by the ages and the age explained by the hours.

A Story of a Jack-Knife.

In 1817, a youth, then resident in Maine, owned a jack-knife, which, he being somewhat of a trading disposition, sold for a gallon of West India rum. This he retailed, and with the proceeds purchased two gallons, and eventually a barrel, which was followed in due time by a large stock. In a word he got rich, and became a squire of the district through the possession and sale of a jack-knife, and an indomitable trading industry. He died worth property in real estate and money valued for $80.000. This was divided by testament among four children—three boys and a girl. Luck, which seemed to be the guardian angel of the parent, deserted the children; for every folly and dissipation they could engage in seemed to occupy their exclusive attention and cultivation.

The daughter married unfortunately and her patrimony was soon thrown away by her spendthrift of a husband. The sons were no more fortunate, and two of them died of dissipation and poverty. The daughter also died. The last of the family lived for many years on the kindness of those who knew him in prosperity. He also died suddenly and unattended in a barn where he had laid him down in a drunken sleep. On his pockets being examined, all that was found was a string and a jack-knife! so the fortune that begun with a jack-knife, only left its simple duplicate. We leave the moral to be drawn in whatever form it may suggest itself to the reader, stating that the story is a true one, and all the facts well known to many whom this relation will doubtless reach.—Ex.

War Incident.

In August last a foraging party, numbering about fifty men, under a Lieutenant, came into Helena, Arkansas, loaded with 'mementoes' more than forage. Gen. Curtis, hearing how the party was loaded rode out on the road toward the picket, to meet them. Soon they came along—each loaded with some article 'gobbled' on the road. One had an eight-day marine clock, another had a double barrel shot-gun; another toiled under the weight of a feather bed; another had a pillow case full of books; another had under his saddle a handsome rug, taken from some bedroom. All the goods were ordered to be taken to the Provost office. Last in the party came an Irishman, lugging an old fashioned spinning wheel. As he deposited the 'keepsake' on the pile, the General demanded:

'Well, sir, where did you get this machine?'

'Faith, Gin'ral, I confiscated it on the farm where we wint!'

'Was this all you could find?'

'Indade it was! Sure, Gen'ral I was the last man in the house—so I was!'

'Well, what did you intend doing with such a concern?'

'Bedad, Gin'ral! an' I just thought it would be a nate thing to give yez!'

'What in the devil do I want of such a machine?'

'To spin cotten and sure! an if it ain't no use for that, use it to wind up the war!'

GENIUS ENERGY.—There is a genius of energy and industry. You will learn that all the traditions current among very young men that certain greatness, and an inspiration as it were, grows out of a mistake. And you will further find when you come to measure yourself with men, that there are no rivals so formidable as those earnest determined minds, which reckon the value of every hour, and which achieve eminence by persistent application.

Literary ambition may influence you at certain periods, and the sound of some great name will flash like a spark into the mind of your purpose: you set up shadows and they fly. Dreaming never catches them. Nothing makes the 'scent lie well' in the hunt for distinction but labor.

And it is a glorious thing, when once you are weary of the dissipation and the ennui of your own aimless thoughts to take up some glowing page of an earnest thinker and read deep and long, until you find the metal of his thoughts tinkling on your brain, and striking out from the flinty lethargy flashes of ideas that gives the mind light and heat. And away you go in the chase of what the soul is creating in the instant, and you wonder at the fecundity of what seems to be crude. The glow of toil wakes you to the consciousness of your real capacities; you feel sure that you have taken a new step towards final development.

In such a mood it is that one feels grateful to the toombs, which at other hours stands like curiosity making mummies, with no warmth and no vitality. Now they grow into affections like new found friends, to gain a hold upon the heart and light a fire in the brain the years and mould cannot cover or quench.—Ike Marvel.

—A young lady should take heed when an admirer bends low before her. The bent beau is dangerous.

The Weekly Union.

Mankato, Friday, Oct. 9, 1863.

Republican Union Ticket.

For Governor,
STEPHEN MILLER.
For Lieutenant Governor,
CHARLES D. SHERWOOD.
For Secretary of State,
DAVID BLAKELY.
For Auditor of State,
CHARLES McILRATH,
For State Treasurer,
CHARLES SCHEFFER.
For Attorney General,
GORDON E. COLE,
For Clerk of the Supreme Court,
GEORGE F. POTTER.

17th LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT.

For State Senator,
B. Y. COFFIN.
For Representatives,
WILLIAM RUSSELL,
J. A. PHELPS,
FREEMAN TALBOT,

COUNTY TICKET.

For Sheriff,
ELIJAH MIDDLEBROOK.
For Register of Deeds,
BENJAMIN F. SMITH.
For Treasurer,
A. T. LINDHOLM.
For Judge of Probate
DAVID WILCOX
For County Surveyor,
WILLIAM L. COON.
For Coroner,
T. T. PEIRCE,
For County Commissioners,
1st Dist.—H. ROBERTSON,
2d Dist.—L. G. M. FLETCHER,
3d Dist.—JOHN I. JONES,

Republican Union Platform.

Resolved, that we, chosen to represent in convention the unconditional Union men of Minnesota, grateful to Almighty God for the success which has hitherto crowned the arms of our country and for the prospect thus opened of a speedy, honorable and lasting peace, do hereby, for our friends and constituents, re-affirm our determination to support our Government by every means in our power in the vigorous prosecution of this present war,—on our part, holy, just, and forced upon us by the criminal acts of others,—until not an enemy in arms shall be found within our borders. And to this we pledge our lives our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

2. That we tender our grateful thanks to the survivors of our glorious armies, and our warm sympathy to the relatives of their gallant dead, who have won for the country so glorious victories, for themselves imperishable renown, and for us all an assurance of liberty and safety for our children, under our beloved and now well-tried Government.

3. That with especial pride we point to the gallant achievements on many a hard-fought battle-field, of our Minnesota regiments. Their bravery, discipline, and patriotism have won for them a name that shall never die, and made it forever honorable to be a citizen of Minnesota.

4. That, without claiming for it exemption from error, we heartily endorse the general policy and conduct of our National Administration; and we point to the recent magnificent triumph of our armies as its best vindication from the charges of incapacity so freely brought against it by those who prefer national ruin, to success under the present Administration. Especially do we approve the emancipation proclamation, and the raising of black troops as being among the best possible measures to weaken the enemy and strengthen ourselves.

5 That our State Administration, and our Congressional Delegation deserve our hearty approbation for the zealous and efficient cooperation they have afforded the National Authorities in carrying on the war.

6 That we call upon those in authority to take such measures, by retaliation or otherwise, as shall effectually prevent brutal and barbarous treatment by the enemy of our soldiers, of whatever color.

7 That it is due to our shattered armies in the field, as well as to the sacred cause which they uphold, that their ranks should as speedily as possible be filled up by every means in our power. It is due to the country that the mobs raised to resist and prevent the draft, should not seem to have succeeded a day longer than is necessary to enforce the laws.

8 That the way to peace is and ever has been open to the rebels; the only condition we have ever sought to impose, is that they should lay down their arms and submit to the authority of the General Government. We protest against the making of any terms with them in advance as to their status as communities, when they shall have returned to their allegiance. Having been declared "public enimies" by a recent unanimous decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, they must accept the consequences that legitimately flow from having placed themselves in that position.

LITERARY NOTICE.

Our accomplished, Booneville monument-rearing-friend-William-Byron-Torry, author of "Byron's Pomes," presented last weeks, through the columns of the Record the first edition of his beautiful "pomes" We ask for them a careful perusal from a reading and appreciative public.

THE Record denies that in printing its bogus tickets, it intended to deceive the soldiers, and claims that the transposition of names was accidental. If the editor was known to be a gentleman of truth and veracity his statement would have some weight. But thus crawling out of a small hole does not help the matter. The soldiers charged it upon them at first, and they did not try to get out of the scrape by calling it an "accidental transposition," until they found the game would not work.

The erasure of Mr. Park's name was done at the instance of John J. Porter, and appears to be in his own handwriting, and we do not believe the ticket were printed upon the order of a Republican, unless, indeed, Mr. Porter is a Republican, which he has, and sometimes claims to be. The "Clique" will have to peddle some more tobacco before they can make voters believe them.

A BANK IN MANKATO,—We were pleased, the other day to make the acquaintance of Major E. H. Smith, of Sycamore, Illinois, who proposes to open a banking institution here in a short time. This is just what we need here, and will be an acquisition to our town, of decided benefit. The Major has had many years of experience in the business, and understands it to a "T," He enlisted as a private in the 2d Illinois Artillery, and was promoted first to a Lieutenancy and then a Majorship. He is a true, loyal man, and firm supporter of the government. We welcome him among us,

OUR HOTELS AND THEIR ACCOMMODATION.—The hotels of a town are generally considered as an index of its business prosperity, and when a stranger arrives his first inquiry is. "What kind of hotels have you?" We are proud to say that the people of Mankato have no reason to feel ashamed of the character of their public houses, or their proprietor.

The Mankato House, which is the oldest in town, and now conducted by Henry Shaubut, Esq., was opened in the spring of 1855. Since then it has been leased to several parties, but is now kept by the proprietor, Mr. Shaubut. It is now a popular house with the traveling public. It is the headquarters of all the Stage lines centering here, and receives more custom from abroad, than other houses here. We have examined its comfortable rooms, and know them to be neat and clean; its tables are neatly set and supplied with the best the market affords. A good, warm stable is near by where farmers and teamsters can find accommodations for their teams at all times, The Mankato is a good house, and none the less so, because Grove Burt is clerk thereof.

The Clifton is, also, one of the houses in Mankato, Flower, the affable, and sprightly landlord, is always on the move, and determined to have everything that will add to the convenience and comfort of his guest, The Clifton, we believe, was opened nearly four years ago, by Mr. F. its present proprietor, and has attained a popularity second to none in the Valley, All its internal arrangements are well attended to, and it has become a great favorite with the boarding public, and with farmers and teamsters. No one finds fault with the quality or quantity of food set before them. The stable accommodations are good. The Clifton is deserving of patronage, and let it have its share.

The American, kept by Wm. H. Hoerr, is located in lower town. We are not at all acquainted with the accommodations which this house affords, believe it is more of a boarding, than a public house. Its proprietor, Mr, Hoerr, is one of our most influential German citizens, highly respected, and has been a resident of Mankato for a number of year. We ask for the American that patronage which its merits will surely bring.

ARREST OF A DESPERADO.—Yesterday afternoon Deputy U. S. Marshal Cleveland arrested a man named Michael Galvin, a low fellow who has been know as a desperado about town for several years, on charge of stealing Government horses. Galvin at once struck Mr Cleveland a severe blow on the head with a slung shot, felling him to the ground, and ran, whereupon Mr. Cleveland drew his revolver and fired at Galvin, without effect. The latter fled into a house near by, and was pursued by Mr. Cleveland, who on his further resisting, again fired at him, this time also without effect, Galvin was then siezed and ironed by Mr. Cleveland, assisted by officer Patterson, and lodged in the County Jail. Mr. Cleveland's wound is quite severe, and he is confined to his bed at the International.—Press

How Recruits for Bragg's Army were Gathered.

Quite an affecting scene was presented at the depot yesterday, as the State troops from this vicinity were moved off on the cars for the rendezvous at Dahlonega, The wives, mothers, and sisters were present to to take leave of their relatives, and when the command to "fall in" was given, they gave expression to their sympathies, in the wildest expression of grief, wringing their hands and weeping bitterly. Many a gallant fellow marched off with quivering lips and tear dimmed eye.—Marietta (Ga.) Rebel.

The Representatives of Faribault County have nominated W. J. C. Robertson, of Blue Earth City for Sheriff, an old resident of that county and a worthy man, We have not learned the other nominations.

The State Fair at Fort Snelling was a poor affair, and hardly deserving name.

NEWS ITEMS.

Caleb Cushing declines a re-election to he Massachusetts Legislature,

The new army Register is completed, and show that on April 1, 1863, there were 2,423 commissioned officers of regular army, and 40,909 enlisted men—total, 43, 332.

The Lewistown (Me.) Journal records the case of a young man volunteering to go as substitute for a friend who had been drafted, because that friend ought not to leave his family, and the young man felt he owed personal service to his country. Having accumulated $1,500, he made a will devising, in case he should not return, $700 to the Maine Wesleyan Seminary and $300 to the American Bible Society, the rest to be divided among his brothers and sisters. Having thus arranged his private affairs, he left for the field of battle.

John Morrisey, while a guest at the American House in Troy, the other day, left nine thousand five hundred dollars in bills in his room while he came down to breakfast. The money was found by Mary Ann Hefferman, a chambermaid, who gave it to the landlord. Inquiries were made and the money was restored to Mr. Morrisey, who rewarded the girl's honesty with a fifty-dollar bill.

The number of prize vessels taken into the port of Philadelphia since the commencement of the war is eighty-five. The most valuable, including the cargo, was the steamer Bermuda, which realized more than half a million dollars, Several of the late prizes which brought heavy cargoes of cotton realized large sums.

A cavalry regiment is said to be raising in Maine. This branch of the service is properly engaging increased attention on the part of the war department.

Among a recent batch of Confederate prisoners is one man, only twenty-four years of age, whose hair is white as snow. He says it was fright in his first fight.

Gen. Hunter is in St. Louis seeking to penetrate the mystery concealed with the loss of a million of dollars in greenbacks on the steamer Ruth.

Tom Thumb is about to retire to private life on a fortune of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. He is going to build him a cage at Bridgeport, Connecticut, and go in for the otium cum dignitate in sober earnest.

Rev. Daniel Waldo, of Syracuse, New York formerly chapalin of Congress, was 101 years old last Thursday. He is the oldest living graduate of Yale College.

State News Items.

LOGS.—About one-half the Apple river logs came out a week ago Monday, filling the boom and the main river so full that the steamer Allen was unable to get through on her down trip until Saturday afternoon. The Allen made a trip to Prescott that evening and returned early next morning with eighty passengers for this city.—Stillwater Messenger.

There will be a grand Union meeting in this city on the 17th of next month. Senator Wilkinson, Col. Miller and Hon. Ignatus Donnelly are expected to speak.—Ib.

A RUNAWAY.—Quite a serious accident occured last week to Mr. Day and Mr. Dobbins. They were riding with Mr. Herson Lewis, who on undertaking to try the speed of his ponies, found they were too much for him. The horses threw all three out of the wagon, injuring Mr. Dobbins in the head and shoulders quite seriously. Mr. Day had his thigh badly bruised, but is getting along quite well. Too much care cannot be taken in driveing young horses.—Mower County Register.

BRICK.—Mr. Yates, of this place, we understand is going to burn quite a quantity of brick next season for the demands of the town. Rev. Mr. Parker has already oredred of Mr. Yates brick for his house to be put up another season. Those who want brick would do well to order in advance, as undoubtedly every brick will be sold as soon as burnt, which are not ordered beforehand.—Ib.

A METHODIST CHURCH BUILDING IN MOSCOW.—We learn from Mr. Farr that the Methodist Society are building a church in Moscow, a little town north-west of us. The men are busy at work, and expect to hurry the building along so as to have it ready for occupancy this fall.—Ib.

ON FURLOUGH.—Our streets have been pretty well filled of late with soldiers on leave of absence from the Fort. The boys of Company C. are a fine lot of stalwart men, and if they are privileged to go South and go into battle, we are sure that they will not be found wanting. The men speak highly of all their officers, and seem to have respect for them —Ib.

HOPS.—The consumption of Hops in this State is very large, and the entire supply is imported from New York. This is singular, considering that Minnesota can raise as fine Hops as any other State. Mr. Troll, of Carver county, shows us some specimens of Hops raised by him this year, which cannot be beat anywhere. Such a branch of domestic industry should not be neglected by our farmers.—St. Paul Press.

A COLD SNAP.—October, the most beautiful month in the year usually, has commenced this season very unfavorably. Yesterday was cold enough for November. Overcoats and shawls were in vouge. The stove dealers were busy all day, and every other man seen on the street had a stove-pipe under his arm. This can last but for a day or two however. We will yet have three or four weeks of the most beautiful Indian summer weather.—Press.

A Federal Spy to be Hung at Mobile.

A letter from Fort Gaines, in Mobile harbor, gives the following account of the sentence of death having been passed upon a spy:

He is a Captain of the 23d New York Regiment, came through our lines at Richmond, Va., and has spying ever since. He has visited Charleston, Savannah, Chattanooga, and Atlanta, as also nearly every prominent point in the Confederacy. His last visit was to Mobile, where his money gave out, and he then endeavored to procure a position as a substitute in one of the companies stationed at Fort Gaines, but the Colonel refused to accept him, believing him to be above the conscription age He then went over to Fort Morgan, where he was taken as a substitute—about two weeks after, he left his post and started for the Yankees. Pursuit was immediately made, and our men succeeded in catching him about six miles from the Fort. Upon his person was found a plan of Fort Gaines and Morgan, giving the strength of the forts and the number and size of the guns. He was court-martialed and sentenced to death. The sentence was approved by the President, and he will be shot on the 28th inst. After his capture he confessed being a spy, and gave the number of his regiment.

Hon. William Windom at Blue Earth City.

A large and enthusiastic audience convened at Blue Earth City to hear the Hon. Wm. Windom, Tuesday evening, Sept. 29th:

J. A. Keister was called to the Chair and G. D. McArthur was chosen Secretary of the meeting.

Mr. Windom being introduced, was received, by the audience, with a hearty welcome, and in an able and eloquent speech full of genuine loyalty greatly entertained the people, who by frequent and loud applause, manifested their appreciation of truly patriotic sentiments. At the conclusion of the address, the J. B. Wakefield introduced the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted.

G. D. McARTHUR,
Secretary,

WHEREAS the people of Minnesota with almost entire unanimity are true and loyal to the Federal Government, therefore:

Be it resolved, As the sense of this meeting and of the citizens of Faribault County.

1st. That the policy of the present administration in its vigorous efforts to crush out the existing rebellion—by using those means that God and a "Manifest Destiny" have given into its hands—is one that meets with our hearty and unqualified approval and which, We pledge "our Lives our fortunes and our sacred honor" to sustain.

2d, That the measures so persistently advocated by the Peace Democrats at the North, and the Copperheads everywhere, looking to a compromise with armed rebellion, an but a deceit and a snare, and will justly consign their authors to a future of reproach and shame.

3d. That while we mingle our notes with the sad strains of the bereaved, mourning for those who in the hospital and upon the field of battle have died for their country we will not forget to sound the glad pean with the survivors, and to indulge in a just pride when when we reflect upon the brave deeds both of the dead and the living which have given to the "Star of the North" increased lustre and emblazoned her standards with the light of a glorious history.

4th. That we fully concur with our distinguish representative in the views of public policy so ably enunciated by him this evening, and for his successful efforts in Congress and elsewhere, to hold up the hands of our able President, and to secure to us the Homestead and other Bills the benefits of a wise and liberal legislation. We heartily and cheerfully award to him the plaudit "well done," which he has so abundantly earned.

MR. CORWIN'S PREDICTION. The course of events in Mexico has vindicated in a remarkable way the sagacity of Mr. Corwin, as U. S. Minister to that Government. He was sent there almost immediately after the present Administration came into power, and in July, 1861, wrote to Mr. Seward as follows:

"Europe is quite willing to see us humbled, and will not fail to take advantage of our embarrassments to execute purposes she would not have dreamed of had we remained at peace.

I repeat these suggestions, as my reasons for desiring instructions relating to aid in Mexico in some form suitable to her present exigencies. She is impoverished to the last degree, by forty years of civil war. I cannot find in this republic any man or any party better qualified, in my judgment, for the task, than those in power. If they do not save her, then I am quite sure she is to be the prey of some foreign power; and they, I fear, cannot without our aid. I say our aid, for she will look in vain for help elsewhere."

CHANGE IN ENGLISH PUBLIC SENTIMENT.—A private letter from an American gentleman, now in Great Britan, where he enjoys excellent opportunities of information, was received here yesterday.

The writer says that a remarkable change has come over the public opinion of England within the last few weeks. It now favors the North as strongly as it has heretofore favored the South. Among the distinguished converts is Mr. Gladstone, who will take an early opportunity of declaring himself the friend of the Union. The writer is assured upon high authority that the rebel rams will not be premitted to sail, or that if they do sail they will each be escorted by an English iron-clad, instructed to prevent them from violating the neutrality of Britan It is added that a large amount of capital is awaiting the settlement of the ram question, in order to seek investment in American securities. Our recent victories are regarded as the cause of this change of front by England.—Washington Correspondence of the New York Tribune.

Good News from Ohio.

We learn from a gentleman who has lately traveled the State of Ohio leisurely over from one side to the other, that Copperheadism is more completely dead and "laid out" than ever was a political heresy in any State, before election had consigned it to sepulture. War Democrats are declaring themselves by hundreds and thousands. Shrewd men, who have hopes of future life, do not think it safe to show the white feather in time of war. So that, between patriotism and selfishness, the hopes of the Copperheads are utterly blasted. But the most striking fact in the Ohio canvass is the extraordinary unanimity and enthusiasm of the woman and children for John Brough, the opponent of Vallandigham. While thousands of these persons were seen and heard, in cities and at railroad depots, waving handkerchiefs and shouting for Brough, never a one had a word for Vallandigham. Judging by the popular manifestations by the wayside, our informant is confident Vallandigham will not be beaten by less than 100,000 majority.—N. Y. Times.

A HUSBAND AND WIFE POISON THEMSELVES BY AGREEMENT,—The little English village of Fillangly near Coventry was thrown into a state of great excitement last month by the singular suicide of a man and wife who agreed to poison themselves, and did so after the most approved French fashion. The husband, named Dalby a laborer, left the following explanatory epistle, which was produced at the coroner's inquest:

Dear friends, I take the pleasure of writing to satisfy you all about the the death of my wife so that you need not be at any trouble to cut me all to pieces. The bottle by my side, with the label on, with Prussic acid is what put us both to death. You need not blame my friends, for they know nothing at all about it. It was not me that poisoned my wife, for she did it herself, with her own good will, and I promised her I would follow her that day week, when I had seen her buried all comfortable. We were too loving to live together in this world, so we wished to meet again on the throne of God to part no more. So farewell till we meet again on the throne of God This is H. W. Dalby's hand-writing, to satisfy them all round. H. W. Dalby, no more.

Death of a Trotting Horse.

It is not often that the journalist is called upon to chronicle the death of one of the brute creation. Occasionally, however, the demise of some favorite horse, who had become a sort of public character,—who numbered his friends by hundred and had his enemies, too,—who had been talked about more than once in the public prints, is a matter of general interest. So in the case of "Ike Cook," a trotting horse, who in this community needs no other introduction. He died at half-past 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Brain fever killed him. Next Wednesday week he was to have trotted with "Cooley" for $1,000 a side.—Chicago Journal.

The Strength of Bragg's Army.

A Washington correspondent of the New York Times says:

"A gentleman who visited Bragg's army three weeks ago, and who had an opportunity while there to become acquainted with several of his brigade and division officers, gives the following details concerning the Generals he had with him, the composition of his forces, and their respective strength.

Bragg's army was originally composed of two corps, under command of Generals Polk and Hardee. After the fall of Vicksburg and the removal of its garrison to Demopolis, Alabama an order from Richmond took General Hardee from his command and sent him to Demopolis, for the purpose of re-organizing the army paroled by General Grant, then in a state of complete demoralization. Pemberton was sent to Charleston to co-operate with General Beauregard in the defense of that place

This, of course produced in Bragg's army a vacancy which was soon filled up by the arrival of A. P. Hill, one of Lee's Lieutenants, appointed by Jeff Davis to fill up the place left by Hardee. The appointment of A. P. Hill to Bragg's army did not, however, involve the removal of his corps, which is said to be still in Virginia, under command of General Lee.

The army of Bragg was then under command of two division officers, Generals Polk and A. P. Hill, having under them the following officers:

Gen. Polk has in his division; Brigadier-General Patrick Clayborne. Generel Aleck H. Steward, Prest n Smith, Bashrod Johnson, Deas and others.

Under Gen A. P. Hill are; Generals Breckinridge, Vance, Cabby, Almen, and others.

The force of these two corps is estimated at 20,000, men each. To this must be added the cavalry forces, brought by Forrest and his two Lieutenants, Wharton and Wheeler, amounting to 14,000 men,

Then the force under Buckner, estimated at 12,000, the reinforcements forwarded by Gen. Johnston, who has left Meridian, Mississippi, to meet, according to the testimony of some deserters, the army of Burnside at Knoxville.

The whole force, according to this statement, would be as follows:

Bragg's army,	40,000
Forrest's cavalry,	14,000
Buckner's corps,	12,000
Johnston's reinforcement estimated at	5,000
Total number of men	71,000

If to this be added Ewell's or Longstreet's division, of 25,000 men, the whole force will amount to 95,000 men, the flower of the Confederate army. It is not, however, by any means certain that any portion of Lee's army has been sent to Bragg. I find, on the contrary, well informed persons persist in the opinion that the latter had no other forces than the fragments of the rebel armies of the West, mustering as I have stated, 71,000 men.

Late News from Sully's Expedition.

We have been permitted to make some extracts from a letter just received here from the Winnebago Agency, which gives some interesting particulars of Sully's fight:

"Reliable news from Sully—he has arrived at Fort Pierre, and has 140 prisoners, mostly children but some squaws and Indians. He has 100 horses, and a steam boat load of plunder—they are the same Indians Sibley fought with and they say they whipped Sibley and drove him off and that Sibley only killed five of them.

Gen. Sully had 10 killed and 43 wounded.

Since writing the above I have seen and talked with a number of men who were in the fight—they say the Indians fought like Tigers, and are fully equal to us man for man. The prisoners taken say they did whip Sibley, and took 60 to 100 horses from him and a lot of gun cartridges. Gen. Sully caught an Indian from whom he learned their location, and then sent 400 of the Iowa 6th in advance who came suddenly upon them, but managed to send back word to the Gen. who came up with the balance of the force 8 miles in 45 minutes, and pitched into the fight immediately—the Iowa 6th on one side the Nebraska boys on the other and the Indians in the center—Gen. Sully and the artillery on the flank—but the artillery could not be used they got mixed up so; 400 men were all one day burning and destroying Indian property—they had an abundance of provision and were well clothed some of them being dressed in Government uniform.

FOREIGN NEWS.

CAPE RACE, Oct. 2.—The Laronia, from Southampton the 25d, arrived off this point at noon to-day

The Londen Times says, the fate of Charleston is virtually a question of time.

The Times says that Mr. Mason sent to Earl Russell on Monday a notification that he had been instructed by the Richmond government to withdraw from England. Mr. Mason will at once proceed to Paris.

The La France says a federal steamer Corvette arrived at Brest from Maderia, having been sent with another federal corvette in pursuit of the Florida. The Florida leaves Brest on the 23rd, completely repaired and proceed immediately to meet the second corvette, which is at Lisbon and attack her, [illegible] she can be joined by the one at Brest, which is repairing. The La France says the federal corvette Kersage will be treated at Brest like the Florida. Both belligerents will enjoy the same rights and advantages.

The Confederate loan was quiet at 20a30 per cent, discount.

The Memorial Diplomatique says that England has entered into an engagement to acknowledge the present Mexican Government as soon as Maximillian announces to the Deputation his final acceptance. England and France will then immediately accredit official representatives. England has promised to favor every means for the reorganization of a loan to place Mexico in a position to fulfill her obligations abroad.

The La France says if the Three Powers make a communication to Russia it will be of a different character to the ordinary note, and "diplomatic language" will receive another name.

The Paris Journal considers the insertion in the Moniteur of the Polish memoranda is tantamount to a moral recognition as belligerents.

RUSSIA.—The Rusisan Emperor in a speech had promised reforms and extended privileges. Eleven plated gunboats with turrets will be completed by spring. Twenty thousand men it is reported are stationed in Finland. The Czar received the King of the Greeks at St. Petersburgh, on the 20th. No more leave is given to naval officers.

POLAND.—The Russians were defeated on the 30th, at Lutonierz, and at Mazovienion, on the 12th. The Russians murdered a great many of the inhabitants of Lutonierz. The Russians had plundered several houses in Warsaw

LATEST NEWS.

News by Friday Morning's Mail.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 6.

The Nashville dispatch to-day, says the rebel's burned a railroad bridge at Stuart's Rock and over Stone River.

After the capture of McMinnville on Saturday by the rebels under Wheeler, then burned one locomotive and 10 cars and took a number of railroad men as prisoners. Subsequently Col. McCook, with a brigade of federal cavalry attacked them, there, scattering them in every direction. She rebels left behind all the prisoners they had recently taken, and several hundred horses. McCook killed and wounded 125 and took 99 prisoners.

Sunday morning the rebels appeared before Murfreesboro, driving the federals into their entrenchments and threatening the town. After remaining all day and part of the night, they destroyed the railroad bridge crossing at the fork of the Stone river, about three miles distant, when it is supposed they retired.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.

A band of guerillias under the famous White of Loudon county made a raid last night on Langley, 6 miles above Georgetown, driving in the pickets. They had two pieces of artillery.

Major General Hancock writing to a friend in Washington, expresses a hope to join the army within three weeks. He is yet lame and not able to ride horseback, but his wound is healing.

Santa Anna has some 30,000 troops but no arms. Two steamers were about leaving Havana for San Domingo with provisions and artil-

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE GREAT REBELLION.
BY
J. T. HEADLEY.
A History of the Civil War in the United States. In two volumes.

Sold by subscription, and obtained only through authorized agents. The first volume is now ready for distribution.

WHEN YOU WANT
BOOTS
AND SHOES
AT WHOLESALE
Don't fail to call on us at Saint Paul,
We have the LARGEST STOCK IN THE STATE,
And sell at
LOW PRICES.
WM. J. SMITH & CO.,
12-6m Saint Paul, Minn.

BELL & HOWELL

THE COUNTY.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

St. Paul—Arrives at 9 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Eastern—Arrives at 4 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Blue Earth City—Arrives at 5 P. M. and departs at 7 A. M. Closes 7 P. M.

Office hours—5 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays, 5 to 7 A. M., and 12 M. to 1 P. M.

R. J. SIBLEY, Postmaster.

Agents for the Union.

The following are authorized to receive and receipt for monies paid on subscription to the UNION:

Mankato—MARTIN N. SLOCUM.
South Bend—LARS LEE.
Garden City—RAY & WILLIAMS.
Vernon—THOMAS SOWERS.
Shelbyville—H. A. BECK, R. SHANNON.
Winnebago City—HOLLY and WELCH.
Verona—A. D. MASON.
Blue Earth City—W. J. C. ROBERTSON.
Fairmount—W. W. CARRINGTON.
Mapleton—S. MIDDLEBROOK.
Madelia—C. G. MULLEN.
New Ulm—J. C. RUDOLPH.
Judson—MR. GOODWIN.
Winnebago Agency—LUCIUS DYER.
Sterling—WILLIAM RUSSELL.
Butternut Valley—REV. J. JENKINS.

Why is the Indian gallows in lower town like prussic acid? Because a single drop produces instant death.

WHY is the Democratic party like the Minnesota river? Because it has fallen below, low water mark, and no human power can raise it.

PRIZES AWARDED.—Prof. Ferguson awarded prizes to the following scholars this week.

Sarah Allen, Emma Peart,

A BIG CABBAGE.—Mr. G. A. Beireis presented us with a cabbage yesterday that weighs nineteen pound and three fourth. This, we say can't be beat. Try it farmers.

PERSONAL.—John F. Meagher; returned Wednesday evening from the East where he has purchased a large stock of goods. His good will soon be on hand, and Mr. M., proposes to "swop" on reasonable terms for greenback. Give him a call.

SELECT SCHOOL.—Miss Amarette Patterson commenced her school Tuesday last, in a building on Second street, in lower town. Her terms are two dollars for a term of three months. We recommend Miss P., as a worthy and capable teacher, deserving of patronage.

STILL ONWARD.—Nothwithstanding the hard times and high prices, the sale of the Chemical Saleratus is still on the increase. People will use it, and every successful house-wife tells her neighbor, and when her neighbor tries it she tells another, and thus its fame spreads until it is hard to tell where it will stop.

"A genius out west has offered to sell Barnum the gallows upon which were hung thirty-eight condemned Sioux Indians, for the paltry sum of five thousand dollars," says Gleason's Literary Companion:

We think we have seen this genius hereabouts, and a look at his jolly good face is enough to "make you sick,"—(McKusick.)

The following are the names of the killed and wounded of Company H. 2d. Regiment Minnesota Vols, as taken from the official report:

COMPANY H.—Killed

Sergeant J. W. Foster, Corporal Nicholas Weiss, Privates, John Hepenell, Alfred W Bigelow, William H. Weagant.

Wounded—Second Lieut. Thomas G. Quails, slightly; Sergeant Josiah Keene, do; Corporal Milton Hanna, severely; Corporal J. S. Hilliard, do; Corporal A B Rose, mortally; Privates Chas. Krause, mortally; S. A Mitchell, severely, Byron E Pay, severely; Cyrus W. Smith, do; Samuel Lowden, slightly; Lewis Linrash, do; Erastus T. Cressy, do; Albert Geell, do.

CONFERENCE APPOINTMENTS.—The following are the appointments of the Minnesota Annual Conference held at Hastings, Minn. Sept. 30, 1863, which we copy from the St. Paul Press:

ST. PETER DISTRICT—J. O. RICH, P. E.

Blue Earth City,	S. T. Richardson.
Shelbyville and Garden City,	S. A. Chubbuck. B. Y. Coffin.
Mankato,	T. Day.
Cleveland,	A. H. Abbott.
Morristown,	T. McCleary.
Wilton,	D. B. Gleason.
Shell Rock,	J. Garner.
Geneva,	J. Barnard.
Owatonna,	J. H. Richardson.
Welsh Mission,	R. D. Price.
Glencoe.	To be supplied.

PERSONAL.—J. B. Hubbell, Esq., arrived home Tuesday evening last from the new Reservation, via Washington and New York.

Affairs are running smoothly at the new Agency and an immence amount of work has beendone in the way of getting the Indians comfortably located. We learn from Mr. H. that Superintendent Thompson will be here in a few days to make arrangement for purchasing a large number of cattle and other supplies.

"Jim" is looking first rate and was warmly welcomed by his numerous friends.

A specimen of the U. S. militia just past the door.

DEPUTY TREASURER.—E. B. D. Porter has been appointed Deputy County Treasurer for Blue Earth County. Mr. Porter is an experience bookkeeper and accountant, and will make a good officer.

NEW GOODS AT MIMS & WOMACKS.—We were going to write a puff for Mims & Womack, but on going into their store found such an endless amount of dry goods, groceries, boots and shoes, yankee notion, clothing, ladies' hoop skirts and silks of all kinds, which were selling at such astonishing low prices, that we were completely non plussed, and know not what to say, The rush of customers reminded us that a notice was not necessary, and the best way to help them along was to keep still and say nothing about them; so we've concluded not to notice them this week.

MR. SHAW'S WRITING CLASS.—One of the most popular institutions in town now a-day, is the popular Writing Class of Prof. A. J. Shaw. The second term commenced Wednesday evening last, with nearly one hundred scholars, who are very much interested in the beautiful system of writing taught by Mr. Shaw. Last week a committee of eight young ladies was appointed by the school, for the purpose of procuring scholars for the next term, and a prize was offered to the lady who procured the largest number of names. And it is amusing to notice the strife that has been going on among them. The award of prizes for last term will be published next week.

WILL THE AGE OF WONDERS NEVER CEASE?—Happening to drop into the new store of O. Ward, a few days ago, we were completely surprised at the display of new goods that met our gaze. Ah! thought we, the matter is all explained now why every lady in town is seen hurrying in that direction. Well, ladies, we don't blame you, for where else can you find everything you want in the dry goods line, and such gentlemanly clerks to wait upon you as at Wards? And then, that new style of hoods. Did you ever see anything quite so nice and warm? (They are very cheap, so says our better half) The cold weather coming on admonishes us to prepare for winter, and the best way to do that is, make a straight shoot to Wards, and give him all the greenbacks you have.

ANTI SLAVERY SENTIMENTS IN TENNESSEE.—The Nashville Union, one of the ablest and most influential papers in the State of Tennessee, is an earnest advocate of Emancipation. In one of its last issues it says:

"We believe that slavery is an enormous curse, which will destroy our country if our country does not destroy it. We believe that the first step to peace and union is the destruction of that atrocious institution, which Jefferson denounced as the plague and scourge of the white race; which Washington and John Marshall abhorred, and which Henry Clay called, in his latter years 'the greatest curse of all human evils.'

The editor of the Fulton Republican at McConnallsburg, says that while the rebels occupied that town, his office was pointed out to them by the copperheads as an abolition concern. Several of the officers called upon him, and asked to see his files. After examining them the Lieutenant in command said: "I see, sir, this is a republican newspaper; you advocate a vigorous prosecution of the war, and are in favor of sustaining your government in everything. I like to see a man one way or the other," Taking several copies of the paper, they left without molesting anything in the office, to the great indignation of the copperheads of that place.

An Adjustable Creed.

As the recent success of the Union armies together with the failure of the secesh sympthisers in the North to put down the draft by force, have plunged the copperheads generally into a perplexing quandary, a writer in the New York Mercury proposes a creed which they can use "according to circumstances," enabling them to appear traitorous or loyal, as may suit the company in which they find themselves,

This creed is short and hereunto appended. When the copperheads find themselves surrounded by Union influences, which they dare not defy, the lines of the creed should be read across—"Hurrah for the Union, &c: but, should they get among rebels, it should be read only half way across—"Hurrah for Secesion death to the Federal Government," &c.

Hurrah for — The Union
Secesion — Is a curse
Death to — Jeff Davis
The Federal Government — Forever
Down with — Mob rule
Law and order — Shall triumph

The weekly returns of the Bank of England shows increase in bullion of $28,728.

Horrible Discovery at Vicksburg.

A Vicksburg correspondent writes; A horrible discovery has been made on the rebel line of fortifications.

Quite a number of men have been engaged in repairing the rebel fort that was blown up on the night of the 3d inst.

In the course of there operations they have exhumed sixty or eighty dead bodies found, buried in the ruins of the fort

It seems that while our miners were of the hill that was crowned by the rebel fort. This party, consisting, it is said of more than a hundred men, were in the mines when ours exploded, and those of them who were not killed out right, were buried alive. Some of the exhumed bodies are terrible lacerated and mangled, while others have not a mark or bruise upon them.

Two heads, one that of a negro, have been dug up. They were completely severed from the bodies, the latter not having yet been found. The bodies are found in almost every conceivable position—some standing erect, others sitting or lying down and in one instance the body was bent head downward as if it had been caught in that position by the crumbling earth while falling headlong into the pit below.

Mankato Market Reports.

CORRECTED EVERY THURSDAY BY O. WARD.

MANKATO, Oct. 1, 1863.

WHEAT—50c ₱ bushel.
RYE—40c
BARLEY—60.
OATS—40@50
CORN—35@40c.
HAY—₱ ton, $1@5 00.
TIMOTHY—$2 ₱ bushel.
BEANS—White, ₱ bushel, $1 25.
BUTTER—16c.
LARD—8@9c.
SUGAR—12@13c; 16@20c.
TEA—1 25 @1 50, 1 75
COFFEE—33⅓c.
RICE—10c ₱ lb.
SALT—4 50 ₱ barrel.
EGGS—10c ₱ doz
CANDLES—Tallow, 15c; Sperm, 50c.
MEATS—Beef on foot, 2c. Pork, 5@6c. Mutton 10@12c. Poultry, 10@12c.
POTATOES—35@40 ₱ bushel.
SIRUP—1 00 ₱ gallon.
WOOD—$2 00 ₱ cord.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SPERMATORRHOEA CAN BE CURED.—Dr. Rand's Specific cures Spermatorrhoea, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Loss of Power, &c., speedily and effectually. Its effects are truly magical. A trial of the SPECIFIC will convince the most skeptical of its merits. Price. $1 a box. Sent post paid to any address, by S. C. UPMAN, 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, Pa. Circular sent free

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error actuated by a desire to benefit others will be happy to furnish to all who need it (free of charge) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience—and possess a Valuable Remedy—will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed), by addressing

JOHN B OGDEN.

5-2m No. 60 Nassau Street, New York

DRUNKENESS CURED.—The inebriate may now bid defiance to the tempting cup. Dr ZANI'S ANTIDOTE FOR STRONG DRINK is a certain cure for Drunkenness. It creates a dislike for strong drink, and can be administered without the knowledge of the patient. Price $1 a box. Sent by mail to any address, by S. C. UPMAM, 413 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA; Pa Circular sent free.

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work, is done under his own supervision. Great indnements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRNG AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand

Cash paid for green and dry hides.

Mankato, June 26, 1863.

SINGER & CO'S. Letter "A" Sewing Machine.

WITH ALL THE IMPROVEMENTS.

IS the best and cheapest and most beautiful of all Sewing Machines. This Machine will sew anything, from the running of a tuck in Tarlton to the making of an Overcoat—anything from Pilot or Beaver Cloth down to the softest Gauze or Gossamer Tissue, and is ever ready to do its work to perfection. It can fell, hem, bind, gather, tuck, quilt, and has capacity for a great variety of ornamental work. This is not the only Machine that can fell, hem, bind, and so forth, but it will do so better than any other Machine. The Letter "A" Family Sewing Machine may be had in a great variety of cabinet cases. The Folding Case, which is now becoming so popular, is, as its name implies, one that can be folded into a box or case, which, when opened makes a beautiful, substantial, and spacious table for the work to rest upon. The cases are of every imaginable design—plain as the wood grew in its native forest, or as elaborately finished as art can make them. The Branch Offices are well supplied with silk, twist thread, needles, oil, etc., of the very best quality,

I. M. SINGER & CO.,
458 Broadway, N. Y
Milwaukee Office, 17 Marshall House.
G WILCOX, Agent Mankato, Minn.

STATE OF MINNESOTA.

SALE OF SCHOOL LANDS

In accordance with an act entitled "An act to establish the State Land Office, and for other purposes," approved March 10th, 1862, the following parcels or tracts of land will be sold at public auction at the office of the County Treasurer, in the town of Mankato, County of Blue Earth, on Saturday, the twenty-first day of November, 1863, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Lands on which fifteen per cent of the purchase money must be paid down.

Part of Sec.	Sec	Town	Range	App val pr acre	App val of imp.
DANVILLE.
sw¼ sw¼	16	105	25	6 00
se¼ sw¼	16	105	25	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	105	25	5 00
nw¼ ne¼	36	105	25	5 00	25 00
LIME.
ne¼ ne¼	16	109	27	5 00	25 00
SHELBYVILLE.
nw¼ ne¼	16	105	28	9 00
sw¼ ne¼	16	105	28	9 00
sw¼ nw¼	16	105	28	5 00	11 00
sw¼ sw¼	16	105	28	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	105	28	9 00
se¼ se¼	16	105	28	10 00
VERNON.
ne¼ ne¼	16	106	28	5 00	100 00
se¼ ne¼	16	106	28	5 00	50 00
ne¼ nw¼	16	106	28	5 00	30 00
ne¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	25 00
nw¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00
sw¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	200 00
se¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	50 00
WATONWAN.
se¼ se¼	16	107	28	5 00	50 00
ne¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
nw¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
sw¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	107	28	5 00	100 00
JUDSON.
sw¼ ne¼	36	108	28	5 00	40 00
se¼ ne¼	36	108	28	5 00
e½ nw¼	36	108	28	5 00	100 00
ne¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	30 00
nw¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00
sw¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	75 00
se¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	30 00
ne¼ se¼	36	108	28	5 00
nw¼ se¼	36	108	28	5 00	100 00
sw qr se qr	36	108	28	5 00	Imp.
se qr se qr	36	108	28	5 00	125 00
BUTTERNUT VALLEY.
Lot 8, 38.99 ne	16	109	23	5 00
sw qr sw qr	16	109	29	5 00
se qr sw qr	16	109	29	5 00
Lot 9, 46.50 ac	16	109	29	5 00
lot 10, 53.46 ac	16	109	29	5 00
ne qr ne qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr ne qr	36	109	29	6 00
sw qr ne qr	36	109	29	6 00
se qr ne qr	36	109	29	7 00
ne qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00	30 00
sw qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00	40 00
se qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00
ne qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00	8 00
sw qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00
se qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00	100 00
nw qr se qr	36	109	29	5 00
sw qr se qr	36	109	29	6 00

The balance of the purchase money is payable at any time within twenty years, at the option of the purchaser, if interest at seven per cent, per annum is annually paid in advance.

Interest to the first day of June, 1861, must be paid at the time of the purchase

Persons purchasing lands upon which other parties have made improvements, will be required to pay the owner of the same the appraised value of the improvements, one half to be paid at the time of the sale, and the balance within six months thereafter, with interest at seven per cent. per annum.

In case the person occupying or improving the land has damaged the same, the appraised amount of damage will be deducted from his improvements, and when the occupant is the purchaser, the damage will be added to the price of the land

No lands will be sold for less than the appraised value.

Purchase money payable in specie and legal tender notes.

CHAS. McILRATH,
Com of State Land Office.

NEW DRUG STORE!

DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS
SOAPS, PERFUMERY,
AND
FANCY GOODS

PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax,

Stationery,

BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE.

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions accurely put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the

New Drug Store,

JASON WICKERSHAM,
5 Mankato, Minn

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, executed by Cyrus Foot and Minerva Foot his wife, then of Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, to Ralph A. Loveland, then of Westport, Essex County, New York, dated the 16th day of June, A. D., 1858, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Blue Earth, on the 18th day of June, A. D., 1858, in book "B" of mortgages, on page 387, which said mortgage was given to secure the payment of the sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest according to the conditions of four certain promissory notes made by said Cyrus Foot to said Loveland or order, three for six hundred dollars each, payable respectively, on the first days of June in the years 1860, 1861 and 1863, and the other for five hundred and fifty dollars payable on the first day of June, 1862, and drawing interest from date until paid at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable annually on the first days of June each and every year, and all bearing even date with said mortgage, and upon which promissory notes and mortgage there is now claimed to be due, and is at the date of this notice, actually due and unpaid, the said sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00) and interest thereon from and after the said 16th day of June, 1858, at the rate of seven per cent per annum; and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured by said promissory notes and mortgage, nor any part thereof, and no part thereof has been collected or paid.

Therefore, by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained, and in conformity with the statutes in such case made and provided, the lands and premises described in and covered by said mortgage, to wit: The north west quarter of section number (25) twenty-seven in township number (107) one hundred and seven, north of range number (28) twenty-eight west, according to the governmental survey and subdivisions of the same, and containing one hundred and sixty acres of land be the same more or less; together with all the appur-

Flour for Sale.

THE undersigned has FIFTY Barrels of Fine Flour for sale at $3,50 per barrel

7 JOHN N. HALL.

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

——

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,

or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
BLUE EARTH COUNTY. }

MANKATO, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 13th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet been redeemed, I will execute and deliver to the purchasers of said lands at said sale, or their assignees, deeds for the same on and after the 17th day of January, A. D., 1864, unless said lands shall before that time have been redeemed. And notice is also given that the sum set against each description of land in said list is the amount due the purchaser of said land on redemption.

CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.	NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.
Unknown	1	21	28.66	Unknown	1	76	1.49
do	5	24	2.29	do	7	A	3.97
do	9	21	7 45	do	8	A	3.97
J Ady	9	28	13.23	do	9	A	3.97
F C Roosevelt	6	58	2 96	do	10	A	3.97

Willard & Besser's Addition.

Unknown, lot 10, block 19, amount 2.06.

NAME.	DES.	S.	T.	R.	AMT.
H W Landerton	e hf nw qr and n hf sw qr	7	108	28	22.07
Earl Parthun	sw qr	33	109	29	14.7
M Garllnger	ne qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	32	109	29
do	se hf se qr	31	109	29	15.91
Dennis O'Flynn	se qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	27	109	29	11.81
Wm P Smith	s hf ne qr and ne qr se qr and lot 2	2	107	28	13.85
T F Anderson	s e qr	20	107	28	15.14
H Wright	s e qr	8	106	28	14 10
William Gage	s w qr	17	106	28	13.73
Alex Wood	n e qr	1	105	28	41.00
Unknown	sw qr except 17 ac redm'd	5	105	28	14.06
H G Tryon	se qr nw qr	5	105	28	5.62
H G Tryon	ne qr nw qr	34	105	28	7.26
McMurtrie & Comstock	n hf sw qr	12	105	29	16.90
do	e hf sw qr and w hf se qr except 25 ac redeemed	12	105	29	33.36
Alex Wood	nw qr	6	105	27	49.87
Unknown	nw qr	9	108	25	19.28
A Frazer	n hf ne qr and ne qr nw qr	35	109	25	14.33
F Percival	ne qr sw qr	32	109	23	23.52

FINKLE & LYON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

THESE Machines make the lock stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do; will Hem, Fell, Gather, Cord, Braid, Bind, &c., and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family, for they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, or even the stoutest harness leather, without changing the feed, needle or tention, or making any adjustment of Machine whatever! ! !

They are simple in construction, and easily understood; and if any part is broken by accident, it is readily replaced.

These are PECULIAR FACTS, and will go far to determine the choice of any intelligent buyer.

PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE, OR SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

N. B.—Local Agents wanted in sections not yet occupied. Address,

FINKLE & LYON, S. M. CO.,
4 No. 538 Broadway, New York.
J. J. SHAUBUT, Agent for Mankato.

Medical Advice free of Charge.

DOCTOR WHITTIER'S Theory, Symptoms, and Treatment of Chronic, Nervous, Urinary and Sexual Diseases, free in sealed letter envelope, for six cents to pre-pay postage. It is a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringment of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposure, and imprudence, in married and single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and should be read by every young person, to keep them off the shoals on which others have been broken in pieces. Amativeness clearly stated to be under the control of judicious treatment, and thereby prevent inclination to one very prolific cause of of disease. Nearly every case of disease can be treated without hinderance to business. Medicine sent by mail, secure from observation. Charges moderate; consultations by letter or at the office free; cures guaranteed; Office 65 St. Charles St., between 6th and 7th. P. O. Box 3092. St. Louis Mo. Circular Letter especially for ladies nothing referring to Sexual Diseases for 3. cent postage.

Notice.

AS I have been regularly authorized by F. M. Gunning, surviving partner of the late firm of "Hensley & Gunning," to settle up the business matters of said firm, all persons indebted to them are requested and advised to make immediate payment to me, or, during my temporary absence from town, to C. H. Slocum, editor and proprietor of the UNION. E. P. FREEMAN.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the Kind in the World."

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Critical Notices of the Press.

The volumns Bound constitute of themselves a liberary of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world. —N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People: and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts: and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature. —Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, by mail, post-paid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eight cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00; Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year, $5,00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2,50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2,50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted or postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must be paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS.
Franklyn Square, New York.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
COUNTY OF BLUE EARTH. }

To WILLIAM THOMAS:

You are hereby notified that a writ of attachment has been issued against you, and your property attached to satisfy the demand of Benjamin McCracken amounting to twenty seven (27.) dollars: Now, unless you shall appear before H. W. Nelson, a justice of the peace in and for said county, at his office in the town of Vernon, on the twenty ninth (29.) day of October A. D. 1863 at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, judgment will be rendered against you, and your property sold to pay the debt.

Dated this 9th day of Sept. A. D. 1863

BENJ. McCRACKEN,
10 6w* Plaintiff.

☞BEFORE PURCHASING A

Piano or Melodeon,

REMEMBER

W. W. KIMBALL,

142 Lake Street, Chicago. Ill.,

DEALER IN

PIANOS
AND MELODEONS!

PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake St.
CHICAGO,
DEALER IN
"GOLD PRIZE MEDAL"
PIANOS,
MELODEONS,
SCHOOL ORGANS
AND
Harmoniums

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO'S PIANOS.
J. & C. FISCHER'S "
G. A. MILLER & CO'S "
WM. P. EMERSON'S "
J. W. VOSE'S "
KURTZMAN & HINZE'S "
GROVESTIEN & CO'S "

And other Poston and New York Manufactures.

☞The reputation of the Pianos of the above manufacturers is a sufficient guarantee of their merit; and every instrument sold by me will be

WARRANTED

in all respects to give

SATISFACTION

MY MELODEONS

are from the best manufacturers, and inferior to none in the market.

An Illustrated Catalogue describing every instrument, will be furnished upon application to me by mail, giving the PRICE and STYLES of the instruments.

☞Orders from the country will receive prompt attention

Address, before purchasing or looking elsewhere

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.

Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.
Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S
SEWING
MACHINES

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSON'S Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN.☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office. F. M. Johnson, Agent.

St. Paul, July 17th, 1863 July17-t

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.

OF

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune esponses and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obedience to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government, A sound Currency and Death to all "Wild cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution o the War Against Treason until the las Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune chalenges comparrison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1.25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1 10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.

One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;
Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,) $18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,) 35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

JUST PUBLISHED,

The most Fascinating Book of the Season,

ENTITLED

"IN THE TROPICS."

EDITED BY RICH'D B. KIMBALL,

Author of "St. Leger," "Undercurrents of Wall Street," etc.

A bright, sparkling and genial book of residence, travel and adventure in the West Indies; presenting a graphical picture of tropical life, with alluring and picturesque sketches of luxuriant gardens, orange and lime groves, magnificent guava and cocoanut trees, mahogany forests, etc.

An elegantly printed and cloth-bound volume. Price, $1,25.

Sold by all booksellers, and sent by mail FREE, on receipt of price by

CARLETON,
Publisher, New York.
413 Broadway, cor Lispenard St.

THE

Mankato Weekly Union,

Published every Friday by

CHARLES H. SLOCUM.

AT

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of

PRINTING

Neatly and cheaply executed

SUCH AS

CARDS,
PROGRAMMES,
BILL-HEADS,
CIRCULARS,
POSTERS.
ETC,,

Having received a supply of

NEW MATERIAL,

from the East, am prepared to do PLAIN AND FANCY WO

in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country pro tended to.

Farmers' Journal.

MANKATO, FRIDAY, OCT. 9, 1863.

Want of Cheery Kitchens.

A farmer's wife writes as follows on this subject in the New England Farmer. She utters some truths that may be applicable to more than one housekeeper who reads the Genessee Farmer:

Very much is written and said about pleasant and tastefully-furnished parlors, but the kitchen is left quite in the background, except as it is described in olden time, with ponderous beams overhead, from which hung festoons of dried pumpkin, apple, &c. It is too important a part of home to be neglected, yet it surely is neglected. The parlor must be cool, airy, and sunshiny; but the kitchen may be wherever there is room for it, with a view from curtainless windows of barnyard or woodpile—no paint or carpet on the floor, no paper on the walls, furnished with chairs and tables, and also with clothes-frames and wash-tubs, a line of dish-towels over the stove, and a row of old hats, coats and frocks for ornaments. This is a picture of too many of our farmers' kitchens—of the place where we house keepers expect to spend a considerable portion of our time. No wonder that mothers look careworn, and that farmer' wives and daughters complain of their field of labor. No wonder that soiled morning dresses are seen, for clean calico, white collars and smooth hair, could never feel at home in a dingy, cheerless kitchen, and a man who will not provide a pleasant one, deserves to take his breakfast every morning opposite a slovenly looking wife.

I think now of one cheerful kitchen, a simple one, to be sure—but the morning sun looks in through woodbine and roses, and never goes behind the western hills without giving us a goodnight glance—and morning glories love to peep in and throw their dancing shadows on the shining floor. The distant view of hills and woodlands, makes many a weary burden light by its silent teachings. We sing in such a kitchen just because we cannot help singing, and a sad heart has no place there.

And now as we, shivering, wrap our shawls about us, vainly endeavoring to convince ourselves that winter is not almost here, yet gladly bring our books and knitting work around the big cook-stove for the evening, do, husbands and fathers, hear my humble plea in behalf of the 'suffering sisterhood,' and give us a CHEERY KITCHEN.

Tomatoes for Supper.

Few people know how to prepare uncooked tomatoes in the way adopted in my family, and incomparably better than I ever tasted. By this mode they are very desirable for breakfast. For a family of half a dozen persons, take six eggs, boil four of them hard, dissolve the yolks with vinegar sufficient, and about three teaspoons of mustard, and mash as smooth as possible; then add the two remaining eggs, raw, yolk, and white, stir well; then add oil to make altogether sauce enough to cover the tomatoes well; and plenty of salt and cayenne pepper, and beat thoroughly till it frosts. Skin and cut the tomatoes a full fourth of an inch thick, and pour the sauce over, and you have a dish fit for a President.

Though a little troublesome to prepare, yet if once eaten by people blest with palates to enjoy good things, they will be pronounced to be far superior to any other mode of preparation. For dinner they are best stewed, but should always be strained before sending to the table.

A Humorous fellow was one day subpeoned as a witness on a trial, for an assault. One of the counsels who was notorious for brow beating witnesses, asked him at what distance he was from the parties when the assault happened. He answered.

'Just four feet five inches and a half!'

'How came you to be so exact, fellow?' said the counsel.

'Because I expected some fool or other would ask me and so I measured it.'

The counsel was completely 'got.

An old toper who had attended some polytechnic lectures, where the learned professor caused a number of explosions to take place from gas produced from water, said;—'You don't ketch me putting any water in my licker, after this. I hadn't any idea, before, that water was so dangerous, though I never liked to take much of it.'

Wit and Wisdom.

—The bark of a medical tree may save one's life, the bark of a dog may save his property.

—A quiet and witty man combines the qualities of two kinds of champagne—still and sparkling.

—Beware of women who seem very sweet. Dealers in candy are not always candid.

—A man who is too lazy to investtigate charges of guilt should be ashamed to believe them.

—All mercantile houses, where duties are well attended to, are sure to become custom-houses.

—The heart, like the watchman, should confine itself to its regular

---

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL POFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.
Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DeBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, P. Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime.

Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DeBUISSON.
Mankato, May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRING AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand.

Cash paid for green and dry hides.
Mankato, June 26, 1863.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.

Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:30 P. M.	2:55 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling public that his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
1y Proprietor.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS, on the twenty-third day of January, A. D., 1860, John C. Jones of Blue Earth County, mortgaged to Edward R. Parry and Richard R Parry, the north half of the north-east quarter, and the south-east quarter of the north-east quarter of section twenty-eight, and the south west quarter of the north west quarter of section twenty-seven, all in township one hundred and nine north of range twenty-nine west, in Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, to secure the payment of one hundred and eighty-seven dollars and sixty-five cents and interest in six months from date; and said mortgage was duly recorded in book "D" of mortgages, on pages 117 and 118 in the Register's office in said County on the 23d day of January, A D, 1860, and whereas the whole mortgage debt, is past due, and but seventy-five dollars has been paid of the principal and interest, and the amount now due thereon is one hundred and sixty-five dollars, and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured. Now notice is hereby given to all whom it may concern, that if the said debt is not paid before that time, the following portion of said mortgaged land, to wit. The east half of the north east quarter of section twenty-eight, and the south-west quarter of the north-west quarter of section twenty-seven (27) all in township one hundred and nine north of range twenty-nine west, will be sold at public auction between the hours of 9 o'clock, A. M., and the setting of the sun, on the 13th day of October, A. D., 1863, at the office of the Register of Deeds in said County, by the sheriff of said county to satisfy said mortgage and costs, in pursuance of the power of sale attached to said mortgage.
Mankato, Aug. 28th, 1863.

EDWARD R. PARRY,
RICHARD R. PARRY, Mortgagees
FINCH & FITCHER, Attys for Mortgagees.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co.'s GRAIN DRILL,

which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEAGHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plows,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cuttery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:
Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains. Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

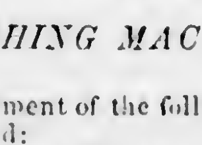
Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

I am Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.
Mankato, April 23rd, 1863.

NEW LIVERY & Sale Stable.



D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES,

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.
☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜
☞Charges moderate.☜
D. H. TYNER

STATE OF MINNESOTA.

SALE OF SCHOOL LANDS

In accordance with an act entitled "An act to establish the State Land Office, and for other purposes," approved March 10th, 1862, the following parcels or tracts of land will be sold at public auction at the office of the County Treasurer, in the town of Mankato, County of Blue Earth, on Saturday, the Twenty-first day of November, 1863, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Lands on which fifteen per cent of the purchase money must be paid down.

Part of Sec.	Sec.	Town	Range	App val pr acre	App val of imp.
DANVILLE.
sw¼ sw¼	16	105	25	6 00
se¼ sw¼	16	105	25	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	105	25	5 00
nw¼ ne¼	36	105	25	5 00	25 00
LIME.
ne¼ ne¼	16	109	27	5 00	25 00
SHELBYVILLE.
nw¼ ne¼	16	105	28	9 00
sw¼ ne¼	16	105	28	9 00
sw¼ nw¼	16	105	28	5 00	11 00
sw¼ sw¼	16	105	28	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	105	28	9 00
se¼ se¼	16	105	28	10 00
VERNON.
ne¼ ne¼	16	106	28	5 00	100 00
se¼ ne¼	16	106	28	5 00	50 00
ne¼ nw¼	16	106	28	5 00	30 00
ne¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	25 00
nw¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00
sw¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	200 00
se¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	50 00
WATONWAN.
se¼ se¼	16	107	28	5 00	50 00
ne¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
nw¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
sw¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	107	28	5 00	100 00
JUDSON.
sw¼ ne¼	36	108	28	5 00	40 00
se½ ne¼	36	108	28	5 00
e½ nw¼	36	108	28	5 00	100 00
ne¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	30 00
nw¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00
sw¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	75 00
se¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	50 00
ne¼ se¼	36	108	28	5 00
nw¼ se¼	36	108	28	5 00	100 00
sw qr se qr	36	108	28	5 00	Imp.
se qr se qr	36	108	28	5 00	125 00
BUTTERNUT VALLEY.
Lot 8, 38.90 ne	16	109	29	5 00
sw qr sw qr	16	109	29	5 00
se qr sw qr	16	109	29	5 00
Lot 9, 46 70 ne	16	109	29	5 00
lot 10, 53 46 ne	16	109	29	5 00
ne qr ne qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr ne qr	36	109	29	6 00
sw qr ne qr	36	109	29	6 00
se qr ne qr	36	109	29	7 00
ne qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00	30 00
sw qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00	40 00
se qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00
ne qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00	8 00
sw qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00
se qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00	100 00
nw qr se qr	36	109	29	5 00
sw qr se qr	36	109	29	6 00

The balance of the purchase money is payable at any time within twenty years, at the option of the purchaser, if interest at seven per cent, per annum is annually paid in advance.

Interest to the first day of June, 1861, must be paid at the time of the purchase.

Persons purchasing lands upon which other parties have made improvements, will be required to pay the owner of the same the appraised value of the improvements, one half to be paid at the time of the sale, and the balance within six months thereafter, with interest at seven per cent. per annum.

In case the person occupying or improving the land has damaged the same, the appraised amount of damage will be deducted from his improvements, and when the occupant is the purchaser, the damage will be added to the price of the land.

No lands will be sold for less than the appraised value.

Purchase money payable in specie and legal tender notes.

CHAS. McILRATH,
Com of State Land Office.

NEW DRUG STORE!

DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS
SOAPS, PERFUMERY,
AND

FANCY GOODS

PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax,

Stationery,

BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE.

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions accurely put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the

New Drug Store,

JASON WICKERSHAM,
5 Mankato, Minn

SINGER & CO'S. Letter "A" Sewing Machine.

WITH ALL ITS IMPROVEMENTS.

Is the best and cheapest and most beautiful of all Sewing Machines. This Machine will sew anything, from the running of a tuck in Tarlton to the making of an Overcoat—anything from Pilot or Beaver Cloth down to the softest Gauze or Gossamer Tissue, and is ever ready to do its work to perfection. It can fell, hem, bind, gather, tuck, quilt, and has capacity for a great variety of ornamental work. This is not the only Machine that can fell, hem, bind, and so forth, but it will do so better than any other Machine. The Letter "A" Family Sewing Machine may be had in a great variety of cabinet cases. The Folding Case, which is now becoming so popular, is, as its name implies, one that can be folded into a box or case, which, when opened makes a beautiful, substantial, and capacious table for the work to rest upon. The cases are of every imaginable design—plain as the wood grew in its native forest, or as elaborately finished as art can make them. The Branch Offices are well supplied with silk, twist thread, needles, oil, etc., of the very best quality,

I. M. SINGER & CO.,
458 Broadway, N. Y
Milwaukee Office, 17 Marshall House
D. WILCOX, Agent Mankato, Minn.

MANKATO HOUSE.

MANKATO - MINNESOTA.

THIS House has been thoroughly renovated newly papered and painted, with many new improvements, which makes it now equal as to comfort and convenience to any House in the State.

General Stage Office for all points in the State.

Good barn and stabling with attentive ostler. Baggage conveyed to and from steamboats free of charge. Wines, liquors, cigars, etc., constantly on hand.

☞Farmers will find this House a good place to stop, it being centrally located, plenty of barroom, and charges moderate.

may 7 H. H. Shaubhut.

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

——

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,

or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
BLUE EARTH COUNTY.
MANKATO, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 13th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet been redeemed, I will execute and deliver to the purchasers of said lands at said sale, or their assignees, deeds for the same on and after the 17th day of January, A. D., 1864, unless said lands shall before that time have been redeemed. And notice is also given that the sum set against each description of land in said list is the amount due the purchaser of said land on redemption.

CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.	NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.
Unknown	1	24	28.66	Unknown	1	76	1.48
do	5	24	2 29	do	7	A	3.97
do	9	21	7 45	do	8	A	3.97
J Ady	9	28	13.93	do	9	A	3.97
F C Roosevelt	6	58	2 96	do	10	A	3.97

Willard & Besser's Addition.

Unknown, lot 10, block 19, amount 2.06.

NAME.	DES.	S.	T.	R.	AMT.
H W Lamberton	e hf nw qr and n hf sw qr	7	118	28	22.67
Earl Partham	sw qr	33	109	29	14..7
M Gardinger	neqr sw qr and w hf sw qr	32	109	29
do	se hf se qr	31	109	29	15 38
Dennis O'Flynn	se qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	27	109	29	11.81
Wm P Smith	s hf ne qr and ne qr se qr and lot 2	2	107	28	13 85
T F Anderson	s e qr	20	107	28	15.14
H Wright	s e qr	8	106	28	14 10
William Gage	s w qr	17	106	28	13 73
Alex Wood	n e qr	19	105	25	41.06
Unknown	sw qr except 17 ne redeem'd	5	105	28	14 66
H G Tryon	se qr nw qr	5	105	28	5.62
H G Tryon	ne qr nw qr	34	105	28	7.26
McMurtrie & Comstock	n hf sw qr	12	105	29	16.90
do	e hf sw qr and w hf se qr except 25 ne redeemed	12	105	29	23.36
Alex Wood	nw qr	6	105	27	49 87
Unknown	nw qr	9	108	25	19.98
A Frazer	n hf ne qr and ne qr nw qr	35	109	25	14 33
F Percival	ne qr sw qr	32	109	27	23 32

FINKLE & LYON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

THESE Machines make the lock stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do; will Hem, Fell, Gather, Cord, Braid, Bind, &c. and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family, for they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, or even the stoutest harness leather, without changing the feed, needle or tension, or making any adjustment of Machaine whatever!!!

They are simple in construction, and easily understood: and if any part is broken by accident, it is readily replaced.

These are PECULIAR FACTS, and will go far to determine the choice of any intelligent buyer.

PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE, OR SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

N. B—Local Agents wanted in sections not yet occupied. Address,

FINKLE & LYON, S. M. CO.,
4 No. 538 Broadway, New York.
J. J SHAUBUT, Agent for Mankato

Medical Advice free of Charge.

DOCTOR WHITTIER'S Theory, Symptoms, and Treatment of Chronic, Nervous, Urinary and Sexual Diseases, free in sealed letter envelope, for six cents to pre-pay postage. It is a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringment of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposure, and imprudence, in married and single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and should be read by every young person, to keep them off the shoals on which others have been broken in pieces. Amativeness clearly stated to be under the control of judicious treatment, and thereby prevent inclination to one very prolific cause of of disease. Nearly every case of disease can be treated without hinderance to business. Medicine sent by mail, secure from observation. Charges moderate; consultations by letter or at the office free; cures guaranteed; Office 67 St. Charles St., between 6th and 7th, P. O. Box 3092, St. Louis Mo. Circular Letter especially for ladies nothing referring to Sexual Diseases for 3, cent postage.

Notice.

AS I have been regularly authorized by F. M Gunning, surviving partner of the late firm of "Hensley & Gunning," to settle up the business matters of said firm, all persons indebted to them are requested and advised to make immediate payment to me, or, during my temporary absence from town, to C. H. Slocum, editor and proprietor of the UNION E. P. FREEMAN.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Critical Notices of the Press.

The volumns Bound constitute of themselves a liberary of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world. —N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People: and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately ilustrated with good woodcuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature. —Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, BY mail, postpaid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents. Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eight cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00; Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year $5.00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2,50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2.50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted or postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must be paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS
Franklyn Square, New York.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
COUNTY OF BLUE EARTH,

TO WILLIAM THOMAS:

You are hereby notified that a writ of attachment has been issued against you, and your property attached to satisfy the demand of Benjamin McCracken amounting to twenty seven (27.) dollars: Now, unless you shall appear before H. W. Nelson, a justice of the peace in and for said county, at his office in the town of Vernon, on the twenty ninth (29.) day of October A D 1863 at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, judgment will be rendered against you, and your property sold to pay the debt.

Dated this 9th day of Sept. A D 1863
BENJ. McCRACKEN,
10 6w* Plaintiff.

☞BEFORE PURCHASING A

Piano or Melodeon,

REMEMBER

W. W. KIMBALL,

142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.,

DEALER IN

PIANOS AND MELODEONS!

PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake St.
CHICAGO,
DEALER IN
"GOLD PRIZE MEDAL"

PIANOS,

MELODEONS,
SCHOOL ORGANS
AND
Harmoniums

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO'S PIANOS.
J. & C. FISCHER'S "
G. A. MILLER & CO'S "
WM. P. EMERSON'S "
J. W. VOSE'S "
KURTZMAN & HINZE'S "
GROVESTIEN & CO'S "

And other Boston and New York Manufactures.

Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.

☞The reputation of the Pianos of the above manufacturers is a sufficient guarantee of their merit; and every instrument sold by me will be

WARRANTED

in all respects to give

SATISFACTION

MY MELODEONS

are from the best manufacturers, and inferior to none in the market.

An Illustrated Catalogue describing every instrument, will be furnished upon application to me by mail, giving the PRICE and STYLES of the instruments

☞Orders from the country will receive prompt attention. Address, before purchasing or looking elsewhere

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.

DRUNKENESS CURED.—The inebriate may now bid defiance to the tempting cup. DR. ZANE'S ANTIDOTE FOR STRONG DRINK is a certain cure for Drunkenness. It creates a dislike for strong drink, and can be administered without the knowledge of the patent. Price $1 a box. Sent by mail to any address, by S. C. UPMAM, 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA; PA. Circular sent free.

Flour for Sale.

THE undersigned has FIFTY Barrels of Fine Flour for sale at $3.50 per barrel
7 JOHN N. HALL.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S
SEWING
MACHINES

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representatious are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office. F. M. Johnson, Agent.
St. Paul, July 17th, 1863 July17-t

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.
OF

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obediance to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for office; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all 'Wildcat Shinplasters,' and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune chalenges comparrison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1 25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1 10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.
One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

One year $4: Six months $2 three months $1;

Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60.)	$18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50)	35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

JUST PUBLISHED,

The most Fascinating Book of the Season,

ENTITLED

"IN THE TROPICS."

EDITED BY RICH'D B. KIMBALL,

Author of "St. Leger," "Undercurrents of Wall Street," etc.

A bright, sparkling and genial book of residence, travel and adventure in the West Indies; presenting a graphical picture of tropical life, with alluring and picturesque sketches of luxuriant gardens, orange and lime groves, magnificent guava and cocoanut trees, mahogany forests, etc.

An elegantly printed and cloth-bound volume. Price, $1,25.

Sold by all booksellers, and sent by mail FREE, on receipt of price by

CARLETON,
Publisher, New York.
413 Broadway, cor Lispenard St.

THE

Mankato Weekly Union,

Published every Friday by

CHARLES H. SLOCUM,

AT

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of

PRINTING

Neatly and cheaply executed

SUCH AS

CARDS,
PROGRAMMES,
BILL-HEADS,
CIRCULARS,
POSTERS.
ETC.,

Having received a supply of

NEW MATERIAL

from the East, am prepared to do PLAIN AND FANCY WORK in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

The Mankato Weekly Union.

CHARLES H. SLOCUM, "LIBERTY AND UNION, NOW AND FOREVER, ONE AND INSEPARABLE." Editor and Proprietor.

VOLUME 1. MANKATO, BLUE EARTH COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 16, 1863. NUMBER 14.

THE WEEKLY UNION,
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY
CHARLES H. SLOCUM.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
One Dollar and Fifty Cents per Year.
[illegible] all subscriptions paid in advance. [illegible]

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

1 square	1 week	$1 00	2 squares	6 months	9 00
"	2 weeks	1 50	2	" 1 year	15 00
"	3 "	1 75	3	" 1 week	2 25
"	4 "	2 00	3	" 2 "	3 00
"	5 "	2 25	3	" 3 "	4 00
"	6 "	2 50	3	" 4 "	5 00
"	7 "	2 75	3	" 3 months	9 00
"	2 months	3 00	3	" 6 "	12 00
"	3 "	3 75	3	" 1 year	20 00
"	4 "	4 50	¼ col	6 months	15 00
"	5 "	5 25	¼	" 1 year	25 00
"	6 "	6 00	½	" 6 months	18 00
"	1 year	10 00	½	" 1 year	30 00
2	1 week	1 75	¾	" 6 months	25 00
"	2 "	2 50	¾	" 1 year	40 00
"	3 "	3 00	¾	" 1 year	50 00
"	4 "	4 00	1	" 1 year	70 00
"	3 months	6 00

[illegible] cards of five lines or less, $5.
[illegible] advertisements must be paid in advance—[illegible] others quarterly.

BUSINESS CARDS.

EVERETT P. FREEMAN,
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
Office—Next door south of the Post Office, MANKATO, - - - - MINN.
[illegible] attention given to claims to be prosecuted before the State Board of Auditors and to [illegible] and Office business. Collections made [illegible] conveyancing done on reasonable terms

MANKATO INS. AGENCY.
HARTFORD.
PHOENIX.
MERCHANTS—FIRE INS. CO'S.
CHARTER OAK LIFE INS. CO.
Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid by
JOHN N. HALL,
Resident Agent,

O. P. LIEBERG.
FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER.—Having [illegible] Barber Shop with a view [illegible] establishing a permanent business [illegible], I am prepared to wait upon [illegible] and will guarantee satisfaction [illegible] department of my business. [illegible] 26, 1863.

[illegible] A. STURGES, M. D.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
MANKATO, MINN.
Office—At his residence second door [illegible] the Mankato House.

Z. PADDOCK,
[illegible] and Counselor at Law, and General [illegible]. Prompt attention to all business [illegible] him. Mankato, Blue Earth Co.

FRED'K HILDEBRANDT,
Manufacturer of and Dealer in all kinds of
FURNITURE & GILT MOULDING,
ALSO,
[illegible] of Rosewood Mouldings, Ovals, Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames.
[illegible] Rooms in Schonmeier's Block, Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minn.

M. ZENOPOLSKI, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.
Office—Opposite the Clifton House.

DAVID WILCOX,
JUDGE OF PROBATE,
& ATT'Y AT LAW,
MANKATO - - - - - - MINN.

WM. R. McMAHAN, M. D.
Has [illegible] Residence old at his stand, on the corner of [illegible] and Second streets, one Block [illegible] of the Mankato House, where he will be found at all times, except when professionally absent.
[illegible] will furnish and compound his own medicines.

EDWARD OGLESBY,
Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hawley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work in his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October, [illegible] FINCH. O. O. PITCHER.

FINCH & PITCHER,
Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,
MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA.

MANKATO NURSERY.
THE Proprietor has for sale a choice collection of
Fruit Trees,
Comprising Apple, Pear, Cherry, Plum, and Quince Trees. Also a good assortment of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants, Raspberries, Strawberries, and Pie Plant, together with
ORNAMENTAL TREES
Shrubs, Evergreens, Flowering Plants, &c
ROB'T GOODYEAR,
Mankato, Sept. 1861.

FAIRBANKS'
STANDARD
SCALES,
OF ALL KINDS.
FAIRBANKS, GREENLEAF & CO.,
172 LAKE STREET, CHICAGO.
☞ BUY ONLY THE GENUINE.

SOUTH BEND MILLS.
BIERBAUER & ROCKEY,
HAVING purchased the above mills, are prepared to manufacture all grades of FLOUR, CORN MEAL, ETC.
Wheat will be ground for every sixth [illegible] in quantities not less than ten bush[illegible]
☞ Flour and mill stuffs always on hand at market prices. Feb 6-3m

Poetry.

OUR COUNTRY'S DEAD.

They live to God, they live to God,
  Though gone from human sight;
The good and brave, who left their homes
  To battle for the right.

To thee, O God, they still live on,
  Though ceased their mortal strife;
And wait the triumph of the Cause,
  More dear to them than life.

In sight of men they seem to die,
  And perish from the earth;
But thou, dost give them, even here,
  A new immortal birth.

Though chastened for a little time,
  Thou dost reward their pain;
To die, to suffer for the right,
  Is, e'en on earth to gain.

For to their Country still they live,
  And, on her roll of fame,
Recorded shall forever stand
  Each brave and honored name!

Christian Register.

Select Miscellany.

For the Mankato Union.

FAREWELL TRIBUTE TO CO. D.

BY THAYER CHRISTE.

Farewell, brave boys of Co. D. You have gone forth to a noble work. May God protect and return you in safety to the dear ones at home when you have finished it. A few weeks ago we were living happily and contentedly in our frontier homes, for we knew that the strong arms and brave hearts of our brothers, husbands, and fathers, were ready, at any moment, to hurl defiance in the face of the wily savages should they attempt a repetition of the outrages last Autumn. But now many of those brave soldiers have been called away; Co. D. or "our Company," as we were wont to call it here, among their number. Our country hath greater need of them than we, and we will not murmur or complain, although a wave bitter as the fountains of Marah, has swept over the ocean of our existence, and buried beneath its dark waters, at least for a time, much of the joy and brightness of our lives; taking the light away from many, very many, hearts and homes. Yet, we are willing; aye, more than willing, that it should be so. We would not be selfish, or keep back our heart's dearest treasures now, in the hour of our country's sorest need. We have crushed back the gathering tear, smothered the rising sob, that would almost be heard despite our strongest efforts, and said "good bye" with smiling faces, and glad bright words of hope and cheer, the memory of which, we trust, will remain through all the vicissitudes of a soldier's life, strengthening and encouraging them in the task they have undertaken.

Farewell is a bitter word to say, and yet methinks there could not be a more appropriate time to say it than now, when the autumn winds are sighing through the woods breathing a mournful requiem over broken dreams, and > "Hopes that like dead leaves were shaken > Early from the tree of life."

When our broad prairies are changing their emerald robe for the more sober and melancholy dress of autumn, and the sear and yellow leaf drifts down in our pathway, reminding us that we, too, must soon bid a last farewell to earth.

There is a beautiful promise which says: "They that sow in tears, shall reap in joy;" but we fear, ere the harvest of joy where the olive branch of Peace shall again overshadow our beloved land, that many of the brave boys who have gone forth to battle for the dear old flag, will be sleeping their last long sleep beneath the sunny skies of that far off Southland, to which they are going. Some, we hope, will come again, rejoicing and bringing their sheaves with them.

We are all proud, mothers, daughters, sisters and wives, that we have dear ones toiling manfully in so glorious a cause, and shall watch anxiously for the welcome missives that will come bearing precious messages from the land of the Orange and Palms, and, in return will treasure up and forward for their benefit, pictures of home life, with all the current gossip and news of the Minnesota and Blue Earth valleys.

WINNEBAGO CITY, Oct. 12th, 1863.

To enjoy life you should be a little miserable occasionally. Trouble, like cayenne, is not very agreeable in itself, but it gives great zest to other things.

AN ARKANSAS HERO.

Some three or four years after the admission of Arkansas into the Union, a young man whom we shall call Arthur Granger, a native of Ohio, went to Little Rock, to start up the practice of law. He was then about twenty-three years of age, small, slender, and effeminate looking, with light hair, almost beardless face, and dark blue eyes. His dress though not exactly foppish, was altogether too fine, neat and precise to suit the taste of men who always seemed prepared for roughing it in the back woods, as most of them had done at one time and another, and he was moreover a stranger from the North, who had perhaps come there to display his learning and pick up their money; so that, from the very first, he was regarded with suspicion, aversion, and contempt.

The first six or eight months he got no practice whatever, notwithstanding he was regularly at his office, or at the court room, watching, waiting, and hoping, and he was about to give up in despair, and betake himself to another locality, when one day, a tall, lank individual came shuffling into his apartment, and, after surveying him keenly from head to foot, said, as he helped himself to a seat:

'See here, you young hop thumb, is there anything in you?'

'Yes—my breakfast, replied the young lawyer, with a quiet smile.

The other stared at him a few moments and seemed undetermined whether to consider the reply a joke or an insult. He finally grinned at it and proceeded:

'I mean, do you know anything?'

O, yes, something, answered the lawyer pleasantly. 'I know the difference between chalk and cheese—a horse and a horse block.'

'Can you write?'

'I have written my name before now.'

The stranger drew a newspaper from his pocket, opened it deliberately, pointed out an article, handed it to the young man and said:

'Read that.'

'Aloud?'

'Yes.'

The young lawyer complied and read a tirade of the most scandalous and scathing nature, against one Miles Gregory, the Democratic candidate for the State Legislature.

'Well,' demanded the stranger, when he had finished the article, 'what do you think of that?'

'It is pretty severe.'

'I believe you.. Do you s'pect thar's another man in the State of Arkansas that can write such a searching thing ag'in the Whig candidate?'

'If there were facts to justify it, I doubt not such an article might be produced.' replied the young lawyer.

'To thunder with your facts!' cried the stranger, excitedly; 'facts ha'n't anything to do with politics; thar's no facts in that; it's all lies, from beginning to end. I'm Miles Gregory, and I ought to know. I'll give fifty dollars to anybody that'll write as savage as that thing ag'in Joe Pernin.'

'When do you want it?'

'Now—to-day.'

'Without regard to facts?'

'They ha'n't got nothing to do with it, I tell you.'

'Very well, if you will call in a couple of hours, I will show you something to match it.'

'If you'll do it, or the half of it, said Gregory, rising to leave, I'll put you in the way of making a fortune.'

He went out, and returned at the appointed time, and the young lawyer had the article ready. Without descending as low as the model in vulgar epithets, it was more terrible in its withering sarcasm. Gregory could scarcely contain himself while the young lawyer was reading it, and as soon as he had done he bounded from his seat with a yell of triumph, and seized the delicate little hand of the writer, and almost crushed it between his great bony fingers.

'You've done it, young man,' he cried with an oath, and you'll soon have something better to do than sitting here staring at the blank walls. Here's your money; the only differense is, I've concluded to make it a hundred instead of fifty; but that's my business; so none of your nonsense.'

He rushed out with a triumphant laugh, leaving the young lawyer to ruminate upon his first fee, and the possible consequences of becoming a conspicuous individual in that fighting region.

The next week the article appeared in the Democratic paper, and created great sensation. One political party was delighted, and the other chagrined. Who was the author? Nobody knew. The quid nuncs were puzzled.

Every known writer's style was duly considered, but something in the article differed from each. Could it be that a new Junius had come among them? The Democrats were anxious to find out, to do honor to their champion; and the whigs, that they might contrive a way to silence him. Nobody suspected the beardless lawyer. In fact, if he had openly avowed it, the chances were that he would have been kicked for a boasting liar.

'Three individuals only knew anything about it—the writer, the candidate, and the proprietor of the paper in which it was published. To the last, indeed, was due the fact that the secret had been kept so close. The journalist was surprised. He had seen the puny lawyer, he said, but never dreamed there was any such stuff in him.

'How did you find him out, Gregory?'

'By a blunder. I got into his office by mistake, and something just kind of struck me to try the thing on—a sort of experiment you know.'

'Does any one else know anything about it?'

'Nary a one.'

'Then see here—this must be a secret of honor between us. I am going to secure that young man to write leaders for me—he's worth his weight in gold—but nobody must know who he is, and I am almost certain he will never be suspected. Remember, Gregory, if the secret gets wind, I shall blame you.'

'All right; I'm dumb.'

That very day Arthur Granger was secured at a handsome salary, to write such articles as the editor required from week to week; and it was further arranged that the matter should be kept a profound secret; and to avoid suspicion, the parties were only to meet when absolutely necessary and then either clandestinely, or openly as strangers. The effect of the first article we have already mentioned; but when, the succeeding week, some three or four more appeared, of the same stamp, if anything more caustic and cutting, directed against the whole party and individual members besides, the excitement increased, curiosity became eager, and wonder grew apace. And each succeeding week but added fuel to the flame. The Democrats grew triumphant and the Whigs furious; and when the parties being equally divided, the former carried the election by a respectable majority, the latter grew desperate, and raved like madmen, denouncing the unknown writer as a liar and a coward, and making a standing offer of a thousand dollars to any one who would disclose his name.

'If you are discovered, Granger, you will have to quit the region on short notice, said the proprietor of the Democratic paper to the young lawyer, during one of their stolen interviews.

'Why so?' asked the latter, quietly.

'Because your life will be in danger.'

'Will they murder me?'

'At least they will insult and challenge you, and you will have to run or fight.'

Suppose I fight them?'

'And be killed?'

'I must run my chance, of course. I shall be entitled to the choice of weapons at least.'

'What then? What can you do? You are not heavy enough for the Bowie, and your antagonist will be a dead shot.'

'By your leave, he may be shot dead himself.'

'Ha! can you shoot?'

'With one of my hair triggers I can snuff a candle at ten paces.'

'You amaze and delight me. Where did you learn to handle the pistol with so much skill?'

'For the last two months I have been practicing daily, in the woods, just out of town, preparing for such a crisis in my fate, which I have all along foreseen.'

'By heavens!' exclaimed the other, grasping the young man's hand with increased admiration. 'I am just beginning to know you, and I am proud of your acquaintance. To tell you the truth, I never supposed there was any more fight in you than in a girl of sixteen; and for a young man to be challenged in this region and refuse to fight, is to be forever disgraced, and not even the genius of a Shakespeare, with the wisdom of a Solomon, could give you any more influence with these people; therefore, I believed you would have to leave the State.'

'Mr. Bradley,' rejoined the young man with compressed lips and a gleam of his dark blue eyes, 'I hope and pray it may never be my fortune to meet an antagonist on the so-called field of honor: but should such be the case, mark me—I may fall, but he will die!'

The crisis came. Accidentally the secret was discovered, and in less than twenty-four hours, Arthur Granger received three challenges to mortal combat from three different parties. He called upon Mr. Bradley, his employer, to act as his friend and second, and assured him he was ready to fight them all.

'My dear friend,' said the journalist, 'this is serious business. These men are all practiced duelists, and considered dead shots. They intend to kill, that is certain, and to be candid, I see little to hope of your escaping all three. I am not sure that you should accept more than one challenge at present.'

O yes; all!' returned the young hero, positively. 'Please arrange the first affair for sunrise to-morrow morning; the second for half an hour later; and the third for an hour later still. If I escape the first, I shall be in time for the second; and if the second, the third shall not be kept waiting. If I fall before I give each a chance, of course I shall have to be excused.'

Bradley threw his arms around the neck of the young lawyer and fairly hugged him, so great was the admiration of his coolness and courage.

'If you live through this ordeal,' he said, you can aspire to any office in the gift of the people of this fighting State.'

The meetings were arranged according to the wish of Granger, and at the appointed hour he was on the ground with his friends; and so were his antagonists with theirs; and so, in fact, was half the excited town of Little Rock, who had come out to witness the fight, see fair play, and if need be, take a hand on both sides—a part as friends, and a part as foes.

The preliminaries being arranged, the principals of the first duel were placed ten paces apart.

'Be firm, steady, and fire at the word!' said Bradley, as he shook the hand of Granger, and withdrew.

There were a few moments of breathless suspense, and the fatal signal was given. In an instant the arms of the combatants were raised like two levers of iron, and the next was a blended report. Young Granger stood firm, with the blood trickling down his face from a slight furrow in his forehead, plowed by the ball of his antagonist, who already lay stretched out on the earth, shot through the brain.

'Hit but not hurt!' said the young lawyer, coolly running his finger along the wound, as his excited friends rushed up to him.

Such skill and courage were enough for fighting Arkansas. A hundred stalwart men gathered around our delicate little hero, and swore his life should not be put in jeopardy again, to please himself or anybody else; and placing him upon their shoulders, they bore him off back into the town, his two waiting antagonists nowise regretting the whim of the spectators that had saved them from standing before such a fatal marksman.

From that day forth the star of Arthur Granger was in the ascendant. He subsequently married a lady of fortune, and rose to the higest honors the State could give him.

Great mental abilities could only be appreciated in Arkansas when united with great physical courage, and then the road to distinction lay open to the fortunate possessor of both.

Though the names above given are all fictitions, there are many persons living in the North who have heard the voice of Arthur Granger in the halls of the National Congress.

STRENGTH OF THE TIGER.—The strength of the tiger is prodigious. By a single cuff of his great fore-paw he will break the skull of an ox as you or I could smash a gooseberry; and then, taking his prey by the neck, will straighten his muscles and march off at a half trot, with only the hoofs and tail of the defunct animal trailing on the ground. An eminent traveler relates that a buffalo having got helplessly fixed in a swamp, its owner went to seek assistance of his neighbors to drag it out. When he was gone, however, a tiger visited the spot, and unceremoniously slew and drew the buffalo out of the mire, and had just got it comfortably over his shoulder, preparatory to trotting home, when the herdsmen and his friends approached. The buffalo, which weighed more than a thousand pounds, had his skull fractured, and its body nearly emptied of blood.

THE TRUE PHYSICIAN.—To the true physician there is an inexpressible sanctity in the sick chamber. At its threshold the mere human passions quit their hold on his heart. Even the grief permitted to others must be put aside. He must enter that room a common intelligence. He is disabled for his mission if he suffer aught to obscure the keen, quiet glance of his science. Age or youth, beauty or deformity, innocence or guilt, merge their distinction in one common attribute—human suffering appealing to human skill. Woe to the household in which the trusted healer feels not on his conscience the solemn obligations of his glorious art.—Sir E. Bulwer Lytton.

Not long ago a destitute daughter of Erin walked into a broker's office, and in a very insinuating tone begged for a little aid to support her starving family,

"Why, my good woman," said the comfortable gentleman to whom she addressed her petition, "you ought to take your family and go to the poor-house, instead of begging in this way."

"Sure, yer honor," she replied, "it wouldn't be aisy to go to a poorer house nor my own."

A Conscript's Epistle to Jeff. Davis.

The following quaint epistle has been furnished for publication by a member of the Mounted Rifles, who picked it up in a deserted rebel camp on the Chowan river, about thirty miles from Winton, while out on a scouting expedition last spring. The letter was addressed in this wise:

Read, if you want to, you thieving scalp-hunter, who ever you are, and forward, post-paid, to the Lord High Chancellor of the devil's exchequer (?) on earth.

JEFF. DAVIS, Richmond, Va.:

HEADQUARTERS "SCALP HUNTERS,"
Camp Chowan, N. C., Jan. 11.

EXCELLENCY DAVIS—It is with feelings of undeveloped pleasure that an affectionate conscript entrusts this sheet of confiscated paper to the tender mercies of a Confederate State mail carrier, addressed as it shall be to yourself, O Jeff., Red Jacket of the Gulf, and Chief of the Six Nations—more or less. He writes on the stump of a shivered monarch, with the 'pine trees waiting round him,' and 'Endymion's plaint rising in the air.' To you, O Czar of all Chivalry, and Khan of Cotton Tartary, he appeals for the privilege of seeking on his own hook, a home less free—a home among the hyenas of the North. Will you not halt your 'brave columns,' and stay your gorgeous career for a thin space?—and while an admiring world takes a brief gaze at your 'glorious and God-forsaken cause, pen for the happy conscript a furlough without end? Do so, and mail it, if you please, to that city the winny wandering Wigfall didn't winter in, called for short Philadelphia.

The Etesian winds sweeping down the defiles of the old Dominion, and over the swamps of Suffolk, come moaning through the pines of Old State laden with the music and sigh themselves away into sweet sounds of silence of the far-off South. Your happy conscript would go away to the far-away North, whence the wind comes, and leave you to reap the whirlwinds with no one but your father the devil to rake and bind after you. And he's going.

It is with intense and multifariously proud satisfaction that he gazes for the last time upon our holy flag—that symbol and sign of an adored trinity—cotton, niggers and chivalry. He still sees it in the little camp on the Chowan, tied to the peak of its palmetto pole, and floating out over our boundless Confederacy, the revived relic of ages gone, banner of our king of few days and full of trouble. And that pole in its tapering uprightness testifying some of the grandest beauties of our nationality; its peak pointing hopefully toward the tropical stars, and its biggest end—run into the ground, Relic and pole—good bye. 'Tis best the conscript goes; his claim to chivalry has gone before him. Behind he leaves the legitimate chivalry of this unfounded nation, centered in the illegitimate son of a Kentucky horse thief.

But a few more words, illustrious President, and he is done—done gone.

Elevated by their sufferings and suffrages to the highest office in the gift of a great and exceeding free people, you have held your position without a change of base, or purpose of any sort, through weary months of war, and want, and woe; and though every conscript would unite with the thousands of loyal and true men in the South in a grand old grief at your downfall, so too will they sink under the calamity of an exquisite joy when you have reached that eminent meridian whence all progress is perpendicular.

And now, bastard President of a political abortion, farewell.

'Scalp hunters,' relic, pole, and chivalrous confederates in crime, good bye. Except it be in the army of the Union, you will not again see the conscript.

NORM. HARROLD, of Ashe County, N. C.

The Door of Heaven.

It was a fearful time when the steamboat Tyro was lost. It was long ago, and almost everybody has forgotten it, and they are almost all gone. The Tyro was a small boat, and the passengers were few and poor, so it has passed from the public mind. All the day the bright sun had shone down on the peaceful lake, and everything seemed safe and secure. The passengers had not thought of any danger as the night came on.

A little boy kneeled down to say his evening prayer, and as he looked out and saw the western sky all aglow with the glory of the going day, he asked, 'Mamma, isn't that the door of heaven with bright curtains all round it?'

'Yes, my boy,' said the mother; 'heaven's doors are all round us.'

'Well, that's the one that I want to go in at, because it's the prettiest,' and the child prayed his prayer and went to sleep.

It was never known how, whether the pilot fell asleep at his post, or the lights went out, but when midnight came there was a crash, a shiver, and cries of terror. The steamer had come in collision with a schooner and was sinking.

The little boy awoke. He cried: 'Mamma, where are you?' and his mother's arms held him fast, even while they sank together in the dark waters.

They came to the surface again, and the mother caught something floating and held fast to it,

'Jamie! Jamie!' she said, 'hold me very tight.'

'Mamma, are we going to heaven? I don't like this way—I'm afraid.'

'Never fear, child. God will meet you,' and with all her strength the mother lifted the child upon the floating bale then dropped it, and went home through the flood gates below.

Mamma! mamma! where are you?' cried the child, but there came no answer. No one noticed the child afloat, for every one sought to save his own life, and the day was born, ran its race, and was dying again when Jamie floated ashore. The little fellow was hungry, there was the glorious golden gate of heaven, and Jamie thought it was wider open than the night before, and as soon as he crawled off from the bale to the land, he began to run as fast as he could, straight to the west.

Jamie's feet tottered. He was too weak to run, so he walked straight on, a long, long way, until the west began to grow dim in his sight.

Jamie saw a man coming toward him but he did not stop. The man noticed that the child's clothes were wet, that he had been in the water, and he tried to stay him.

'Little boy where are you going?' he asked.

'I can't stop now, said Jamie; 'I'm afraid I shall be too late.'

'Too late! where are you going that way? there is no house there,' the man cried after him, for Jamie did not stop an instant.

'Yes there is, and I'm afraid the doors will be shut.'

'Whose house, boy?'

'Why God's beautiful house to be sure. Don't you know it? It is heaven. See! it grows dark;' and Jamie made one effort and fell to the ground fainting with hunger.

The man lifted him up in his arms, and Jamie lisped: Mamma said God would come to meet me;' and then he fell asleep. When he awoke he found himself in a strange place, with strangers about him.

'Come my darling, you must eat some of this,' said a soft voice, and the light of a candle was carefully shaded from Jamie's eyes.

Jamie's last thought was of heaven, and his first question was: 'Did I get there? Did He meet me?'

And a little boy standing by the bed answered: 'Yes, little boy, father met you and brought you home.'

'God's father too, is he?' asked Jamie, not yet conscious of his present state; 'then we'll go home together."

Jamie recovered and grew to manhood, and to the time when his Redeemer called him home, Jamie never forgot the western door for which he had striven. He never looked upon the gorgeous purple, golden, and crimson, glory, the sunset, without hearing again in his mind the words of his mother: 'Yes my boy, heaven's doors are all about us.'

And Jamie's wish was granted him. One night the shining light came through the parted curtains, and Jamie went home with the day, and Jesus met him, for he loved him Jesus, who long years before had gone down to the dark flood-gates below to meet Jamie's mother—Jesus, who always watches and waits to hear the coming feet of those who seek the gates of heaven.

AMERICAN LABOR.—The following beautiful tribute to labor is from a speech delivered in Faneuil Hall Boston, by Daniel Webster:

"I have spoken of labor as one of the great elements of society, the great substantial interest on which we all stand. Not feudal service, not predial toil, not the irksome drudgery by one race of mankind, subjected on account of color to the control of another race of mankind; but labor, intelligent, manly, independent, thinking and acting for itself, earning its own wages, accumulating those wages into capital, educating childhood, maintaining worship, claiming the right of the elective franchise, and helping to uphold the great fabric of the State. That is American labor; and I confess that all my sympathies are with it and my voice until I am dumb will be for it."

DEPT TO NEWSPAPERS.—Newspaper subscriptions are infallible tests of men's honesty. They will sooner or later, discover the man. If he is dishonest he will cheat the printer in some way—say he has paid for what he has not—declare he has the receipt somewhere—or sent money, and it was lost in the mail, or will take the paper and not pay for it on the grounds that he did not subcribe for it—or will move off, leaving it come to the office he left. Thousands of professed christians are dishonest, and the printer's books will tell fearful tales in the final judgement

The Weekly Union.

Mankato, Friday, Oct. 16, 1863.

Republican Union Ticket.

For Governor,
STEPHEN MILLER.
For Lieutenant Governor,
CHARLES D. SHERWOOD.
For Secretary of State,
DAVID BLAKELY.
For Auditor of State,
CHARLES McILRATH,
For State Treasurer,
CHARLES SCHEFFER.
For Attorney General,
GORDON E. COLE.
For Clerk of the Supreme Court,
GEORGE F. POTTER.

17th LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT.

For State Senator,
B. Y. COFFIN.
For Representatives,
WILLIAM RUSSELL,
J. A. PHELPS,
FREEMAN TALBOT,

COUNTY TICKET.

For Sheriff,
ELIJAH MIDDLEBROOK.
For Register of Deeds,
BENJAMIN F. SMITH,
For Treasurer,
A. T. LINDHOLM.
For Judge of Probate
DAVID WILCOX
For County Surveyor,
WILLIAM L. COON.
For Coroner,
T. T. PEIRCE,
For County Commissioners,
1st Dist.--H. ROBERTSON,
2d Dist.--L. G. M. FLETCHER,
3d Dist.--JOHN I. JONES.

Republican Union Platform.

Resolved, that we, chosen to represent in convention the unconditional Union men of Minnesota, grateful to Almighty God for the success which has hitherto crowned the arms of our country and for the prospect thus opened of a speedy, honorable and lasting peace, do hereby, for our friends and constituents, reaffirm our determination to support our Government by every means in our power in the vigorous prosecution of this present war,—on our part, holy, just, and forced upon us by the criminal acts of others,—until not an enemy in arms shall be found within our borders. And to this we pledge our lives our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

2. That we tender our grateful thanks to the survivors of our glorious armies and our warm sympathy to the relatives of their gallant dead, who have won for the country so glorious victories, for themselves imperishable renown, and for us all an assurance of liberty and safety for our children, under our beloved and now well tried Government.

3. That with especial pride we point to the gallant achievements on many a hard-fought battle-field, of our Minnesota regiments. Their bravery, discipline, and patriotism have won for them a name that shall never die, and made it forever honorable to be a citizen of Minnesota.

4. That, without claiming for it exemption from error, we heartily endorse the general policy and conduct of our National Administration; and we point to the recent magnificent triumph of our armies as its best vindication from the charges of incapacity so freely brought against it by those who prefer national ruin, to success under the present Administration. Especially do we approve the emancipation proclamation, and the raising of black troops as being among the best possible measures to weaken the enemy and strengthen ourselves.

5 That our State Administration, and our Congressional Delegation deserve our hearty approbation for the zealous and efficient cooperation they have afforded the National Authorities in carrying on the war.

6 That we call upon those in authority to take such measures, by retaliation or otherwise, as shall effectually prevent brutal and barbarous treatment by the enemy of our soldiers, of whatever color.

7 That it is due to our shattered armies in the field, as well as to the sacred cause which they uphold, that their ranks should as speedily as possible be filled up by every means in our power. It is due to the country that the means raised to resist and prevent the draft, should not seem to have succeeded a day longer than is necessary to enforce the laws.

8 That the way to peace is and ever has been open to the rebels; the only condition we have ever sought to impose, is that they should lay down their arms and submit to the authority of the General Government. We protest against the making of any terms with them in advance as to their status as communities, when they shall have returned to their allegiance. Having been declared "public enemies" by a recent unanimous decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, they must accept the consequences that legitimately flow from having placed themselves in that position.

Republican Union Convention, for the 20th Senatorial District.

There will be held at Blue Earth City, Faribault Co., Minn., on Thursday, October 22d, at 2 o'clock P. M. a Republican Union Convention of Delegates, for the 20th Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Brown, Faribault, Martin, Watonwan, Jackson, Nobles, Rock, Pipe Stone, Murray and Cottonwood, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Representative in the State Legislature, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the said convention. The several counties will be entitled to one delegate for every fifty votes polled therein, at the last general election, and one for any fractional number equal to twenty five and less than fifty votes

Counties (if organized,) having polled less than fifty votes will be entitled to one delegate.

Delegates and their substitutes must be residents of the counties which they represent.

The basis of representation is the aggregate and highest vote polled at the last preceding general election, held in the several counties,

By order of the District Committee.

J. A. KEISTER,
Chairman.

Blue Earth City, Oct 10, 1863.

SENATOR WILKINSON

Will address the citizens of Mankato and vicinity to-morrow evening, at City Hall, at 7½ o'clock. The ladies are invited to be present.

WE hope the Copperheads will conclude to send some more of their trusted leaders to speak to us before election day. The "Governor" and Little Bris. made a good many converts for the Union cause last Monday evening. Theirs is not a thankless task, for we can appreciate the efforts made, and the immense benefits resulting.

The editor of the Copperhead Record is afflicted with a disease called 'Wilk on the Brain.' His physician entertains no hopes of his recovery.

John J. Porter is a Republican.

The editor of the Record has, for a long time, endeavored to make the people in this district believe that John J. Porter is a democrat. Deceit and treachery are his prevailing characteristics—his besetting sins, and no falsehood has been too great for him to utter, only so that it would blind the eyes of the public to the fact that Mr. Porter is a Republican. Mr. Porter himself says that he is not now a democrat. We know that but a few years since he was a Republican, at the time he was living on his farm in Faribault County, which is just over the Blue Earth County line. We know that he then went to a Republican caucus in Winnebago City and sought to get elected a delegate to the Republican County Convention in Blue Earth City. We know that he failed in that. We know that he returned chop-fallen, and attended a Republican caucus in Shelbyville, and asked to be elected a delegate to attend the Republican County Convention at Mankato. We know that he failed in that. We know that he again returned more chop-fallen than ever, and then attended a Democratic caucus at Winnebago City, and after many protestations of faith, was elected a delegate to attend the Democratic County Convention at Blue Earth City. These facts cannot be gainsayed. Mr. Porter dare not deny them. His political course is a consistent one, very. Once he was a know nothing, and a very active working member; then he was a Republican; then again he was a Democrat; and to day he is a Republican. For who does not know that Mr. Porter said he was pledged to vote for Governor Ramsey for U. S. Senator if his vote was necessary to elect him? Who does not know of the bargain made between certain politicians, and certain other politicians that Mr. Porter is to vote for Mr. A. of one political stripe for United States Senator, and in the event of his defeat, he is to vote for Mr. B. of the other political stripe? These things are facts—they cannot be got around, and they will not down at the bidding of the Record clique.

Are the democratic voters of this district to be wheedled into voting for this semi-annual Know-Nothing-Republico Demo-Republico unprincipled trucking politician, who is but a tool in the hands of his Copperhead masters?

NOT SO.—"Governor" Welles, in his speech, the other evening, said that the Republicans had classed the entire Democratic party as Copperheads. The assertion is a false one. A large portion of the Democratic party is loyal; and especially in this District, where the Douglas Democrats greatly predominate. This class we believe to be loyal, and in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war. The Breckinridgers, who are of the Record clique, and midnight caucus schemers, are out and out Copperheads, and the Governor cannot truthfully call a Copperhead a loyal man, who hoisted the Douglas ticket simply because seven eighths of his readers were Douglas men. No, no, sir! call things by their proper names, "Governor," and keep truth on your side.

THE RECORD AND PORTER—"A QUESTION OF VERACITY."—The Record, of last week says "Porter is a Democrat and the nominee of that party." Mr. Porter says he is not a Democrat, and not a party man.

"Now here is a question of veracity raised between Porter and the Record. The Record says Porter is a Democrat, and Porter says he is not. Who tells the truth?

The only enthusiasm evinced at the Copperhead mass meeting the other evening, was when Little Bris mentioned the name of the late Hon. S. A. Douglas. With a few exceptions, such as the Record, and those of its ilk, the Democrats in this county are Douglas men, who do not affiliate with Copperheads.

The speech of "Governor" Welles, on Monday evening, reminded us of a Universalist sermon we once heard in New York, delivered by a very shallow divine, but a strong advocate of said doctrine. After services a gentleman remarked to one of the official brethren: "I think your doctrine very poor." "Yes, yes," replied the official. "The church will have to send out smarter men than he is, or the doctrines can't be sustained."

The draft has been postponed until the 11th of November.

Tuesday, the 3rd of November.

Our subscribers who have written us for information as to the time the election takes place, will bear in mind that it is Tuesday, the third of November, just two weeks from next Tuesday.

IF you want to make WISWELL as mad as a march hare, just ask him what he thinks about the constitutionality of the Dog and Poll Tax laws, and whether a soldiers vote wouldn't be acceptable just now. The dangerous experiment was tried a short time ago, and the questioner came near losing his life.

"Governor" Welles, said to his audience, the other evening, that he was a candidate for the highest office in their power to bestow. On the 3rd of November he will find himself at the bottom of that office, and it will prove to be one of the shallowest Welles he was ever in.

PENNY GRABS.—We hope the next time "little Bris," "whose eloquence is an honor to his party," speaks to us, he will not enter the hall with his pockets filled with penny grabs, as the odor is anything but pleasant in a room, especially where there are ladies present.

The Record has attempted to deny that Mr. Porter was ever a Know Nothing, but never came out in a fair and square denial. It cannot and dare not do it, and Mr. Porter dare not publicly deny that he was ever a member of a Know Nothing Lodge. Come, come, John J. toe the mark, and let us see if the spirit of the Lord is in you.

Our Know Nothing Republican friend Porter, has got on the anxious seat. He started out last Sunday, in the rain, accompanied by a friend whose politics are of the Swift-Ramsey-Rice stripe, and electioneered all day. There's no need of you're using up horse flesh so, friend Porter; just peddle a few more bogus tickets, and a few pounds of twenty cent tobacco, and the victory's won.

The "intelligent German" whom the Record reports as having had a conversation with Senator Wilkinson in regard to voting for Know Nothing Porter, say that the Record's article is an unmitigated falsehood.

AT the time Senator Rice wrote his New York letter in favor of Union Leagues, all of the Copperhead papers in the State came out against him. A short time after he wrote another letter saying that he had only one more desire left, and that was to be Governor of Minnesota, and then every Democratic paper wheeled into line and cried "Viva la Rice," "Viva la Senator."

General News Items.

REV. E. D. NEILL writes from Philadelphia that Fred Raymond, Co. H, 1st Minnesota, shot himself in the head with a pistol, in Fairmount Park, on the 19th. Cause, "disappointed affection."

GEN. ROSECRANS is "checked" but not "check-mated." We will lay a wager upon his winning the game yet.

A NEW German Republican paper is to be started immediately in Fond du Lac, Wisconsin.

IN London the groggsellers place saw-dust outside their shops, and then sprinkle it with rum, so as to tempt the wavering by their favorite fumes.

ON Thursday evening, just as the Seventh regiment was about taking its departure from our levee, a quarrel occurred between a soldier of the Ninth regiment and a man named Thomas Howell of Stockton, growing out of remarks made concerning the war and the army. Howell, becoming excited over the topic of discussion, struck the soldier on the face, who did not resent the blow. One of his comrades, however, who witnessed the affair, here interfered, and responded to the assault by striking Howell, producing a deep gash on his face. By some means the soldiers got the idea that Howell was a "Copperhead," and they accordingly threatened him with violence. The matter was quieted over by Mr. H. declaring his attachment to the Union, and by the timely interference and explanations of some citizens who were in the vicinity at the time of the affray. Otherwise, a more unpleasant termination might have ensued.—Winona Rep.

THE ANOKA STAR.—A. G. Spalding, of St. Paul, has purchased of A. C. Squire, his interest in the Anoka Republican, and changed the name to the Star. It is a good looking sheet, and supports the Union Ticket.

THE COPPERHEAD MASS MEETING.

"Little Bris." makes a Speech Tottering over--his Last Drink.

According to programme, City Hall was filled last Monday evening with a respectable audience of Republicans, who, out of curiosity to see the "tried and trusted" leaders of the Democracy, had wended their way thither. A few Copperheads were seen in the crowd, carrying their heads under their arms, covered with a copy of last week's Record. They were seated in various parts of the room, but fortunately for "Little Bris." "whose eloquence is an honor to his party," the genius of the Record establishment obtained a seat as near as possible to the tottering speaker, "whose eloquence is an honor to his party." We did not divine his object in so doing. But during the progress of the "Governor's" speech, saw the Record's all-powerful arm outstretched, and then gently encircle the bin "whose eloquence is an honor to his party."

The "Governor" arose with the grace of a school-boy, having studied Bronson's elocution thoroughly, and informed us that he was born—"in the East." A fact that we did not know; but as a WISE man had come to worship him, we concluded it must be true. He emigrated to Minnesota a number of years ago, and close application to business had kept him confined at home, and he was therefore a stranger among us. But he hoped to become better acquainted. "Democratic Law" had placed him in nomination on the Copperhead ticket, and he had come forth from his confinement to enunciate its "eternal principles of justice," and offer himself a sacrifice to save the Democratic party. He gave us a partizan speech, and attempted to justify the conduct of the Democratic party for the last fifty years by showing the credit side of its accounts, and keeping back whatever was damaging to its interests.

The liberty of the press and free speech in Ohio and Illinois were the themes upon which he expended his tremendous powers of elocution, and he set up Vallandigham as a saint and martyr—a pattern for angels to follow. He endeavored to make his audience believe that after the rebellion is subdued, the administration would prosecute the war for the abolition of slavery. He was in favor of crushing the rebellion, but would not vote a dollar or give a man for that purpose. He then told us, with the eloquence of a country school boy, of a little cloud that arose in the North about thirty years ago, and a little cloud that arose in the South about the same time, and that they met high up in heaven, and burst upon the land in dreadful fury. The Northern cloud he called abolition, and the Southern one Secession. To avert the calamitous consequences of this collision, he had consented to come forth from his secluded retreat, and by that persuasive eloquence which he had so long studied, enunciate those "eternal principles of justice" that would surely save the Union. The supply of water in this Well being exhausted, he then gave way to a bin which never contained aqueous fluid, and introduced to the audience the Chairman of the Copperhead State Central Committee, the virtuous, sober, and accomplished "Little Bris." "whose eloquence is an honor to his party."

"Little Bris." was sick—at least quite indisposed, before he started out on his Union-saving mission, and said his physician had prescribed brandy and the essence of corn in order to recuperate the prostrated genius "whose eloquence is an honor to his party." Our affable friend of the Record with "owlish dignity" or who, at least sat near the gentleman of "owlish dignity," labored very assiduously during the "Governor's" speech to prepare the virtuous, sober and accomplished chairman of the Copperhead State Central Committee, "whose eloquence is an honor to his party" to enunciate those "eternal principles of justice," and so far succeeded as to induce him to throw aside his penny grabs, and place a copy of the last week's Record in his inside coat pocket next his heart, as a stimulus and "nerve-steadier."

"Little Bris." then proceeded to enunciate, and being very dry, commenced to talk about water where there was no water—of traveling from our town, by water, to all parts of the Lord's footstool. That he could set sail some fine morning, and glide down the smooth surface of the beautiful Minnesota, steering clear of snag and sand bars, and land "away down in Dixie," where he "so longed to be," and clasp the beloved Jeff. to his heart. He said he could "prove it," and as he had the documents wherewith so to do, wrapped around a bottle of the essence of corn, we dare not dispute it.

But the tongue of the virtuous, sober and accomplished Chairman of the Copperhead State Central Committee, "whose eloquence is an honor to his party," was as thick as a horse collar, and he couldn't "enunciate" clearly; but he succeeded in telling his audience that he was a Douglas democrat, that nobody in St. Paul dare call him a Copperhead—that he came here to make a party speech, and defend the "tried and trusted leaders" of his party. He went over nearly the same ground that the "Governor" did, and told us that if the right man was nominated in Ohio he would be elected by over two hundred thousand majority. Senator Wilkinson was a "thorn in his side" which he could not extract even with that bottle of the essence of corn," or his WISE-acre's "nerve-steadier." He had something to say about Col. Robertson, "the man who talked so much," and whose resolution fell like a bomb-shell in the Copperhead Convention. He forgot that the gallant Colonel is the man whom the Democrats in this vicinity swear by, and that he was throwing Greek fire into their ranks.

After some further remarks from the virtuous, sober and accomplished Chairman of the Copperhead State Central Committee, "whose eloquence is an honor to his party," the genius of the "nerve steadier" organ, wrapped around "Little Bris." a copy of his "winding sheet," and then gathered him under the arms of his love, as a "hen gathereth her chickens under her wings," retired to muse and meditate, and "smile" again.

The next morning the "tried and trusted" leaders of the Democracy departed, accompanied with about two quarts of the spirits of Democracy.

Departure of the Troops.

The Winona Republican in speaking of the departure of the Seventh, Ninth and Tenth Regiments says, that all the troops rendezvoused at this place during the past week have taken their departure for St. Louis. The three companies of the Seventh Regiment temporarily located here took passage on the Frank Steele, yesterday evening, not on the Northern Belle, as before stated. The entire regiment reached La Crosse in time for the morning train going east. This morning, the Northern Light, with a portion of the Tenth regiment, arrived here from Fort Snelling. The remaining companies joined them at this port, and at 10 o'clock the Northern Light, crowded on every deck started for Dunleith with her precious burden. An hour to two later, the Chippewa Falls, with the Ninth regiment, also left this port for La Crosse, where the troops were designed to be transferred to the cars. Another boat, the Hudson, took on board the wagons and supplies belonging to the soldiers. At twelve o'clock all had gone.

During the embarkation, the Levee was crowded with citizens and soldiers, presenting an unusually animated scene. Meantime there were eight steamboats at the Levee, either receiving or discharging freight and passengers, thus adding to the bustle and animation of the occasion, and giving to our town an appearance of business activity which would well become a city of twenty thousand inhabitants.

Those portions of the Ninth and Tenth regiments which had been encamped here were visited this morning, prior to their departure, by the voting Commissioners, with whom they deposited their ballots for county and State officers.

The soldiers all took their leave of the State in good spirits, and anxious to contribute, by service in the field, to the proud reputation which the Minnesota regiments already enjoy for unsurpassed courage, endurance, and devotion to the Union. May they, when Peace shall have spread her white wings over a saved and re-united Republic, return to their homes in the North Star State as proudly as they departed—we cannot expect that it will be with ranks unbroken.

A TELEGRAM was received from St. Louis on the 13th stating that the Seventh Regiment arrived there on Sunday and the Ninth and Tenth on Monday. The message adds, "We remain on duty here."

Church of the United Brethren.

To the Editor of the Union:

The folllowing resolutions on the State of the country, were adopted by the ministers of the church of the United Brethren in Christ of the Minnesota Annual Conference at their last session, which was held in Blue Earth City; and the Secretary was requested to have them sent to your paper for publication:

WHEREAS, We are in the midst of one of the most wicked rebellions; and,

WHEREAS, Blood and treasure are being poured out to an unbounded extent; therefore, be it Resolved, 1. That we deplore the necessities of war;

2 That they who take the sword shall perish by the sword;

3. That it is the genius of our institutions to settle our differences at the ballot-box,

4. That a defeat for office does not justify rebellion, revolution, or secession;

5 That the cause of our country in the present struggle to maintain law and order is entitled to our sympathies, our prayers, and if need be, our lives;

6. That slavery is a demoralizing institution, and that from the first, it has been a shame, and a withering curse in our land, and, as it has raised itself against our noble Government, it must abide the arbitrament of the sword;

7 That Copperheadism is no better than its mother, rebellion, and that it is the love of party more than of country:

8. That we are opposed to copperheads, and especially copperhead preachers, with all our might.

9. That the former rebellions in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Alabama, Georgia South Carolina, &c., were contrary to law and order, and met a just fate, and that this must follow in their wake;

10. That our brethren in the army have our hearty love, and sympathies, and we "commend them and theirs to the favor of Almighty God."

11. That the Indian raid is another daughter of rebellion, and twin sister of copperheadism, and we hope soon to see both in one common grave,

"Unwept, unhonored, and unsung, Unknelled, uncoffined, and unknown."

M. L. T.

A RARE CHANCE.—The editor of the Printer's Devil, a handsome, illustrated literary family journal, will send that paper on trial six months, free of postage for the nominal price of twenty five cents.

This is one of the best papers in the country, and no one should lose this opportunity. Address Editor Printer's Devil, Box 2900, New York Editors giving the above two or three insertions (including this notice) will receive the P. D. six months free, on sending marked copy.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.—Weighed in the balance of a just criticism, all are obliged to admit that Fairbanks' Scales are, without exception, the best ever invented. We know whereof we affirm, because we have tested their value, and are fully satisfied of their superior merits. The introduction of these scales has wrought a revolution in the transactions of various business, and their accuracy is such that a uniformity in weights has been established all over the country, thus making them a National legalized standard. Nor are they confined to the United States; they have found their way to almost every part of the civilized world, and are adapted to the standards of all countries, so that it may be said, all nations, if not "weighed in these balances," at least weigh by them.—Hunts' Merchants' Magazine.

The Traitor Shows His Colors.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12

Gen. McClellan has written a letter to Hon. Chas. J. Biddle of New Jersey, requesting him to deny the statement in the Philadelphia Press and other newspapers, that if he voted in the Philadelphia political campaign it would be in favor of Gov. Curtin. He says in all after conversations with Judge Woodward, he finds that their views agree, and he regards his election as Governor of Pennsylvania called for by the interests of the nation and would if in his power give to Judge Woodward his vote and voice.

The Washington correspondent of the Commercial states, under date of Monday, 11th that the city was somewhat startled this morning at the authentic news from the Rapidan, that the rebel army had abandoned its late position on the South bank of that stream and that our cavalry had already attacked one of its retreating columns.

This news was rendered exciting, by the wide spread rumor, founded merely upon inference, doubtless that the retreating movement of Lee simply meant the resurrection of the offensive by a flank movement around the inside of the Warrenton line to the north bank of the Rappahannock, and then placing the rebels between Meade and Washington, after the manner in which Stonewall Jackson flanked Pope on the same ground. If these really be the rebel plans they have been fairly met. Gen Meade is is not the man to be caught in so old a trap.

Those who are from the army this morning seem to agree in the impression that the retreat is to draw the rebel army closely around at Gordonsville, where the rebels have an extensive depot of supplies and where a force will be probably left, and the remainder of the army sent nearer the defenses of Richmond. All military men concur in believing that the rebels do not intend any campaigning in Virginia this autumn.

LATEST NEWS.

News by Friday Morning's Mail.

THE OHIO ELECTION

100,000 Union Majority for Brough!

Pennsylvania all Right

COL. STONE ELECTED IN IOWA!

Meade's falling back a Brilliant Manoeuvre.

In Ohio, thirty-nine counties give Brough 49.214 majority, which is a gain of 37,972. The forty-nine counties not included in this estimate will swell the home majority to such an extent that, with the soldiers' vote, the majority in the State will greatly exceed 100,000.

In Pennsylvania the counties heard from give Curtin 21,782 majority, and the remaining counties gave, in 1860, 10,362, so that the majority this year can be safely set down at 40,000.

Returns from Iowa are meagre, but indicate the election of Col. Stone.

Indications from all parts of the State are cheering. Dayton advices say many Democrats are voting for Brough. This city will doubtless give him a majority.—Many towns on the reserve are casting almost their entire vote for Brough.

Sickles and others addressed a large crowd here last night. The meeting was considered the finest ever held here.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The Evening Star says the splendid maneuver, by which Gen. Meade check-mated his adversary, and without loss of any appreciable extent, placed himself on the other side of Gordon, and in position where he preferred to accept battle, seems to have considerably bothered the rebels, who do not seem inclined to fight unless with Indian like advantages of surprise and an ambuscade.

The change of position made by our army was effected without the slightest confusion. The amount of stores destroyed or left behind would not make a car-load altogether.

The news from Rosecrans's army is unimportant, Parties from the front report no excitement at Chattanooga. Rebel lines extend along the south bank of the Tennessee. Supply trains are much annoyed by their sharp-shooters, who daily pick off teamsters and horses.

A STRAW.—The Commissioners took the soldiers' vote at Sauk Center on the 8th and a correspondent writes that there were 105 votes cast, of which number EIGHTY were for the Republican Union ticket and twenty-five for the Copperhead Democracy.

A wise father once endeavored to teach his son the nature of an inference

"Thus for example, "said he, "when we read that the deluge covered the whole earth thereof were all drowned. Now Naaman, the Syrian, was commanded to wash seven times in the Jordan—what inference would you draw from that?"

"That he must have been very dirty!" was the precocious lad's answer.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Blue Earth, District Court—6th District }

William G. McCutchen agst Francis M. Gunning, surviving partner of the firm of Hensley & Gunning.

The State of Minnesota. To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint in this action which is now on file in the office of the Clerk of this Court, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint on the subscribers at their office in Mankato, Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, within twenty days after the service hereof, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff in this action will take judgment against you for the sum of one hundred and eighty dollars and fifty-eight cents, besides the costs of this action. Mankato, Oct. 7th, 1863.

FINCH & PITCHER,
Attys for Plff.

14

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SPERMATORRHOEA CAN BE CURED.—Dr. Rand's Specific cures Spermatorrhoea, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Loss of Power, &c., speedily and effectually. Its effects are truly magical. A trial of the SPECIFIC will convince the most skeptical of its merits. Price, $1 a box. Sent post paid to any address, by S. C. UPMAN, 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA. Circular sent free.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it (free of charge) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience—and possess a Valuable Remedy—will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed) by addressing

JOHN B. OGDEN,
5-3m No. 60 Nassau Street, New York

DRUNKENNESS CURED.—The inebriate may now bid defiance to the tempting cup. DR. ZANE'S ANTIDOTE FOR STRONG DRINK is a certain cure for Drunkenness. It creates a dislike for strong drink, and can be administered without the knowledge of the patient. Price $1 a box. Sent by mail to any address, by S. C. UPMAM, 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA; PA. Circular sent free.

THE COUNTY.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

St. Paul—Arrives at 9 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Eastern—Arrives at 4 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Blue Earth City—Arrives at 5 P. M. and departs at 7 A. M. Closes 7 P. M.

Office hours—5 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays, 5 to 8 A. M., and 12 M. to 1 P. M.

R. J. SIBLEY, Postmaster.

Agents for the Union.

The following are authorized to receive and receipt for monies paid on subscription for the UNION:

Mankato—
South Bend—LARS LEE.
Garden City—RAY & WILLIAMS.
Vernon—THEODORE SOWLES.
Shelbyville—H A BECK R SHANNON.
Winnebago City—HOLLY and WELCH.
Verona—A. D MASON.
Blue Earth City—W. J. C ROBERTSON.
Fairmount—W W CARRINGTON.
Mapleton—S MIDDLEBROOK.
Madelia—C. G. MULLEN
New Ulm—J. C RUDOLPH.
Judson—MR. GOODWIN.
Winnebago Agency—LUCIUS DYER.
Sterling—WILLIAM RUSSELL
Butternut Valley—REV. J. JENKINS.

A few cords of wood will be received on subscription at this office.

WE have received another advertisement of Winnebago Land Sale, but cannot get it in this issue.

DR FRISBEE, of New York, has purchased the Hanna property, now occupied by J. R. Tinkcom.

A NEW PAPER.—The copperheads of this State have established an organ at St. Paul, the first issue of which made its appearance last week.

Attention is called to the notice of the Republican Union Convention in the 20th Senatorial District, which will be found elsewhere.

WHY has emigration to the Superior Copper regions ceased? Because the commodity is found in great abundance nearer home.

WM. J. DULY is recruiting for the new cavalry regiment. He is a good man, and his influence will induce many to enlist.

Miss Patterson's select school numbers over twenty-five scholars, and she is meeting with very good success in teaching.

The Rev. A. G. Smith, of horse and wife stealing notoriety, has been sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the penitentiary.

UNION.—Unite your good flour with D. B. DeLand & Co's Chemical Saleratus if you want extra [illegible] biscuit and pastry of all kinds. United they rise, divided they fall.

FOUND.—A gentleman's shawl was found on Second street the other morning. By paying for this notice, and describing property, the owner can learn where to call for it.

JOHN D JONES' is the place to get your harness repaired, or to purchase a new one. He has all the work he can attend to, but never mind that. Bring it along and crowd him.

FRIEND MEAGHER has received his fall stock of iron, and we notice it is selling quite fast. He has on the way here, the largest stock of goods ever brought to this market.

Co. A of the 20th Regiment, Minnesota State Militia, will hold a meeting at the armory to morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of electing a Captain in place of Capt. J. S. Barkelder, resigned.

PERSONAL.—Capt. Arnold, of Co. A, 7th Regiment, is stopping at the Mankato House. He has orders to pick up stragglers, deserters, and those fit for duty of his regiment, and report with them at Fort Snelling.

RETURNED.—J.M. Thompson, Esq., of Garden City, returned home from the East, last Tuesday. He has purchased a large stock of goods, and will soon be prepared to receive visits from his numerous friends.

NEW GOODS.—Ray & Williams, of Garden City, are now receiving their fall stock of goods. Their capacious store, they intend to fill "chock full" of all kinds of fall and winter goods Better tradesmen do not sojourn in that section than those comprising the firm of Ray & Williams.

PRAEL & DUBUISSON, we notice, have not only received their fall stock of goods, but have sold nearly half of them already. Who would not be a merchant, when by fair dealing, one can be so popular as this time-honored firm?

THE Bradley Brothers are receiving some of their new goods, which make a good shew on their shelves. Their prices are suited to the times, and their goods to the wants of their customers.

WE are sorry to learn of the continued illness of Mr. Williams, of the firm of Ray & Williams, of Garden City. He is at present with his friends in Michigan, and has been quite sick for a number of weeks. We hope to hear of his speedy recovery, and shall be glad to welcome him back.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN is receiving his fall stock of goods, consisting of everything farmers wish. He has taken great pains to personally select his stock, and everything he has is suited to this market. Those who know Mr. C. speak well of him, and never find fault with his prices.

LOVELAND & HARRINGTON'S warehouse in lower town is progressing finely. The walls are being built of scantling, two by six inches, laid in the same manner as brick, breaking joints. It will be a substantial building, and will hold a large amount of grain. Ephraim Cole, Esq., has charge of the work.

ADVERTISERS will take notice that the UNION has now the largest circulation of any paper in the Minnesota Valley. Our last trip up the Blue Earth netted us so many subscribers that we make this assertion without fear of successful contradiction.

Prof. Ferguson has now seventy-three pupils, and from forty to fifty in daily attendance, all of whom evince an increasing interest in their studies. This week his scholars stated from history one hundred and fifty important facts. In the list of names published last week, those of Ella Locke and Ida Slaughter were omitted.

IT is reported that our bosom friend William Byron Torrey, of poetical notoriety, is stumping the County against Senator Wilkinson. But it is a mistake. He has entered into a profitable speculation, and is trying to get the rings off a coon's tail and sell them for opera glasses.

WE understand that about forty dollars have been raised toward procuring books for the M. E. Sabbath School in this place. It is desired to raise the amount to fifty dollars, so that the officers may be able to to purchase a good Library. We hope every friend of the cause will throw in their m—t—e and their m—i—g—t.

CLINTON GRAPES.—Robert Goodyear, Esq., will please accept our thanks for a few bunches of grapes of the above variety, which we find not bad to take. Mr. G. was quite successful in cultivating grapes this year, of not only this, but other choice varieties. He has the vines for sale at his Nursery, a few miles from town.

AN editorial relative to our visit in the southern portion of Fairbault County, containing many items of interest to farmers, about their farms, crops and stock, and our very lengthy report of the County Fair is unavoidably crowded out. We could not curtail it, and do justice to our many subscribers there, and will, therefore, give it in full next week.

REV. J. O. RICH.—The coming presiding elder of this M. E. District, we believe will reflect credit upon the cause in this section, as he is a man of good preaching ability, careful in church discipline, yet thorough and unyielding when in the right. Pleasant and sociable, yet sufficiently reserved in manners, he is certainly refined, and altogether we believe him to be the right man for this work, and will accomplish great good. We welcome you, Elder Rich, and hope success will attend your labors.

A LARGE CLASS.—The second term of Prof. Shaw's writing class is a most prosperous one. He has nearly one hundred scholars. The prize for the young lady who procured the largest number of scholars has not yet been awarded, but will be before our next issue.

Some of the Prof's friends have spoken to us about getting up a third term. We approve the idea, and hope it will be acted upon. A hundred scholars ought to be procured, and we take it upon ourself to give a ten dollar prize to the gentleman or lady who will procure the largest number of scholars for the third term. Who speaks?

REV. THOMAS DAY, the appointed Pastor of this station, is well known to us, and we feel at a loss for words to express our thanks to the Conference for sending him here. We know no man whom we should prefer to him. All who know him say he is a good man. Mild and pleasant in his social relations, zealous in his labors for the cause he has espoused, he is careful, courteous and kind in his treatment of friend or foe. We trust and believe that he will be well received here, and accomplish great and lasting good for the church in Mankato.

MOULTON & WELCH, AT WINNEBAGO CITY.—These gentlemen have determined to fill up their large store with new goods, and Mr. Moulton has gone to Milwaukee to superintend the selecting of their fall stock. We have been acquainted with these gentlemen for a number of years, and we therefore hazard nothing in saying that they are good business men, accommodating to their customers, and place their goods at such reasonable figures that farmers in that locality are satisfied to trade with them. We recommend our numerous readers in that locality to patronize Moulton & Welch.

MRS. POTTS has received her new goods, and we have taken pains to examine her entire stock. It is decidedly the best selected assortment of millinery goods we have ever seen in this market; and the ladies who continually crowd her rooms express their delight at the beautiful head-dresses which are made of the very best material; the latest style of winter bonnets, ribbons, and every variety of millinery goods that the ladies need. Mrs. Potts has displayed most excellent taste in purchasing her fall stock, and we recommend our lady friends in town, and along the Blue Earth Valley, where our paper has a large circulation, to give her their patronage.

Mrs. P. has secured the services of Miss Maggie Laird, of Quincy, Ill., whose experience will be a valuable acquisition.

GOOD FLOUR.—Mr. G. H. Goodnow, of Winnebago City, has sent us a sample of flour, which was made at his mill in that place, by his miller, Mr. G. R. Root, out of spring wheat, raised on the farm of Thomas J. Maxson, of Verona. As we are not keeping house, we left a part of it with Mrs. Sower, of Vernon, than whom a better cook is hard to find; and to-day we are in receipt of a loaf of bread fit to set before a King. The flour was on exhibition at the County Fair in Blue Earth City, and is a superior article. Mr. Goodnow has been running his grist mill for two or three years, and has taken great pains to make flour that will suit his customers. He desires to have his flour generally introduced throughout Southern Minnesota, and we bespeak for him that patronage which a good flouring mill always secures.

A LITTLE CHILD SCALDED TO DEATH.—We have to record the death, by scalding, of a little girl, about five years of age, named Elly, daughter of J. W. Anderson, of Prescott township, Faribault county, It occurred on Saturday, the 19th of September. Mr. Anderson had been boiling Sorghum syrup, and had taken off one pan of molasses; about a gallon of it, boiling hot, he turned into an eight quart pan which he set on the ground to cool. Little Edly was standing near the pan, and as Mr. Anderson's attention was called in another direction, it stepped backwards and fell square into it, the syrup, hissing hot, eating its way into the flesh. The father, hearing its pitiful cry, sprang instantly and rescued it. It was found to be horribly burned from above its kidneys, down below its hips, and suffered the most excruciating pain It lived nearly thirty hours, and during that time was continually thrown into spasms. We sympathize with the afflicted parents in this untimely loss of so promising a little child.

O Death, tis ever thus with thee,
To choose the sweetest flower.
To take the one we loved the most,
In an unexpected hour.

THE GENESEE FARMER.—The October number of the Genesee Farmer is received. It contains, as usual, a large amount of interesting and useful reading to every one interested in the cultivation of a farm or garden. There is a full report of the agricultural discussions at the late New York State Fair at Utica; also a description of the wheat exhibited at the Great International Wheat Show held at Rochester, N. Y., September 8, 9 and 10. Some of the wheat weighed 65 pounds per bushel. The address delivered before the Society by Mr. HARRIS, Editor of the Genesee Farmer, on the "Cultivation of Wheat in Western New York," is published in full in this number. Mr. Harris contends that the "Genesee Country," can still hold its own as a wheat growing region. He has no fear of the midge. Every wheat-grower should read this address.

The Genesee Farmer is the oldest agricultural paper in America, and is also one of the best and cheapest. It is a monthly journal of thirty-two pages, filled to overflowing with good things. No farmer can afford to be without it. Price only 75 cents a year, and the publisher offers to send the October, November, and December number of this year free to all who subscribe at this time for next year. Send the seventy-five cents in a letter to Joseph Harris, Editor Genesee Farmer, Rochester, N. Y., and you will get the paper by return mail.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON WRITING.—The committee appointed by Prof. Shaw's Writing Class, to report upon the improvement made by the scholars during the first term, have made the following report and award of prizes:—

PROF A J SHAW:

SIR:—Agreeable to your request, the Committee have the honor to submit to you their report on the specimens of your class, presented them by you for inspection.

Prominent among the branches of our education is that of an easy and elegant style of writing, such as your class are so fast accomplishing.

We are pleased to note the great improvement made by your class generally, in this most useful accomplishment. The improvement made shows the powers of Art and Science combined, and is highly creditable to the power of imitation of your class There are no specimens whose owners need feel that their time and money are not well spent, and when they compare them with future success and accomplishment, they will be sovereign of no realm but insignificance, and possessed by no heart save that of envy. Probably there never has been, in Mankato, an opportunity so favorable for the promotion of this important branch of learning and few classes anywhere have shown the contrast so great, between their first and last specimens of writing.

To those who have not been led step by step, up the hill of science, that your class have been ascending, by daily observation, and taught the way this great goal may be obtained, the progress is much greater than could have been expected, in so short a time.

The committee readily agree that the highest aims of the class are fast being accomplished and that the efforts of their Teacher have been successful.

Premiums awarded as follows:

First. Greatest improvement during the term, Lizzie McMahan

Second best in improvement during term, Oren Thayer.

Best writer in the class, Miss Todd.

All of which is respectfully submitted

J. S. FERGUSON,
Chairman.

A NEW CAVALRY COMPANY.—Our young friend John R. Howard, of Crystal Lake, is engaged in raising a company of Cavalry for the reg't proposed by Gov. Swift. Quite a number have already handed in their names, and signified their willingness to join. He has, ere this, received his commission, and will soon be able to swear them in. We believe there is a Bounty Fund of something over $500, in the Treasury, and it has been thought advisable to have the County Board offer a bounty of twenty-five dollars or more, and thus raise our quota and avoid the draft. Blue Earth has about fifty men to raise, and the offer of a bounty by the county, in addition to that offered by Government, would be an inducement that many would accept. The regiment, we understand, is intended for home service.

Auditor Chapman has handed us the following statement, which shows the condition of our treasury in regard to the Bounty Fund;

Amount of Bounty Tax levied in 1862	$ 4574 73
Amount of Bounty Orders issued	3275 00
Amount of Bounty Orders redeemed to Oct 10, 1863,	2891 60
Amount of Bounty Orders remaining unredeemed	383 40
Cash in Treasury Oct. 10, 1863, (Bounty Fund)	517 23

Mankato Market Reports.

CORRECTED EVERY THURSDAY BY O. WARD.
MANKATO, Oct. 15, 1863.

WHEAT	50c ℔ bushel.
RYE	40c.
BARLEY	50.
OATS	40@50
CORN	35@40c.
HAY	℔ ton, $4@5 00.
TIMOTHY	$2 ℔ bushel.
BEANS	White, ℔ bushel, $1 25.
BUTTER	10@12½c.
LARD	8@9c.
SUGAR	12@13c; 16@20c.
TEA	1 25 @1 50, 1 75
COFFEE	[illegible]c.
RICE	10c ℔ lb.
SALT	4 50 ℔ barrel.
EGGS	10c ℔ doz
CANDLE	Tallow, 15c; Sperm, 30c
MEATS	Beef on foot, 2c. Pork, 5 @6c. Mutton 10@12c. Poultry, 10@12c.
POTATOES	25@40 ℔ bushel.
SIRUP	1 00 ℔ gallon.
WOOD	$2 00 ℔ cord.

MANKATO NURSERY.

THE Proprietor has for sale a choice collection of

Fruit Trees,

Comprising Apple, Pear, Cherry, Plum, and Quince Trees. Also a good assortment of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants, Raspberries, Strawberries, and Pie Plant; together with

ORNAMENTAL TREES

Shrubs, Evergreens, Flowering Plants, &c.

ROB'T GOODYEAR,

Mankato, Sept. 1861.

Flour for Sale.

THE undersigned has FIFTY Barrels of Fine Flour for sale at $3,50 per barrel

7 JOHN N. HALL.

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

***

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,

or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
BLUE EARTH COUNTY. }

MANKATO, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 12th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet been redeemed, I will execute and deliver to the purchasers of said lands at said sale, or their assignees, deeds for the same on and after the 17th day of January, A. D., 1864, unless said lands shall before that time have been redeemed. And notice is also given that the sum set against each description of land in said list is the amount due the purchaser of said land on redemption.

CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.	NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.
Unknown	1	24	28.66	Unknown	1	76	1.48
do	5	24	2.29	do	7	A	3.97
do	9	24	7.45	do	8	A	3.97
J Ady	9	28	13.63	do	9	A	3.97
F C Roosevelt	6	58	2.95	do	10	A	3.97

Willard & Besser's Addition.

Unknown, lot 10, block 19, amount 2.46.

NAME.	DES.	S.	T.	R.	AMT.
R W Lamberton	e hf nw qr and n hf sw qr	7	108	28	22.67
Earl Parthum	sw qr	33	109	29	11. 7
M Garlleger	ne qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	32	109	29
do	[illegible]	32	109	29
Dennis O'Flynn	[illegible]	31	109	29	15.61
Wm P Smith	[illegible]	27	109	29	11.81
T F Anderson	se qr	20	107	28	13.65
H Wright	se qr	8	106	28	15.14
William Gage	sw qr	17	106	28	14.10
Alex Wood	sw qr	1	105	28	13.73
Unknown	[illegible]	1	105	28	41.00
H G Tryon	[illegible]	5	105	28	14.66
H G Tryon	[illegible]	34	105	28	5.62
McMurrie & Com stock	[illegible]			28	7.26
do	[illegible]	12	105	29	10.93
Alex Wood	[illegible]	12	105	29	33.36
Unknown	[illegible]	6	105	27	49.85
A Frazer	[illegible]		105	29	19.28
F Percival	[illegible]	35	109	25	14.23
	[illegible]	32	109	27	23.52

FINKLE & LYON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

THESE Machines make the lock stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do; will Hem, Fell, Gather, Cord, Braid, Bind, &c., and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family, for they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, or even the stoutest harness leather, without changing the feed, needle or tension, or making any adjustment of Machaine whatever!!!

They are simple in construction, and easily understood: and if any part is broken by accident, it is readily replaced.

These are PECULIAR FACTS, and will go far to determine the choice of any intelligent buyer.

PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE, OR SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

N. B.—Local Agents wanted in sections not yet occupied. Address,

FINKLE & LYON, S. M. CO.,
4 No. 538 Broadway, New York.

J. J. SHAUBUT, Agent for Mankato.

Medical Advice free of Charge.

DOCTOR WHITTIER'S Theory, Symptoms, and Treatment of Chronic, Nervous, Urinary and Sexual Diseases, free in sealed letter envelope, for six cents to pre-pay postage. It is a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringment of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposure, and imprudence, in married and single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and should be read by every young person, to keep them off the shoals on which others have been broken in pieces. Amativeness clearly stated to be under the control of judicious treatment, and thereby prevent inclination to one very prolific cause of disease. Nearly every case of disease can be treated without hinderance to business, Medicine sent by mail, secure from observation. Charges moderate; consultations by letter or at the office free; cures guaranteed; Office 67 St. Charles St., between 6th and 7th. P. O. Box 3092. St. Louis Mo. Circular Letter especially for ladies nothing referring to Sexual Diseases for 3 cent postage.

Notice.

AS I have been regularly authorized by F. M. Gunning, surviving partner of the late firm of "Hensley & Gunning," to settle up the business matters of said firm, all persons indebted to them are requested and advised to make immediate payment to me, or, during my temporary absence from town, to C. H. Slocum, editor and proprietor of the UNION. E. P. FREEMAN.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Critical Notices of the Press.

The volumns Bound constitute of themselves a liberary of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world.—N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People: and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts: and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, BY mail, post-paid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eight cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00; Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year $5,00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2,50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2,50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted for postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must BE paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS.
Franklyn Square. New York.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
COUNTY OF BLUE EARTH. }

To WILLIAM THOMAS:

You are hereby notified that a writ of attachment has been issued against you, and your property attached to satisfy the demand of Benjamin McCracken amounting to twenty seven (27.) dollars: Now, unless you shall appear before H. W. Nelson, a justice of the peace in and for said county, at his office in the town of Vernon, on the twenty ninth (29.) day of October A. D. 1863 at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, judgment will be rendered against you, and your property sold to pay the debt.

Dated this 9th day of Sept. A D 1863

BENJ. McCRACKEN,
10-6w* Plaintiff.

☞BEFORE PURCHASING A

Piano or Melodeon,

REMEMBER

W. W. KIMBALL,

142 Lake Street, Chicago. Ill.,

DEALER IN

PIANOS
AND
MELODEONS!

PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake St.
CHICAGO,
DEALER IN
"GOLD PRIZE MEDAL"
PIANOS,
MELODEONS,
SCHOOL ORGANS
AND
Harmoniums

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO'S PIANOS.
J. & C. FISCHLE'S "
G. A. MILLER & CO'S "
WM. P. EMERSON'S "
J. W. VOSE'S "
KURTZMAN & HINZE'S "
GROVESTIEN & CO'S "

And other Boston and New York Manufactures.

☞The reputation of the Pianos of the above manufacturers is a sufficient guarantee of their merit; and every instrument sold by me will be

WARRANTED
in all respects to give
SATISFACTION

MY MELODEONS

are from the best manufacturers, and inferior to none in the market.

Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons.

An Illustrated Catalogue describing every instrument, will be furnished upon application to me by mail, giving the PRICE and STYLES of the instruments.

☞Orders from the country will receive prompt attention Address, before purchasing or looking elsewhere

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.

Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S
SEWING
MACHINES

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN.☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office. F. M. Johnson, Agent.

St. Paul, July 17th, 1863 July17-t

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.
OF

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obedience to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all 'Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune challenges comparison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1.25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1.10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.

One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;

Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,)	$18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,)	35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

JUST PUBLISHED,
The most Fascinating Book of the Season,
ENTITLED

"IN THE TROPICS."

EDITED BY RICH'D B. KIMBALL,
Author of "St. Leger," "Undercurrents of Wall Street," etc.

A bright, sparkling and genial book of residence, travel and adventure in the West Indies; presenting a graphical picture of tropical life, with alluring and picturesque sketches of luxuriant gardens, orange and lime groves, magnificent guava and cocoa-nut trees, mahogany forests, etc.

An elegantly printed and cloth-bound volume. Price, $1,25.

Sold by all booksellers, and sent by mail FREE, on receipt of price by

CARLETON,
Publisher, New York.
413 Broadway, cor Lispenard St.

THE

Mankato Weekly Union,

Published every Friday by

CHARLES H. SLOCUM,

AT

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS

All kinds of

PRINTING

Neatly and cheaply executed

SUCH AS

CARDS,

PROGRAMMES,
BILL-HEADS,
CIRCULARS,

POSTERS.

ETC.,

Having received a supply of

NEW MATERIAL

from the East, am prepared to do

PLAIN AND FANCY WORK

in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

WILLIAM IRVING,
MERCHANT TAILOR
and dealer in
Gentlemens' Furnishing Goods,
MANKATO, MINN

Farmers' Journal.

MANKATO, FRIDAY, OCT. 16, 1863.

Keeping Sheep in the West Pays.

EDS. RURAL NEW YORKER:—As your paper has a large circulation in Wisconsin and other Western States, and as the inquiry is frequently made whether farmers can make it profitable to keep sheep or to buy sheep at present prices to keep in Wisconsin, I send you a report of the success of one of our Dane county farmers, Mr. R. W. Salisbury, with a small flock of sheep that he purchased last September. As he could not find any sheep in his neighborhood for sale, he started towards Illinois, inquiring, and the second day found a flock of four hundred, from which the owner would select twenty ewes and twenty lambs that he would sell for one hundred dollars. After making several propositions they bargained that the owner should select forty of his poorest ewes and thirty of his poorest lambs, and Salisbury might have his choice of twenty ewes and twenty lambs from the seventy for one hundred dollars. The selection was made, and he started home with his little flock of poor sheep and lambs, and you may think that the culls from a flock of 400, all running together in one pasture, were poor enough. On the way home one ewe became sick and died, and when he got home he turned the flock into a pasture, and next morning found that the dogs had been among them and killed two lambs He now had thirty-seven left—19 ewes and 18 lambs. These he yarded every night thereafter, and by giving them good feed and care could perceive that they began to gain, and when winter set in they were looking as though they would live through till spring. They were fed hay once a day, and straw once a day, with about half a bushel of screenings of wheat, oats and buckwheat, equal to about a half bushel of oats daily.

This season, from the nineteen ewes Mr. S. has raised twenty-five lambs, and from the whole flock sheared one hundred and eighty-four pounds, and his sheep are now in as good condition as any flock in the county. The figures will stand thus:

Paid for sheep and expenses in getting them home.	$104.50
Received in wool, 184 lbs, at 62½ cents.	115,00

Leaving eleven dollars and fifty cents and sixty-two sheep and lambs worth $2.50 each as pay for keeping the flock ten months—amounting to one hundred dollars and fifty cents. This will show that even a poor flock of of sheep with good care, will pay in Wisconsin. What farmer in New York would not take a flock of thirty-seven sheep and agree to keep them well for one year for sixty-two better sheep at the end of the year?

Cheap Field Fence.

A good and sufficient field fence can be made with fifteen inches in width of boards or fifty rods of fence to the thousand feet of boards. Set the posts and nail the first board nine inches from the ground; then make the spaces five, six, seven and ten inches, five boards three inches each is fifteen inches; now turn a furrow six inches deep towards the fence on each side This brings the earth within three inches of the bottom board, and adds six inches to the height of the fence, measuring from the bottom of the furrow, and the ditch and bank is very unhandy for animals to get at the fence. This makes a fence four feet ten inches high.

I have several hundred rods of such fence. The first was built five years ago. It has proved perfectly safe and sufficient against cattle that were unruly. It is not racked by the wind like a fence of wider boards. Fourteen feet boards with one post in the middle take a less number of posts, and makes as good fence as twelves.

TOMATO MEAT PIE.

A very delicious dish is the following, which I learned from one of the best housekeepers in the State: Cover the bottom of a pudding dish with bread crums, then make a layer of cold roasted mutton, cut in small pieces, then a layer of tomatoes sliced, then another layer of bread crums, another of meat, another of tomatoes, and then cover with bread crums and bake till the crust is brown. Season with salt and pepper to your taste. It will bear high seasoning. Serve hot and a better relishing dish is not often met with.

Rats in Hen Houses.

Pouring coal tar in their holes taking care to rub plenty of tar on the edges of the holes, succeeds admirably. Should their holes be in that position as to prevent the pouring of the tar, rubbing the sides as I have stated will answer. The rat is naturally a very cleanly little animal, and abhors the offensive and sticky nature of coal tar. Whenever mortar is used coal tar should be mixed with it, which will prevent their nibbling another hole.

A GOOD WAY OF COOKING ONIONS.—It is a good plan to boil onions in milk and water; it diminishes the strong taste of that vegetable. An excellent way of serving up onions, is to chop them after they are boiled, and then put them in a stewpan, with a little milk, butter, salt and pepper, and let them stew about fifteen minutes. This gives them a fine flavor, and they can be served up very hot.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE To BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co's Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co's GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEACHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plows,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cuttery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand: Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Leg and Cable Chains. Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil. Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears all of which will be sold for

CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

Iam Agent for J J Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.
Mankato, April 23rd 1863.

NEW LIVERY
&
Sale Stable.

D H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORSES

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.
☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜
☞Charges moderate.☜
D. H. TYNER.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL POFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DuBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, Pollass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime.

Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato

F. R PRAEL. H. DuBUISSON
Mankato, May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

THE GREAT REBELLION.

BY

J. T. HEADLEY.

A History of the Civil War in the United States. In two volumes.

Sold by subscription, and obtained only through authorized agents The first volume is now ready for distribution.

WHEN YOU WANT

BOOTS

AND SHOES

AT

WHOLESALE

Don't fail to call on us at

Saint Paul,

We have the

LARGEST STOCK IN THE

STATE,

And sell at

LOW PRICES.

WM. J. SMITH & CO.,
12-6m Saint Paul, Minn

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work, is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line All kinds of

REPAIRNG AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices,

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand

Cash paid for green and dry hides.
Mankato, June 26, 1863.

SINGER & CO'S.
Letter "A" Sewing Machine.

WITH ALL ITS IMPROVEMENTS.

Is the best and cheapest and most beautiful of all Sewing Machines. This Machine will sew anything, from the running of a tuck in Tarlton to the making of an Overcoat—anything from Pilot or Beaver Cloth down to the softest Gauze or Gossamer Tissue, and is ever ready to do its work to perfection. It can fell, hem, bind, gather, tuck, quilt, and has capacity for a great variety of ornamental work. This is not the only Machine that can fell, hem, bind, and so forth, but it will do so better than any other Machine. The Letter "A" Family Sewing Machine may be had in a great variety of cabinet cases. The Folding Case, which is now becoming so popular, is, as its name implies, one that can be folded into a box or case, which, when opened makes a beautiful, substantial, and capacious table for the work to rest upon. The cases are of every imaginable design—plain as the wood grew in its native forest, or as elaborately finished as art can make them. The Branch Offices are well supplied with silk, twist thread, needles, oil, etc., of the very best quality,

I. M. SINGER & CO.,
458 Broadway, N. Y.
Milwaukee Office, 17 Marshall House.
D. WILCOX, Agent Mankato, Minn

STATE OF MINNESOTA.

SALE OF SCHOOL LANDS

In accordance with an act entitled "An act to establish the State Land Office, and for other purposes," approved March 10th, 1862, the following parcels or tracts of land will be sold at public auction at the office of the County Treasurer, in the town of Mankato, County of Blue Earth, on Saturday, the twenty-first day of November, 1863, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Lands on which fifteen per cent of the purchase money must be paid down.

Part of Sec.	Sec	Town	Range	App val pr acre	App val of imp.
DANVILLE.
sw¼ sw¼	16	105	25	6 00
se¼ sw¼	16	105	25	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	105	25	5 00
nw¼ ne¼	36	105	25	5 00	25 00
LIME.
ne¼ ne¼	16	109	27	5 00	25 00
SHELBYVILLE.
nw¼ ne¼	16	105	28	9 00
sw¼ ne¼	16	105	28	9 00
sw¼ nw¼	16	105	28	5 00	11 00
sw¼ sw¼	16	105	28	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	105	28	9 00
se¼ se¼	16	105	28	10 00
VERNON.
ne¼ ne¼	16	106	28	5 00	100 00
se¼ ne¼	16	106	28	5 00	50 00
ne¼ nw¼	16	106	28	5 00	30 00
ne¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	25 00
nw¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00
sw¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	230 00
se¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	50 00
WATONWAN.
se¼ se¼	16	107	28	5 00	50 00
ne¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
nw¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
sw¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	107	28	5 00	100 00
JUDSON.
sw¼ ne¼	36	108	28	5 00	40 00
se¼ ne¼	36	108	28	5 00
e½ nw¼	36	108	28	5 00	190 00
ne¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	30 00
nw¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00
sw¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	75 00
se¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	30 00
ne¼ se¼	36	108	28	5 00
nw¼ se¼	36	108	28	5 00	100 00
sw qr se qr	36	108	28	5 00	Imp.
se qr se qr	36	108	28	5 00	125 00
BUTTERNUT VALLEY.
Lot 8, 38.90 ac	16	109	29	5 00
sw qr sw qr	16	109	29	5 00
se qr sw qr	16	109	29	5 00
Lot 9, 46 70 ac	16	109	29	5 00
lot 10, 53.46 ac	16	109	29	5 00
ne qr ne qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr ne qr	36	109	29	6 00
sw qr ne qr	36	109	29	6 00
se qr ne qr	36	109	29	7 00
ne qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00	30 00
sw qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00	40 00
se qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00
ne qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00	8 00
sw qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00
se qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00	100 00
nw qr se qr	36	109	29	5 00
sw qr se qr	36	109	29	6 00

The balance of the purchase money is payable at any time within twenty years, at the option of the purchaser, if interest at seven per cent, per annum is annually paid in advance.

Interest to the first day of June, 1861, must be paid at the time of the purchase

Persons purchasing lands upon which other parties have made improvements, will be required to pay the owner of the same the appraised value of the improvements, one half to be paid at the time of the sale, and the balance within six months thereafter, with interest at seven per cent per annum.

In case the person occupying or improving the land has damaged the same, the appraised amount of damage will be deducted from his improvements, and when the occupant is the purchaser, the damage will be added to the price of the land

No lands will be sold for less than the appraised value.

Purchase money payable in specie and legal tender notes

CHAS McILRATH
Com of State Land Office.

NEW DRUG STORE!

DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS
SOAPS, PERFUMERY,
AND
FANCY GOODS

PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax,

Stationery,

BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE.

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions accurely put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the

New Drug Store,

JASON WICKERSHAM.
5 Mankato, Minn

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage executed by Cyrus Foot and Minerva Foot his wife, then of Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, to Ralph A. Loveland, then of Westport, Essex County, New York, dated the 16th day of June, A D., 1858, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Blue Earth, on the 18th day of June, A D. 1858, in book "B" of mortgages, on page 387, which said mortgage was given to secure the payment of the sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2350 00), and interest according to the conditions of four certain promissory notes made by said Cyrus Foot to said Loveland or order, three for six hundred dollars each, payable respectively on the first days of June in the years 1860 1861 and 1863, and the other for five hundred and fifty dollars payable on the first day of June, 1862, and drawing interest from date until paid at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable annually on the first days of June each and every year, and all bearing even date with said mortgage, and upon which promissory notes and mortgage there is now claimed to be due, and is at the date of this notice, actually due and unpaid, the said sum of twenty-three hundred and fifty dollars ($2,350 00) and interest thereon from and after the said 16th day of June, 1858, at the rate of seven per cent per annum; and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt so secured by said promissory notes and mortgage, nor any part thereof, and no part thereof has been collected or paid

Therefore, by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained, and in conformity with the statutes in such case made and provided, the lands and premises described in and covered by said mortgage, to wit: The north-west quarter of section number (27) twenty-seven in township number (107) one hundred and seven, north of range number (28) twenty-eight west, according to the governmental survey and subdivisions of the same, and containing one hundred and sixty acres of land be the same more or less, together with all the appur-

---

Flour for Sale.

THE undersigned has FIFTY Barrels of Fine Flour for sale at $3,50 per barrel
7 JOHN N. HALL.

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

——

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps. Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,

or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
BLUE EARTH COUNTY. }
MANKATO, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 12th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet been redeemed, I will execute and deliver to the purchasers of said lands at said sale, or their assignees, deeds for the same on and after the 17th day of January, A. D., 1864, unless said lands shall before that time have been redeemed. And notice is also given that the sum set against each description of land in said list is the amount due the purchaser of said land on redemption.

CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME	LT	B'K	AM'T.	NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.
Unknown	1	21	28.66	Unknown	1	76	1.45
do	5	24	2 29	do	7	A	3.97
do	9	24	7 45	do	8	A	3.97
J Ady	9	28	13.53	do	9	A	3 97
F C Roosevelt	6	58	2 96	do	10	A	3.97

Willard & Besser's Addition.

Unknown, lot 10, block 19, amount 2.66.

NAME.	DES.	S.	T.	R.	AM'T.
H W Lamberton	e hf nw qr and n hf sw qr	7	108	28	12.65
Earl Partham	sw qr	33	109	29	14.7
M Gallagher	ne qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	32	109	29
do	se hf se qr	31	109	29	15.91
Dennis O'Flynn	se qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	27	109	29	11.81
Wm P Smith	s hf ne qr and ne qr se qr and lot 2	2	107	28	13.85
T F Anderson	se qr	20	107	28	15.14
H Wright	se qr	8	106	28	14.10
William Gage	sw qr	17	106	28	13.73
Alex Wood	ne qr	1	105	28	41.01
Unknown	sw qr except 15 ac redeem'd	5	105	28	14.66
H G Tryon	se qr nw qr	5	105	28	5.62
H G Tryon	ne qr nw qr	34	105	28	7.26
McMurtrie & Comstock	n hf sw qr	12	105	29	10.9[illegible]
do	e hf sw qr and w hf se qr except 25 ac redeemed	12	105	29	33.33
Alex Wood	nw qr	6	105	27	49.87
Unknown	nw qr	9	108	25	19.28
A Frazer	n hf ne qr and ne qr nw qr	35	109	25	14.33
F Percival	se qr sw qr	32	109	26	23.52

FINKLE & LYON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

THESE Machines make the lock stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop stitch Machines do; will Hem, Fell, Gather, Cord, Braid, Bind, &c., and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family, for they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, or even the stoutest harness leather, without changing the feed, needle or tension, or making any adjustment of Machine whatever!!!

They are simple in construction, and easily understood; and if any part is broken by accident, it is readily replaced.

These are PECULIAR FACTS, and will go far to determine the choice of any intelligent buyer.

PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE, OR SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

N. B.—Local Agents wanted in sections not yet occupied. Address,

FINKLE & LYON, S. M. CO.,
4 No 538 Broadway, New York
J J SHAUBUT, Agent for Mankato

Medical Advice free of Charge.

DOCTOR WHITTIER'S Theory, Symptoms and Treatment of Chronic, Nervous, Urinary and Sexual Diseases, free in sealed letter envelope, for six cents to prepay postage. It is a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringement of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposure, and imprudence, in married and single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and should be read by every young person, to keep them off the shoals on which others have been broken in pieces Amativeness clearly stated to be under the control of judicious treatment, and thereby prevent inclination to one very prolific cause of of disease Nearly every case of disease can be treated without hindrance to business, Medicine sent by mail, secure from observation. Charges moderate; consultations by letter or at the office free; cures guaranteed; Office 67 St. Charles St, between 6th and 7th. P O Box 3092. St Louis Mo. Circular Letter especially for ladies nothing referring to Sexual Diseases for 3, cent postage.

Notice.

AS I have been regularly authorized by F. M Gunning, surviving partner of the late firm of "Hensley & Gunning" to settle up the business matters of said firm, all persons indebted to them are requested and advised to make immediate payment to me, or, during my temporary absence from town, to C. H. Slocum, editor and proprietor of the Union. B. P. FREEMAN.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World.

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Critical Notices of the Press.

The volumns Bound constitute of themselves a liberary of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice —Boston Courier

The most popular Monthly in the world. —N. Y Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People; and the popularity it has acequired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature, —Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, by mail, postpaid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents. Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eight cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00; Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year $5.00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2.50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2.50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each Nett When ordered sent by mail eight cents additional must be remitted for postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must be paid at the office where it is received The postage is thirty six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS
Franklyn Square, New York.

STATE OF MINNESOTA }
COUNTY OF BLUE EARTH }

To WILLIAM THOMAS:

You are hereby notified that a writ of attachment has been issued against you, and your property attached to satisfy the demand of Benjamin McCracken amounting to twenty seven (27.) dollars: Now, unless you shall appear before H W Nelson, a justice of the peace in and for said county, at his office in the town of Vernon, on the twenty ninth (29.) day of October A D 1863 at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, judgment will be rendered against you, and your property sold to pay the debt

Dated this 9th day of Sept. A D 1863.

BENJ. McCRACKEN,
10 6w* Plaintiff

☞BEFORE PURCHASING A

Piano or Melodeon,

REMEMBER

W. W. KIMBALL,

142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.,

DEALER IN

PIANOS
AND MELODEONS!

PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake St.
CHICAGO,
DEALER IN
"GOLD PRIZE MEDAL"
PIANOS,
MELODEONS,
SCHOOL ORGANS
AND
Harmoniums

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO'S PIANOS
J & C FISCHER'S "
G. A MILLER & CO'S "
WM P EMERSON'S "
J W VOSE'S "
KURTZMAN & HINZE'S "
GROVESTEIN & CO'S "

And other Boston and New York Manufactures.

Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons
Melodeons

☞The reputation of the Pianos of the above manufacturers is a sufficient guarantee of their merit; and every instrument sold by me will be

WARRANTED

in all respects to give

SATISFACTION

MY MELODEONS

are from the best manufacturers, and inferior to none in the mark t.

An Illustrated Catalogue describing every instrument, will be furnished upon application to me by mail, giving the PRICE and STYLES of the instruments

☞Orders from the country will receive prompt attention

Address before purchasing or looking elsewhere

W. W. KIMBALL.
142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.

Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M.
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the Wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office

F. M. Johnson, Agent.
St Paul, July 17th, 1863 July17-t

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.

OF

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obedience to the Constitution and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all 'Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune challenges comparison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE:

Single Subscribers, in advance,	$1 50
Three copies, rate of $1 33,	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1 25,	6 00
Ten copies (rate of $1 10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.

One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;
Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,)	$18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,)	35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

JUST PUBLISHED,

The most Fascinating Book of the Season,

ENTITLED

"IN THE TROPICS."

EDITED BY RICH'D B. KIMBALL,

Author of "St Leger," "Undercurrents of Wall Street," etc.

A bright, sparkling and genial book of residence, travel and adventure in the West Indies; presenting a graphical picture of tropical life, with alluring and picturesque sketches of luxuriant gardens, orange and lime groves, magnificent guava and cocoanut trees, mahogany forests, etc.

An elegantly printed and cloth-bound volume Price, $1.25

Sold by all booksellers, and sent by mail FREE, on receipt of price by

CARLETON,
Publisher, New York.
413 Broadway, cor Lispenard St.

THE

Mankato Weekly Union,

Published every Friday by

CHARLES H. SLOCUM.

AT

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of

PRINTING

Neatly and cheaply executed

SUCH AS

CARDS,
PROGRAMMES,
BILL-HEADS,
CIRCULARS,
POSTERS.
ETC.,

Having received a supply of

NEW MATERIAL

from the East, am prepared to do PLAIN AND FANCY WORK in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

The Mankato Weekly Union.

CHARLES H. SLOCUM, "LIBERTY AND UNION, NOW AND FOREVER, ONE AND INSEPARABLE." Editor and Proprietor.

VOLUME 1. MANKATO, BLUE EARTH COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 23, 1863. NUMBER 15.

THE WEEKLY UNION,

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

CHARLES H. SLOCUM.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One Dollar and Fifty Cents per Year.

☞ All subscriptions paid in advance. ☜

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

1 square	1 week	$1 00	2 squares	6 months	9 00
1 "	2 weeks	1 50	2 "	1 year	15 00
1 "	3 "	1 75	3 "	1 week	2 25
1 "	4 "	2 00	3 "	2 "	3 00
1 "	5 "	2 25	3 "	3 "	4 00
1 "	6 "	2 50	3 "	4 "	5 00
1 "	7 "	2 75	3 "	3 months	9 00
1 "	2 months	3 00	3 "	6 "	12 00
1 "	3 "	3 75	3 "	1 year	20 00
1 "	4 "	4 50	¼ col	6 months	15 00
1 "	5 "	5 25	¼ "	1 year	25 00
1 "	6 "	6 00	⅓ "	6 months	18 00
1 "	1 year	10 00	⅓ "	1 year	30 00
2 "	1 week	1 75	½ "	6 months	25 00
2 "	2 "	2 50	½ "	1 year	40 00
2 "	3 "	3 00	¾ "	1 year	50 00
2 "	4 "	4 00	1 "	1 year	70 00
2 "	3 months	6 00

Business cards of five lines or less, $5.

Transient advertisements must be paid in advance—all others quarterly.

BUSINESS CARDS.

EVERETT P. FREEMAN,
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW,

OFFICE.—Next door south of the Post Office, MANKATO, - - - - - MINN.

Prompt attention given to claims to be prosecuted before the State Board of Auditors, and to Court and Office business. Collections made and conveyancing done on reasonable tesmr

MANKATO INS. AGENCY.

HARTFORD.

PHOENIX.

MERCHANTS—FIRE INS. CO'S.

CHARTER OAK LIFE INS. CO.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid by.

JOHN N. HALL,
Resident Agent.

O. P. LIEBERG,

FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER.—Having opened a Barber Shop with a view to establishing a permanent business in Mankato, I am prepared to wait upon gentlemen, and will guarantee satisfaction in every department of my business.

June 26, 1863.

G. A. STURGES, M. D.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
MANKATO, MINN.

OFFICE:—At his residence second door above the Mankato House.

Z. PADDOCK,

Attorney and Counselor at Law, and General Land Agent. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to him. Mankato, Blue Earth Co., Minn.

FRED'K HILDEBRANDT,

Manufacturer of and Deale in all kinds of
FURNITURE & GILT MOULDING,
ALSO,
Imitation of Rosewood Mouldings, Ovals,
Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames.

Ware Rooms in Schurmeier's Block, Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minn.

M. ZENOPOLSKI, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.

OFFICE:—Opposite the Clifton House.

DAVID WILCOX.
JUDGE OF PROBATE,
& ATT'Y AT LAW,
MANKATO - - - - - - MINN.

WM. R. McMAHAN, M. D.

Office and Residence old at his stand, on the corner of Hickory and Second streets, one Block back of the Mankato House, where he will be found at all times, except when professionally absent.

He will furnish and compound his own medicines.

EDWARD OGLESBY,

Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hawley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work in his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October,

S. FINCH, O. O. PITCHER.
FINCH & PITCHER,
Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,
MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA.

MANKATO NURSERY.

THE Proprietorhas for sale a choice collection of

Fruit Trees,

Comprising Apple, Pear, Cherry, Plum, and Quince Trees. Also a good assortment of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants, Rasp berries, Strawberries, and Pie Plant; together with

ORNAMENTAL TREES

Shrubs, Evergreens, Flowering Plants, &c.

ROB'T GOODYEAR,

Mankato, Sept. 1861.

FAIRBANKS'
STANDARD
SCALES,
OF ALL KINDS.
FAIRBANKS, GREENLEAF & CO.,
172 LAKE STREET, CHICAGO.
☞ BUY ONLY THE GENUINE.

SOUTH BEND MILLS.

BIERBAUER & ROCKEY,

HAVING purchased the above mills, are prepared to manufacture all grades of FLOUR, CORN MEAL, ETC.

Wheat will be ground for every sixth bushel in quantities not less than ten bushels.

☞ Flour and mill stuffs always on hand at market prices. Feb 6-3m

Poetry.

The Editor's Wooing.

We love thee, Ann Maria Smith,
And in thy condecension,
We see a future full of joys,
Too numerous to mention.

There's Cupid's arrow in thy glance,
That, by thy love's coertion,
Has reached our melting heart,
And asked for one insertion.

With joy we feel this blissful smart,
And ere our passions ranges,
We freely place your love upon
The list of our exchanges.

There's music in thy lowest tone,
And silver in thy laughter;
And truth—but we will give the full Particulars hereafter.

Oh! we would tell thee of our plans,
All obstacles to scatter;
But we are full just now, and have
A press of other matter.

Then let us marry, Queen of Smiths,
Without more hesitation;
The very thought doth give our blood
A larger circulation.

THE SOLDIER'S WIFE.

BY MRS. HARRIET E. FRANCIS.

"Oh dear, dear! I never can consent to it—why do you urge?" and the speaker's slight form shook with the sobs that it could no longer be surpressed.

"But think how much I am needed? Strong of muscles and light of limb, with heart eager to help my country. For your sake and the children's I have battled with the desire so long; but my dreams almost craze me, taunting me with supineness when fathers and husbands on all sides are fighting for the right. You know my waking hours are one heart-struggle. Just see how thin I am growing, and my hair is even turning gray."

"You say you love me and the children, and yet you fret so to leave us. I have no father or mother, Ernest—only you to look to; don't ask me to consent."

"I must go, Fannie; and yet God alone knows how I love you and the darling." And the strong man paused in his excited walk, and dropped on his knee by the crib, where two little curly heads were nestling, and resting his cheek on their chubby arms, and sobbed aloud.

"Don't, Ernest, don't! I never will doubt you again; and yet it has sometimes almost maddened me, the thought that you loved your country better than your wife and family."

"How can I love you and not your country? The land that has given you what you have, and made you what you are. Intelligent, no cringing servility, erect form, and open countenance—all gifts of the happy home that holds no spies to fetter freedom, or titled lords to exact servitude. I must fight for it, Fannie. Something impels me that I can no longer resist. Cannot you be heroic and say—'Go,' and take the clogging weight from my arms? You shall have all the meed, for you will bear the suffering—the long, wakeful vigils, and anxious days, full of suspense. It will be a weary journey; but the intense joy of meeting at the close; try to think of that!"

"if you should die on the battle-field, or in the hospital?"

"i think I have heard my Fannie talk of eternity—of bliss in Heaven! We will try to meet there. It will be but a few years, at most."

There was at this time a louder call than ever for volunteers. Our thinned forces were wavering on the Potomac, and the Western frontier was full of strife. Men, more men, was the urgent call from all sides, and Ernest Lester did what he could—answered with his name. There was no time for a lingering death of parting. The company came into town one night; he volunteered, and left next morning. Fannie—at last, heroic Fannie, choked back the tears from sight, clasped his neck in one long, loving embrace, gave him a smile to remember her by as she said, "good-bye," watched the road with a brave countenance as long as the last folds of the glorious flag fluttered in sight, and then nature could sustain no more, and she sank upon the floor, helpless as a corpse.

Days and weeks passed on; the sun smiled, and the flowers nodded, and the birds sung as of old. Baby lisped—"Papa, papa come," and Freddie improvised soldiers' adornments out of old plumes and scarlet bands, and marched up and down the room with imitative martial step, and talked about going to Dixie when he was big, and all was one heart-ache to the poor wife, until she almost envied those that never loved. In her dreams she could hear the shock of battle, see the wounded and dying, and the horses, frantic with fright, rush here and there; and in the thickest of the fight, her husband throwing up his arms, and falling, with a sabre cut on his cheek—the fair cheek she had pressed her lips to a thousand times. The days were not so bad, for she could work; and she blessed God for labor that partially occupied her mind to the exclusion of thought. She canned, and preserved, and dried fruit for the soldiers. She cut out hospital shirts and made them, and knitted socks, and devised elaborate embroidery for baby's dresses, to fill up each niche of time. Letters were her sunshine, though her eyes were for hours after receiving them swollen with tears—sometimes with sympathetic joy, and sometimes sorrow. Joy, when he wrote that their camp was fine and dry, with a good spring at their command, and plenty of rations, and a strong, compact force around, able to repel any attack of the enemy; and sad, when the pages were filled with accounts of wearisome marches, and companions dropping out of the ranks from fatigue, and loving messmates sending home dying messages to wives just as dear as she was to Ernest.

The months had rolled away into more than a year since Ernest Lester enlisted, and he had escaped so far without a wound, and his letters were hopeful and cheery, and spoke so often of their re-union, till at last her mind became embued with the same hope, and her smile lost its touching sadness, and her pulse would throb with joy at times as she pictured his glad return and the sweet happiness of their after lives.

The trees were leafless, and the snow lay heavy upon the ground, when the great heart of the North pulsed as one man, so trembling yet eager for the news expected each hour over the telegraph wires of the great struggle at Murfreesboro. Mothers went about with hushed steps, talking of their soldier-sons, and sisters caught their breaths as the unopened daily paper trembled in their grasp, and maidens thought of their lovers with such an aching heart, that it corrugated their brows like the fiercest pain, and wives sank down with white lips, and prayed—"Father, spare his life," and tried to add—'Not my will, but Thine be done!"

It was the third day; Fannie had just received a letter—a little delayed on the road, so bright and cheering, speaking of the impending struggle, now momentarily expected, with hopefulness—anticipating, as usual, their reunion at the close of the war, and perhaps even a furlough the ensuing summer. It was very quieting, and Mrs. Lester caught up the baby, and gave her a dozen happy kisses for her papa, smoothed her soft curls around her finger, and hushed her to sleep with a low nursery song, then called Freddy to her telling him to watch his sister, while she went for the evening's mail.

The night's paper gave but a meagre account. The hard struggle was over, and we were victorious. The enemy were routed and fleeing. The dying were being buried, and the wounded taken care of as fast as possible. A little further down was a list of the companies engaged, and Fannie's heart gave a bound, then almost stood still, as she saw the name of the regiment her husband belonged to among the number. It was a sleepless night for the anxious wife, and all of her old tantalizing dreams assumed form again, and shape in her lonely watchings, till she closed her eyes to shut out the horror, and tried to deafen her ears, as if her imaginings were something tangible that she could shut out from her hearing. The next day she took up the paper and laid it down three times ere she had courage to examine the list of wounded and dead, till at last, with a prayer for help, she passed her finger along the lines. His name was not there. Harvey Sinclair, Ernest's dearest comrade, was dead, killed by a cannon ball. Poor, poor Lucia! how could she bear up under it? and Fannie's tears fell fast upon the paper as she thought of the stricken one, a wife of only sixteen short months. Lower down was the name of Leonard Smith, the only dependence of his widowed mother. Stalwart of form and generous of heart, sending all his wages home but the merest pittance, to make her old age comfortable. Oh dear, dear! she was so sorry and yet so glad under all, for was not her husband safe?

"A letter for you, Mrs. Lester," said the smiling postmaster, as he reached out the next day the precious missive for her hand—"the first mail from Murfreesboro since the battle came through this afternoon. I hope you will find your husband all right."

Fannie merely smiled a reply, and passed out, so eager was she to reach the seclusion of her room to open the letter; and happy in the possession of it, she drew up her low sewing-chair to the grate, and tore open the envelope. It commenced, "Dear wife," and was written with a pencil on the battle-field, in the intervals of time between the skirmishing. Three pages were covered, and then it abruptly ended, with no signature. She turned to the fourth side, and here a sentence in stranger handwriting glared before her as if printed in letters of blood—

"This man is dead, shot down in the thickest of the fight, making a charge. I write upon and forward this letter, found in his rocket, "S. MAXWELL."

That was all! The poor wife folded the letter mechanically, replaced it in the envelope, and took up her fretting baby, and soothed it to sleep. Not a sigh, not a tear, only stony grief. Sympathizing neighbors, who had learned the sorrows from their own letters, poured in. She did not wring her hands. Pale, with lustreless eyes, she gazed as if in a dream, till strong, rough men, wiped away their tears upon their sleeve, and tender-hearted women sobbed aloud.

"Let me see her—poor, poor Fannie!" and the group opened and stepped aside as Lucia Sinclair burst into the room, and threw her arms around the neck of the stricken wife, and knelt by her side. "He was my all, Fannie—dear, good Harvey, and I thought I should die; but God comforted me. He opened before my eyes a glimpse of Heaven, and He has given me patience to wait and meet him there. Let us pray to our Father, dear one!" And the girlish lips poured out a prayer like inspiration. Before its close Fannie's head sunk upon her comforter's neck, and her tears gushed forth like rain. With instinctive delicacy the friends passed out, and left the two mourners together with their sorrow and their God.

Four months have passed since then. Fannie Lester, with chastened look and a sweet, sad smile, passes in and out among her neighbors, and does her household tasks willingly, like a traveler, who neglects nothing by the way, yet always has her eye fixed upon the goal in the distance. His children were priceless jewels, that must be polished and circled in precious setting for the home of her Father is preparing for them; and when her heart wearies and her hand faints by the way, she has but to turn to Him who is a refuge and strength—a very present help in time of trouble.

The Defective Title.

"I have made my last payment for my farm," said Mr. Henderson, "We shall not be obliged to practice so rigid an economy as has been necessary heretofore."

"I am thankful that it is paid for at last," said his wife. "We have been a long time in debt. We shall soon be too old to enjoy it."

It was true they had been in debt a long time. It was nearly twenty-five years since the farm was purchased. A few hundred dollars was all they had to begin with. The farm now paid for was worth some six thousand dollars.

Not quite a year had passed when a stranger called at the house. He was a relation of a former landed proprietor in that region. He laid claim to several hundred acres of land by virtue of a title derived from said proprietor. The farm of Mr. Henderson fell wholly within that claim.

Mr. Henderson produced his deed. The stranger pointed out the defects, and set the matter in so clear a light that there was scarce a shadow of doubt on the mind of Mr. Henderson that his title was worthless, and that years of labor and self-denial had been lost. The stranger advised him to consult a lawyer, and furnished him with copies of the documents on which his claim rested.

Mr. Henderson took the papers and went the next day to the most eminent lawyer at the county seat. A brief examination of the papers convinced him that his client had no title to the farm for which he had toiled so hard. He told him he was at the mercy of the claimant, and must make the best terms with him he could.

The claimant was a Christian, and was willing to allow the full value of all the improvements made by Mr. Henderson, and deduct still further the entire cost of litigation which would have been necessary had the occupant resisted his claim. A compromise was effected by which Mr. Henderson retained the farm, with a good title.

Mr. Henderson had lived many years without the slightest suspicion that his title to his farm was defective. And so many professing Christians live for years without the slightest suspicion that their title to heaven is defective. There are defective titles to heaven as well as to farms. And men ought to look well to their titles. Had Mr. Henderson looked to the matter earlier he would have avoided the risk he ran, and the loss he incurred. And so men may avoid the risk and the loss of heaven by a timely examination of their titles. There will be no compromise made at the day of judgment. He whose title is found defective must suffer eternal loss.

◆

CHEAP AND GOOD PREPARED GLUE.—Contributed to the Agriculturist by "L." St. Louis, Mo. Dissolves common glue in cider vinegar, as thick as may be wanted. As it becomes too thick from time to time, add vinegar. This is as good as any that can be purchased.

"He'll be Better."

'He'll be better, mother; Willie'll be better,' pleaded little Susy.

'What makes you think so, darling?' asked her mother.

'I'm sure he will; God will help him, mother; I am sure he will,' and a bright smile of hope and love glowed on Susy's lips, although tears were in her eyes. She clasped her hands tightly together and raised herself on tiptoe in her deep earnestness of feeling as she repeated, 'Willie'll be bteter.' She was pleading for a playmate who had struck her.

Willie was selfish and unkind, and often hurt her when they played together, and yet she was always ready to play with and always treated him kindly and generously. She gave him the best and handsomest apples, the largest share of her candy, and the choice of her nicest playthings to play with. Willie could not help liking such a dear little girl, and yet he would hurt her so that she would cry from pain and sorrow.

Sometimes her mother forbade her playing with him, and then she would tearfully ask, 'Who can he play with, mother?'

'He can play with boys like himself.'

'Then he'll be worse; he'll be worse; and how can he ever get good?' she would exclaim in her distress.

'I don't know,' her mother would answer; 'but Willie is a bad boy, and perhaps he will make you bad.'

'God won't let him; God takes care of me,' the little one would say in beautiful trust. At one time, when her mother expressed her fear of Willie's influence over her she slowly shook her little head as she said, 'I a'n't afraid; good is better than bad and I don't want to be bad. Willie'll be better, mother. God will make him better.' When she had to tell him that she could not play with him, she would try to make him promise he would be better. 'You will be better, won't you Willie?' she would keep saying till she had won from him a reluctant nod, which she accepted as a yes. When he had been playing more kindly and gently than usual, she would take his hand in hers, and whisper softly, 'A'n't you better, Willie?' Willie would blush and look ashamed, but Susy's love and trust in him were helping him to be better all the time.

Susy grew very sick indeed, so that she could not play, nor even lift her head from her pillow, but she wanted to see Willie. Her mother tried to pursuade that it was not best; but Susy seemed so desirous to see him, that her mother sent for him. When he came, Susy wanted him to stand as close to her as he could. Her mother could just hear her whisper, 'If I die will you be better, Willie? I'm sick, and if I die will you be better?'

Willie could not speak, but he choked, and his chin quivered, and he nodded a yes.

'And when you are better, you will make somebody else better, won't you Willie?' said the dying child.

Willie nodded again, and this time he could not keep back a great sob.

'I want to kiss you, Willie. I thought you'd be better.' She put her lips to Willie's cheek for the last time as he stooped over her.

Susy died, but Willie can never forget her beautiful life. Many a time when he wants to do wrong, he hears the sweet voice of the angel-child asking him to promise to be better, and he is better as he listens to it.—American Messenger.

A Wonderful Experiment—Photograph of a Murdered Man's Eye.

A Mr. Herke and his two children were recently murdered in German township, Indiana, and the Evansville Journal says an attempt has been made to find a clue to the murderer by means of a photograph, with partial success. Here is the extraordinary statement which it makes:

'We believe it is one of Mrs. Southworth's stories in the New York Ledger, that represents a murderer as being convicted by a photograph of his victim's eyes, upon which was pictured the features of the assassin. Similar experiments, we are informed, have been made in France with great success, and mysterious murders unraveled through the instrumentality of Dagnerre's wonderful art. Notwithstanding we have heard of these strange things, we were still under the impression that 'dead men tell no tales,' until a recent experiment has shaken our faith, and almost convinced us that, though dead, men may yet speak.

On Sunday forenoon, Mr. Adams, a photographist of this city, at the solicitation of some gentlemen who read of similar experiments in France took his instruments and visited the scene of the late murder in German township. This was some thirty hours after the murdered man breathed his last. There was a great deal of dust flying and a great crowd collected, which materially interfered with the experiment, but notwithstanding these unfavorable circumstances, Mr. Adams succeeded in taking a tolerably fair 'negative.' Upon this he has been experimenting, and yesterday we were called to witness the result of his experiments.

He had taken an ambrotype picture of the eye of the deceased, and then rubbing out everything but a single object apparently in the center of the eye, this was placed under an ordinary magnifying glass. At the first glance the object appeared blurred and indistinct, but getting the proper focus, the outlines of a human face were at once distinguishable.

The image was apparently the face of a man with unusually prominent cheek bones, long nose and rather broad forehead. A black moustache was plainly seen and also the direction of the eyes, which seemed to be looking at some object sideways. One of the eyes was clearly seen, as the eyes in a common ambrotype or ferotype. Some who examined the image thought the man of which it seemed to be a resemblance had a Roman nose, and also had on a cap.

Mr. Adams is continuing his experiments, but whether he will succeed in making any clearer developments remains to be seen. His labors thus far are abundantly rewarded by the success which has attended his efforts, as it seems to us he has demonstrated that an object was pictured upon the eye of Mr. Herke at the time of his death, and that the object was a human face.

Thoughts about Thinking.

Happy the man or woman who can sit down at the root of a subject and think it out, and with a quiet but decisive shake of the head, and a gentle but firm pressure of the lips can come to a conclusion. All cannot do this. To be sure all can think, but there is a science in thinking as well as in everything else. Everyone can take a rifle and shoot, but it takes the good marksman to hit the target or bring down the bird. In like manner it requires the good thinker to think right, without wasting his thoughts and overtaxing his brain.

Sensitive persons are the deepest thinkers, for they have the most to think about. Their hearts resemble the finest and most delicate gauze; they are susceptible to even the least impression, and they spread out and seem to search for every obstruction—every nail-point of rebuke—every tearing, wounding splinter of insult, and when they find the object of their investigation, they brood, and ponder, and grow dull, until the smart has ceased, or the sharpness destroyed, and then they 'feel out' for something else to give them trouble, and are most content (it seems) when filled with harrowing, pain giving, and sigh-producing thoughts.

To think, and only to think, is a weakness. To be a day-dreamer is often a misfortune. To forget the little word do is almost a crime—yea, this inactivity is the sly author of many a dark deed. But it is the grand difficulty with those who think too much; they forget or neglect to act, and fail to discharge the duties devolving upon them. You may pile on the fuel, and raise the steam in the engine, but unless you adjust the belting, and apply the power, you will be wasting time. So to think without acting is folly, just as it is madness to act without thinking at all.

I have seen great clouds come sweeping along, promising rain when the parched earth is begging for it; but they have passed over without sending down one drop. So it is with some great thoughts; they swell the bosom with grandeur for a time, but away they go, and the atmosphere of the heart is not even purified; on the contrary the heart is perplexed and its purity impaired by producing thoughts—good thoughts which produce nothing in their turn.

There are little trifling thoughts, and feelings, and emotions, which gently pass through the heart, like send-clouds across the summer sky, which accomplish nothing of account, yet they were never intended so to do; they serve to beautify and bedeck, and then their mission is ended; but these great life-thoughts—thoughts of doing good to others—thoughts serving God—noble intentions—act them out. Whatever be the subject, come to some conclusion, and much precious time will be saved.

If the thoughts be new and original, seize the pen—write them out, and let the world enjoy them. If pondering over some old and troubulous matter, let us say, 'Thus will I do—it is all I can do, and God will do the rest. Let us remember that night is the time for dreaming, and that the sun should shine upon a world of workers.

To act without thinking is dangerous, but to think all the time without acting is a weakness which God cannot approve.

◆

LOCAL COUNTY NEWSPAPERS.—The Washington Chronicle says very truly:

'In the contest of the friends of the Government with its enemies, there is no one thing that should be kept more steadily in view than the encouragement of loyal country newspapers. They are the source of honest public opinion. They do more service, and endure more losses in their respective spheres than their more ostentatious and pretentious daily contemporaries.'

This ought to be more generally understood than it is, and in many localities no better service could be done the country by the real friends of the Government than to increase the circulation of sound and loyal, local papers.

Music of the Bells.

We recollect to have seen one of the most interesting legends connected with bells, which we ever met, in the Dublin Penny Journal, for the year 1842. It told of a chime of bells which were manufactured by a young Italian who labored incessantly for many years. They were so sweet to him that his chief delight was in listening to them. They were in fact the charm and pride of his life. He was however, induced by ced by the friar of a neighboring convent to part with them. With the profits of their sale he purchased for himself a little villa, where he could hear his bells from the high cliff on which the convent stood. Their music was quite necessary to his happiness. His days passed cheerfully on, surrounded by the objects of his love, and within hearing of his precious bells.

But the time of trouble came, and he lost everything. He was alone in the wide world, bereft of family, friends and home. The convent, too, was destroyed, and the bells which he loved so well, taken to another country. For years he wandered from land to land, seeking for the place to which they were removed. He was a powerful old man when he sailed up the Shannon. The vessel in which he was a passenger anchored in Limeric harbor. He hired a boat in which to land. It was an evening so lovely that he might have fancied himself in his native land. The water was clear as glass, and the boat glided swiftly on; the city was near, and as the Itallian sat in the stern, his eyes were fondly fixed upon it. Suddenly, amid the stillness of the hour, a peal burst forth upon the air from the cathedral bells. The Italian leaned back and crossed his arms upon his breast. The well remembered, fondly loved chime was heard once more. He closed his eyes, the the boatmen landed him, but he was dead.—Sharp's Magazine.

◆

GROWTH OF BOSTON.—The following is an extract of a letter in the St. Louis Repbilcan:

"Boston is growing fast, notwithstanding the war, and in nothing is shown more plainly than in the number of public buildings now in process of erection. We are building a new City Hall—having torn down the old—which will be finest edifice of the kind in the country. It is to be entirely of granite, and will cost very nearly a half million of dollars. A free city hospital is also being erected, which will cost at least a quarter of million. It is a large building, having four separate wings for different forms of disease, and will combine all the modern improvements which can add to the comforts of patients, and will be open to all without charge. On the Back Bay lands the Natural History Society has erected a fine building for their occupancy, at a cost of over $100,000, and near by a similar building will be erected for the use of the Institute of Technology, which is, I believe, essentially a Yankee institution, and designated to afford to all opportunities for becoming practically acquainted with the science of mechanics and the operation of machinery of all descriptions. An 'Institution of the Fine Art,' on a similar plan, is also contemplated, and there are one or two school houses being built, at a cost of from $30,000 to $50,000 each."

Convincing Proof.

Joe Rowe, who is an incredulous dog, was listening to a wonderful story told by Old Brown in which his daughter Mary bore a conspicuous part. Joe looked wise and doubtful.

'If you don't believe it, you may go to the house and ask Mary, and take it from her own lips.'

Joe took him at his word; the old man followed on to see the result, and found Joe kissing Mary very sweetly.

'What on earth are you about?'

'O, taking that awful tough story from her own lips—but I'm satisfied now.'

And so was Mary.

◆

IDEAS are customers; you must wait on them as soon as they come, or they will be gone to your rival, who will. However we may differ concerning the fugitive slave bill, let us be unanimous for a fugitive thought bill. Hurrah for a bill to detect, apprehend, and hold in custody runaway thoughts. Seize thou the fugitives, and chain them in a coffle.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

The Weekly Union.

Mankato, Friday, Oct. 23, 1863.

Republican Union Ticket.

For Governor,
STEPHEN MILLER.
For Lieutenant Governor,
CHARLES D. SHERWOOD.
For Secretary of State,
DAVID BLAKELY.
For Auditor of State,
CHARLES McILRATH,
For State Treasurer,
CHARLES SCHEFFER.
For Attorney General,
GORDON E. COLE,
For Clerk of the Supreme Court,
GEORGE F. POTTER.

17th LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT.

For State Senator,
B. Y. COFFIN.
For Representatives,
WILLIAM RUSSELL,
J. A. PHELPS,
FREEMAN TALBOT,

COUNTY TICKET.

For Sheriff,
ELIJAH MIDDLEBROOK.
For Register of Deeds,
BENJAMIN F. SMITH,
For Treasurer,
A. T. LINDHOLM.
For Judge of Probate
DAVID WILCOX
For County Surveyor.
WILLIAM L. COON.
For Coroner,
T. T. PEIRCE,
For County Commissioners,
1st Dist.—H. ROBERTSON,
2d Dist.—L. G. M. FLETCHER,
3d Dist.—JOHN I. JONES,

Republican Union Platform.

Resolved, that we, chosen to represent in convention the unconditional Union men of Minnesota, grateful to Almighty God for the success which has hitherto crowned the arms of our country and for the prospect thus opened of a speedy, honorable and lasting peace, do hereby, for our friends and constituents, re-affirm our determination to support our Government by every means in our power in the vigorous prosecution of this present war,—on our part, holy, just, and forced upon us by the criminal acts of others,—until not an enemy in arms shall be found within our borders. And to this we pledge our lives our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

2. That we tender our grateful thanks to the survivors of our glorious armies, and our warm sympathy to the relatives of their gallant dead, who have won for the country so glorious victories, for themselves imperishable renown, and for us all an assurance of liberty and safety for our children, under our beloved and now well-tried Government.

3. That with especial pride we point to the gallant achievements on many a hard-fought battlefield, of our Minnesota regiments. Their bravery, discipline, and patriotism have won for them a name that shall never die, and made it forever honorable to be a citizen of Minnesota.

4. That, without claiming for it exemption from error, we heartily endorse the general policy and conduct of our National Administration; and we point to the recent magnificent triumph of our arms as its best vindication from the charges of [illegible] so freely brought against it by those who prefer national ruin, to success under the present Administration. Especially do we approve the emancipation proclamation, and the arming of black troops as being among the best possible measures to weaken the enemy and strengthen ourselves.

5. That our State Administration, and our Congressional Delegation deserve our hearty approbation for the zealous and efficient cooperation they have afforded the National Authorities in carrying on the war.

6. That we call upon those in authority to take such measures, by retaliation or otherwise, as will effectually prevent brutal and barbarous treatment by the enemy of our soldiers, of whatever color.

7. That it is due to our shattered armies in the field, as well as to the sacred cause which they uphold, that their ranks should as speedily as possible be filled up by every means in our power. It is due to the country that the mobs raised to resist and prevent the draft, should not seem to have succeeded a day longer than is necessary to enforce the laws.

8. That the way to peace is and ever has been open to the rebels; the only condition we have ever sought to impose, is that they should lay down their arms and submit to the authority of the General Government. We protest against the making of any terms with them in advance as to their status as communities, when they shall have returned to their allegiance. Having been declared "public enemies" by a recent unanimous decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, they must accept the consequences [illegible] from having placed themselves in that position.

Republican Union Convention, for the 20th Senatorial District.

There will be held at Blue Earth City, Faribault Co, Minn., on Thursday, October 22d, at 2 o'clock P. M., a Republican Union Convention of Delegates, for the 20th Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Brown, Faribault, Martin, Watonwan, Jackson, Nobles, Rock, Pipe Stone, Murray, and Cottonwood, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Representative in the State Legislature, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the said convention. The several counties will be entitled to one delegate for every fifty votes polled therein, at the last general election, and one for any fractional number equal to twenty-five and less than fifty votes.

Counties (if organized,) having polled less than fifty votes will be entitled to one delegate.

Delegates and their substitutes must be residents of the counties which they represent.

The basis of representatian, is the aggregate and highest vote polled at the last preceding general election, held in the several counties,

By order of the District Committee.
J. A. KEISTER,
Chairman.
Blue Earth City, Oct. 10, 1863.

The Prostitution of the Press.

When we purchased the Independent office, and changed the name to the UNION, it was, as it is now, our purpose to avoid all personalities and abuse, and to assail no man further than his public or official acts would justify. Duty, propriety, and decency, alike condemn the practice of employing the columns of a public newspaper to defame the private character of any man, be he a private citizen, or in official position. If the editor of a public journal can, with propriety, become a public slanderer and be sustained in such a course, then indeed may the press of the country be prostituted for the most low and groveling purposes.

It has been our purpose to avoid all personal controversy with the Editor of the Record, and thus far, we think, we have given him no occasion to take exceptions to our course. But he seems determined that we shall not remain on friendly terms with him. His course for the last three weeks has been such as to outrage all sense of decency. He seems to have become utterly regardless of truth in the statements which he publishes from week to week concerning the prominent men of the Republican party in this county, and even the party itself. We deem it our duty, therefore, to defend the Republican party, and its public men in this locality from his attacks.

Every recent issue of that paper contains the most false and malicious charges against Senator Wilkinson, and those who support him are denounced as "his pimps and hirelings—men who have literally sold themselves, body and breeches." We know very well why the Editor pursues this course. There is a Senator to be elected in this district this fall, and the Republicians and Union men are supporting for that office Mr. Coffin, one of the most worthy and popular men in the County. The Editor of the Record is determined to defeat him, if possible, and fearing he may not be able to succeed by fair means, he descends into the filth and mire of personal abuse to accomplish it. We know very well the extent of the hatred which he entertains for our United States Senator, and we also know the cause of that hatred. Mr. Wilkinson caused the personal and political friend of the Editor—Jesse D. Bright, of Indiana—to be expelled from the Senate of the United States for disloyalty. For this he has never forgiven him, and not daring to attack him for this—the real cause of his offending—in this loyal community, he seeks to defame and slander him by the publication of the most gross falsehoods.

But the Record, and those that act with it, will fail. The better portion of his party will not sustain him in such a course. The people know that these attacks upon Mr. Wilkinson are untrue, and that they are instigated by a malicious motive. The people also know that this course is pursued, in part, to procure the election of Mr, Porter to the Senate, and though they may not have any particular objection to him, as a man, still, they will by his election, sustain the course which the Record and its supporters are pursuing to injure the character and standing of Senator Wilkinson. Besides this, the people know that their Senator has been a true and faithful representative of their principles, and that he has labored zealously to protect the interests of this portion of the State.

We are well aware that the Record will resort to any means, no matter how low and vile, to injure his influence but we feel assured that, in this County, and throughout the State, his efforts, will be regarded as the malicious utterances of bitter and malignant enmity.

It has been customary for Congress to appropriate to each new member a certain number of books published by Government for the benefit of some library or literary association within his State. Senator Wilkinson promised, if our citizens would organize a library association, to donate to it and through it for the benefit of the public, all the books, numbering several hundred valuable volumes, to which he would be entitled. An organization was effected, as he desired, and to this day, he has failed to donate even a patent office report to it.—Record.

This, like the other charges against Senator Wilkinson is untrue. It has not been customary for Congress to appropriate to each new member a certain number of books for the benefit of some library or literary institution within his State," and no such appropriation has been made since the Senator entered Congress. We suppose that what the blundering, fault-finding and malicious editor of the Record is driving at is this. Some years ago, before however, Senator Wilkinson took his seat in the Senate, a law was passed by Congress, providing for the distribution of certain books (the books of the Elder Adams and some others) which the Government then had on hand, and it was provided in the act that these books should be distributed only to chartered institutions. On entering the Senate, Mr. Wilkinson found that there were some of those books which had not been distributed under the law, and the distribution of which he might control; but there was not a chartered library or institution of learning in Mankato, and he suggested to some parties here, that if the people would organize a library association, and procure a charter; he would try and secure a set of these books for their benefit. If any such association has been chartered here, we do not know it, and Senator Wilkinson has never been informed of it.

Mr. Wilkinson's Speech

Last Saturday evening City Hall was crowded with ladies and gentlemen to listen to a speech from Mr. Wilkinson. It had been previously announced that he would speak, and, although the night was dark and rainy, there was a very large attendance. He commenced by saying that he should not speak upon the political issues of the day any farther than it might be necessary in order to fully explain what he intended to say. It was well known that when he was elected to the Senate he was regarded by all as a radical Republican. Those who elected him, believed at the time that he would be true to freedom, to his party, and true to the interests of the State. It had been his object not to disappoint them, and although he had, to the best of his ability, discharged the duties imposed upon him, he had been assailed in the most wanton and unprovoked manner by his enemies at home.

He stated that what he was about to say might appear egotistical, and he would not allude to anything personal to himself, were it not for the fact that others than himself were injured by the assaults which were made upon him. The Union party in this County have put in nomination for the State Senate in this district, Mr. B. Y. Coffin, one of the most pure minded and estimable christian gentleman in the State. It has been determined upon that he must be defeated, at all hazards, and to accomplish this result, it is assumed that if elected he will vote for Mr. Wilkinson's re-election to the United States Senate.

The speaker then took up the charges that were made against him in the Record and proved conclusively that they were a tissue of falsehoods, and that they were instigated by hatred and malice. He said he did not care to notice the miserable curs that were snarling at his heels, particularly the personal actions and sayings of the editor of that paper, for they were of no importance; but the publication of slanders in a public journal, no matter what its character, may require some notice.

He said that he had heretofore worked for the interests of this portion of Minnesota, and that he should continue so to labor so long as he remained in Congress, regardless of the statement which he received from the business men of Mankato. There are important measures yet to be brought before Congress, which will materially affect this portion of the State.

He said there would also be laid before Congress at its coming session, a proposition to appropriate a large amount of money, not less than $1,500,000, to indemnify our people for the damages which they sustained in the terrible Indian outbreak on the frontier last year. These measures are of great importance to our people, and he said he should labor to secure their accomplishment.

We can give but a faint sketch of the speech. The Senator was frequently interrupted by applause during its delivery, and at its close three hearty cheers were given for him.

In 1860, Mr. Slocum the present publisher and ostensible editor of the Onion, was publisher of the St. Anthony Express one of the most virulent and pro slavery Buchanan-Breckenridge sheets in the State whose columns weekly teemed with the most libelous abuse of Republicans and Douglas Democrats.—Record.

As many of the subscribers of the Record take the Union, we notice the above that they may not be misled by this slanderous sheet. In 1860 we did own a one-third interest in the St. Anthony Express, and was junior partner in a firm of which there were three members. But the writings of agreement as drawn between the members of the firm and which we now have, expressly prohibited us from having anything whatever to do with the editorial department because there existed a difference of opinion between us on political matters. The agreement says that "the said parties of the first part shall have exclusive control of the editorial department of the said paper, and the party of the second part shall have control of the mechanical and financial department, and shall keep correct books and accounts of the same" &c. We told the Editor of the Record, years ago, our position in that paper, and nothing but his disregard of the truth, and the perversion of facts, would permit him to put forth so a slander.

Senator Wilkinson.

He promised faithfully to secure an appropriation for removing obstructions and improving the navigation of the Minnesota river. At his solicitation, Captain Roberts and other steamboat men went to the trouble and expense of preparing specifications and plans, the whole cost of which would not have exceeded $30,000. He received them, and to this day they have been hid away in his desk, and he has never broached the subject in Congress.—Record Oct. 10th.

There is not one word of truth in the above extract, and the editor of the Record knew it to be a falsehood when he wrote it. Capt. Roberts himself says he never made any specifications or plans for this purpose, neither did he spend a single dollar as above stated. It is a sheer fabrication, having no foundation in truth whatever. The moral sense of any man must indeed be blunted who can pursue such a course.

AT HIS OLD TRICKS.—Wilk. is again at his old electioneering tricks, threatening, promising, lying, etc. Several days ago, he approached a gentleman from Sterling, and after laboring sometime to induce him to vote for Mr. Coffin and to urge his neighbors to do likewise, he finally threatened that in retaliation he and his friends here would oppose Mr. Middlebrook, Republican candidate for Sheriff.—Record, Oct. 10.

Here is another evidence of the contempt which the editor of the Record has for truth. Go on, Mr. Wise, go on; your evidence in a court of Justice will be good by and by. Your reputation for truth and varacity can be easily sustained before a jury if you thus continue to attack an honest citizen.

WHEN Senator Wilkinson was laboring last winter to effect the removal of the Winnebago Indians from this county, the editor of the Record and a few of his supporters, here, were slandering him behind his back, and accusing him of all sorts of treachery in the matter. They even went so far as to denounce him as false in this regard in public meetings, and declared that it was not his intention to have the Indians removed. This was manly and honorable of course, in the estimation of the editor of the Record, but good men looked upon such actions as despicable. The Indians, however, were removed through the agency of our Senator, who heeded not the malice and slanders of his enemies.

The "Onion"—Its Properties and Uses.

The Onion is stimulant, diuretic, expectorant and rubefacient. Taken moderately, it increases the appetite, and promotes digestion, and is much used as a condiment; but taken in large quantities it is apt to cause flatulence. gastric uneasiness, and febrile excitement. We caution the editor of the Record against the further use of it, in large quantities.

For the Mankato Union.

Thoughts for Honest Men by a Jackson Democrat.

Honorable gain to a man's self is one of the leading characteristics of our race, and it is perfectly upright when the chances are equal to all, that the successful person or persons should possess the advantages. Anything dishonorable or unfair should always be held in contempt by honest men. And while buying and selling in political matters, and niggers in the great cause of our nation, and has been for time past. Yet there are times and places when men of opposite parties and opinions can meet in one common interest and accomplish good for themselves and their neighbors, without sacrificing persons or principles, and bring to themselves an honorable gain. There are also times and places when political animosities reign to such an extent as to require everything like unity of action; and also unity of support to those in whose hands rest the future important advantages to be gained, which, if once lost, can never be recovered.

In this very precarious position I believe the people of Mankato and Blue Earth County now stand. Interests of a very important character stare us in the face. Although we do not all expect to get rich immediately by having a railroad located to this place, and have not the wild fire of past days burning among us as it did when our State went five millions in debt by the authority of the ballot-box. A measure that would now receive scarcely a thousand voices or votes to support it.

But now, as before intimated, there are facts to deal with. A railroad will come to St. Peter or Mankato in less than three years, and in less than half that time the thing will be decided upon, and its destiny fixed. So that really what is to be done must be done quickly or all will be lost. Says one, your premises are wrong. The Railroad is going south and west of Mankato, if it does not go to St. Peter. If so, loud and deep will be the curses that will consign those in power (lending their influence against us) to a political grave.

But this I do not believe. Our representatives in power dare not thus trifle with us. They have not gained enough in their arena to retire from public life and live above the support of their fellows, consequently our interest is there interest, and we can rely upon them if upon anybody, and we should support them, looking at our own interest in so doing.

Party strife has been the go here for years past, and the chasm separating us now has become to some minds, fearful; and one side thinks that nothing good can come out of Nazareth, (i. e. the other side.) But, my fellow citizens, let us not be so "faithless, but believing;" let us faithfully perform our duty and leave the result where it belongs.

But, says one, Senator Wilkinson is the great bugbear, and we Democrats all believe them. Now, fellow Democrats, all the leading Democrats in this county say that Senator Wilkinson has done us no harm, at least locally, and if he did make false promises, they were all to Republicans; and if his Republican friends stand by him, as we see they do, why in the name of honesty, should Democrats complain. Surely, we should be the last.

Failing to do is not always a fault. Doing wrong is always a fault, and now, as to our Senator, stop and ask what "evil hath he done." Surely, he has not disgraced us—his constituents, either at Washington or any where else in the East, where he has a large acquaintance.

And now a few plain facts. If we vote for John J. Porter and Mr. Wiswell, we vote for St. Peter; and if we vote for B. Y. Coffin we vote for Mankato and this side of the river in general. Mr. Porter, according to statements never denied, is pledged to support for the United States Senate H. M. Rice; or, if he fail, Henry A. Swift, of St. Peter. Not a single Democrat believes that any other than a Republican can be elected, and the only question now is will we oppose our own townsman, and support a man who has ever opposed Mankato and this county, and the more power he possesses the more he will oppose us.

Therefore, I ask every voter to stop and consider. First, if Democrats are to support Republican, should they not look at their own interests, and remember that charity begins at home? and not foolishly and madly follow a few blind leaders. If we were more thoughtful we should not so often taste the dead-sea apple to know that it left only ashes on the lips.

If we throw our influence against ourselves at this time, bitter will be the pill indeed when its nauseous effects are fully realized. Some thoughtful Democrats have already taken alarm, and have "fled for refuge to lay hold of the hope set before them which hope is an anchor to their" interests "and reacheth to that within the vale."

The railroad coming to Mankato will not injure our LeSueur friends, but will be just as good to them as though it went to St. Peter, consequently they can unite with us upon this question without injury to themselves. In our voting interests we are allied to each other; therefore Le Sueur county will strike glad hands with us if we are successful. Let us then take a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull altogether, and heave up at election a mighty majority for the straight Republican candidate and not for a professed Democrat pledged for a Republican foreign to our interests, which Mr. Porter cannot and will not deny.

Senator Wilkinson is laboring every day to lead this railroad from Winona to Mankato, and the Democratic voters of this county should see that their votes be cast so that we shall receive the benefit.

As to Mr. Wiswell, I consign him to the dog law which was enacted through his influence, and hope and believe he will stay at home and help execute it on all the canine race.

A JACKSON DEMOCRAT.

TWENTY-SIX counties in Iowa, give Stone 7, 988 majority, while the only counties reported for Tuttle are Dubuque and Wappello, which together gives him 1, 175 majority, showing large republican gains.
Stone's majority will probably reach 12,000 or 15,000.

The St Louis Union says that I. C. Ingraham, a citizen of Buchanan county, issued free papers to all his slaves, about twenty five in number, last Monday. They all left immediately for Kansas, taking their household effects with them.

LETTER FROM THE 7TH REGIMENT.

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS No. 2,
ST. LOUIS, MO, Oct 4th, 1863.

MR. EDITOR: I promised when last we met to write to you, touching the wanderings, adventures, &c., of the Bloody Seventh.

We had a pleasant trip from St. Paul to La Crosse; from thence by Rail to the smoke and fog bound city of Chicago. We were greeted by the liveliest demonstrations of respect, and loyal enthusiasm the whole length of the line from La Crosse to Chicago, and I wish to speak especially of the ladies of Portage City, Wis. We arrived at that place on Friday evening, the 9th, at 8 o'clock, and you may judge of our surprise, as well as gratitude, at being suddenly assailed by a legion of fair damsels, with baskets, trays, pails, etc, filled to overflowing with luscious fruits, cakes, pies, chickens, and other goodies too numerous to mention. And in no miserly spirit was the ovation bestowed; but in the spirit of the mothers of '76. With cheerful words and pleasant smiles, they urged us on to the consummation of glorious victories, or a patriot's grave. The whistle blows. Up brakes, and as the train moves slowly away, with its living freight, three rousing cheers, such as only Minnesotians can give, rang out, reverbrating among the brick and wooden edifices, as a slight token of our gratitude to the ladies of Portage.

Nothing of interest occurred on our route from Chicago to St. Louis. When within one hundred miles of St. Louis we struck a beautiful region of country, interspersed with prairie and timber, large well cultivated farms and beautiful orchards, groaning under their weight of luscious fruits presenting to our fruit hungry mouths a dreadful temptation. We arrived at St. Louis just at dark, and with the gathering shadows of night the rain began to fall in a perfect sheet, dampening our ardor for travel, but not the patriotic fire in our bosoms. "In four ranks, form company," roared out the little giant on the grey horse, and with the water dripping in torrents from our nether extremities, we took up the thread of our devious way through the gas-lit streets of Missouri's greatest city, to Schofield Barracks, No. 2. "Halt!" roared out the dripping mass from the iron gray; and after the usual military preliminaries to halt, we found ourselves in the inclosure from which I write. The Barracks occupy just a square, and includes Hospital building, cook shops, Sutler's store, two hydrants for watering purposes &c.

I made a visit yesterday to the Round House in which about four hundred of the rebel prisoners are confined. They are a hard looking crew the very type of border ruffianism, and can boast of as many different uniforms as ever graced a gipseys back. Three hundred more were brought up to-day from Little Rock, all presenting the same repulsive features. You could hardly distinguish the Lieutenant from the private, unless it be by the aristocratic mark of a haversack made from some ancient gunny bag, while the private carried all his worldly possessions in his breeches pockets.

So far as destination is concerned it is hard to say what the future may bring forth, but the probability is that we shall stay in St. Louis for sometime as Provost guard. The 9th and 10th Regiments left for Jefferson City yesterday, and undoubtedly will soon have a chance to try their Springfields on rebel guerillas.

Jim. Lane made a speech here on Monday night, and flayed some of his opponents in handsome style. Some apprehension was entertained of trouble from the Roughs, but the hell-born sons of Secesh took to their holes and never showed a head during the speech.

But I must close my hastily written letter, and hoping to receive the Union regularly, I remain yours. More anon.

M. N. S.

A Sad Picture.

Rev. A. S. Fiske, Chaplian of the Fourth Minnesota, who was last Jun appointed Superintendent of the freedmen of Memphis, Tennessee, has been detailed by Gen. Grant to address the northern people as widely as possible upon the condition and necessities of the blacks of the Lower Mississippi. He has recently been lecturing in Chicago and Milwaukee. He said in his lecture at the latter place that, "Not less than thirty five thousand women and children of Freedmen are now gathered upon the banks of the Mississippi between Helena and Natchez in extreme destitution. At most of these points no labor can, during this winter, be procured for them. Multitudes have no change of raiment, while the poor clothing in which they left their homes has nearly perished.

"It is hard to imagine the uncleanliness, the suffering, the diseases and mortality which result from this destitution. Multitudes, indeed almost all, come in with no cooking utensils. They come to our lines out of a hasty flight, or from weary marches with the troops, just bringing on their backs what they could. What supplies should a mother, with her babe in her arms, and children clinging to her skirts, be expected to bring for their protection and comfort? Should she stayed at home? But most of the plantations from which they came, were striped before their flight, of every eatable thing. They could stay but to starve."

Mr Fiske makes an earnest appeal for clothing, shoes, cooking utensils blankets, teachers and books for these poor creatures. We presume he will extend his visit and his appeals to his old parishioners in this city.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

New Millinery Goods.

MRS. MARGARET POTTS,

HAVING returned from the East, where she has purchased a large and well selected assortment of Ladies' and Misses' Bonnets, Flats, Hoods, Ribbons, of all kinds Head-Dresses, and many other things too numerous to mention in a newspaper advertisement, will be happy to wait upon all her former lady customers, besides hosts of new ones. Oct. 23, 1863.

Valuable Lands for Sale.

BY direction of the Hon. Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the lands hereinafter described, they being among the choicest and best farming land in Minnesota.

These lands comprise what are known as the Winnebago Trust Lands in the State of Minnesota, and will be sold to the highest and best bidder in tracts not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres each, under the provisions of a treaty concluded with the Winnebago Indians, April 15th, 1859, and an act of Congress, approved February 21st 1863, entitled "An act for the removal of the Winnebago Indians, and for the sale of their Reservation, in Minnesota, for their benefit."

No bid will be entertained at a rate less than two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

In case a bid is accepted, the party making the same will be notified as soon thereafter as practicable. If within thirty days after such notice the party shall fail to make payment to the undersigned, the land for which such bid was made will be subject to sale to any other person.

Patents will be issued and transmitted to purchasers as soon after payment as the same can be prepared. Payments may be made either in cash or in the certificates of indebtedness of the Winnebago Indians, issued by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for the debt of said Indians, and secured to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of said lands by the third article of the treaty above mentioned. The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved. All bids must be sealed and addressed to the undersigned, Washington City, D. C. and endorsed "Bid for Winnebago Tract Land."

"DESCRIPTION OF LANDS."

Township 106, Range 23.
Sections 6, 7, 18, 19 and 30.
Township 107, Range 23.
Sections 6, 7, 18, 10, west hf and n e qr of 30; the w hf of sw qr and north hf of section 31.
Township 108 Range 23.
Section 31
Township 106, Range 24.
Sections 25 to 36 inclusive.
Township 107, Range 24,
Sections 1 to 3 inclusive; n hf of section 5; sec 6 and 7; the w hf of sec 8, the e hf of 9; sec 10 to 15 inclusive; the nw qr of 17; sec 18; the w hf of 19; the nw qr of nw qr of 20; lots 1, 2 and 3 of 21; sec 22, 23, 24, 27, 28 and 29
Township 108, Range 24.
The w hf of ne qr; the se qr and the w hf of nw qr of section 31; the e hf of ne qr, the w hf of nw qr and the s hf of section 32; the ne qr of section 32; the ne qr and s hf of section 34; and sections 35; and 36.
Township 106, Range 25.
Sections 25 to 36 inclusive.
Township 107, Range 25.
Sections 1 and 2; the s hf and nw qr of 3; and sections 11, 12 and 13.
Township 108, Range 25.
The e hf of ne qr and w hf of sw qr of section 32; the e hf of ne qr, the se qr, and the w hf of nw qr of section 33; the e hf of ne qr, the w hf of the sw qr, and west hf of nw qr of section 34; the nw qr of ne qr, the nw qr, and lots 1, 2, 3, and 4 of section 35; section 36.
Township 106, Range 26.
The w hf and ne qr of section 1; the n hf of 2; the w hf and ne quarter of 3; section 4; the ne qr and w hf of 5; the se qr and w hf of 7; the sw qr of 3; the n hf of 9; the n hf of 10; the e hf and nw qr of 11; the e hf and sw qr, and e hf of nw qr of 12; section 13; e hf and sw qr of 14; the s hf and nw qr of 15; sections 16 to 24 inclusive; the e hf and sw qr of 25; and sections 26 to 36 inclusive.
Township 107, Range 26.
The ne qr and sw qr of section 1; the se qr of 2; the w hf of ne qr, the w hf of se qr, and w hf of 3; the se qr of 4; the sw qr, and n hf of nw qr of 6; sections 7, 8, and 9; the nw qr of 10, the s hf, and nw qr of 12; the e hf of 13; sections 16 and 17; the e hf and nw qr of 18, the e hf of 19; the w hf, the ne qr, and the w hf of se qr of section 20; the n hf and se qr of section 21; sections 22, 24, 25, 26, 27 and 28; the s hf and nw qr of 29; the e hf and nw qr of 30; the n hf of 31; and sections 32 to 36 inclusive.
Township 108, Range 26
The w hf and ne qr of ne qr, the nw qr of se qr, and the s hf of sw qr of section 31; the e hf and sw qr of 33; the ne qr, the e hf se qr, and w hf of 33; the ne qr of 34; section 35; the w hf, the ne qr, and the n hf of se qr of section 36
Township 106, Range 27.
The nw qr of section 1; the n hf of 2; sections 1 and 5; the e hf, the sw qr, and e hf of nw qr of 6; the s hf and nw qr of section 7; the w hf of 8; the e hf and sw qr of 11; sections 12 to 15 inclusive; the s hf of section 16; sections 17 to 32 inclusive; the w hf of 33; the e hf and nw qr of 34; and sections 35 and 36.
Township 107, Range 27.
The s hf of sec 1; sec 2; the ne qr of 3; the nw qr of 5; the n hf of 6; the w hf of nw qr of sec 8; sec 9; the w hf of 10; the e hf of nw qr, the nw qr of nw qr, and the e hf of 13; the n hf of ne qr, and ne qr of nw qr of 14; the e hf of sec 15; the sw qr of 16; the e hf of 17, the s hf and the sw qr of nw qr of 18; the ne qr and sw qr of 19 the e hf and sw qr of 20; the w hf of 23 the s hf of 24; the nw qr of 26; the ne qr and sw qr of 26; the e hf of 27; the sw qr of 28; sec 29; the e hf of 30; the e hf and sw qr of 31; the e hf and nw qr of 32 the se qr of 33; the ne qr and sw qr of 34; and sec 35 and 36.
Township 108, Range 27.
The e hf of sec 31; sec 32; the ne qr and sw qr of 34; the nw qr of 34; and the s hf of 25; and section 36.
Bids will be received as above invited until the 1st day of December next, at which time all bids will be opened and acted upon.
CHARLES E. MIX,
Acting Commissioner of Indian Affairs.
Washington City, D. C., Oct. 19th, 1863.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

THE COUNTY.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

St. Paul—Arrives at 9 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Eastern—Arrives at 4 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Blue Earth City—Arrives at 5 P. M. and departs at 7 A. M. Closes 7 P. M.

Office hours—5 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays, 5 to 9 A. M., and 12 M. to 1 P. M.

R. J. SIBLEY, Postmaster.

Agents for the Union.

The following are authorized to receive and receipt for monies paid on subscription for the UNION:

Mankato—
South Bend—LARS LEE.
Garden City—RAY & WILLIAMS.
Vernon—THEODORE SOWERS.
Shelbyville—H. A. BUCK, R SHANNON.
Winnebago City—HOLLY and WELCH.
Verona—A. D. MASON.
Blue Earth City—W. J. C. ROBERTSON.
Fairmount—W. W. CARRINGTON.
Mapleton—S. MIDDLEBROOK.
Madelia—C. G. MULLEN.
New Ulm—J. C. RUDOLPH.
Judson—MR. GOODWIN.
Winnebago Agency—LUCIUS DYER.
Sterling—WILLIAM RUSSELL.
Butternut Valley—REV. J. JENKINS.

PROF. FERGUSON's school closes today. He has been teaching now nearly five months, with good success.

WE are happy to learn that all is quiet in Onionville, and that its pains (Payne's) have nearly subsided.

THE editor of the Record is "mourning as one that hath no hope."

"Oh! ye disconsolate.
Come to the mercy-seat."

DEPARTED.—Owing to the approach of cold weather, we are sorry to announce the departure from this vicinity, of several fleas. They have kept our blood in circulation all summer.

Senator Wilkinson, Wm. Russell and Dr. Welcome will address the citizens of Garden City next Monday evening.

NOTICE.—Sunday services of the Methodist Society in City Hall will be held at 10½ A. M. and 7 o'clock P. M., until further notice. Sabbath School at 2½ o'clock P. M.

THOMAS DAY, Pastor.

MILITIA.—At a meeting of Co. 'A' 20th Reg't. M. S. M. held at the engine house in this place on Saturday, the 17th inst., A. M. Collins was elected Captain of said Co. vice J. S. Bachelder, resigned; and William A. Ford was elected 2nd Lieut. vice A. M. Collins, promoted.

TAXES ARE HIGH.—Taxes are high on Saleratus as well as on every other article that a family consumes, but they are not so high on the Chemical Saleratus, as the Saleratus will rise your bisenit, etc. If you don't believe us try it. It is put up in bright red papers, called "Chemical Saleratus or Housewife's Favorite."

CLOTHING STORE.—S. Randall has an assortment of ready-made clothing in his store, opposite Christensen's that is worth looking at. A good assortment of gloves and caps, just the article for cold weather, can also be found there. We have carefully examined his stock, and we believe he sells as cheap as any one in town. Give him a call, farmers.

THREE companies of the 6th Regiment have been detailed as an escort for Col. Thompson's supply trains, which is to start from this place for the Winnebago Agency, in a few days.

Charlie Heinze will be prepared to-morrow to meet his old and many new customers in his new and comfortable quarters, opposite his old stand. Give Charlie a call, for he is deserving.

Why don't Mr. Porter deny that he was a Know Nothing? Why don't he deny that he is a Republican? Why don't he deny that he is pledged to vote for H. M. Rice or Henry A. Swift? He dare not do it.

THE disease with which the Record was afflicted last week, not giving way to first treatment, we understand that he has since been using the Onion, applying it as an emollient cataplasm. We have known worse cases than his completely cured by a few applications.

DESERTER ARRESTED.—Deputy Provost Marshal Williams received orders the other day to arrest a Peter Hagle, who had run away from Rochester N. Y. to avoid the draft. Mr. Williams proceeded, Wednesday to hunt him up, and found him threshing about two miles above South Bend, on the Judson road. He had no difficulty in making the arrest. Mr. Hagle pretented to be deaf, and said he did not know he was drafted until the evening previous. He was brought to town and lodged in jail, and Thursday Mr. Williams started with him for Capt. See's headquarters at Rochester.

DEATH OF A SOLDIER.—On Sunday evening last, Peter Hopper, a soldier belonging to Co. F. of the Mounted Rangers, died at the Hospital in this place. He was from Home Protection, Erie county, N. Y. where his relatives reside. On Monday morning, under the direction of Capt. McKusick accompanied by a file of soldiers, he was buried. The Captain endeavored to obtain, of the proper authorities, a piece of ground in the cemetry here near town, but could not get it without paying for it. He then took the body to the cemetery beyond South Bend (the citizens of which place, generously donated and laid off a piece of ground for the use of soldiers that may die here,) and buried it. It is highly commendable in the people of South Bend to donate ground in which to bury our soldiers who have died in the service of their country. And we look upon it as an outrageous proceeding, on the part of those who own and control the cemetry here, though we do not know who the responsible ones are, that a piece of ground two by six feet, could not be given as a last resting place for a true and tried soldier. We trust that some provision will be made by the town to meet any future emergencies of this kind.

Shelbyville News.

EDITOR OF THE Union: Twice in this latter day we have had a glimpse of an Editor, or suppose we had; but he was on the wing, and going toward the "Sunny South," on the first occasion to escape the severe winter which weather-wise ones prophesy in store for us; to avoid the draft suggests other wise ones. I didn't believe a word of it; editors are made of different material. And a few days later proved the justness of our conclusion, as the same individual was seen making his way toward the pole star.

Well, we have been visited, during this season, by live buffaloes, by office seekers.—happily not by any Indians—and, although their stay with us was brief, that of homo was not longer.

Now, why is this so? True our town is not the largest in the valley; neither has it the greatest number of inhabitants. It is not a county seat neither have we a United States Land Office located with us. These are not what we brag of. But you have heard, Mr. Union, of Palmyra, of Tadmar in the Wilderness, of Memphis and Pompei, and if your education has been liberal, as I suppose it has, you must also know of the existence of such a place as Shelbyville.

Shelbyville is not only interesting to antiquarians for its architectural remains, its early history and associations, but there are some live specimens with whom it is refreshing to become acquainted. And of these I will take the liberty to name Messrs. Allen & Marsh, the liberal, spirited, and enterprising proprietors of our steam saw mills. These gentlemen, notwithstanding the little call for lumber heretofore, the dearth of money, and other disadvantageous circumstances, of which old settlers are well acquainted, are now, I am happy to say, coining money. Sincerely do I congratulate them. May we all do as well, when we equally deserve it.

Well, I believe it is a rule with editors to throw long letters under the table, instead of bestowing upon them the time necessary to read them. Serves them right.

SNIGGLEBRIDGEAN.

Faribault County Fair.

The fourth annual fair of the Faribault County Agricultural Society was held at Blue Earth City, on the 7th and 8th instant. The attendance was quite large, but the number of articles and amount of Stock entered was limited.

The Indian troubles last fall worked very much against its success this year, as many of those who rendered assistance two years ago, were now absent fighting for their country.

Some arrangements were made within the enclosure of the fort for the exhibition of stock, though not as complete as they ought to have been, because they were not commenced in time.

Messrs. Latimer, Chesly, Howland, Sly, Franklin, Mason, George, Seely, McArthur, Balcombe and Hill, were the only ones who entered horses, and colts. As we publish below the list of awards we will not speak of them here. Mr. Balcombe entered a "Jack," which excited no little curiosity, and which he said had a good ear for music. We did not think its appearance and voice belied its profession. The stock of horses was very good, and showed that the farmers are determined to raise nothing but the best.

The Stock cattle entered were of the Devon and Durham breed. Mr. Balcombe, in particular had about twenty head, that were beauties to look at.

A. W. Pugsley, Shultis and McArthur were the only ones that had sheep on exhibition.

Wm. H. Miller, of Shelbyville, had on exhibition a carriage plow, the working of which pleased everyone who saw it. Mr. Miller took a good deal of pains to bring his plow on the ground, and received the thanks of the Society for so doing.

In farm products there was nothing but Wheat, Oats, Corn and Potatoes exhibited.

In domestic Manufacteres, Mrs. Cummings had several articles, made from wool which she carded and spun, and had very neatly made up. Mrs. Kimball had a very pretty quilt. Miss Alice Chapell, a little girl of fourteen years, a gents shirt which she made. It was very neatly done. Mrs. Balcombe had a child's dress, sacque and blanket. They were of the best material and finest work.

Mr. S. T. Mills, of Garden City, was present and exhibited eight varieties of apples, raised in his orchard; also a very fine article of Sorghum surup.

A short distance from the Fort, a circular track for trying the speed of horses was laid out. Miss Belle Franklin, Mrs. McArthur, Mrs. Shultis and Mrs. Hill were the only ladies that rode over the track. The first premium was awarded to Miss. Franklin, and the second to Mrs. McArthur, though we think Mrs. Hill, was the second best rider on the ground, and but for the peculiar lope of her horse, would have received the second premium.

After the award of premiums was read, the Secretary, D. Birdsall, Esq. made a short and appropriate speech in which the Union was highly complimented.

In the evening a scrub race was gotten up between Mr. Franklin and Mr. Beaumont, in which the former was the winner.

The next Fair will be held at Winnebago City.

John Franklin—best stallion	$ 2 00
John Howland—2d best	1 00
John Franklin—best 3 year old stallion	2 00
D. C. Seeley—2d best	Dip.
Hiram Chesley—best 2 year old colt	1 00
A. D. Mason—2d best	Dip.
J. A. Latimer—best 3 year old mare	1 00
Thomas George—best mare and colt	2 00
G. McArthur—best mare without colt	Dip.
John Howland—best one year old colt	1 00
Thomas George—best sucking colt	Dip.
Wisly Hill—best pair matched and draft horses	1 00
C W. Wilson—best pair mules	Dip.
A. B. Balcombe—best jack	Dip.
A. B. Balcombe—best mule and colt	Dip
C. Wesley—best saddle horse	1 00
D. Birdsall—best Devon 3 year old bull	2 00
A. B. Balcombe—best 3 year old Durham	1 00
A B. Balcombe—best Durham cow	2 00
C. Wesley—2d best cow	1 00
A. B. Balcombe—best one year old heifer	50
A B Balcombe—best bull calf	50
Geo McArthur—best heifer calf	50
Geo. Hart—best pair of oxen	1 00
Shultis & McArthur—best buck	1 00
A W. Pugsley—best ewe	1 00
Shultis & McArthur—2d best	Dip.
Wm. H. Miller—carriage plow	Dip.
J. A. Latimer—best ½ bu. wheat	50
J. A. Latimer—best ½ bu. oats	25
W. Cummings—best sample potatoes	25
S. A. Latimer—best sample pop corn	25
Mrs. S. A. Cummings—best sample butter	50
Mrs. S. A. Cummings—best sample cheese	50
Miss Helen Roberts—best loaf of bread	25
S T. Mills—best sorghum syrup	Dip.
Miss Alice Chapell—best made gents' shirt	Dip.
Mrs. A. B. Balcombe—best specimen embroidery	Dip.
Mrs. C. S. Kimball—best patchwork bed quilt	Dip
Miss Isabel Franklin—best rider	$ 2 00 & Dip.
Mrs. Anna McArthur—2d best	1 00 & Dip.
Mrs. Allen Shultis—3d best	50 & Dip.
Mrs. Wesley Hill—4th best	50 & Dip.
S. T. Mills—best 8 varieties apples	Dip.
Miss H. A. Robertson—best 14 canary birds	Dip.
Mrs. A. B. Balcombe—best Sewing machine (G. & B)	Dip.

That Faribault county is one of the best agricultural counties in the State, no one who has ever traveled through it, will deny. Considering the disadvantages which its farmers have had, in being a long distance from the market, it presents the greatest improvement of any we have ever seen. More than two-thirds of its population are Americans—native born, and who immigrated from New York, Ohio, Illinois and Wisconsin.—The enterprise of the farmers in improving their farms, by fencing and breaking up the soil, is deserving of much praise.

While we were at the County Fair we took occasion in company with Sheriff Robertson, to visit some of our new subscribers at their homes, along the middle branch of the Blue Earth river, and on Coon Creek. We passed the farms of Mr. Sailor, who is now in the Mounted Rangers, and Mr. H. Lutes, a jolly good Englishman, who goes in for the Union, without conditions. As we came up to the farm of J. C. Howland, we found him engaged in threshing, with one of Case's machines, owned by C. M. Sly. We hear made the acquaintance of Messrs. Cummings, Ordway, Kisby and others, whose names were soon added to our subscription list. Mr. Howland has a quarter section of land, nearly fifty acres of which is under the plow. His crops are turning out first rate. We noticed in the garden near his house, a goodly number of grafted fruit trees, which gave evidence of good care on his part. Everything around his place looked neat and tidy.

Mr. Ordway also has a quarter section of prairie; some of which is under the plow.

Mr. W. P. F. Cummings, who enlisted in the 5th Minnesota Regiment, and was discharged last May, is a well to-do farmer, and has a quarter section of the best land in that region of country. He is a thorough Union man, and lover of his country, and none are more willing to sacrifice their lives for it than he.

We visited the farm house of Mr. Morris, found the latch-string out, but the owner not at home. Judging from appearances, his bump of order must be largely developed.

The next place we stopped at was Allen Shultis, an enterprising farmer, who, a few years ago, was a member of our State Legislature. He has a quarter section of land lying, we believe, near the middle branch of the Blue Earth. Mr Shultis brought from Wisconsin, last summer, over a thousand head of sheep, and together with the Messrs. McArthurs, has entered heavily in the business. Their sheep are of the French and Spanish breed, and were looking well.

After leaving Mr. Shultis' place we started to hunt up the farm of Judge Preston, that patriotic old gentleman, who has given his sons to his country, and who has been judging Faribault county for the last four years. We are of the opinion that the Judge derives from his office more of honor than profit. We found him, however, in the field, geeing and hawing around a "land" he had marked out. Like Putnam of old, he left his plow and oxen standing in the field, and took us over his farm to see the elephant, for which he will accept our thanks.

We were not able to get over on the East Branch from the fact that we got lost on the prairie in trying to find the Judge. On our next trip we shall visit that portion of the country. But we enjoyed ourselves well, had a good time, saw a large tract of country, down almost to the Iowa line, and on our return helped ourselves to a dinner of turnips taken from McArthur's turnip patch, which dinner he will please charge to our account.

LATEST NEWS.

News by Friday Morning's Mail.

The mail came in at such a late hour, that we are unable to get in but little news.

Gen. Grant has assumed command of the department of the Ohio and Cumberland and Kentucky. He is now in charge of affairs at Chattanooga.

Gen. Thomas takes command of Rosecran's army, who has been ordered to Cincinnati, and report to the Adjutant General at Washington

A circular from Washington says that for every recruit who is not a veteran, a bounty of $302 will be paid.

Lee is reported to be sending troops to Bragg.

There are rumors that Generals Sedgwick or Sickles is to supercede Meade.

Good news has been received from Capt. Fiske's party. They are all safe and sound.

There is no truth in the report that Meade is in hot pursuit of the rebels across the Rapidan, though a great battle is imminent.

NEW BANKING HOUSE AT MANKATO, MINNESOTA.—Our financial and commercial readers should make a note that Major E. H. Smith, late of the Illinois Artillery, and formerly with J. R. Hammond & Co., bankers at De Kalb, Illinois, has established a banking house at Mankato, Minnesota. The name of the house is E. H. Smith & Co. The rapid progress made westward by the Winona and Mankato Railroad will very soon bring the latter town in large and direct business connection with Chicago. Our city already has considerable business with that section of Mninesota.

Messrs Smith & Co, pay special attention to Collections, and have a very competent man constantly engaged in that department of thier business.—Chicago Tribune.

A CORRESPONDENT of the New York Tribune writing from Washington, says: "Jeff Davis is waiting with anxiety for the navy which is now getting ready in England for the Southern Confederacy. Further information, entitled to the highest confidence indicates that the number of vessels now constructed in Europe for the rebels is more considerable than is generally supposed, and that the time is not far distant when they will be brought into active service.

Seven little girls, after a month's preparation, held a Fair last week at a private residence on Milton Mill, Mass. The proceeds were $204.54, which are to be contributed to the treasury of the Saniary Commission

Mankato Market Reports.

CORRECTED EVERY THURSDAY BY O. WARD.

MANKATO, Oct. 23, 1863.

WHEAT—50c. ₱ bushel.
RYE—40c.
BARLEY—50.
OATS—40@50
CORN—35@40c.
HAY—₱ ton, $4@5 00.
TIMOTHY—$2 ₱ bushel.
BEANS—White, ₱ bushel, $1 25.
BUTTER—10@12½c.
LARD—8@9c.
SUGAR—12@13c; 16@20c.
TEA—1 25 @1 50. 1 75
COFFEE—33⅓c.
RICE—10c ₱ lb.
SALT—4 50 ₱ barrel.
EGGS—10c ₱ doz.
CANDLES—Tallow, 15c; Sperm, 50c
MEATS—Beef on foot, 2c. Pork, 5@6c. Mutton 10@12c. Poultry, 10@12c.
POTATOES—35@40 ₱ bushel.
SIRUP—1 00 ₱ gallon.
WOOD—$2 00 ₱ cord.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SPERMATORRHOEA CAN BE CURED.—Dr. Rand's Specific cures Spermatorrhoea Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Loss of Power &c., speedily and effectually. Its effects are truly magical. A trial of the SPECIFIC will convince the most skeptical the merits. Price. $1 a box Sent post-paid to any address, by S. C. UPMAN. 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA. Circular sent free.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it (free of charge) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience—and possess a Valuable Remedy—will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed) by addressing

JOHN B OGDEN.
5-3m No. 60 Nassau Street, New York

DRUNKENESS CURED.—The inebriate may now bid defiance to the tempting cup. DR. ZANE'S ANTIDOTE FOR STRONG DRINK is a certain cure for Drunkenness. It creates a dislike for strong drink, and can be administered without the knowledge of the patent. Price $1 a box. Sent by mail to any address, by S. C. UPMAM, 403 CHESNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA; PA. Circular sent free.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
COUNTY OF BLUE EARTH,
District Court—6th District

William G. McCutchen agst Francis M. Gunning, surviving partner of the firm of Hensley & Gunning.

The State of Minnesota. To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint in this action which is now on file in the office of the Clerk of this Court, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint on the subscribers at their office in Mankato, Blue Earth County, State of Minnesota, within twenty days after the service hereof, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff in this action will take judgment against you for the sum of onehundred and eighty dollars and fifty-eight cents, besides the costs of this action. Mankato, Oct. 7th, 1863.

FINCH & PITCHER,
14 Attys for Plff.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL POFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DeBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, P. Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, Percussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime. Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee, Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DeBUISSON.
Mankato, May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

NEW DRUG STORE!

DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS
SOAPS, PERFUMERY,
AND
FANCY GOODS

PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax,

Stationery,
BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE.

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions accurely put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the

New Drug Store,

JASON WICKERSHAM,
5 Mankato, Minn

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Critical Notices of the Press.

The volumns Bound constitute of themselves a liberary of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world. —N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People: and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts: and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature. —Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, BY mail, post-paid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eight cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00; Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year $5,00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2,50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2,50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted or postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must BE paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS.
Franklyn Square, New York.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
COUNTY OF BLUE EARTH.

To WILLIAM THOMAS:

You are hereby notified that a writ of attachment has been issued against you, and your property attached to satisfy the demand of Benjamin McCracken amounting to twenty seven (27.) dollars: Now, unless you shall appear before H. W. Nelson, a justice of the peace in and for said county, at his office in the town of Vernon, on the twenty ninth (29.) day of October A. D. 1863 at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, judgment will be rendered against you, and your property sold to pay the debt

Dated this 9th day of Sept. A. D 1863

BENJ. McCRACKEN,
10-6w Plaintiff.

☞BEFORE PURCHASING A

Piano or Melodeon,

REMEMBER

W. W. KIMBALL,

142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.,

DEALER IN

PIANOS
AND
MELODEONS!

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake St.
CHICAGO,
DEALER IN
"GOLD PRIZE MEDAL"
PIANOS,
MELODEONS,
SCHOOL ORGANS
AND
Harmoniums

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO'S PIANOS.
J. & C. FISCHER'S "
G. A. MILLER & CO'S "
WM. P. EMERSON'S "
J. W. VOSE'S "
KURTZMAN & HINZE'S "
GROVESTIEN & CO'S "

And other Boston and New York Manufactures.

☞The reputation of the Pianos of the above manufacturers is a sufficient guarantee of their merit; and every instrument sold by me will be

WARRANTED

in all respects to give

SATISFACTION

MY MELODEONS

are from the best manufacturers, and inferior to none in the market.

An Illustrated Catalogue describing every instrument, will be furnished upon application to me by mail, giving the PRICE and STYLES of the instruments.

☞Orders from the country will receive prompt attention

Address, before purchasing or looking elsewhere

W. W. KIMBALL.
142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.

PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS
PIANOS

Melodeons
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons.
Melodeons

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Anthony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12:05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.

Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S
SEWING
MACHINES

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representations are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSONS Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN.☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office.

F. M. Johnson, Agent.
St. Paul, July 17th, 1863 July17-t

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.
OF

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune esponses and and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obediance to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune challenges comparison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1.25)	6 00
Ten copies, (rate of $1.10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.

One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;

Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,)	$18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,)	35 00

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

JUST PUBLISHED,

The most Fascinating Book of the Season, ENTITLED

"IN THE TROPICS."

EDITED BY RICH'D B. KIMBALL,
Auther of "St. Leger," "Undercurrents of Wall Street," etc.

A bright, sparkling and genial book of residence, travel and adventure in the West Indies; presenting a graphical picture of tropical life, with alluring and picturesque sketches of luxuriant gardens, orange and lime groves, magnificent guava and cocoanut trees, mahogany forests, etc.

An elegantly printed and cloth-bound volume. Price, $1,25.

Sold by all booksellers, and sent by mail FREE, on receipt of price by

CARLETON,
Publisher, New York.
413 Broadway, cor Lispenard St.

THE

Mankato Weekly Union,

Published every Friday by

CHARLES H. SLOCU

AT

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of

PRINTING

Neatly and cheaply executed

SUCH AS

CARDS,

PROGRAMMES,
BILL-HEADS,
CIRCULARS,

POSTERS,

ETC.,

Having received a supply of

NEW MATERIAL

from the East, am prepared to do

PLAIN AND FANCY WORK

in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

WILLIAM IRVING,
MERCHANT TAILOR
and dealer in
Gentlemens' Furnishing Goods,
MANKATO, MINN

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Farmers' Journal.

MANKATO, FRIDAY, OCT. 23, 1863.

Interesting to Farmers' Wives.

As a general rule it is most economical to buy the best articles. The price is, of course, always a little higher; but good articles spend best. It is a sacrifice of money to buy poor flour, meal, sugar, molasses, butter, cheese, lard, etc., to say nothing of the injurious effect upon the health.

Of West-India sugar and molasses the Santa Cruz and Porto Rico are considered the best. The Havana is seldom clean. White sugar from Brazil is sometimes very good. Refined sugars usually contain most of the saccharine substance, therefore is probably more economy in using loaf, crushed, and granulated sugars than we should at first suppose.

Butter that is made in September and October, is best for winter use. Lard should be hard and white, and that which is taken from a hog not over a year old is best.

Rich cheese feels soft under the pressure of the finger. That which is very strong is neither good nor healthy. To keep one that is cut tie it up in a bag that will not admit flies, and hang it in a cool dry place. If mould appears on it wipe it off with a dry cloth.

AN EXCELLENT BREAD FOR BREAKFAST OR TEA.—To one quart of milk add a quarter of a pound of butter; let the milk be warm enough to melt the butter; stir in four well beaten eggs, a tablespoonful of sugar, a teacup half full of good yeast, a desert spoon of salt, and flour sufficient to make a stiff batter; let it be kept where there is warmth enough to make it light. An hour before baking pour the batter into a mould for a loaf, or into tin pieplates, and bake in a moderately quick oven. If baked in plates the bread should be split and buttered before it is sent to table.

TO RELIEVE MUSCULAR PAIN IN HORSES.—The datura stramonium, or thornapple plant, is a very excellent remedy, as an external application, for the treatment of muscular pain, ligementary lameness, sprain of the fetlock, &c. It is a remedy of great efficacy in chronic pains and inflamatory tumors. Four ounces of the plant to one pint of boiling water, are the proportions. When cool, the parts are to be bathed often; when practicable, a flannel is to be saturated with the fluid and bound on the affected parts; the whole to be covered with oiled silk.

STARCHING BOSOMS AND COLLARS.—A "Jersey Farmer's Daughter" sends to the Agriculturist the following directions: Pour a pint of boiling water upon two ounces of gum arabic, cover it and let it stand over night; in the morning pour it carefully from the dregs into a clean bottle, cork it and keep it for future use. A tablespoonful of this gum arabic water stirred in a pint of starch made in the usual manner will give to lawns, either white or printed, a look of newness, when nothing else can restore them after they have been washed. To every pint of starch add a piece of butter, lard, tallow or spermacceti candle the size of a chesnut.

A London man has been walking on the water. He put an air-tight vessel on his breast and another on his back—but worn underhis clothes. He had also a sort of small paddle on each heel fixed so that when his foot moved forward the paddle moved sideways, and when the paddle was subjected to laternal pressure it offered a flat surface to the water. The arrangement enabled him to walk with ease. The propellers or paddles were invented by Mr. Stewart—and the whole affair may be worth the attention of some enterprising person on this side of the Atlantic.

TO ERASE IRON-RUST STAINS.—Seeing a request in the Record, for taking out iron-rust stains, I send one which I know to be good. Take the juice of a lemon, and put on the spot that is stained. Lay a piece of brown paper over, and set a hot flat-iron on for a few minutes, or until the stain is removed.

If you would relish your food labor for it; if you would enjoy your raiment, pay for it before you wear it: if you would sleep soundly take a clear conscience to bed with you.

A number of soldiers who deserted from the first corps of the Army of the Potomac, were shot on the 23d ult. as a penalty for desertion.

The reward for the apprehension and delivery of deserters is to be increased to $30, which is intended to include all expenses incurred by the party making the arrest.

CURE FOR MORTIFICATION.—A tablespoonful of pulverised charcoal, one of honey, one of rye meal, and one of yeast, made into a poultice, and applied over the place.

CURE FOR ST. VITUS' DANCE.—Of blacksnake root, take a root about four inches long, the fibers belonging, and put into a pint of water. Drink a wine glass full three times a day.

The man who "kept his word" gave serious offence to Noah Webster, who wanted it for his Dictionary.

During an argument, the other day, a fellow in an excited state, declared that the North could lick the South with a fleet manned with a woman.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

New Arrival of Goods for the

Fall and Winter Trade.

QUICK SALE! SMALL P OFIT!

DRYGOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, HARDWARE etc.

Wholesale or Retail.

PRAEL & DeBUISSON.

THANKFUL for patronage received in the past, would beg to announce to their customers, and the People of Blue Earth and surrounding Counties, generally, that they have just received a very large addition to their already extensive stock of Drygoods, such as Delaines; Calicoes, Cassimeres, Satinets, Hosiery, Gloves, the very latest style, Checks, Denims, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, an excellent article of Wool Yarn, Yankee Notions, and other articles too numerous to mention. BOOTS and SHOES all kinds and sizes.

General and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Liquors, Cigars and Tobacco, Dried Apples, Confectioneries.

A General assortment of Hardware, Nails, P Glass, Cutlery of all kinds, Powder and Shot, ercussion Caps, etc.

We are also Agents for J. S. Little's Lime.

Give us a call before you buy and you will find it to your advantage.

☞Remember the place: Front Street, opposite the Levee. Mankato.

F. R. PRAEL. H. DeBUISSON.

Mankato May 4, 1860. [3-43-y]

THE GREAT REBELLION.

BY

J. T. HEADLEY.

A History of the Civil War in the United States. In two volumes.

Sold by subscription, and obtained only through authorized agents. The first volume is now ready for distribution.

WHEN YOU WANT

BOOTS

AND SHOES

AT

WHOLESALE

Don't fail to call on us at

Saint Paul,

We have the

LARGEST STOCK IN THE

STATE,

And sell at

LOW PRICES.

WM. J. SMITH & CO.,

12-6m Saint Paul, Minn.

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work, is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRNG AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand.

Cash paid for green and dry hides.

Mankato, June 26, 1863.

SINGER & CO'S.

Letter "A" Sewing Machine.

WITH ALL HE IMPROVEMENTS.

IS the best and cheapest and most beautiful of all Sewing Machines. This Machine will sew anything, from the running of a tuck in Tarlton to the making of an Overcoat—anything from Pilot or Beaver Cloth down to the softest Gauze or Gossamer Tissue, and is ever ready to do its work to perfection. It can fell, hem, bind, gather, tuck, quilt, and has capacity for a great variety of ornamental work. This is not the only Machine that can fell, hem, bind, and so forth, but it will do so better than any other Machine. The Letter "A" Family Sewing Machine may be had in a great variety of cabinet cases. The Folding Case, which is now becoming so popular, is, as its name implies, one that can be folded into a box or case, which, when opened makes a beautiful, substantial, and capacious table for the work to rest upon. The cases are of every imaginable design—plain as the wood grew in its native forest, or as elaborately finished as art can make them. The Branch Offices are well supplied with silk, twist thread, needles, oil, etc,, of the very best quality,

I. M. SINGER & CO.,
458 Broadway, N. Y.
Milwaukee Office, 17 Marshall House
D. WILCOX, Agent Mankato, Minn

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

H. P. CHRISTENSEN,

IS Just filling up his Store with a well selected stock of

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

SUCH AS

DRY GOODS,
HATS & CAPS,
BOOTS & SHOES,
GROCERIES, all kinds,

OILS—namely Lard Oil, Linseed Oil, Kerosene Oil—Nails, Glass, Powder, Shot, Agricultural Implements, etc.

Everything will be sold at the lowest price. Give him a call before you buy elsewhere, and you will find it to your advantage.

For the Farmers.

He is also Agent for Russell & Co.'s Massillon, Ohio, and Pitts' Buffalo, N. Y.

Threshing Machines,

McCORMICK'S and MANNY'S

REAPERS & MOWERS

Russell & Co.'s GRAIN DRILL, which machines have all proved themselves the best ever made, and which will be sold at prices and on terms to suit the times.

Also keep on hand Fanning Mills, an assorted lot of

Moline Plows,

and a general assortment of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

such as

SCYTHES, SNATHS, FORKS, RAKES, HOES &c., &c.

Samples of the above machines may be seen by calling at his Store.

JOHN F. MEACHER,

DEALER IN

STOVES, HARDWARE,

Iron, Plows,

Agricultural Implements,

AND MANUFACTURER OF

COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,

FRONT ST. - - - MANKATO.

All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,

from a HOE to a

THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:
Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Leg and Cable Chains.
Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for

CA H ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work.

Iam Agent for J. J. Cases celebrated Threshing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header.

☞Particular attention given toorders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.

JOHN F. MEAGHER.

Mankato, April 23r,d 1863

NEW LIVERY

&

Sale  Stable.

D. H. TYNER

HAS opened a LIVERY STABLE, on Main Street, opposite the Blacksmith Shop, where he intends to be prepared at all times to accommodate his friends, and the public generally, whose patronage he respectfully solicits. He has on hand a large number of excellent

HARNESS HORES

ALSO,

Fine Buggies & Carriages

And will add to his stock as occasion may require.

PASSENGERS

Conveyed to any part they wish.
☞Horses kept by the day or week.☜
☞Charges moderate.☜
D. H. TYNER.

STATE OF MINNESOTA.

SALE OF SCHOOL LANDS

In accordance with an act entitled "An act to establish the State Land Office, and for other purposes," approved March 10th, 1862, the following parcels or tracts of land will be sold at public auction at the office of the County Treasurer, in the town of Mankato, County of Blue Earth, on Saturday, the twenty-first day of November, 1863, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Lands on which fifteen per cent of the purchase money must be paid down.

Part of Sec.	Sec	Town	Range	App val pr acre	App val of imp.
DANVILLE.
sw¼ sw¼	16	105	25	6 00
se¼ sw¼	16	105	25	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	105	25	5 00
nw¼ ne¼	36	105	25	5 00	25 00
LIME.
ne¼ ne¼	16	109	27	5 00	25 00
SHELBYVILLE.
nw¼ ne¼	16	105	28	9 00
sw¼ ne¼	16	105	28	9 00
sw¼ nw¼	16	105	28	5 00	11 00
sw¼ sw¼	16	105	28	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	105	28	9 00
se¼ se¼	16	105	28	10 00
VERNON.
ne¼ ne¼	16	106	28	5 00	100 00
se¼ ne¼	16	106	28	5 00	50 00
ne¼ nw¼	16	106	28	5 00	30 00
ne¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	25 00
nw¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00
sw¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	200 00
se¼ nw¼	36	106	28	5 00	50 00
WATONWAN.
se¼ se¼	16	107	28	5 00	50 00
ne¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
nw¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
sw¼ nw¼	16	107	28	5 00
sw¼ se¼	16	107	28	5 00	100 00
JUDSON.
sw¼ ne¼	36	108	28	5 00	40 00
se½ ne¼	36	108	28	5 00
e½ nw¼	36	108	28	5 00	100 00
ne¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	30 00
nw¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00
sw¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	75 00
se¼ sw¼	36	108	28	5 00	30 00
ne¼ se¼	36	108	28	5 00
nw¼ se¼	36	108	28	5 00	100 00
sw qr se qr	36	108	28	5 00	Imp.
se qr se qr	36	108	28	5 00	125 00
BUTTERNUT VALLEY.
Lot 8, 38.90 ac	16	109	29	5 00
sw qr sw qr	16	109	29	5 00
se qr sw qr	16	109	29	5 00
Lot 9, 46.70 ac	16	109	29	5 00
lot 10, 53.46 ac	16	109	29	5 00
ne qr ne qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr ne qr	36	109	29	6 00
sw qr ne qr	36	109	29	6 00
se qr ne qr	36	109	29	7 00
ne qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00	30 00
sw qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00	40 00
se qr nw qr	36	109	29	5 00
ne qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00
nw qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00	8 00
sw qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00
se qr sw qr	36	109	29	5 00	100 00
nw qr se qr	36	109	29	5 00
sw qr se qr	36	109	29	6 00

The balance of the purchase money is payable at any time within twenty years, at the option of the purchaser, if interest at seven per cent, per annum is annually paid in advance.

Interest to the first day of June, 1861, must be paid at the time of the purchase

Persons purchasing lands upon which other parties have made improvements, will be required to pay the owner of the same the appraised value of the improvements, one half to be paid at the time of the sale, and the balance within six months thereafter, with interest at seven per cent. per annum.

In case the person occupying or improving the land has damaged the same, the appraised amount of damage will be deducted from his improvements, and when the occupant is the purchaser, the damage will be added to the price of the land.

No lands will be sold for less than the appraised value.

Purchase money payable in specie and legal tender notes.

CHAS. McILRATH,
Com. of State Land Office.

NEW DRUG STORE!

DRUGS, MEDICINES CHEMICALS
SOAPS, PERFUMERY,
AND

FANCY GOODS

PAINTS, Oils and Dye-Stuffs, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Pills, and Purifiers, Fruit Cans and Sealing Wax,

Stationery,

BRANDY & SPIRITS FOR MEDICINE.

Physicians supplied at low prices with reliable Medicines. ☞Prescriptions accurely put up.

For good articles at low prices call at the

New Drug Store,

JASON WICKERSHAM,
5 Mankato, Minn

MANKATO HOUSE.

MANKATO - MINNESOTA.

THIS House has been thoroughly renovated newly papered and painted, with many new improvements, which makes it now equal as to comfort and convenience to any House in the State.

General Stage Office for all points in he State.

Good barn and stabling with attentive ostler. Baggage conveyed to and from steamboats free of charge. Wines, liquors, cigars, etc., con stantly on hand.

☞Farmers will find this House a good place to stop, it being centrally located, plenty of barroom, and charges moderate.

may 7 H. H. Shaubhut.

CLIFTON HOUSE,

Mankato, Minnesota.

THE proprietor would announce to the traveling publicthat his house is now completed and furnished throughout in the best style and he is now prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their patronage. From long experience in the hotel business in eastern cities he flatters himself that he understands the wants of the traveling public and will spare no pains to make the Clifton an agreeable stopping place. All who may be visiting Mankato, either for business or pleasure, especially those from the surrounding counties are invited to call and satisfy themselves. Attached to the premises are stables not excelled in the State either for capacity or convenience. The proprietor thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon his house, would say to all stopping at the Clifton you will meet the same cordial and welcome reception as heretofore. Farmers sustain the Clifton House and by so doing promote your own interest. A word to the wise is sufficient.

M. T. C. FLOWER.
Proprietor.

Flour for Sale.

THE undersigned has FIFTY Barrels of Fine Flour for sale at $3,50 per barrel

7 JOHN N. HALL.

Mankato

DRUG STORE.

A Fresh and Complete Assortment of

Drugs, Sponges
Medicines,
Fancy Goods,
Soaps, Brushes,
Patent Medicines,
Toilet Goods, Paints, Oils
Glass,
Kerosene Oil, and Lamps,
Notions, &c.,

Just received at the Drug Store, by

J. R. TINKCOM.

Pure Wines,

or Medicinal purposes.

Strychnine always on Hand.

Front st. Mankato, Dec. 17, 1860.

Notice of Final Transfer.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
BLUE EARTH COUNTY.

MANKATO, July 17, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given that whereas the tracts of land and town lots described in the following list were sold at tax sale on the 13th September, 1859, by the Treasurer of said County, for the taxes due thereon for the year 1858, and have not yet been redeemed, I will execute and deliver to the purchasers of said lands at said sale, or their assignees, deeds for the same on and after the 17th day of January, A. D., 1864, unless said lands shall before that time have been redeemed. And notice is also given that the sum set against each description of land in said list is the amount due the purchaser of said land on redemption.

CHAS. A. CHAPMAN,
Auditor of Blue Earth County.

Mankato—Bruner's Survey.

NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.	NAME	LT	BLK	AMT.
Unknown	1	24	28.66	Unknown	1	76	1.48
do	5	24	2.29	do	7	A	3.97
do	9	24	7 45	do	8	A	3.97
J Ady	9	28	13.93	do	9	A	3.97
F C Roosevell	6	58	2 96	do	10	A	3.97

Willard & Besser's Addition.

Unknown, lot 10, block 19, amount 2.06.

NAME.	DES.	S.	T.	R.	AMT.
H W Lamberton	e hf nw qr and n hf sw qr	7	108	28	22.07
Earl Parthum	sw qr	33	109	29	14.67
M Garlinger	ne qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	32	109	29
do	se hf se qr	31	109	29	15.91
Dennis O'Flynn	se qr sw qr and w hf sw qr	27	109	29	11.81
Wm P Smith	s hf ne qr and ne qr se qr and lot 2	2	107	28	13.85
T F Anderson	s e qr	20	107	28	15.14
H Wright	s e qr	8	106	28	14 10
William Gage	s w qr	17	106	28	13.73
Alex Wood	n e qr	1	105	28	41.60
Unknown	sw qr except 17 ac reduc'd	5	105	28	14.06
H G Tryon	se qr nw qr	5	105	28	5.62
H G Tryon	ne qr nw qr	34	105	28	7.26
McMuririe & Comstock	n hf sw qr	12	105	29	10.90
do	e hf sw qr and w hf se qr except 25 ac redeemed	12	105	29	33.36
Alex Wood	nw qr	6	105	27	49 87
Unknown	nw qr	9	108	25	19.28
A Frazer	n hf ne qr and ne qr nw qr	35	109	27	14.33
F Percival	ne qr sw qr	32	109	28	21.52

FINKLE & LYON'S

SEWING MACHINES.

THESE Machines make the lock stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do; will Hem, Fell, Gather, Cord, Braid, Bind, &c., and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family, for they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, or even the stoutest harness leather, without changing the feed, needle or tension, or making any adjustment of Machaine whatever! ! !

They are simple in construction, and easily understood: and if any part is broken by accident, it is readily replaced.

These are PECULIAR FACTS, and will go far to determine the choice of any intelligent buyer.

PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE, OR SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

N. B.—Local Agents wanted in sections not yet occupied. Address,

FINKLE & LYON, S. M. CO.,
4 No. 538 Broadway, New York.
J. J. SHAUBUT, Agent for Mankato.

Medical Advice free of Charge.

DOCTOR WHITTIER'S Theory, Symptoms, and Treatment of Chronic, Nervous, Urinary and Sexual Diseases, free in sealed letter envelope, for six cents to pre-pay postage. It is a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringment of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposure, and imprudence, in married and single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and should be read by every young person, to keep them off the shoals on which others have been broken in pieces. Amativeness clearly stated to be under the control of judicious treatment, and thereby prevent inclination to one very prolific cause of of disease. Nearly every case of disease can be treated without hinderance to business, Medicine sent by mail, secure from observation. Charges moderate; consultations by letter or at the office free; cures guaranteed; Office 67 St, Charles St., between 6th and 7th. P. O. Box 3092. St. Louis Mo. Circular Letter especially for ladies nothing referring to Sexual Diseases for3, cent postage.

Notice.

AS I have been regularly authorized by F. M. Gunning, surviving partner of the late firm of "Hensley & Gunning," to settle up the business matters of said firm, all persons indebted to them are requested and advised to make immediate payment to me, or, during my temporary absence from town, to C. H. Slocum, editor and proprietor of the UNION. E. P. FREEMAN.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

Critical Notices of the Press.

The volumns Bound constitute of themselves a liberary of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

The most popular Monthly in the world. —N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People: and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contatns fully 144 pages reading matter, appropriately illustrated witn good woodcuts: and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature. —Trubner's Guide to American Literature London.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known, none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated class, that delighted in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Bolttmore.)

TERMS.

The papers of permanent value which have been published in almost every Number render a complete set of Harper's Magazine a desirable acquisition to public or private library. The Publishers can supply complete sets, or any number from the commencement. For Twenty five cents they will send any number, BY mail, postpaid. Any Volume, containing six Numbers will be mailed post-paid, to any place in the United States within 1500 miles of New York, for two dollars and fifty cents Complete sets, now comprising Twenty-five Volumes, will be sent by express, the freight at the expense of the purchaser, for one dollar and eighty-eigh cents per Volume.

One copy, one year, $3,00; Two copies one year $5,00; Harper's Magazine and Harper's Weekly, one year ,$5,00

An extra copy, gratis, for every club of Ten Subscribers, at $2,50 each, or, 11 copies for $25,00

Clergymen and teachers supplied at $2,50 a year. The Semi-Annual Volumes Bound in cloth, $2,50 per Volume. Muslin covers, 25 cents each. Nett. When ordered sent by mail, eight cents additional must be remitted or postage. The Postage upon Harper's Magazine must BE paid at the office where it is received. The postage is thirty-six cents a year, or nine Cents for three months.

HARPER & BROTHERS.
Franklyn Square, New York.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
COUNTY OF BLUE EARTH.

TO WILLIAM THOMAS:

You are hereby notified that a writ of attachment has been issued against you, and your property attached to satisfy the demand of Benjamin McCracken amounting to twenty seven (27.) dollars: Now, unless you shall appear before H. W. Nelson, a justice of the peace in and for said county, at his office in the town of Vernon, on the twenty ninth (29.) day of October A. D. 1863 at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, judgment will be rendered against you, and your property sold to pay the debt.

Dated this 9th day of Sept. A. D 1863

BENJ. McCRACKEN.
10-6w* Plaintiff.

☞BEFORE PURCHASING A

Piano or Melodeon,

REMEMBER

W. W. KIMBALL,

142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.,

DEALER IN

PIANOS
AND
MELODEONS!

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake St.
CHICAGO,
DEALER IN
"GOLD PRIZE MEDAL"
PIANOS,
MELODEONS,
SCHOOL ORGANS
AND
Harmoniums

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO'S PIANOS
J. & C. FISCHER'S "
G. A. MILLER & CO'S "
WM. P. EMERSON'S "
J. W. VOSE'S "
KURTZMAN & HINZE'S "
GROVESTIEN & CO'S "

And other Boston and New York Manufactures.

☞The reputation of the Pianos of the above manufacturers is a sufficient guarantee of their merit; and every instrument sold by me will be

WARRANTED

in all respects to give

SATISFACTION

MY MELODEONS

are from the best manufacturers, and inferior to none in the market.

An Illustrated Catalogue describing every instrument, will be furnished upon application to me by mail, giving the PRICE and STYLES of the instruments.

☞Orders from the country will receive prompt attention

Address, before purchasing or looking elsewhere

W. W. KIMBALL,
142 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.

PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS PIANOS

Melodeons Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons. Melodeons.

SAINT PAUL AND PACIFIC R. R.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

On and after MONDAY, APRIL 20th, Passenger Trains will run as follow:

Leave St. Paul.	Arrive at St. Authony.
5:45 A. M.	6:20 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	12;05 M.
5:00 P. M.	5:35 P. M.
Leave St. Anthony.	Arrive at St. Paul.
8:00 A. M.	8:35 A. M.
2:00 P. M.	2:35 P. M
6:00 P. M.	6:35 P. M.

W. B. LITCHFIELD
General Superintendent.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEELER & WILSON'S
SEWING
MACHINES

MERIT ALONE MAKES A SEWING MACHINE VALUABLE.

The people are perceiving that Glowing Representatious are not Merit.

That it is economy and wisdom to purchase only Sewing Machines of known practical utility.

THIS MACHINE IS PROFITABLE AND AVAILABLE A LIFE TIME.

An annual dividend of 100 to 500 per cent. (on its cost) may be obtained in its use, by its possession.

There are over 95,000 WHEELER & WILSON'S Machines in use in this country and Europe.

It is the only Machine in the world making the Lock-Stitch with Rotating Hook and using the Glass Foot.

The Wheeler & Wilson Machines are right, and if they do not operate well it is because people are not fully instructed in their use.

☞ALL MACHINES ARE WARRANTED, AND FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ☜

All persons owning Wheeler & Wilson Machines can have them properly adjusted, and full instructions given in their use, free of charge, by calling at the wheeler & Wilson Rooms, in the Greenlief Block, Third street, a few doors below the Post Office. F. M. Johnson, Agent.

St. Paul, July 17th, 1863 July17-t

1863. PROSPECTUS 1863.

OF

The Chicago Tribune.

A FIRST CLASS WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Science, and Literature.

The principles which the Chicago Tribune espouses and advocates are:—The cause of Freedom, Justice and Humanity; Improvement of the Mental, Moral and Physical condition of the masses; perpetuity of the Union, obedience to the Constitution, and supremacy of the Laws; No compromise with traitors; Free Homesteads for the Landless; Encouragement of Home Industry; No Political Jobbery; Honest men for offices; Economy in Government; A sound Currency and Death to all "Wild-cat Shinplasters," and the prosecution of the War Against Treason until the last Rebel has laid down his arms.

In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of commercial matter, and in whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, The Tribune chalenges comparrison with any other Journal East or West.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE

Single Subscribers; in advance,	$ 1 50
Three copies, (rate of $1 33)	4 00
Five copies, (rate of $1 25)	6 00
Ten copies (rate of $1 10)	11 00
Twenty copies, to one address, (and one to getter up of the club)	20 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE.

One year $7 00 | Six months, $4 00

TERMS OF THE TRI WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

One year $4; Six months $2 three months $1;

Clubs of five, (rate of $3 60,)	$18 00
Clubs of ten, (rate of $3 50,)	35 00.

☞Money in registered Letter may be sent at our risk. Address

TRIBUNE CO., CHICAGO.

JUST PUBLIS ED,

The most Fascinating Book of the Season,

ENTITLED

"IN THE TROPICS."

EDITED BY RICH'D B. KIMBALL,

Author of "St. Leger," "Undercurrents of Wall Street," etc.

A bright, sparkling and genial book of residence, travel and adventure in the West Indies; presenting a graphical picture of tropical life, with alluring and picturesque sketches of luxuriant gardens, orange and lime groves, magnificent guava and cocoanut trees, mahogary forests, etc.

An elegantly printed and cloth-bound volume. Price, $1,25.

Sold by all booksellers, and sent by mail FREE, on receipt of price by

CARLETON,
Publisher, New York.
413 Broadway, cor Lispenard St.

THE

Mankato Weekly Union,

Published every Friday by

CHARLES H. SLOCUM

AT

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

All kinds of

PRINTING

Neatly and cheaply executed

SUCH AS

CARDS,

PROGRAMMES,
BILL-HEADS,
CIRCULARS,

POSTERS.

ETC,,

Having received a supply of

NEW MATERIAL

from the East, am prepared to do

PLAIN AND FANCY WORK

in styles to defy competition.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

WILLIAM IRVING,

MERCHANT TAILOR

and dealer in

Gentlemens' Furnishing Goods,

MANKATO, - - - - MINN

The Mankato Weekly Union.

CHARLES H. SLOCUM, "LIBERTY AND UNION, NOW AND FOREVER, ONE AND INSEPARABLE." Editor and Proprietor.

VOLUME 1. MANKATO, BLUE EARTH COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 30, 1863. NUMBER 16.

THE WEEKLY UNION,

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY
CHARLES H. SLOCUM.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
One Dollar and Fifty Cents per Year.
☞ All subscriptions paid in advance. ☜

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

1	square	1 week	$1 00	2	squares	6 months	9 00
1	"	2 weeks	1 50	2	"	1 year	15 00
1	"	3 "	1 75	3	"	1 week	2 25
1	"	4 "	2 00	3	"	2 "	3 00
1	"	5 "	2 25	3	"	3 "	4 00
1	"	6 "	2 50	3	"	4 "	5 00
1	"	7 "	2 75	3	"	3 months	9 00
1	"	2 months	3 00	3	"	6 "	12 00
1	"	3 "	3 75	3	"	1 year	20 00
1	"	4 "	4 50	¼	col	6 months	15 00
1	"	5 "	5 25	¼	"	1 year	25 00
1	"	6 "	6 00	⅓	"	6 months	18 00
1	"	1 year	10 00	⅓	"	1 year	30 00
2	"	1 week	1 75	½	"	6 months	25 00
2	"	2 "	2 50	½	"	1 year	40 00
2	"	3 "	3 00	¾	"	1 year	50 00
2	"	4 "	4 00	1	"	1 year	70 00
2	"	3 months	6 00

Business cards of five lines or less, $5.
Transient advertisements must be paid in advance—all others quarterly.

BUSINESS CARDS.

EVERETT P. FREEMAN,
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
OFFICE.—Next door south of the Post Office, MANKATO, - - - - - MINN.
Prompt attention given to claims to be prosecuted before the State Board of Auditors and to Court and Office business. Collections made and conveyancing done on reasonable terms

MANKATO INS. AGENCY.
HARTFORD.
PHOENIX.
MERCHANTS—FIRE INS. CO'S.
CHARTER OAK LIFE INS. CO.
Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid by.
JOHN N. HALL.
Resident Agent.

O. P. LIEBERG,
FASHIONABLE HAIR DRESSER.—Having opened a Barber Shop with a view to establishing a permanent business in Mankato, I am prepared to wait upon gentlemen, and will guarantee satisfaction in every department of my business.
June 26, 1863.

G. A. STURGES, M. D.
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
MANKATO, MINN.
OFFICE.—At his residence second door above the Mankato House.

Z. PADDOCK,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law, and General Land Agent. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to him. Mankato, Blue Earth Co., Minn.

FRED'K HILDEBRANDT,
Manufacturer of and Deale in all kinds of
FURNITURE & GILT MOULDING,
ALSO,
Imitation of Rosewood Mouldings, Ovals, Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames.
Ware Rooms in Schurmeier's Block, Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minn.

M. ZENOPOLSKI, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.
OFFICE:—Opposite the Clifton House.

DAVID WILCOX.
JUDGE OF PROBATE,
& ATT'Y AT LAW,
MANKATO - - - - - MINN.

WM. R. McMAHAN, M. D.
Office and Residence old at his stand, on the corner of Hickory and Second steets, one Block back of the Mankato House, where he will be found at all times, except when professionaly absent.
He will furnish and compound his own medicines.

EDWARD OGLESBY,
Manufacturer of Boots and Shoes, second door below Hawley's Store, Mankato. All kinds of work in his line, promptly, neatly, and substantially done. A share of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. October,

S. FINCH, O. O. PITCHER.
FINCH & PITCHER,
Attorneys & Counsellors At Law,
MANKATO - - - - MINNESOTA.

MANKATO NURSERY.
THE Proprietor has for sale a choice collection of
Fruit Trees,
Comprising Apple, Pear, Cherry, Plum, and Quince Trees. Also a good assortment of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants, Raspberries, Strawberries, and Pie Plant; together with
ORNAMENTAL TREES
Shrubs, Evergreens, Flowering Plants, &c
ROB'T GOODYEAR,
Mankato, Sept. 1861.

MANKATO HOUSE.
MANKATO - MINNESOTA.
THIS House has been thoroughly renovated newly papered and painted, with many new improvements, which makes it now equal as to comfort and convenience to any House in the State.
General Stage Office for all points in the State.
Good barn and stabling with attentive ostler. Baggage conveyed to and from steamboats free of charge. Wines, liquors, cigars, etc., constantly on hand.
☞ Farmers will find this House a good place to stop, it being centrally located, plenty of barroom, and charges moderate.
may 7 H. H. Shaubhut.

WILLIAM IRVING.
MERCHANT TAILOR
and dealer in
Gentlemens' Furnishing Goods,
MANKATO, - - - MINN

Poetry.

LIGHT IN DARKNESS.

BY L. M. C.

Oh, heavily the hours move on
With solemn footsteps, sad and slow;
The moments falter, one by one,
As weary with their weight of woe.

For weeping memory fondly clings
To phantoms of the happy past.
And over Hope's young, timid wings
Ashes and sackcloth have been cast.

The stars shine darkly o'er me now—
The night-bird screams—the hoarse winds moan;
But 'tis not this that glooms my brow,
It is, that I am left alone.

Alone, where once no cloud or storm
Could dim the brightness of my sky,
Because a little angel-form
And angel-heart were ever nigh.

Yet 'tis not meet that I should mourn
And drown my life in fruitless tears—
That from the light mine eyes should turn
To the dark, desolate coming years;

Nor must my listless hands be still,
That once such precious task employed.
Duty the empty arms can fill—
Can almost fill this lonely void.

From the sweet world where angels meet
I would not call my angel back,
But how shall I with worthy feet
E'er follow in his shining track?

Hark! Through the waves of Doubt I hear
The voice of an undying Friend,
It whispers soft, "Dispel thy fear!
I will be with thee to the end!"

A voice of pity from above,
Thy gentle accents hush my fears!
O hand of everlasting love,
Thy touch can dry my burning tears!

Oh, point me to that sinless land
Where my beloved and lost have flown!
Guide me to that immortal strand
Where none shall say, "I am alone!"

Select Miscellany.

AN ADVENTURE WITH SCHEETZ'S CAVALRY.

BY FRANCIS C. LONG.

In the earlier part of the present rebellion, a man named Sheetz, made himself the terror, not only of federal pickets and despatch bearers, but also of the few families among the mountains of Western Virginia, who remained loyal to the old flag and Union.

Scheetz was the captain of a band of desperadoes—free booters is the only term that can be applied to them, since violence and rapine was their sole occupation. They were wont to prowl in the rear of our army and pick up our stragglers, many of whom they inhumanly murdered, showing all the truculent vindictiveness of savages. It was boasted by their friends in the spring of 1861, that Sheetz's guerillas had killed one hundred Yankees!

Numbers of his gang would creep up to our pickets and videttes, under the cover of darkness, pour a deadly volley into them, then sneak away like dastardly murderers as they were; in short, their every movement was characterized by brutality and cowardice.

The few Union families in the neighborhood they infested, seemed to be the objects of their special hatred, and many of their lawless depredations on their persons and property—as related by the sufferers themselves—are of too horrible a character to be mentioned in public print. The brutal ravages of Count Silly in the old German war, in point of cruelty, scarcely exceeds that of Scheetz, among the Unionists of Western Virginia.

The federal force under General J. C. Fremont were at Franklin, when the events recorded below transpired. Stonewall Jackson was known to be about ten miles above us on the road to Monterey, and reported to be entrenching himself. As our position at Franklin, owing to great natural advantages, was a very strong one, he could not drive us from it by a direct attack, although his force was infinitely greater than ours. The general opinion was, that he was trying to oust us from our position by strategic movements on either flank; accordingly, pickets were thrown out many miles from our camp, to watch every avenue of approach.

The following adventure I had from Corporal Tyler, a few days after it occurred:

"I was detailed with eight men to go to Circleville—some fifteen miles from Franklin—and remain there until ordered in. As soon as my men could pack and saddle up, we started and had a very pleasant ride, as the weather was fair and the country among the mountains was very wild and picturesque. We were about four hours in reaching Circleville, having stopped several times on the way to buy milk and corn bread of the citizens and to chat and beg keepsakes of the girls, who, by the way, are generally kind and affable to Yankee cavalry men who treat them civilly.

As the men I had relieved were about to start for camp, the sergeant in charge of them, took me aside and said,—"Keep a sharp lookout to-night, corporal, as I consider this a very dangerous post. Unperceived an enemy can approach within rifle range, at night, on all sides of you."

Of course I knew we were nearly surrounded with mountain ridges, densely studded with forests of amber-trees, holly and persimmons, having an undergrowth of laurel and paw paw.

"Certainly Seargent Morehouse," I replied, "a soldier's eyes—especially on picket—should ever be open. But do you apprehend any particular danger to-night?"

"Well—really, I can't say," replied Sergeant Morehouse, casting his eyes cautiously over the adjacent forest. I felt a little uneasy to stay here with twelve men, and I feel unwilling to leave you with only eight, but my orders are to report to the officer of the guard immediately, therefor I cannot remain with you. For an hour or two past, I have noticed at intervals, mounted men riding about the woods around us. They have been cautious enough to keep beyond carbine range, however, or we should have paid them our devoirs. Now, corporal, I think these fellows are Scheetz's guerillas; if they are, you have some mean rascals to deal with. I wish I could help you, my boy, but I can't, and you must do your prettiest if they attack you."

Giving me a hearty grip, the kind-hearted soldier turned away, muttering, "I'll go directly to our head-quarters, and if General Schenck will give me twenty-five men, I'll do my blamdest to rid the country of this rascally Scheetz!"

When the sergeant was gone, I did not say anything to the boys about what he had told me, not wishing to make them anxious unnecessarily. However, I would not permit them to remove their side arms or loosen their saddle girths, which they seemed to think was rather stringent measures, being in no apparent danger.

While the boys were smoking their brier-wood pipes and telling stories to pass away the time, I kept my eyes on the forest around us, and presently, I saw a couple of men in dirty, white uniforms, viewing us through a glass. I pointed them out to the boys, and when they saw that our attention was attracted towards them, they withdrew into the woods.

As soon as night set in I moved about a quarter of a mile further down the road, as I supposed our precise position had been carefully noted. We rode under the shadow of some large trees, where it was so dark they could not see to shoot us; this was one advantage, for neither rebel or Yankee cares to attack an enemy he cannot see.

The night wore on apace, and we were not disturbed; still I knew that our enemies were cautiously moving about, although we could hear nothing of them. But horses have wonderful instinct, and several times ours had started up and listened intently, then commenced champing their heavy bits, and becoming restive, which cavalry horses always do when they hear cavalry moving in the distance. There is no more unpleasant situation for a soldier than to be on picket when the night is dark, and to know he is surrounded with lurking foes, who are eagerly waiting for an opportunity to fire at him. The gloomy suspense of such moments is always worse to bear, than an actual engagement, for there is some consolation, however small, in seeing your assailants, and facing the danger.

About midnight, we heard the thunder of a body of cavalry, approaching us from the direction of Franklin. We thought probably it was a detail sent out to support us. Soon after, we heard another body approaching in an opposite direction, apparently from Shenandoah valley. Of course the only thing for us to do, was to give them the road; so I threw a couple of rails from the top of the fence, and leaped my horse over, followed by the boys.

We had not ridden three rods when the detachment first heard came up opposite us, and a stentorian voice commanded us to halt; we did not halt, however, but put spurs to our horses to try and gain the forest, whilst their bullets actually hissed among us, and a number of the rebels charged after us, yelling the while like fiends. We gained the woods without scratch, but we had not gained any decided advantage, for our progress was checked by a huge wall of rock, that we could neither pass around nor scale. As we were under cover, and our pursuers exposed in an open field, we poured a brisk fire into them which caused them to halt for a moment, doubtless feeling quite sure of securing us.

"Boys," said I, "without doubt this is Scheetz's gang, and you all know what our fate will be if we are captured by them."

"Ay, murdered!" was the sullen response.

"We will not be hung like felons, nor slaughtered like sheep,' I continued, "we will die like men, if it must be! Die like the defenders of American freedom should die! They feel sure of us, boys, and do not expect an attack from us, and they are in disorder. Let's charge on them, boys, by file, and cut right and left. Shall we cut our way through?"

I could almost hear the lusty hands of those brave fellows clutch the stern sabre-hilts—as with determined voices they answered "yes!"

"Then follow me!—don't break—keep closed up—and let every blow tell! Strike high!—strike high, boys, strike for the head! some of us may escape!

With these words I dashed out of our cover, followed by the boys, and we were among them in an instant. Not anticipating a sortie from so small a party, for an instant they were astonished at our charge. They offered no opposition. We rushed through their ranks with the velocity of a whirl wind, dealing furiously right and left, points and cuts, at all within the reach of our sabres, and a number of our foes were unhorsed, being either killed or severely wounded.

We had nearly passed them when I encountered a gigantic cavalryman mounted on a milk-white steed. Depressing my weapon I was about to make an in quarte point, when the motion of his glittering blade deterred me. I had scarcely time for a tierce parry, when with a whistle and crash his blade descended; a thousand bright sparks seemed to fly from our sword, when they met—my sword arm seemed paralyzed by the powerful shock—and my treacherous sabre was broken in twain near the hilt. Simultaneously with his blow, his horse struck mine with terrible force, which hurled us violently to the ground, and the colossal cavalryman bounded over us.

For an instant I felt as if an immense weight were on me—a rumbling sound was in my ears, like the roar of the ocean, and I lost all consciousness of what was transpiring. When I recovered my senses I had been conveyed some distance from the place where I was captured, and the party was bivouacked for the night in a dense forest. Their horses were picketed with long ropes, and were eagerly cropping the tender herbage that grew luxuriantly around us. Their riders were lounging about round huge camp fires which they had kindled; their rugged and dirty clothes, slouched hats, with the shimmer of their arms, in the glare of the fires made them appear far more like brigands than soldiers. I gazed upon the scene for some moments before I could fully realize my true position. I attempted to rise into a sitting posture, from the ground where I was lying, but the exertion caused me excruciating pain, in my shoulder and vertebrae.

"How do you feel, Mr. Yank?" said a gruff voice near me; "yonse took a right smart of a fall, I reckon near about broke your cussed neck, which it orter a done! Yonse, and the onary set of scamps with yer, killed six of our boys, and wounded several, desprit bad!"

"We were attacked, and only acted on the defensive," I replied.

"On the defensive!" screamed the confederate, "it made me a vast mad to hear yonse Yankees tark. If yonse is on the defensive, what do yer come ker down yer, for to subjugate wese for? Wese wont be subjugated by yonse, so youse had better a staid North, and not come ker down yer, a tryin' for to trample on wese!"

"No, my good soldier," I replied as the motley gang crowded around us, "we do not wish to subjugate you. Subjugate and coertion are rather harsh terms, and only to be applied in aggravated cases. Our mission on your soil is to reclaim the erring, to drive the vile and intriguing demon of oligarchy from your midst, and retain our national glory in the eyes of the civilized world. You have declared war—"

"Stop your infernal rattling!" cried the leader of the party—the dreaded Scheetz—"I'll teach a Yankee nigger-stealer to make stump-speeches to us! Bring me a rope or a halter strap some one." Then turning to me he said,—"If you are a praying man, I'll allow you two minutes to repent of your sins, an abolitionist should be allowed more time, I admit, but we haven't it to spare."

I knew the character of the villain with whom I had to deal, too well to make any appeal to his honor as a soldier, or his feelings of humanity; for I knew that the pleadings of a seraph could not wrest me from a violent death. So with a silent prayer to the "Author and Giver of life," I resigned myself to my fate, resolved to meet death like a soldier who yielded his life for the good of his country. I was raised from the ground and firmly bound to a large, sweet gum tree, so that I could not stir neither hand nor foot—fuel was piled upon the fire, until the sombre forest glowed with all the effulgence of noon-day.

"Now for a little target practice, boys!" exclaimed Scheetz, as he deliberately measured off twenty paces, and placed a stick upon the ground to mark the place. "Fall in here, boys, fall in," he continued, drawing a heavy bowie-knife from its sheath. My soul recoiled in terror, as I viewed this ominous proceeding. I could have stood a volley of rifle-bullets almost without a tremor—but to be impaled with bowie-knives, was too horrible a fate to be contemplated; my assumed stoicism vanished, I shrieked aloud for mercy and struggled desperately to sever my bonds. One desperado poised the knife for an instant. I closed my eyes to shut out the horrible scene. I heard the whiz of the knife as it flew through the air, and felt the wind from it as it struck the tree, in close proximity to my neck, where it hung pendant and quivering.

"Curse the luck!" roared Sheetz, "'tis a shame that I should miss that infernal Yankee. I intended to pin him to the tree, by the neck!"

Another man now stepped up with knife in hand to essay his skill; as he was poising it to hurl it at me, suddenly the loud clatter of cavalry, was heard rapidly approaching, apparently but a few rods distant. "Front into line," shouted the well known voice of Sergeant Morehouse, "Lively on the left flank—come up lively, men!" In another instant, how much like heavenly music Frank Brinmade's bugle seemed to my ears, as he sounded a charge, and Sergeant Morehouse, with about twenty-five men of Company D, swept down upon us.

Their onslaught was terrific. For a few moments the loud clang of arms was heard, mingling with the neighing of steeds and the yells of the combatants as the trenchant blades of my rescuers descended. Then the almost unarmed confederates fled towards the forest in the utmost consternation and confusion; but they were pursued and stricken down as they fled. Fully one fifth of them were either killed or taken prisoners.

A few escaped in the darkness, and among them was their leader, Scheetz. Ten were found killed outright, two had been decapitated, and the skulls of several had been split open, from the crown downward. We captured all of their horses and the most of their arms. With these and our prisoners we soon started for Franklin. It was day-light when we passed my post of the previous evening near Circleville; and there we found the bodies of my brave comrades, who had all been killed. I alone of the nine escaped with my life."

The Loss of a Wife.

In comparison with the loss of a wife, all other bereavements are trifling. The wife she who fills so large a space in the domestic heaven; she who busied herself so unweariedly for the precious ones around her: bitter is the tear that falls on her cold clay! You stand beside her coffin and think of the past. It seems an amber-colored pathway, where the sun shone upon beautiful flowers, or the stars hung glittering overhead. Fain would the soul linger there. No thorns are remembered save those your hands may unwillingly have planted. Her noble, tender heart lies open to your inmost sight. You think of her now as all gentleness, all beauty, all purity. But she is dead! The dear head that has lain upon your bosom, rests in the still darkness upon a pillow of clay. The hands that have ministered so untiringly are folded, white and cold, beneath the gloomy portals. The heart whose every beat measured an eternity of love lies under your feet. The flowers she bent over with smiles bend now above her in tears, shaking the dew from their petals that the verdure around her may be kept green and beautiful.

There is no white arm over your shoulder, no speaking face to look up into the eyes of love; no trembling lips to murmur, "Oh, it is too sad."

There is so strange a hush in every room; no light footstep passing around. No smile to greet you at nightfall. And the old clock ticks and strikes, and ticks—it was such music when she could hear it! Now it seems a knell on the hours you watched the shadows of death gathering upon her sweet face.

And every day that clock repeats that old story. Many another tale it telleth, too—of beautiful words and deeds that are registered above. You feel—oh how often—that the grave cannot keep her.

INFERENTIAL REASONING.—A physician took a young student to see a patient who was confined to his bed. 'Sir,' said the physician to the sick man, 'you have been imprudent, you have eaten oysters.'

The patient admitted that he had. Returning home, the student asked the doctor how he discovered that the man had eaten oysters.

'Why,' replied the doctor, 'I saw the shells under the bed.'

A few days after, the student was sent to see the same patient. He soon returned, however, saying that he had been kicked out of the house for telling the patient he had been imprudent; he had eaten horseflesh.

'Horseflesh, you young fool! what do you mean?' cried the doctor.

'Because, sir, I saw a saddle and a pair of stirrups under the bed.'

A Mammoth Hotel.

The Lindell Hotel, St. Louis, has been completed, and will be open on the 1st of October. This is the largest hotel in the United States. Some idea of its dimensions may be gathered from the following figures and comparison with the Continental in Philadelphia:

	Continental.	Lindell.
Front,	335 feet	272 feet
Depth,	194 "	227 "
Dining Room	90x47 "	45x223 "
Capacity guests	800 to 900	12,00 to 1,300

The Lindell is seven stories high, exclusive of basement. Its hight from sidewalk to cornice is 112 feet. The two dining rooms are divided by a carving room. That part of the dining room known as the gentlemen's ordinary, is 128 by 45; the ladies' ordinary is 45 by 90; while the carving room, which can be thrown open to unite both dining-rooms, is 55 by 45. On the same floor, and immediately off from the carving room, is a large kitchen 60 by 45 feet, and 20 high.

The bricks laid in the walls would be sufficient to pave an area of more than thirty-eight acres. This is an addition to 8,000 perches of rubble masonry in the foundation; 35,000 cubic feet of cut stone in the fronts; 749 tons of cast and wrougth iron; twenty-seven acres of plastering; 810 windows; 650 inside doors; 3,240 pounds of copper for gutters; the plate glass used would cover an acre of ground; the floors seven acres. The sheetings or wash boards, laid in a continuous line would reach thirteen miles; and if a boarder desires to take a walk before breakfast, he may travel through the wide and lofty corriders one mile and a quarter without going over the same floor a second time. Besides the marble flooring and other flagging, 300,000 feet flooring boards have been laid, requiring 30,000 yards of carpet to cover them. Thirty two tons of sash weights were used, 16,000 feet of gas-pipe, 120,000 pounds of lead and 30,000 of iron pipe to supply it with water, besides 87,700 feet of steam pipe for heating it. Thirty-two miles of bell-wire are used, and three water tanks or reservoirs into which 30,000 gallons of water are taken up and distributed to all parts of the house, rest upon the roof.

The actual cost of the building is $950,000, which with the ground, (valued at $326,400,) makes the whole value $1,266,400—not to speak of furniture, $200,000 worth of which is now being imported and put in. So that when the house is completed, the whole property will have cost nearly a million and a half of dollars.

How to Forgive,

'Good day, grandmother," said young Stanley; "I am going to market town, and shall not come home until day after to-morrow."

"The Lord go with you, my dear lad," said the aged grandmother; "but before you go, I want to know if you have settled the quarrel with Ned Brooks."

"I have settled it, that I shall have nothing more to do with him. He has treated me very badly. I do not intend to treat him badly in return, but I do not intend to have anything to do with him."

"Have you forgiven him?"

"I do not intend to do him harm."

"Have you forgiven him?"

"He has not asked me to forgive him."

"Remember what the Lord says: When ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have aught against any; for if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses. We are allowed to ask forgiveness for ourselves only as we forgive others. 'Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors.' It is not safe for us to live a single day without being forgiven. If we would be forgiven, we must forgive others.'

"Well, grandmother, I will try to do my duty. Good-bye."

The young man went to the market town. He was very busy during the day, and thought but little of what he had said to his grandmother. At night, when he came to lie down on his bed, he thought of what he had said. He thought of Ned Brooks and he became angry. He thought of his own sins, and then he felt his need of pardon. He thought of the words of the Lord, "If ye forgive not men their trespasses." He felt that he must forgive Ned Brooks, even though he did not turn and say, I repent. He tried to do it, and failed. He then knelt in prayer and asked for a forgiving spirit, and continued asking till he felt that he could forgive all who had done any wrong to him.

Are you angry with any one? Begin at once to show a forgiving spirit, if you hope to be forgiven of God.

COULDN'T FOOL HIM.—Soon after the telegraph was put in operation on the line of the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, a native stepped into the office and wanted the price of pork in Cincinnati.

In a few minutes an answer came with a charge of thirty-five cents for the information, but the "Hoosier" was too smart to be caught in that way and replied—

No, no, Mr. Telegraph you can't fool me in that way; I'm not so green as you think I am! That darned ticking thing of yourn haint been out of the room. I watched it all the time.

The Federal Policy in East Tennessee.

Gen. Burnside has issued an order explaining the policy he will pursue in east Tennessee. All citizens are to be protected in their rights of person and of property, all prisoners of war, when released upon taking the oath of allegiance, will be permitted to return to their homes and resume their ordinary avocations, and not be threatened or molested by any one so long, as they observe their faith to the Government, but will be entitled to same rights, and will receive the same protection as are granted to other citizens; but any violation of the oath will be promptly reported to the nearest Provost Marshal, who is authorized to take immediate action.

A subsequent order of Gen. S. P. Carter the Provost Marshal of East Tennesee, rebukes the spirit displayed by some of the citizens to take the law into their own hands and avenge the wrongs they have suffered at the hands of the enemy. He says;

"The United States forces are here for the purpose of restoring law and order, and for the protection of the rights of the citizens. The wrongs which have for more than two years been practiced on loyal citizens have not been forgotten by the authorities; those wrongs shall be redressed and the offenders punished, but it must be done in a manner prescribed by law. All good citizens are therefore called upon to discountenance marauding bands and depredations, on either the person or property of citizens, and to use their influence to prevent the commission of any acts which can either directly or indirectly bring the Union cause into disrepute.

"Regulations will be established at the earliest practicable period for the apprehension and punishment of those who have for so long a time lived in open violation of law and justice, and an adequate force will be used for enforcing these regulations. In the mean time let our law-loving and law-abiding citizens, who have gained such an enviable reputation for their loyalty, wait, resting in the full assurance that their cause is the cause of those who will use all needful efforts to restore law and order, and to give to the wronged full and entire justice.

These suggestions are eminently judicious, and the character of Gen. Carter—himself one of the foremost citizens of East Tennessee, and of undoubted loyalty—affords ample guaranty that the policy marked out will be faithfully followed.—Evening Post.

The Printers Ten Commandments.

1. Thou shalt love the printer for he is the standard of the country.

2. Thou shalt subscribe for his paper; for he laboreth much to obtain the news of which ye may remain ignorant.

3. Thou shalt pay for his paper; for he laboreth hard to give you the news in due season.

4. Thou shalt advertise: that he may be able to give you the paper.

5. Thou shalt not visit him regardless his office rules deranging his papers.

6. Thou shalt not touch anything that will give the printer any trouble; that he may not hold you guilty.

7. Thou shalt not read the manuscript in the hands of the Compositor; for he will hold thee blameful.

8. Thou shalt not seek the news before it is printed, for he will give it to you in its due time.

9. Thou shalt ask but few questions of things in the office; from it thou shalt tell nothing.

10. Thou shalt not send abusive and threatening letters to the editor.

The Street Car.

Riding along Girard avenue, Philadelphia a few days since, in a horse car, among the passengers was a tall, dark, nervous looking man, who was impatient as the cars crept at a snail's pace, and he cast angry glances at the conductor and driver, who were 'laying back' for more passengers.

When the car reached Tenth street, and the nervous man found that the speed was not increased, he called to the conductor, compelled the latter to bend his head as though to receive a communication of some moment, and then hoarsely whispered:

'How much do you get for the job?'

'Sir!' replied the conductor, and looking at the man as though desirous of enlightenment.

'How much for the job?' asked the man. 'Does it come cheaper than hacks?' [illegible] only answer.

'Whose body is it?' continued the nervous man, stuffing a big piece of tobacco into his mouth.

'Body, sir! What do you mean, sir?'

'Why, aint this car following a hearse?'

DEFECTIVE PAGE

The Weekly Union.

Mankato, Friday, Oct. 30, 1863.

Republican Union Ticket.

For Governor,
STEPHEN MILLER.
For Lieutenant Governor,
CHARLES D. SHERWOOD.
For Secretary of State,
DAVID BLAKELY.
For Auditor of State,
CHARLES McILRATH.
For State Treasurer,
CHARLES SCHEFFER.
For Attorney General,
GORDON E. COLE.
For Clerk of the Supreme Court,
GEORGE F. POTTER.

17th LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT.

For State Senator
B. Y. COFFIN.
For Representatives,
WILLIAM RUSSELL.
J. A. PHELPS.
FREEMAN TALBOT.

COUNTY TICKET.

For Sheriff
ELIJAH MIDDLEBROOK.
For Register of Deeds,
BENJAMIN F. SMITH.
For Treasurer,
A. T. LINDHOLM.
For Judge of Probate,
DAVID WILCOX.
For County Surveyor,
WILLIAM L. COON.
For County Coroner,
T. T. PEIRCE.
For County Commissioners,
1st Dist.—H. ROBERTSON.
2d Dist.—L. G. M. FLETCHER.
3d Dist.—JOHN I. JONES.

Republican Union Platform.

Resolved, That we, chosen to represent in convention the unconditional Union men of Minnesota, gratefully [illegible] God for the success which has [illegible] the arms of our country, and for the prospect [illegible] of a speedy [illegible] [illegible] our determination [illegible] to support our Government by every means in our power [illegible] [illegible] found with [illegible] our lives [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] honor.

2. That [illegible] [illegible] to the survivors of our glorious [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Government.

3. That [illegible] [illegible] honorable to be a citizen of [illegible].

4. That [illegible] [illegible] the raising of black troops [illegible] strengthen ourselves.

5. That the State Administration, and our Congressional [illegible] [illegible] the National Authorities in carrying on the war.

6. That we call upon those in authority to take such measures [illegible] shall effectually prevent [illegible] treatment by the enemy of our soldiers of whatever color.

7. That it is [illegible] [illegible] resist and prevent the draft, should not be permitted a day longer than is necessary to enforce the laws.

8. That the way to peace is, and ever has been open to the rebels; that the only condition we have ever imposed is, that they should lay down their arms and submit to the authority of the General Government. We protest against the making of any terms with them in reference to their status as communities, when they shall have returned to their allegiance. Having been declared, [illegible] by a recent unanimous decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, they must accept the consequences [illegible] from having placed themselves in that position.

The Record's "Course."

The straight forward honest course is, in our judgment, always the best, in politics as in everything else. But the Editor of the Record does not seem to think so; in one number he publishes to-day he is obliged to deny to-morrow in order to extricate himself from some awkward position in which he is placed in consequence of his repeated violation of this plain and simple rule of conduct.

In order to convince the loyal people of this District that he is not the personal and political friend of the traitor, Jesse D. Bright, whom Mr. Wilkinson caused to be expelled from the United States Senate, for treason, he is obliged to state what the files of his own paper will prove to be untrue. In the last issue of his paper he says:

> "We have never been a warm supporter of Mr. Bright, and when, in 1858, the rupture occurred between Messrs. Douglas and Bright, relative to the admission of Kansas the paper which we were then editing at Superior, took decided grounds in favor of the former and against the latter."

The editor well knows that the name of Mr. Bright is odious in this community, and that the people here and everywhere in the North sustain and honor Mr. Wilkinson for his determined effort to expel him from the Senate. He also knows, too, that the name and memory of Mr. Douglas are revered by the people, not so much for his political course, as for the bold, manly and patriotic utterances, which he made for the Union and against treason just previous to his death. He wishes to avail himself of this patriotic feeling of the people, and hence he publishes the statement which we have copied above.

But, is it true? Let us see. In the spring of 1860, Mr. Douglas was nominated by a portion of the Democratic party as a candidate for President. Mr. Breckenridge was also nominated by a portion of the Democratic party. Jesse D. Bright supported Breckenridge and opposed Mr. Douglas. In that canvass what course did the Record then take? For four long months after Mr. Douglas was nominated the editor did not put Mr. Douglas' name at the head of his paper as his favorite candidate for President. It was not until the 4th of September, of that year that he condescended even to define his position. And then what did he say? In an article, which he published on the 4th of September, 1860, headed "Our Course," he said, in substance, that he had concluded to support Mr. Douglas; and he proceeded to give his reasons for so doing. He stated that he did not support him because he agreed with him in his political course, but because the great majority of his patrons were Douglas men. He then and there admitted that he had been and was opposed to Mr. Douglas, but inasmuch as those who fed him were Douglas men, he had concluded, against his convictions, to support him. We refer our readers to the Record of Sept. 4th, 1860, for the truth of what we here state. The memory of the editor must be poor indeed, or else he thinks the people have forgotten what he wrote in the fall of that year. It will not do to deny it. The people well know that the editor of the Record was a sympathizer with the Breckenridge and Bright faction of the Democratic party, and that he hated Mr. Douglas, and nothing but "the human necessity of daily bread" induced him to give that great statesman his support. But this is in perfect harmony with his unprincipled course.

"The Charge of Know-Nothingism against Mr. Porter."

The Record speaks truly when it says that the Union has repeatedly charged that Mr. Porter was a Know Nothing; but when it says it has several times denied these charges it speaks falsely. Not a single denial has ever appeared in that paper. We not only assume our charges to be facts, but we know them to be such, and bring proof fully substantiating them.

Doubtless Mr. Porter thought that this matter would be dropped and forgotten. But our charges have fallen like hot shot around him, and to ward off their effects we believe he has perjured himself in making affidavit that he never belonged to any Know Nothing organization. But the matter will not down at his bidding. Mr. Henry Stock, who was a resident of Lancaster, Pa., at the time Mr. Porter was a member of the Know Nothing Lodge is fully conversant with all the facts. His affidavit which we publish below, together with the letter from Jas. Miller, of Shelby, effectually uses up Mr. Porter's prescribed affidavit.

MANKATO, Oct. 26, 1863.

To the Editor of the Union:

I have stated on several occasions when questioned by other parties that John J. Porter was a member of a Society known as the Know Nothings. This statement of mine is denied by the Record, and an affidavit of Mr. Porter is published in that as proof that my statement is untrue. Therefore, I wish to state all that I know about it.

I am a brother-in law of Mr. Porter. Before removing to Minnesota we both resided in Lancaster, Pa. We removed together from that city, to this County in the Spring of 1857. In 1854 Mr. Porter was the Whig candidate for Clerk of the Quarter Sessions (as it is called) in the county of Lancaster, Pa., and was elected.

Subsequently, however, to his nomination by the Whigs, a candidate for the same office was put in nomination by the Know Nothings. It was then thought advisable by Mr. Porter and his friends, that, to secure the support of the Know Nothings, he had better identify himself with the order, which, according to his own admission to me, on more than one occasion, he did, and it was generally understood in Lancaster, that Mr. Porter was a Know Nothing. I also state that in a conversation which I had with Mr. Porter one day last week. I told him it was well known that he was a member of the Know Nothings, which he admitted to me to be true. but he said that he had been instrumental in striking out the obnoxious features of their obligation relative to foreigners and catholics. I have been told by James Miller of the town of Shelby, that Mr. Porter had admitted to him that he was a member of the order commonly called Know Nothings and if I had entertained the most remote doubt that he had been a member of that order I certainly should not have stated that he was connected with them but I have no doubt what ever that he was.

HENRY STOEK

Henry Stock, being duly affirmed, doth say that the above and foregoing statements are true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

HENRY STOCK.

Affirmed and subscribed to before me, this 27th day of October 1863.

R. J. SIBLEY,
Notary Public, Minn.

Take notice also, what James Miller, one of the most respectable farmers in this County, says on this question. His word will not be doubted by any one who knows him:

GARDEN CITY, Oct. 27th, '63.

To the Editor of the Union:

I see by the Mankato Record, that John J. Porter has made and published an affidavit, stating in substance that he never at any time belonged to any Know Nothing organization, known as such.

This surprises me; for in conversations which I have had at different times with Mr. Porter, he has on several occasions admitted to me that he was at one time a member of the so called Know Nothing organization in Pennsylvania.

JAS. MILLER.

Let every Republican and unconditional union man go to the polls on Tuesday next and vote the Republican union ticket. While our brave soldiers are in the field fighting to maintain our glorious government, let those who are at home perform their duty by crushing the enemy in the rear. Maine, Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, and Iowa, have spoken in thunder tones in favor of the Union. Let Minnesota follow. Let the Copperhead ticket in this State be crushed as was the Vallandigham party in Ohio.

The Record admits in its last issue that so far as his charge that Senator Wilkinson induced Capt. Roberts to make a survey of the Minnesota River, and to prepare plans and specifications thereof referred to Louis Robert, is untrue. But he says he referred to Capt. Nelson Roberts. Now we tell the Editor that this is as false as his original statement. His manner of explaining away one falsehood by telling another, seems to be the peculiar forte of the Editor of the Record. He doubtless believes in the old proverb that "when a lie is once started the truth will never overtake it." He knew very well that Capt. Nelson Roberts never prepared any specifications nor plans for the improvement of the Minnesota River and sent them to Senator Wilkinson, as he stated. But what does he care for this; it will answer his purpose so long as it can outrun the truth.

To attempt to notice and expose the falsehoods which are contained in each issue of the Record would occupy more space than we can devote in our paper to local matters. No sooner is one gross falsehood of the Editor exposed than he seeks by some mean evasion to shield himself from the merited disgrace which always attaches to one who is regardless of truth, by throwing the responsibility of the falsehood upon somebody else. This was the unmanly way in which he sought to sneak out of the foolish lie that he published concerning the statment which he alleged that Mr. Wilkinson made about cutting Mr Middlebrook if the people of Sterling would not vote for Mr. Coffin. His explanation is a virtual admission that in the first instance he published a falsehood.

Mr. Porter "Prescribes."

Mr. Porter, in last week's Record publishes an affidavit in which he denies that he belonged to any Know Nothing organization that prescribed foreigners, &c. We suppose the Lodge that he belonged to did not prescribe foreigners; we never heard of one that did. His affidavit turns on the meaning of the word "prescribe."

Webster defines the word prescribe to mean,—"To write or give medical direction, to direct what remedies are to be used, as to prescribe for a patient in a fever." Now, we never understood that it was the business of the Know Nothings to direct what medicine foreigners should take. But we have understood that they did very unjustly proscribe foreigners. Mr. Porter does not deny that he belonged to such a Lodge. Did he think that foreigners were so ignorant of the English language that they could not tell the difference between the words prescribed and proscribed? Did he intend to deceive and humbug them in this way? or didn't he know any better! If he intended to deceive the people he ought not to be elected. If he did not know any better than to use the English language in this way then we submit, that he is not very well qualified for the position he aspires to.

In the Record of last week there is a most foul and slanderous article written by the editor, we suppose, which so far as it relates to Senator Wilkinson, is totally false. It states that the Secretary of Interior contracted with a relative of his, contrary to law, for the transportation of Indian goods, and that Mr. Wilkinson introduced into the Senate a resolution of inquiry regarding it. The article proceeds as follows:

> This frightened the contractor, who at once saw the necessity of pacifying Wilkinson. Accordingly he waited upon him and told him that if he would withdraw his resolution, he (the contractor) would transfer the transportation for Minnesota to such persons as Wilkinson would designate. The proposition was accepted, the resolution withdrawn, and the transportation awarded to an employee in the office of the Superintendent of Indian Affairs.

Every word of this is false, and the editor knew it to be untrue when he wrote it. Mr. Wilkinson did not withdraw his resolution, but it passed the Senate, and is now a part of the records of that body, and the Secretary of the Interior, in response to that resolution, made a written statement to the Senate, of everything connected with the contract, which statement was printed in pamphlet form.

Citizens of Blue Earth County! What do you think of a man who will utter such a falsehood.

"He who thinks one thing, and will another tell My soul detests him as the gates of hell."

That "Unflinching Democrat."

MAPLETON, Oct. 26 '63.

To the Editor of the Union:

It seems there is a copperhead in Shelbyville who signs himself "an unflinching democrat." Now my idea of an unflinching democrat is one that can gulp down a quart of rot gut, with the same ease, and with as little thought as he would vote the straight copperhead ticket. He takes advantage of an already prostituted press to have a fling at what he calls that nervous little Middlebrook, who fought the Indians down about Rochester. Now the truth is Middlebrook did not leave his home during the Indian Massacre, but this unflinching democrat did, and fitted his wagon to a set of laws, at Middlebrook's saw-mill in Mapleton, and pastured his drove of cattle in Middlebrook's wheat field, without flinching. This is unflinching democracy.

VERITAS.

A vote for B. Y. Coffin is a vote for the Union, and in support of the administration in its efforts to put down rebellion. A vote for John J Porter, whose name is on the Copperhead ticket along with those of avowed traitors, is a vote for disunion, and in opposition to the war.

WILL Mr. Porter, in his next affidavit, inform us how he could have been instrumental in striking out the obnoxious features of a secret political organization of which he was not a member.

How foolish it is for Mr. Porter to deny that he was ever a Know Nothing, when the President of the Lodge of which Mr. Porter was door-keeper, resides in town, and is conversant with all the facts.

A prominent democrat in this County, has offered to enter into bonds that if certain democrats would vote for Mr. Porter, he, (Mr. Porter) would vote for Senator Wilkinson for the United States Senate.

Go to work, voters, and see that every Union man is at the polls, and votes the straight Republican ticket.

A Planter Kills a Federal Officer.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 21.—Information reached here to-day of the murder, on Tuesday, of Lt. Eben White, of the 7th United States colored regiment, which is now being organized by Col. Birney, near Benedict, St. Mary's county. The perpetrator of the deed was Col. John H. Sothorn, a prominent slave owner of that county. The lieutenant, with a squad of his company, was sent by Col. Birney to Benedict, on Monday, to obtain recruits. Hearing that Sothorn had two of his slaves tied up to keep them from enlisting, the lieutenant proceeded to Sothorn's house and ordered the men to be released. Sothorn and his son refused, and abused the lieutenant, and threatened to shoot him, both being heavily armed.

Lt. White left and proceeded to a field where several of Sothorn's slaves were at work, followed by the father and son, who demanded his object. The officer replied that he was there to enlist all that were so disposed. After some more abuse, the Sothorns declared they would kill the lieutenant, and fired their guns upon the officer, who fell mortally wounded. His body was brought here last evening and forwarded to his friends in Massachusetts. The two Sothorns escaped.

Terrible Fatality.

The household of Bradley Bailey, of this town, has been sadly afflicted. Some five or six weeks since, Mr. Bailey went down to Fort Snelling to bring up one of his sons, Merrill Bailey, a soldier of the 6th Regt., who had passed the crisis of the typhoid fever, and was supposed to be convalescent. When Mr. B., arrived home he was shocked to learn that another son, (Samuel,) had shot himself through the hand by accident—the charge taking away the whole palm of his right hand. Immediately upon his arrival home, his son Merrill was prostrated by a relapse of the typhoid, and five days his life was despaired of—Shortly after, Mr. Bailey himself, together with his wife and daughter, were all taken down with the typhoid fever which now assumed the form of an epidemic; since which time, both Mr. and Mrs. Bailey have died. At last accounts, another son (Otis Bailey,) who had come up from Red Wing to help nurse the sick ones, was said to be coming down with the fever.

Such calamity to one family, all at once, seldom occurs, and it should enlist the sympathies and aid, if need be, of our entire community. Our citizens deeply feel the stroke that has fallen upon this family, and upon this community, in the loss of two good and much respected persons.—Monticello Statesman.

Within the past few days another fleet of fast steamers of war has been sent after the privateers. The navy yards of Philadelphia, Boston and New York have been worked to their utmost to fit out the vessels which are now all at sea.

LATEST NEWS.

News by Friday Morning's Mail.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Information from the army of the Potomac says Buford's cavalry division was attacked by rebel infantry near Bristoe station, on Tuesday morning, and forced to fall back upon our infantry within one mile of Germantown. There were but few casualties on either side.

It is not true as has been reported that Gen. Meade's army is retreating His headquarters have been moved, but not towards Washington.

Gentlemen in military circles here view our present position as highly favorable in the event that Lee should venture to make an attack.

CAIRO, Oct. 27.—A party of Col. Street's guerillas made another raid into Brownsville on the 16th, plundering stores and committing other outrages.

Three steamers were sold here yesterday by the United States Marshal for $31,000.

The marine yard at Mound City has been seized by the Government for the Navy Department. It is expected the navy yard will be removed to that place.

Davidson and staff, from Little Rock, passed through here last night for Saint Louis.

The steamer Key West, heavily laden with Government freight, struck a snag yesterday 25 miles above Cape Girardeau, and sunk to the boiler deck. The boat and cargo are a total loss. No lives lost.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The gunboat Port Royal sailed from Havana on the 17th on a cruise. While in port one of the sergeants of Marines had a fist fight with a rebel, giving the rebel a good whipping, when the sergeant was savagely struck on the head by a weapon in the hands of another rebel, mortally wounding him. The authorities have arrested the would be murderer.

The St. Paul Press says that Col. Stephen Miller, the Union candidate for Governor, has been appointed a Brigadier General.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Blue Earth. } In District Court, 6th District.

To Francis C Lawley & Co:

In the name of the State of Minnesota. You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint of Nathaniel Finch, of Mankato, in the County aforesaid, plaintiff, which is now filed with the Clerk of the Court at his office in Mankato, and in the County aforesaid, and to serve a copy of your answer on me at Mankato aforesaid, within twenty days after the service of this summons exclusive of the day of service; and if you fail to answer said complaint as hereby required, the plaintiff will take judgment against you for four hundred and ten dollars and interest thereon since the 3rd day of October, 1863, besides costs.

FRANKLIN H. WAITE,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

Mankato, October 26th, 1863. 16 6w

LIST OF LETTERS

REMAINING in the Post Office at Mankato for the month ending Oct. 31st, 1863. Persons enquiring will please call for "advertised letters."

Abel G	Trout F B 3	Nininger H
Bartick Austin	Monsteur A	Oberst C
Burdell F	Rooser Mary E	Porter G W 2
Bardick B	Hanson Peter	Rinehardt G L
Brooks Horatio	Hinebaugh	Bostie S
Cochran Wm	Mason G W	Sprague Joseph
Downing Mrs	Muter B	Spring Charles
Fritzsinmons B A	McCarthy	Voly Ludwig
Freeman H R	Merkel L P	Weston Wm
	Young Albert

R J SIBLEY, P. M.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION A CURABLE DISEASE—A CARD.—The undersigned having been restored to health in a very few weeks, by a very simple remedy after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption—is anxious to make known to his fellow-sufferers the means of cure

To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge,) with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS &c. The only object of the advertiser in sending the prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable; and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing

Parties wishing the prescription will please address

REV. EDWARD A. WILSON,
Williamsburgh, Kings County,
New York

164m

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.—While Brandreth's Pills are so potent for good to diseased bodies, they are harmless as bread. The babe at the breast or the man of three score years, and delicate females, are certain to receive an increase of health from the use of these pills blessed of Heaven.

It has been said by an able physician, that "this medicine always benefits and never injures." Where is the superlative quality? The Brandreth Pills have no power or action but upon impure humors in the blood. They seize only the impurities in and around the parts affected by disease; all parts involved in diseased actions are operated upon, and cleansed from all foulness, and reinfused with "Life" by the wonderful curative powers contained and inherent of the most justly famed BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Millions of people, whose lives appeared to be at the last ebb worn out by fever's consuming fires, by consumption's insidious advances, by sucking torments of inflammatory rheumatism, have been cured by the use of these pills. The persons are living witnesses, and thousands are residents in every city in America. Principal office, No. 294 Canal St., N. Y.

Sold by J. F. WICKERSHAM, Mankato, and by all respectable dealers in medicine.

Ask for New Style. 16 1y

MANHOOD:
How Lost! How Restored!

Just published, in a sealed envelope. Price, Six Cents.

A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment, and Radical cure of Spermatorrhoea or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary emissions, Sexual debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally Nervousness, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from Self Abuse, &c. By Robert J Culverwell, M. D., Author of the Green Book, &c.

The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of self abuse may be effectually removed without medicine, and without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings, or cordials, pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically. This lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, on the receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps, by addressing

CHAS. J. C. CLINE,
127 Bowery, New York.

Post Office Box, 4586. 16 3w

LEATHER! LEATHER!

KESSLER & RIEHL,
Importers, Tanners, and Curriers,
ST. PAUL, MINNESOTA.

ARE now receiving and will keep constantly on hand the largest and best stock of Leather and Findings in the Territory—consisting of Spanish Sole Leather,

Oak do do
Upper Leather
Harness Leather,
Bridle Leather,
Tampico and Maddrass,
Morocco Splits,
Shoe and Saddle Skirting,
Belt and Lace Leather,
French Calf Skins,
French Kip Skins,
Country Kip Skins

6,000 Bushels of Plastering Hair. Saddlery Hardware, and Tools.

Also a general assortment of all kinds of Findings, &c.

Please call and examine our stock as we will not be undersold by any house in the State.

Particular attention paid to orders

☞Cash paid for Hides, Furs and Deer Skins.

KESSLER & RIEHL,
St. Anthony St., south side, below American House.

ENVELOPES
AND WRITING PAPERS,
At Wholesale.

To Booksellers, Stationers, Druggists, dealers in Fancy Goods, Merchants, and all others who purchase Envelopes and Writing Papers.

SAMUEL RAYNOR,
No 118, William Street, N. Y.,

Begs leave to call the attention of Dealers in Envelopes to the extensive assortment and superior quality of those manufactured by him. His machinery for manufacturing Envelopes is the latest and best—folding and gumming them in the most perfect manner

The assortment embraces over 700 kinds, including every size, style, color, and quality.

The subscriber now has facilities for manufacturing half a million Envelopes per day, so that all orders can be filled promptly.

Also the Irving and Harrison Mills Writing Papers, by the case, or in any quantity to suit the purchaser.

All offered at the lowest possible prices, on the usual credit, or a discount off for cash.

Samples, with trade list of prices, furnished, when requested, and sent by mail free of postage.

SAMUEL RAYNOR.

For sale in Mankato,
by C. H. SLOCUM.

Volume 19th, 1864.

ESTABLISHED BY A. J. DOWNING IN 1846.

THE HORTICULTURIST
AND
A Journal of Rural Art and Taste.

PETER B. MEAD & GEO. E. WOODWARD, Editors and Proprietors—N. Y. City.

A Monthly Magazine, devoted to the Orchard, Vineyard, Garden, and Nursery; to culture under glass, Landscape Gardening, Rural Architecture, and the Improvement and Embellishment of City, Suburban, and Country Homes.

The new Fruits and Flowers, and all improvements in Rural Art, will be liberally illustrated

An Original Architectural Design in each number

A varied table of contents, comprising Essays from the best talent in the country. 300 fine original illustrations each year

TERMS:

1 copy 1 year, invariably in advance.	$2 00
4 copies.	6 00
7 copies, and one gratis to club ag't.	10 00
Bound Volumes, for 2860, 1861 1862 and 1863, and Subscription for 1864.	$ 00

Inclose the amount in a letter, send by mail, and

Address, MEAD & WOODWARD,
Publishers of the Horticulturist, 37 Park Row, New York.

Buy the Paraffine Oil, FOR SEWING MACHINES, GUN LOCKS,
AND
ALL CLASSES OF FINE MACHINERY,

Also for removing rust, and polishing old varnished furniture

F. M JOHNSON, 264 3d St., Paul.
Gen'l Agent for Minnesota.
C H SLOCUM 16 3m
Agent for Mankato.

D. C GREENLEAF'S
Fashionable Jewelry Store,
THIRD STREET. SAINT PAUL,

The ladies and gentlemen of this city and vicinity, are invited to call and examine the largest and choicest assortment of jewelry, Gold and and Silver Watches, Clocks, Silver Ware, Plated Ware, Diamond Goods, Silver Tea Sets, Castors, Cake Baskets, Gold Chains, Rings Thimbles, and everything else pertaining to a first class jewelry Store.

My goods were purchased exclusively for cash, from the largest wholesale houses in the Union, and are for sale at the lowest prices.

All goods warranted to be precisely as represented. Cash paid for old Gold and Silver. A full supply of Watch Materials always on hand.

Agent for Seth Thomas' Clocks; also, for the celebrated American Watches.

Particular attention paid to repairing every description of Watches, Clocks, and Jewelry, in the best possible manner. We manufacture all kinds of

HAIR WORK,

Or any other pattern of Jewelry, &c., in our line. All work will be done promptly and in a workmanlike manner, and better than at any other establishment in this section of the country. All orders, by letter or otherwise, will receive prompt attention.

All kinds of new wheels and new parts of the watch manufactured for the trade at a reasonable discount.

Store in Greenleaf's block, opposite Concert Hall, near the Post Office 16 1y D. C. GREENLEAF.

AT A. BLAKEMAN'S THE New Jewelry Store,

Four doors below Thompson & Brother's Bank and next door below Shaw's Fashionable Hat Store,

ON THIRD STREET,

Can be seen splendid Silver Tea Sets Cake Baskets, Ice Pitchers, Castors, Solid Silver Spoons—Pure as Coin, Diamond, Opal, and Ruby Rings, Solid Gold Ear Rings and Pins in sets,

FROM $15 TO $50.

$10,000 worth of Seth Thomas Clocks just received.

Those wishing to supply themselves with a Perfect Clock, will buy the Seth Thomas Clock of

A. BLAKEMAN.

N. B.—The Cheap American Gothic Clock, at Factory prices. All warranted to run well.

A fine assortment of the American manufactured Watch adjusted to heat and cold, and the most perfect timer made. A. Blakeman sells them at manufactory prices Don't mistake the place. Be sure that you call in at THE NEW JEWELRY STORE

16 1y

THE INDEPENDENT.

THIS weekly Religious, Literary, and Family Journal, edited by

REV. HENRY WARD BEECHER,
REV. JOSHUA LEAVITT, D. D.,
And THEODORE TILTON,

Is issued in the same form, and at the same low price of

TWO DOLLARS

Per annum notwithstanding the great advance in white paper.

It Affords its Readers:

Fair and thoughtful editorial discussions of the most important facts, occurrences, and interests of this nation, and of the world.

A comprehensive record of facts, men, and movements of the Religious World.

A full and careful weekly history of the progress of the rebellion.

Ample chronicles of the important general news, home and foreign.

Fair and careful accounts of new books, made on the express principle of serving as a safe guide to buyers.

Interesting correspondence from Washington, from the West, from the army, from abroad.

Six columns a week of carefully selected Family Reading; being prose and poetry, suited to interest both the Old and the Young.

A full chronicle of the progress of business, and of the current prices of merchandise, produce, and live stock in New York City.

A carefully prepared commercial and financial article, embracing the latest and most reliable information in regard to the money market, trade, commerce, and business generally. In this department The Independent has secured a valuable reputation for fairness, boldness, and for discussing all secular topics from the highest moral stand-point.

A Dry Goods Report, furnished particularly for country merchants, a weekly report of the prices current in this city of all descriptions of domestic dry goods. The information thus furnished, so entirely reliable, cannot be found in any other periodical. We have the best of evidence on that point from all quarters. We are not permitted to give the names of the parties who make this weekly report to us, but will state that they are two competent merchants, with entirely different connections, and that they are well known throughout the United States, and have been for years. The prices given are the exact figures at which the several descriptions of goods are sold for NET cash by the jobbing houses in this city on the day said report is made, viz., Wednesday of each week.

A Sermon Every Week
BY
REV. HENRY WARD BEECHER.

The following eminent writers are special contributors to its columns:
William Allen Butler,
Rev. Theodore L. Culyer,
Rev. Robert M. Hatfield,
Horace Greeley,
Bayard Taylor, and John G. Whittier.

TERMS—$2 per annum, paid in advance.
Specimen numbers sent gratis.
JOSEPH H. RICHARDS, Publisher,
16 3t No. 5 Beekman St., N. Y.

THE COUNTY.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

St. Paul—Arrives at 9 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Eastern—Arrives at 4 P. M., and departs at 4 A. M. Mail closes at 7 P. M.

Blue Earth City—Arrives at 5 P. M. and departs at 7 A. M. Closes 7 P. M.

Office hours—5 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays, 5 to A. M., and 12 M. to 1 P. M.

R. J. SIBLEY, Postmaster.

Agents for the Union.

The following are authorized to receive and receipt for monies paid on subscription for the UNION:

Mankato—
South Bend—LARS LEE.
Garden City—RAY & WILLIAMS.
Vernon—THEODORE SOWLES.
Shelbyville—H A BECK R SHANNON.
Winnebago City—HOLLY and WELCH.
Verona—A. D MASON.
Blue Earth City—W J C ROBERTSON.
Fairmount—W W. CARRINGTON
Mapleton—S MIDDLEBROOK.
Madelia—C. G. MULLEN
New Ulm—J C RUDOLPH.
Judson—A R. GOODWIN.
Winnebago Agency—LUCIUS DYER.
Sterling—WILLIAM RUSSELL
Butternut Valley—REV. J. JENKINS

OUR 7th Regiment correspondence came too late for this issue.

WE call attention to over two columns of new advertisements in this issue.

JOHN F. MEAGHER, has a fine lot of sleigh bells, which he expects to have jingled up this winter.

DR. FRISBEE, who a few weeks ago, purchased the Hanna property, is about to open an office here.

Captain McKusick is fitting up rooms in Leach's stone building in which to store all the Commissary supplies.

COL. MILLER, will address the citizens of Mankato in City Hall, next Monday evening. The ladies are invited to be present.

PROF. Shaw is engaged in teaching the third term of his writing class. He has over ninety scholars, and is doing well.

Col. Crooks and staff, accompanied by Capt. McKusick, will start Monday next, on a visit to all the military posts from the Iowa line to St. Cloud.

WE hope that our friends throughout the District will send in their election returns as soon as possible, in order that we may get them in type for our next issue.

MESSRS. Dana and McMartrie, voting Commissioners, have finished their labors, and returned home. They have done well, and given satisfaction.

There will be a ball at Military Hall to-morrow evening. Tickets, supper included, one dollar each.

Voters! Look out for spurious tickets next Tuesday Every device to which the enemy can resort will be practiced to deceive the unguarded.

WE have received the Atlantic for November. Sound reading is always to be found in this monthly, and we never peruse it without feeling ourself benefited thereby. Who ever invests $3.00 in subscribing for it will never regret it.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE for November is on our table. We have not had time to examine its contents, but we know the Harpers always excel in getting up a good literary journal, and we hazard nothing in speaking well of their publications.

NOTHING cuts closer than simple truth. That's the reason why the editor of the Record winces so at being called a Copperhead.

A FRIEND at our elbow suggests that if any of our discharged soldiers have got behind on Sunday, they can catch up in a short time by stopping in St. Peter. They have Sunday seven days in a week down there.

A SUCCESSFUL MERCHANT.—The successful merchant is always the one who keeps the best class of goods of all kinds, and as many of them are aware of the fact, they keep the Chemical Saleratus, manufactured by D. B. DeLand & Co., at Fairport, Monroe Co., N. Y. For sale by most wholesale and retail dealers in the country.

The November number of Arthur's magazine has reached us, and contains the usual amount of reading matter. The prospectus says the publishers will spare no pains to maintain the reputation of their magazine. Any person sending $2, for a single subscription will have a choice of two premium plates "Evangeline" and "The Mitherls [illegible]" Address, T. S. Arthur, Phil., Pa.

A new paper, to be called the Whig of "76" was to have been issued at Winnebago City, to-day, (Wednesday) by a Mr. Huntington, of Wisconsin. We understand, also, that the one at Blue Earth City is soon to be revived. So our Fairbault friends will soon have plenty [illegible]. We doubt, however, the expediency of establishing two papers in that county at present. There is not sufficient patronage to give one anything more than a comfortable support. But here's our ☞ gentlemen, and we wish you success.

THE supply train for the Winnebago Agency, will leave Mankato about the first of November. It will consist, of three hundred yoke of cattle, one hundred and fifty wagons, and three companies of the sixth Regiment, making a train of nearly one mile and a half in length. It will go by way of Lake Shetek, and from there, pursue an air line course to the agency. The train will go through in about twenty days if they fair weather.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Kilgore of Paris, Ky., is stopping at the Clifton, and has decided to locate here. He will engage in the drug business.

Mr. Devoe, of Ohio, was here a few days ago looking around for an opening. He intends to bring on a stock of fancy dry goods in the spring, and will then locate permanently.

We were pleased to meet on Wednesday last, Mr. E. Beaupre, of the firm of Beaupre & Kelly, St. Paul. Mr. B. is up here looking after his wheat which is stored in Loveland's warehouse. Our merchants here and along the Blue Earth, are well acquainted with the popular firm of Beaupre & Kelly, formerly Temple & Beaupre. There is not a better firm in St Paul to deal with than the one which we speak.

MANKATO BANKING HOUSE.—We are glad to meet again Major Smith, of Sycamore, Ill., whose acquaintance we made a few weeks ago. He intends to stop with us now, and for the present will have an office in the building occupied by Capt. Daily. We take from the Republican published at Sycamore, the following, notice.

> Major E. H Smith, formerly connected with the banking house of E. T Hunt & Co. DeKalb, and more recently in the United States service at Columbus Ky., left this place last week for Mankato Blue Earth county Minnesota where he proposes to establish a Banking business. Major Smith has established a reputation among us as one of our most active, correct and energetic business men, and we feel safe in predicting as well as wishing for him a prosperous career in his new home in the fertile and prosperous State of Minnesota.

Major Smith is agent for the Black Hawk and Black Star line of Steamers from Liverpool to New York, and can furnish tickets through to Mankato. He will open a broker's office this fall and will deal in foreign exchange of all kinds. In the the spring his banking house will be started.

AT a special meeting of the Mankato Ladies' Soldier's Aid Society, held at the house of Francis T. Waite, the following donations were received. and packed and ordered to be forwarded to the Sanitary Commission, Chicago, for the benefit of the Fair and Hospital:

Mrs B[illegible]ton, 1 can raspberries,
Mrs Seward, 1 can fruit,
Mrs Parsons, 1 pkg currants, 1 do corn.
Mrs Griffith 2 cans plums, 1 do tomatoes.
Mrs Dyckson, 2 pairs mittens.
Mrs Tyner, two dollars.
Mrs J F Wickersham, 1 lb tapioca, 5 pin cushions
Mrs Sturges, and daughters, 1 needle case, 1 pin cushion, 1 pen cleaner.
Mrs Kyte, 1 watch case.
Mrs [illegible], one dollar.
Mrs Pearl, one dollar
Mrs F. I W[illegible], 2 cans tomatoes.
Mrs Chapman 4 bottles wine, 1 pkg sage, 1 pkg [illegible] glass, 2 cans strawberries.
Mrs [illegible], 1 pair wristlets,
Mrs [illegible] 2 [illegible]
Mrs Marks, 2 cans fruit 1 pkg [illegible]
Mrs [illegible] fifty cents
Mrs Sturges 1 pr embroid'd slippers
Mrs Wise 50 copies Indian excursion
Mrs [illegible] twenty cents,
Mrs E Armstrong fifty cents
Mrs A Mathews 2 bottles wine,
Mrs G Hyde, 3 pkgs dried fruit
Miss Chesney, 1 evergreen wreath
Mrs Miner Porter, 1 pkg soap, 1 do corn starch, 2 evergreen wreaths.
Mrs N Wellman, 2 pr emb'd slippers, 2 lamp mats, 1 toilet cushion, 10 tool cushions 1 shirt
G Ward, 1 pkg corn starch.
Messrs. [illegible] 2 shirt bosoms
Miss & Womack 2 lamp mats 2 pair socks, 2 towels 5 collars
Mr DuBois[illegible], 2 yds Delaine,
J J Shaw[illegible] 2 towels,
S Roybull 6 pair mittens,
J F Wickersham, 3 cop Harper's Wkly.
A Mathews, fifty cents

The estimated worth of the above articles is $53,00. At the same meeting an order was drawn on the Treasurer for $22.00 to be remitted to the Treasurer of the Chicago Sanitary Commission, making a total of $75,00 sent forward from this Society for the benefit of sick and wounded soldiers.

The funeral of Chas. McKenney, son of William P. McKenney, of Mankato took place at City Hall, Sabbath afternoon last. The sermon was preached by Rev, Thomas Day. Mr. McKenney enlisted in Co. H, 2d Regiment, and had been confined in the hospital at Madison Indiana, for many months previous to his death. He had been endeavoring to get his discharge for a long while, and had finally succeeded. His father was coming after him, and he was happy in the thought that he would soon be at home among friends whose kindness and careful nursing would restore him to health." But the excitement at seeing his father was too great, and he died shortly after his arrival. Thus another name is added to the long list of heroes whose familiar voices, and hearty welcomes we shall never hear again.

NEW GROCERY STORE.—Thurston & Finch have opened a grocery and provision store in the room formerly occupied by Charlie Heinze. They are enterprising young men, of good business character. We welcome them among us, and hope they will receive their share of patronage.

THE LADY'S BOOK.—Godey for November, is one of the best ever published. Its fashion plate is superb, and cannot fail to please the ladies. The subscription price has been reduced, and other interesting features added to the work, which will make the Lady's Book more popular than ever. Address, L. A. Godey, Philadelphia, Pa.

ARMY CORRESPONDENCE.

Letters from our Regular and Special Correspondents.

A Quick Trip—The Boys tired out—En route to Jefferson City—Ordered to March—Gov. Gamble's mis rule—Union Soldiers in Prison.

HEADQUARTERS 9th Regt Minn Vols
DISTRICT CENTRAL MISSOURI.
JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 17th 63.

To the Editor of the Union:

At last I have a leisure hour Remembering the promise I made, just on the eve of my departure from Mankato, I will very briefly chronicle the movements of the 9th Regiment, lest you charge me with dereliction of duty.

As you have doubtless been apprised of the date of our departure from St. Paul, I will only state in this connection, that the eight companies now here, made the trip to this place in five days. At La Crosse we laid by twelve hours for transportation—and remained one night at Benton Barracks. Although the last Regiment to leave St. Paul, we were the first into the enemy's country.

Our trip was a tiresome one from the fact that the boat and cars upon which we came were crowded, and the facilities for sleep exceedingly limited. Upon arriving at this place the men sought repose with eagerness. Many went without their evening meal because they were so fatigued for the want of sleep.

We little expected the afternoon we took quarters at Benton Barracks, to receive orders before midnight to report at 5 A. M. on the morning following, at the St. Louis and Jefferson City depot, en route for the Capital city of Missouri. Such, however, was the case. And before 10 A. M. the cars were bearing us on towards this semi rebel town. Our route lay through a rough, hilly and uninviting section of country. The few villages through which we passed indicated that the spirit of enterprise was wanting in the people. The few farms, or patches of ground we passed, on the route testified only to the inherent shiftlessness of those who occupied and pretended to cultivate them.

Yesterday, the 16th inst., orders come for the men of this command to fill their haversacks with three days rations. The Regiment was to be in readiness to march at a moments notice. Of course speculation ran high as to whither we were going, and for what. No one knew to be sure—for such knowledge technically speaking, was contraband. But the boys commenced the work of preparation with a zest and enthusiasm worthy of the bravest hearts and strongest arms. Everything was soon in readiness and they eagerly looked for orders to march. But up to this writing no orders have been received, and we therefore, conclude that the apprehended danger has passed by for the present. The bushwhacking "Missouri Pikes," are giving the Unionists a great deal of trouble, in the Northern and Western part of the State; and even in the Southern part of this county, one man was fired upon by the bushwhacking rebels, no longer ago than Monday. This state of affairs in Missouri, is the legimate fruit of Gov. Gamble's rule, or *mis*rule.

The rebel under Shelby, Coffee and Quantrell have been playing hob up about Booneville, Tipton and at other points in that vicinity, But Major Brown's forces have brought them to grief in several engagements this week, in which they lost their artillery and baggage. They were at last accounts making tracks south and west as fast as possible. Our forces are pressing their rear closely, and as the fords crossing the Osage river are strongly guarded by Union troops, it is believed that their chances for escape are anything but flattering.

The men slept on their arms all last night, in anticipation of being called upon at any hour to move forward. It was thought that a portion of the fugitives rebels, might attempt to cross the river near this place—hence the order to be in complete readiness for any emergency that might arise Some fifty prisoners arrived here to-day, and are in close confinement.

The loyal people of Missouri pray to be relieved from the Gamble—Schofield mis rule. They have not the heart to work they would have, had they a Governor who would second their efforts. His especial pets and co-laborers are generally, men, who have, during the rebellion, given aid and comfort to the rebels. Gov. Gamble may be a loyal man, notwithstanding the fact that his immediate friends have strong secession proclivities. He is for saving slavery, even if it imperils the Republic. His loyalty is predicated upon the principle that the Government without slavery is worth absolutely nothing.

The unconditional loyal men of this city, assembled yesterday evening at the Court House, to celebrate in honor of the Union victories just gained in Ohio, Iowa, Pennsylvania and Nebraska, at the ballot box. Great enthusiasm prevailed. The speeches were well-timed and generally able. The President's proclamation of Freedom was endorsed as a wise and necessary step in the great work of crushing the Rebellion. The Gamble-Scofield policy of dealing with rebels was denounced with merited emphasis. Upon them rested the responsibility for the present turbulent state of affairs in Missouri. Union soldiers are lying in prison in this City for shooting the bushwhacking rebels who stealthily rob and murder those whose only crime is loyalty to the Government Can we expect to put down this iniquitous conspiracy, so long as such men as the Governor of Missouri have control of affairs. Predicating our answer upon the past we should say it is impossible.

Two Companies—C. and K. of the 9th will leave to-morrow morning by rail, to guard a R. R. bridge which is now being re built near Booneville. It was destroyed by the marauders under Shelby, Quantrell and others, some two or three weeks since. Our detail for guard duty is heavy—amounting in the aggregate to upwards of 90 men.

The health of the Regiment is good. The men are in the best of spirits, and are spoiling for a fight.

NOW AND THEN.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 19, 1863.

To the Editor of the Union.

In accordance with your request, and my own wishes, I will write a few lines for your paper, to be read by the friends in your vicinity, with whom we have so recently parted. The remembrance of those friends, our friendly associations with them; their last expressions of kindness to us; their approval of the cause we are engaged in; and the sympathy they have expressed for us while lighting the battles of our country, in acts of kindness that speak louder than words are indelibly stamped on our memory, and cannot be washed away by the exciting scenes of war, or the surging waves of time. You have heard before this of our hurried journey from St. Paul to this place. I will only add that no regiment from our State, or any other, has made quicker time than we. And in order to do so we were obliged to subject ourselves to much, that if we were not soldiers, we should call hardships; such as having no sleep except what we could get on a crowded barge, or sitting in a car for four days and nights in succession, and getting at the rate of three cups of coffee in two days. But the men endured it without a murmer, and all seemed equally anxious to get to Dixie. Much credit is due our Colonel for the manner in which he conducted our affairs on the way. Our regiment has been complimented by all who have had occasion to speak of us. As for myself, I am proud of the gentlemanly behavior of my Company. They seem to take as much pride in conducting themselves in a soldierly manner as I do in having them, or our commanders could wish them to do, and when the Record said I had taken the cream of Blue Earth County in my Company, he told the truth for once if he never does again, and I think I have taken some of the cream from Le Sueur, Nicolett, and Faribault Counties.

We are now in Jefferson City, the capital of the State of Missouri. The City has from 3.000 to 4,000 inhabitants, and I think all agree that it is a rough place. There are many good union people here, (I think a majority) but it is a little dangerous to avow secesh principles, and that makes it hard to tell what the masses would be if they dare. I am of the opinion, judging from what I have learned from good authority since I have been here, that if the people of Missouri, could have their say, they would pass an act for the immediate emancipation of slavery. They are anxious to have this war brought to a speedy close, and they see the nigger in the way, and are getting anxious to get him out, and the quicker the better. How long we shall stay here it is hard to tell. Two of our companies go out on the P. R. R. in the morning, fifty miles from this place, to guard a bridge, and I fear that that will be our duty for a long time, although it is the opinion of many that we shall be sent to Rosecran's army as soon as the election is over I hope it may be so.

Yours Truly,
JEROME DANE.
Capt. Co. E. 9th Regt. Minn. Vol.

Case of Crim Con.

The New Haven Register says that a quiet young mechanic lost a wife and baby quite suddenly on Tuesday last under the following somewhat aggravating circumstances:

The young woman was some time since divorced from a man named Hazen, and was again married about a year since to the young man referred to, and has since had one child. A short time since the young husband accidentally intercepted a correspondence between his wife and a soldier in the army, who sent her some money, informing her he should soon be home on a furlough and to whom she replied, addressing him as "my dear husband. On Tuesday, the young man went home and found that his wife and baby, and all the furniture had disappeared. He traced the runaways to East Haven, where he recovered his furniture and found his child, but the woman had gone off to Bridgeport with her soldier lover, whose name is Mitchell. The husband does not manifest any disposition to pursue his unfaithful spouse.

ON RECORD.—We have been shown says the Milwaukee Sentinel, a specimen of the ballots used by the Unionists of Ohio in the recent election in that State. They were quite large, and so clouded with red, white and blue that it would be impossible for any one to fold them in such a manner that they could not be readily distinguished from the Vallandigham ticket. The object of this was, we understand, to enable the Union men to keep a complete list of the names of those who voted for Vallandigham, so that coming generations may know who the men were that voted for a traitor.

GREAT WHEAT CROP.—A modest resident of the village of Wasioja, who says we need not print his name, as he has no boasting to do, reports the following as the product of nineteen acres of wheat, raised this season, on his farm adjoining the town. From nine acres he threshed thirty-five bushels per acre by weight, and from ten acres twenty-nine bushels and fifty-four lbs per acre. If anybody has raised a bigger crop than this we desire to hear from them.—Ex. Mantorville.

A PLEASED HUSBAND.—In a quiet town in Maine, a few Sabbaths since, there occurred an incident in the Methodist Church, which it will perhaps do no harm to relate A friend of the settled minister having officiated during the morning, as is customary, some of the members took occasion after the discourse to exhort the brethern to say a word of encouragement, Among others was the pastor's wife, who stated substantially that she believed her days were numbered, that she should soon be "home," and at rest with those who had gone before, whom she should so on meet, &c. Her husband, who occupied the pulpit during these remarks, sat rubbing his hands, apparently with great satisfaction, and shouting "Amen!" "Glory to God!" A broad smile was seen on the faces of that congregation.

Dayton. Vallandigham's home, gave Brough its highest vote and Vallandigham its lowest. Brough ran ahead of his ticket and Vallandigham behind his.

The Ninth Minnesota Volunteers,

Among the gallant regiments which the great Northwest has sent to us greetings, none merits more honorable mention than the 9th Minnesota, which lately passed through St. Louis and is now on guard at the capitol of our State. This command number over nine hundred effective men, who have been in the service fourteen months, during which time they have been engaged in fighting the relentless savage and defending the frontiers of Minnesota.

Colonel Alexander Wilkin, commanding the regiment, was Captain of a New York company during the Mexican war. Early in the present war he was captain of a company in the 1st Minnesota, and was promoted to a captaincy in the 17th Regulars for gallant conduct in the battle of Bull Run. Afterwards he was made Major, subsequently Lieutenant Colonel of the 2d Minnesota volunteers, and then Colonel of the 9th. His record as a "fighting man" is regarded as emphatically of the first class.—St. Louis Democrat 20th.

A FAVORABLE ALLUSION.—The following notice of a new Dry goods house but recently established in Milwaukee we clip from an exchange:

REMARKABLE SUCCESS OF A NEW MILWAUKEE DRY GOODS HOUSE.—In all the mercantile history of Wisconsin, we do not believe there ever was a business which started under as flattering auspicies as the extensive and truly enterprising firm of Sherwin Nowell & Pratt, of Milwaukee. The first week of their opening they sold in the wholesale department nearly fifty thousand dollars! Considering that it is a new establishment, and that the extensive sales were made upon the merits of the bargains they offered, the success is truly wonderful. They have a splendid store, a most elegant and desirable stock in all departments of Dry Goods, and are giving the merchants of the Northwest great bargains. Do not fail to call on them when in Milwaukee.—Sentinel.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN has been presented with a handsome and exceedingly substantial cane made from the live oak of the old ship Constitution. The wood is of the finest and beautifully polished. The head of the cane is of polished iron, the material being a portion of a bolt taken from the original Monitor, which was broken by the first shot she received from the rebel Merimac. On the top of the head are the words "Constitution" and "Monitor," and the dates "1812" and "1862." These form a circle, and in the centre is engraved an anchor—the emblem of hope.

In the great battle of Gettysburgh the color-sergeant of the 16th Vermont fell mortally wounded. At once a dozen men rushed up to seize and bear them forward. The poor wounded sergeant grasped the staff with both his clenched hands; his eyes were already dimmed with death; he could not see who it was that tried to wrest his charge from him "Are you friends or enemies," he cried out. "We are friends," was the reply, "give us the colors." "Then friends," said he, "I am mortally wounded; let me hold up the flag till I die" — and so saying, he fell back—dead. Surely, a nobler soldier than this poor fellow never lived.

SECRETARY WELLS has sent to the Construction Bureau his idea of three ships monstrous in size, impregnable in plating and as fast as steam power can be made to urge iron through water. They will be 5000 tons at least, and may be six thousand, or seven thousand tons. They are to be big enough to hold the machinery necessary to make the fastest war vessels that have yet been built. The plates for the casements will be from fifteen to twenty feet long, from five and a half to six inches thick, and fully three feet wide.

MINNESOTA APPLES.—The largest crop of apples ever raised in Minnesota has just been gathered by Nathan Fisher of Whitewater, Winona County. He raised from trees six years old and about the thickness of a man's arm, forty five bushels. The apples are at least four inches in diameter on an average, and of a finely flavored winter variety. Such an item should encourage our fruit growers.—St. Paul Press.

The British Government has seized one of Laird's rams. The theory of the British authorities is that the ram was armed without taking guns aboard, being provided with a horn of iron, the only purpose of which is the destruction of other vessels. If the ram would escape through the British law he must have his horn knocked off—which, would be bad for the ram SICKNESS.—We regret to say that an unusual amount of sickness prevails in this city and vicinity at present. A number of cases of typhoid fever are reported but the number of fatal cases are comparatively small. Physicians attribute this state of unhealthiness to the unparalleled changes of the atmosphere, which have in fact for the whole of the past year been the most remarkable of any heretofore experienced in this State. Give us back the Minnesota winter of the olden time with its equable, dry, bracing and exhilarating atmosphere and this tendency to indisposition and typhoid fever will vanish.—Rochester Post.

NEW
SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.
JOHN D. JONES,
Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles
HARNESS, &c,
And Dealer in
Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work, is done under his own supervision Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line All kinds of

REPAIRING AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

He invites a call and examination of his work at his shop on Front Street, one door north of Hawley's old stand

Cash paid for green and dry hides.
Mankato, June 26, 1863.

SINGER & CO'S.
Letter "A" Sewing Machine.
WITH ALL HE IMPROVEMENTS.

IS the best and cheapest and most beautiful of all Sewing Machines. This Machine will sew anything, from the running of a tuck in Tarlton to the making of an Overcoat—anything from Pilot or Beaver Cloth down to the softest Gauze or Gossamer Tissue, and is ever ready to do its work to perfection. It can fell, hem, bind, gather, tuck, quilt, and has capacity for a great variety of ornamental work. This is not the only Machine that can fell, hem, bind, and so forth, but it will do so better than any other Machine. The Letter "A" Family Sewing Machine may be had in a great variety of cabinet cases. The Folding Case, which is now becoming so popular, is, as its name implies, one that can be folded into a box or case, which, when opened makes a beautiful, substantial, and capacious table for the work to rest upon. The cases are of every imaginable design—plain as the wood grew in its native forest, or as elaborately finished as art can make them. The Branch Offices are well supplied with silk, twist, thread, needles, oil, etc., of the very best quality,

I. M SINGER & CO.,
458 Broadway, N Y
Milwaukee Office, 17 Marshall House
D WILCOX, Agent, Mankato, Minn.

JOHN F. MEAGHER,
DEALER IN
STOVES, HARDWARE,
Iron, Plows,
Agricultural Implements,
AND MANUFACTURER OF
COPPER, TIN, & SHEET-IRON WARE,
FRONT ST. . . . MANKATO.
All Articles Warranted as Represented.

I HAVE ON HAND a large and well selected stock of Stoves, Hardware, and Kitchen Furnishing Goods, Table and Pocket Cutlery.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF
AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENMS,
from a HOE to a
THRESHING MACHINE.

A full assortment of the following goods always on hand:
Shelf and Harness Hardware, Iron and Steel, Nails, Glass, Sash, Grind Stones, Spades, Shovels, Hay & Manure Forks, Chain Pumps, Log and Cable Chains.
Well, Dog, Cow, Halter and Breast Chains; Whitewash, Paint, Shoe, Scrubbing, and Horse Brushes, Kerosene Lamps and Oil, Axes, Helves, Planes, Augers, Auger Bits, Hatchets, Hames, Wrenches, Wash Boards, Hinges and Rollers, Ropes, Well Buckets, Thimbles, Skein Boxes, Lanterns, Bird Cages, Sheep Shears, all of which will be sold for
CASH ONLY.

Old Rags, Copper and Brass, taken in exchange for Goods or Work
I am Agent for J. J Cases celebrated Thrashing Machine, Manny & Kerby's Reapers, and Haynes' Header
☞ Particular attention given to orders, and Job Work. All Work Warranted.
JOHN F. MEAGHER.
Mankato, April 23rd 1863.

FAIRBANKS'
STANDARD
SCALES,
OF ALL KINDS.
FAIRBANKS, GREENLEAF & CO.,
172 LAKE STREET, CHICAGO.
☞ BUY ONLY THE GENUINE.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error actuated by a desire to benefit others will be happy to furnish to all who need it (free of charge) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience—and possess a Valuable Remedy—will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed) by addressing
JOHN B. OGDEN,
5-3m No, 60 Nassau Street, New York

An Old Lady's Advice to "Johnny."

"Now, John, listen to me—I'm older than you, or I couldn't be your mother. Never do you marry a young woman, John, before you have contrived to happen around four or five times before breakfast. You should know how late she lies in bed in the morning. You should take notice whether her complexion is the same in the morning as in the evening, or whether the wash and towel have robbed her of her evening bloom. You should take care to surprise her, so that you may see her in her morning dress, and observe how her hair looks when she is not expecting you. If possible, you should be where you can hear the morning conversation between her and her mother. If she is ill natured and snappish to her mother she will be so to you, depend on it. But if you find her up and dressed neatly in the morning, with the same smiles, the neatly combed hair, the same ready and pleasant answers to her mother which characterized her deportment in the evening, and particularly if she is lending a hand to get the breakfast ready in good season, she is a prize, John, and the sooner you secure her to yourself, the better."

How Animals Cool Off.

Every observing farmer knows that men and horses are the only animals that have double means of refrigeration, and all others have but one. No other beings sweat like men and horses, and therefore cannot cool themselves by perspiring through the skin. This will be found true throughout the whole range of comparative anatomy, and applies to the largest as well as the smallest beings. All the thick skinned animals, except the horse, have no powers in the skin to exhale heat by prespiration, it being only a secretive surface. All the cleft feet species, including those with feet and toes, rounded and unprovided with claws, the rhinoceros, elephant, bison, mamoth, mastedon, buffalo, ox, swine, deer, the lion, tiger, bear, wolf, fox, squirrel, dormouse, oppsoum, racoon, all, like the dog, have no means of cooling themselves when heated except through the medium of respiration. Thus, the ox, when very hot, thrusts out his tongue and pants, to exhale the heat generated by exercise, and if driven without time allowed for this, will die with the heat that accumulates within him. Hogs often die when driven too fast, because they cannot part with the general heat.

HOW TO DRAW TEA.—A few years since, the writer took tea with a relative, and was delighted with the quality of the beverage. Upon inquiry, it proved that the article was from the same package used by another friend, whose tea always tasted miserably, and the difference was wholly owing to the methods used in its preparation. The last named person followed the usual plan of pouring boiling water upon their tea, which causes the most of the aroma to escape with the steam. The other friend adopted the following process, which I have since practiced, and would recommend: Pour tepid or cold water enough on the tea to cover it, place it on the stove hearth, top of a tea-kettle, or any place where it will be warm, but not enough so as to cause the aroma to escape in steam. Let it remain half an hour, then pour on boiling water, and bring to the table.

TWO SCENES IN THE FUTURE.—Imagine a venerable copperhead, when this war is over, and these stirring times are forgotten, sitting at his home with his children around him. He may tell them of the wars and the sacrifices men made—and how the people rejoiced when the news of each victory came from the army. What will he say of his own part in the struggle? "My children, in that sad time when the country was in danger, I was against the country—my heart was with the rebel—when he triumphed I was glad—when he was defeated my heart was sore and heavy. My children, when I am gone, do not curse the traitor. Be silent. It is the only respect you can pay your father's memory."—Phil. Press.

ANOTHER SCENE.—Imagine one who is now young and strong, with no encumbrances, passing into the sere and yellow leaf. His little grand-children have been reading the story of the bravery and patriotism of the men of the present times. One of them inquiringly asks: "Did you go as a soldier grandpa?" "No my dear," is the reluctant reply. 'But why not?' 'Oh, I consulted my family physician, and he decided I had incipient phthisis.' 'Incipient phthisis! what is that grandpa?' 'Ahem, that's a disposition to cough when you get cold.'—Boston Journal.

ARISTOCRACY.—I can respect the aristocracy of family—the consciousness of blood that has flowed through historic veins and throbbed under blazoned shields of renown. I can respect the aristocracy of talent rising above all material conditions in its splendor and power. I can respect the aristocracy of enterprise that bursts all obstacles, and holds with a modest self-exertion. But of all aristocracy, the aristocracy of mere vulgar, flaring wealth, and nothing else, is the emptiest and silliest.—E H Chapin.

If you wish to save the trouble of running out doors and yelling "fire" to alarm the neighbors see that your stove pipe, chimneys and ash barrels are all right. A few moments time now may save a big fire in a few days.

NEW

SADDLERY AND HARNESS SHOP.

JOHN D. JONES,

Manufacturer of Saddles and Bridles

HARNESS, &c,

And Dealer in

Saddlers Hardware And Findings.

Would beg to call the attention of the public to his extensive assortment of goods of the above description, which he offers at extraordinary low prices. He uses none but the best material, and all work, is done under his own supervision. Great inducements are offered to all persons wishing to purchase anything in his line. All kinds of

REPAIRNG AND JOBBING WORK

Done to order upon short notice and the lowest prices.

